... For the Future

The Varsity club, which has disbanded for the duration, is investing the bulk of its treasury in war bonds. The bonds, totaling $600, will revert to the club at maturity. But just to be extra optimistic, that good old spartan spirit isn't expecting to wait 10 years for peace... because the balance of the treasury, approximately $150, will be kept on hand for reorganization of the club.

... Strip Tease

The loud hammering heard in the Wolverine office last night had nothing to do with enthusiastic fans trying to get a copper pin at the incoming editor, the incoming Plate editor, Joy Randall, wishes to announce to all interested or half-deaf passersby. The staff was merely engaged in stripping—the copper engraving plates of the 1943 Wolverine from their mountings in the general interest of the staff.

Art Students Make 300 Posters for Recruiting, Civilian Defense

Almost 300 recruiting and civilian defense posters have been produced by art students working under the supervision of Charles Pollock, art instructor. The Albert Christ-Janer, head of the college art department, announced recently.

The posters were produced by the volunteer poster committee.

Police May Lift Rules for Student Parking

Regulations regarding student parking for summer school are not definite yet, Chief Richard Rogers said yesterday.

If the number of student cars doesn't exceed 200 this year, parking will probably be permitted any place on campus for the summer session, he added.

During the school year student cars are not allowed to park on campus except north of the tennis courts, north of the football stadium and south of Veterinary building.

Summer Directory

Beginning in the near future the State News will print the names of all students in attendance in summer school. Houses and dormitories which are open this year are urged to cooperate in the effort of establishing a summer school student directory.

Each dorm or house should send its name, address and telephone number to the Michigan State News with a complete alphabetized list of occupants of the houses.

The State News will begin printing the lists as soon as enough are received. Dorms or houses interested in having their names published should have them in the mail by Saturday of this week.

College Dance Scheduled for Friday Night

Party Open to Students and Air Crew, Begins Social Calendar

Social activities will get under way for the summer term with an all-college dance scheduled for Friday from 9 to 12 p. m. in the College auditorium, according to Co-Chairman Ruth Peters, East Lansing junior.

The Aircrew Hep-fliers, led by A. Roman Tross, will furnish the music for the party.

The dance, sponsored by the student-faculty social committee, will be informal and will be open to both aircrewmembers and civilian students, Miss Peters said.

This will be the first time that pre-cadets will be allowed to participate in a Friday night social event with the exception of the 310th CTD graduation dances.

The dance will mark the fourth appearance on campus of Tross's Hep-fliers, who have previously played for two student dances.

Coeds Must Keep Regular Hours, Conrad Rules

Regular hours for coeds will be enforced this summer, Dean Elisabeth Conrad announced yesterday. Unless registration records indicate a large number of first term freshmen, there will be no special freshman hours, Miss Conrad said.

Weekend permissions will be handled through the housemothers. If Monday morning permission is granted by the hostess no registration at the dean of women's office is necessary. However, an extension of evening hours must be done at the office, Miss Conrad stated.

Hours for mid-week entertainment will remain the same, 15 minutes being granted for dormitories, and 20 minutes for sorority and off-campus houses.

All social events must be registered at the dean of women's office by Monday of the week they are to be held. Picnics and dance parties of fewer than 14 participants do not have to register but must obey the regular hours, according to Miss Conrad.

Because the summer session is to be a regular term, AWS, official women's ruling body, will be active this summer, under the leadership of Pat Stone, Chicago senior. Judiciary board will also function, and plans for its organization will be announced soon.

Pools Will Be Opened for Student, Soldier, Faculty Swimmers

The swimming pool in the Women's gym will be open to students for mixed parties beginning Monday, according to Dr. Lydia Lightning, head of women's physical education department.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 the pool will be open. Rules for mixed parties are posted in the gym.

All students must present their identification cards before being admitted, Dr. Lightening said.

The men's pool in Denison gymnasium will be open to all men students, faculty members and soldiers stationed on the campus, Charles McCaffrey, swimming coach, announced.

The pool will be open Monday through Friday from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. and Saturday afternoons from 2 to 6.

Canfield Cook to Speak on Airpower for Summer Lecture Series Opener

Canfield Cook, prominent news analyst, will open the summer lecture series at 8:15 p. m. Saturday in the College auditorium. Series Director S. E. Crowe announced. He will speak on "The New Air World."

Cook has a varied background of five years of military and commercial flight experience in America and abroad. Recently he conducted intensive research for the war department and the U. S. army air force.

A native of Canada, he became one of the youngest pilots to serve overseas with the RAF in the last war.

Definite dates have been set for the remainder of the series, which will include six numbers and additional motion pictures on open Saturday nights, Crowe announced.

Paul Robeson, Negro baritone, will appear Saturday, July 10. On Wednesday, July 14, Bali Java dancers with the Gamelan orchestra will present a program.

On the following Wednesday, July 21, Jack Rank, "One Man Theater," will present a specialty program. Aloha Baker, woman explorer and lecturer, will return to MSC on July 28 to show her latest film, "India Now."

Two programs will be presented in August, including Dr. H. I. Jones who will bring his lecture demonstration, "Science and the Future," on Saturday, Aug. 7.

The final program of the season will be James Thompson, whose specialty entitled "Cheating the Cheaters" will be seen on Saturday, Aug. 28.

Movies will fill out the series. They will be shown in the Fairchild theater at 7 and 9 p. m.

The list includes "The Plainsman," July 17; "Lillian Russell," July 24; "The Story of Alexander Graham Bell," July 31; "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," Aug. 14, and "The Pied Piper," Aug. 21.

Late Registrations to Swell Enrollment Close to 2,000

Last Summer's Total Still Stands as All-Time High as Only 763 Men, 788 Women Sign Up Under Newly Accelerated Program

Tabulation of the results for the first day of registration late last night showed that 1,551 students will attend the summer sessions this year, according to Kermit Smith, assistant registrar. Seven hundred sixty-three of the registrants were men, and 788 women.

CDC Will Continue Activities During Summer Session

The CDC sponsored social hour, which was started this spring term, will continue through the summer session, according to Ruth Peters, East Lansing junior. It is to be held every Wednesday and Thursday from 5 to 8 p. m. in the mixed lounge of the Union. All coeds and air force students are invited.

For those interested in active participation in CDC during the summer there will be classes in State News will be published every Wednesday and Saturday of the summer session. Copies will be distributed to the dormitories but non-dorm residents must pick up their copies at the Union desk.

knitting, surgical dressing work for the buildings and grounds department, entertainment for the invalid soldiers at the Percy Jones hospital in Battle Creek, committee work, art, publicity, and the date bureau, Miss Peters said.

For those who did not sign up for CDC at registration, the CDC office in the Union annex will be open all week, and cards will be available at the desk for those interested.

Mu Phi Epsilon, Lewis Richards Fund Prize Winners Announced

Phyllis Lightfield, Minneapolis, Minn., junior, and Irving Travis, Detroit senior who graduated in June, have been announced as winners of two cash scholarships by Prof. Roy Underwood, head of the music department.

Miss Lightfield won the $25 prize given annually by the alumnae of Mu Phi Epsilon, women's music honorary society, to "the outstanding woman student of the department."

Travis received an award offered for the first time this year, the scholarship prize of the Lewis Richards fund. The fund was established following the death in 1940 of Prof. Lewis Richards, then head of the department of music. The Richards prize is given to the student ranking highest scholastically in the department, and is most worthy of the honor, Professor Underwood said.

State Med Bio Wins Chi Omega Award

For the first time, a Michigan State college coed, Anne Bottorff, Louisville, Ky., junior, has been named winner of the annual $25 war bond award of the Detroit alumnae of Chi Omega sorority for "interest in the furthering of a profession not usually followed by women." Dr. Ward Giltner, dean of veterinary medicine, announced.

Miss Bottorff, a member of Chi Omega, and medical biology student, was cited for "maintaining a creditable average scholastically, and making an effort to tell others of opportunities for women in her chosen field." The bond was presented informally by Dr. H. J. Stafseth, professor of pathogenic biology.

This does not indicate the total number, however, Smith said. One hundred or more late registrants are expected because many Michigan high schools will not be out until late in the week. Final tabulation is expected to total about 2,000.

High School Graduates

Between 100 and 200 of the civilian students are expected to be June high school graduates who are entering college three months earlier because of the demands in the engineering and nutrition fields, as well as courses important to industry and the armed forces, according to S. E. Crowe, director of summer school.

It is expected that most of the men enrolled will be under the STAR and ASTP engineer programs, as well as some pre-meds, pre-vets and medical biology students, Crowe stated.

All Time High

First estimates indicated that the registration this summer would top the 2,200 all-time high mark set last summer, but the present incomplete figures indicate that 600 more students are necessary to equal that mark. Accurate totals probably will not be available until early next week when all late registration has been completed.

Women Will Trip Where Men Trod

Shades of the Greeks may still haunt fraternity houses next year, but masculine footballs will be a thing of the past in the Kappa Sig and Theta Chi houses—for the duration.

Those two, and Alice Cowles house, will be repaired by the college and opened to women to replace North hall, which was taken over by the army at the end of the spring term. This change has just been announced by Elisabeth Conrad, dean of women.

Meals will be served at the Alice Cowles and Theta Chi houses, but it is planned that women living in the Kappa Sig house will eat at Mary Mayo dormitory, at least for the first term, Dean Conrad said.

Library Hours Change For Summer Session

Library hours for the summer session have been announced by H. G. Fitch, reference librarian.

Monday through Friday the library will be open from 7:30 a. m. to 10 p. m., and from 8 a. m. to noon on Saturday, except the assigned reading room, which will be open until 6 p. m.

The entire library will be closed all day Sunday throughout the summer session.

THE LESS SAID . . .

By NEVA ACKERMAN

THERE ought to be a course added to the curriculum entitled "Special Problems on How to Handle the Humidity" for all summer school students.

Maybe there should be one on Tactics to include laying plans for a campaign to install electric fans in all classrooms and arrange for distribution of ice cream cones every 10 minutes throughout the day.

This course would also arrange to sponsor a program to hold outdoor picnic meetings of the class at least once a week, and to have mid-term exams given on the banks of the Red Cedar.

It takes a lot of rationalization in hot weather to convince anyone that summer school is a worthwhile "pinch-hit" for a summer vacation. It is especially hard while nursing a violent sunburn and memories of a weekend at the lake to think that classes and studying begin today and last until Sept. 3.

Even the fact that we're being patriotic by putting in a useful summer and preparing to graduate early can't completely reconcile us.

RACE rioting in Detroit fits right into Hitler's plan to wreck the United States from within. Stories of these disorders will make choice T-bone steaks for the Nazi and Jap propagandists.

It will look well for a nation supposedly fighting to defend the cause of tolerance to have its record blotted by this wholesale bloodshed.

These outbreaks mark the eruption of long-standing race problems in a large scale murder, with whites and Negroes equally guilty. Stopping this mob is a greater task than the state or Detroit city police can cope with.

So the task goes to the U. S. troops to fight the enemy on the home front first, and this is just what the enemy is hoping for.

defeat by internal disorder. The future of democracy isn't very bright when mobs and hoodlums run wild and lawlessness reigns in a key city.

Spartans At War

By ANNE COWAN

MSC grads and former students are earning pilots' commissions in all branches of the service. Among those are John L. McCloud, Jr., of Dearborn, who has received his ensign's commission in the U. S. naval reserve. He was phys ed major here in 1942 and 1943.

George Namitz of River Rouge, police ad major here in '41 and '42, was commissioned second lieutenant in the marine flying reserve. James E. Dymond of Honor was to have graduated in '42 but left school to become a naval flyer and has been commissioned an ensign, USNR.

Soon to receive his wings in the army's twin-engine training school at Pampa, Texas, is Cadet Karl A. Anderson of Charlotte, who was a member of the class of 1943.

Another of the Lambda. Chris Robinson, who is at Sheppard field in the chemical warfare branch of the air force.

Homer D. Higbee, wrestler from Pryor, Okla., who earned his freshman numerals and was twice intramural champion, has arrived at the army air force bombardier school in Big Springs, Texas. Higbee graduated from State in 1940.

Alfred L. Bishop of Hillsdale is now in intermediate flight training at Pensacola, Fla. When he has completed the intensive course he will receive his wings and commission in either the naval or marine reserve.

Robert G. Rau, Jr. of Monroe is now a pre-aviation cadet at the basic training center in Kearns, Utah. Rau, who entered State in 1939 as a business administration student, will be sent to one of the colleges throughout the U. S. now operating under the air force college training program when he has completed his basic training.

Arthur Rowley has completed the army air force's training at Williams field, Chandler, Ariz., while Robert F. Collins has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel at Fort Riley, Kan. He was an ROTC member at State.

In the meanwhile, Bill Barbour, 43, and Capt. Kenneth Shea, 39, have changed addresses. They both write that they miss college news and would like to hear from old friends.

Just a few more names: Herb Sayers, 40, a former member of the boxing team, is now a petty officer at the maritime training station in New York; and last to be mentioned is George Cutherson, 32, who is now in England directing a Red Cross chapter.

Wives Get Canning Tips as OCD Foods Project

East Lansing housewives will be shown proper home canning methods in a demonstration scheduled tonight in the East Lansing high school auditorium, according to Mrs. G. A. Brannan, chairman of the local OCD. Roberta Hershey of the extension staff will conduct the demonstration.

Wolverine Boys' State Gets Martial Law for Wolfing

M. Governor Issues Order in Governor's Absence

While the Michigan state troops are in Detroit to quell inter-racial disorders, the sixth annual Wolverine Boys' State went under martial law Tuesday after Lt. Gov. Robert Hull of Highland Park called the "State" militia to active duty to regulate "disorderly" behavior between the male citizens and coeds.

The order forbids the citizens to speak, hoot, whistle, or cast romantic remarks at college women.

Gov. Signs Order

Gov. Hull signed the order in the absence of Gov. Sanford.

The zone placed under martial law is limited to the bridge between the two Boys' State headquarters in Demonstration hall and the Women's gymnasium. The Boys' State police force is enforcing the new ruling in areas outside of the bridge, where the militia is on guard.

Blackout Stated

Governor Perlis' absence caused considerable confusion among members of the newly created Defense commission, headed by William C. Ahrens of Saginaw, which is planning a blackout. However, all plans are tentative to the approval of Governor Perlis. Ahrens is unable to set an official date for the blackout other than "sometime soon."

Tonight a general assembly will be held, featuring an amateur vaudeville show, movies, and concerts by the Boys' State band and glee club, directed by Lucian Kenzie of Detroit, instructor at the Moore School for Boys.

Will Govern State

Thursday the boys will journey to the capitol in Lansing where they will take over the reins of the state governmental departments for approximately two hours.

Commencement exercises will be held for the citizens of Boys' State Friday morning. At that time diplomas will be awarded to the boys for work done here during the week. The diplomas will be presented by Carl Matheson, president of the Boys' State commission for the American Legion.

The 727 members, as compared with 900 who attended last year, will close their week's activities Friday noon after commencement exercises.

Present collections of waste kitchen fats are about 85 million pounds annually.

The United States produced more than 10 billion rounds of small arms ammunition last year.

THE 8 A.M. FINAL

BEFORE we take leave of this institution we would like to clear up a little matter that has been bothering our conscience for some time. For the usual amount of squares present we might add that we wrote this ditty once a week last year under the guise of a contributor's column. As you may well know, we did it entirely without contributions. What we actually received in the way of mail over the period of a year was two postcards, a copy of the Farmers' Almanac and numerous suggestions that we give up.

-tick - toe-

What we actually printed was blandly stolen from Arch Ward's column in the Chicago Tribune, called the Wake of the News. At this time we would like to give a belated but hearty thanks to all our unknowing friends in Oak Park, Evanston, etc.

-tick - toe-

We haven't read the Trib recently and we certainly haven't heard anything original around here for months... so we won't add fuel to the flames by trying to pull zags out of a hat. But in the traditional last column a person writes, he waxes nostalgic and weeps all over page two with a song of definitely local nature... so we will stuff our thumb in our mouth, gaze with bloodshot eyes at what has passed under the bridge and bashfully making concentric circles in the sand with our bandaged big toe, murmur, "I swan."

Women's Sports

By DEE DEARING

Winding up the sports season for MSC coeds, this columnist decided to sketch one of the women who has been prominent in sports, and especially in golf. That coed is Marjorie Row, Detroit senior, who has four golf trophies lined up for herself, and numerous other prizes from her golf winnings.

At the age of 13 she started playing golf, "just because her parents did," and the first tournament she won was in 1940 when she took the runner-up in the women's district in Detroit. Since then she has become one of the six leading women golfers in the midwest.

In 1942 she took the Michigan state amateur title and she competed for two years the women's district of Detroit. Also in 1942 she was semifinalist in the women's western tourney, and won a trophy in the Mid-Florida mixed two-ball championship.

This year Marjorie will participate in the women's Western, open and closed, held at Chicago. The open starts June 28, and the closed Aug. 9.

She is a member of Kappa Delta, Delta, and Matrix, journalism honorary for women, and the Women's Athletic association.

Proulx Aids Hotel Labor Shortage

Prof. B. B. Proulx, head of the hotel administration department, is offering a series of courses designed to alleviate the severe hotel labor shortage to Michigan hotel men.

Proulx in addition to his teaching duties spends three days a week in Detroit and other cities in the state demonstrating for personnel managers, department heads, supervisors and other key employees improved methods of training new and inexperienced employees.

The story of Proulx's work, which is sponsored by the Detroit Hotel association, recently appeared in a hotel trade magazine.

Summer Staff Totals 250 as Two Visiting Profs Join Faculty

In decided contrast to the large group of visiting professors who were teaching on the campus last summer, only two men will join the regular faculty during this summer session.

The two new faculty men, both members of the education department, are Chalmers Stacy, from the University of Minnesota, and Carl Dalrymple, who has been teaching in the science department of Pattengill Junior high, Lansing. Accelerated programs in other colleges and curtailment of travel help to account for this decrease.

Approximately 250 faculty members will be teaching during the summer session this year, compared with 279 who were on the staff last summer.

According to S. E. Crowe, summer school director, nearly 150 of this group have a mixed schedule, devoting part of their time to civilian students and part to army training. Only a few instructors are teaching the aviation students exclusively, Crowe stated.

Education Department to Sponsor Meeting

A rural education workshop will be held from Monday through Friday, Aug. 16 to 20, according to Prof. C. V. Millard, acting head of the department of education. The five-day conference will be jointly sponsored by the education department and the cooperating commissioners of Michigan schools.

The purpose of the workshop Professor Millard said, is to furnish aid "for teachers in rural schools who feel the need for 'refresher' training and who wish to lay plans for wartime teaching."

Workshop teachers will be housed in the women's dormitory. Registration blanks may be obtained from the department of education, and should be returned by July 15. Registration will be at 9 a. m. Aug. 16, at Campbell hall.

REGISTRATION

The registration drop may be accounted for by the strong demand for both men and women in defense plants, and the new program for student help on farms during the summer.

Speeded up schedules in both the Home Economics and Veterinary divisions may be responsible for an increased enrollment in those courses, though last night's tabulation was not yet complete enough to be certain.

Spring term enrollment was 3,714, with 1,669 men and 2,045 women, culminating a gradual decrease of students since 1941's enrollment of 6,700.

The low summer enrollment does not indicate a further decrease, however.

DANCE

ation dances and have presented one radio program. Their vocalist is June Hays.

Tickets are on sale at the Union desk and Mason-Abbott hall. A limited number are being held for civilian students.

Patrons and guests for the dance have not been announced as yet.

1,000 STARS Awarded Army Classification

Of the 1,000 men who have been assigned to the college by the army's specialized training assignment and reclassification program, 800 have been trained and sent to other units or schools, according to Col. Dorsey R. Rodney, commandant.

There are 200 now living in college fraternity houses, awaiting early re-assignment.

STAR men continue to arrive at State in numbers running from a dozen to 100 soldiers each week, Colonel Rodney said.

Under wartime operation railroad freight cars must travel about 16 per cent farther on the average haul.

Elliot to Discuss School Program

"The Michigan School Program Today" will be discussed by Dr. Eugene B. Elliot, state superintendent of public instruction, at a meeting of 200 school and hospital maintenance employees today, according to R. W. Tenny, director of short courses.

Other topics to be discussed at the one-day meeting are "Pulling Together in Wartime," "How to Save Labor and Curtail Work Program in Wartime," and "The Retirement Program."

Morning session will be held in the Music auditorium, and afternoon sessions will be divided into school and hospital employees' sections.

In the first 12 months of the present war, 891,827 American troops were embarked for overseas duty as compared with 366,603 men in the same period of 1917-1918.
