Bicycle Bedlam

Absent-minded professors can't hold a candle to one Spartan coed. Ambling along on her bicycle in the early morning, she never noticed the squadron of marching AST men in her path. Suddenly aroused, she tried to stop, but the bike was without brakes. So, resorting to the best strategy, the screaming coed made her way between the scattered ranks.

Cake Walk Away

Hungry State students might take lessons from army men at Camp McCoy who learned an effective means of extracting extra sweets from home. The men wrote to their respective mothers that they were having a cake contest in the barracks and Ribbon would she like to enter. Results were extremely gratifying, each man reported that his cake had entered the quartermasters and mother must send another sample. More cakes came through the mails, each one won the contest, and all the mothers and soldiers were happy.

CDC to Open Drive to Speed Up Sale of War Stamps

Plans for a new campaign to speed the sale of war stamps in the summer residences are now being made by CDC, according to Chairman June Allen, Oxford sophomore, and Anita Baker, Grand Blanc junior.

Four representatives from the dormitories and representatives from the sororities will meet at 5 p. m. Monday in organization room 1, to organize plans for the sale, Miss Baker said.

The council plans to place in each dorm a design drawn in yellow puzzle fashion. The pieces of the puzzle will then be placed into place as the war stamps are sold. This will be turned out as a contest, with results to be tabulated at the end of the term, Miss Baker said.

Starting next Monday war stamps will also be sold in the lower lounge by CDC members from 4 to 5:30 p. m. on Mondays and Thursdays.

The rumor clinic will also be conducted concurrently at the stamp table. People are urged to submit any rumors or reports to the stamp desk and efforts will be made to have them confirmed or denied by informed sources.

Student Places First in Safety Contest

Richard Schubel, Lansing transfer student, won first place in Lansing's first safety speakers' contest.

Schubel, announcer and continuity writer for WKAR, transferred to State last winter term from Northwestern university where he attended school on a radio scholarship.

Football Practice

Football Coach Charles Bachman yesterday requested that all civilian students wishing to try out for varsity football turn their names in to him at Jensen fieldhouse Monday or Tuesday. Practice will probably start next Thursday or Friday, Bachman said.

ture by the addition of an illustrated lecture, "Deserts of the Southwest," given by John Claire Monteith, Californian lecturer and naturalist, according to Prof. S. E. Crowe, director of the series.

Originally the program consisted only of the movie, "Lillian Russell," starring Alice Faye. Life on Desert Depicted Monteith's lecture will depict life on the great American desert just north of the Mexican border. He will give the history of the Colorado river and tell how it formed the barriers which made the desert regions.

The geography and geology of the southwestern country is also to be presented. His talk will be accompanied by color motion pictures.

Sings in Costume

Monteith, now on a national tour, has spent many years in research on desert lore. In some of his lectures he sings songs in costume to carry out the theme of his lecture.

The movie is slated to follow the lecture. Admission for students will be by treasurer's receipt. Men in uniform will be admitted free, Crowe stated.

All College Dance Heads Tonights Social Events

Action of the all-college activity board has changed the AST dance, slated for tonight, to an all-college dance for AST, civilian, and aviation students, according to Esther Hubbard, Detroit senior, chairman.

The dance is to be held in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12 p. m. with records furnishing the music.

Hep Flyers Discontinued

First plans listed the Hep Flyers as the dance band, but because several members have been transferred the band has been temporarily discontinued.

Tickets for the dance are on sale at the Union desk, Wells Hall, North hall and Mason-Abbott hall, Miss Hubbard said.

Committees include Jean Hilgery, music; Ruth Peters, publicity; and Doris Johnson, patrons. Patrons for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Don Buell.

Tea Dance, Splash Party

Other weekend events are an all-college tea dance in the Union mixed lounge from 3 to 5 p. m. Saturday and a splash party from 7:30 to 9:30 Saturday evening at the pool in the Women's gym.

The party is open to all civilian and army students. Tickets will be necessary and may be bought at the Union desk, according to General Chairman Mary Alice Leathers, East Lansing sophomore.

Refreshments and entertainment will follow at Peoples church. Patrons will be Prof. and Mrs. Fendley Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dahlgren.

Woman Traveller Speaks Tuesday

Aloha Baker, known as the world's most traveled woman, will present her most recent illustrated lecture, "India Now," Tuesday evening at College auditorium, according to Entertainment Director S. E. Crowe.

"The talk and film were planned by Mrs. Baker and her husband to illustrate the vital issues and complications involved in Indian independence. The program is not one showing scenery and beauty, but rather deals with the people and their political problems," Crowe said.

The Bakers have lived in 85 foreign countries in search of material for their lectures, and since the Pearl Harbor attack have spent much time in portraying the Allies and the war effort.

Mrs. Baker is making a return appearance, having spoken to State students several times in previous lecture series, Crowe stated.

Foreign Talents Employed for AST Classes

Thirteen members have been added to the foreign language faculty during the past two weeks because of the increased demands of the AST program, giving the department its largest staff in its history.

Under the new plan, there will be five instructors devoting their time to Italian; five to Spanish; four to German and three to French, according to Prof. L. C. Hughes, head of the department. In this course, stress will be placed on oral fluency and ear training; thus practically all of the teachers are foreign-born and have the necessary acquaintance with the native tongue to teach it.

"Although our new staff members have been chosen for the command they have of their language rather than the amount of study or research they have done, the department has still been successful in getting many with exceptional training and university degrees," Professor Hughes stated.

Two of the women instructing in German have lived in Danzig and attended the university there. One of these is Mrs. Hans Leonhardt, whose husband is a history instructor.

Latin Americans Teach

Army Will Allow Undergraduates to Attend School While Waiting for Vacancies in Officer Training Program

Reduced quotas acceptable at Officer Candidate schools will make it possible for advanced ROTC men now on active duty in the army to return to college and continue their academic course, according to an act authorized by the war department recently.

New Math Head to Begin Duties

J. S. FRAME
... Phi Beta Kappa prof ...

Dr. James S. Frame, recently appointed head of the department of mathematics, who arrived Thursday afternoon, will assume his new duties officially Aug. 1, the Liberal Arts office announced.

Until then he will work with Prof. L. C. Plant, who has been acting head since October, 1942.

Attended Harvard

Dr. Frame attended Harvard university from 1925 to 1933 where he received A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees. After graduate study at Harvard he received a traveling fellowship which he used to study at Gottingen, Germany, and Zurich, Switzerland.

Returning to the United States, he taught mathematics at Brown university from 1934 to 1942. The same year he was appointed head of the mathematics department at Allegheny college.

While in Europe studying he traveled through the Balkan states and Italy. Frame had previously traveled with his parents in Europe and Asia from 1919 to 1922.

World Traveler

He visited Japan, China, Palestine, Egypt and Italy, also Ecole Nouvelle.

Dr. Frame is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He is associate editor of the American Mathematical Monthly, and was a vice president of the Rhode Island Mathematics Teachers' association. He is also co-author of a mathematics text and author of numerous reviews and articles in mathematical journals.

and Miss Serafina Sarzano from Cuba.

Anton Napoli's name testifies to his pure Italian background. Another of the Italian teachers is Mrs. Frank Paradise, wife of a fruit dealer in Lansing.

Mrs. H. A. Hoppe, wife of an instructor in the English department, is teaching French classes. She was formerly connected with army relief work.

Foreign Born Americans

Hughes emphasized the fact that the new faculty members, though foreign born, are thoroughly American in their ideas. They are making sacrifices to help in winning the war and in many instances have given up

Students who have completed second year advanced ROTC work and who have graduated from college are awaiting placement in OCS now and all will be placed by Sept. 30.

Other advanced students who have been called to active duty will be permitted, at their request, to return to college on an inactive status.

May Finish Courses

Second year advanced students who have not graduated but who will finish their courses on or before Dec. 31 this year will be allowed to remain in college until that time unless they graduate sooner.

All first year advanced ROTC men who are taking their basic army training will finish that training before being returned to college under supervision of the army specialized training division.

The men who return to colleges will remain until there is room for them in Officer Candidate schools.

MSC Men May Return Here

It is not possible to determine whether or not the men will be returned to the same colleges they attended before their entrance into the army, according to Col. Dorsey R. Rodney, MSC See ROTC—Page 3

Hannah Will Dedicate Hotel Laboratory at MSC Tuesday

Dedication of the research laboratory of the American Hotel association, located on the second floor of the power plant, will be held Tuesday afternoon.

President John A. Hannah will present the laboratory to Thomas D. Green, executive director of the American Hotel association. The laboratory is the only one in the country sponsored by the association.

Its chief function is to test fabrics, soaps, paints, varnishes, and other goods needed in the operation of hotels, stated Bruce E. Anderson, chairman of the committee making arrangements for the dedication.

The laboratory was brought to the campus from the Stevens hotel in Chicago through the efforts of Anderson, who is manager of the Olds hotel.

Stein to Direct Band

Prof. Keith Stein has replaced Leonard Falcone as director of the Michigan State college band, according to Roy L. Underwood, head of the music department.

Stein directed the band several years ago when Falcone was on leave of absence. The band is planning an open air concert for sometime in August.

MORE and more the military men are falling victims to romance... and women are falling for the gold braids and khaki. Everyone seems quite happy about the whole thing, too.

Pvt. Ed Ripmaster, now stationed at Camp McCoy, and Helen Holmes have announced their engagement. Private Ripmaster was a former Spartan fullback and SAE.

More romance... this time it's aviation student Robert Carlson, stationed at Chattanooga, Tenn., and Jean Walls who have made final arrangements pending. Both are former State students.

Barbara Pickett, Delta Gamma Chi from Wayne university, and Lt. Charles Stewart, former Spartan, on maneuvers in Tennessee with the 305th Medical battalion, have lost their hearts to each other.

Looking forward to wedding days are Joanne Miller, of Wayne university, and Ralph Bills... also Mary Keele, graduate of the Home Ec and nursing courses, and Corp. Howard Richards of Caerphilly, Wales.

Lt. Bill Otto and wife, the former Helen Beebe, Kappa, and month-old daughter, Cheryl Rose, visited Lieutenant Otto's parents in Lansing recently before reporting to Fort Bragg, N. C.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

(This open letter to men in the service is a weekly feature of the Michigan State News, describing the outstanding events on campus. Clip it out and mail it to a friend in the service.)

July 24, 1943

DEAREST JOHNNY:

Here I am sitting in the mixed lounge watching State go by and trying hard to remember all the happenings of the week.

First off comes word from the war department of the death of Lt. Donald W. Merrill, class of '34. Lieutenant Merrill was a prisoner in a Japanese internment camp at the time of his death.

Our "Mail out for Victory" campaign has a new group of supporters on campus, the faculty wives. The women have divided themselves up into clubs and several afternoons a week they mend and repair the socks and uniforms of all student cadets.

Another program on the summer lecture series was enacted Wednesday night when Jack Rink, "the one man show" presented his version of "Macbeth" playing all the parts himself. His 12-15 second complete costume changes were really fast work.

The athletic department is optimistically announcing the start of football practice the first week in August. Director Ralph Young said that the team will be drawn from the estimated 600 male civilian students expected in the fall.

The summer lecture series will be a double feature this week. Besides the showing of the film "Lillian Russell" John Clare Monteth will present an illustrated lecture on "Epics of the West." Monteth's talk will feature the deserts of the southwest, "Alps" of America and Death valley.

Highlight of the weekend social activities is the all college dance scheduled for tonight. Tea dances will be reinstated as part of campus activities when the first one in more than a term will be held this afternoon. Also included in weekend plans is a student club sponsored splash party.

Lt. Joe Kroll, former Spartan known for his work in college dramatics, took part in a Japanese bombing mission; it was recently disclosed. Before being sent to China, Lieutenant Kroll saw action in Africa and India.

Bye for now, all my love,

KAY

THE LESS SAID...

By NEVA ACKERMAN

THE TITLE of "most rumored about" for 1943 on college campuses all over the country should automatically be given to the ROTC units.

This week one of the better rumors was let out of the hatch with the announcement by the War department that advanced ROTC students like those who left Michigan State at the end of winter term will be returned to college until room is available in officer candidate schools for them.

If this rumor materializes some 250 junior men will be returned to our campus where they will work toward their degrees under military supervision until vacancies occur for officers training. But still it is not certain whether they will be placed in their own schools or in other colleges.

This brings the ROTC back into the news again. In looking over the back numbers of the State News it appears that practically every "big" story of the year had to do with ROTC students. These units first hit the news early last winter term. The pages of the News read like this:

All ROTC men to be called at the end of the term... Junior ROTCs to stay army to give ROTC juniors special training before service school, Junior ROTCs to stay only until spring term.

Senior ROTCs to remain on campus, Seniors will teach soldiers to be stationed here, Senior ROTCs to become sergeants, will be activated and live in campus barracks spring term. First ROTC calls sent out April 12. Senior ROTCs go to Custer for processing... and soon.

The announcement of the "Back to college" movement for the undergraduate men is a brighter story but one that deserves to be treated skeptically. More than one favorable ROTC order has been reversed.

The reason for this mix-up is that there are too many men for the positions available. The senior ROTCs are now in basic while the juniors have finished it and are ready for officer training.

Personal Thoughts Reflected in Works of Gomer Jones

Composer Wrote Own Wedding Selections

Gomer Llewellyn Jones, assistant professor of composition and theory in the music department, is many things, but he is primarily a composer.

He is also a pianist, scholar, organist, church director, and lecturer. Recently he was appointed director-organist of the Central Methodist church in Lansing.

On June 19 he was married. The wedding music was played by Jones. He had definite ideas about music for such an occasion, and there was not much of the kind which he wanted for his bride.

Wrote Wedding Music

For my bride I will compose music, he commented. Five of the wedding selections were original compositions honoring her and now he intends to have them published.

Two of his works are being published at present. One is "The Divine Mystery," a parable for Christmas, composed and arranged by Jones, who uses the pen name Llewellyn Gomer, with words written and selected by William Kimmel, also of the music department.

The cantata, written in 1942, was presented at the Christmas festival given by the college orchestra last year. In published form a few new numbers have been added but it is still essentially the same, he said.

Legends Basis

"The Sinner Village," an oratorio for women's voices, and a symphony based on an old Welsh legend in an alliterative poem by R. Williams Parry, were part of the April, 1941, program presented at the choral and symphony concert at State.

Other arrangements of Bach's "Brandenburg" and "Fugue in C minor" have been played by the New York Philharmonic symphony at Carnegie hall. His concert version of the "Star Spangled Banner" has also been played by the Philharmonic.

Jones, he prefers to be known as, was born at Morristown,

GOMER JONES
Welsh musician

Glamorganshire, Wales, the son of a Presbyterian minister. His early talent in music was encouraged by proper training. Several of his boyhood compositions, composed between the ages of 7 and 11, were performed locally.

At 14 he was a student of the master of the king's music. This ability won him a fellowship in musical composition awarded by the Commonwealth fund. The fellowship is equivalent to the Rhodes scholarship. Jones is the second music student ever to receive this honor.

Won Scholarship

He also won a four year scholarship to Cardiff college of the University of Wales. After five years of college he received his bachelor's and master's degrees in Latin and Greek. The British master's degree is equivalent to the American doctor's degree.

Jones was music consultant for the 20th Century Fox film "How Green Was My Valley." He was also "honorary officer" in charge of music for the coronation of King George VI in North Wales.

ROTC

Plans are being made to bring State men back to this campus. The men will live in government quarters and will be under army rule similar to the groups already on campus, Colonel Rodney said.

They will continue their original course of study and will take second year advanced military work in addition.

If put into effect, the proposed plan will affect approximately 250 State men who left the campus with the enlisted reserves shortly after the close of winter term, Colonel Rodney added.

THE TESS SAID

ing. But the seniors have the preference. That leaves the juniors out on a limb and the army has solved it by deciding to send them back to school.

Maybe it's true that the second lieutenants are winning this war but they can't all be trained at the same time.

By now these junior men have completed their 12 week basic army training and have become acclimated to army routines. It will be like a relieve to get back to the atmosphere of the Alma Mater.

Non-coms Win Softball Game from CTD Officers, 22 to 4

By A/S ERNEST HODGES

Commissioned officers of the 310th College Training Detachment ran into a power house yesterday when they tangled with the non-coms of the permanent staff of the armory in a softball game on the diamond opposite Abbot hall. The score was 22 to 4 for the non-coms.

Except for a couple of wild innings, the first and fourth, the men with the bats held their own. In the initial inning the non-coms didn't allow the bases to cool until eight runs had been tallied from four hits. They bettered their record in the fourth when they scored 12 runs from an uncalculated number of hits. Lt. William J. Heaney who came in for Lt. John M. Comer in that frame.

When the officers did connect their drives usually traveled for Capt. Kenyon Payne, who held down third base, belted one into center that was good for a home run in the fifth.

Coming through in the sixth Lieutenant Comer blasted a four-bagger that brought in Lt. Norman Scott who had gone to first on a single. Smart running by Captain Payne stretched a single into a score on a bunt fielded by the enlisted men for the fourth and final score.

Players in the Lansing AA club league with a second place standing, the enlisted men grabbed a homer way out to the center when Sgt. Jack Stabler stepped into one with three men on in the fourth, and Pvt. Lee Lindow drove into almost the same position with two on in the same inning. A triple by Sgt. Russ Hanna, with the bags loaded, boosted the score in the same stanza.

Batteries for the officers were Lts. Comer and Scott, and Heaney and Johnson. For the non-coms, Sgt. Hart pitched and Pvt. John R. O'Brien received.

Other officers who played were Lts. Kemmure, Edgar, M. Alford, Quentin Walker, and William O'Neill. Sgt. Carl Jones took over first base for the officers after Lt. O'Neill injured a finger holding a fly.

Dramatic Workshop to Give Final Play

The last Dramatic Workshop play of the season is to be presented Wednesday over WKAP, according to Prof. J. A. Callaway, director of the series.

The plays will be discontinued while Callaway is on vacation, but will be resumed in the fall.

AST

better jobs to give their time to this effort.

The AST language course is designed to give the soldier students a speaking knowledge of the language by the end of their 36 week period. The men will spend 17 hours a week in class, which is equal to three college years of study in nine months, Professor Hughes stated.

Many of the men teachers are planning to live in dorms and fraternity houses with the AST men so that they may have the opportunity to converse with and help them during their free hours.

Students Know Language

Practically all of the students are already familiar with one foreign language, but are expected to have no previous knowledge of the one in which they are now enrolled. They have been selected from the large group now on campus because of special aptitude they exhibited in preliminary tests.

Hughes explained that by the end of the outlined period the men should be equipped to take care of themselves on foreign soil in regard to any linguistic questions.

"Both students and teachers appear eager and enthusiastic about their new course and we are anticipating great success," Hughes concluded.

The music practice building was formerly Abbot hall, men's dormitory.

Program to Feature Native of Haiti and Discussion Group

Sunday discussion group for regular students, Air cadets, and ASTs will be held in the student parlors of Peoples church at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Marybell Beck, case worker at the social service bureau, will lead the discussion on the "Family in War-time."

At the informal hour, held from 4 to 5:45 p. m. in the student parlors, recorded music and conversation will precede an address on "A Closeup of Haiti" by Berthony Vieux.

Vieux, native of Port-au-Prince, Haiti, is district supervisor of extension work in the Haitian department of agriculture. He received his master's degree, with distinction, this June. He came to State to study improved methods in agriculture, marketing, and production.

Vieux will return to his homeland August 10.

Players Will Broadcast

"Divide and Conquer," dramatization sponsored by the Ingham county defense council, will be broadcast over WKAR, college radio station, at 6:30 p. m. today.
