Symphony Orchestra Draws Large, Enthusiastic Crowd

Cleveland Musicians Take Two Encores

By Marjory McLain

A truly thrilling and inspiring performance by the Cleveland symphony orchestra was witnessed last night by one of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences in the auditorium's history.

The 82 musicians created many warm and exciting images and moments as they interpreted the music of the masters. Remarkable were the ensemble, full, rich, body of tone, and finesse of interpretation of the orchestra.

Leinsdorf Conducts

The conductor, Erich Leinsdorf, while not impressive looking nor dynamically energetic, moved the players with the slightest gesture. His conception of the music was crystal clear and full of life.

The whole program was a living example of the motto of the conductor: "Music for all of the people." Following the opening classic Mozartian overture, the orchestra interpreted the movements of Brahms' symphony No. 1 in C minor with a universal understanding and feeling of the great work.

"Porgy 'n' Bess" Popular

As tune after tune upwound in "Porgy and Bess," the orchestra gave out with all the technique of modern music synchronization, the blaring of trumpets, the strum of a banjo, and all the modish harmony of popular music.

Two well known selections were used as encores: Morton Gould's arrangement of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and "Roses from the South" by Johann Strauss.

Pacific Aircraft Carrier Unit Hits 15 Enemy Ships

S.W. PACIFIC. ALLIED HQD, Saturday, Nov. 13 (AP)— Fifteen Japanese warships have been hit by Allied planes in a new raid on Rabaul, New Britain.

The air arm of Admiral William F. Halsey sank an enemy cruiser and two destroyers in the latest of a series of blows to hit that seaborne stronghold, headquarters announced today.

Another cruiser and 11 destroyers probably were damaged. The raid was made from an aircraft carrier force and the Japanese lost 64 planes in four attacks on the carrier group.

General MacArthur's spokesman said the greater part of the Japanese air effort in the sector now is being concentrated at Wewak, New Guinea and at Rabaul.

The Russians in this most vicious thrust of their big offensive were only 75 miles from the post-war Polish border.

Soviet forces were in position to cross the Teteriv river yesterday and captured Radozhizh in a direct assault on Zhitomir.

Soviet Army Cuts Two Nazi Forces

BERN, Nov. 12 (AP)—Soviet Vatutin's first army, moving quickly south, moving quickly to the two Nazi armies that had south Russia, drove southeast along the main railway from Kiev to within 15 miles of Zhitomir today in a direct assault on that strategic rail junction.

The Red army, sweeping in a wide semicircle from Kiev, captured more than 100 towns and cities and the Moscow command recorded by the Soviet Strategic. Among them was Kirovograd, 15 miles east of Zhitomir, on the north-south railway from Leningrad to Kiev.

UNDER THE WIRE

BERN, Nov. 12 (AP)—Nearly all advice from Germany indicated today that German troops on leave express an eagerness to return to the front as soon as possible to avoid the gloom they find at home.

This was contrary to some reports, such as one published in the United States that 500 German troops in France at Villefranche-de-Rouergue, 60 miles north of Toulouse, were killed recently in a mutiny against a Russian front assignment.

Films to Describe "Your America" on Series Program

A color portrait of America and its war industries will be brought to College auditorium tonight at 8:15 by Francis R. Line, nationally known color photographer.

Line will present his color film, "This Is Your America," which color photographer, shows the country's home front efforts, according to S. E. Crowley, director of the lecture series.

Included in the picture is the only film record of the building of Michigan's largest bombing plant, Willow Run. Other war factories of the middlewest are also shown in Line's picture.

The food problems of the nation, the mining of important war metals, and the emergency growing of guayule for rubber are also recorded by the photographer.

Other scenes show youngsters helping with the wheat harvest in the middlewest, the cattle roundup of the far west, and the lumber industry of the north.

Line, a graduate of University of Michigan and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, is the brother-in-law of Mrs. Grace Seong Lin, former instructor of Japanese at State.

AAF First Aid Established

Dr. C. F. Holland, director of the health service, has announced the establishment of a first aid station in Mason Hall for the convenience of the airmen stationed in Mason and Albion fields. Pvt. Van Huizen of the medical corps has charge of the station. This service will relieve the sick call list at the hospital and save time for service men.

Individual exhibitions of what goes on behind Publications row will be the keynote of the annual open house of the four Michigan State student publications Wednesday night from 7 to 9, according to Co-chairmen, K. Y. Sprague, Wolverine business manager, and Jean Barnes, Spartan business manager.

The Wolverine office will display the story of plate engraving, as presented by the Indianapolis Engraving company, and also a group of covers for year books. The S. K. Smith company will present the cover materials.

Cartoons to Be Displayed

Cartoons and how they are made will be the highlight of the Spartan display. The office will also show the procedure for laying out advertising material, Miss Barnes stated.

With a regular staff working to put out the Thursday morning edition of the State News, visitors at the News office will be able to see the two Associated Press machines, and how copy is used from them.

Open to All Students

Miss Sprague and Miss Barnes both said that the entire campus, including soldiers, civilian students and faculty, will be welcome at the open house. An attempt will be made to acquaint visitors with the type of work done on Publications row, which is in the basement of the Union annex.

Receiving committees for the Spartan will include Nickie Smith, advertising manager; Jean Barnes, business manager,

Allies Strangle Main Nazi Supply Lines to Italy in 48 Hour Bombing Attack

Yanks Again Blast at Vital Nazi Industries; Berlin, Hannover, Ruhr Valley, French Coast Receive Heavy RAF Blows

LONDON, Nov. 12 (AP)—With a 48-hour burst of coordinated air power, Allied heavy bombers ranging thousands of miles from both British and Mediterranean bases closed a strangling grip today around the three most important funnels feeding the German armies embattled in Italy.

In a 1,400-mile round-trip mission, RAF heavy bombers last night crossed the whole of France to smash the coastal Riviera railway in the vicinity of the resort city of Cannes. In the preceding daylight, Liberators of the new American 15th Army air force operating from the south attacked the Antwerp viaduct on the same rail artery.

Queen Candidates to Be Introduced at Dance Today

Today's social activities sponsored by Union board will include a second bridge tournament and a tea dance this afternoon. Marge Grail, publicity chancery, announced.

The 21 candidates for Mardi Gras queen will be introduced by Bob Edged, Elmira, N. Y., minor, at the tea dance which will last from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. All proceeds from the dance will be turned over to the Spartan Loan fund.

The "G. I. Yardbirds," formerly known as Bill Baer's band will play for the dance. From 4:30 to 5, the band will play dance music over WKAR, college radio station. A violin solo by Dick Dean will be featured during the short intermission preceding the broadcast.

Voting for the candidates will begin in the lounge outside the ballroom immediately after introduction. Boxes and candidate pictures will be moved to the lower desk in the Union later where voting will continue until Nov. 27.

The new bridge tournament will begin at 2:30 p.m. in the faculty dining room. Persons wanting to enter do not have to register in advance. Chairman Fogell announced.

Enemy Landing Craft Raid Leros Island

CAIRO, Nov. 12 (AP)—German forces made a landing on the British held Aegean island of Leros early this morning and heavy fighting was in progress with the British and pro-Allied Italian garrison fighting side-by-side to dislodge the attackers.

A number of German landing craft were destroyed or damaged by the defenders as several landing parties were thrown back into the sea, said an Allied communiqué. Others, however, secured beachheads and these detachments are being dealt with, the communiqué added.

This, however, was the only Allied gain reported from yesterday's fighting, which consisted mainly of clashes between rival patrols the length of the 90 mile front.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

(This open letter to men in the service is a weekly feature of the Michigan State News, describing the outstanding events on campus. Clip it out and mail it to a friend in the service.)

November 13, 1943

DEAREST Johnny:

Many Girls' queen candidates have all been chosen now and you should see the glamour photos in the Union to day. Guess we'll all have to start breaking out piggy banks to get some voting pennies.

The latest drive on campus is not for rubber-silk stockings or metal—this time it's for junk jewelry—for exchange to natives of North Africa and the South Pacific. Maybe I'll donate the bracelet you made me out of my extracted wisdom teeth.

Tuesday started the WSSF drive for money to send supplies to student prisoners of war and evacuees. Over $150 was contributed in one day.

Midterm grades came out this week—that's all I'll say on that subject.

Remember when I told you about the AST clubroom to be converted from the Dem hall bathroom? The first informal dance will be held tonight for all ASTs. The G.I. Yardbirds will supply the boogie beat.

The Cleveland symphony orchestra under Erich Leinsdorf's direction is appearing here this week in a doubleheader. The orchestra left off last night and is getting up early this morning for another program.

I got your letter yesterday at last. It was wonderful to hear from you and I hope you'll keep it up. Speaking of mail, the ASTs have their own post office over in Dem hall.

Francis R. Lane, brother-in-law of Mrs. Grace Soong Lane, former instructor of Japanese, will speak in College Auditorium tomorrow on "This Is Your America." He will show color movies of various war problems.

Open houses for servicemen will continue timewise. They seemed to be a success last week. What are you doing for entertainment at home and military secret?

With a C ration of love,
PEG

SQUADRONS, PASS IN REVIEW

By the Buzz Boys

SQUADRON A

Our section five, led by Lt. Arnold Currey, is undoubtedly the snappiest bunch of songsters in the detachment. They came up with "Oh, Johnnie" and "The Music Goes Down and Around" as well as several others this week, just to keep them routine varied.

Congratulations are in order to A.S. John W. Cross. John married the former Mayme Walker of Flint, last Saturday. He is the first in our outfit to be married since it was formed, and we all wish him and his bride the best of luck.

SQUADRON C

Our leisure days are over. Until now our army experiences have been mostly physical, but now that classes have started we're using our brains as well as our brawn.

We're getting used to the routine and strict discipline and it won't be long before the red, white and blue streamer of the parade winner is floating from our guidon.

SQUADRON D

The perplexing and interesting possibilities of the gig are being brought to our attention the hard way. But we're anxious to keep off the tennis courts and take advantage of our first open post. It will be the first free time many of us have had since entering the army.

Many of the boys in our outfit are from the south, and last week's snow flurries marked the first time many of them had ever seen snow. So we already have something to remember MSG by. We're looking forward to that promised "white Christmas."

SQUADRON F

For the "on the ball" men of our squadron this week was marking the completion of our training of MSGs. An added bonus comes from ROPP companies must come to ground and we will. We will do it in style, clean and leave here with many happy memories, and a few regretful ones when the senior officers

Statistics prove that F has a record to be proud of. Our men around the corner have walked fewer tours and we... But the best news of all is that have had less men absent before our squadron leads the rest in the honor board than any other the sale of advance tickets for the AST Kassel dance.

Squadron I Takes Table Tennis Tilt, Keeps Slate Clean

By A.S. C. E. PEDIGO

Old Man Winter and his force of snowflake gremlins upset the 310th CTD sports schedule, and there was little action on the outdoor front during the past week. Consequently, the air crew sports pictures may not move as rapidly as usual.

Amid a flurry of snow, the detachment volleyball champion ship was finally played out between squadrons G and K. Playing to their reputation as the "hot shots" of the tournament, the G boys showed true championship form in winning the first game of the set 15 to 12, after dropping the first 12 points in a row to their game, but out-classed opponents.

Breezing through the second game, G took the championship. The squadron G, and ended one of the hardest fought intramural tournaments ever held in the 310th.

In indoor sports, the stars of the week were A.S. MacAdie and A.S. Brown of squadron I who teamed together to win the table tennis doubles crown. They showed real table form and put on an exhibition which was loudly applauded by all spectators.

Squadron I seems to have the inside track on the pool tournament which would give them a clean sweep in indoor sports.

Football, the most popular sport with the airmen, was momentarily out of the picture as a blanket of snow covered the playing field. However, with the addition of new squadrons C and D, the popular sport really can be expected to get under way this week.

AT EASE

BY A.S. RANDY GLEICHER

WALKING along the campus the other day I saw two wise-looking ASTs engaged in a heated debate. Thinking I might learn something from these intelligent laymen I eavesdropped on the following interesting debate:

Sneagle: Snowball.
Sneather: Snatch.

There's an English prof on the campus who's 2 p.m. class has been disturbed at the same time every day by a section of air crew men. The sergeant loudly below "Hup two three full, hup two three full," every time he gets under the professor's window.

One day last week the breaking point came and the professor could stand it no longer. Throwing up the window of his third floor classroom, he shouted in a most unacademic manner, "Darn it, when are you muscle-bound heroes going to learn to count up to five?"

A very eager air student was on CQ duty the other night with strict orders to record everything in the log book. Next morning the tactical officer found this entry, conscientiously inscribed, "2198 unsuccessful attempt to repel attacking mosquito."

There once was a very good young man. An upstanding figure in the community. As a reward for his goodness, his fairy godmother told him he could have any three wishes in the world.

Well, the young man thought for a while and then said, "O.K. I want the most complete wardrobe in the world and millions of dollars." Then, feeling a pang of conscience, he concluded with, "And a chance to kill Hitler and Hirohito."

There was a puff of smoke and the young man round-hatched in.

Arabic Mobs Protest Arrest of Lebanese Leaders by French

LONDON, Nov. 12 (AP)—The French committee of national liberation announced tonight that it was sending Gen. Georges Catroux, commissioner of state to Beirut, with full power to settle the Lebanon situation.

Disturbances already were flaring in the streets of Beirut, capital of Lebanon, a dispatch reported, saying that French tanks and armored cars appeared when angry mobs demonstrated against the arrest of the Lebanese president, premier and several cabinet members—the immediate spark of the crisis.

The Lebanese leaders had sought to modify the republic's constitution to make it more compatible with Lebanese sovereignty.

Pipe Scraper, Double-Yolk Egg Give Property Crew Many Headaches

By NANCY HARKNESS

Behind the scenes of "Claudia," those unpublicized persons, the technical crew, have been working fast and furiously the past few weeks.

Among some of the peculiar props needed for the play are a double-yolk egg, a fresh loaf of bread, a partially knit sweater, and a pipe scraper. The properties committee has succeeded in finding most of its props so far, but has had to look in many far and well-hidden corners for them.

Connecticut Setting

The set, which is to be finished this weekend, is the living room of a colonial Connecticut farmhouse. To the audience's right can be seen a paneled dining room and to the left the terrace surrounded by a stone wall.

The greatest problem in set construction was getting enough persons to work, according to C. H. Neely, who is in charge of sets. Formerly he had one to three NYA workers to help, but this year the crew consists mainly of women, all of whom are volunteers.

The women have proved not only their desire to work, but also their ability. By the time the set is finished, it is estimated that the stage crew will have put in 300 hours of work.

Posters to Be Displayed

The art committee has also been working hard, according to Shirley White, East Lansing junior director. One hundred posters with cuts of Claudia have been made and in the Union and Jacobson's will be two by posters with photographs of scenes in the play.

The technical crew consists of: Dick Jones, production manager; Gloria Bell, stage manager; Betty J. Wright, assistant stage manager; Avery Miller, dresser; and Barbara Chandler, dresser.
