Winter Term Registration Totals 6,361

Linton Announces Fall All-College Average; Women Top Men

Presence of approximately 3,600 Army students on Michigan State's campus has brought the total enrollment (men and women) for winter term 1944 to 6,361. R. S. Linton, college registrar, announced yesterday.

An increase of 530 students over the winter term 1943 was announced today by Registrar Linton. In 1943 the ratio of men to women was 5 to 1, but fall term 1943 the figure was almost reversed, with women being about 3 to 1.

A gain of 30 from the official total of 6,441 for fall term was also noted.

At the same time he released enrollment figures, Linton announced a grade point average of 2.6 for fall term.

State women students led the men by a fraction, with the girls being 1.53 to 1.48. Linton said. Based on a letter grade system, all-term marks were between B and C.

Leading the women's dormitories, South Williams averaged 1.61 with the off-campus dorms going to Fern house, whose students had a 1.19 average marks.

Sororities lead. Sigma Kappa held a .07 lead on the fraternities with a 1.58 average as compared with the men's 1.51. However, the top fraternity average, the Pi Kappa Phi's 1.85, was ahead of the Alpha Xi Delta average of 1.84. Linton stated.

If the Shoe Fits

While exhibiting several pages of advertising copy to his Journeymen Underclass yesterday, Mr. Kuykendall held up one. Wear of special interest. The students broke into laughter at the ad which showed an egg depicting a tombstone inscribed on the egg were the words "Died by DWK." Kuykendall's full name happens to be Dean Wilson Kuykendall.

Grounds for Mayhem
Latest victim of accidents attributed to early reveille is an ROTC who broke a leg getting out of bed. His shouts attracted a good sized crowd of fellow ROTCs with numerous offers of assistance, but the victim struggled to his feet alone. It was several minutes before the men discovered that the broken leg belonged to a chair the RO had used for a step, and not to the ROTC.

Dale Carnegie Act

There was nothing subtle about the hint Ginny Ripley, Detroit freshman, got last night at the Sigma Kappa rush party. Some of the sorority members were tossing around a bar of Lifebuoy soap, which had been used as a prop in the eve-faux thing's entertainment, when Pas one of the coeds suddenly dropped it at Ginny's feet just as she prepared to leave. As the red-faced, confused active picked up the soap, Ginny good-naturedly assured her that she understood and would take a bath as soon as she returned to the dorm.

Allied Troops Raid Jap Strongholds in South Pacific

ADVANCED ALLIED HQS, NEW GUINEA, Friday, Jan. 14, (AP)—American troops have raided the Japanese positions at Arawa, southwest New Britain, the high command announced today. The invaders at Arawa, which was under artillery fire Tuesday night.

This communiqué report put a definite dent in the Tokyo radio report that the Japanese had recaptured Arawa, which was taken from the enemy Dec. 15.

Allied bombers continued hammering enemy bases, dropping 104 tons of Alexander on the northeast coast of New Guinea. The towns of Rabaul, Port Moresby, New Britain, and 36 at Cape St. George, on the south tip of New Ireland.

The Alexander pounding brought to more than 1,200 tons the total of explosives laid on supply dumps, air fields, and gun positions here and at nearby Madang this month.

Australians who are pushing northward toward Sandoz to form a juncture with the Americans are forcing the enemy from steep cliffs on the north bank of the Kapugara river, about 55 miles south of Sandoz.

Party Chiefs Discuss Convention Expenses of Summer Campaign

CHICAGO, Jan. 13 (AP)—Democratic and Republican chiefs met today to discuss sharing the expense of preparing the Chicago stadium for their parties' national conventions next summer.

Conferring were Frank C. Walker, Democratic national chairman, Harrison E. Spangler, Republican national chairman, and Walter S. Hallinan, acting chairman of the Republican arrangements committee.

While the Republicans have selected June 26 for the start of their convention here, Democratic plans will not be determined definitely until the party's national committee meets in Washington Jan. 22.

Walker, who has indicated the overwhelming sentiment to Democrats also will convene, turned the administration down on both points by maintaining the convention opened on July 15 in 1940, and he saw "no reason why it should be held earlier than this year."

Driving forward in old Poland, Red troops have captured Voronovitsa in a drive to trap Germans in the Smela area of the Dniester bend. The map shows Ribbentrop line, border established by Germany and Russia in 1939; the Curzon line suggested in 1919 and proposed today by Moscow. The shaded area is German-held Russia.

Roosevelt Presents 99 Billion Dollar Budget Request for '45 to Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—

Congress received from President Roosevelt today a $90,000,000 budget for the 1945 fiscal year—perhaps the last huge wartime budget—and notable chiefly for a contemplated downturn in war spending and upturn in post-war costs.

Although it assumes the war in Europe will still be going on in 1945, it calls for a reduction from the $92,000,000,000 of war spending in the current fiscal year ending next July 1 to $90,000,000,000.

In a message accompanying the budget, Mr. Roosevelt vigorously renewed his earlier request for higher taxes, saying the $10,500,000,000 in new revenue asked by the treasury is a minimum.

He also asked that the social security tax be increased one per cent.

Congress already has indicated overwhelming sentiment to Democrats also will convene, turn the administration down on both points by maintaining the convention opened on July 15 in 1940, and he saw "no reason why it should be held earlier than this year."

Traditions, Curricula Seen in Coat of Arms

By EMILY KALLEL

With the days of knighthood passed into history and 86 years of the existence of Michigan State college following suit, the college adopted a coat of arms in the time of streamliners and two-way radio sets, 1941.

Two State students, Joseph Lewis, '43, and Charles Stebbins, '41, art majors, designed the coat under the sponsorship of Blue Key, junior and senior men's honorary. The coat is properly called arms of community and follows all the laws of heraldry governing seals.

Sketches Displayed

Four of the many preliminary sketches submitted were selected and put on display in the Union lobby for a student vote. Their choice was seconded by Pres. John A. Hannah, then the college secretary.

Student council and the State Board of Agriculture approval completed the necessary endorsement. Sixteen persons representing administrative staff, alumni relations, and other di-

THE LESS SAID . . .

By NEVA ACKERMAN

ALMOST every time anybody goes to the movies these days he sees a long GI reel about what civilians can do for the war effort—everything from rolling bandages, entertaining soldiers to knitting for soldiers.

But most important of the services which are being played up in the blood donor program of all the appeals in newspapers and movies this one appears most often and most ardently.

These appeals describe in detail the process of giving blood and the importance of blood plasma on the battlefields. This doing has been drilled into us long enough that it seems clear in our mind just how important blood can be to our soldiers. We know that blood plasma can mean life or death to wounded men.

It seems as if college students do as little as possible for the war effort because they are tied down by their work and their lack of interest. They can't volunteer their services to Red Cross units or civilian volunteer groups because of limited time and they don't have money to spend for war bonds and stamps.

The existence of either lack of interest or lack of time is apparent in the way defense classes and programs have been received by few students in classes.

No matter if students don't find the time to do much for the war effort they do feel that they ought to be doing something, and since there is such a demand for blood plasma, giving of blood could be the answer to their desire to help.

We have persons ready to give blood but there is no blood donor station in Lansing or East Lansing. Since the nearest center is Detroit, the only way we can take advantage of this program is by having the Red Cross bring the mobile blood donor unit to the campus.

Two years ago the Red Cross did bring the traveling unit here and many students volunteered to give blood. Last year APO tried to bring the traveling unit back but the Red Cross was unable to bring it here. APO reported that the Red Cross claims that it already had its necessary quota.

Recently there has been more and more demand for more blood but still there is no way for us to give it. We have blood withdrawn at a bank. With some organized effort we ought to be able to bring the motorized blood bank to the campus again so that we also can do our part.

WHEN the faculty and students get together next Friday night for the College carousell it will mark a departure from the rule in entertainment on the campus. At this time the faculty and students will mix to cement the relations between the two groups.

The faculty is going to let down its hair and let the students meet them informally and the students are going to be able to get acquainted without playing up to the pros.

The dictionary definition for Carrousel is "drinking, merry-go-round, tournament." No matter which one it turns out to be it ought to be fun. This new brain-child of SWL is planned with the intention of working it into an annual feature to bring students and faculty together.

So far the entertainment to be furnished by faculty members is a secret but the students are offering a variety program which will include dancing and musical numbers and the faculty will probably have to match the student bill.

In Campus Quarters

By SCOTTIE MCNEAL and RO HOWLAND

THE KAPPAS have come clean and now greet the campus with heads held high. After weeks of trekking across the street loaded with towels, washcloths, soap and shampoo, to take baths and wash hair, they triumphantly announce that Saturday night at the bewitching hour of midnight, their water was repaired and they were once again able to call their lives their own.

The Sigma Chis celebrated their first anniversary as the Gamma Phi chapter Saturday evening at a banquet in the Hotel Olds. Seventy-one actives, alumnae and pledges were present. This included guests from Lansing alumni chapter, the Albion college chapter and several national officers of Sigma Chi.

On the morning of the next day, Sunday, seven men were taken into the fold of Sigma Chi in their winter term initiation. They were: Russell A. Anderson, East Lansing freshman; A. S. H. Kirke Becker, stationed at MSC; Duran Ford, Skokie, Ill., junior; Robert H. Freeman, Detroit junior; Richard W. Mosher, East Lansing freshman; David E. Smith, Jackson sophomore; and Thomas S. Wright, Pleasant Ridge freshman. In spite of the much talked about manpower shortage, the Sigma Chis seem to have made a surprising haul.

The Thetas are providing for their future by keeping their pledge class full. At the end of last term two new black and gold pledge pins were presented on the counters of Barbara Grifroy, Midland sophomore, and Audrey Henderson, Saginaw freshman.

Na, the previous angle has not been forgotten. The fact is that there is so much to be told that it is hard to find a beginning point. Nancy Dutton, Theta, is the new owner of Bob Bell's Phi Delta pin. Bob is with the VSA here and is a member of the University of Virginia's Phi Delta chapter.

Once again the list of engagements is overwhelming. Friday night dinner at the Theta house made more excitement by Mary Felt Stuck's announcement that she had received a ring from Alvin Goodland, '42.

Mary Lou Jenkins, Harbor Beach junior, is happily displaying a diamond from Lt. Ray Wilde who is stationed at Peterson Field, O.

When Pvt. Ralph McCready of the air force came home on furlough recently, he brought one of those familiar little boxes to Betty Ann Major, Standish freshman, and Mary Hadsall, conneaut freshman, is wearing a ring from Lt. William Lutz, '40.

Jeanne Nesman recently acquired the first Lambda Chi pin in the Alpha Gam house. It formerly belonged to Eddie Atwood, now at the U. of M. During the past week four AGD alums visited the house: Jean Jackson, '43; Eleanor VanSickle, '43; Ginny (Eddy) Molloy, '44, and Doris Coohon, '45.

Ready for a CAREER in 28 WEEKS?

• Yes, that is what has already happened and is happening to the students in our new accelerated wartime course at the Retail Bureau.

If, in January, you are completing your junior year in acceptable standing in liberal arts, business administration, or education, you can transfer to Pitt's Retail Bureau for your senior year and still receive a Bachelor's degree. You start on February 2, 1944, and 28 weeks later—in September—you are trained and ready for a job in the retail field. If you are a senior and are being graduated in January, you may take the 28-week course and be eligible for a Master in Letters degree in September. If you are an upper-classman and have successfully completed two years of college, you may take the 28-week course without receiving a degree.

You will be earning while you are learning, because you will do a steady income for the supervised work you do in the Pittsburgh stores as a part of your Bureau training. And your career will be well under way before you finish the course—a career with an unlimited future.

Other new semesters will start in June and in September under this wartime program. Send for Bureau Bulletin C and an application form.

Crews Roll Out Replacements for New Strike

LONDON, Jan. 13 (AP)—American airmen shot down 152 German fighters at a record cost of 60 bombers and five fighters in history's greatest sky battle Tuesday, and blasted two other targets besides—shattering the aircraft centers south of Berlin, it was disclosed.

The eighth air force reported 150 enemy fighters down from 160 to 152, and added 15 more American heavy bombers to the 59 announced earlier, having failed to reach Berlin. The raid carried out in less than 1,200 fighters and bombers.

Free French Troops Move Into Action Near Cassino in Italy

American Troops Continue to Push Beyond Cervaro

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 13 (AP) — French troops under Gen. Alphonse Juin opened a flanking drive through Italy's rugged Apennines mountains and seized peaks overlooking Acquafondala, seven miles northeast of Cassino, while American infantry in a frontal assault from captured Cervaro pushed within three miles of Cassino, main German stronghold on the fifth army front, the Allied command announced today.

American forces pressed on toward Cassino after they entered the fortress village of Cervaro at 4 p.m. yesterday, while British units on their left flank fought toward along the railway leading into Cassino and menaced Nazi control of the last heights southeast of the city.

Allied announcement of Cervaro's capture came nearly 24 hours after the Germans reported their troops had lost the fortified town in hard fighting. Cassino, thus stripped of its main defenses to the east, southeast and south, was expected to fall soon to the steady, grinding assault of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces.

The American-equipped French troops in their renewed attack on the inland wing of the fifth army front were fighting through some of the roughest country in Europe, hauling their supplies from one peak to another by muleback and by hand.

North of Acquafondala, the French advanced two-thirds of a mile southwest of Rocchetta and captured a 3,000-foot peak in the Monna Casale range that commands a portion of the Olti-Atina road. General Juin's surprise advance bagged a number of Nazi prisoners.

President Foresees Large Scale Demobilization After German War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP) —

Victory over Germany will permit large numbers of American troops to come home and important segments of industry to shift civilian production even while the war against Japan increases in fury, President Roosevelt indicated today.

"If hostilities end on one major front before they end on other fronts," he told congress in his annual budget message, "large-scale demobilization adjustments will be possible and necessary while we are still fighting a major war."

The statement occasioned some surprise in quarters which remembered the storm of Yankee criticism that burst less than a year ago around the head of Prime Minister Churchill when he asserted that a partial demobilization would be possible in Britain as soon as Germany is beaten.

With both statements now before the public—the Prime Minister's several months ago and Mr. Roosevelt's now—it becomes possible to assess some of the factors which make it evident that partial demobilization will begin in both countries after the European victory.

Budapest Quartet Achieves Variety, Beauty in Concert

Soloists Play Works of Three Composers

The Budapest quartet, four soloists who played at the Auditorium last night in the Music auditorium, were heard in concert last night in the Music auditorium playing the works of Haydn, Prokoviev and Brahms.

The soloists' touch in the Haydn Quartet in G major *(Op. 54, No. 1) was as light as the composer had desired, and the richness in the sprightly movements brought appreciations from the capacity audience.

Versatility Revealed

The Prokoviev Quartet in G major (Op. 51, No. 1) was as varied as the artists as much as the genius of the composer. The contrasting moods of the movement provided a musical thrill.

Brahms' Quartet in G major (Op. 51, No. 1) can be enjoyed in the quiet sections of all works in the program, but the consummate skill of Messrs. Rossmann, Kroft and Schneider brought house down.

Informal Recital

The success of the informal recital was a deserved personal triumph for the performers.

The Budapest quartet, headed at 12:05 p.m. by Mrs. Victor Noll, Tower Guard, performed in the auditorium.

According to Chairman Billie Morley, New Troy junior, folk dancing will be a new feature this week. Miss Morley will be assisted by Rae Annette Loefler, Detroit senior; faculty assistants will be Miss Kerth and Thelma Bishop, physical education instructor.
