

Today's Campus

Real Life Dollie?

The driver of a campus model was one better than the current one and got himself a real life dollie to tote around in the rumble seat of his jalopy. Someone was napping about to notify the campus gestapo until they caught the pair of shapely legs sticking out from under a blanket. Was a little too good to be true.

Major Problem

Now that the snow is practically on the ground again, that almost mid-summer interlude of last Wednesday is just a pleasant memory. But two campus instructors are slightly worried about the robin they saw, calmly searching for worms in the sunshine. Was it left over from last season or is it an early edition of the next, they wonder.

Cords Prevail

Students Represent Six Countries, 37 States

Winter term registration figures released this week by Registrar S. Linton, show that women are in the majority of the 21st civilian students enrolled in Michigan State.

When enrollees are scattered by states and six countries, Michigan State representation has the lead by an enrollment of 230 to 225.

Michigan tops the states, with Wayne and Ingham having the largest county totals. New York ranks the other states with 110 students, followed by Illinois with 55, 49 from Indiana and 34 each from Ohio and Wisconsin.

Foreign enrollment for this term includes four students from Canada, three from China and one from Nova Scotia. Three Latin American countries have students enrolled at State, with two from Panama and two each from Cuba and Puerto Rico.

News in Brief

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark, commander of the Fifth army, came under direct German gun-fire today during a visit to the Anzio bay beachhead south of Rome but escaped injury although several men near him were hit.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 28 (AP)—Gen. Clark dropped to the ground and later helped care for the injured men and afterwards went right ahead with his inspection and conferences with his commanders as if nothing had happened.

DETROIT, Jan. 28 (AP)—A Motor company spokesman reported tonight that 1,700 of the 1,800 night shift war workers at the Highland Park plant had gone on strike.

The spokesman said a shop committee of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) had been called into the labor relations office to explain the smoking in a restricted area.

Nazis Suffer Double Loss Near Rome

Allies Smash Attacks on Bridgehead, Down 28 German Planes

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 28 (AP)—Allied land and air forces have dealt the Nazis a crushing twin defeat in the battle for Rome, smashing an enemy assault on the British-American bridgehead and destroying 28 German planes in furious sky fights over the landing beaches, the Allied command announced today.

The Nazi debacle in the air and the repulsing of the heaviest enemy attack so far against the week-old bridgehead came as German prisoners declared that the German 10th army to "stand or die" on the Cassino front, some 80 miles from Rome.

The German-controlled Paris radio in a broadcast recorded by the British ministry of information in London said, "German military quarters are expecting another Allied landing in Italy shortly. Increased Allied naval activity has been observed. Besides the fifth and eighth armies another army is to participate in the battle for Italy."

The site of yesterday's ground clash, in which British troops routed elements of the German 29th armored division, was near the little village of Carroceto, 10 miles due north from the Allied beachheads at Anzio.

Despite this German effort and a previously reported counter-attack by units of the Hermann Goering armored division, near Littoria, 15 miles east of Anzio, the Allied invasion holding was being slowly but steadily enlarged, latest official word from the area said.

Republican Attempts to Force Decision on Fourth Term

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) laid plans today to force President Roosevelt's hand on a fourth term decision through legislation requiring that the names of presidential candidates be printed on the ballots which must be mailed early to let service men vote.

Bridges said he would suggest Monday that the Democrats advance their national convention to a date early enough to list the ticket on overseas ballots.

The federal ballot form in the administration's bill, carried blank spaces for president, vice-president, senators and congressmen. The voter either could write in the name of his candidate, or could simply designate the party for which he is voting.

Republicans argue that this pattern would give a break to the Democrats should President Roosevelt seek re-election, because he has so long been associated in the public mind with the presidency.

Former Instructor Dies

Mrs. Edith MacDermott Lawrence, the first instructor in what is now the Home Economics division, died at her home in San Fernando, Calif., Dec. 17, according to Glen O. Stewart, director of alumni relations.

Miss MacDermott held the title of professor of domestic economy and household science from 1896 to 1898, Stewart said.

Vets to Announce Queen Choice at Annual Dance

One of the highlights of the weekend's social affairs will be the Vet ball tonight in the Union ballroom. The dance, which will be semi-formal, has been definitely declared a closed affair, according to Publicity Chairman Hilda Stroop, Howell junior. Flowers will be optional.

Dancing will be from 9 to 12 to the music of Gene Devine, with decorations keynoted by medical corps insignia. Climaxing the evening will be the crowning of the Vet queen at intermission. Voting for the queen closed Thursday, but her identity will not be disclosed until the coronation.

The seven Michigan State women who are competing for the title are Dorothy Roberts, Columbus, Wis., freshman; Florence Welsh, Grand Rapids junior; Cecelia LaMonte, Howell, Ind., junior; Betty Grosnickle, Detroit sophomore; A. J. Meisen, Detroit freshman; and Shirley Robillard, Rochester, freshman.

Patrons for tonight's dance will be Prof. and Mrs. E. C. Gibson of the chemistry department and Prof. and Mrs. J. M. Brown of the education department.

Dr. Clyde Garry will preside as master of ceremonies and will entertain with a magpiean act.

Yank Planes Hit French Targets

LONDON, Jan. 28 (AP)—American Liberators, supported by British fighters, raided mystery targets by Thunderbolts and lighter RA in the Pas de Calais area of France without the loss of a single American plane today following last night's heavy British bombing attack on Berlin.

London experienced a brief air raid alert tonight, its fourth in the war and seventh this year. The all clear sounded within a short time and no gunfire was heard in the center of the city.

Berlin still simmered among hundreds of fires from the RAF attack which drove home a 1,500 ton blow, one of a series of hard punches which apparently is necessary to finish off the Nazi capital.

The RAF heavy bombers also rocked Heligoland, the "German Gibraltar" in the North sea, with a diversionary assault last night.

Other regions in northern France were attacked as well as the Pas de Calais area.

Torture of Yank, Filipino Prisoners of War Brings Demand for Isolation of Nips from Civilized World After War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Enraged as never before, America tonight vowed merciless vengeance on every one of the Japanese who tortured and murdered the unforgettable heroes of Bataan.

Noted Journalist Addresses Press Group Meeting

Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, related experiences from his trips into battle theaters last night to members of the Michigan Press association at a dinner in the Union ballroom.

Leland Stowe, foreign correspondent and Pulitzer Prize winner, spoke at the opening meeting of the association Thursday at a luncheon in the Union ballroom. Stowe appeared on the lecture series here last year.

Preceding Baillie's talk, President A. Hannah, Gov. Harry F. Kelly, Lee A. White, Detroit News public relations man, and RAF Wing Commander Raymond Harris addressed the meeting. The Michigan State Women's Glee club presented several selections.

The convention will conclude today with round table discussions and group meetings.

Argentine Heads Split Over Foreign Policy

MONTEVIDEO, Jan. 28 (AP)—The military government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez, president of Argentina, was split wide open tonight as a result of the country's severance of diplomatic relations with the Axis.

Gen. Arturo Rawson, a comrade in arms with Ramirez in the June revolution of army leaders, resigned as ambassador to Brazil because he was too pro-Allied.

An open break between the two revolutionary leaders became evident yesterday when Ramirez in a curt message declared that the rupture of relations with the Axis was not the purpose of the revolution but that the uprising was for "national recuperation and affirmation of Argentine sovereignty."

Even the calm, judicial Secretary of State Hull was moved to use such words as "demons" and "fiendishness" as he gave the official promise that the butchers of Nippon would be brought to account.

No one knows yet exactly how many of the U. S. and Filipino troops were brutally slain but Palmer Hoyt, former director of OWI's domestic branch, declared that most of the 50,000 who surrendered met their deaths from deadly heat, thirst, starvation, and other forms of torture.

News Kept Secret
Hoyt was critical that the ghastly news had been withheld from the public for two years. Two reasons were given today for making the information public now. Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said there was no longer any point in keeping the veil of secrecy.

Instead, Early declared, that there was no hope of the Japanese allowing further relief supplies to reach the captives.

The OWI said publication was decided upon in the belief that it might bring some improvement in the Japanese attitude toward prisoners.

Japs to Be Punished
Secretary Hull revealed that the government is compiling all information possible about prisoner treatment and said the criminals will be punished when the war ends.

Hull also said that this government has collaborated with Britain on the subject of war prisoner treatment. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told commons in London today that thousands of British troops have died as prisoners of the Japanese after being compelled to live under incredible conditions without adequate shelter, clothing, food or medical attention. Britain, like the U. S., will not forget, Eden vowed.

Cases Cited by General
The Tokyo government gave assurance two years ago through the Swiss government that it followed the international laws on treatment of prisoners and civilian internees.

A week after they made the pledge, however, General Douglas MacArthur accused the Japanese of mistreating the prisoners on the Philippines and cited cases.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

This open letter to men in the service is a weekly feature of the Michigan State News, describing the outstanding events on campus. Clip it out and mail it to a friend in the service.

Jan. 29, 1944

DEAREST Johnny—
I've always said it's wonderful how much a girl can accomplish when she owns a car. And I was right, too. Here our old buddy Neva Ackerman got herself crowned Blue Key sweetheart last Saturday night when she owns a quarter interest in Blossom. Maybe that proves she's got something else, too.

There's a regular epidemic of queens this term. The next to be announced is the Vet queen who will reign over the Vet ball tonight. Seven women have been nominated, one of whom will be the four-star feature.

Big news last night was the aircrew's choice for Stamp queen. Kay Wattle, Alpha Chi senior from Huntington Woods, was crowned as the pre-flighters' favorite last night at the Tail-spin ball. They must have had a tough time choosing, but I think they did a good job.

Orchestra has pledged up 13 agile women after what sounds to me like excruciating tests. I admire grace, of course, but somehow I can't get all worked up over twisting my feet around my neck—even if I could.

Aren't you sorry you aren't around this year—AWS has granted 1 a.m. permission for coeds on Saturday nights now. Of course, there's always a catch, but not such a big one this time. Friday permissions will be reduced to 12 a.m. but the Saturday privileges will extend through spring term when ought to make the local male gentry pretty happy.

Union board, always popping out with new ideas, is featuring something new along the tea dance line. The various dorms are taking turns presenting programs during intermission. Campden hall will be the first on the list and you know how you were always able to discover wonderful talent in those dorms. As I always say, men is friends.

By JOHN HICKEY

Major Johnson, 310th Pre-Flight Officers' Officiate at Crossed Saber Ceremony; Queen to Review Saturday Parade

Chosen from a bevy of campus beauties, Kay Wattles, Huntington Woods senior, last night was crowned queen of the 310th aircrew detachment's military ball at college auditorium.

Through a portal of crossed sabers, Miss Wattles received her crown from Maj. Johnson, commanding officer of the detachment.

Along with the patriotic theme of the ball, the crowns for queen and her attendants were of war stamps and bouquets were presented to the royals by the squadrons which they represented.

Queen Attendants

Along with the queen, Jean Higgins, Flint freshman; Jacquie Miller, Jackson sophomore; Jackie Meehan, Louisville, Ky., senior; Marie Cully, Buffalo, N. Y., freshman; Marcella Gibson, Lansing, and Sylvia Leathers, East Lansing were given war bouquets.

During the Saturday mass review of the squadrons, Miss Wattles will present to squadron E's upon the honor pennant that the squadron won at a previous review.

Golfer Marjorie Row Wins Doherty Trophy

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP).—Marjorie Row of Ann Arbor, Mich., who can hold her own with most men when it comes to hitting a golf ball for power and accuracy, won the Doherty trophy tournament for women amateurs today.

She had disposed of her chief rivals in earlier rounds, and with difficulty in downing Rose George E. Wilcox of Miami in the 36-hole finals, 7 and 6.

The 21-year-old blonde, who was the Michigan state champion before she moved to Ann Arbor from Detroit four months ago, won an even women's par on the first 18 to take a further lead. She eased up a little in the afternoon, but still had a few strokes for her game.

U.S. Statesmen to Reconsider Spanish Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP).—The state department announced tonight that it is reconsidering general relations between Spain and the United States in the light of trends in Spanish policy.

Pending that reconsideration, the department said, loading of Spanish tankers with petroleum products for Spain have been suspended.

The Spanish government has shown a certain reluctance to satisfy requests deemed both reasonable and important by the state department and concerning which representations have continuously been addressed to the Spanish government for a long time past, the announcement said.

It then listed several points on which Spain has failed to satisfy the Allies, including:

- 1—Certain Italian warships and merchant vessels continue to enter Spanish ports.
- 2—Spain continues to permit the export to Germany of certain vital war materials such as wolfram (tungsten ore used in making armor-piercing steel).

Student Trio Helps Direct Aircrewmembers

By A. S. CHAS. GELLMAN

Composing the 310th's wing staff, known to the detachment as the "Big Dogs" are A. S. A. Jack Stream, A. S. John J. Freed and A. S. Thomas M. Rickman, wing commander, adjutant and supply officers, respectively.

The trio set the policy for the pre-flight students, as to management of the nine squadrons and also act as liaison agents between the tactical command staff and the students.

Student Lt. Col. Stream is not a novice at the job of handling men, having had two years of previous service, and upon close scrutiny of his shirt, faint outlines of first sergeant's stripes can be noticed.

A. S. Freed, of Chicago, was sent with a signal corps crew to a Tennessee camp where he spent the greater part of his army life before entering the air forces.

Coming into the army air forces in July, 1942, Student Major Freed completed an airplane mechanics school in Texas, transferring later to a B-17 specialist school in Seattle, Wash. Upon graduation, he was attached to the army transport command as a crew engineer on a "fort."

In 1938 Student Major Rickman joined the Canton, N. C., state guards and progressed so rapidly that in 1940, at 17, he gained the distinction of being one of the youngest staff sergeants in the United States army. Six years in the army have taken him through many camps all over the country.

Considering the possibilities of the air forces as a career, the staff agreed that rank and station would be the governing factors.

DICK Nahstoll, '40, president of Student council while at State, was recently promoted from ensign to lieutenant, junior grade. Lieutenant Nahstoll is stationed at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Cpl. Bob Gormley is on campus today. He is with the air forces at Peterson field, Colo. Corporal Gormley was a former boxer at State and is in the physical training department.

Recently commissioned Lt. George White is now at Bader field, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Cpl. Emil A. (Bing) Miller, '39, is in the special service section where he is in charge of the army institute education program.

Pvt. Jerry Wosinski is with the ASTP unit at Princeton university. Pvt. Dave Laca, new address is the ASTP at Durham, N. H. Pvt. Eddie Elstewski, former footballer, is at Fort McClellan, Ala., and so is one-time freshman boxer Peter Zenti.

Pvt. Edo Mencotti of Spartan football and boxing fame, has been shipped from Truax field to an unannounced destination.

A. C. Robert L. Harris is now at Fulture, Calif. Cadet Harris was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity while at MSC. Warren Card, '43, is in pilot pre-flight training somewhere in California. Herb Whitaker, freshman from Alma, left for active duty last week.

Capt. Darwin C. Dudley, '39, is athletic officer at the army air forces technical training command at Sioux Falls, S. D. He is a full-fledged army pilot and is looking forward to combat action. The Sioux City papers have frequently lauded the fine athletic program Captain Dudley has laid out. His brother Don, with the class of '42, is a lieutenant in the army and is flying in Texas.

Capt. Thomas C. Orley, '35, who represented Michigan State on the 1932 U. S. Olympic team, is in the cavalry at Fort Riley, Kan.

Staff Sgt. Willard J. Fager is still in the southwest Pacific. He was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs attacked.

A. C. William Cronwell, '41, formerly stationed at Beloit college, Beloit, Wis., is now in California.

Taisto C. Filppula, '43, is one of the ASTP trainees at the University of Wisconsin where he is specializing in German. Just so he will be able to tell Hitler what he thinks of him.

Lt. (j.g.) Robert W. Hills, '40, is at Quonset Point, R. I., where he is in charge of athletics, transportation and assistant in communications. He has had some experience dropping bombs on submarines while on patrol duty.

Staff Sgt. John J. Casavola is now with the marines at Cherry Point, N. C., after spending some time at Texas A. and M. college and at the naval research laboratory in Washington, D. C.

Two ex-Statesmen, Cadet Richard N. Philles and Cadet Walter K. Geist, have reported to Carlisle army air field bombardier school, Carlisle, N. M.

AST Cagers Compete in League Games

Competing in the AST basketball league, teams from the Sigma Chi house, North hall, Phi Delta Theta and Psi Upsilon battled it out last night in Jensen gym.

Chalking up close scores in the contest, Sigma Chi took the lead in the last two minutes of the game to take a 32-28 victory from North hall.

The Phi Delta Psi-U game was equally tight, with the Phi Deltas coming out on top with a 26-25 score gained in the fourth period.

A Henry IV gold coin, worth about $2.70 when minted in 1430, was sold recently in England for $132, although almost of paper thinness.
