

Women to Live in Mason, Wells Halls This Fall

Today's Campus

... Woman's Touch

Army-conscious camp citizens were startled out of their usual calm the other day when they spied a coed strolling along with a military uniform over her arm. Questioned, she denied having been in any game of chance or pawn shop. She finally broke down and admitted that her brother had induced her to take it home to do some ironing.

... Whata World

Walt Campbell, Kansas City sophomore, made sure that his friendship with a certain coed was secure at dinner recently. After his friends left the table, he finished eating while tossing witty remarks to the coed and her guest, and then he proceeded to join the two at their table. After a session of verbal thrust and parry, introductions were made, and the astonished Walter said, "Her Mother! Oh, but you're so young!" It's this older generation, isn't it Walt?

Army Transfers Three Officers to New Posts

Capt. Harry Whirl, Lt. Irving Strauss and Lt. Natasha Smith, until recently stationed at MSC as part of the 3655th service unit personnel, have been transferred to other posts, Col. G. B. Egger, commandant of military units at State, announced yesterday.

Captain Whirl has been sent to Camp Ellis, Ill.; Lieutenant Strauss is at the Veterans' Administration hospital, Hines, Ill., and Lieutenant Smith is doing WAC recruiting duty in Wisconsin at the Milwaukee headquarters.

No replacements have arrived for the three officers and Colonel Egger doubted that any would come.

ASTP headquarters have been moved to Abbot hall, into offices vacated by Col. Paul Johnson, commandant of the 2590 base unit, air crew, which left State in June. ROTC headquarters remain in Dem hall.

Approximately 400 more ASTRs, 17-year olds taking preparatory training for the air-crew, are expected to arrive on campus sometime next week to supplement the 250 who came early this month. All of the men will be housed in Abbot hall.

Murals in Auditorium Lobby to Be Finished

Five years after the conception, three murals adorning the lobby of the auditorium will be completed. These murals, done under the direction of Charles Pollock, of the art department, will be finished about Oct. 1.

The center mural which was completed in 1942 is named "Abraham Lincoln Signing the Morrill Act", which began the land grant colleges of which MSC is one.

Kappas Take Honors For Scholarship

Pi Kappa Phi Tops Male Greeks in Grades As All-College Hits 1.62

With the women's average soaring far above the men's, Kappa Kappa Gamma stalked off with the sorority scholarship honors, according to figures released by Registrar Robert S. Linton. The Kappa average was 1.94. Second place went to Alpha Xi Delta.

Pi Kappa Phi took the honors among the fraternities with a 2.15 average. Lambda Chi Alpha came in a close second with 2.13.

The all-college average was 1.62 to which the coeds contributed a 1.65 all-women average and the men a poor 1.45. Highest Close behind the Alpha Xi Delta's 1.87 mark was Kappa Alpha Theta, with a 1.85 and they in turn led Kappa Delta's 1.83. Following them in order are: Chi Omega, 1.79; Sigma Kappa, 1.77; Alpha Chi Omega, 1.74; Gamma Phi Beta, 1.72.

Completing the list are Epsilon Chi, 1.71; Alpha Phi, 1.65; Alpha Gamma Delta, 1.62; Zeta Tau Alpha, 1.62; Alpha Omicron Pi, 1.61; and Delta Zeta, 1.58.

Aircrew Colonel to Transfer to Foster Field

Lt.-Col. Paul A. Johnson, commandant of the 2590th base unit, aircrew, which was disbanded at MSC at the end of June, announced that he is leaving today for Foster Field, Texas, but has an unidentified assignment.

Orders have also been received for the transfer of Capt. Phillip Limbacher, accountable officer, to Del Rio, Texas and for one enlisted man.

They are the last personnel of the 2590th base unit, which was formerly the 310th college training detachment on the campus. The aircrew program was terminated by the army air forces training command the end of June and about 800 men then stationed at State, were transferred to line duty.

Colonel Johnson served as provost marshal for a year and one half beginning late in 1941. In February 1943 he activated the aircrew program at the University of Missouri, and was assigned to the 310th CTD in October 1943, when 1,500 men were in training here.

Colonel Johnson served in the marines from 1925 to 1930 and was in combat service with the corps in 1928 and 1929 during the revolt in Nicaragua. He was an army reserve officer from 1930 to 1940 when he was called to active duty at Camp Bowie, Texas.

U. of M. to Hold Talks On Chinese Future

China and her importance in the world today and tomorrow will be the general theme of a conference on China to be held in Ann Arbor August 2 through 5, under the sponsorship of the Institute of Pacific Relations and the summer session of the University of Michigan.

Headlining the program will be: Walter Judd, Minnesota congressman and a doctor in China for many years; Dr. Yang Yung-Ching, president of Soochow University, Dr. George W. Shepherd, adviser to the generalissimo; and Dr. Arthur Hummel, of the library of congress.

Record Coed Enrollment Reaching 3,000 Results in Housing Changes

To cope with a record enrollment of some 3,000 coeds expected fall term, Mason hall and Wells hall will be used as women's residences, Secretary Karl H. McDonel announced. The decision to use the two men's residences followed a meeting of the faculty committee on dormitories last week.

The use of these two dorms, both exclusively men's haunts until now, will raise to a record figure the number of women who will be living in college operated dorms or coop houses. Some 1,650 of the coeds will live in the five dorms and the several houses and annexes, Dean of Students S. E. Crowe stated.

Series to Feature Movie, Puppets

This Saturday at 7 and 9 p.m. the film "Everything Happens at Night," starring Sonja Henie, Ray Milland and Robert Cummings will be shown at Fairchild theater.

"Pinocchio," will be presented as a puppet show by Ethel Hanley and her company at 8:15 Wednesday evening at Fairchild theater.

The lifelike movements of the marionettes have won wide acclaim. Especially realistic are the scenes showing Geppetto, the toy maker, transforming a puppet into a little boy, and when Pinocchio, at the bottom of the sea, walks into the mouth of the whale.

Among the other interesting characters joining Pinocchio in his adventures will be Foulfellow and Gideon the Cat, the villains who convince him it is more fun to be an actor than to go to school; Stromboli, who puts him on the stage; Lampwick, the bad little boy who is turned into a donkey on Pleasure Island; and Jiminy Cricket and Geppetto, who saves him from Monstro the Whale.

Men:Women: 1:6

Crowe said that from 1000 to 1200 freshmen women are expected to attend school at State this fall. The expected presence of 500 men will make the male-female ratio one to six.

The women who live in Mason hall will live opposite some 700 17-year-old ASTRs and a few AST advanced engineers who will live in Abbot hall.

440 to Live in Mason

Four hundred and forty coeds will live in Mason hall. They will live under the same arrangements that governed the men when they lived there in 1942. Upper-classwomen will serve as counsellors for the nine different wards that will be organized. The hostess, as the housemother will be called, will be Mrs. Luker.

The building construction of Wells hall necessitates a somewhat different arrangement. A housemother, or hostess will be housed in each of the six wards of the venerable dorm.

180 to Live in Wells

One of the first floor rooms in each ward will be used as a reception room for girls entertaining guests. No buzzer system will be established. Wells hall will accommodate 180 women.

The coeds living at Mason hall will be served cafeteria style meals, and the food services will be under the direction of Curtis Beachum, manager of men's residence halls. Wells hall inhabitants will be given table service under the management of Mildred Jones, manager of women's dorms.

North hall, formerly a women's residence will be kept in reserve for emergencies, Dean Crowe remarked.

Jungwirth Continues Modeling of Athlete

By ANNE KERR

Work on the eleven foot statue of the Spartan athlete is proceeding in the high-ceilinged basement room in Agricultural hall under the hands of Prof. Leonard G. Jungwirth of the art department.

Ultimately to be made of red terra cotta, the huge athletic figure, a modern conception of an ancient Greek warrior, is at present made of clay with the steel and burlap reinforced sections of plaster of Paris mold being troweled on the clay figure.

Mold Being Made

After the piece molds harden, they will be removed and used to mold the permanent statue. The molds are being made in sections each as large as the kiln doors of the Grand Ledge Monument Works, where the clay will be fired, will admit.

Jungwirth chose terra cotta or vitrified clay as his medium because of its lasting qualities, and he believes this is the first time such a large figure has been attempted in this medium.

Started Last Summer

Starting last summer with a sketch of his figure, Jungwirth first made a three foot model, and by July of this year had progressed to the mold-making stage which he hopes will be ready to mold the final terra cotta by August first.

However, this final stage is a very lengthy one, and he has set no date when the statue may be finished. He has estimated that the finished product will be composed of one and a half tons of terra cotta, and that 2400 pounds of plaster of Paris have been used in the molds.

Mounted Near Gym

To be situated on the island beyond the Women's gym on the road to Jenison fieldhouse, the statue will be mounted on a five foot base, and in bas-relief around the base Jungwirth will depict figures engaging in major campus sports.

Detroit-born, of Austrian parents, Jungwirth has studied sculpture for four years at the Academy of Fine Arts in Munich. Returning to this country in 1933, he became supervising sculptor of the Federal Arts project, also teaching at Wayne university. In 1940 he became associated with the Art Department at State.

Spartans at War

IT'S a small world is an old saying that is coming to have more meaning daily as former Spartans meet throughout the world. As War Correspondent Charles Collingwood, brother of Jean Collingwood, Washington, D. C., junior, said in a broadcast from Normandy recently, at first Cherbourg was like any other strange town, and then suddenly he began to see old friends every time he turned a corner.

CAPT. ROSS CLARK . . .
'36 tells a similar story since his accidental meeting with a near neighbor in Detroit, whom he had never known until they chanced to meet in England recently. A former Spartan athlete, Captain Clark is now acting as a special service officer for a camp in England.

LT. SHELDON MOYER . . .
'43, former managing editor of the State News, was on campus a short time ago while on leave from Camp Gruber, Okla., and before reporting back to Camp Gordon, Ga. In addition to the State News, he was a member of Excaliber, senior men's honorary.

CAND. ED GLACY . . .
'43, began a 17 week officer candidate course at New Orleans, La., a couple weeks ago, after which he will be commissioned in the transportation corps. Candidate Glacy was a member of Psi U and was active in dramatics at MSC.

ENS. BUD BELL . . .
'43, now has an APO address out of New York, according to word received last week. Ensign Bell was formerly the leader of a college dance band.

TOM TIPPERY . . .
'42, received his silver pilot's wings and was appointed a flight officer June 27 at the Lubbock army air field, Lubbock, Texas. After brief transitional training he will pilot Fortresses, Marauders and other multi-motored planes in combat.

LT. KEN TEYSEN . . .
'43, has been assigned to Courtland army air field, Courtland, Ala., as an assistant post weather officer after receiving his commission early in June. While at Michigan State, Lieutenant Teysen was a member of Delta Chi fraternity and president of Sigma Gamma Upsilon honorary.

BILL FITZSIMMONS . . . was appointed a flight officer in the army air forces July 1 after completing bombardier training at the Carlsbad army air field, Carlsbad, N. M. Prepared for prompt active duty, his destination was not disclosed.

LT. LAWRENCE HILDINGER . . .
was recently awarded the distinguished flying cross at a Flying Fortress base somewhere in England for achievement while serving on a B-17 during 25 missions over enemy occupied continental Europe. Lieutenant Hildinger had received the air medal and three oak leaf clusters previously. Word came last week that he has recently been promoted to a first lieutenant.

SGT. DOUGLAS RICE . . .
ball turret gunner with the eighth AAF Flying Fortress group in England, has been awarded his second oak leaf cluster to the air medal for achievement on bombing attacks in support of Allied invasion forces.

Dorothea Smith, '42, recently completed her training and has been graduated from the reservations training school of Pennsylvania-Central airlines at the company's headquarters in Washington. Having completed the four weeks' training course, Miss Smith will remain in the nation's capital, taking up her duties at Washington national airport.

In New Caledonia, in the South Pacific, Technician fifth grade John Colbert is on duty as a correspondence receiving clerk in the adjutant general's department in the general headquarters of the services of supply for the South Pacific area. Corporal Colbert's work consists of routing incoming correspondence to the various sections of the adjutant general's office.

SPEAKING FOR MYSELF

By BARBARA DENNISON

WITH the news that women will take over the formerly sacred haunts of the men, Wells and Mason halls, in the fall, reactionary statements began flying thick and fast.

One of the first was that of an upperclassman, woman to be exact, who remarked about Wells hall, "Is it to be just for freshmen, I hope?" Perhaps it will be just for freshmen, or largely so, but only because the majority of upperclassmen registered for rooms in the dorms spring term.

Or her idea might have come from the fact that way back in the dark ages that few but the seniors and faculty can remember, Wells hall was reserved for freshmen from Michigan, largely.

Again, she might have been impressed with the rumors or otherwise concerning Wells hall that may have come down through the years. Could be she forgot that the place has been remodeled since the dark ages and that even more will be done to it before the women take over.

Of course the real news at the moment is that women are to live in Mason hall, but somehow, no one seems to be too excited about that. Everyone seems to think that is the long awaited answer to someone's prayer, so no one is bothering to work up a fever over it. That is, no one except the men.

No doubt there is at least one civilian male on campus, or who will be here fall term, who is mighty unhappy about the idea that the feminine gender will trip where something more substantial once trod in the good old days at MSC.

He is the one who responded with enthusiasm to Pres. John A. Hannah's announcement late spring term at the convocation, that once more men would live in Mason hall.

The trouble is the poor Spartan brother couldn't recruit enough fellow men to make it profitable for the men to live in Mason when there are going to be so many women needing residences this fall. It would almost look as though a man had to be 17 to get into one of the dorms out east.

But, the civilian men should certainly find some comfort in the fact that there will be even more women on campus this fall than ever before. A ratio (some-one wisely slipped and said ration) of six women to one man is nothing to sneeze at.

The days of chivalry apparently aren't quite dead yet, even though the chivalry is wholly unpremeditated and quite unexpected. The men are being most unwittingly and perhaps a little unwillingly gallant in letting the women have their dorm. That probably isn't the way they would describe it, though.

Editors Announce New Staff for Fall, MSC Veterinarian

Five Men, One Woman Fill Vacancies

Staff appointments for the MSC Veterinarian, quarterly magazine publication of the students of the Vet school, were announced for the coming year by Editor Glenn Snoeyenbos, Glenwood City, Wis., junior and business manager, Tom Reutner, St. Louis, Mo. junior, yesterday.

Snoeyenbos and Reutner were appointed last spring as editor and business manager, to succeed Harold Bryan, Perkasi, Pa., senior, and Jack Preston, Well, Minn., senior in their respective positions. The new staff will take over their duties beginning fall term.

Editorial Staff Listed

Included on the editorial staff will be Josephine Browne, Fayetteville, Ark. sophomore, who will be copy editor; Bernard Zeeb, Bath junior, make-up editor, and O. L. Smith, Dearborn junior, illustrations editor.

Cairy to Be Advisor

Dr. Clyde F. Cairy, professor veterinary medicine, will continue as faculty advisor during the next year.

The Veterinarian was the only magazine of its kind in the United States when it began publication four years ago. It has a wide circulation among practicing veterinarians in Michigan and all over the world.

Outlook Brighter As Grid Men Prepare To Start Practice

With the start of practice drawing near, Michigan State's varsity football prospects seem to be brightening. Summer practice will begin Monday at 4 p. m. Coach Charlie Bachman has announced.

Summer practice, which probably will be continued with only a slight break through the fall season, will mainly provide an opportunity for the gridgers to get in shape. Some scrimmaging will undoubtedly take place toward the end of the summer.

All football aspirants must have a physical checkup and okay from Dr. Charles Holland, chief of the college health service. No equipment may be drawn unless an approval from Dr. Holland is presented.

State's team this fall will be composed largely of men whose only experience has been in high school competition, built around a nucleus of players who have played for other colleges, or who took part in the intermural league here last fall.

College Employees Take Bike Hikes

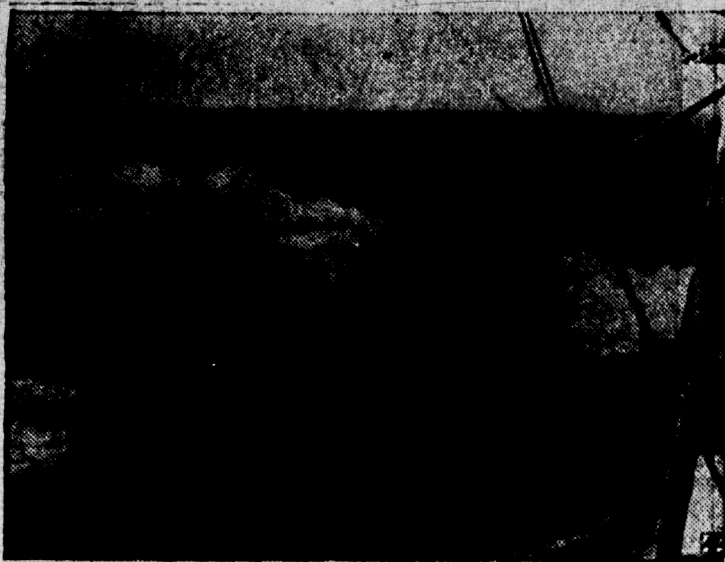

Ruth Jameyson, secretary to President John A. Hannah; Mildred Scott, supervisor in the biological products division, state health department; and Rita Jandernoa, chief transportation clerk for selective service, seize every opportunity to don play suits or slacks and pedal away from office cares on their bicycles.

On their longer trips they camp overnight at hotels. The girls report that Michigan is far from over supplied with these establishments. Miss Jameyson wheeled nearly 300 miles one summer in the upper peninsula—their longest journey to date—and no hotels were to be found.

Lightweight English type bicycles with gearshifts are used by the women. Sixty miles is the maximum they try to span in a day.

Information pertaining to youth hosteling can be obtained by writing Thelma Bishop, instructor in the women's physical department at State. Miss Bishop is chairman of the American Youth Hostel movement for the Lansing district.

La Prensa, Argentine Journal, Lauds State's Institute of Foreign Studies

La Prensa, Buenos Aires, Argentina, described as one of the four best papers in the world, suggested editorially that Michigan State's institute of foreign studies is a model "for mutual understanding and general progress in South America."

The editorial commended the college for establishment of the institute and stated that all the countries of the South American continent should imitate the action of those who have taken the first step toward the concession of scholarships.

Ernesto Montenegro of Chile, guest professor of the institute of foreign studies who was a correspondent for La Prensa, and Dr. Luis-Alberto Sanchez, a Chilean lawyer and editor, who also had connections with the South American press, may have influenced the editorial because of the interest they displayed.

Dr. Shao Chang Lee, a native of China who was brought to the college to head the institute of foreign studies, was enthusiastic about the newspaper's editorial.

"When two countries speak different languages, the existence of students and professors who speak both is a tie of union and intensifies that solidarity," La Prensa said.

INFORMATION

War Veterans to Get Year's Schooling

New G. I. Bill of Rights Functions For Aid of Discharged Men

Men who have served in the armed forces for 90 days or more can get at least one year's schooling and probably more, under the provisions of the recently passed "G.-I. Bill of Rights."

At a meeting for ex-service-men last Thursday, Dr. Fred T. Mitchell, director of the service-men's institute, explained that to be eligible, the veteran must have been on active duty for at least three months, this excluding V-12 and AST training, and be under the age of 25 at the time of enlistment or induction, or in school at the time of enlistment or induction.

One year plus as many more months as months spent on active duty, of any kind of schooling in an approved institution, ranging from technical, vocational education to post-graduate work can be had now.

The Veteran's administration will pay tuition and books up to 500 dollars a year in addition to 50 dollars per month for expenses. Twenty-five dollars per month will be allowed for dependents.

Application should be sent directly to the Veteran's Administration at Dearborn, Michigan. Blank forms for application can be obtained at Dr. Mitchell's office in the Administration building.

Fellow Pilots Raid Jap Islands

Aboard an aircraft carrier in the Pacific, United States navy pilots listen over the radio to an inter-plane conversation between fellow fliers making a raid against Jap held Tinian in the Marianas group.

Capt. Ed Abdo, Grid Star, Reported Missing in Action in South Pacific

Capt. Ed Abdo, former Spartan varsity football player, has been reported missing in action over Truk since June 7, according to a telegram received from the war department recently.

Captain Abdo was listed as missing after one of the first American raids on the Japanese bastion in the Central Pacific war zone.

A graduate of MSC in 1941, Captain Abdo entered the armed forces that summer and was sent to Fort Sill, Okla., for three months and was later stationed at Indiantown Gap, Pa., and Alexandria, La., before being transferred to the air forces.

He completed his navigation training in the fall of 1943 at Selman Field, Monroe, La., and remained at the post as an instructor until he was sent to the Pacific theater in April. His last station was the Admiralty islands before the raid on Truk.

Two other former Michigan State men have been reported killed in action recently. Lt. H. S. Bengry, co-pilot of a Liberator bomber, who was previously reported missing in action, was killed in a raid over Germany March 8, information received from the war department revealed.

His wife, Muriel North Bengry, former soloist with the Peoples church choir, said that the report of his death was established by the International Red Cross. Hopes that he might still be alive were held by his relatives in view of the fact that at least six other members of the bomber's crew have been verified as prisoners of war in Germany.

Lt. Charles Bostedor was killed July 8 at Tuskegee, Ala., when the plane in which he and three others were riding crashed.

Lieutenant Bostedor was a second year student at MSC when he enlisted in February, 1943. He was in training at Maxwell Field, Ala., when the accident occurred. He was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity while in college.
