Waterfront Beat

Here is the sad, sad story of Marty the Kelly and her loss of sang froid. It seems that Marty was descending from the Greyhound Flyer in Ann Arbor and after very casually greeting her date ordered the porter to remove her bags from the rear of the bus. Her poise was demolished when suddenly her bag flew open and the contents spread out all over the street. After humbly retrieving her belongings she crept away to the hotel to change for the evening. Upon arrival there, it was learned from reliable sources, she spent exactly one and one-half hours trying to get her suitcase open with her date waiting none too patiently in the lobby below. Such is life in Cafe Society.

Virtue Falls

There's nothing like being hypnotized to give one a wonderful feeling, advocates Kathleen Virtue, Haslett sophomore. When Robert Gibbs' psychology class begged last week for a demonstration of the power of hypnotism, he asked for volunteers to meet his evil eye. It just took a few soothing words to throw Miss Virtue into the conventional trance. And the after-effects can best be stated in the victim's own words: "I feel so relaxed now!"

Word to the Wise

Campus-sharpy Chuckles Calkins is off on a new money making spree, so beware. His sure-fire scheme is as follows: He is offering to bet even money that all of State's football scores for the season added together will total more than their opponents multiplied together. There's a catch.

Student Help Needed By B and G for Care of College Campus

Approximately 80 students are needed for the maintenance of the college buildings, according to Edward Kinney, superintendent of the buildings and grounds department. Lack of help has made it necessary to perform only those duties most essential to the upkeep of the buildings. Such jobs as washing windows, cleaning black boards and chalk erasers, and the raking of leaves are open to students who wish to help. Students wishing to work in the buildings are asked to leave their names at Kinney's office in the power plant. Those wanting to work on the grounds should see Arthur G. Clark, grounds foreman.

'Gypsy Baron' Presented by U. S. Artists

The "Gypsy Baron," featuring a cast of 70 musical stars, will be presented tonight by the New York City Opera company, in College auditorium at 8:15 as the third number on the college lecture concert series.

The operetta, a romantic comedy, has its setting in southern Austria during the middle of the last century. The plot revolves around Sandor Barinkay who returns home after having been exiled for participating in a rebellion against the Austrian king.

Expecting to take possession of his parental estates, Barinkay finds instead that during his absence the old homestead has become run down and that it is being occupied by a band of gypsies. He also discovers that a wealthy swine raiser, Kadman Zsupan, has acquired most of the land previously owned by his father.

Marriage of Convenience

In order to regain his inheritance without causing legal complications, Barinkay decides on a marriage of convenience with Zsupan's daughter, Arsena. The girl, however, is in love with Ottokar, son of her father's housekeeper, Mirabella. Zsupan,

Aachen Encircled As Nazis Battle Allied Troops

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Powerful British and American forces sparred warily with a super-sensitive German enemy tonight all along a highly explosive 85-mile battle line paralleling the Dutch-German border between Aachen in Germany and Arnhem in Holland.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' American first army probed cautiously north and northeast of Aachen, where the Nazis, repelled in five furious attempts to break into the encircled city of Aachen in recent days, had rolled up a heavy concentration of tanks and mobile guns.

British second army troops fought through the streets to the center of the Dutch highway town of Venray, eight miles from the German frontier, and pushed an armored column three miles south and cut the Venray-Deurne road.

American armor was disclosed to be in position on the British right flank, but has not yet reported to have been hurled into action.

At nightfall British tommyes with bayonets and hand grenades were reported fighting halfway through Venray, with the Germans selling their lives fanatically to defend every house and shop.

Hurricane Rages Over Caribbean

MIAMI, FLA., Oct. 17 (AP) In a 7:45 P.M. (EWT) bulletin, the United States weather bureau reported that the Caribbean hurricane will begin "to affect seriously the Florida keys late tonight" and that winds probably will reach gale force from West Palm Beach and Fort Myers southward by noon Wednesday.

CUBA, Oct. 17 (AP) — The Isle of Pines, peacetime tourist resort off the south coast of Cuba, was isolated from all communication with the mainland tonight and lay in the path of a raging tropical hurricane expected to pass over Havana province during the night.

The government radio plant in Nueva Gerona, principal town of the island, failed during the afternoon and there was no other means of obtaining news of the island's population of less than 10,000.

The island and the mainland of Cuba had ample advance warning that the worst blow in 18 years was creeping slowly up from the Caribbean sea and every precaution had been taken well in advance.

Residents were evacuated to safer locations from many exposed coastal points.

All students who obtained reserved seats for the opera tonight and who do not intend to use them, are urged to return the tickets to the accounting office by 4:30 or to have someone take them to College auditorium before the performance this evening. Tickets may be detached from the student receipts and returned separately.

anxious to avoid trouble, urges his daughter to accept Barinkay. Arsena is non-committal, but declares that she will marry none other than a baron.

Dream Materializes With Formal Opening of International Center

By JUNE WILKINSON
Sunday will mark the formal opening of the International center, a dream that materialized. At that time, the International club will welcome faculty members and other students to its new center, 3 Faculty row.

The center existed only as a dream until last July when Pres. John A. Hannah announced that the home vacated by Dean Elisabeth Conrad would be turned over to Prof. and Mrs. Shao Chang Lee to establish a headquarters for all students from other nations on campus.

The Lees are now living at the center with their daughter and welcoming students every day; at the same time, interior decoration is being continued in preparation for the opening ceremony.

Club Organized

Meetings are already being held to plan activities for the group. At a meeting last Sunday, the International club was organized and officers were elected.

The officers are: President, Ligia Smons-Quiroz; vice president, Ciro Martinez; secretary, Muriel Ling; and treasurer, Ricardo Salazar.

Prof. Lee, Dr. C. M. Teran, and Prof. Paul Monigshheim are serving as advisers to the group.

These students plan to hold weekly firesides in the cozy living room of the center in which they will discuss various questions with the faculty and other students, all of whom will be welcomed to join the club if they desire.

Other Activities Planned

These get-togethers will probably be planned for Friday nights when there are no conflicting campus activities. First

ALLIED HDQ., NEW GUINEA, Wednesday, Oct. 18 (AP) — American fliers over northern Mindanao, in the Philippines, surprised a Japanese motor convoy and destroyed it with bombs, today's communique reported.

This blow at enemy supply lines was timed with the upsurge of carrier plane blows against the Philippines.

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 17 (AP)—New American carrier-based plane attacks on the northern Philippines were reported by radio Tokyo today on the heels of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' statement that Nippon warships retired without a fight after they sighted the U.S. task force armada off Formosa.

Tokyo said the latest hits in the Philippines centered on Clark Field, pre-war American air base 40 miles from Manila, and on the port of Legaspi, southern Luzon. The Japanese said the raiders were repulsed.

The Japanese continued to claim a great sea victory over the American task force that has been sending heavy waves of planes against Formosa.

But Nimitz declared "on discovering our fighting strength unimpaired, they (Japanese warships) avoided action and have withdrawn toward their bases."

Nimitz reported only two American surface ships damaged against Japanese claims of up to 52 sunk or damaged.

One look at the power packed by the mighty force of warships that is Adm. William F. Halsey's third fleet convinced the enemy no change was prudent in its policy of avoiding a showdown fight at sea.

Reeves Here to Talk With Students, Faculty

Floyd W. Reeves, professor of education at the University of Chicago is on campus today and will remain until Friday consulting with instructors and students about individual teaching problems.

One of the most outstanding men in his field, Professor Reeves has travelled widely throughout the United States devising plans for better education. His official capacity on the campus this week is as a consultant on education. Appointments may be made with Professor Reeves through Secretary Karl H. McDonel's office.

Don Buell to Resume Weekly Broadcasts of Theater Reviews

R. J. Coleman, head of WKAR, recently announced that weekly theater reviews will be given over the college station every Wednesday at 5 p.m. by Prof. Don Buell, director of dramatics. Buell will present the reviews on his program, "Curtain Going Up."

The program now beginning its seventh year, is designed to keep students and the public informed of the theater both on and off Broadway. Buell, who selects up-to-the-minute news of the current theater for broadcasting, attends the season's hit plays in New York, and keeps in close touch with the New York dramatic critics throughout the year.

Spartans at War

By PEG DUBRY

recently promoted from the rank of second lieutenant at his fighter base in Britain, has been awarded the air medal with three oak leaf clusters. A former Spartan, Lieutenant Rowley has more than 150 hours of combat flying time on escort missions over Berlin, Frankfurt, Brunswick, and other major German production centers. He pilots a P-38 Lightning fighter aircraft.

MAJ. ALBERT TOWNER . . .

of the Persian Gulf command has been advanced from the rank of captain. Serving with the armed forces overseas for the past 21 months, Major Towner, a State graduate, was with the ROTC while here.

SGT. EARL PECK . . .

a member of the first division of marines, serving on an undisclosed island of the south Pacific, has been killed in action, according to word received by his widow, Mrs. Alberta Peck, Grand Rapids.

Sergeant Peck, a senior art major at State at the time of his enlistment in January 1942, was the first student to make linoleum block play program covers at MSC.

A member of Beta Sigma Phi, art honorary, he was active in the art marts where his works were exhibited. He participated in the initial invasion of Guadalcanal and contracted malaria while serving in the south Pacific.

LT. BILL FULMER . . .

who was in command of a heavy machine gun platoon in France late in July, was killed at his post. Lieutenant Fulmer, '43 ROTC, a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and active in sports, took his basic infantry training at Fort Benning, Ga.

was recently decorated with a second oak leaf cluster to the air medal at an eighth air force bombing station in England where he is a member of an eighth air force B-17 Flying Fortress group. Lieutenant Pokorny, was a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity at State.

F. O. MAURICE SCHULTZ . . . recently a cadet at the army air forces bombardier school at Carlisle, N.M., has been appointed a flight officer after completing his training there.

has been awarded the distinguished flying cross "for extraordinary achievement, while serving as co-pilot of a B-24 Liberator on numerous special operational missions over enemy occupied Europe. Recently promoted to the rank of first lieutenant, Lieutenant Anderson is a former State student.

CENTER

(Continued from Page 1) — of these meetings will be Friday, Oct. 27, at which time President Hannah will be the guest. The members of the club also hope to hold informal open house on Sunday throughout the year.

The center, with its quiet but friendly atmosphere, will be open every day to all students. A small reading room has been set aside and even a kitchen has been made available for groups.

Although the interior is being planned in American style, many pictures and ornaments of Lee's lend beauty to the home. On the second floor, a guest room has been provided by Lee for all distinguished guests and lecturers who are on the campus and wish to stay there.

SPEAKING FOR MYSELF

By BARBARA DENNISON

IT'S a beautiful day in East Lansing . . . and we've been noting the sighs of relief now that the overseas Christmas package mailing is finished. For some time, especially the last few days, there has been a huge line of persons at the post office patiently waiting their turn to spread what little Christmas cheer is possible in a five pound package.

It's surprising what won't go into one of those small cardboard boxes, so thoughtfully provided by the local emporiums. It seems strange to be selecting Christmas gifts with everyone in sweaters and shirt leevies as though it were the middle of October. (Thank heaven that man in the White House hasn't changed everything. He has finally decided we can have Thanksgiving Nov. 23 this year.)

Well, here we go again. This week, as last week, there has been a complete sell-out of tickets to the opera, "The Gypsy Baron. Many of the same persons who were left out last week are without seats again this time.

In Michigan State's plan for post war expansion, let's hope there is a plan for a rubber walled theater with convex sides and concave ceiling, and most of all an inclined floor, and a check room for women's hats.

Greetings music lovers . . . It's too bad that more students have not taken advantage of the record lending library facilities at the music building. I am sure many students would enjoy the use of the records if they knew the simple procedure for obtaining them. They can either be taken out like a library book, or played in the special sound-proof rooms in the music building.

Records include everything from long-hair classical selections to deep in the groove jive.

Advice to the faculty department . . . It is heard from usually reliable sources, that 99 and 44/100 percent of the students of Michigan State college will not be in classes Saturday morning after the Wayne game in Detroit.

Exact destination of students after the game has not been disclosed as yet, but it is advisable that all students attending the game wear name tags to facilitate their sure return to East Lansing. (Anonymous).

Been in the grill recently? Then you're probably suffering from grillitis (a disease common to the male and female of the species and so forth). Its characteristics are tears flowing like wine, everyone walking alone, jiving like GIs, and beware, it could happen to you.

We can't wait till Larry Frymire brings his new program "Meet the Students," to this den of iniquity and makes his feeble attempt to drown out the perpetual tears flowing like wine.

Don't be a tradition breaker—no smoking on campus.

LETTERS . . . To The Editor

TO the Editor: We have been under the impression, for several years that a series of entertainments was made available each year primarily to the students of Michigan State college. Apparently the condition has changed and the concert series now seems to be presented for the benefit of the general public rather than for the student body.

We agree that the student attendance at the lecture series in the past has not been what it should be. However, it cannot be said that the crowds have been small at the concert series programs.

This type of entertainment is what the students enjoy and we do not believe this privilege should be denied us. If in order to pay expenses, the concert series must be open to the general public, why not have two performances, at least one of which would be available to the student body.

If the attendance at last year's concert series were to be considered, we believe it would be nearly exhausted, if not entirely.

Cannot something be done to remedy this situation before the concert series for this term is over?

Spartans to Attempt Fourth Conquest at U. of Maryland

Team Seeks to Beat Night Game Jinx

Putting their perfect record on the block Friday the Spartans held a night practice yesterday for their tussle with the University of Maryland at College Park, Md., under the arcs. The Spartans will entrain for the east Thursday in time to hold a slight work-out before the fray.

Vaunting one of the best civilian elevens in the mid-west, and on the books as a possible team for a bowl bid, the Spartans on the strength of their three wins, and Maryland's failure to hit the blue side of the ledger in three contests will take the favorite's role. And then comes the big word, "BUT".

Potential Giant Killers

At the helm of the Terrapins is "Doc" Spears, a very able mentor, and capable of giving any team a good battle. Spears has had experience at Toledo, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, and his team is a potential giant killer according to Joe Holsinger who scouted the easterners.

The Spartans will enter the game in full strength, but Jack Breslin, star fullback, may have to be wary of the ankle injury he received in Saturday's encounter. Otherwise the squad will be in shape. With the reserve strength pretty well tested, the personnel problem should not worry the coaching staff too much.

Night Game Jinx

There is also a psychological aspect, the Spartans have never won a night contest in recent years. Under the Crowley regime Georgetown shaded the Spartans 14-13 in 1930, and in 1940 the Bachmen absorbed a licking from Temple, 21-19.

If everything goes right, and the Spartans stay in their winning vein, they should show the east a little more about football. And all things point to the breaking of the night football jinx. Spears has been employing a variety of attack while Bachman has stuck to the no shift style.

Rose Bowl Waits As Western Grid Is Hit By Draft

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Western representative for the New Year's football game in Pasadena's Rose Bowl may be largely decided within two weeks and Uncle Sam may be the deciding factor.

Three of the four contenders—UCLA, California and Southern California—are going to lose valuable players to the armed forces.

The other, the University of Washington, also will be affected. But not until after it plays the Trojans here next Monday night and California the following Saturday at Berkeley.

The Welchmen have won their games by overwhelming scores but the opposition hasn't been first grade. The team has only two performers from that which got a terrific pasting last New Year's at the hands of USC.

Uncle Sam is going to raid the California teams two weeks hence. California, with a perfect slate, is to lose nine performers, five of the regulars—Hachten, Adigan and Higgins in the line and Muir and Quist in the backfield. They play their last game against Washington.

Canadian Government, Education Officials Study MSC Campus

Five Canadian government and educational officials, including the president of the Ontario Agricultural college at Gulph, Ontario, left here yesterday for Canada after having spent two days on campus for the purpose of studying the organization and administration of MSC.

The visiting officials were: Dr. G. I. Christie, president of the Ontario Agricultural college at Gulph; W. R. Reek, deputy minister of agriculture; S. E. Todd, director of the agricultural development council and a member of the Canadian Bacon board; W. H. Tisdale of the Canadian cooperative wool growers; and M. M. Hood, director of publicity in the department of agriculture.

Nazi Radio Claims Russian Advance On East Prussia

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—A tremendous new Russian offensive aimed straight west towards the heart of East Prussia was announced today by alarmed German broadcasters who said Gen. Ivan D. Cherniokrovsky's third White Russian army was on the march toward Insterburg, 37 miles from the border.

The German radio said the new Red army attack was along a 25-mile front on both sides of the Lithuanian town of Vilkaviskis and declared it was backed by forests of artillery and spear-headed by low-flying Stovovik planes.

Moscow was silent concerning the German report, but the assault on East Prussia was the logical next step in the autumn campaign.

Some Russian forces last week reached the East Prussian border at points a dozen miles northwest of Vilkaviskis. They had stood at Vilkaviskis itself for more than two months while the cleanup of the Baltic states was in progress.

The Germans acknowledged that the Russians had reached the border at one unspecified point in the offensive which began Monday. The apparent first important goal was Insterburg, less than two score miles ahead of the driving Russians.

Two Allied Armies Battle Nazis for Supremacy at Bologna

Nazi Army Remnant Refuses to Budge From Italy

ROME, Oct. 17 (AP)—Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring apparently has decided to fight for Bologna, and German troops have been shipped into position to make a bitter, all-out fight for the ancient city in the foothills of the Apennines, Allied headquarters announced today.

The American fifth and the British eighth armies gathered a few more slippery hills into their lines, but Marshal Kesselring still was frustrating the months-long Allied endeavor to destroy his army and chase its remnants out of Italy.

The fifth army, in small but important gains before Bologna, advanced past Lamina and Casa Di Bortignano along the highway from Florence, reaching a point nine miles from Bologna's outskirts.

Farther east American troops reached points north of the bulge in the Castel Del Rio-Castel San Petro road and penetrated to the southern slopes of the hill town of Santa Anna and the village of Baccanello.

On the Adriatic front New Zealand troops advanced more than a mile on a broad front from their bridgehead across the Rigossa canal toward the Pisciatello river, next water obstacle. This advance, along the Rimini-Bologna highway, put the New Zealanders less than two miles from the fairly large town of Cesena.

Former French Official First Series Guest

In the first of three lectures sponsored by the Institute of Foreign Studies, Dr. Robert Lacour-Gayet, former inspector general of French finance, will speak at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the music auditorium.

Lacour-Gayet's lecture, open to students, faculty and townspeople, concerns "Problems of the administration of occupied territories: past and present."

During his stay on the campus Dr. Lacour-Gayet will hold conferences with student groups and speak to numerous classes in the Institute of Foreign Studies. His visit is part of a program to enable persons to become more familiar with the social and economic conditions of other lands.

Lacour-Gayet, who lectures under the auspices of the Institute of International Education, received his doctor's degree in economic science from the Sorbonne, Paris, served in World War I, and spent many years abroad and in the United States as financial attache and director of the economic department of the Bank of France.

OPERA

Saffi, the daughter of a fortune teller. Complications arise, for Saffi is discovered to be the daughter of the late Pasha of Temeswar. This news angers Barinkay so much that he refuses to marry her and enlists in the army.

Happy Ending

All ends well for the much beloved and bewildered lovers for Barinkay returns from Spain with the victorious troops, marries Saffi, and secures Zsupan's consent to the marriage of Arsena and Ottokar.

The cast will include Brenda Lewis as Saffi, Richard Tyrol as Barinkay, Helen George as Arsena, Brooks McCermack as Ottokar, and Norman Roland as Zsupan. Others will be Hubert Norville as Count Carnero, Grant Garmel as Count Homonay, and Teresa Gerson as Zeipre.

The operetta is from an original adaptation in English by George Meade.

Nazis Terrorize Greeks

ROME, Oct. 17 (AP)—Greek women and children are being used as hostages by German troops fleeing northward in an effort to prevent guerrillas from attacking their columns, anti-fascist reports said today.

The Nazis warned the Greeks that 10 hostages would be killed in retaliation for each attack, and reports said the first group of civilians taken along already had been slain.

They are patient about waiting because those Long Distance calls mean so much

A soldier has to line up for a lot of things but we don't like to see him wait too long for a Long Distance call.

Would you mind helping a little by saving the wires, evenings, from seven to ten for the service men?

That's when thousands of soldiers rush to the telephones at the camps and we'd like them to have first call on Long Distance.

You can use Long Distance at lowest rates all day Sundays and as early as 6 P. M. weekdays and still save 7 to 10 for the service men.
