State Defeats Maryland, 8-0

Single Touchdown Scored By Breslin On Muddy Field

COLLEGE PARK, MD.,—The Spartans of Michigan State college maintained their undefeated season's football record tonight by slogging their way to a muddy victory over the University of Maryland, 8 to 0, in a driving north-eastern rain storm that drove all but 500 hardy spectators from the dripping stands.

Jack Breslin, 190 pound State fullback, ace who spearheaded the State attack, blasted off his left tackle in the second period, and with fine interference splashed 12 yards over Maryland's goal for the only touchdown in a dreary game.

Terrapins Penalized

The tilt was interspersed by fumbles and poor kicks because of the high wind and beating rain.

State put the clincher on the game in the fourth period when Breslin punted 78 yards with the wind and the ball rolled dead on Maryland's nine. The Terrapins were penalized to the one for clipping.

Safety Scored

On the next play a bad pass from center was bobbled by Tom Chisari, attempting to punt, and the State forward wall smeared him behind the goal line for a safety and two precious points.

Maryland had its best chance just after the safety, when end Norman Geatz blocked Breslin's kick on State's 46, and recovered the soggy ball on the Spartan 22. One play later, Bob Troll fumbled on State's 19 and Art Artz, Spartan end, recovered on the 22.

Today's Campus

... One Down

To the relief of the students of Prof. O. L. Abbott's Spanish classes, "Uncle," the professor's cat, is doing nicely with his right back leg. Thoroughly to be pampered and spoiled, "Uncle" probably was the example Professor Abbott gave to "Quiero mi gato" to indicate love for animals.

... Sugar Daddy

Standing on the curb, hitchhiking, Shirley Trump, Birmingham junior, almost fell in the gutter when a man in a car passing for the second time stopped, opened the door and said, "What's the matter? Don't you recognize your own relatives?" The expression on Shirley's face was confused and belligerent for a minute. Then it was replaced with a flash of teeth and two dimples as she recognized the man in the back seat—DADDY.

Police Have Car Permits

Students who have cars registered with the campus police should pick up their permits at police headquarters in the power plant. All students must register their cars with the campus police or be subject to a fine.

Dumesnil Will Play At Sunday Recital

Included in the Claude Debussy lecture-recital to be presented at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the music auditorium, will be four piano solos by Maurice Dumesnil, noted authority on the French composer, and several selections accompanied by Alexander Schuster, cellist, and Romeo Tata, violinist.

The program will begin with a sonata for violin and piano, followed by four piano selections which Dumesnil will play. They are "Reflections in the Water,"

Julian Bryan's "Chile," a technical motion picture depicting the social and political life of this South American nation, will be shown in College auditorium tonight at 8:15 as the second offering of the world adventure series. Accompanying the production will be a lecture by Bryan explaining the subject of his picture.

Included in the feature will be many social experiments such as modern housing for low income brackets, and modern tuberculosis clinics and hospitals. Chile's most serious health problems are this disease and in child care, for which it has also established many excellent hospitals.

In the film is also a complete study of the Chilean funds, or great landed estate, which is still the center of all agricultural life. American-owned, as well as locally-owned copper and nitrate mines in the north are visited, and modern Santiago, with its sky-scrapers and airports, shows the advanced progress of the cities.

Concluding the program, Bryan will show the beauty of the southern lake district, the Straits of Magellan, and the great sheep ranches of Chilean Patagonia, as the picture takes the audience upon a long trip through the colorful south.

Students will be admitted to the lecture upon presentation of their student receipts.

Next week's program will be Fredric and Sylvia Christian's "River of No Return," a technical picture of a trip down the Salmon river in central Idaho.

Guatemalans Revolt; Commander Killed

GUATAMALA CITY, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Federico Ponce was overthrown today in a revolt led by young officers of the Guatemalan army and university students.

The movement started at 2 a.m. among officers and soldiers of the barracks Guardia de Honor, which was strongly supplied with modern weapons, including tanks, armored cars and different kinds of machine guns.

The commander of the guard, Gen. Federico Corado, was killed at the beginning and a 12-hour battle followed in the streets.

International Center Will Hold Formal Open House Tomorrow

The formal opening of the International Center will be held tomorrow. The open house at 3 Faculty row from 3 to 5 p.m. is the first in a series of entertainments planned for the coming year.

Everyone is invited to attend the opening, and Prof. and Mrs. S. C. Lee will be there to receive them. They have been appointed by Pres. John Hannah to be in charge of the center and will occupy the upstairs.

The former residence of the dean of women has been redecorated and furnished under the direction of Karl McDonel, secretary of the Board of Agriculture, and Miss Mildred Jones, manager of women's dorms.

American Troops Mop Up Remains Of Ruined Aachen

AACHEN, GERMANY, Oct. 30 (AP)—The German border city of Aachen, reduced to wreckage by American shells and bombing planes and torn by days of savage street fighting, fell today to American troops.

Tonight the victorious Yanks began mopping up the remnants of Nazis hopelessly trapped in pockets on the outskirts of this mass of wreckage.

There were estimated to be between 500 and 1,000 Germans trapped in the vise, in addition to approximately 2,000 already captured.

Troops under the command of Lt. Col. Merrill Daniel of Geneva, N. Y., knocked out the last major German stronghold in the city at 3:30 p.m. (10:30 a.m. eastern war time) with direct fire from a 155 mm. rifle blasting at close range.

The big gun literally knocked down a building in which S. S. Elite guard troops had made a last stand. A Yank private sitting in a window several yards in front of the gun was blown from his perch by the muzzle blast and knocked all the way across the room.

With the stronghold reduced to smoke and rubble the doughboys swiftly advanced through the remains of the ruined city.

Recoiling from the surprise landings, the Nipponese were reported shelling the invaders with mortars and artillery.

The Yanks, however, pushed into open country despite this resistance, said an American network pool broadcast from Leyte, and one column was "closing in on the city of Tacloban." That city is at the northern end of Leyte, above the point where one landing was made.

MacArthur Goes Ashore

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who went ashore with his forces Thursday (U.S. time) was quoted in a field-dispatch as saying that there was little more than one Japanese division on Leyte.

Its position was hopeless, he told William B. Dickinson, representing the combined American press, American naval and air power, he explained, would make reinforcement impossible.

MacArthur said he was particularly anxious to "get at" that division because it was the outfit "that did the dirty work at Bataan."

No Word from South

There was no late word from the forces that landed farther south on Leyte near San Jose and the southern tip of the island.

While his assault forces streamed ashore along the eastern coast of Leyte island, MacArthur dramatically broadcast this appeal to the islanders:

"I have returned. Rally to me. Let the indomitable spirit of Bataan and Corregidor lead on. As

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Capture of the Tacloban airfield by American invasion forces on Leyte in the central Philippines was reported today in a broadcast from the scene by radio reporter Gordon Walker of the Mutual chain.

the lines of battle roll forward to bring you within the zone of operation, rise and strike."

Speaking over the radio "voice of freedom," as reported by the office of war information, MacArthur informed the Filipinos that their president, Sergio Osmena, and members of his cabinet were at his side.

Hour of Redemption

"The seat of your government is now therefore firmly reestablished on Philippine soil," he continued. "The hour of your redemption is here."

"I now call upon your supreme effort that the enemy may know from the temper of an aroused and outraged people within that he has a force to contend with no less violent than is the force committed from without."

MacArthur's appeal, made a few hours after he had landed with his assault forces after a terrific air and naval bombardment, came two and a half years after his memorable words, "I shall return," spoken upon reaching Australia from Corregidor.

Every available able-bodied survivor of historic Bataan and Corregidor was with him.

LETTERS

To the Editor

GENTLEMEN of the ACERC: I just received a few clippings from the MSC newspaper which included an article called "Letters to the Editor." In this article a few of you gentlemen seemed to have a few gripes about the way the women of MSC treat you.

From what I have heard from several different sources, you young gentlemen are more to blame than anyone else. Fellows, those gals aren't so shy of you because of your ages as they are your actions and manners.

There were plenty of us, in students who were not very much older in years than yourselves and we were treated royally, so figure it out for yourselves.

There isn't a man who has ever been stationed at MSC who wouldn't give most anything to change places with you in a minute. The gentlemen in my barracks have all read the clipping and ask me to remind you men of the ACERC that you are you should act as such.

So get on the ball, misters. If you will use a little more tact and thought instead of youthful enthusiasm I'm sure the coeds and civilian fellows will be glad to meet you more than half way.

Settle down, misters, because CTD is the easiest and the most fun you'll ever have in the army air forces. You'll sure wish you were back there soon.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

October 21, 1944

DEAREST JOHNNY,

I started out the hunting season right along with the big boys but didn't do as well as they. All I had to show for my efforts were numerous burrs and scratches. I got hung up on a barbed wire fence and looked like something hanging off a Christmas tree.

Freshman orientation is going cafe society this term. The usual lecture was replaced by a fashion show this week where the entire—well, almost entire—college wardrobe of a typical coed was modeled. Don't you wish you were a freshman again?

In case you feel poetic while you're peched in your foxhole, the annual poetry contest has started again. Some of your experiences—notice I said some—might make good poetry.

Volleyball games have started up again among women's dorms, coops, and sororities. I got kicked off the team the first night after having caught the ball every time it came my way. I felt pretty proud, however, to have been able to show my athletic prowess that much.

We played the University of Maryland last night and were undefeated up to that time. I'm too tired to get up and look at the paper to see how we came out but I'm sure we must have won. Last week we ran up and down the gridiron to beat Kansas State by a playful 45-6.

Did I tell you about the International Center at number 3 Faculty Row? Prof. and Mrs. Shao Chang Lee are entertaining foreign students hand over fist, but I hear they still need a vacuum cleaner. If you run across a brand new Hoover in your travels, I'm sure they'd appreciate it if you'd box it up and send it over.

For cleaner living,

PEG.

State Graduate Receives Citation

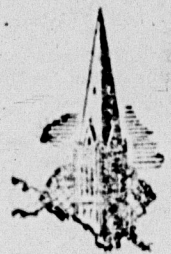

The presidential citation has been awarded to Lt. Parke Moewe, graduate of 1943, and pilot of a Flying Fortress for his part in a raid on Germany July 18 during which his plane was shot down. He is now a prisoner of war, according to word received from him by his wife, the former Betty Jane Anderson, '43.

Since his capture he has also been promoted to first lieutenant and holds the air medal with two oak leaf clusters. He went overseas in March and was based in Italy, from where he was on his 40th mission when shot down.

During the raid his formation was separated because of bad weather.

Twenty-six of the bombers proceeded to the target unopposed and were outnumbered 17 to one by enemy fighters. Half the bomber formation was shot down and the 12 remaining planes demolished the air defense at Memmingen.

Lieutenant Moewe was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity while at Michigan State and was also circulation manager of the Spartan magazine.

Allies Roll Toward Budapest

Russians Capture Hungarian City, Berlin Announces

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Russian and Allied troops captured the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade and conquered Hungary's third city of Debrecen on the road to Budapest today as Berlin announced that other Soviet forces had penetrated seven miles inside pre-war Germany.

Nazi Defenses Penetrated
Waves of Red army warriors punched new holes in Nazi homeland defenses on a 25-mile front opposite Lithuania, reaching the area of Agenrode (Staluponen), a communications center seven miles inside the Junkers province, Berlin said.

Moscow was silent on the invasion of Germany, but Berlin broadcasts said the still-rolling offensive from the east had obliterated whole villages and was within 30 miles of the large junction of Interberg on the Kaunas-Konigsberg highway.

Reserves Thrown In
The crack "Greater Germany" division has been thrown into the struggle, one Nazi broadcast said.

Berlin also announced that units of Heinrich Himmler's home army of males between 16 and 60 already had been hurled in as Reserves.

Board Completes Nip Investigation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal disclosed tonight that a board of inquiry has completed its investigation of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, and submitted to him a report on which he will determine what future action shall be taken.

The board divided its report into two sections, one bearing the "top secret" classification—the highest category of restricted information, and the other classified as "secret."

Forrestal said that he would submit the report to the navy's judge advocate general and immediately after its legal form has been approved will begin his examination.

The navy secretary will determine what action now shall be taken in connection with dereliction of duty charges pending against Rear Admiral Husband P. Kimmel, navy commander in the Pacific at the time of the attack.

Similar charges are pending against Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, commander of army forces in Hawaii at the time the Japanese attacked on Dec. 7, 1941.

Originator of Basic College Idea Believes It Is Now 'Here to Stay'

By BOB BYERLY

In an informal meeting yesterday, Floyd W. Reeves, professor of education at the University of Chicago, discussed several important aspects of the Basic college program.

It is, of course, too early to judge the success of the program at this time. By the end of the year, however, there will be a definite basis for judgment, he said.

It was just 21 years ago that Professor Reeves published his educational survey, outlining at that time a theory of education similar to the one underlying the present program of Michigan State, that is, the emphasis of a broad cultural background as a prerequisite for specialization. Reeves, it must be remembered, was the first to think along these progressive lines.

Except for the University of Chicago, Michigan State was the first college to take a definite step in the direction of general education.

Reeves states that it was also the first college to bring to a large number of students the advantages of this unique educational process, which consists of three major aspects: instruction, counseling and comprehensive examinations. And success of the program is unmistakably tied with success in these three fields.

The problems of the program were discussed briefly. For the most part they relate to teaching. For the instructors in these new courses must not only supply the students with a new kind of education; they must re-educate themselves as well.

A problem seems to exist also in securing the necessary textbooks.

Professor Reeves pointed out that there is a very great need for syllabi of high caliber.

It is upon the matter of engineering problems that Reeves speaks with great authority, for he was for several years director of personnel for the Tennessee Valley authority. And it is in this field that the greatest merits of the program are brought out.

Reeves is returning to the University of Chicago to resume his duties as professor of administration of education in political science, as well as director of the University of Chicago committee on world education. He will be back in January.

Members to Attend Educational Convo

Region three of the Michigan Education association will meet at MSC Thursday and Friday, Oct. 26 and 27. The 3,500 teachers attending the regional conference will register and go to meetings.

Ben East, outdoor editor of the "Grand Rapids Press," will show films on "Pathways for invasion" at 8 p.m. Thursday in College auditorium. Students and the public are invited to attend.

Senior education majors may receive tickets free from Prof. Edmund Thorne in College auditorium, while other education students may attend by becoming associated members.

Future of Unions Under GOP Told In Dewey Talk

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20—(AP)—Losing a new barrage at what he calls "one-man government," Thomas E. Dewey tonight declared that President Roosevelt is trying to make political capital out of social gains which he said were initiated by Republican administrations.

After declaring that Democrats resent "the kidnapping of their party by the communists and the political action committee," the Republican presidential nominee said in a prepared broadcast:

"It is time to face the fact that the New Deal is a bankrupt organization, living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people."

He conceded the New Deal "did some good things in its youth," but declared that "now it seeks to live on its past."

In his speech at the Hunt armory here, Dewey asserted the slogan of the New Deal is:

"Back to normalcy with 10 million unemployed."

He said improved labor relations began under Republican administrations with the railway labor act, anti-child labor laws, the anti-injunction bill of rights for labor, and other measures.

Notre Dame over Wisconsin: the Badgers have a habit of spilling at least one favorite each year but doubt if the Irish will be their victim this time. It may be a Kelly vs. Jirard duel.

Great Lakes over Ohio State: it is old home-week for Lt. Paul Brown, who brings his future sailors to Columbus to oppose the country's No. 1 civilian outfit.

Navy over Georgia Tech: after a disappointing start, Navy will reel in its dragging anchor at the expense of previously unbeaten, unscored on Tech.

North Carolina pre-flight over Georgia pre-flight: with their officers in the lineup, the Cloud-busters again will be the team that defeated Navy.

UCLA over St. Mary's pre-flight: as long as Johnny Floresch is in the lineup, the coblegians have the edge over the coast fliers who have scored only once this season.

Tulsa over Mississippi: doubt if the Ole Miss line can handle the battering in store for it every time Camp Wilson gets the ball.

Tennessee over Alabama: straining with the Volunteers because the game is on their home field. Could go the other way easy enough.

Purdue over Iowa: the Badger-makers to keep climbing toward another Big Ten title claim.

Rosemary Howland to Play for Union Dance

Beginning top billing in week-end entertainment Mason Hall will inaugurate an open door policy tonight when they hold their first open house of the term from 9 to 12 p.m. in the "Abbott annex."

In a Hallowe'en pumpkin, witches and goblins setting the friendly neighbor hostesses will entertain their guests with dancing, cards, and ping-pong.

Union Board will continue its round of activities today beginning with Party-Party this afternoon and ending with the regular Saturday night dance to be held in the Union ballroom from 9 to midnight, with Rosemary Howland's band to supply music.

Across the Red Cedar, Student club members invite all who are interested to come to their Hobo Hobnob party at the Forestry cabin. Entertainment for Hobo attired Hobnobbers will begin at 8:30 p.m.

One of the first Greek organizations to entertain this term, Delta Zeta women will hold a radio party at their chapter house from 9 to 12 tonight. Patrons for the affair are Prof. and Mrs. E. M. Banzet.

Debussy Exhibit To Be Shown

The prized Claude Debussy collection of Maurice Dumesnil, head of the piano department, is now on display in the show cases in the music building.

This exhibit is a small part of the original collection of Maurice Dumesnil which he salvaged from his collection at his near Caen in 1939.

It includes pictures of the composer taken when he lived near Dieppe, France in 1905. Also in the collection are: Debussy's briefcase, his walking stick, and a watch which was given him when he was only a youth. Shown also is a manuscript on which Debussy once worked.

While living in France, Maurice Dumesnil had prize collections of many composers. When the Germans occupied France, however, he was only to salvage this Debussy display.

Said Dumesnil, "Where my other collections are, I do not know. Maybe they are in Berlin, I don't know."

Colored WAVE Group Approved by President

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)

The Navy announced tonight that President Roosevelt has approved enrollment of Negro women in the WAVES.

A "limited number of especially qualified Negro women," the Navy said, will be commissioned immediately as administrative officers. They will assist in planning and supervising a program for enlistment of Negro women.

Gas Tank Blast Wrecks Cleveland Residential Area

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20, (AP)—Set off by terrific explosions of two liquid gas storage tanks that hurled a canopy of flames over the immediate vicinity, fire raged through a thickly populated 20-block area on the city's east side today, resulting in an undetermined number of fatalities and taking a toll of injured estimated at from 190 to several hundred.

Police Capt. Harry Weis, receiving reports from officers in the disaster area, said the number of dead might total 40. Detective Inspector Frank Storey told newsmen at the scene he had seen a dozen bodies in charred wreckage of industrial and residential structures.

The initial blast occurred about 2:50 p.m. (CWT) but as late at 5:30 p.m. the fire still was out of control, with intermittent additional explosions. These included at least one smaller liquid gas storage unit and numerous gas main blasts.

At least 25 homes within the 20-block area were completely demolished and possibly 100 others were damaged by flames.
