

Is She Is or Is

Halloween was a lovely night and the ghosts were really jumping but a couple of industrious ch. Omegas were using their late hours for mid-term cramming when the front door-ain't bell rang. They expected nothing less than half a dozen minor denizens—on mask and apple begging—so they gingerly peered around the blackened front door. They finally opened it to have Marian Goss, Bay City senior, say, "For heaven's sake let me in—I'm not a spook." Is she sure?

Good Neighbors

The women at 501 East Grand River are among the very few who do not feel the man shortage. The lucky eals, 12 in number, have as neighbors 12 men. Such proximity has led to joint dances and parties, but best of all is the hour when the girls gather at the window, quietly, of course, and listen while the boys of 507 share the delicate details of their daily letters.

Math Group Taps Eight Students To Membership

Results of the elections of Pi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics honorary, were released yesterday by Dr. J. S. Frame, math department head, who announced the eight students who will be tapped for membership. To be considered by the membership committee, each candidate must satisfy certain scholastic requirements and have completed approximately two years of college mathematics. Interest is also taken into consideration.

Five faculty members were chosen: W. D. Balen, G. G. Spicker, Alfred Jones, Miss Mary Eiseback, and Miss Margaret Mauch.

A swing-out for the initiates will be held Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in the basement tower at 8 when each new member will be decorated with the honorary key.

The initiation meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 7:15 in room 125 Morrill Hall. It will be an open meeting and each initiate will give a five minute talk on the life of some famous mathematician.

News in Brief

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 — (AP) — Liberty ships will be named for Wendell L. Willkie, Alfred E. Smith and George W. Norris. Assignment of the names of these men was announced today by the maritime commission.

BERN, SWITZERLAND, Nov. 2 — (AP) — Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring, German commander-in-chief in Italy, was reported tonight to have been wounded in Italy during an attack similar to the one that eventually cost Field Marshal Erwin Rommel his life in France.

PARIS, Nov. 2 — (AP) — Execution of a captured German ammunition train yesterday near a spot where Gen. Charles De Gaulle had spoken earlier, killed 21 persons and injured 95, it was learned today.

Russians Sweep Forward to Deal Budapest Blow

LONDON, Nov. 2 — (AP) — Russian troops swept to within 23 miles of the Hungarian capital of Budapest today, capturing 60 towns and villages between the Danube and Tisza rivers in a swift offensive aimed at knocking out the last big Axis war satellite.

A Moscow communique announced capture of Domsad, on the Danube's east bank 23 miles south of the great prize city, Kunszentmiklos, 27 miles south and slightly east of Budapest, and Tatarszentgyorgy, 26 miles southeast of the capital.

Battle Bright
The roar of Russian guns could be heard in the imperilled capital, and by night the flash of the battles on the plains lit the skies, Moscow dispatches said.

Although German and Hungarian resistance was bitter it appeared to be crumbling as the Russians smashed through thick minefields and whittled down a staggered Axis defense of anti-tank guns.

1,518 Nazis Taken

The Soviet communique announced capture of 2,000 Germans and Hungarians during Wednesday outside Budapest, making a total of 7,518 taken between the Danube and Tisza rivers.

Among the prisoners was the former chief of the Hungarian general staff, Col. Gen. Janus Veresz.

Reds Push Across Tisza

In northwestern Hungary, where other units of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's second Ukraine army were pushing westward just below the Czechoslovak border, the Russians hurled the Germans across the middle Tisza river on a winding 25-mile front.

Basic College Convo Planned for Nov. 16; Classes to Be Excused

The basic college convocation will definitely be held Thursday, Nov. 16, at 4 p.m., Dean H. C. Rather disclosed yesterday. Although the order of the program has not yet been determined, the purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the students with the nature and purpose of the basic college program and the way in which it functions and, in addition, to correct misconceptions and label rumors true or false.

A considerable part of the meeting will be devoted to general discussion. Students are encouraged to ask questions, as the entire basic college staff will be there to answer them.

Everyone who is enrolled in the basic college will be excused from classes to attend the convocation.

Campus Police Maintain Peace and Order

By BETTY ANN JOHNSON

Even the proverbial one-armed paper hanger with the hives isn't as busy as the MSC campus police, who cover the campus in countless capacities. The five regular and five student policemen, headed by Chief Richard Rogers of the East Lansing police department, are doing a big job of maintaining the law, protecting college property, and controlling traffic.

As night watchmen, they lock buildings, close windows, turn on night lights, and patrol the campus, on the lookout for any suspicious characters who might be lurking in the shadows.

The department's two patrol cars are sometimes called upon to serve as ambulances. Last year 384 calls were received and the patients were transported to the Olin Memorial hospital.

First Army Shatters Siegfried Lull With Drive Southeast of Aachen

SHAFF, PARIS, Nov. 2 — (AP) — The U. S. first army shattered the Siegfried line lull today with a new drive on a front of 4,000 yards southeast of Aachen that swept nearly two miles to within eight miles of the big German road center of Duren, 20 miles beyond which lies Cologne and the Rhine.

The drive rolled through the German villages of Vessene and Germeter, 13 miles southeast of Aachen, and up to the fortified village of Hugen, often attacked but not yet conquered by Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' doughboys.

Hurtgen Forest Barrage

The attack, whose scope and objectives have not yet been disclosed, exploded in the face of hastily strengthened German defenses in the morning after a heavy artillery barrage that resounded through Hurtgen forest.

By evening American infantrymen still were slogging forward against stiffening resistance, it was announced at Supreme headquarters.

Three hundred prisoners were rooted from pillboxes and foxholes as the Americans broke clear out of the eastern fringes of the battle-chewed forest, across the road leading south from Duren to Lammersdorf, and on into a smaller woodland beyond.

Tommies Mop Up Antwerp
Meanwhile British troops cleared Vlissingen (Flushing) of batteries on the sand dunes to all but snipers, seized big gun the north, and more reinforcements poured onto this flooded Walcheren island for the final mop-up of Antwerp's seaward approaches.

The British, hammering away at German rearguards battered against the Maas, drove a mile nearer the two vital bridges across the stream at Moerdijk.

Tojo's Casualties Mount Higher In Island Fight

MACARTHUR'S HDQ., PHILIPPINES, Friday, Nov. 3 (AP) — American forces have made a juncture in Carigara, coastal town on Leyte's northwest coast, and are driving enemy remnants west and south toward Ormoc, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

The "end of the Leyte-Samar campaign is in sight," the communique reported, and Japanese casualties have risen to more than 30,000.

Elements of the 24th division crushed final Japanese delaying forces in northwestern Leyte valley to effect the juncture with elements of the first cavalry division.

7th Cuts Leyte

Meanwhile, advance forces of the 7th division cut entirely across the lower portion of Leyte, reaching the west coast, 26 miles south of Ormoc.

"Final remnants of the enemy's forces," said the communique, "are now being driven into the small and confined Ormoc sector where they are enveloped on all three land sides by our ground forces."

Japs Send Troops

The Japanese have sent reinforcements to Ormoc, from where some of these new troops are known to have been sent northward to bulwark forces in the Carigara bay sector. Japanese remnants from the center of the island have been streaming both toward Carigara and Ormoc.

The 24th division was "rapidly covering" the last six miles into Carigara, after punching up the northwestern arm of Leyte valley against bitter Japanese rear-guard action.

Second Study Plan To Be Offered

Monday night the studying rules for the women's residences will change in accordance with the AWS handbook, Pres. Jane Cumming, Detroit senior, announces.

Women wishing to study beyond 11:30 p.m. may do so in their own room providing both roommates wish to study. If only one wishes to study late she must use the study room provided.

Both roommates sign up for this permission so the house-mother or night hostess will know which study rooms are in use. If any student abuses this privilege it will not be granted again. It is understood that this permission is for studying only.

Hospital records show that this precaution merits everyone's cooperation. Health of the students and marks have both improved under its usage. It will be with reference to these records and scholastic averages that the AWS council will vote on which of two systems regarding late study hours is to be used winter and spring terms.

IT HAPPENED THIS WEEK

By BOB KAMINS

PACIFIC

In the central Philippines MacArthur's forces continued their advance against increasing Jap resistance. On Leyte, the Yanks are driving into a corner by Carigara bay, and it is expected that the showdown battle for Leyte will be fought here.

On Samar island we have eliminated all effective Jap opposition and only mopping up remains to be accomplished. Samar at its northern tip is close to Luzon island where the original capital of the Philippines, Manila, is housed.

Air support is being given constantly to our ground forces. The big news of the week from the Pacific did not concern immediate military operations. For the recall of Gen. Joseph Stilwell from his triple command in the C-B-I theater was the result of a long standing dispute between Vinegar Joe and the Chinese leader Chiang Chih Shek.

Many different reasons have been given for the general's recall, but the important and final fact to be remembered is that he no longer is in the far east. On these military matters, that cannot of necessity be told in full, it is for us "to do or die," and not to question how or why.

WESTERN FRONT

All-important action of the past week on the western front took place in Holland. There the British and Canadian forces, operating under extreme difficulties of weather and terrain are pushing the Germans out of their positions blocking the approaches to Antwerp. The Allies desperately need Antwerp for a supply port if anything resembling a breakthrough is to be effected soon, and this explains the intensity of this battle, for the Germans know this as well as we do.

Actually, according to Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey, the battle for the port of Antwerp is over in our favor. It is now a question of how fast and how far back the Germans will go. Hard fighting is still in prospect in this area before complete and unhindered Allied use of Antwerp is attained.

Patton, Hodges, and Patch continued stalemated the past week. In the air, tactical as well as strategic bombings took place from bases in both Britain and Italy. Hundreds of bombers and fighters ranged the skies blasting communication centers, supply depots, and production centers.

Nazi fighter opposition was light, but ack-ack was intense and heavy.

ITALY, GREECE

Italian fighting is still one of the gaining strategic positions before the big push. The Germans are still holding at Bologna and the entrance to the Po valley. In Greece, lack of food and worthless currency has resulted in numerous and bloody riots in Athens and elsewhere. Until the currency is stabilized and food is brought in the situation will not be altered.

DOMESTIC NEWS

With election day next Tuesday the national, state, and local campaigns for election and reelection continued hot and heavy. Diplomatically speaking, Argentina has thrown a bomb shell into the arena with a proposal that American foreign ministers have a meeting soon.

With the present Argentine regime not recognized by the United States, the problem arises if we or the other American republics not dealing with Argentina should accept. The matter, as we went to press, was not decided yet.

IBM Representative Plans Visit to State

In Campus Quarters

By LEONE SEASTROM and DOROTHY LA MONT

THESE balmy days can't continue. It isn't Michigan style, and besides there aren't enough pins and rins loose on the campus. But undoubtedly we'll pay for it next spring so pardon us a minute while we lay plans for a 40 day rain seige and start building an ark.

Even if alums gloat that college was never so unmanned, a little bit of the "days when" was brought back Monday when the Sigma Chi gathered under Wells hall windows to serenade a new sweetheart. Redford freshman Betty Lou Brown was the coed at the window with the Sigma Chi pin and down below Bob Klepinger was singing the solo part.

Logical move from pins is to rings and two more are adding sparkle to campus coeds. Kitty Mitchell, Alpha Gam, is one of the happy persons with a brand new dazzler from Jim Hagen, V-12 man from the U. of M. reporting next week to Cornell, Ithaca, N. Y.

Announcement of the arrival of a jewel of slightly different variety comes from Maj. and Mrs. Chester Kennedy. They are the very proud parents of a baby daughter, Miss Jan Lee, who recently arrived in this world.

Jan Lee's mother is the former Alicia Lavers, Theta. Her father was a member of ATO. Major Kennedy, now in service in Europe, was recently awarded the silver star for meritorious achievement in battle.

Premature homecoming was in full swing last week end with alums arriving from all directions. Ann Hafford Gardner stopped at the Theta house to look over the old haunts and catch up on news from her sorority sisters.

Cpl. and Mrs. Dave Giltner are spending Dave's furlough in East Lansing this week before they go back to Camp Gruber, Okla. Mrs. Giltner is the former Nancy Shephard, Alpha Phi. Her husband was a member of Sigma Nu. More alum visitors came to the Kappa Delta house this week end. Ran Cole Mathews dropped in on her sorority sisters arriving from Santa Anna, Calif.

Sigma Kappas are polishing up their pins and their manners this week in preparation of a visit from Mrs. Alta Morin, Grand treasurer, tomorrow. Mrs. Morin will be entertained at a tea Saturday and will also be present for the Sigma Kappa initiation Sunday.

LETTERS . . . To The Editor

TO the editor:
It is regrettable that you have a sports editor so far afield from knowing what the game of football is all about, so lacking in the ability to estimate a situation and determine what is going on.

It is also a sad setup when there aren't enough students interested in the welfare of our football team to crack back when it is subjected to baseless criticism, so that the team members have to speak for themselves.

Up to now, our gridsters have played heads-up ball. They have played as much according to the rules of the game as can be expected. The Wayne game was no exception.

Football is a competitive sport. If courtesy and good sportsmanship are taken up by both teams on the field, then you will have a nice, clean, sportsmanlike contest. But the game can also be played to the tune of win at any cost. This was the theme Wayne played, even before the game.

The Wayne team set the theme, and let it never be said that a Spartan team was better to its opponent's brand. I am proud of the fact that our team played the way Wayne wanted to play it and lost badly.

Morton D. . .

TO the editor:

Too few students know of the many cultural activities offered at this college. Everyone knows when a game is scheduled, or that an orchestra is playing in the gymnasium. This is good, but so is the lecture series a part of college life.

Perhaps some people have noticed the posters telling of the four artists who will speak during the year and let

Missouri Game Tomorrow Listed As Top Season Battle

Injuries Offer Problem to Scoring Chances

By JERRY KENNEY

After spending 22 hours on the road, the Spartans will today before tackling the Missouri Tigers tomorrow in man's charges will arrive at the University of Missouri at 1:30 this afternoon.

Injuries may offer the coaching staff almost as great a problem as the Missouri attack unless rapid recovery takes place. A doubtful starter is End Frank Brogger, who received a hip injury in the Wayne game. Brogger went on the trip but there is no assurance that the top flight end will be able to play.

Draft Calls Again

Art Amiz will get the nod to go in at Brogger's spot if he is unable to play. Along with Grandrik at the other flank, Amiz will be able to give the Missouri pass defense quite a workout when Aerialists Breslin, Brogger, Aronson and Speerstra start passing.

The selective service is again threatening the Spartan team. Quiet since Quarterback Bill Bartlett was inducted, the draft now calls Tailback Bob Bruegger. The Spartan left halfback has received his orders and reports for induction Sunday, Nov. 12, the day after the last football game on the schedule.

Welcome Party Planned

Also reported close to military induction are Quarterback Bill Siler, who was discharged from the naval air corps last year, and Brogger, who is married and the proud father of a week old baby.

A welcome back party is being planned for the team when it returns from Missouri. Win, lose or draw, all students are urged to accompany the cheer leaders down to the Grand Trunk station on Washington in Lansing at 3 p.m. Sunday to greet the incoming team.

Guerrilla Leader

Maj. ILIFF D. RICHARDSON (above), former PT-boat officer who missed the last boat to Australia by three days, led guerrillas in the Philippines for two and a half years, harassing the Japs and helping to kill or wound 800 of them. (AP Wirephoto)

The celebration will take place regardless of the fate of the Spartan fortunes in the battle with the Tigers. The Spartans, however, are favored to defeat Missouri, and the betting is at even odds, when Missouri is spotted six points.

Orange Bowl Has Talent Scouts Out Everywhere

MIAMI, FLA., Nov. 2 (AP) — Don't look now, college football teams, but an Orange Bowl scout probably is watching you play.

Maybe you recognize him but not as a sort of unofficial representative of the committee which stages the annual New Year's day gridiron show in Miami.

He may be the coach of the opposing team, a spectator, a sports writer, an athletic commissioner.

No matter his identity, he is a qualified observer to whom Chairman Charles F. (Jack) Baldwin and the members of the schedule committee can go for a frank, off-the-record appraisal of your play.

Baldwin and his committee-men can't see all of the college elevens in action for a first-hand impression of their Orange Bowl potentialities, and they don't have to.

Let some obscure eleven burst into prominence with a scoring spree or a major upset victory, and it's a good bet that at least one of the Bowl's volunteer scouts is ready to come through with a full report.

"We're mighty lucky," Baldwin continued, "to have so many good friends around the country who are pulling for us and are ready to give up the right dope. I don't know what we would do without them."

Nelson Heads Mission for Industry Gains Study in Free China

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — An American mission under Donald M. Nelson was ordered to China today to undertake a vast reorganization of that country's war industries.

Nelson was asked to proceed at "the earliest possible date," the White House announced after a long conference between President Roosevelt and the former war production board chairman. He is expected to leave some time next week.

The special talents of those to accompany him indicated that particular emphasis will be laid on stepping up output of explosives and steel—the chief components of aerial bombs which are among the simplest to manufacture of all modern war weapons.

The fact that the mission includes a distillation engineer led to speculation, too, that one task will be to produce an alcohol-base truck fuel since China has no petroleum.

Top-Ranking Ace

Comdr. DAVID MCCAMPBELL (above) of Los Angeles, naval air forces pilot, shot down nine Japanese planes in a single flight in combat over the Philippines area. Top-ranking navy ace, McCampbell has 30 planes to his credit.

APU To Sponsor Rally, Dance for Homecoming

Although the sorority and fraternity houses will not decorate their lawns and fronts as in previous years there will be some activity around campus next week end for the annual homecoming game, Nov. 11.

Alpha Phi Omega, service honorary, will again sponsor a Pep rally Friday, the night before the game, at 7 p.m. on the west side of the Union.

Under the direction of Reiner Schneider, Morten Groe, III, junior, the traditional bonfire and snake dance will be the climax of the evening.

According to Glen Stewart, director of alumni relations, a stag smoker will be held on Friday evening for the alumni who come up for the game.

The game, which is to be dedicated to the men and women of MSC in the armed forces, and especially the 146 who have lost their lives, will be marked by an address from Pres. John A. Hannah.

Three bands, including the Michigan State college band, will perform during the halves. The ACERC will march in mass formation, according to Captain A. N. Hoover, public relations.

INFORMATION

SENIOR PIX

Tomorrow will be the last day for senior picture appointments. Any seniors who have not had their picture taken should call Bethany Beardslee, Lansing sophomore, at 26729 and make an appointment immediately.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

The International club will hold an informal meeting today at 7 p.m. at the International Center. Members and other students may attend if they wish. Liga Simons-Quiroz, president announced.

A group of students from the International club have been asked to participate in a program which will take place at the International hall of Chicago university tomorrow.

Those in the program will be: Josefa Campodonico, Panama sophomore, Teresa Gadaleta, Lansing sophomore, Ricardo Salazar, Panama junior and Liga Simons-Quiroz, Panama senior.

State-Missouri Tilt to Be Broadcast Party Activities* For Weekend Fill Social Calendar

A record number of parties will offer a mid-term antidote this week-end for those with bluebook allergy. Although far from approaching pre-war activity calendars, this week end's social slate tops any scheduled yet this term.

Union board will open the week end activities by sponsoring the weekly Friday frolic with dancing from 8 to 12, bridge and games in the Faculty dining room of the Union.

Regular Party-Party will be held tomorrow afternoon featuring a broadcast of the State-Missouri game in the mixed lounge of the Union. The broadcast, by Larry Frymire, will begin at 3:30 p.m. Dancing and bridge will also be included.

Union Board Music

Gene Devine's orchestra will furnish music for the Union Board dance to be held in the ballroom tomorrow night from 9 to 12. Sponsored again after a week's absence, tickets for the affair are now on sale at the Union desk.

Keeping up a rapid pace of activities, Mason Hall women will hold a radio party tomorrow from 9 to midnight. A strictly date affair, residents of precinct one will play hostesses.

ATOs will follow a fall theme in their first radio party of the term, to be held tomorrow from 9 to 12 m. Bill Garrison, Lansing sophomore, is in charge of the affair. Alpha Gamma Rho's will also entertain their dates at a radio party tomorrow night in their house on Grand River.

Alpha Gam Dance

The Little theater will be the scene of the Alpha Gamma Delta term party, a semi-formal dance at which Dick Snook and his orchestra will play for dancing from 9 to 12 m.

Informality will be the keynote for the 4-H club party to be given in the Faculty dining room from 8:30 p.m. to 12 a.m. The party is for members only.

Sunday afternoon, Chi Omega pledges will be hostesses at a tea for pledges of all other sororities and their housemothers. The tea will be held at the chapter house from 3 to 5.

Blanch to Begin Arts Series

Roosevelt Urges More Teamwork

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 — (AP) — President Roosevelt declared tonight assertions that Congress will cooperate only with a Republican president constitute "a threat to build a party spite fence between us and the peace."

In a speech prepared for radio delivery under sponsorship of the Democratic national committee, the President proposed "continuance of the teamwork that we have demonstrated in this war." He said that by carrying forward plans already made the nation can:

"Provide employment for our veterans and our workers—we can achieve an orderly reconversion."

"Above all, we can avoid another false boom like that which burst in 1929, and a dismal collapse like that of 1930 to 1933."

The President said the presidential campaign "has been marred by even more than the usual crop of whisperings and rumors" and declared "I do not propose to answer in kind."

Arnold Blanch, visiting art instructor at Michigan State college, will speak on "What's a Good Painting" at the first of a series of fine arts lectures in the Music auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday, November 7.

Blanch, who also taught at State last winter term, gained his great knowledge of contemporary art through wide contact with artists and personalities in the art world making him an authority upon the subject he will present. He will illustrate his lecture with lantern slides.

Tickets for the fine arts series may be obtained at the accounting office or from any art student, Albert Christ-Janer, head of the art department announced yesterday.

The series, which includes Walter Abell and Mija Grotell, costs $1.20. Those holding series tickets are entitled to Boardman Robinson's lecture free by presenting ticket stub from either of the other lectures.

art; we're very fortunate to have these artists come and talk to us.

It isn't often that a college like ours, which is far from the large cultural centers, receives this privilege. These artists have something to give to all students at MSC.

English students will enjoy the pictures based upon Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass." history students may desire good benefits from the attitudes these men have toward their world of yesterday and today.

This is an opportunity! Why shouldn't all MSC students take advantage of something which has been attractive to students at other great educational centers?

TO the editor:

On Nov. 1, Michigan State's football team suffered its severest loss of the season. It was not a loss which will appear on their record of won and lost games. Rather, it was a serious loss to the prestige which our hard working Spartan football team had begun to build up as one of the few undefeated elevens in the country.

On that day, Nov. 1, the Detroit News, the State Journal, and many other widely read newspapers, published an article written by Jerry Kenney, sports editor of the State News, in which many disparaging remarks were made concerning our truly great Michigan State football team.

Any average reader of the Detroit News or the State Journal would, if he read Mr. Kenney's article and did not inquire into the true facts, come away with the impression that Michigan State has an unsportsmanlike, mediocre team.

He would also be inclined to believe that our team is guilty of "dirty" playing tactics. The actual fallacies in Kenney's article were well pointed out in Wednesday's State News, but it is not enough to merely point out the mistakes made. The problem is bigger than that!

Mr. Kenney should be made to realize that, as sports editor of a student publication designed not only to give news to students, but also to make activities known to non-college groups, he is in a position similar to a Chamber of Commerce executive.

Non-college readers will form their opinions of our school from what they read in our student publication.

From still another angle, what can we expect from our team if they know that behind them they have a fellow, supposedly representing student opinion, ready to stab them in the back when he should be patting them on it?
