U. S. Advance Moves Troops Toward Rhine

SHAPE, PARIS, Nov. 3—(AP)—The southern flank of the U. S. first army assault swept two miles southeast of captured Voreppe today, overrunning the German village of Schmidt only 100 yards from the Rhine. The advance was made on the way to the Rhine 28 miles to the east.

The doughboys gouged out their advance in hard fighting through heavily-mined woods and under leaden clouds so low that direct air support was virtually impossible.

But fighter bomber pilots of the ninth air force, flashing out of the clouds, dealt what blows they could, knocking out three tanks and probably destroying three others of the German armored supply.

Although the impact fell heavily on the German home front, the fighting as fierce was going on in the last hours of the battle for Walcheren island, which will open the docks of Antwerp to a flood of Allied shipping.

The tempo of battle also rose along the Mark river line, five miles south of the Maas in western Holland, and beyond Vaeceat in France, where Allied armies are battling toward the passes which lead through the Vosges mountains to the Rhine and Germany.

Today's Campus

... Picnic Penalty

The place of women in the post-war world was prophetically demonstrated last Saturday afternoon at the Music department annual picnic for faculty and students.

The first item of entertainment on the program, before the hike to Pinetum, was washing the windows of World Women's building.

Even that might not have been too annoying to the picnickers, except that the faculty men supervised while women applied the "Windex" and suffered the aching backs.

... Scrap Dive

A textbook belonging to Bob Bills, Milford freshman, had an undignified experience the other day when, after sailing out of a second-story window it was quickly stabbed by a paper collector's spear and was about to be included in a scrap collection when Bob rushed out to rescue the treasured volume.

... Got the Bird

Consternation reigned supreme the other day among members of the "Mason for the Duration" club. It seems that the switchboard there went on the blink and the joint was in an uproar over the prospect of a dateless weekend.

God being merciful, it was repaired in time for the poor souls to eke out a few dates. It has been rumored that a number of the Mason inmates have decided definitely to begin the hobby of keeping carrier pigeons so that such a disaster will be impossible in the future.

... Fag Famine

It seems that the Blue Key, Junior and senior men's honorary society, has conceived a new type of smoker which is quite in keeping with the present tobacco shortage, their new version being strictly on a "bring-your-own-cigarette" basis.

Nips Hit Saipan; Yanks Push Into Leyte

Jap Planes Raid Mariana Islands in Pop Attack

U. S. PACIFIC HDQ., PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 3—(AP)—Japanese planes attacked one of the carrier groups in the U. S. third fleet Nov. 1, damaging several ships and inflicting light personnel casualties, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The attack was reported in a communique which also told of the first enemy aerial offensive in the Marianas island since the occupation of Saipan by American ground forces last spring.

Nine Japanese planes raided Saipan and nearby Tinian islands the night of Nov. 1, Nimitz said, killing four men. Three of the planes were shot down.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—(AP)—Enemy bombers, attacking American carrier task forces and bases in the Marianas, damaged "several" United States war ships and caused minor damage to airfields of Saipan and Tinian, the navy announced tonight.

Thirteen of the Japanese planes carrying out the two assaults were shot down, the navy reported. Big twin-engine bombers attacked the airfields while dive bombers and fighters carried out the assaults on units of the third fleet.

Another enemy sea plane was destroyed in an attack on American-held Pelehu island in the Palau group.

In addition to "minor damage" to Isely airfield on Saipan and the northern airfield on Tinian, the navy said the raiding planes killed four men there and wounded another seriously.

No indication was given of the extent of damage caused by the enemy dive bombers and fighters attacking part of the third fleet Wednesday. Personnel casualties, aboard the damaged ships, were reported light.

Everybody's Date

Every good Spartan has a triple A priority date at 3 p. m. tomorrow at the Lansing Grand Trunk station. South Washington street, to welcome back the football team on its return trip from Missouri.

No matter what the outcome of this afternoon's tussle—win, lose, or draw—a full force of cheerleaders will be on hand to lead students in State yells and songs.

A common practice at most colleges, it is the first time this year that State has planned a station welcome. Student support of the team can easily be measured by the size of the crowd walking, thumbing, or riding Lansing-way tomorrow afternoon.

Dairy Meet Scheduled

More than 250 persons are expected to attend the fifth annual Dairy Manufacturers' conference that will be held at Michigan State college on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 8, 9, and 10, in the Union Memorial building and Jenison fieldhouse. Ralph W. Tenny, director of short courses, announced yesterday.

How to Find Date Facts Fastest

By GERRY GOODMAN

"College student directories are now at the printers, but only the printer knows when they will appear in accurate form," R. S. Linton, registrar, said yesterday. Because of the reorganization of the administration, it was necessary to revise the faculty division.

Students are usually puzzled by the slotted cards which they collect and hand in in the Women's gymnasium each term. These cards are the source of information contained in the student directories. Spaces on the slotted cards are divided into 30 spaces, under which may be located any information needed, including students' names, numbers, class, course, sex, home town, county or state, year of birth, and society affiliation.

It takes college tabulating machines only an hour and a half to make up the list of Michigan State's 3,896 students which the publication uses, according to Margaret Davies, tabulating supervisor. The slotted cards are fed into the machine at the rate of one every three-quarters second, during which time the tabulator records as many as 18 different facts about the person involved.

Name cards and class cards enter the machine. Between 1,600 and 1,700 class cards are printed, one for each class of each course given by the college, and for each of these a number of cards estimated by the instructor is printed. The name card is used in making up class lists.

Entering the machine, the cards pass over a black roller and strike revolving wire brushes. Electrical contact is made by these brushes through the punched out slots, and these contacts provide the impulse for the printing of names and figures.

To perform these tasks the machine has 125 miles of wire. The only task preparatory to using the tabulator is the rewiring of a plug base, a 15 minute operation, Miss Davies said.

After all information has been checked at the registrar's office, it is ready for the printing process.

Noted Authoress Of 'Mrs. Miniver' To Speak Friday

Jan Struther, whose "Mrs. Miniver" has sold nearly a million copies since its compilation as a novel, and which later won an academy award as a motion picture, will speak in College auditorium Friday at 8:15 p. m.

Miss Struther's novel first ran as a series of sketches in the London Times, and depicted the outlook of an unfrightened English woman who faced the problems of an England at war with little change in her ordinary existence, except for the unavoidable differences brought about by war.

Miss Struther has been often accused of using herself as the model for her heroine, but has had the satisfaction of hearing a girl reporter, to whom she made this complaint, agree that this was not so, since "Mrs. Miniver has more class than you have."

She herself won first prize in a contest for the best parody on her character at one time.

The author is now living in New York with two of her three children, and is making a nationwide lecture tour. Students may get tickets for the lecture at the accounting office, starting Monday, upon presentation of their student receipts.

Dewey Talk to Follow Roosevelt's Speech From Boston

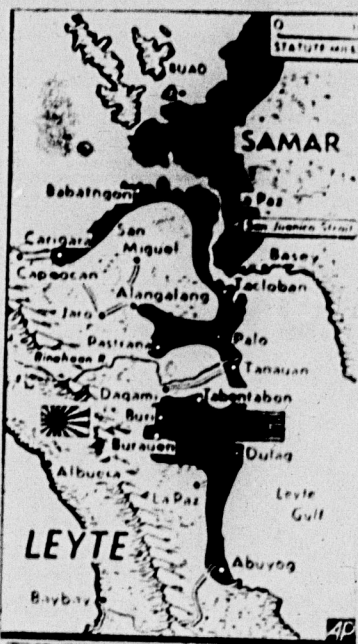

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 3—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey decided today to confine the remainder of his campaigning to New York state, and withdrew to his study to polish tomorrow night's Madison Square garden speech.

The Republican presidential nominee resisted eleventh-hour pressure to accept invitations to visit Connecticut and New Jersey before Tuesday's election.

The topic for tomorrow's nationwide broadcast from Madison square garden, which will follow one by Pres. Roosevelt from Boston, was a closely guarded secret.

Speculative suggestions by reporters brought only arched eyebrows from members of Dewey's staff.

Battle Area

Jap troops were reported leaving Carigara on the west coast of Leyte yesterday, MacArthur headquarters announced.

Alaska Featured In Films Tonight

Today's World Adventure series presentation featuring William L. Darden, noted naturalist, lecturer, and photographer, will be given at 8:15 p. m. in College auditorium. Subject of Darden's lecture will be "Alaska Today," a factual account of America's newest frontier.

Accompanying his talk, Darden will show a technicolor motion picture featuring the industrial and scenic highlights of Alaska. Anchorage, the territory's largest air base, is pictured, and while it is necessarily censored, information is the most complete possible. Fairbanks, another principal defense city, is also shown.

Audiences will pay to visit the quartz mines, witness the dredging of gold, and note the lumbering industry. A salmon cannery and the Matanuska Farm colony are among the other subjects of interest.

Students will be admitted to the lecture on presentation of student receipts.

Omroc Coastline Shoved Back by Infantry Move

MACARTHUR'S HDQ., PHILIPPINES, Sat., Nov. 4 (AP)—(Via Army radio)—Troops of the 24th division have pushed five miles west of Leyte's northwest coast, in pursuit of withdrawing Japanese, headquarters reported today.

The Japanese meanwhile landed troops and mechanized equipment from an escorted convoy of four cargo ships at Omroc, on the west coast, where the final showdown battle may be fought.

Nip Interference

Leyte-based fighters fought through Japanese interception to divebomb and sink two transports in the convoy.

The Japanese attempted to break out of encircled Omroc, but were surprised by American air fighters who destroyed 30 trucks and two tanks.

The breakthrough was attempted by recently landed Japanese reinforcements.

Heavy Enemy Losses

The column was disrupted, and enemy troops sustained heavy casualties, while considerable equipment and supplies were lost in the wreckage.

The Japanese continued night harassing attacks. Five planes were shot down by anti-aircraft fire and five by interception. One American plane was lost.

The westward advance from Carigara brought American columns to Culasan Point, only a short distance from the main escape highway leading to Omroc. Yanks Consolidate Elsewhere, American forces were consolidating and establishing intermediate bases and lines of communication.

With the end of the Leyte-Samar campaign in sight, the Yanks exerted pressure from three directions on the restricted Omroc area while Allied warplanes and PT boats tore into the enemy's evacuation craft.

The Japanese air force called on its best fighters to protect the ships removing the shattered ground forces, reported AP War Correspondent Richard Bergholz.

Fighters Surpassing Own Record in Huge Luftwaffe Battle

LONDON, Nov. 3—(AP)—More than 200 Nazi planes were destroyed today in a colossal air battle in which 2,400 American and German planes were fighting at one time over Merseburg, Germany.

American eighth air force losses were reported to be 41 bombers out of a force of 1,100 and 26 fighters out of 900 escorting planes.

The fighters, smashing their previous record of 117 kills in aerial combat, downed 130 Nazis. Bomber crews shot down 53 more and 25 planes were destroyed on the ground.

The Luftwaffe sent up swarms of jet-propelled craft, Messerschmitts and Focke-Wulfs.

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

Nov. 4, 1944

DEAREST JOHNNY,

Those of us who sent home for ear muffs and bed socks early in the term are wondering what the weatherman's trying to prove. Our Indian summer has stretched out almost too long.

This afternoon our undefeated football team will play Missouri in their last away game. Tomorrow afternoon we're all heading for the Grand Trunk depot to give the Spartans a real welcome back, whether we win or lose. Naturally we're all hoping for our sixth win.

The eager beavers of publications row will again clean up their desks, sweep their floors, and clear out various trash in preparation for the annual open house Wednesday night. I hear that refreshments will be served, too, so I certainly plan to attend.

B. J. Knittel of the speech department has worked out a good scheme for gabby women. An outlet for their conversational yen, the coeds will find women's debate the perfect place to outdo each other. I'd hate to see you attempt to compete with them.

Eight smarties who can tell you right off the bat that two and two are four and goodness knows how many more complicated computations have been tapped to membership in Pi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics honorary.

Yours to the fourth power,

PEG.

LETTERS . . . To The Editor

THE recent article that your paper carried on the sportsmanship of the football team has received many comments, most of them unfavorable.

The biggest kick has come from the football team. It seems that they feel that because they are undefeated so far they are above and beyond reproach.

For two days following the game the air was full of talk about what this fellow or that fellow did to "them dirty varsity" from Wayne who had the nerve to meet dirty play for dirty play with our young prima donnas for East Lansing.

Since the writing of Mr. Kenney's article, however, the story now is that it was just a good clean evening. If tables had been available tea would have been served during the time outs. Certainly such a reversal in attitude is hardly logical and certainly very superficial.

Could it be possible our freshman studded football team will need some new helmets for the Missouri game, ones which are about three sizes larger than the present ones? Perhaps not, but far too much emphasis has been placed on the team's record of wins and losses and not enough emphasis on the facts at hand.

Anyone who saw the Wayne game will have to admit that there was more than the usual amount of dirt being handed out by both sides. The fact also cannot be ignored that it is the line-men who are doing most of the "beefing" concerning Mr. Kenney's article. It is these men who are in the positions to hand out the dirty playing and they are well aware of it.

I, for one, am not passing any judgment on the team at present, but I feel, and I am certain that others feel the same, that our team will get its chance to prove itself in these next two games, especially the homecoming game with the University of Maryland.

R. E.

P. S. If the team ever does find that 135 pounds to pin back Mr. Kenney's ears, it might interest them to know that he is a good deal above the caliber of the ordinary boxer.

DEAR Student,

Who recently may have missed dates, appointments, classes, meetings or were missed yourself by boy friend, girl friend, and housemother.

After my awkward landing in the State News Thursday morning, I shall undoubtedly take a ribbing. However, I can be happy that it won't be to the extent Percival Price, University of Michigan carillonist, once did in Canada. He was then the dominant carillonist and regularly played the magnificent instrument of 53 bells located in the Peace Tower at Ottawa.

The occasion was a special "New Year recital" played after the tower clock concluded the old year's last hour by 12 strokes on the 11 and one-half ton bourdon bell. The program was broadcast to the entire country by the CBS.

Price was at the clavier, or keyboard, out for some unknown reason the automatic play mechanism did not start. All Canada was waiting so he commenced to strike the hour from the clavier. He completed the Westminster quarters and sounded one. Then the automatic play suddenly came to life with two, three, four and so on through 12 and 13. And thus the recital began.

This brings us to face with Beaumont's recent failure and to avoid the wrath of a disorganized society I assert that it too was mechanical. Men from the buildings and utilities department did some work on the instrument Monday and Tuesday which required that the quarters be silenced.

Therefore, dear upstod coeds, and Tuesday's tardy people, I ask forgiveness, believing it is merited.

Undefeated Spartans Face Missouri Tigers

Both Teams In Top Shape for Game
But State Is Given Slight Edge
In One of Best Southern Tilts

By JOE HEAGANY

With its unblemished record in the most serious jeopardy of the season Michigan State will hook up with the University of Missouri this afternoon at Columbus. The kick off is slated for 2:30 p.m. Missouri time. Both teams will start in top physical shape with one exception, and the game should draw a near capacity throng.

With the exception of Frank Brogger, Spartan wingman, State will be in top shape. Brogger might see limited action. Art Auer has received the nod to take over the strong side flank. Brogger will be missed chiefly because of his pass-catching finesse.

State Favored

The game will be the rubber game between the two schools, but State is regarded as a slight favorite because of its perfect state but has not played nearly half the calibre of competition the tigers have faced throughout the season.

Coach Charles Bachman is worried mostly about his reserve personnel. The weather will be in high temperature, and the Spartans are used to cool weather. This factor may easily be a winning or losing margin. It is expected that there will be frequent substitutions because of the weather.

Good Tiger News

The Tiger camp was greatly cheered this week when it was learned that Jack O'Connell, regular fullback, will be in shape for the game. O'Connell was one of the big guns in the Bengal offensive salvo before being injured in the Iowa State encounter.

The game is shaping up to a duel between the Spartan forward wall, and the bewildering sequence of tricky plays that the tigers pull from their "T" formation. The Spartans are by no means on the defense but they will have to give way to the invulnerable Bengal backfield.

Duel of Backs

Another feature will be the ground gaining duel between Jack Breslin, the black-haired center of the green and white, and Bill Dellastatious, feather feathered phantom halfback of the tigers. Both backs are reported in excellent shape, and this duel may easily over-shadow anything else.

Breslin has been bothered with an ankle injury for the past three weeks, but the big full back gave Coach Charlie Bachman the nod that he would be ready to go. The Spartans will have to cope with the ball carrying finesse of Paul Colquhoun, the line bucking of O'Connell.

Good Game Expected

The game shapes up as one of the best in the south, and with the best record on the block the Spartans are rated a slight edge over the tigers. If the green and white can up the tigers over the line, there will no doubt be in line for the much-publicized Orange Bowl.

Recall of Stilwell Personality Jib; No Policy Clash

CHUNGKING, Nov. 3 (AP)

T. V. Soong, Chinese foreign minister, declared today that China and the United States had reached "complete agreement" on closer military, political and economic cooperation and denied reports that the U. S. had exerted pressure on China to settle her Communist problem.

It was the first detailed statement from a Chinese government official since the recall of Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell as commander in chief of American forces in the China-Burma-India theater.

Soong said the recall was "entirely a question of personality" that Stilwell and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek simply did not like each other and could not work together.

The recall of Gen. Stilwell was entirely a question of personality and has nothing to do with any difference of policy between China and the United States," the foreign minister said in a written statement, which he later supplemented in a talk with foreign correspondents.

Soong acknowledged that the matter of cooperation between Chiang's government and the Chinese Communists, had been discussed at the meeting in Chungking, but said the discussion was held in the most friendly manner.

Women's Sports

By DOTTE VON DETTE

WAA will sponsor a cross country hike today, starting from the Women's gym at 1 p.m. Anyone who is interested is invited to attend, and all participants will receive 25 points toward WAA membership. The hikers will return before 5 p.m., according to Edgar Ernberger, Lansing junior.

VOLLEY BALL

More scores for volleyball games in the intramural tournament have been announced. In Thursday night's games the Chi O's remained undefeated by beating the Gamma Phi in a close game 29 to 23. The first tie game of the tournament was played between the Kappa Deltas and Precincts 9 and 2. Both teams accumulated 30 points.

South Campbell defeated Concord house 26 to 14, while West Mayo was winner in its game with Precinct 8, 51 to 20. Sanford house continued its list of victories, defeating Alpha Xi Delta 37 to 29, and South Campbell won over Zone 1 by the close score of 28 to 25.

Art Exhibition Starts

Contemporary American oil paintings and water colors will be on exhibition in the art gallery of the music building beginning tomorrow.

This collection, loaned from the Detroit Institute of Arts will be opened to the public tomorrow, with a tea from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. It is sponsored by Beta Alpha Sigma, art honorary.

Russian Army Moves Closer To Budapest

Hungarian Government, Panicky Civilians Flee From Red Approach

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Russian troops swept within sight of Budapest's spires today with the capture of Sari, 15 miles to the southeast, and 100 other localities, as Berlin admitted "a critical situation" amid Axis defenses on the approaches to the Hungarian capital.

A Bucharest radio broadcast recorded by Reuters said "a revolution is in full swing" inside Budapest, but there was no confirmation of this report, and the Budapest radio at a late hour still was functioning.

A Red Star front dispatch said panicky civilians were fleeing Budapest toward the Austrian border, 90 miles to the west, and Stockholm reports said some personnel in Prime Minister Ferenc Szalasi's puppet government also had abandoned the untried city.

Budapest's factory belt now lies within Soviet artillery range and the thunder of the big Russian guns could be heard in the city.

There was no indication that the Germans planned to spare Budapest, a beautiful city lying on both sides of the Danube from the shattering ordeal of a vicious street-by-street fight since the capital is a great communications prize on the road to southern Germany.

Spanish Fellowships Available for Grads

In order to encourage students from among the Spanish-speaking peoples of continental United States and of Puerto Rico to carry on advanced study, the Institute of International Education is offering a limited number of graduate fellowships to study during 1945, according to Dean L. C. Lammons.

The grants are available for young people who are graduates of an accredited American college or university and who are of Spanish-speaking origin, who plan to apply their knowledge for the benefit of their own groups in order to increase the participation of these people in the community life of the United States.

Don't be a tradition breaker—no smoking on campus.

Greek Parties, Union Dance Highlight Social Activities

Game to Be Broadcast at Party-Party

By LEONE SEASTROM

Local 'vies' will be burning up platters in unprecedented portions with radio parties leading the entertainment bill this weekend.

The Alpha Tau Omegas will bring out their hottest and latest records tonight for their first informal party this term. In keeping with a fall theme cider and doughnuts are listed on the menu. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Kuykendall and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Vander-Slice will act as patrons.

Mason hall women will entertain guests at an 8 to 12 radio party in their lower lounge tonight. Hostesses for the all-date platter dance are women from precinct one. Patrons include Mr. and Mrs. Don Buell and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Kniffels.

Alpha Gam Party

Lave music will come from the Little Theatre tonight where Alpha Gams will be holding their fall term party. A semi-formal affair, Bob Snook and his orchestra will play for dancing. Patronizing the party are the D. F. Sheehans and the David Hall, Jr.

The Union Board dance, regular Saturday hop, will be held in the Union ballroom from 9 p.m. to midnight. Tickets are still available for the affair, which will feature Gene Devine and his orchestra.

Members of the campus 4-H club will hold an informal party in the faculty dining room from 8:30 p.m. to 12 m. Mr. and Mrs. William R. Sur will be among the patrons.

Student Club

An Alaskan theme has been adopted for Student club's weekly party tonight. Interested students are invited to attend the informal get-together at Peoples church at 7:45 tonight. Following folk games, the group will go to College auditorium to attend the program on Alaska. Folk square and round dancing will be held in the Spartan room of the Union after the lecture.

The State-Missouri football game will be the main drawing attraction of Union Board's Party-Party this afternoon. Students will hear a play-by-play broadcast of the battle in the mixed lounge. Dancing and a bridge are also scheduled.

Legislature Votes to Count Ballots of Men Killed

LANSING, Nov. 3 — (AP)

The state legislature today gave local governments permission to extend polling hours to 10 p.m. and validated the ballots of servicemen who have died since casting their ballots.

Moving swiftly only 67 hours before the polls open for the 1944 general election, the lawmakers passed without change three bills submitted to them by Governor Kelly. The bills, signed almost immediately by the governor, will:

1—Grant the governing body of any city or township authority to extend the time for closing the polls until 10 p.m. The legal closing hour now is 8 p.m.

2—Instruct election boards that the ballot of any overseas member of the armed forces, merchant marine, Red Cross, Society of Friends, Women's Auxiliary Service Pilots or United Service organizations must be counted on the presumption that the voter is alive on election day.

3—Fix the hours for the opening and closing of polls according to the prevailing legal time in use in the cities and township.

With the governor's forces in firm control, the bills were rammed through in the face of reluctance among some rural lawmakers and the open statement of Rep. Walter M. Campbell, Gladwin Republican, that "any representative who votes for this bill (to extend the polling hours) in its present form is selling Tom Dewey down the river."
