Ruth Draper Brings Literary Talents, Suitcase to State

Actress Will Present Monologues Tonight

Ruth Draper, who is known throughout the world for her solo-skits, will give a program of monologues tonight in College auditorium at 8:15, as a feature on the lecture concert series.

Miss Draper has given performances in every country but Russia, Japan, and China.

She writes her own skits, playing all the parts with the aid of a small suitcase full of costume changes suited to the types of characters she plays.

The actress made the stage her own upon the advice of the pianist-composer Paderewski, who was impressed with her first monologue when he heard it in 1913. Her literary talents she attributes to her journalist grandfather, Charles A. Dana, and her interest in acting to her grandmother.

When Miss Draper was sixteen, she saw Beatrice Herford, whose comic satires of women impressed her very much, and she was also impressed by a Chinese play, "The Yellow Jacket," in which no properties were used, but the illusion was satisfying and complete.

In her lifetime, she spent ten years developing her gift for monologue character sketches. Although she is often billed as a monologist, a reciter, a diseuse, an impersonator, or an elocutionist, she says that she is none of these. She is a character actress.

Students will be given reserved seat tickets to the program upon presentation of their student receipts at the accounting office or at the auditorium tonight.

Sale of Directories to Start Friday

White-covered 1944-45 student directories will go on sale Friday morning at the Union desk, Registrar's office and the College Book store, Registrar Robert S. Linton disclosed yesterday.

Similar in style to last year's model, only changes are those made necessary by the basic college addition.

The directory lists alphabetically the name of each student, his class, curriculum preference, basic college or upper division standing, East Lansing address, phone number and home address. The names, offices, positions, and addresses of all staff members and college employees are listed in a separate section of the directory.

A new addition to the directory includes several pages devoted to the organization of the college, showing each faculty member's position in the various schools and including positions of all administration officials.

Fraternity Issue Ready to Mail

The special fraternity issue of the State News, published by the Fraternities Advisers association, is now off the presses, according to D. W. Keykendall, editor.

Fraternity representatives are requested to call at Kuykendall's office in 3 Union annex beginning today, to pick up their copies for mailing to fraternity men in the service. The paper will reach men stationed both in the States and abroad.

Superfortresses Bomb Omura in Big Air Battle

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—American B-29 Superfortresses engaged in their first big air battle over Japan today as they bombed Omura, giant aircraft center, for the third time in less than a month.

The occurrence of the attacks indicates that plans for the aerial offensive are progressing toward the time when the Japanese will be hit by regularly scheduled flights, increasing in frequency.

At least 20 enemy planes were certainly shot down, 16 others probably destroyed and an additional 19 damaged in the fighting. A communique from 20th airforce headquarters said it was too early to report on American losses since there had not been time for all planes to complete the long flight back to Chinese bases.

The Tokyo radio, which customarily broadcasts extravagant claims of Japanese successes, said 79 B-29's took part in the air blow and that 14 were definitely shot down and 11 more probably. It said four Japanese planes were lost, one by crashing into a Superfort.

While one B-29 task force carried out this strike, others hit warehouse and transportation facilities at Shanghai and Nanking.

The blow at Omura was the eighth B-29 raid on the Japanese homeland and brought the first encounter, a communique of the 20th airforce said, with "strong fighter opposition."

Seventh Army Cuts Off German Exits West of Vosges Mountains

French Armored Units Enter Mulhouse; U.S. Ninth, British Second Armies Forge Deeper Around Aachen

WITH THE SIXTH ARMY GROUP, Nov. 21 (AP)—The U.S. seventh army, now in high gear, sped into Mittlebronn, five miles west of Saverne on the Rhine plain, today and sealed several exits for the retiring Germans on the western side of the Vosges.

The seventh army's breakthrough in its northern sector now is so fluid that there is no definite front. Mittlebronn is approximately six miles east of Sarrebourg, the city which was taken by Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's forces today in a push which took them within 32 miles of the Rhine.

SHAEE, PARIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—French armored units forced their way into Mulhouse and the American seventh army captured Sarrebourg today in twin advances which tightened the stranglehold Lt. Gen. Jacob L. Devers' sixth army group has locked around German troops in the Vosges mountains.

Far to the north there were indications that the Germans were about to lose another important city—bitterly contested Eschweiler—where the U. S. first army was fighting a savage house-to-house battle inside the city even while other units closed in toward the stronghold from both the north and south.

Southern Front Crumbles

The U. S. ninth and British second armies forged steadily deeper into Germany around Aachen and below Metz. Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's third army joined in the pressure on the German's crumbling southern front.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle himself made the announcement that the French first army, striking northward from its foothold on the Rhine, has driven against Mulhouse, big industrial city 17 miles north of Basel, Switzerland.

Belfort Expected to Fall

The French continued to pour troops through Belfort gap and a dispatch from the front said the city of Belfort itself was expected to be cleaned up soon despite fierce fighting still raging in the southern sector of the ancient fortress.

Sarrebourg, 70 miles northwest of Mulhouse and 40 east of Nancy, was occupied by Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's seventh army in a five-mile thrust toward the frontier metropolis of Strasbourg.

With the French already outflanking the Germans on the south, the seventh army's drive to within 32 miles of the Rhine pinned the German 19th army against the river.

College to Pause for Thanksgiving Tomorrow

By JUNE WILKINSON

Probably more than in any other year, the festive aspects of this Thanksgiving will be overshadowed by serious thoughts of the things that mean most to us.

With brothers or fathers away in the service, many State students have chosen to be home for Thanksgiving dinner in an attempt to retain a semblance of family solidarity. Many will attend church services to give thanks to those men who are making our college life possible and to pray for their safe and early return.

A large number feel that their greatest contribution is to stay at school and devote greater effort to the courses they are taking, many of which will have a vital importance in the post-war reconstruction of the world. Also of great number are the men whose hearts are still at MSC, but who will spend the day on Army posts and in front lines, fighting to again insure those basic freedoms always associated with Thanksgiving day.

Without a doubt, this day of relief from classes will give each student or faculty member an opportunity to rededicate himself, or herself, to the more worthy projects of college life and the important task ahead for college men and women.

... The Spider Sat

There are some people who really will stick to a job once they start but always carry things too far. In her desire to pass on a bit of information to all the freshmen orientabeside their leaders, Sue Averill, her Birmingham junior, spent the evening on the telephone with "Little Miss Muffet," she was frightened away. The only difference with Sue is that she didn't discover the spider until after it had woven a web in her hair. And that takes time.

... The Whole Truth

Fortune tellers have a way of being naive, but Emery Foster, Union manager, saw through a remark of Tex White's when she was telling the fortunes of Union board members at their Thanksgiving dinner last night. Tex had told Jack Breslin that he possessed a very affectionate nature, said Foster, "That's another word for 'wolf.'"

LETTERS

To the Editor

TO the Editor:

In reply to the juvenile argument of the far sighted and undoubtedly learned freshman Mr. Shipper, we should like to make a few observations regarding the so-called 16 or 17 year old mind which so incompetently evaluated the Varsity club and its attempt to preserve one of the long-standing traditions of Michigan State.

It is indeed unfortunate for Mr. Shipper that he could not have been present with some of the older students when they too were freshmen, humbly (but not as belligerently subservient to the wishes of a then much stronger Varsity club in observing traditions.

Probably our dislike of "forcible coercion" (coercion alone means compulsion, we presume the word forcible was added by Mr. Shipper to give emphasis) was as great as that present with freshmen today, but at least we "suffered" in silence.

Today we are sure the tempering influence of that "suffering" has benefited us in no small measure, and we have learned to appreciate State and her traditions to the extent that the observance of traditions is voluntary.

If Mr. Shipper has no respect for State's traditions, he may feel quite free to seek his education elsewhere. We, as a group, feel that he has quite a lot to learn. It may just be the case that some phase of his bringing up may have been neglected as is evidenced by his hostile attitude, snap judgment and failure to even inquire what the Varsity club was before attacking it.

If any Red Cedar dunking parties are imminent, it may provide a most favorable opportunity to temper the judgment of Mr. Shipper and calm his irate ego with cold water. And as far as freshmen footballers, not yet Varsity clubmen, who wish to assist in the enforcement of the unwritten law, it might be that they have acquired some school spirit which the critics are lacking.

As far as the incident in general is concerned, we feel that Mr. Shipper's letter, as well as tradition breaking, are only a result of the exodus of men from this campus to the armed forces, leaving incoming freshmen too wide a field for their own good.

They might, instead of criticizing others, take it upon themselves to keep State in the same top form as before the war, including the necessary guidance of unformed freshman and other offenders.

Yanks Repulse Jap Attempt to Break Through at Limon

96th Division Crushes Enemy Fort at Dagami

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HDQ., PHILIPPINES, Nov. 22 (AP) — American forces have repulsed, with heavy enemy losses, another effort of the main Japanese force on Leyte to break through to the beleaguered first Japanese division over an American road block south of the embattled village of Limon.

General MacArthur's command today said the American 96th division was maintaining continuous pressure against the Japanese first division at Limon, overcoming many obstacles of entrenchment and defense positions piecemeal in the slow and bitter battle for the town dominating the Ormoc corridor.

The communique added that the American 96th division crushed an isolated enemy strong point west of Dagami in another facet of the many-phased envelopment movement against the Japanese forces.

The seventh division, on the south end of the American line, which draws a huge semi-circle around the town, repulsed another enemy counterattack, the fourth within about 10 days.

In the air, American heavy bombers were brought into service for the first time from local bases on Leyte. The big bombers, presumably Liberators, were staging through the Leyte gulf, that is, landing there to refuel before going over the enemy sector of the island and possibly landing on the local fields again on their way back to their main bases to the south.

In addition to the action in and around Limon and Dagami and the seventh division's repulse of the enemy counter-attack, the communique said troops of the 24th division, relieved only recently in the vital Limon sector after bearing the brunt of most of the heavy battle, were being used to guard a Japanese threat to the American rear near the north-east of the island.

Army Men Take Top Honors in Sport Events

Army cadets and trainees swamped all opposition in two intramural sports events held last night by winning the honors in the annual turkey trot, cross country race, and in the second interhall swimming meet.

The second intramural swimming meet was for most purposes a repetition of the first. Cadets Leonard Lavis, Harold Wood and Dick Chesney again were the three who led the Army to victory in four of the five events.

Wood was clocked at 26.5 for first place in the 50 yard free style. In the 100 yard free style Wood again led at the finish. Chesney and Lavis followed the mark set in the previous races by grabbing off first and second respectively in the 220 distance swim.

A State man finally came in first when breast stroke swimmer John McGrath was timed in 1:11. Cadet Lavis ended the meet with a first in the back stroke by coming in three seconds ahead of Bill Jansen.

The final meet will be held Saturday, Dec. 2, at 2:30 p.m. Taking nine of the first ten places in the Turkey trot, army teams ran all opposition into the ground in last night's two mile jaunt. Don Bacon, company D, took first place with a time of 11 minutes 24.8 seconds.

Thetas Win From Kappas, 26 to 10

Kappa Alpha Theta remained undefeated and will hold the intramural volleyball plaque this year following its smashing defeat of Kappa Kappa Gamma in the final play-off last night.

Although Kappa took the first point of the game, the Thetas grabbed the second point, gained an easy lead and held it until the end for a 26 to 10 score.

Outstanding players included Dorothy Van Dette, Penny Farned, Barbara Peag, Sally Waters and Mary Krause for the Thetas, and Dorothy Geyer,

Graduate Recital Listed for Friday

Ellen Wistinetzki, instructor of piano and theory in the Music department, will present her graduate recital Friday at 8 p.m. in the music auditorium. This recital will complete Miss Wistinetzki's requirements for her Master of Music degree.

Born in Cologne, Miss Wistinetzki studied piano ten years in Germany before arriving in America in 1938. After attending the Julliard School of Music for one year, she attended Oberlin Conservatory of Music where she obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree. Miss Wistinetzki came to State last year as a graduate student. She is now a full-time instructor in the department.

CIO Reaffirms No-Strike Pledge For Duration at Annual Convo

CHICAGO, Nov. 21 (AP)—Following close upon the heels of a fervent plea by CIO-Pres. Philip Murray, the 600 delegates to the annual convention today unanimously reaffirmed their no-strike pledge for the duration of the war, and thus headed off any possible revolt against its terms.

The resolution, which had not been expected to reach the floor until tomorrow, was read at the afternoon session, and when the reading was completed, Murray came to his feet with his plea that delegates maintain "the integrity of labor."

"Our people can't regard lightly a pledge of this description," he said slowly and solemnly, "it is a sacred pledge made to the people of the United States that it shall be our purpose to help our boys win this war. It is the purpose of the CIO to maintain this pledge until the enemy is completely whipped."
