Seniors Nominate Candidates

Today's Campus

Pretty Pix

It pays to make the most of luck, according to Bettye Rice, Detroit sophomore. Bettye has painted the cast of walkie her broken foot with talkie brightly colored flowers. She even went to the trouble of doing them in oil paints instead of water colors. Now she has a walking picture book with her at all times.

Not Again

Entering her room in the midst of a radio drama, a coed paid no attention to the play until suddenly the radio blared forth with the statement that Pearl Harbor had been bombed. The coed went frantic with excitement until her roommate informed her that it was just part of the radio play.

Nine Years Ahead

National IFC Bans Paddling, Hazing For Fraternities

Following local IFC action by some nine years, the National Interfraternity Council passed a resolution requesting that all forms of hazing involving mental or physical torture, including paddling, be officially banned from all colleges and universities in the country.

The resolution, which declared such forms of hazing a menace to the welfare of educational institutions as well as to individual students, was passed unanimously at the 36th annual meeting of the national IFC held in New York last Friday and Saturday. States IFC abolished extreme forms of hazing and a hell week some nine years ago and affixed fines for offenders. An informal tradition of an educational value is mandatory under local rules governing fraternities, however.

Wasteful conditions have reduced the number of college fraternity chapters by 36 per cent, a committee report to the national council disclosed. State, because of a long range, far-sighted fraternity program, has suffered only a 12 per cent loss in fraternities since the war began, with only Lambda Chi Alpha and Kappa Sigma now inactive.

European Victory Depends On Reds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—The date of victory in Europe now depends primarily on a Russian offensive on Germany's western front to match the Allied onslaught in the west.

It is the conviction of ranking military leaders here that the German Reich which is now suffering critically short of manpower and suffering production difficulties may be beaten in a relatively short period by such a combined strategy. Other military leaders may be able to beat the fighting indefinitely.

Prime Minister Churchill's decision of his war end strategy today to fix the time of victory as next summer instead of next summer is viewed as being entirely in the light of possibilities on the eastern front. The hope is that the Russians will attack very soon.

Reutner, Kamins, Cropsey to Run for President

Seven members of the senior class were nominated for the four class officers at a stormy meeting held last night in Morrill hall. A motion to have a class committee in place of officers, members to be appointed by a faculty group, was defeated after bitter debate.

Contestants for president of the class of 1945 are Tom Reutner, St. Louis, Mo.; Bob Kamins, Lansing, and Mac Cropsey, Macellus. Jim Bibbins, Snyder, N. Y., and Ed Wallace, Hartford, Conn., were nominated but declined to run.

Nominees Listed

The remaining 14 nominees for the other three posts are all women. Those nominated for vice-president include Connie Campbell, Algonac; Marilyn Wilson, Huntington Woods; Dottie Von Dette, Saginaw; Dottie Geyer, Saginaw, and Marge Smith, Durand.

Billie Morley, New Troy; Colleen O'Connor, Brown City; Joan Hint, Oakfield, N. Y.; Millie VanWestrienen, East Lansing, and Scottie McNeal, Grand Rapids, are the contestants for secretary.

Treasurer Candidates

Four women who will run for the office of treasurer are Ginny Jackson, Alma; Carolyn Kelly, Dansville, N. Y.; Kay Roehm, East Lansing, and Shirley Symons, Saginaw.

It was decided that the nominees for president and vice-president should form a working committee to meet and appoint a chairman and committees for the senior ball so that action on the annual dance can be taken before elections will be completed.

Eligibility lists will be prepared and elections will take place early next term.

Post Office, Air Lines, Parks Need Students

Students are needed by national parks to act as guides, hostesses and other positions typical of summer camps and lodges, according to Tom King, placement director.

Employment is open to women desiring to work as stewardesses, reservationists and in the food service of air lines, King concluded.

Students interested in any of these positions should contact King at the Placement center in the old music center.

Students who are interested in work during Christmas vacation, in the East Lansing post office, or in some other city; especially Detroit are asked to report to the placement office.

Japs Lose 4,000 Reinforcements to Air Attacks

PHILIPPINES, Thursday, Nov. 30 (AP)—An estimated 4,000 Japanese reinforcements for the Leyte fight were lost in Allied air attacks on eight transports, headquarters announced today.

Thirteen Ormoc-bound enemy ships were destroyed in the new attack.

The 4,000 made enemy losses at sea in such reinforcements more than 21,000 in recent weeks.

Allied fighter planes destroyed three cargo transports, seven troop transports and three destroyers.

Probably an entire reinforcing division was aboard the convoy. Some of the remnants probably reached Ormoc, the West Leyte port into which the enemy has fed troops into the Yamashita line.

Two of the cargo ships partially were unloaded during the two day and night air attack Nov. 28-29.

The total ships destroyed by Allied air and patrol torpedo action since the Japanese began their reinforcement efforts stands at 26 transports and 17 escort vessels, mostly destroyers.

Making probably their most determined attack since Leyte was invaded, Japanese airmen pressed home an assault on U. S. warships.

Opportunities Fading As Tickets Go Fast for Girl-Bid Dance

Tickets of Saturday's "Last Chance" leap year dance are going fast, according to Bob Edgell, Elmira, N. Y., senior, and Gordon Heuschen, Pigeon senior, co-chairmen of Union board's last dance of fall term. They are being sold at the Union desk.

This will be the first dance of its kind to be sponsored by Union board, and it is strictly a girl-bid affair.

Dick Snook and his orchestra will provide music for the dance which will be from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in the Union ballroom.

Union board cancelled the Saturday afternoon Party Party for the remainder of this term. Friday folk will be held as usual this week following the concert earlier in the evening. Bill Graham, Detroit sophomore, announced.

Union board will again begin activities this winter with a term opening dance Saturday, Jan. 6, it was revealed at a meeting this week.

American Troops Force New Wedge Into Rhine Gateway In Day's Battle

Five Allied Armies Now Battle in Germany; One Force Hits at Anchor of Siegfried Line, Another Aims at Cologne

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—American doughboys hammered new wedges into the Duren-Julich gateway to the Rhine today in a smash through five more of Germany's ruined towns. Elements of a fifth Allied army battled onto Nazi soil in a stab at the northern anchor of the Siegfried line.

To Visit Campus

Shown above is Vice Pres. HENRY A. WALLACE who will inspect agricultural projects on campus during a visit to the campus Saturday. Wallace will devote most of his time at State to conferences with agricultural professors and visits to the college farms.

Radio Workshop Will Be Resumed On WKAR Today

After skipping a week because of the Thanksgiving holiday, Michigan State college radio workshop will return to the air this afternoon at 4 over WKAR with a modern comedy romance.

"A Four Sided Triangle" was adapted by Maxine Eyestone, Lansing senior, from a short story by Elizabeth Dunn. Miss Eyestone will also direct the show under the supervision of Prof. Joseph Callaway of the speech department.

This is a fast moving comedy which tells the mishaps befalling two young girls who try to meddle in the love affairs of someone else.

Joan Carter, Kalamazoo junior, plays the leading part, and others in the cast are Marjory Rice, Saginaw senior; Dick Henderson, Detroit sophomore; Harold Greenberg, DuBois, Pa., freshman.

A Canadian press war reporter's dispatch said Canadians of the fifth and latest army to penetrate German's soil were fighting in the area of DeWylter forest. The town of Wyler is just inside Germany east of Nijmegen, Holland, and about six miles northwest of Cleve, northern end of the Siegfried line.

Assault Near Cologne

The flaming American assault west of Cologne toppled Hurtgen, in the vicinity of which Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's men have fought so fiercely for weeks. Langerwehe, Jungsersdorf, Kleinhau and Koslar also fell in a surge which broke across the Inde river at two points and carried to within 3 1/2 miles of the stronghold of Duren.

It spread to the north where flamethrowers opened a path across the road connecting Lindren and Linich, five miles north-east of Geilengkirchen and seven miles northwest of Julich, threatening the latter place.

Allies Push On

This northeastern push of the Americans, matched by another flamethrower assault around Wurm to the West, caused the Germans to open the floodgates of dams along the Roer river, flooding the valley north of Geilengkirchen to the width of nearly a mile.

Langerwehe, last important communications center west of the Roer, was cleared of enemy troops after two days of house-to-house fighting.

First Army Advances

Lt. Gen. Courtney Hodges' U. S. first army, in its smashing drive along both sides of the Adolf Hitler highway toward Duren, also seized Hurtgen, Jungsersdorf, and Kleinhau.

Lt. Gen. William Simpson's U. S. ninth army, boring forward on Hodges' left through knee-deep mud, drew an assault are around the fortified road center of Julich by wiping out the last organized Nazi resistance in Koslar, a mile west of Julich, and by crossing the little Inde river just to the south on a captured bridge.

Casualties Severe

In perhaps the day's most vital development, Hodges' battle tried veterans at last began working their way out of Hurtgen forest, southwest of Duren, where infantry casualties have been severe, onto open terrain where tanks could operate.

Units of five Allied armies were disclosed to be fighting on German soil with the announcement that troops of the first Canadian army had penetrated the Reich from the Nijmegen sector in Holland, presumably in the wedge the Allies drove into the Reichswald forest two months ago.

Forestry Graduate Gives Talk on Liberia

By CAROLYN KARNEY

Howard Burgess, graduate of '40, talked at the Forestry club meeting Monday night about his work at the Firestone plantation in Monrovia, Liberia. He told about the rubber industry in Liberia and discussed Liberia itself to a certain extent.

Before going to Liberia in 1942 Burgess worked with the conservation institute at MSC. He has been with the Firestone plantation for 2 years. He was loaned to the U. S. government for 4 months to make a survey of rubber in Liberia.

Burgess on Leave

Burgess is now on 3 months sick leave after having contracted malaria for the 5th time and is visiting at MSC. Planters or superintendents there sign a contract to work 2 years on the plantation and are then entitled to 3 months leave with pay.

Liberia was established in 1820 and has been granted its independence. The land was originally bought for the freedom of the slaves but the plan was never fully followed through. Firestone now is raising in Liberia some of the best rubber that is being produced in the world.

The rubber industry there is very much like the dairy industry here. The latex is white and coagulates quickly like milk. Both industries are essential and are every day work. The latex is weighed as it comes in and put into a receiving tank, then into trucks and finally tank cars transport it to the factory.

The rubber trees were formerly produced from seeds and the seedlings were cultivated. Now they graft the buds and all the trees are identical. The Firestone company believes these trees will be producing rubber for 100 years to come.

Seventeen tribes of natives, speaking 17 different languages, tap the trees and carry on all the work. Their training begins when they are young and it is work that has to be accurate or the trees will be injured. The natives are paid approximately 15 cents a day, of which two and a half goes for food.

Snooping in the Shops

By ROBERTA TAYLOR

TOWN and College shop now has a high pile of silver barrettes designed in a plain, oblong fashion at $1.00 each. If the fancy is toward something in more detail of design, they have another style which is shaped in a silver leaf and flower pattern at $2.95.

Another welcome diversion, supplementing the bows and flowers seen in the hair of many a fair maid, are the new pearl combs. These combs have a row of pearls across the top and may be bought singularly or in pairs at $.59 to $2.00 each at Town and College.

In case the doting parents have not been exposed to your Christmas desires as yet, there is still time to suggest a strand of pure white pearls from $11.95 to $19.95 found at Swain's jewelry store. Locketts, bracelets, and pins with the MSC seal can be bought at Swain's also.

Catching up on assignments and studying for exams leaves little time for keeping up our correspondence. In addition to all that, think of the pile of Christmas cards we should mail by December 1st. So here is a suggestion, a sort of "killing two birds with one stone."

You save no carton tops or soap wrappers; you simply get a box of the combination personal note and Christmas card found at the Ink Pot.

They come 20 in a box and have a water spray design of a Christmas motif on the outside fold. On the inside is space for the message. The boxes are priced from $.50 to $.65.

For the simple Christmas greeting card, the Ink Pot has boxes of 12 for $1.00 designed by White and Wycoff of reproductions of original paintings.

With a "fatigue" cap perched on your head there is no mistaking you for what you are—a coed at MSC. The Campus book store has a supply of these white cotton gabardine hats with a green letter "S" on the front. Or for a double dose you might also like one of the white "T" shirts at Gard's with "State" printed across the front. They are both priced $1.00.

For that space on the window sill or that unused (can this be possible) corner of your desk, why not consider some still life? To be more specific, Reid's flower shop has some year 'round potted greenery that can add color and give your room that "homey" touch.

Various kinds of plants in American made and fancy fashioned pottery range from $1.00 to $2. Some of these are cacti, watermelon begonia, peperonia, philodendria, and one more pronounceable, the African violet; or they can be had at $.25 to $.75 in pots not so pretty but just as practical.

A bright-covered addition to your prize book collection might be one of the new Webster synonym dictionaries ($4.50) also found at Campus Book store. The volume is large, has every word you ever could look for, and a complete list of antonyms, analogous, and contrasted words.

And if you're a real staunch Republican, you'll go for the large, chubby elephant, tagged $5.00, and proudly showing off his beautiful gray fur-coat, and red ears.

LETTERS

To the Editor

To the Senior Class:
Obviously I did not make myself clear at the senior class meeting yesterday. To any who misunderstood my statements, I apologize, for it was not my intent to hurt the feelings of anyone or cast reflection upon the class of 1945.

As to the matter of a class committee as a possible substitute for officers, that is of little concern. It was taken care of in the most democratic manner known. I was in favor of it merely because I saw in it a method whereby work on the senior ball would be facilitated, and as a way of helping some fellows, who feel the same as I do about class officers for men, to see their way clear to take the initiative in aiding the class. Evidently I was wrong, for the motion, as you know, was defeated.

As far as my declining the nomination for senior class presidency, I, too, was hurt. I felt that my sincerity was doubted when it was made an issue. Maybe my convictions are too idealistic, but they are sincere.

I probably should have said I was ashamed to be graduating in wartime rather than in 1945. It would have made my meaning clearer to all. It is not the class of 1945 I am ashamed of, but myself.

In Campus Quarters

By LEONE SEASTROM and DOROTHY LA MONT

Grill gossip seems to be losing its usual twang these days. Despite religious 4 p.m. attendance, we've had little success in running down many romantic rumblings. The few choice ones we've picked to head our list.

Via the postman comes news to the Alpha Chi house that member Gretchen Glasson, former freshman, middle-isled it last weekend and is now navy wife Mrs. Glenn Smith. The wedding took place in Detroit.

Included in the Alpha Chi mail this week was a little blue bound card announcing the arrival of John David Boyd, Nov. 14. The young man's father is Lt. Derwood Boyd, Psi U, stationed at Camp Hood, Texas, and his mother is the former Jane Ellen Henkel.

Helen Miller was the center of attraction at the Pi Phi Gamma house Monday night, as honored guest at a personal shower. Recently engaged to Herb Hoxie of Lansing, Helen is making plans for a Christmas wedding in the Greenfield Village chapel.

A few day ago coeds taking over FarmHouse fraternity house were hostesses to the men who used to call the place home. Last night they reaped the rewards for their efforts and were entertained by the FarmHouse men at dinner in their new duration abode.

Delta Chis are all prepared to turn over a new leaf for a new year. 1944 officers will retire at the end of this term to make way for a new slate already elected.

Bob Hogle, Farmington junior, will lift the gavel while John Potts, Jackson sophomore, assists him as vice-president. New fraternity secretary is Jim Sitar, Flint senior. Bob Price, Belding junior, will take over the Delta Chi financial affairs.

The AOPis enter the limelight again with four new potential members. Those entering the ranks of pledgeship are Vickie Krauss, Montgomerly sophomore; Jean Gamble, Grand Lodge sophomore; Marge Dakin, Lansing freshman; and Shirley Thorpe, Detroit freshman.

Placing quality before quantity Epsilon Chis have placed the active pin on one of their pledges. Carrying away the honors is Shirley Traines, Mt. Pleasant junior.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill Gives Warning of Longer War

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill, opening a new session of the British parliament with centuries-old ceremonies, gave a sombre warning today that his predictions of German defeat by the early summer of 1945 may be too optimistic.

He disclosed that the Belgian port of Antwerp is now receiving large convoys of ocean-going ships for the supply of the Northern group of Allied armies in Europe, and declared that the enemy "has everywhere been thrust back" with enormous losses. But the Prime Minister nevertheless reminded that the lower Rhine has not yet been reached, that a bridgehead has not yet been established over that formidable barrier and that his valued Germany would be fighting with a desperate effort to mark England's efforts of 1941.

With the preface that "I know when the German will finish," Churchill gave an earlier prediction that in Europe might come in spring or early summer. "If I were to make a prediction of the duration of this war, I would say it would be cut the word 'early' from the word 'summer,'" he said. The Prime Minister spoke on the eve of his birthday, gave glowing praise to Allied armies as he opened his tenth consecutive session of parliament elected in 1940, thus has become the longest in Britain's records.

Van Alstyne Whips Cage Five Into Shape for Drake Game

Height Poses Greatest Problem for Coach

With the first test of his cagers only three days away Coach Ben VanAlstyne is rapidly trying to round his charges into first game shape. The game will be played in Jenison field house against Drake university.

With only one man topping six feet three inches VanAlstyne's chief worry is the lack of height. Bill Krall, six feet seven inches is the chief consolation to his worries but the rest of the squad is pitifully short.

Game Saturday

The game is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. and the students will be able to use their activity tickets. There will be no reserved seats. No preliminary entertainment is scheduled. It is not known when the Drake team will arrive on the campus.

VanAlstyne lost two promising guards in the persons of Dick Massuch and Jack Breslin. Massuch is leaving school on his call to the armed services, and Breslin's absence is unexplained. Only two experienced guards will be in uniform.

Lineup Disclosed

Joe Beyer and Nick Hashu are sure starters at the guard posts. Hashu will probably direct all offensive and defensive tactics. Sam Fortino and Paul Bauman will probably get the nod at forwards with Bob O'Leary and Dick Young ready to spell either.

The center post is enveloped in a ding-dong scrap between Chuck Frankel and Krall. Either man is able to start and if one starts the other is sure to start a lot of action. Both are dangerous under the boards and good in men.

Dachtler to Represent MSC at Debate Meet

Michigan State will be represented in the state extemporaneous speaking contest by Harold Dachtler, Charlotte junior. The contest will be held at the Michigan State Normal college in Ypsilanti, Friday evening. Ten Michigan colleges will compete.

Dachtler will be accompanied by his trainers, Joseph Menchoff, of the department of speech and dramatics, and Pauline Sitten, graduate assistant in speech. Dachtler's general topic is "The Treatment of Defeated Nations" and which he will choose one of 15 subtopics.

Chinese Educator To Speak at Convo During Stay

Opportunity will be given State students to learn more of Chinese education and culture and of the part China is playing in the war and the peace when Dr. Y. G. Chen, president of Nanking university, comes to the campus Sunday to Friday, Dec. 10 to 15, under the auspices of the Institute of Foreign studies.

Dr. Chen will speak at an all college convocation Monday, Dec. 11, at 10 a.m. in College auditorium. At a time when knowledge of other nations and their contributions, both past and present, to human culture and progress is so vital to an intelligent understanding of plans for post-war organization, Dr. Chen's address will be of interest to every student.

Educated in the University of Nanking in China, Case School of Applied Science and Columbia university in this country, Dr. Chen has achieved eminence in the fields of education and science, and has served as a member of the People's Political council, a body which advises the Chinese central government, and as president of the Chinese American Institute of Cultural Relations, 1940-41.

He has also taught scientific subjects in Chinese universities and has written occasional articles on education, science, and general cultural subjects.

Medical Technicians Organize Club, Hold Meeting Tonight

A meeting of the "Med Tech" club will be held this evening at 7:15, room 11, bacteriology building.

The club is organized for the purpose of promoting professional and social interests among the medical technologists and with the ultimate goal of attaining recognition on campus and in the field.

A series of talks has been planned for the bi-monthly meetings and the first of these will be "The Ideal Med Tech" from the view point of the man who hires one. Later discussions will be led by senior "med techs" who are interning in the State health laboratories, and by members of State research staff.

Spirits Run High At West Point Before Game

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—Spontaneous singing and cheering echoed throughout the area of this staid military academy today as "zero hour" for the traditional service classic between the army and navy at Baltimore neared.

Huge sheets depicting in various tones the defeat of the Navy practically covered the barracks. Over the entrance to Washington hall, the cadet mess building, a large gold lettered sign "beat navy" could be seen from across the plain.

With the exception of Roland Catarinella and Bill Yancey, second and third string guards respectively, and diminutive Jack Saer, brilliant pass defending halfback, the team is in good physical condition, Coach Earl Blaik said today.

Catarinella, the regular replacement for Joe Stanowicz, is out with a shoulder injury, while Yancey suffered a broken leg in the Irish clash three weeks ago.

Collins to Sponsor Wrestling Meets

Wrestling Coach Fendley Collins announced an all-college wrestling tournament for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The program will consist of primary and final bouts in the following weight classes: 128, 136, 145, 155, 165, 175, and heavy-weight.

Individual intercollegiate medals will be given to first, second, and third place winners, who will be determined on an elimination basis. Entries for the meet should be turned in to Collins before 6 p.m. Friday in the wrestling room on the fourth floor of the fieldhouse.

Army matrons will also be eligible to enter the meet, and a lively competition between the army students and the civilians is expected to develop, Collins said.

Women's Sports

By DOTTE VON DETTE

TWO important games will be played in the interclass volleyball tournament tonight as a result of Tuesday night's games. The seniors will tackle the freshmen while the sophomores and juniors will play each other. Both games will be played in the Women's gym starting at 7 p.m.

The results of Tuesday night's games proved the senior and freshman teams to be the tops. The freshmen defeated the juniors 30 to 24, and also the sophomores 34 to 30. The seniors took both of their games too, defeating the sophomores 34 to 32 and the juniors 21 to 13.

American Superfortresses Smash at Tokyo Again

Enemy Threatens Death to Airmen Taken Captive

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — American Superfort crews, defying thinly-veiled Japanese threats of torture and murder, plunged bombs into Tokyo today for the third time in a week.

Up from their bases on Saipan island 1,480 miles away, flashed forces of the vigorous new 21st bomber command to attack objectives in the area of the Japanese capitol. Details were not available.

Other Raids Listed

Smashes were made last Friday at an important aircraft plant by a large force which left fires burning in the heart of Tokyo. Then on Monday a sizeable group of the B-29s picked out its waterfront industrial section for instrument bombing through clouds.

Today the Japanese radio hissed angrily that the Americans are "enemies of civilization." The propaganda broadcast described the bombings as "indiscriminate" and the speaker said that "American fliers participating in such attacks are not entitled to protection of international law." The broadcast was heard by the OWI.

No Fliers Lost Recently

The Japanese followed up the April, 1942, Tokyo raid led by Jimmy Doolittle by executing some of his men. That any of the personnel of the 21st are in Japanese hands as a result of the first two raids appears unlikely on the basis of official announcements up to today. One plane was lost to enemy action Friday when a Japanese flier smashed into it.

Meantime an expert opinion that the exploits of navy and army fliers had virtually "eliminated" Japan's naval aviation game today from Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, famous commander of a Pacific fleet carrier task force.

4,000 Planes Downed

At a news conference here, Mitscher, one of the heroes of the Battle of the Philippines, said that fliers have shot down about 4,000 Japanese in the last 18 months and that B-29 bombings of the enemy homeland have further cut the Japanese aviation potential.

Mitscher called Japanese fighting men "vicious brutes" and "educated savages" and warned the nation that it is in for a long war in the Pacific.

Nazi Rocket Bomb Falls In Belgium

Soldiers examine wreckage of a German V-2 rocket bomb which fell in Belgium and was not completely destroyed. Engine which is believed to be fed by a mixture of liquid air with either oxygen or alcohol is at left. This is first picture of V-2 bomb to reach this country.

FORESTRY

they quit their jobs and retire. Therefore goods are brought in to sell and to keep the money in circulation.

These planters must have roll call each morning to see that the workers are present, then see that they get off to work and have the proper equipment with which to do their work.

When the tappings have been finished the planter must see the latex is weighed. Included in his job, too, is the keeping of his books and checking on the overseers.

Life is Lively

The social life of the planter seems very lively for so distant a place. They do have dances, with approximately 30 American women there; Sunday ball games, deep-sea fishing, being only 10 miles from the sea; and hunting for meat which can be both social and essential; also a nearby U. S. air port provides movies.

MSC has the best representation of any college and they have organized an alumnae club.
