Union Board Features
Leap Year Dance for Last Term Function

Taking on the holiday theme in all its true significance, Mason hall's Christmas party tonight will have a featured Santa Claus and brightly lighted Christmas tree decorating the upper lounge.

An invitation to the stag or drag affair, sponsored by the Mason Duration League, is extended to all campus men, although Abbott hall students will be honored guests.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to midnight in the recreation rooms with music furnished by records and an amplifying system. Pine bows and candles will carry out the holiday theme throughout the downstairs.

Prof. and Mrs. Fred T. Killen and Prof. and Mrs. J. Murray Barbour will act as patrons for the party.

Union Board Dance

Union board's last fall term dance tonight features the last chance for leap year enthusiasts. Nevertheless the "Last Chance" dance is not strictly a "girl ask boy" affair, according to co-chairman Bob Edgell, Elmira, N. Y., senior Dick Snook and his orchestra will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m.

Patrons for the affair include Prof. and Mrs. E. B. Hill and Prof. and Mrs. K. J. MacCristal.

Forestry Party

Forestry club members will take over the forestry cabin for an informal dance from 8 p.m. to midnight. Dancing to records, the party will be patroned by Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Stevens and Prof. and Mrs. A. B. Bowman.

Last night ATO's entertained their dates with a hayride fol-

... What's In a Name?

Dick Mineweaser, Pontiac freshman, and end man on the football team, has long suffered from the conscious and unconscious corruption of his name: name from friends, announcers and foe. He has answered to anything from Mineweaser to Lemonsqueezer, but to compensate for all this, he was named on the all-American unblemishable team last week.

... What's Next?

It was probably a case of anything for variety, decided an MSC coed yesterday when she came out of the Chem building and heard the leader of a section of marching men shout "Company skip." She turned around, and skip they did. A second section approached with even more variation as its leader called to them "Company, Congo,"—and off they went, to the tune of "Dad's Old-fashioned Root Beer."

Final Reading Program Listed for Tuesday

The final reading hour of fall term is scheduled for Tuesday, 4 p.m., room 49, College building, its director Mrs. Marie Compere of the speech department announced.

Readings will be given, two of them Christmas stories. The last of these is "A Brand New World" by Jean Peckel. Mary McPorten, Pontiac sophomore, will give the reading. The Christmas story by Janice Sullins, Detroit sophomore, is "Happy Christmas" by Daphne DuMaurier.

The third reading is "Silence of the Sea" written by a Frenchman with the pseudonym Ver-

Spartans Meet Bulldogs Tonight

MSC Revives Basketball After Two Years

By JOE HEAGANY

Tonight Michigan State's second war-time basketball team will take the hardwoods for the first time in two years against Drake university. The game will start at 8 p.m. in Jenison Fieldhouse.

This will be the first test of the strength of the Spartan quintet. Drake has played one game prior to the encounter. The debut will mark the first game of an 18-game slate for the green and white eagles.

Vice Pres. Henry Wallace, who will be on campus today on an inspection tour of agricultural projects, will be the guest of President Hannah this evening for dinner in the Union. There is a possibility that Wallace will be present at the game tonight and throw in the first ball, according to athletic director Ralph Young.

Drake Team

Drake will bring a team spotted with first year men and a few upperclassmen. Three of their returning veterans were members of the first team last year. Pacing the Bulldogs' personnel is Jack Edling, sophomore, high scoring forward who paced the team last year. Edling rang up 135 points last year.

Ralph Gruben, third high scorer last season is right behind Edling. Gruben gets most of his points from far out as he is a guard. The other veteran is Sophomore Everett Lane, another guard who stands 6 feet 2 inches. The other two posts will be occupied by rookies.

Also starting is 24-year-old ex-marine Frank Stefko, who lost an eye in the battle at Tarawa, who will hold down center position.

The MSC band will present a pre-game concert at 7:30.

The Bulldogs will average just a shade under the six foot mark which will not hurt the Spartan's chances at all. Coach Ben Van-Alstyne's boys are not the tallest quintet that has taken the floor. The average height is about 5 feet 10 inches.

Krall to Start

One big height factor will be Bill "Shorty" Krall, 6 feet 7 inch center who gets the nod at the center post over Chuck Frankel, originally named to start. Paul Bauman will start at one forward and Sam Fortino at the other. Most of the offense will probably come from the one-hand shots of Fortino, but Bauman because of his bewildering speed may prove to be the dark-horse.

Joe Beyer and Nick Hashu who have been entrenched in the guard slots since the outset of practice will take over the back court. Both men are brilliant on defense and play making, but are not dangerous offensive threats. Hashu will probably direct the strategy of the team.

After the contest with the blue and white Bulldogs, the Spartans will journey to Columbus, O., to resume hostilities with the Ohio State Buckeyes. The Bucks will return the 28th of December for a return engagement here.

U.S. Army, Marine Planes Bombard Iwo Jima Island

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., PEARL HARBOR, Dec. 1 (AP)

Liberator bombers have made two more attacks against air strips on Iwo Jima island from which the Japanese have been attacking U. S. superfort bases in the Marianas, fleet headquarters announced today.

Fires were observed in the airstrip area after the first raid, which took place Tuesday. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said in a communique.

Three or four Japanese interceptors attacked army bombers which hit the island again Wednesday. One interceptor was brought down and another probably destroyed. Five American planes were damaged but all managed to return to their base.

Marine B-25's and army bombers Wednesday struck Japan's Bonin island bases northeast of Iwo Jima. Marine fighter bombers also set fire to a supply dump on Bebelthup in the Palau group and hit an aerial torpedo dump yard on the airstrip at Yap island.

New Order Halts Civilian Output in Producing Areas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)

The government, in a drastic new order, tonight slowed up the program for putting segments of industry back into civilian production.

In a measure resigned to bolster lagging war production, the army, navy, war production board and war manpower commission directed:

That in areas of acute labor shortage no new civilian production shall be authorized under the "spot reconversion" plan for a period of 90 days.

That only in localities where war production is on schedule, where labor is adequate to meet military needs, or where labor not qualified for war work is available, "can any request for civilian production" under the spot program be approved.

Under the "spot" plan regional boards had been empowered

In order that all freshmen students may attend the all-college convocation Monday, December 11, Basic 161 final exam will be given 9 to 10 that morning instead of previously scheduled 10 to 11. Dean of Students Stanley E. Crowe stated yesterday.

to permit civilian production in areas where manpower and facilities were deemed available for such purposes.

Tonight's action came upon the heels of recent reports from Gen. Dwight Eisenhower that a shortage of some categories of ammunition, especially heavy shells, has delayed his offensive.

The armed forces have been growing increasingly apprehensive over the swing toward civilian production, its accompanying effect on production of critical munitions.

This was evidenced tonight in an address at Boston by Lt. Gen. Brehon Somervell, chief of army service forces. Somervell said that part of the reason for the army's call for more and more production arose out of the changing needs of the war.

U.S. Third Gets Heavy Barrage On Saar River

Yanks Batter Siegfried
As Germans Destroy
Merzig Bridge

PARIS, Dec. 1 (AP) — The U.S. third army drove to the Saar river along a nine-mile front today in a storm of fire from the Siegfried line defenses around Merzig, German outpost city guarding the Moselle and Nahe valley invasion routes to the inner Reich.

The Germans blew up the Merzig bridge just as tenth armored division tanks rumbled into view, and beyond the river 125 Allied bombers heaped 250 tons of explosives on the Siegfried fortifications.

Cologne Battle Raging

One of the war's bloodiest battles raged unabated at the edge of the Cologne plain, where Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower hourly was raising the pressure against the Roer river barrier.

British headquarters estimates were that the Germans had 6,000,000 men—1,250,000 of them first-line troops—available for the climactic battles of the Reich, and the winter offensive was costing them 3,000 men daily in prisoners alone.

Yanks Gaining on Roer

The U.S. ninth army broadened its hold on the Roer's west bank to 15 miles, fought almost up to the edge of Linnich—one of three strongholds of the river line—and sent patrols across a tributary south of Juelich.

The U.S. first army was attacking all the way from Inden, six miles northwest of Duren, to Brandenburg, seven miles southwest of that Roer river fortress.

The Germans were seen hastily bolstering defenses on the east bank.

Suicidal Nip Move Halted By U.S. 7th In South Ormoc

PHILIPPINES, Saturday, Dec. 2 (AP)—The U. S. 7th infantry division has repulsed suicidal charges made by the Japanese south of Ormoc, strategic port held by the enemy on western Leyte island, headquarters announced today.

The 7th division has been advancing slowly northward on the coast below Ormoc and last was reported holding the Palamas river line, 13 miles south of the port.

Numerous night counterattacks had been repulsed in that area by the division, which includes veterans of the Aleutians campaign.

Elsewhere on Leyte, ground activities were restricted by continuing raids. The 32nd division, which recently captured Lamon, was slowly converging on the enemy forces in the Ormoc corridor to the south.

Leyte based fighter planes bombed Japanese supply dumps in the Ormoc Bay area. Enemy activity was negligible.

Japanese casualties in desperate fighting on Leyte and in daring but vain attempts to prop the battered garrison there approached 100,000 today, stressing the importance the imperial high command places on clinging to that Philippine island.

Senate Committee at Last Releases Result Of Pearl Harbor Disaster Investigation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Army and navy boards which investigated the Pearl Harbor disaster found no grounds for court martial proceedings against anyone, it was announced tonight.

The boards' conclusions were disclosed by War Secretary Stimson and Navy Secretary Forrestal but they withheld the texts of the reports on grounds of military security. These cannot be released, it was announced, until after the war.

The latter decision immediately touched off fresh demands for a Congressional investigation of all the circumstances of the Japanese attack Dec. 7, 1941, which made a shambles of the great Hawaiian naval base and sank or disabled eight battleships together with lesser craft.

Ferguson Asks for Inquiry

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) called for immediate submission to both houses of congress "of the evidence obtained by the army and navy boards," and said he would press for his resolution to set up a 10-member senate committee to make an independent Pearl Harbor inquiry.

He said the finding of the army and navy boards apparently did not agree with those of the Roberts commission.

A commission appointed by President Roosevelt immediately after the disaster and headed by Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts reported on January 24, 1942, that there was "dereliction of duty" by Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, the commanders at Pearl Harbor.

"The public is entitled to the facts," Ferguson declared. "This announcement emphasizes the need to a senate investigation. I think as a starter Congress should be furnished the evidence upon which the new findings are based."

Not Satisfactory

Similarly, house Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Mass., said he did not believe the public would be satisfied with the mere army-navy announcement.

"The people will want more details than that," Martin said.

But Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the house military committee said the reports, so far as he was concerned, "ends the matter."

Chandler Against Ferguson

Senator Chandler (D-Ky.) of the senate military affairs committee said he thought the army-navy findings would lessen the chances of the Ferguson resolution passing the senate.

Although the conclusions of the army and navy boards apparently left scant possibility that action would ever be taken against anyone, both Stimson and Forrestal said they intended to continue personal investigations.

The navy announced that Forrestal was "not satisfied that the investigation has gone to the point of exhaustion of all possible evidence."

LETTERS . . . To The Editor

TO the Editor:
In the recent exchange of letters on the enforcement of the no smoking tradition, Mr. Shipper's letter was the only one which exhibited any intelligence.

Let me clarify my status. I am a veteran of this war, and I have had all the dictatorial nonsense that military service supplies in great quantity. I have attended MSC since the fall of 1943. I don't smoke on campus because I am proud of the beauty of our campus, and that beauty would be marred by the fumes of cigarette butts.

The boys who return to our campus from killing Japs and Nazis will not be intimidated by threats. The only way to appeal to them, or to anyone else of intelligence, is to tell the truth, tell why and request that they observe tradition.

What would happen if a strong American Legion Post on campus in the future decided to throw the Varsity club in the river? Civil war?

The ignorant and stupid we shall always have with us—If intelligent requests for observance fail to bear fruit, then violators should be dismissed from school—Some group, let us say junior and senior police administration students, should be empowered to demand identification of anyone found smoking on campus.

Sentence for a first offense might be a two week suspension from classes. Refusal to comply with a demand for identification should warrant bodily escort to the president's office, where the sentence should be dismissal from the college for the remainder of the term. A second offense should carry the penalty of being re-enrolled.

We students must demand strong authorized means of enforcement. We must demand, too, that the requirements for admission, methods of instruction, student participation in academic work in general, be such as to raise the entire college to a much higher plane.

We must see to it that we create an institution of higher learning, a university of national renown, as being the place to go if one really wants a superior education. The process of learning at MSC is becoming a farce.

It's high time we admitted our school is playing the role of a junior high school in most of its plans for an education. It's time we banded together and did something about it. I hope for success because I think I speak for the average returning veteran as well as for every sincere student.

Paul Wagner.

TO the class of '45:
What's the cause of all this bickering concerning class officers? A war has been going on in this country for almost three years, but regardless of that fact, the senior class has always elected class officers. The class of '44 elected its officers as usual despite the manpower shortage and without all this fuss about its significance.

There are more men on campus this year than there were last year and students of Michigan State college or the Student Council need not worry about MSC becoming "Smith College of the west."

In time of war, anyone who has the idea that it is a disgrace to be graduated from an institution of higher learning should realize that this is one of the aims for which we are fighting.

Anyone who feels sorry for himself or thinks it is a disgrace to graduate in the class of '45 should decide whether he should go to school and enable himself to train other individuals in the future or work in a defense plant.

A '44 graduate

British Magazine Questions AP News Program

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The press freedom campaign conducted by Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, was attacked today by a British weekly magazine, the Economist, with a suggestion that his program might allow American news agencies "to dominate the world."

The politico-economic publication, established in 1943, included the following in an "American survey" section devoted to short article on the United States:

"In an article in Life Cooper demands freedom of access to news, freedom for agencies to compete or to exchange news and an end to preferential rates of transmission. Mr. Cooper, like most big business executives, experiences a peculiar moral glow in finding that his idea of freedom coincides with his commercial advantage."

In his ode to liberty there is no suggestion that when all barriers are down the huge financial resources of the American agencies might enable them to dominate the world. In this, as in other postwar issues, commercial practices are habitually confused with such big words as liberty and the rights of man.

Intramural Wrestling, Swimming Listed Next On Roster

Swim Events Start Today with ASTR, Civilian Teams

Today is the day—Jenison is the place—2:30 p.m. is the time and the event is the intramural championship swimming meet.

An interesting battle between a strengthened civilian squad and an excellent group of army swimmers promises to develop the team with the most number of points at the end of the year will be crowned team champion. But whichever team wins, you can be sure that will be a tough battle before final victory is over.

The swimmers will also be competing for handsome intramural medals. The medals will be awarded to the first three finishers in each event.

The meet will be open to the public.

Part of the civilian team consists of swimmers Fred Stillman and Webster MacDonald, both seniors, is honorary captain for the civilian squad.

Clarence, cadet, high jumper, swimmer from Monroe, he took second in the state 100-yard freestyle in 1944, is honorary captain for the ASTR.

Secretary of State Stettinius Sworn in to Replace Hull

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., 44, a moderate liberal and diplomat, was sworn in as Secretary of State today, and potentially will bring new developments in foreign policy.

Stettinius was his first great appointment to Cordell Hull, who left the State Department in 1943 to head the War Relocation Authority.

Stettinius, a world security and peace advocate, for a United Nations conference, which officials said would be held in this country in the next three months, to put a new peace treaty.

The ceremony took place in the secretary's office at the State Department. The oath to Stettinius and the constitution of the United States was administered by the nation's 47th vice president, H. Jackson of the United States.

Stettinius, who was born in 1899, is a native of Kentucky. He was a member of the United States House of Representatives from 1931 to 1935.

Spartans At War

By PEG DUBRY

PEC. JOHN HAYS

son of Prof. and Mrs. J. G. Hays, of the dairy department, and brother of the late James G. Hays, III, '37 and Spartan creator, was killed in France Nov. 11, according to word received by the family yesterday.

Although he never attended Michigan State, Private Hays was known on campus, having worked for WKAR, college radio station, for a short time before leaving for service.

He entered the army in 1943 and before overseas two months ago, was stationed at Camp Croft, S. C. Camp Pickett, Va., and Rhode Island State college in the ASTP.

He was with the infantry in General Patton's third army at the time of his death. Besides the parents he is survived by a brother, Capt. Andy Hays, '42, who is also with the third army, although the two had been unable to see each other.

LT. WARREN BARBER

was recently awarded the air medal and an oak leaf cluster for his achievement in weather reconnaissance missions over Europe. Flying as navigator in a speedy Mosquito, always subject to enemy attack, Lieutenant Barber and his pilot obtain valuable weather data which to a large extent determines future air and ground operations against the crumbling German Reich.

LT. JOHN ROSEWICZ

a navigator-bomber of a P-39 in India was recently promoted to the rank of first lieutenant. While in school, Lieutenant Rosewicz, chemical engineer graduate of January 1942, was a member of Alpha Chi Sigma.

CADET JACK KAUSZIER

has reported at Carlisle, N. M., where he will receive advanced flight training in high-level bombardiering and dead-reckoning navigation, at the army air field there. During his 24 weeks of training, Cadet Kauszier will study under simulated combat conditions.

PEC. BILL FAIRCHILD

graduate of March, 1943, recently arrived in England. Prior to his induction, Private Fairchild taught agriculture in Coldwater. He received his basic training at Camp Wolters, Texas, and has also been stationed at Camp Howie, Texas, and Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

LT. (J.G.) DONALD FARMER

'42, has been teaching mathematics to naval officers at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., for the past year. He has been teaching under Professor Hurd formerly of Michigan State.

ENS. RALPH NEWTON

USNR, was on campus recently for a visit with the athletic and geology departments. Ensign Newton, '43, was in the Normandy invasion and the invasion of Southern France. He is an officer on the USS Dorotha L. Dix, transport ship.

CADET LAWRENCE GLARUM

recently arrived at Carlisle, N. M., army air field, to take advanced flight training in bombardiering and navigation. Carlisle field is the newest bombardier school in the army air forces training command and upon graduation Cadet Glarum will be awarded silver bombardier's wings and will be ready for active duty as an officer in the army air forces.

Don't be a tradition breaker—no smoking on campus.

Preliminaries Start Monday; Semi-finals Tuesday, Wednesday

Wrestling will return to Michigan State Monday when Coach Fendley Collins will hold the first of three consecutive intramural wrestling meets at 5 p.m. in the wrestling room of the Jenison fieldhouse.

The preliminary bouts will be held Monday, the semi-finals Tuesday afternoon and the finals will be Wednesday afternoon. Intramural medals will be awarded to the winners in each of the weight classes.

Eight entries in each of the seven weight classes is planned for, Collins said. Both civilians and army students will take part in the bouts. Originally it was planned to have four civilians and four army students in each weight class, but lack of civilians has forced the addition of more army men.

The weights at which the bouts will be held include 128, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175 and heavy-weight.

The bouts will be open to the public in limited numbers. The wrestling room will only accommodate some 70 or 80 people.

The purpose of the tournament is to give Collins some idea of the wrestling interest and ability of State students in preparation for intercollegiate competition this winter.

SENIORS won the inter-class volleyball title Thursday night when they defeated the freshmen by the score of 38 to 26. The seniors have won all three of their games and the freshman team took second place in the tournament.

The juniors defeated the sophomores in their game by the score of 27 to 23 to take third place, and the sophomores wound up in fourth place.

The honor team for this year's volleyball season has been announced by Marie Stone, Jackson senior, volleyball manager. The team is selected by a committee made up of all the class captains and Miss Stone. Mary Lou Nott, Grand Ledge senior, was named captain of the team. The two other seniors on the team are Dotie Goralick, Hamtramck, and Marge Wood, Charlevoix.

Three juniors were named to the team. They are Louise Eltinge, Chicago, Ill., Mary Kay Rabeck, Detroit, and Judy Longmoke, East Lansing. Janet Squires, Eaton Rapids, was the one sophomore named to the team. The last two players are Doris Taubert, Silver Spring, Md., and Margaret McFarland, Washington, D. C. freshman.

The honor team will play a faculty team Tuesday night at 7 in the Women's gym.

Nazi Troops Pull Back From Allied Thrusts in Northern Italy

ROME, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Germans appeared to be pulling back today from the mountain toward highway nine between Bologna and Faenza against the threat of a British eighth army breakthrough from the east.

Allied headquarters said British troops of the fifth army entered Fontanelle, 9 1/2 miles southwest of Faenza, which is on highway nine between Bologna and Faenza, and found it had been evacuated.

Southwest of Faenza, an Indian division ran into only light resistance in clearing the enemy from a number of important heights.

To protect the withdrawal, the Germans laid down an extremely heavy artillery barrage on American dug-in along an arc nine miles south of Bologna and engaged eighth army units northeast of Faenza in fierce fighting.

Patrols probing the approach to Faenza on the southwest found the Germans still dug in on high ground behind the Lamone river, which runs through

Russians Forcing Nazi Evacuation Of Budapest

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The German radio announced tonight that all of the 61 square-mile section of besieged Budapest lying on the east bank of the Danube was being evacuated because of a swiftly rising Russian threat to envelop the capital from the rear after smashing across the river south of the city.

Both the Moscow communique and German announcements disclosed that Russian troops striking along the west bank of the Danube were within 77 miles of Budapest, and within 38 miles of Lake Balaton, strategic Hungarian lake lying across the southeastern approaches to Austria.

The German international information bureau broadcast said bridges across the Danube inside Budapest were "through" with civilian and military traffic, suggesting that the Germans intend to make their major stand in Budapest, the west bank, and leave only rear guards to fight it out in the streets of the shattered Pest, the larger section of the capital on the east bank.

The Soviet communique issued shortly after the German announcement of the evacuation of eastern Budapest, listed the capture of 60 more localities south and southwest of Budapest as Marshal Fedor I. Tolbukhin's third Ukraine army troops moved toward the capital and toward the Austrian frontier.

Goebbels Orders Ban on War Discussion

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Joseph Goebbels tonight ordered the German people to cease all public discussion of the war situation, saying the Nazi government "is concerned to keep the enemy Germany's attention off."

The order was contained in Goebbels' weekly article in "Das Reich" magazine and broadcast by all German radio and state press.
