LETTERS To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — All letters to the editor submitted with the intention of being published, must be signed by the writer. If he does not want his name to appear with the letter, it must be indicated. No letters will be considered for publication unless the writer is known. The opinions expressed are those of the writers and not necessarily those of the editors.

To the Editor:
In answer to your comment in the October 12th issue of the Michigan State News, we, the men of Company A, wish to voice our criticisms on the article which refers to the 3650SCU Det. 5 as "local Boy Scouts."

Now as you know, the majority of fellows here are seventeen years of age. However, we would like to remind you that each of us here enlisted in the army before the cessation of hostilities and were under the impression that we would see combat duty within a year.

We joined with the intention of fighting in the war to preserve such things as education and decent institutions such as Michigan State college. Please remember that we were sent here under orders, and although most of us wish to be elsewhere, we are still under those orders.

As far as we know the ASTRP is the only entire volunteer organization in the army of the United States; a fact of which we are deeply proud. We feel that the returned veterans, whom we respect, know the value of military training and are not in favor of any unjust criticisms of any military organization. If the editors of the News believe they are better judges of the army than its own officers, we will be most happy to enlist their services in the ASTRP.

Affairs of State

By NAN TRABUE and DOTTIE LAMONT

THE sudden advent of chilly weather has put the ring and pin business in the frozen commodity category. The sun isn't warming the wings of cupid as it could, but the forecast isn't too bad.

The arrow hit its mark last week when Sally Clark, Alpha Chi, came forth with a ring from Bill McCartney, '45. Bill was home not so long ago and is back at Camp Polk, La., now.

Jan Hopps, Ypsilanti senior, is adding a noticeable zest to her State News work as manager as a result of last weekend. It seems that the SAE pin she is wearing from Brooks Thomas might have a bit to do with it.

It was beginning to look like the car ban was over—shadowing all other things of interest. But not so we find. Dee Kane, Chi O from Chicago (we don't know if she drove up here or not) is sparkling because of a ring from Ensign Paul McPheeter, also from Chicago, now at Norfolk, Va.

The former Pat Stone, '44, was back last weekend to see her Sigma Kappa sorority sisters and report to those who were still uninformed about her September wedding. It all resulted in her status now being Mrs. Al Bishop. Al graduated in '44, used to be a marine corps lieutenant, and now is getting his discharge.

Sept. 15 marked another big date in the marriage records for these parts. Georgann Hayes, Delta Zeta, '45, changed her name in Detroit in favor of Jack Pardee, Sigma Chi. The couple took in the sights of Buffalo, N. Y., and Chicago, Ill., following the wedding.

Back in circulation again are the Lambda Chis who held a re-activating banquet the other day. Their officers for the coming year were announced at that time and they are: president, Charles Ruck, Jeffersonville, Ind., junior; vice-president, Joe Davidson, Channing, Texas, junior; treasurer, Al Hambly, Detroit sophomore; secretary, Al Dufour, Utica junior, and pledge trainer, Brady Sullivan, Pittsburg, Pa., junior.

ATOs are beginning the year right with a long list of new pledges. They are all freshmen including Chad Lampkin, Lowell; Warren Phemister, Midland; Morris Booth, Alden, Jack Allen, Algonac; Ray Tassinare, Detroit; Dick Eacey, Detroit; Roy Sch-

Department Boasts New Faculty Member of Long Experience

A new member of the MSC speech department, Prof. James D. Davis, former director of radio activities at Southwestern Louisiana college, has taken over instructorship of radio classes here and is new adviser for Experimental Radio workshop.

Davis' career has been an interesting and profitable one. He was awarded a scholarship to the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, where he took his complete undergraduate study. While at college he was a member of Kappa Sigma, social fraternity and Pi Kappa Delta, debate honorary.

During the summer months he has toured throughout the middle western states with the Red Path-Horner stock company, a Chautaugua circuit, with headquarters in Kansas City, Kansas.

Later, teaching in Arkansas city, Kansas, Davis produced educational radio programs and movie shorts for the city schools. The shorts were used in local theaters to show the parents and the community what was being done in the schools. In the summer he worked as program director for WBBZ in Oklahoma. From 1939-43 Davis taught graduate work at the University of Southern California. In addition, he wrote radio scripts, directed educational shows at college and high school programs. Some of the programs were broadcast over the west coast chain.

New Farm Course Begins Activities

The agricultural engineering department has revealed that a new farm machinery service sales training course put in the direction of M. W. Bailey.

This is a one year course which trains men for farm equipment salesmen, vice men and shop managers. It is of special interest to returning veterans, who make up 80% of those enrolled.

The course was inaugurated in answer to a request from the Michigan Farm Equipment Association, added A. W. Farr, head of the department.

Home Ecs Start Fall Activities With Get-Together Meet

First general Home Ec club meeting of the year will be held Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the music auditorium.

The purpose of the meeting is to help home economics students become better acquainted with each other and with their club.

The committee in charge of the program includes Miss Elizabeth Talbert, Asst. Prof. of H. M. & C. D., Pat Easley, Trenton senior, and Ruth Koffel, Kalamazoo senior.

The theme of the program will be "A Senior's Scrapbook" in which a graduated senior will acquaint her scrapbook of Home Economics club activities to an incoming freshman.

Each department in the school of home economics will present a skit for the scrapbook which will be related to its department.

In charge of the H. M. & C. D. is Jessie Sanson, Romeo senior. Ann Christenson, Newaygo senior, will head the I. A. group. The F. & N. group is under the direction of Alice June Ford, Astoria senior.

Organization contracts for Wolverine pictures should be in the Wolverine office in the Union annex basement today.

Jacqueline Taylor, Pickford senior, and Bette LaVine, Sparta senior, are in charge of the T. C. R. A. skit. Ruth Skitch, Detroit senior, is in charge of the vocational majors' group.

The sophomore board skit will be under the direction of Grace Johnson, Robinson, Ill., junior.

The skit, sponsored by the activities groups, which include home economics paper, and catering and child care groups, will be directed by Emogene Ernst, Saline senior.

Membership cards will be sold at the meeting by the membership committee which is headed by Joyce Schumann, Grosse Pointe junior. The price of each membership card is 75c and is good for one year.

House Altng, social chairman, will have charge of the refreshments.

All home economics students, especially freshman and transfer students, are welcome.

Kuchi To Speak Today

Dr. Chihro Kikuchi, temporary instructor of army classes, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Physics colloquium today at 5 p.m. in room 113 of the Physics building. His topic will be "Creation and Annihilation of Matter in Atomic Nuclei."

Brady Sullivan Leaves Spartan Grid Squad; Makes No Comment

Charlie Bachman, Spartan football coach, reports that his veteran center Brady Sullivan, junior vet, who was a letter man last year at his position, has been dropped from the team for the present.

According to the coach, Sullivan walked off the field in practice Thursday before the Pittsburgh game, and as a result his suit was ordered to be turned in. He did not make the trip with the team.

Asked as to whether he has quit or not, Sullivan said that for the time being he has no comment.

the close of the season she made her first concert tour with Metropolitan Opera company. This is her third tour.

Born in Spokane, Wash., in 1925, Miss Munsel took ballet and tap dancing and played in leading roles in school operettas. She soon began taking voice lessons from a local music teacher.

While giving a summer concert course, Vladimir Bakaleinikoff, then associate conductor of the Pittsburgh symphony orchestra, encouraged her to a more determined attitude concerning her voice.

That year Miss Munsel went to New York to study. There she won the contest that was to be the beginning of a brilliant career.

Miss Munsel has appeared on such leading programs as "March of Time" and "Cavalcade of America" and at present is with the Sunday night "Family Hour" program. She also appeared on the Life magazine cover recently.

Miss Munsel will be accompanied during her concert by pianist Stuart Ross and Betty Wood, flutist.

Psychology Club Elects

At its last meeting, the Psychology club elected the following officers: Henrietta Petersen, Marquette senior, president; Mary Elizabeth Clark, East Lansing senior, vice-president; Jeanne Robson, Ovid senior, secretary-treasurer, and Betty Van Frank, Lansing junior, social chairman. The advisers for the coming year are Prof. J. M. De Haan and Dr. N. A. Fattu, both of the psychology department.

State Captures 12-7 Victory To Defeat Near Big Ten Pitt

In one of the biggest college football upsets so far this year, the MSC Spartans trounced the Pittsburgh Panthers Saturday by a score of 12-7.

Completely outplaying the highly rated Panthers, the Spartans scored a touchdown in the first two quarters. Dominating the play during the entire game, the Spartans had no less than eight scoring opportunities, and a shut-out would have been the order of the day, except for the 93-yard run by fleet-footed Jimmy Joe Robinson, Panther back.

The Spartans came roaring down the field midway in the first period to register their first touchdown. The drive got underway when Russ Reader, State's new left halfback, took a Pittsburgh punt on the State 41. A pass good for 38 yards from Reader to end Nick Ziegler placed the ball on the Pitt 21.

Another pass from Reader to halfback Steve Contos, took the pigskin to the Pitt four-yard line. On the next play, halfback Reader bobbled the pass from center, and the Spartans took an 11 yard loss. Taking to the air again, Reader again tossed to Contos on the nine, and on an off tackle play the speedy Contos crossed the pay stripe for the first score of the game.

The next Spartan drive for the Pitt goal bogged down and Pitt took over, deep in the territory of their own 24. In desperation they took to the air, and fullback Jack Breslin leaped into the air to snatch a Pitt pass on the 34-yard line, thus setting the stage for the next State touchdown.

Contos took the ball on the next play for 12 yards around end. In a speedy play that caught the entire Pitt team off guard, Russ Reader passed to Contos again on the three-yard line. Expecting a line buck by Breslin, quarterback Glenn Johnson called an end run that was good for the necessary three yards. Breslin carried the ball. Place kicker Bob Malaga missed both of the conversion kicks.

All during the game, there were evident signs of the excellent coaching turned in by line coach John Kobs and in the backfield by John Pinagl and Coach Bachman.

With a solid wall line and an effective passing attack that saw 10 of the 15 passes completed, the Spartans held the Panthers helpless during the whole first half.

There was no exceptional player during the game, only steady performances of the team as a whole. Excellent signal calling on the part of the two quarterbacks, Don Conti and Don Stewart, was a big factor in the surprise success of the Spartans.

DON STEWART, former quarterback from Ohio, turned in an excellent performance at center during the Pittsburgh game, and will probably star in future games.

Despite the loss of veteran center, Brady Sullivan, an excellent game was played by Bill Pagel and Don Stewart, who filled in at center post. Pagel, who weighs 240 pounds, started the game for the Spartans and gave State an edge over the Panthers in the average weight of the linemen.

Canadian, Students' Art Work Featured

One of the first exhibits to be featured in the second floor corridor of the art studios this year is a group of large silk-screen prints that are reproductions of original oil paintings by Canadian artists. This show is part of the larger exhibit of oil paintings by Canadian artists shown this month in the Music building art gallery.

The subject matter is varied, but includes primarily scenes of autumn and winter. Canadian landscapes by well known artists of that country.

There is also an exhibit of the student's work from campus studios.

Wolverine Schedules Class Photographs

Wolverine pictures of freshmen, sophomores and juniors will be taken today, tomorrow, Thursday and Friday, according to Margo Green, East Lansing sophomore, class editor of the Wolverine.

Appointment cards have been sent and students are asked to keep designated appointments. Miss Green added. Those students who did not receive a card are to call the Wolverine office.

Senior pictures will be taken in January. All seniors graduating either summer term '46 or fall term '46 are to disregard their appointment cards.

Junior medical technicians should also disregard appointments, because they will be pictured as seniors, according to Dorothy Englehardt, editor of the Wolverine. Miss Englehardt added that no retakes will be taken, and those students missing their appointment may go in Friday morning between 9 and 12.

'Spartan Varieties' to Start Featuring All-Student Talent

Union Board Will Sponsor Weekly Broadcast

"Spartan Varieties," the weekly all-student talent radio show, will return to the Michigan State college campus Nov. 24 with a broadcast from the stage of the Union ballroom, Union board announced yesterday.

Dick Snook and his orchestra, playing for the regular Saturday afternoon Party-Party, will supply music for the program which will feature songs of MSC fraternities and sororities. Larry Frymire, program director for WKAR, will be master of ceremonies for the broadcast.

Greek Music Featured

Sororities and fraternities are urged to turn in their songs to Snook as soon as possible, so that he may prepare orchestra and chorus arrangements for the program. Jeck Breslin, Union board president said.

Since Snook must write arrangements of the Greek music, he requested that music be turned to him as soon as possible. He may be reached by calling 8-4346.

Students to Participate

One feature of the Union-board-sponsored broadcast will be the regular appearance of student guests. Auditioning will be announced later in the term, Frymire said.

Party-Party began last year as a Saturday afternoon entertainment feature of Union board. It offers afternoon tea dancing, card and board games, and refreshments. Students who attend Party-Party will comprise the studio audience for "Spartan Varieties," which will be broadcast from 4 to 4:30 p.m. Party-Party is given from 3 to 5 p.m. each Saturday on the second floor of the Union building.

Revised 'Campus Capers'

"Spartan Varieties" is a revamp of a pre-war campus variety show formerly known as "Campus Capers." The program was dropped during the war years because of lack of talent and facilities. It was then one of the most popular of the regular campus entertainment features. This year Union board, with the cooperation of Frymire and Snook, hopes to make "Spartan Varieties," a bigger and better edition of the original show.

Although complete details have not yet been worked out, they will be announced later in the State News.

The nation's first railroad companies were chartered in 1826.

Faculty Members To Investigate Soil Fertility

A trip to Barry county is being made today by several department heads and staff members at the request of Harold Foster, county agent, and the directors of the Barry county soil conservation department.

Eighty thousand acres of land in Barry county have agriculture possibilities but at the present because of the depletion of soil fertility and erosion it is not contributing much agriculturally, according to Foster. The purpose of the trip is to determine the best uses of this type of land.

Department heads making the trip are E. P. Anthony, department of agriculture; Roy Decker, farm crops; E. E. Millar, soil science; George Brown, animal husbandry; G. M. Trout, dairy; V. R. Gardner, agriculture experiment station; E. B. Hill, farm management; H. B. Tukey, horticulture; Professor Farrall, agriculture engineering; P. A. Herbert, forestry department, and C. P. Loomis, sociology and entomology.

Mexico's 1944 cotton crop exceeded 500,000 bales.
