At Term's End

Degree Candidates Include 47 Seniors, 16 Grad Students

Seniors Will Return For June Commencement

A total of 63 students, including 16 graduates and 47 seniors, will receive degrees from Michigan State college at the end of this term, according to Registrar Robert S. Linton.

Sur to Direct Church Choir In 'Messiah'

The choirs of People's Church, under the direction of William R. Sur, of the Music department of MSC, will present George Frederick Handel's Messiah at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Peoples church.

Mrs. Helen Roberts Sholl will be organist. Harriett Hiller and Joyce Johnson, East Lansing sophomores, will be contralto and soprano soloists. The program is sponsored by Peoples church and Student Christian union.

The Messiah, produced in Dublin in 1742, is Handel's most famous oratorio. The whole Messiah from beginning to end was set upon paper in 24 days. Considering the immensity of the work and the short time involved, it will remain, perhaps forever, the greatest feat in the whole history of musical composition.

The Messiah has three parts: Christ and the story of the Nativity; the second dealing with the love, suffering and death of the Savior; and the third expressing religious faith in the manner of a Credo.

Linton said that no commencement exercises will be held for the fall term graduates, but that they may return to State for senior week activities in June.

The following students are candidates for bachelor's degrees: Josephine Delp, Wayland, journalism; Thelma Cameron, Niles, language and literature; Harlan Ogle, Edwardsburg, pre-medical; Mrs. Virginia Chamberlain, Ood, home economics; Sui Foo, St. Johns, social service; Katherine Peterson, Grayling, biological science; Beva Dirksen, Iron Mountain, physical science, and Margaret Coulter, Flint, home economics.

Further Graduating Seniors

Florence Gregorie, Calumet, home economics; Suzanne Seibert, Harbor Beach, home economics; Mary Bancroft, East Lansing, language and literature; Julianne Engstrom, East Lansing, home economics; Marion Ketcham, Lansing, social service; Harold Norman, Lansing, social science; Alice King, Kalamazoo, fine arts; Ina Limmer, Grand Rapids, language and literature; Norma Garthe, Northport, public school music, are also on the graduating list.

Jill Lippert, Helen Gover to Replace Editors Barb Jones, Bonnie Essert

Taking the prerogative of graduating seniors to relax during their last term of school, Barbara Hafford Jones, Glen Rock, N. J., senior, resigned as night editor of the State News. Today's issue will be her last.

Children's Theater Will Give First Play

Children's theater, which was established at State this fall, under the direction of Jean Granville, Saginaw graduate assistant in speech and dramatics, will present a one-act play "Jean Valjean and the Christmas Doll" this afternoon at 2:15 and again this evening at 7:30, in room 49 College auditorium. The presentation is open to the public.

Twenty-two children from Lansing and East Lansing will act in the play. The purpose of Children's theater is to give youngsters an opportunity for training and experience in creative, imaginative drama.

The Board of Publications has accepted Mrs. Jones' resignation and granted one term's leave of absence to night editor Bonnie Essert, Grosse Pointe junior. Replacing them will be Helen Gover, Mount Pleasant junior, and Jill Lippert, Detroit junior, both of whom have served as night editor assistants this term.

Mrs. Jones has been a night editor since the spring of her sophomore year. After a year's absence, she returned last year and resumed her former position.

In addition to her work on the night desk, Mrs. Jones has been teaching fundamentals of journalism to State News cub reporters. Her husband, Lt. David Jones, '42, served as night editor on the State News during his senior year.

Miss Essert will be out of school the entire term and will return in March.

Veteran Enrollment For Winter Term Increases Daily

The estimated number of recently discharged veterans enrolling next term will run from 1,000 to 1,500, Dean S. E. Crowe announced yesterday. Approximately 40 men fill out applications each day at the registration office.

The number of applicants greatly exceeds expectations, and a critical housing situation now exists. About 30 percent of the returning veterans are married, and housing facilities for these couples have been supplied by trailer camps, Crowe said.

The acute shortage of rooms for single men has been somewhat alleviated by opening Wells hall to civilian men, but it will facilitate only a third of the veterans returning next term.

Crowe pointed out that the situation will be even more critical by spring term when veteran enrollment will exceed that of any other term.

Last Chance to Give to Yanks

In just a few more days most of us will be homeward-bound to enjoy a pleasant interlude of schoolless days. In our minds art thoughts of home and the folks, of good food and prolonged sleep, of again frequenting familiar haunts and visiting with old friends. For the more energetic, a regimen of hitting all the bright spots and really "doing the town red" might be in order.

With all our anticipated vacationing and mirth in this holiday season, a little voice within us speaks for thousands of men in army and veteran hospitals not so gay and joyous away from home and family.

Will we be free and easy in our minds, knowing that those "Yanks Who Gave" will be forgotten this Christmas, unless we remember them with gift boxes?

Won't our laughter ring in hollow tones when we know that our neglect in this effort will have made some silent face in a hospital bed more solemn still?

Will our conscience be clear this Christmas?

If we have been procrastinating our good intentions of making up a gift box for the "Gifts For the Yanks Who Gave" campaign, let us think of a wounded, blind, or crippled fellow who will be cheered by our efforts when on Christmas morn he opens the package we prepared for him.

The Union desk is a collecting station for all gift boxes and contributions.

Let's make this a brighter Christmas for hospitalized Yanks. Let's get busy!

Affairs of State

By TONI EBNER and SALLY CLARK

Once upon a midnight dark and dreary
While I pondered weak and weary
No mouse was heard from all around
The turning of pages was the only sound.
Cramming hard to pass that test
Leaves a weary soul with little rest.
Suddenly into a dream world, I moved so fast
For the midnight oil had burned out at last.

The Sunner

COLD weather and finals seem to be the main topic of interest around here lately. We've been burning the midnight oil for both, and cramming like mad for all those last minute details having to do with square roots, Plato, and the like. But as the saying goes, "All work and no play, makes us rather dull," so call time out and catch up on all the recent, romantic happenings.

First on the list today takes us way out to Mason hall for the news that Sally Waters, Saginaw sophomore, has received a Psi U pin from Dick Smith, Detroit junior. This all took place just about two weeks ago.

Say, these Michigan men are doing all right up in this territory. Gina Fellows, Birmingham senior, is now sporting a Sigma Chi pin along with the Sigma Kappa triangle. The man is Bob Wendell, a graduate of Michigan in '41.

Things have really been happening out at the Delta Zeta house to keep the girls jumping. First thing is that Dot Stanley, a graduate of last June, and Phil Beebe were married last November 24. Both of them are coming back to State winter term.

If Marie Schwarz seems to be having trouble concentrating on cramming for exams it might be because of that sparkler she is wearing. The donor is Kappa Sig Bob McClure. Marie is a Delta Zeta.

Here come those Michigan men again. Bud Stedelin, in the navy there and a member of Sigma Nu medical fraternity, has recently put his pin in the trust of Doris Smotherman, freshman from Nashville, Tenn.

Dispensing with romantic matters and getting caught up on the latest pledgings and initiations, we find that Alpha Chis have two.

Art Department Will Expand Next Term

A new professor, new equipment, and a growing enrollment will expand the Art department next term, Prof. Howard Church, head of the art department, has announced.

Ernest B. Brauner, former professor of art at MSC, has recently been discharged from the Navy and will resume his teaching position Jan. 1.

New studio equipment was received this week to help take care of the increasing enrollment of the department.

The department stated that the enrollment this year shows a 73 percent increase over last year's figures.

"The Lesson of War Housing", an art exhibit from the Museum of Modern Art, will be on display from Jan. 7 to 24, in the Music building Art Gallery, according to an announcement from the department.

Alden B. Dow, distinguished Michigan architect, will present a lecture Jan. 10 in the auditorium. His topic will be "Man and Modern Architecture". Colored films will be shown of some of Dow's buildings, after which he will lead an audience participation discussion on architecture.

The lecture will be open to the public and to holders of the fine arts lecture tickets.

Workshop to End With Corwin Play

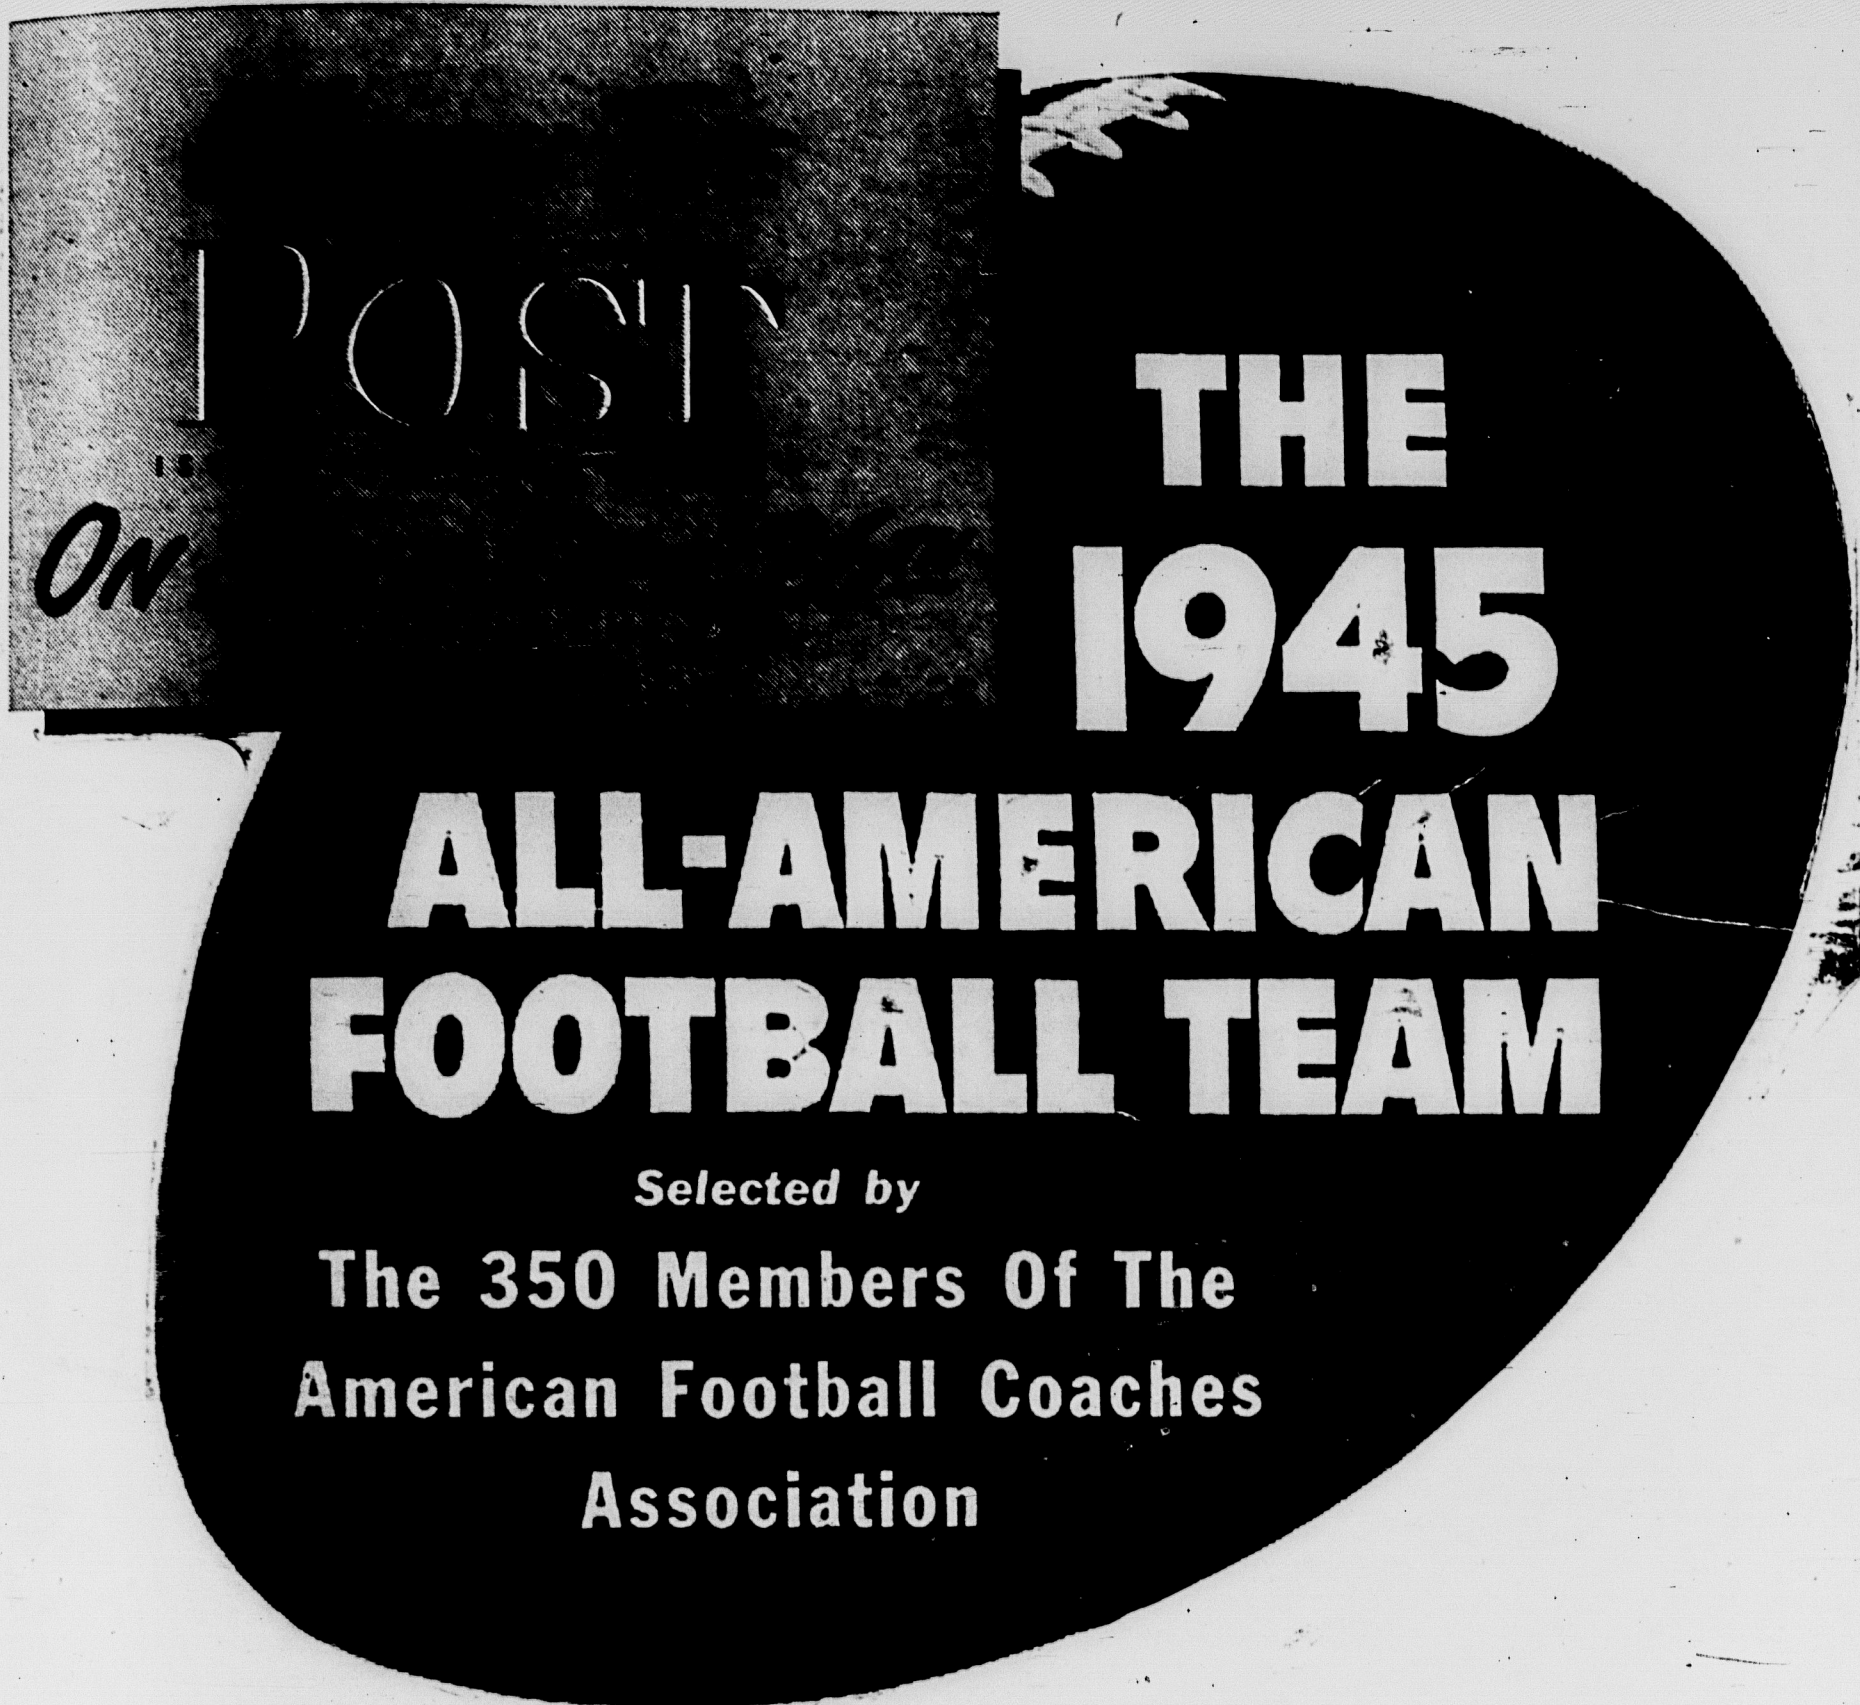

Radio workshop will present its last broadcast of this term next Wednesday at 4 p.m. over WKAR, director Paul Geisenhof has announced. The story "The Plot to Overthrow Christmas" by Norman Corwin, is written in rhymed verse.

Most of the action takes place in Hell, where all the underworld characters are planning a way to take the joy out of the Christmas season.

The cast for the program in-

FOOTBALL TEAM

Selected by

The 350 Members Of The

American Football Coaches

Association

HERE, at last, is an All-American football team selected by the men best qualified to judge—the football coaches of the nation.

It's the first time in the history of college football that any publication has been privileged to announce a selection from the top authorities in the game.

350 COACHES TO VOTE

These are the men who have set the college football stage—discovered, trained and turned out the players. Together, they have witnessed all of the good football in the entire season.

NEW METHOD OF JUDGING

During each week of the football season, coaches watched with trained eyes every man who looked like All-American material. Week after week, these reports were filed with the Association, tabulated, and returned to the coaches for a careful study and a final, end-of-season vote.

The men who made this final All-American team are the real "Who's Who" among the nation's players, as selected by the "Who's Who" among the men best qualified to judge.

Don't miss the American Football Coaches Association 1945 All-American Team in the December 29th issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

Again the Post pioneers in a sports venture of interest to millions of fans. To keep up with all that's new in the nation's favorite sports—be sure to read the Post every week.

1945 Spartan Football Season Passes In Review

With the college grid season over for this year, let's take a final look at the game and individual statistics and determine just what the Spartans did or didn't do.

Football with all its colorful tradition returned to the nation this year, and State stayed right along with it. The Spartans took on a tougher nine game schedule, tougher than last year in that they were not limited to civilian teams.

Trounced in their opening game by Michigan to the tune of 40-0, the Spartans displayed just what could be expected from them in the way of a hard going club when they defeated the Kentucky Wildcats the following Saturday 7-6, and after traveling to Pittsburgh, they pulled one of their two big upsets of the year by licking the Panthers 12-7.

Returning home once more, and this time victorious, the Spartans embarked on a series of five home games, of which they won three, tied one, and lost one. They opened the series by defeating the Wayne Tartars for the eighth consecutive time, 27-7.

Fans that witnessed the Marquette battle saw the Spartans at one of their peaks, battling the Hilltoppers to a 13-13 tie. A vengeance-seeking Missouri team was nipped in its Tiger-lily bud by the Spartans who rolled over it 14-0.

Great Lakes next invaded the college, and set State way back on its collective heels by drowning the Spartans 27-7. Half-back Frank Aschenbrenner, formerly from Marquette, put on one of the finest shows seen this year on the college field when he scampered 90 yards for a touchdown and also accounted for half of the Hilltoppers points.

The big upset came with Penn State. Lauded in the East as a powerful aggregation, they were downed 33-0 by the Spartans in one of the nation's big upsets for the years. Russ Reader, ace halfback, passed and ran the ball for three of State's touchdowns in that game.

For what the Spartans did or didn't do, let's have a look at the compiled statistics for the facts.

	MSC	Opponents
Yards rushing	840	1,328
Yards passing	798	497
Total yardage	1,638	1,825
Number punt returns	24	34
Yardage on returns	551	258
Kickoffs	29	25
Distance on kickoffs	1,364	1,239
Total points	113	128

Individual statistics vary a great deal in all fields of play. Russ Reader topped the list. In rushing he carried the ball a total of 70 times and picked up 201 yards, and passing 90 times for a total of 617 yards. He returned 18 punts for 189 yards and tallied 35 of State's collective points.

Breslin followed Reader in accomplishments. Carrying the ball a total of 112 times, he gained a total of 361 yards, passed four times for a negative two yards, punted a total of 43 times for a combined yardage of 1,637, and scored 27 of the Spartan points.

Steve Contos ran third in scoring, gaining a total of 193 yards from rushing, and caught 39 passes for a total of 265 yards. He also added 18 points to the Spartan tally card. Don Hendricks, replacement for Breslin at fullback, chalked up 168 yards in 41 running attempts, and punted six times for 165 yards. He also added 18 points to the 113 for the season.

State's two top freshman ends, Warren Huey and Nick Zeigler, ran up a number of yards by snagging passes. Huey caught six passes for 81 yards, and Zeigler caught eight tosses for 117 yards.

Walt Vezmar, 240-pound tackle, accounted for the most time played, with a total of 384 minutes. He averaged more than 40 minutes per game, and was in the entire 60 minutes against Kentucky. Contos ran second with 374 minutes, playing 58 and 59 minutes against Missouri and Kentucky, respectively.

Playing 58 minutes against Missouri, Bob Lamsles ran up a total of 360 minutes for the season. Tackle Kent Esbaugh followed with 351 minutes, and he also played 60 minutes against Kentucky.

The remainder of the list ran as follows: Johnson, 330; Breslin, 321; Huey, 312; Zeigler, 273; Reader, 269; Conti, 132; Pagel, 259; Black, 224; Massuch, 103; Ludwig, 123, and Hendrick, 191.

The final game statistics read: with 361 running plays, the Spartans gained a total of 1,287, and lost 325 for a total gain of 962 yards; while in passing, out of 167 tosses, 88 were completed and 12 intercepted for a total of 958 yards, giving a combined total of 1,920 yards for the nine game season.

Western Conference Devises New System to Pick Big-Ten Champ

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP) — The Western Conference which yesterday devised a system for determining an annual Big Ten football champion by counting tie games as half won and half lost, today set dates for its 1946 spring sports championship meets following a day-long schedule session.

Conference swimming, wrestling and indoor track championships all will be determined March 8 and 9, with the swim meet scheduled at the University of Minnesota, the wrestling meet at the University of Illinois and the indoor track meet at the University of Chicago.

Tennis, golf and outdoor track meets were slated for the weekend of May 30-June 1, with the tennis championships at Northwestern University opening May 30, the outdoor track meet at Illinois May 31-June 1 and the golf tournament at Northwestern also May 31-June 1.

Coaches at the annual conference meeting announced the following University of Michigan Spring schedules:

Tennis, April 26 at Purdue; April 27, Michigan and Purdue at Indiana (tentative); May 4, Illinois; May 11, Chicago; May 16, at Northwestern; May 17, Michigan and Ohio State at Northwestern (triangular); May 18, Minnesota and Michigan at Chicago (triangular).

Wrestling: Jan. 19, at Indiana; Jan. 26, Purdue; Feb. 2, at Wisconsin; Feb. 9, at Illinois; Feb. 15, Ohio State; Feb. 23, Michigan State; March 2, at Northwestern.

3-C Cross Country Run Might See Revival at Big Conference Talks

Items up for consideration in the discussions of the Central Collegiate conference coaches include the resumption of the 3-C cross country run in order to provide an additional conference venture.

The conference suspended its annual distance runs in 1938 when officials voted to expand competition under sponsorship of the National Collegiate Athletic association. The NCAA meets have been held at State ever since. Dates and locations will also be decided upon for the 1946 indoor and outdoor track meets.

The electronic era may be "rough on rats." Soon to be placed on the market will be an electronic rat trap.

State Relays Return To College Fieldhouse

State's indoor track coach Karl A. Schlademan announced that the tentative date for the 24th running of the Michigan State relays. The meet will be held Saturday, Feb. 9 has been set as in the Jenison fieldhouse.

Last year the relays were held in Ann Arbor under the direction of the University of Michigan, and by agreement are being returned to State where they were founded, Schlademan said.

Final Examination Schedule

Final examinations will be given during the regular class periods during the week of December 10-14.

SPARTAN PLAYERS

By ART ROSS

Ollie White, Ex-Navigator Makes Comeback On Basketball Court

One of the many returning servicemen who is rapidly re-establishing himself in Spartan athletic circles is Ollie White from Cleveland, Ohio.

Not so long ago, White was a first lieutenant aboard a B-24 bomber operating in the European Theater. His position aboard the bomber was that of navigator. He has really done a bit of travelling, visiting such countries as Italy, Germany and Russia. The influence of these areas on White has apparently been felt, because since he has returned to college he has enrolled in both Spanish and Russian classes.

Letter in '42

White stands an inch over six feet, and weighs about 190 pounds. He earned his first letter as a cager back in 1942, when State had a very fine cage squad that included the sharp-shooting Chet Aubuchon. It was during that season that State defeated a strong Great Lakes team that had no less than five "All-Americans" on its roster.

White's court experience will prove a tremendous asset to Spartan hopes, during the grinding 21-game season being played by the Spartans this year. Ollie is a guard and his tight defensive play has been a feature of his performances in the two games played to date.

Offensive Player

He leaves little to be desired on offensive also, throwing six points in the opener with Michigan and seven more last Wednesday against the Bluejacket quintet. Three different occasions this brief season, have seen White help to open up the opponents' defense just when it seemed that State would have difficulty penetrating it.

Ollie will be a handy man to have around in the future rapid succession of games starting with the Minnesota tilt on Dec. 24.

Spartans Face Tough Year; Outcome Uncertain

Combination of Coach, Players Work To Determine Worth of State Five

By BILL PAGE

With their opening two games behind them, State's basketball team has resumed practice once more in preparation for their next tough opponent, the cagers from Minnesota. Although the game is over two weeks away, the Spartans will have light daily workouts during exam week. After that all of the men will be given a vacation, but for some it will be very short.

Regular scrimmages will be resumed on the 18th of this month among the members of the squad retained by Coach Ben Van Alstyne for the holiday games.

Four Home Games

Following the Minnesota game, on Christmas eve State's team will travel to Columbus, O., to play Ohio State's Big Ten outfit Dec. 27th. They will then return home for a four-game stint beginning with Syracuse on Jan. 2.

Head basketball coach Van Alstyne is faced with a rather delicate problem during this season's play. He must find some way to give six forwards, six guards, and three top centers enough game experience to develop their obvious ability, while at the same time he must have his strongest five on the floor most of the time, if State is to hold its own against such perennial powerhouses as Notre Dame, Michigan, Kentucky, and Ohio State.

Lettermen and Newcomers

Aside from the ten former lettermen out for this year's squad, Van Alstyne says there are at least five newcomers whose potential ability is such that they need only actual game experience to bloom into real college ball players.

One of the more promising of these men is Johnny Granack, a freshman from Hammond, Ind. A good shot with either hand, Granack has proven in practice that he is the steady type of ball player who instinctively does the right thing most of the time. It is unlikely that he will bump either Sam Fortino or Robin Roberts out of the starting lineup, but if he continues to improve as he has in the last four weeks, the odds are good that he will see a great deal of action.

Newcomer Star

Another likely newcomer to State's squad is center Matt Mazza, from Niagara Falls, N. Y. Mazza got a late start in practice with his football schedule interfering, and is probably not playing at his best. He has already shown that he is aggressive under the backboard and possesses a potential scoring punch which could possibly take some of the burden from Fortino and Roberts.

Tony Waldren, from Wisconsin, has the disadvantage of being small in height for a regular college guard, but his speed has done a lot to make up for this. An all-state prep school star, Waldren is a good long shot artist, and is rated among the best of the State squad in defensive play.

Future Outlook

Although two games could hardly furnish enough evidence to support any kind of prophecies concerning the rest of the basketball season, State students have grounds for a few reasonable predictions.

For one thing, Spartan fans can be sure that they will see the kind of games that are thrilling to watch. Van Alstyne has assembled an aggressive, fast moving outfit that will give battle to every opposing team. Wednesday's overtime battle with Great Lakes showed that the Spartans have the spark necessary to come from behind.

The fact that the Bluejackets won should not detract from the fact that for 40 minutes the State team played at least on even terms with one of the best service teams in the country.

One of the big reasons for this showing was the play of Robin Roberts, forward from Springfield, Ill. Six feet tall and weighing 185 pounds, Roberts is big enough and rough enough to be a good man on rebounds.

Veteran Player

Last year he joined the team shortly after the schedule got underway, and rapidly developed into one of the Spartan's leading scorers. Along with Fortino, he sparked the drive to a successful season. This year Roberts seems to have already reached a point where he can play the whole game without losing any of his aggressiveness.

He is deadly on one hand push shots, and is also a fine "feeder" and pivot man. Mel Riebe, Great Lakes captain and former pro star, had many words of praise for Roberts after Wednesday's hard fought game.

Others Play Well

Although all of the Spartans played well in the Bluejacket affair, it hardly seems fair to let the game slip by without special mention of Sam Fortino and Jack Cawood. Fortino has not yet reached his peak, but his role as a ball hawk and point maker in State's first two games gives ample reason for his selection last week as the outstanding collegiate cageman in the state.

Cawood, on the other hand, almost assumed the hero role Wednesday as he tied the game with only one second to go and then put the Spartans ahead with another quick basket to start the overtime period.

Record Uncertain

It's hard to be very optimistic about the team's final record after the first two games were dropped. This year's schedule is the toughest ever attempted by a State basketball team.

However, last year's team started at a slow pace; and then in mid-season suddenly showed a reversal of form which resulted not only in a stunning upset of Kentucky, considered one of the country's best quintets, but also set a new season scoring record for a State team.

Whether this year's squad can duplicate this feat hinges on a number of "ifs." If State can continue to play the aggressive, heads-up brand of ball they played against Great Lakes; if a smooth functioning five can be gleaned from the Spartans' well-stocked roster.

If the team can improve its showing under the basket over what it showed last Wednesday; if the undoubted scoring abilities of Fortino and Roberts can be bolstered by some other steady point maker, then the Spartan basketball team may well have a successful season ahead of them.

Walter Mack Elected Pilot Cross Country

Lauren Brown, Spartan cross country coach, announced this week that Walter Mack has been elected by his team mates as honorary captain for the past season and to act as captain for the 1946 season.

Brown also said that the following awards would be made for this season, Major letter winners: Walter Mack; minor letters: Donald Thaden, Paul Steadman, Howard Phillips, Richard Zobel, Walter Kalmbach, Larry Johns, and Wayne Finkbeiner. Numerals were awarded to Richard Nyquist as manager.

Tankmen Eye Coming Meet Doubtfully

The swimming season doesn't get officially under way until the middle of next term, nevertheless it has been many a day since coach Charles McCaffree and the squad began daily workouts.

Coming AAU

If nothing interferes several of its members are slated to participate in the coming AAU meet to be held at Ann Arbor Dec. 15.

However, final exams are the important thing this coming week and practice will be suspended. This leaves in doubt whether or not McCaffree will enter anyone as he states, "it is sure suicide to send an unprepared team to the AAU."

Possible Entries

It is a certainty that State will not send a full team to the meet, however there are several members of the team who will possibly be sent to represent the school. Among those who seem certain to attend are Donald Durbin, Bob Kenyon, and Ross Douglas, in the diving, John De Mond, Jim Quigley, and Capt. Jim Thomas in the free style relay. A fourth member is yet to be selected. Pat Patterson, the strongest entry, will compete in the 100 yard backstroke.

Anyone who is interested in a paying position as a State News carrier should leave his name, address and telephone number at the State News office, according to Jane Walker, circulation manager.

This weekend Coach McCaffree will be in Chicago where he plans to complete the schedule for the regular season. While in Chicago, he intends to engage several Big Ten schools as opponents for the Spartan swimmers.

With the AAU meet, activity will be suspended until after Christmas when the squad will return to get in shape for the events of the coming season that McCaffree is planning.

Facts Find Reader, Contos, Breslin Top Spartan Football Men for Year

Statistics tell the story for three State football players who are slated for individual citation when announcement is made of outstanding gridiron achievement during the 1945 season.

Noteworthy in the Spartan record of five victories, three defeats and one tie is the work of halfbacks Russ Reader and Steve Contos and fullback Jack Breslin.

Reader Stars

It is generally agreed that but for Reader, a left halfback, this year's Spartan football team might have been a team of Joes. Figures tell how Reader, a former Michigan high school low hurdles champion, sparked the Spartans into victories over Kentucky, Pittsburgh, Missouri, Wayne and Penn State.

The Dearborn sophomore appeared on the scene too late to get into the season's opener against Michigan, which the Spartans lost by a 40-0 score, but against Kentucky Reader launched a blazing career that has sportswriters and fans talking of him in glowing terms.

Passing Percentage

In eight games, Reader completed 53 forward passes in 90 attempts for a percentage of .589. His passes accounted for 617 yards as compared to 497 air yards picked up by State's nine opponents.

Although he devoted most of his time to passing, Reader displayed bruising power as a runner. The 195-pound speed merchant netted 201 yards in 70 tries at account for 818 of State's 1,920 total offense record. Michigan State's opponents netted 1,825 yards in total offense.

Punt Returns

Reader handled most of the punt returns gaining 189 yards on 18 occasions. In the Marquette game, which ended in a 13-13 tie, Reader nearly broke away for touchdowns on State's only two kickoff occasions as he reeled off 59 and 45 yard runs before being hauled down.

It was Reader's touchdown that defeated Missouri 14-7, and he rated an all-time masterpiece in State's history when he shook off five tacklers in a 50-yard spring to score. He was the Spartan's leading scorer with 35 points.

Contos Leading Receiver

Contos, a right halfback, was the team's leading pass receiver. Despite the work of two good ends, he collected 31 passes for a total of 265 yards. Most of the tosses originated from the hands of Reader, and the number ranked him among the nation's leaders.

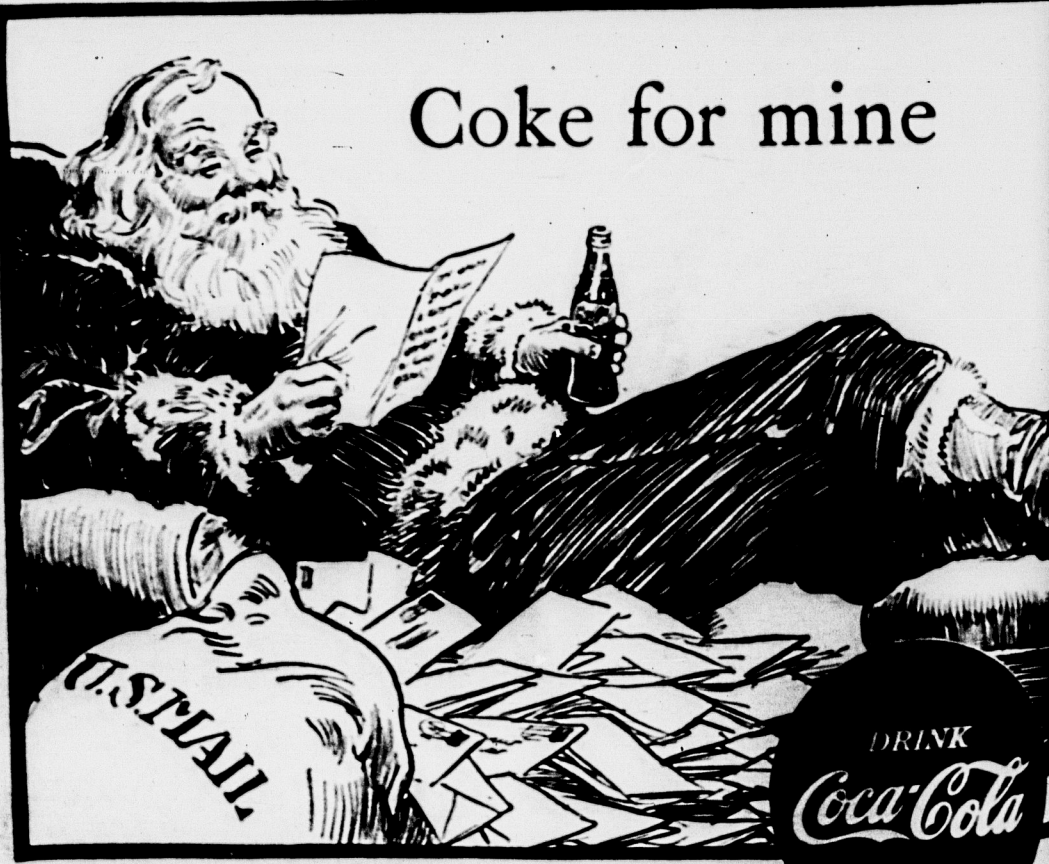

Largely through the efforts of fullback Jack Breslin, the Spartans out-distanced their opponents in punting with a comparative average of 37.1 to 34.4 yards per kick. In all seven games, Breslin handled the kicking assignments but the chief work in this department was done by Breslin who kicked 43 times for nearly a 39-yard average per try. A right foot injury suffered early in the season cut Breslin's record down from his 40.80 average that ranked him the third best kicker in the nation last year.

One of State's chief weapons was Breslin's quick kick, a gem which Spartan assistant coach John Pingle, ranks Breslin among the nation's best. Breslin will appear in the annual East-West Shrine game in San Francisco on New Year's day.

Two-Day Conference Ends for Secondary School Delegates

LANSING, Dec. 7.—Waiting up their two-day conference here today, more than 200 delegates attending the Michigan secondary school association annual conference were warned that the high schools must make changes or they will be replaced with another type of institution.

Dr. F. C. Rosencrance, professor of education at Northern Michigan university, declared, "We can't live in a changing society and maintain a static secondary school program." He said it was possible that the high school would be replaced just as the academy had been replaced by the college. He pointed out that the time is past for school administrators to regard themselves as "glorified office managers" and suggested they should assume definite positions for educational leadership.

Pearl Harbor Investigation Hears General

Japanese Code Broken: Secret Honored By '44 Election Candidate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told today how Gov. Thomas Dewey complied with his request to see the 1944 Japanese code that might have helped the Japanese that United States had cracked their code.

The retired chief of staff told the joint committee investigating Pearl Harbor that he informed the Republican nominee of the very tragic consequences that might flow from any revelation of the code cracking secret in the Japanese arguments over the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Dewey, he said, not only held his own silence but also offered the election to help still congressional debate. The late President Roosevelt, Marshall testified, did not know he had made his appeal to the New Yorker and added he thought he died without knowing it.

Marshall's two letters to Dewey were introduced in evidence and Marshall in oral testimony told the investigators of the circumstances there.

There were two letters because Dewey declined to be bound by stipulation that he must not reveal its contents to anyone. He read the first one unread to the very officer who took it to him. The second, practically identical, was read by Dewey under agreement that he might have one more present and keep one.

One was dated Sept. 15 and the other Sept. 25, 1944. During a speech in congress by Wm. Harness (R., Ind.) on a question of a Pearl Harbor investigation, Marshall wrote that Wm. Harness might not so interpret the speech would mean the Japanese that their codes were being deciphered here.

The Japanese disaster at Midway where he knew their location and strength, the amazing American submarine successes because he knew where their ships would be, Admiral Hall's great raids on shipping concentrations.

The general, under committee questioning, said later that he did not actually know at the time of the first letter that Dewey had had knowledge of code break-

MSC Graduate Earns Directorship in Ag

Named by federal appointment to the Veterans' administration as director of agricultural education and senior training officer for agricultural occupations in 83 counties in Michigan, is Leonard Morse, Michigan State graduate.

Engaged in Michigan public school work for more than 25 years, Morse has held district presidencies in the Michigan Education Association on several occasions. For 17 years, he held combination positions as superintendent of schools and the teacher of agriculture in Morrice, Stockbridge, Grass Lake and has been instructor of agriculture at Oscoda Township school.

Combined Police Departments Give East Lansing, College, Double Duty

Situated "kitty corner" from Agricultural hall stands the building that is the hub of all the law enforcement activities on the campus. Aside from its obvious duty of maintaining peace and tranquility on the campus, the college police department operate in close co-ordination with the East Lansing police department.

The college police force is under the jurisdiction of the newly-appointed East Lansing police head, Lt. William L. Mann. Lt. Howard Simcox, ranking officer of the college section, has under him four patrolmen and a number of students enrolled in police administration who patrol the area on foot and in squad cars.

November proved to be an average month in that the complaints were divided into four disorderly conducts, 36 larcenies, one missing person and one accident. Tickets issued included 49 summonses, five parking tickets and 234 warning tickets.

Among the miscellaneous, 56 persons were fingerprinted, police cars were employed as ambulances for 15 hospital calls and $2,287 worth of property was recovered, according to Simcox.

Christmas seals were first sold in this country in 1907.

Students in Basic 112 Get Right to Stacks

Basic 112 students who want to obtain access to the stacks may do so by spending six hours time divided as they wish in becoming acquainted with the books and periodicals in their bibliographies, college librarians revealed recently.

Volunteer assistants, chosen from those who pass a test based on the information on the library in the Syllabus for Written and Spoken English, will be on hand to aid the students. However, every student coming into the stacks will be expected to study the system of arrangement of books in a library and so be able to help himself.

Ag Extension Men Schedule Four Day Meeting at MSC

The annual agricultural extension conference will take place at MSC from Dec. 17 to 20, Dean L. Anthony said yesterday. Michigan agricultural extension agents from every county in Michigan will be at the annual conference for purposes of coordination and to make general plans for the next several months.

Many members of the MSC agricultural and extension staffs will take part in the conference. Among these will be R. J. Baldwin, extension director, extension, Prof. C. V. Ballard, and Dean Anthony of the School of Agriculture.

Prominent out of state visitors will be the noted economist, Theodore Schultz of the University of Chicago and M. L. Wilson of the federal extension service, Washington, D.C.

PanHellenic to Give Books To Prospective Rushees

Sororities Will Give Teas For Rushing Program

PanHellenic will give out handbooks to all freshman and transfer students interested in formal rushing winter term Monday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the lower deck of the Union, according to Pres. Mary Slack, St. Louis, Mo., senior. The books will contain an explanation of rushing rules, schedule of parties, financial statements, and discussions of sorority life. After Monday they may be obtained at the counsel or of women's office.

Scholastic Records

Miss Slack also announced that no active or alumni organization may give parties during the Christmas vacation. She reminded women planning to go through formal rushing to bring back the report of their scholastic record sent to their parents during vacation. Marks are to be brought to the counselor of women's office in the Union annex from 12 noon until 5 p.m. Jan. 5.

At this time women may sign up for rushing and will receive 16 cards to the introductory teas, which will start Jan. 6. During the teas, eligible women may visit any of the houses. Parties held after the introductory teas are by invitation only.

Adopted this fall, the new honor system of deferred rushing allows women to be rushed only after they have been on campus one term, exclusive of summer school, and have an all-college one point average.

Convocation

All freshman women should attend the PanHellenic convocation which will be held at 7 p.m. Jan. 4 in Fairchild-theater. The president, membership chairman, and alumnae advisor of each sorority may also attend, Miss Slack said.

There will be no charge made to women going through rushing, but in the advent that they are pledged, a fee of $2 will be charged by the council.

Handbook Shows Exam Week Rules

Exam week hours for women living in college-approved residences were announced yesterday by Elizabeth Corbishley, housing director for women.

These rules are the same as those listed in the AWS handbook, except for the regulation governing final closing hours. All dorms, co-ops, and off-campus houses will close officially at 5 p.m. next Friday instead of at 8 p.m. as stated in the handbook.

Any woman wishing to remain in her residence later than 5 p.m. or more than 24 hours after her last examination must see the Counselor for Women.

No overnight guests will be allowed in the dorms the week-end before exams or during final week and late permissions may be used.

MSC Coed Groups Announce Plans For Annual Spin

Again State women will reserve the right to drag their favorite man to one of the big semi-formal dances of winter term. The Cinderella Spin party date has been set for January 18 in the Union ballroom, according to co-chairmen Marj Green, East Lansing sophomore, and Wilma Frederick, Detroit senior.

Known as the Spinster Spin during the war years, the dance is sponsored by Spartan Women's league, Mortar Board, Town Girls and Tower Guard.

Because of the limited ticket supply, women should "bid" their men early, according to Miss Green and Miss Frederick.

Big Sister Council Reveals Plans

Big-sister council has announced plans that are underway to register first-term freshmen women who will enroll at State in January, and to acquaint them with the college through the means of Big Sisters.

Because of the comparatively small number of new women this winter as compared to fall term, an entirely different procedure will be followed, according to Jean Zook, Holland, N.Y., senior, and co-chairman of the council.

A booth will be set up at registration where all new freshmen coeds will give their name and other pertinent information. When the list is complete, upperclassmen will be assigned to each woman as a big sister.

Any woman desiring to have a little sister next term, and who is not now registered with the council should get in touch with it before the end of the term.

International Club Slates Open Party

International center will bring its fall term activities to a close tomorrow at 8 p.m. with a Christmas party to which all students and faculty members are invited, according to Director Dr. Shao Chang Lee.

Highlighting the party will be an evening of Christmas carol singing, plus a film on Brazil, Dr. Lee said.

-The Women's World- Plans For The Week

HELEN GOVER, Editor

With final week looming, the close of one of the busiest terms for MSC women is at hand. Not only have they had to carry on the regular women's activities, but also they have had the job of getting the campus in shape for the returning men students. Most of the coed activities have drawn to a close for the term, but a few are still functioning.

Members of Tower Guard, honorary for sophomore women, will meet tonight at 6:30 on the upper deck of the Union. From there they have made plans to journey to the tuberculosis sanitarium where they will sing Christmas carols. All women have been asked to bring their song sheets.

Orientation leaders have been asked by their chairman Ginna Fellows, Birmingham senior, to turn their leader and student rating sheets in to the AWS office in the Union by noon on Monday.

Sue Averill, Birmingham senior and president of AWS, announced early this week that all special working permits that have been issued this term will not be valid for next term. As these permits are based and are issued on the strength of grade point averages they must be renewed each term.

Big Sister council wishes to remind all women who are interested in being big sisters to the new freshmen next term that they should get in touch with Jean Zook, Holland, N.Y., senior and co-chairman of the council.

All freshmen and transfer students who intend to go through rushing next term must bring the grade report that is sent to their parents back with them in January. These must be presented at the counselor for women's office. A one point all-college average is required.

Handbooks containing rushing rules, schedules of parties, financial statements, and explanations of sorority life, will be distributed Monday from 12 noon to 5 p.m. on the lower deck of the Union by PanHellenic council, according to Pres. Mary Slack, St. Louis, Mo., senior.

ATOs Will Oust KDs As Veterans Return

One sure sign of the end of the war will come when the frilly curtains disappear from the windows of the Kappa Delta house. For the ATO's are back from the foxholes and the flight decks to take over their house on Evergreen the last of January.

The KD's exchanged houses with the Alpha Tau Omegas last year when the fall-off in the fraternity quota obliged the men to move to a smaller house. With the number of Alpha Taus on campus increasing steadily since V-J day, they have found it necessary to reclaim their own house.

Some of the Kappa Delta women will move back into their others will move back into the house on Abbott road, while dormitories.

This exchange is the first of many such moves, as many of the sororities have been living in fraternity houses which were vacated for the duration.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

WITH the end of this term's competitive sports comes promise of an even fuller and more exciting time next term. Four major sports have been organized and the entries have been tabulated.

The basketball tournament under the direction of Kitty Weiss, Detroit junior, will be composed of 41 teams which is an increase of 12 over last year's entries. These teams are made up of women who may or may not represent any certain dorm, sorority or group.

Marge Yerkey, Goodrich junior, is in charge of the bowling meets which will get under way early in the term. Forty-two teams will compete to decide the winner of this intramural sport.

A total of 38 teams will participate in the swimming meets, according to Doris Pick, Grosse Pointe junior, organizer of the winter pool battles. The intramural meet will be divided up into two blocks, with a total of 11 events in diving and swimming for speed and form.

A grand total of 120 entries has been received for the singles tournament in badminton by Gloria Oster, Highland Park junior, who is in charge of the competitive matches.

Four Michigan State women are entering the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union swimming meet that is to be held in the varsity swimming pool in Ann Arbor next Saturday. They are Ruth Garret, Detroit junior; Doris Pick, Grosse Pointe, sophomore; Jean Proctor, Detroit junior, and Betty Rypsam, Detroit sophomore.

All four women will enter the 50 yard free style race, while Miss Proctor will enter also the 50 yard back crawl event. Only two events are being held for women in this year's MAAU meet.

CIO-UAW Asks Investigation of GM

FBI Probe Views Anti-Trust Claim Of Union Heads

DETROIT, Dec. 7 (AP) — A government investigation of General Motors corporation under anti-trust laws was disclosed today while the corporation and the CIO United Auto workers wrangled in their wage dispute.

The department of justice in Washington confirmed a union announcement that it was inquiring into operations of the corporation, which has been crippled for 14 days by a strike. The union had asked such a probe.

Representatives of the corporation and union meanwhile recessed a bargaining session until Monday, reporting little progress in the attempt to settle the UAW-CIO's demand for a 30 percent wage rate increase within General Motors' present price structure.

Only the Beginning

GM officials said there would be no company statement on today's negotiating session, but Walter Reuther, UAW vice president, told a press conference:

"The 13½ cent an hour offer is only the beginning. The corporation will give more and more and more and finally will wrap it up and we'll all go back to work."

He referred to GM's Thursday offer to reinstate the 13½ cent increase, which the UAW rejected shortly before the strike was called at GM plants in 20 states.

FBI Investigates GM

As today's bargaining session was going on, the office of Pres. R. J. Thomas of the union announced that Attorney General Tom B. Clark was investigating General Motors with a view to determining whether GM was in violation of anti-trust laws.

Clark declined comment, but the justice department said the attorney general had sent this telegram to Thomas: "The department has been investigating several anti-trust cases of the type you mention, among which is General Motors. Glad to receive any additional information."

Weekly Letter to Men in the Service

December 8, 1945

DEAREST Johnny,

Merry Christmas and Ta Ta! I'm all through classes and am waiting patiently for exam week to roll around. And since this is the last paper until Jan. 4, I won't be writing you about the doin's of State. So now I'll just have to fill up my letters with unprintable sweet nothings.

Have decided to be real practical this winter so got you a nice sweater that fits me. Hope you don't mind.

Lots of things are being planned for next term. They have already started working on the new women's dormitory. Went over there last night to see how they were getting along with the construction. Almost fell in a big hole. Looks like the 30 years' war here with all the trenches.

Know you'll be interested in the senior election results. Jack Breslin is our senior president and with all the honors he's been getting lately he's practically in a class all by himself. But the best thing about it is that he's such a good guy.

AWS has made a new ruling whereby the women can use late permissions on Sunday nights now. Don't suppose you'll think that that is anything to get excited about, but it might be. Guess I told you about the night classes next term. They really are going into it wholeheartedly with each department offering several night courses.

We lost our first home basketball game with Great Lakes, but I've never spent such an exciting evening. First they were up and then they were down. Our next game is with Minnesota on Dec. 24. Wish I could see it but I'll be busy hanging up my stocking.

At this point my brain has bogged down to practically two cylinders and I can't even think of anything to say to you, sweetie pie. (I know you love that.)

But, Merry Christmas, Big Boy, and I hope you are back by next Christmas. I miss you.

Love,

DEE

MSC Speakers' Organization Has Round-the-Globe Act

In the eight years that the Student Speakers bureau has been an active organization on campus, it has presented 2,200 programs throughout the state of Michigan before an estimated audience of 225,000.

With subjects ranging from "Life in the Caribbean" to "How to Write Poetry", the 35 students under the direction of Irene Wade, Muskegon Heights, graduate assistant in speech, have presented their discussions. Among this number are students from Hawaii, China, Lithuania, Costa Rica and India.

The following students are listed as speakers:

Valerie Strong, Toronto, Ont.; Janet Smith, Rutherford, N. J.; Marian and Lyla Chose, Decca, India; Tobl Goldofas, Detroit (formerly of Kaunas, Lithuania); Shirley Wood, East Lansing; Gretchen Wright, Vickery, O.; Lynn Burleson, Detroit; Mariano Chaverri, Heredia, Costa Rica; Annie Kam Sau Tom, Honolulu, Hawaii; Dr. Shih-Li-Hsu, Lanchow, China; Marianne Unger, New York City; Robert McMillan, Detroit.

Marjorie McCallum, Mary True, Ann Arbor; Gardner, Detroit; Patricia Trenton; Helen North; Gloria Leinback, Trenton; Helmer, Lansing; Bardens, Lowell, Ind.; Byrnes, Lansing; John Ald, Grand Ledge; Cline, Jefferson, Tex.; Paraden; Janice Fisher.

Martha Green, Lansing; nis Murphy, Pekin, Ill.; Needels, Flint; Margaret Jackson; June Wilkinson; son; Janet Marston, Florida; Atkinson, O.; Heights, O.; Margaret Dearborn; and Grace Robinson, Ill.

Sponsored by the department of speech and dramatic operation with other departments, the bureau presents the opportunity of giving practical experience in form discussion. In addition, the speakers' section has sections devoted to one-act plays and drama drill.

Olin Health Center Shows Increase In Patients

College health center has received 3,694 clinic calls for the month of November. Dr. C. F. Holland, director, has revealed.

More students have been handled in this month than in the same period last year. Men admitted this month number 1,495 in comparison to 881 in November, 1944. Women patients have risen from 1,778 to 1,937 for the same dates, Holland added.

A total of 471 days were spent in the hospital by students during the month, a decrease of 27 days from the same period last year, Holland said. The average time spent in the hospital was 1.8 days, nearly one day less than November last.

One hundred fifty-four men students and 107 women students were hospitalized last month, Holland stated.

He also announced regular office hours now in effect at the center: 8 to 11 a.m. daily except Sunday; 2 to 4 p.m. daily except Saturday and Sunday. The staff believes consideration of these hours will result in better service for the student.

Truman Denies Hurley's Claim Against Undersecretary

Byrnes Tells Committee
Ex-Ambassador Shows
No Basis For Charge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—
Gen. Patrick J. Hurley's charge that American policy in Iran had been destroyed by Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson was denied today from President Truman.

The President made his first comment after Secretary of State Byrnes told the senate foreign relations committee that Hurley had failed to back up his charges against the conduct of American policy in China. Byrnes indicated he had never heard of the charge against Acheson until he read in the papers what Hurley had to say.

Get Back Together

President Truman told his new cabinet that General George Marshall as his new special envoy to China, will be directed to bend his energies toward getting all factions together there.
The President said he hoped to be able to make public very soon the instructions under which Marshall will operate.

Could Find No Basis

He told the senate foreign relations committee he could find no basis for the charge that the three men went behind former ambassador Hurley's back to tell Chinese communist leaders that they did not represent American policy.

MSC Horse Show To Be Held Today At Stock Pavilion

The Michigan Association of Western Horse Clubs will sponsor a horse show today at 1 p.m.
at the MSC livestock pavilion.
Professor R. S. Hudson announced yesterday.

Horses from Michigan, Indiana and other states will be entered in the show, which is something new in the horse show business.
It marks the first time the show has been held at MSC.
The show will comprise 13 events and will include more than 100 horses. Some of the events will be model class, western class, Palomino class, and a flag class for women.

MSC will be well represented in the show by college horses and student riders, taking part in the events in all. Among the horses to be entered are prize Arabians.

The prizes offered will total $100. This will include 13 first prizes of $50, second prizes of $25, and third prizes of $10.
The entry fee for the contest is $10, and admission is free for all horse lovers.

Foreign Secretaries Will Meet in Moscow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—
Foreign secretaries of the United States, Britain and Russia will meet in Moscow Dec. 15, the state department announced today to tackle an array of critical international issues including control of atomic energy.

Secretary of State Byrnes is expected to fly to the Russian capital, probably leaving Washington early next week.

It is probable that he will return by Christmas.

This will be the first meeting of Byrnes, Foreign Minister Beveridge of Britain, and Foreign Com-missar Molotov, of Russia, since the breakdown of the London conference of foreign ministers in September.

Calm Pre-exam Weekend Ends Fall Term Social Activities

No more than four social events on campus will mark the end of fall term partying tonight. Holiday thoughts and finals seem to have outplayed social tendencies.

Tonight the Union ballroom will be converted into a South Seas paradise for Abbot hall's semi-formal term party from 9 to midnight. "Flamingo" is the theme and music will be provided by Rosemary Howland and her band.

Entertainment Stated

Patrons in attendance will be Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Lawson, Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Wildon, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Stiles, according to social chairman, Jackie Elliott, Cheboygan sophomore. Entertainment will be under the direction of Margaret Mead, Ann Arbor freshman, and decorations can be credited to Carlene Parker, Grand Rapids junior.

Student club's Christmas party in the People's church tonight from 8 to 11:30 is open to all students on campus, stag-drag. Joyce Lamb, Rockford sophomore, social chairman, said that special entertainment features include a Christmas play, square dancing by guests, and refreshments.

Acting as patrons will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Reuling, Miss Lexie Ferrel, and Earl McCullough.

Sorority Radio Parties

Two sorority parties are also planned to mark the term's end and the Yuletide season. Chi Omegas will be hostesses at an informal radio party at the house from 8 to 12, according to Dorothy Dyé, Birmingham senior. Dancing and bridge will provide the evening's fun, and patrons will be Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Knittle.

Taking over the Forestry cabin for their term party tonight from 8 to 12, Alpha Xi Delta women will entertain their dates with a "North Woods" party. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Loomis and Prof. and Mrs. Jensen will come "North" for the party and officiate as patrons.

Christmas Parties

Three sororities planning Sunday Christmas parties are Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma. Tomorrow morning Alpha Gams are having a Christmas breakfast for their mothers from 9 to 11, according to Joyce Howlett, Howell senior. An interesting program has been planned and gifts will be exchanged.

The Kappas will also exchange gifts after their dinner party for all members tomorrow afternoon. The Thetas will follow suit and gifts later will be sent to a local children's home, according to Jayne Meier, Detroit senior, and Jo Gruel, Detroit senior.

Mrs. Frances Fausold, Washington junior, will read Raymond McDonald Aldin's play "Why the Chimes Rang," tomorrow at the Canterbury club Christmas party. Mary Goodell, Lansing sophomore, will accompany her on the piano.

Kid's Christmas

Y to Honor Children Of Lincoln Center This Afternoon

Children of the Lincoln Community center will be guests at a Christmas party given by YWCA this afternoon at 2:30 in the student parlors of People's church. Libby Dean, Lansing junior, is general chairman of the party.

To make it a big day for the children, everything from music and games, to Santa Claus and a Christmas tree have been planned. Refreshments will also be served by Eleanor Bessonen, Escanaba junior, and her committee.

All YW women planning to attend the party should bring a gift to help fill Santa Claus' bag, and these gifts should be marked for a boy or girl. Santa will be played by Darrell Cook, East Lansing junior. Mary Greene, Deckerville junior, and Peg Farrall, East Lansing sophomore, are in charge of the gifts and the tree.

Other committees are: music, Betty Bolander, Lapeer senior; Christmas story, Mary Jane Wheeler, East Lansing sophomore; and games, Lu Price, Lansing junior.

PORPOISE

The men of Porpoise fraternity wish to thank each women's organization, dorm and sorority, and each candidate for queen of the Aquatic Victory Parade, for their kind cooperation with the recent water show, according to John E. McGrath, president of Porpoise.

Speaker Tonight to Discuss Affairs In Pacific Based on 20 Years Study

A student of Pacific affairs for 20 years, Francis R. Line will present a lecture on problems which face America in the Pacific entitled, "Circle of Fire," in College auditorium tonight at 8:15.

The lecture will be illustrated by color pictures which Line, traveling 25,000 miles by clipper, auto, horse, and steamship, took just before Pearl Harbor. He will interpret these pictures in relation to current happenings and events in the Pacific.

Fears For Future

ope after the first world war and discovered that it is the most important place in the world as far as war or peace is concerned. Line fears that America may tend to forget the Pacific now that the war is over, despite the problems abounding there which will affect the future of every American.

The film opens with the last official pictures to come out of Japan. It shows the conditions of education in schools which must be changed before the Americans can hope for any sort of transformation in Japanese beliefs.

Japanese Problem

Line discusses and illustrates the problem of fealty to the emperor, which the Americans must contend with, and the social conditions which are supposed to be altered under the agreements of the Potsdam conference. Many other aspects of life in Japan are portrayed.

A sequence, "America in the Pacific", concludes the film. This sequence, containing many fine pictorial effects, pictures the Philippines, Guam, and Hawaii.

Enough Said

Requirements Cut

Men students will be held to two years of physical education and two years of military science next term in the place of the former requirement of four years of physical education and two years of military science. Pres. John A. Hannah announced yesterday.

Six months of military service will credit veterans with one year of military science and those having completed one year of service will be credited with two years of military science. Hannah emphasized that full credit will be given to those excused.

Six months of military service will be considered the equivalent of one year of physical education, one year the equivalent of two years of physical education. No credit, however, will be given to those excused.

ROTC to Offer New Course To Veterans

Starting in January, the military department at MSC will offer an advanced course in ROTC open to all war veterans on campus. After completion of two years of college training the graduates of this advanced ROTC course will be commissioned second lieutenants in the reserve army.

All veterans who have had one year of military service and who are not less than 19 years of age or more than 28 years at the time of admission are eligible to enroll in the course.

Veterans who enroll may elect either cavalry or infantry training and three academic credits will be given for five hours of classes per week.

During the two-year course the text books and complete officer's uniform including overcoat and shoes will be furnished. In addition, the advanced ROTC students will be paid a subservient wage equivalent to the garrison ration.

Those veterans who are interested may contact Lt. Col. Gerald Peterson at the military department in Demonstration hall. There will be a meeting in room 14, Demonstration hall, Tuesday at 5 p.m. and all veterans are invited to attend.

14 Coeds to Sing For Teachers of Latin Languages

Participating in the program for a meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese will be 14 Michigan State students as members of the foreign language staff, according to Pres. Stanley Howell, assistant professor of foreign language. The first meeting of the year will be held today.

Songs in Spanish will be sung by Patricia Bullis, Hudson sophomore; Nancy Otis, East Lansing junior; Jean Carr, Grosse Pointe senior; Maurine Nielsen, Lansing sophomore; Gladys Schremer, Grand Rapids sophomore; and Rosemary Severance, East Lansing sophomore.

Others who will participate include Ina Saith, Detroit sophomore; Barbara Wood, Bloomfield Hills junior; Joan Wood, Detroit sophomore; and J. Woolfan, Lansing sophomore.

Barbara Carlson, Flint sophomore, and Marilyn Miller, Detroit sophomore, will alternate at piano accompaniment.
