Stated next to the pictures of candidates for Mardi Gras was a picture of Les Brown, who will bring his band to play for the dance. Unofficial sources say that several confused coeds cast their ballots for the handsome brown. Election officials could not be reached for statements.

Henceforth the watchword of the company, first platoon, ROTC, will be "Stack arms!" After drilling for weeks on battle formation, an army inspector asked the platoon to do close order drill. When the captain said "stack arms" there was a long painful pause, then the men started doing the maneuver each in his own way.

Orchestra, Choir To Give Concert Of U.S. Music

MSC's symphony orchestra and a cappella choir will be presented in a joint all-American concert tonight at 8 in College Auditorium.

Under the direction of Alexander Schuster and William Emmel, respectively, the orchestra and choir will perform the prize-winning composition by John W. Work, "The Singers," which they played by request at the American Composers festival in Detroit May 9.

"Concerto Grosso for String Orchestra and Piano: Obligato," by Ernest Bloch, will be included on the program, with Roy Underwood, head of the music department, at the piano.

In addition, the symphony orchestra will interpret Symphony No. 2 by Howard Hanson, Charles Mifflin, "The White Peacock," and an overture by Owen Reed.

Exhibit Will Feature Art Students' Work

The annual Student Art exhibition, scheduled to open next Monday afternoon, will open as planned. The gallery hours have been extended from 2 to 5 instead of 3 to 5. However, due to the Sorority sing, also scheduled for that afternoon, the gallery opening originally planned for that time will be postponed.

Students planning to bring their families and friends to the exhibit's opening are still welcome to attend.

BITTER TRUTH

Attorney Tells Tojo About 'Hubba-Hubba'

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP) — Hideki Tojo, Japanese premier, finally has learned what "hubba hubba" means.

In a letter to a friend in Washington, John W. Fihelly, former assistant U.S. attorney here, who is one of the prosecutors in the war criminal trial of Tojo, said the ex-premier asked him the meaning of the American expression.

Fihelly told Tojo it meant "hurry, hurry."

"Ah so," Tojo said. "Very interesting. Often the guards here prod me in the ribs and say 'hubba, hubba.' I always thought it meant 'remember Pearl Harbor.'"

Missionary Takes Bible Courses At MSC

By MORTON D. SMERLING

'Unusual' is a fitting word to describe special student William Forner, who is attending Bible and religious education classes at State this term.

An itinerant missionary, Forner describes himself as "a layman engaged in religious work." His unique occupation has taken him to many parts of the country. He came to East Lansing from Lake Odessa.

Enters Bible School

Born in New York City 54 years ago, Forner was taken by his parents to San Francisco where he spent his childhood and youth. After attending Dews preparatory school and the University of California, he entered the Glad Tidings institute, a Bible school.

Upon graduation, Forner received a certificate to preach for the Assemblies of God, but abandoned this position soon

Miners-Operators Reject Arbitration By U.S. President

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — John L. Lewis and coal operators tonight rejected a presidential proposal that they submit their dispute to binding arbitration.

President Truman immediately cancelled a weekend trip to Missouri in order to seek some new method of averting another walkout of soft coal miners when the present truce expires May 25.

Refuse Fund Talks

The operators were willing to arbitrate on wages and hours, the White House said, but they balked at arbitration on the health and welfare fund demand.

John L. Lewis took the position that his union negotiating committee is not authorized to arbitrate anything according to Charles Ross, presidential secretary.

Truman Fails

Asked whether he would seize the coal mines as a last resort, President Truman reiterated his remark of last week that he would cross that bridge when he comes to it.

As the latest presidential effort to gain a settlement came to nothing, Ross told reporters that "representatives of the mine workers and the operators were asked to 'stand by for further conversations.' When these talks would be held was not indicated.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—President Truman told a news conference today that he would order the nation's railroads taken over by the government if the labor-management dispute is not settled before the Saturday strike deadline.

Twelve Selected In Preliminaries; Voting Continues

Six men and six women were chosen in the preliminary voting for king and queen of the annual semi-formal Mardi Gras dance Saturday night, Bill Page, Muskegon sophomore, has revealed.

Four Attendants

Besides the king and queen, the four runners-up will act as attendants and will be on stage when the curtain opens for coronation ceremonies, according to Bob Butler, Trenton junior. The other finalists will also be introduced to the audience at the dance.

Due to an error in yesterday's Michigan State News, the following candidates for the primaries were not listed: Ed Storms, Wells hall; Walter Milton, Pat Pepler, and Victor Stornant, off-campus.

Sigma Delta Chi Holds Initiation; Editor Speaks

Five student journalists and one professional were initiated into Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, at a banquet Wednesday evening, Prof. Alan Scott, journalism department and faculty advisor, announced yesterday.

In the presence of two undergraduate and 15 professional members of the chapter, the following six men took the oath: Professional, Lowell Treaster, director of the MSC public relations office; Undergraduates, Dan Ryan, Kalamazoo graduate student; Walt Campbell, Kansas City senior; William Adams, East Lansing senior; Don Campbell, Harrison sophomore, and Bud Salisbury, Lansing senior.

Mad As Hopps

By JANICE HOPPS

WE'VE lost some of the old drive that we had a year ago when the Mardi Gras queen elections came around. Then we began selecting our candidates a month before the royalty was crowned. Could be that it's better this way, and of course, this year we don't have to allow time to collect pennies.

What are the odds? I'll bet that, even if the king and queen elections haven't had their usual publicity, we'll get a better vote than we have at any college poll taken this year. My guess is that anything with a layer of glamour still blinds our eyes, in spite of this education we're supposed to be getting. And the Mardi Gras, clothed in sequins and lace, will attract us to the polls a lot faster than a student government vote with its common-sense appeal.

As of yesterday, though, I'm beginning to think that there's more to this queen business than meets the eye. If Mother Nature had thought better of me, I think I'd make a career of being a queen. Why? Just listen to the radio some afternoon and you'll know why.

Of course, it's a well-known fact that sooner or later every kind of organization from east to west elects its queen of May, its tomato queen, or its queen of the Turtle Trudge. But this one radio program, sponsored by I forget which soap suds manufacturer, makes a business of electing a queen every day — just in case someone else forgets to elect one that day.

Dr. Afifi Pasha Begs Council For U.N. Unity

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP) — Dr. Hafez Afifi Pasha, retiring president of the United Nations Security council, told his colleagues bluntly today that the world was disappointed by the failure of the powers to work as a united family.

He said he himself was depressed by the lack of progress made by the council during his month as president and made an impassioned plea for the members "to make this council be a true and real instrument of everlasting peace."

The Egyptian delegate spoke at the end of a two-hour session during which the Council adopted 31 new rules of procedure, including a sweeping secrecy rule which provides that the Council may withhold proceedings of private sessions from members of the United Nations outside the council.

Under the Council's system of rotation, French delegate Alexandre Parodi will become president when the Council meets tomorrow to resume discussion of rules on the admission of new members to the United Nations. Afifi Pasha told the council that the "great mass of humanity is disappointed with the state of affairs that prevails in the world a whole year after V-E day."

Secrecy Shrouds Army Plane Crash

FAIRFAX, Calif., May 16 (AP) —

A Flying Fortress crash, whose aftermath was cloaked in such army secrecy that an unconfirmed report circulated it was an atom bomb plane, killed two army men and injured seven others today on a ridge in Marin county, north of San Francisco.

Tonight as reports filtered in on the crash, another unconfirmed one was made public by a navy spokesman of the Western Sea frontier in San Francisco that a plane may have crashed this afternoon against Mt. Shasta in northern California. A telephone caller, identifying himself as a state highway patrolman, said he saw the crash. Nearby Hamilton field dispatched its special air rescue group to the site.

Draft Approved

Dad to Stay With Kids

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — Drafting of childless men who are 26 through 29 years of age was authorized today by President Truman to "save what we can from the near wreckage of the selective service system."

Conscription of men in that age group was stepped by the President shortly after the fall of Japan.

Authority to Secretaries

Mr. Truman announced in a news conference statement that he was authorizing the war and navy secretaries to call upon selective service for the induction of such men.

The President repeated his criticism, made Tuesday night when he signed the 45-day draft extension law which stopped the induction of teen-age boys and fathers, that it was "bad legislation."

Except Fathers

Under the draft extension act and Mr. Truman's authorization today all men except fathers, between 20 and 30 years of age are subject to induction call.

"It is to be hoped," he said, "that before July 1, when the present extension expires, the congress will extend selective service for a year in a form that will meet the nation's requirements."

"I guess I've lost another pupil," said the professor as his class eye rolled down the sink.

Two Church Groups Plan Dances For All Students

Greek Groups To Give Term Parties

By KATHIE MULL

Dormitories, fraternities, and sororities are striving to catch up on their term parties tonight to leave tomorrow free for the Mardi Gras.

However, two open dances are included in the make-up of the social scene for tonight. Newman club is sponsoring a stag-drag "skirt and sweater" party in the Forestry cabin from 9 to 12 midnight. Chuck Dougherty and his orchestra will provide "live" music. Norb Underwood, Milwaukee junior, said. Patrons attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGuire.

An all-college social dance has also been planned by members of Student club. The event is scheduled to take place in the East Lansing Masonic temple from 8:30 to 11:30 this evening. Chairman Ina Love, Detroit freshman, stated.

Floorshow to Entertain

Mixers and a student floorshow will provide the fun, and patrons invited include Prof. and Mrs. W. McMillen and Prof. and Mrs. Oden Smucker. Tickets can still be obtained from members of Student club and at the student offices of Peoples church.

"The Cement Mixer" has been chosen as the theme of Abbot hall's radio party, organized by Precinct 13 for their dates in the lower lounge from 9 to midnight. Patrons will be Mr. and Mrs. Stanley D. Gralak and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dickerson.

Precinct 4

Precinct 4 of Mason hall will be hostesses at an informal radio party in the smoker from 9 to 12 tonight. Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Luker will be patrons.

Another dormitory sponsored event tonight will be North hall's which takes place in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12. Dick Snook and his band will play for this semi-formal party and chaperons include Prof. and Mrs. James Davidson and Prof. and Mrs. Ralph Lewis.

Annex Women Invited

Women from Mary Mayo annex and their guests will also attend the dance. Betty Jane Roe, Detroit freshman and social chairman, declared.

Robinson house will be the site of another term party tonight from 9 to 12 midnight.

Sigma Nus Cut-Up

Sigma Nu brothers have glibly chosen "Place Pigal, Paris" as the theme of their term party at the house from 9 to 12 tonight. Crazy costumes are the order for attire and the best bedecked couple will be awarded a prize. Russ Gilpin, Detroit junior, said. Mr. and Mrs. John Pingel and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Frymire will be chaperons.

First of the sorority term parties will be the one held at the Zeta Tau Alpha house. Very informal and planned from 8:30 to 12, dancing and refreshments are to make up the evening's plans. Listed as patrons for the event are Dr. and Mrs. Klautach and Prof. and Mrs. Alan Scott.

Spring Theme Chosen

Delta Zetas have engaged Nate Fry and his orchestra to play at the chapter house from 9 to 12 tonight for their term party titled "Spring Has Sprung." Spring flowers and signs will carry out the theme, Margaret Hughes, Detroit sophomore, stated.

Patrons invited by Miss Hughes are Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan and Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Newman.

Alpha Epsilon Pi men have selected "Carpetbag Capers" as the theme for their house party from 9 to 12 tonight, according to Jack Kaster, New York City freshman.

The Herbert Weisingers and the Herman Blums will be guests of the fraternity.

Dairy Discussion Attracts Many

More than 100 persons are expected to attend a conference for dairy fieldmen today at MSC, according to Ralph W. Tenny, director of the short course program.

A group of MSC faculty members, as well as a group of representatives of various milk corporations throughout the country, will appear on the program. Among the topics they will discuss are "Efficient Can Washing," "Observations on Cleaning Milking Machines," and "Training Field Men."

Chairmen of the various sessions are P. S. Lucas, A. C. Baltzer, Russell Horwood, and J. M. Jensen, all of the dairy department.

"Queen for a Day" yesterday, so I drooled awhile as they talked about presenting a lucky lady with a treasure chest (they didn't say what size) filled with nylons, a series of dancing lessons from Arthur Murray, a tour through Hollywood with somebody's sleek 1946 Cadillac as an escort, and a cameraman from one of the studios to record her journey which included the Treadero, the Brown Derby, and Glen Billingsley's.

I'll admit, she was an unusual queen. They called that prize-winner the Queen of America, and they haven't elected her yet. But they do elect an ordinary queen every day and allow her greatest wish to come true. It's always been my greatest ambition to lean out of second story windows and drop peanuts on the bald heads down below, so I decided to look into this business. Believe it or not, they mean business.

One queen in the history of the program wanted to make a movie test for "The Robe." She didn't quite make "The Robe," but she did get her test for the picture version of the famous bestseller. Another had always wanted to sit in a child's high chair and throw cereal all over the room like her two small daughters always did. So she sat on the stage of the Hawaii theater and threw cereal like mad.

Then there was the queen who wanted to go to the "cooler." That is, she wanted to sit in a refrigerator to see if she could lose a skin allergy that had developed with the warm weather. Allowed to cop with the elite, she sat in the meat refrigeration box at Tom Breneman's famous Hollywood cafe and relaxed among the steaks and chops for ten minutes. Yep, her allergy disappeared.

All of which just goes to show, the queen business is a profitable line. And as the latest reports begin to come in, I see that I've already won my bet. Over 2,000 students voted for the Mardi Gras royalty yesterday—which seems to prove that Spartans will take cream and honey and ignore their bread and butter.

All varsity football players are requested to attend motion pictures of the recent grid scrimmage of May 11, which will be shown in room 215 of Jenison fieldhouse Monday at 5 p.m.

Virginia Plane Crash Takes Death Toll Of Twenty-Seven

RICHMOND, Va., May 16 (AP) — A twin-engine liner with engine trouble, groping through the mist and fog for a return landing at Byrd airport, crashed and burned in a pine forest six miles southeast of Richmond today, killing 25 passengers and its crew of two.

The plane — a DC-3 operated by Viking Air Transport company on a chartered run from Newark, N. J., to Atlanta — dove sharply into the Henrico county woods after overshooting the airfield a few minutes earlier in a vain attempt to land.

Bodies Badly Burned
It exploded and burst into flames. All but a few of the bodies were burned beyond recognition and lay scattered in a relatively small area along the soggy banks of Doran creek.

The ship was flown by two former army air forces airmen, William D. Alderson, 26, North Hollywood, Calif., pilot, and David H. Miner, 27, co-pilot, of Burbank, Calif., and carried among

MSC Alumni Plan War Memorial For Spartan Dead

Plans are now being formulated by the Alumni Advisory council for a memorial to the 312 Spartans who lost their lives in World War II.

Turning from the traditional statues and stone monuments of the past, the council is considering building a useful memorial dedicated to peace and understanding among nations. Its exact nature will not be revealed until Memorial day, Alumni Director Glen Stewart announced.

Money for the memorial's construction will be raised through voluntary gifts from alumni, friends of the college, parents of the war dead and campus organizations.

After the first World War a similar drive resulted in the building of the original portions of the Union Memorial building.

its passengers members of a merchant marine and a family of five who had arrived in the United States only yesterday from Spain. Two were children.

Bodies Dragged Out
Bodies were brought out of the woods by horse and wagon and a tractor-drawn sled and sent to five Richmond funeral homes where identification could be made only by past passengers' identification cards that in some instances escaped the flames.

Institute Director Prepares Memorial

In response to the American Council on Education, Prof. Charles L. Brown, director of institute of comparative studies, is preparing an article "Influence of Confucianism" dedicated to three Chinese French scholars of Chinese civilization and institutions who died as a result of German occupation of France.

The three men, Marcel Granet, Henri Maspero, and Paul Pelliot will receive recognition in a memorial in the form of a volume composed of contributions by prominent men.

Hermie Says —

By TOM RIORDAN

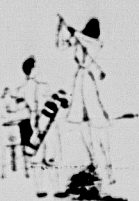

SPORT Shorts around the Spartan campus — Charley Bachman had several left-handed passing right halfbacks out for spring drills. He got so used to seeing his blocking backs throw the pigskin from the southpaw side that one day he started yelling at one for passing right-handed.

It took some moments before Charley was convinced that the gridded wasn't a portsider — even though the halfback humorously volunteered to pass left-handed.

Playing shortstop with the Spartan Jayvee baseball team is John Hudenko, younger brother of the MSC varsity catcher and captain, Ben. In a recent inter-squad contest John lashed out a double and single to prove that big brother Ben isn't the only one in the family who can lay the willow to the horsehide.

Coming up during the next two weeks on the sport pages of the State News will be the all-fraternity and all-dormitory softball teams in addition to the all-independent which appears today.

Grand finale of the mythical diamond teams will be the all-college outfit, which will have members from each of the three loops.

Marjorie Row, who is currently burning up the golf links around the state and holder of a "scratch" rating in the Women's District Golf association, graduated from State in 1944.

At present Miss Row is both district and state champion. In recent tournament play on the Detroit golf club course she paced a field of 94 by blasting a 42 and 44.

Pat Peppier and Ed Sobzeak have pretty well established themselves in the Spartan outfield starting lineup. Neither made the southern trip, Peppier because of basketball and a case of measles and Sobzeak due to a badly wrenched knee.

Now they seem to be hitting their stride and appear as permanent fixtures in the Spartan outfield.

Very speedy on the base paths and in the outfield, Peppier proved a big factor in the recent win over Detroit. He singled and immediately stole second where he was in scoring position to come over with the winning run.

Sobzeak, in his first appearance for State, crashed out a home run with the bases loaded against Michigan Normal. He also got a pair of hits against Notre Dame. Biggest defensive asset of Sobzeak is his tremendously powerful throwing arm. It is one of the best arms ever seen on the Michigan State diamond among outfielders.

Foreign Born MSC Stars

Rate High On Spartan Squads

By CHUCK STRATTARD

During the past season the Spartan swimming and fencing teams gained the services of four foreign born athletes, three of whom, having from South America and one from Europe.

Abel Gilbert and Enrique Rendon are home town buddies from Guayaquil, Ecuador, and these two lads are just as much at home in the water as they are on Guayaquil take it from State's swimming coach, Charles McCaffree.

The swimming mentor has the highest praises for Abel Gilbert. Not only does he do everything right when he's in the pool, but he's an ideal competitor and team man, always modest, hard working and extremely likable, declares McCaffree. According to the coach, Gilbert is the outstanding distance swimmer in MSC history.

Faced Spartans

Last season Gilbert scored 81 points in dual and sectional meets, including 12 firsts. He placed fifth in the National Collegiate finals in the one mile event.

He has set five varsity and seven freshman pool records including the 220, 440, and 1-mile races.

Abel also holds three national records in Ecuador, and was recently invited to represent his homeland in the South American championships held in Rio de Janeiro.

Expect Big Things

"We expect big things from Enrique Rendon next season," continued Coach McCaffree. "He arrived at school just in time to earn a place on the squad and get into competition, but he was never quite able to get into A-1 condition and illness retarded his progress somewhat," McCaffree added.

Alejandro Valiente, who hails from El Salvador, was a standout performer on Charles Schmitz's fencing team. Valiente attended a military school in his home country before he entered Michigan State.

He gained much of his "knew how" with the foil at that school. He is affectionately dubbed "The Cobra" by his teammates because of a strange hissing sound that he makes when he duels.

Gregory Dean who was born in Russia and lived in Vienna, Austria before he came to the United States and Michigan State, was another star on the college fencing team.

Mexican League Interests Ruth

Babe Ruth (center), who has been mentioned as a possible executive of the Mexican baseball league, shakes hands with Bernardo Pasquel, vice-president of the Mexican league, as he prepares to leave LaGuardia field at New York for Mexico City. Mrs. Ruth (left) watches.

Babe Ruth Arrives In Mexico; Backs Up Pasquel's New Loop

MEXICO CITY, May 13 (AP)

Babe Ruth arrived in Mexico today to look over the baseball situation, and predicted that players barred from organized ball for jumping to the Mexican League will be received again with open arms.

The former Sultan of Swat recalled that after he broke into the major leagues at a $600 annual salary in 1914, he refused a $20,000 offer from the old Federal League "because they said I would be barred from baseball forever."

Ruth added: "When the Federal League folded, organized ball took all the players back."

"In the same way, organized ball will take back any time all the really good players now banned for playing in the Mexican League."

Informed that a Mexican League attorney charged in a New York court case this morning that U. S. baseball is a "monopoly," Ruth commented: "I think he's got something there."

Ruth said the suit brought by major league clubs seeking to prevent the Mexican League players from inducing their players to come here are "unnecessary."

"Why bring it up?" He asked.

"Any U. S. player could still write to Pasquel (Jorge Pasquel, Mexican League president) and offer his services for more pay. The only thing those suits will do is to expose organized ball's contracts with the controversial reserve clause to the courts."

With respect to Branch Rickey, Brooklyn Dodgers president, suing for damages because the Mexican League signed away Luis Olmo and Mickey Owen, Ruth commented: "Rickey is foolish. Those guys are always suing for something."

High Post For Babe?

He said he had not been offered a Mexican League post, and knew nothing of reports that he might be asked to become high commissioner of the Mexican League. Asked whether he would accept such a post, he said: "I can't discuss that matter now."

Ruth nodded however when asked if he would accept a major league managerial job.

"But they don't want me there," he asserted. "They're afraid of salaries going up, and it seems that with the amount of crowds they're drawing, good salaries should be paid."

Breslin Leads Spartan Nip At .400 Clip

Jack Breslin continues the Michigan State varsity with an even .400 batting average as the Spartans close half-way mark of the season.

Breslin's sharp swing scored Marty Hansen and the deadlock in the State university of Detroit game. The Spartans on to win the eleventh inning.

Ed Sobzeak, who started first varsity game, lost against Michigan Normal, when he replaced a hot centerfielder, who had a red-hot pace.

Second baseman, B. has moved into the outfield with an average of .300. Bucky Walsh, who took place in the outfield, is punching out.

Floyd Gies, who played in all four of the games, has a .300 batting average, getting 20 hits in 70 at the plate.

Niagara Marauders Take Seven Posts 46 Independent All-Star Team

Eight teams grabbed majority of the positions. State News independent softball league all-star team selected by managers of eight clubs.

Single selections from other clubs are Bill Almy, hard-hitting infielder for Michigan-Niagaras, and Wes Bates, a main cog in the Ellsworth house squad.

The 30-year old outfielder who recently took the big jump from the navy in the Pacific to the Phillies made his hometown debut as a big leaguer in great style.

The Blue Jays dropped a 6-4 game to the Chicago Cubs in 13 innings yesterday, but Ennis pounded out four hits, topped by a ninth inning homer that tied the count. What's more, he fielded sensationally.

He had the poise and confidence of a veteran even though his organized baseball experience is limited to one year with Trenton in the Class C Interstate league in 1943.

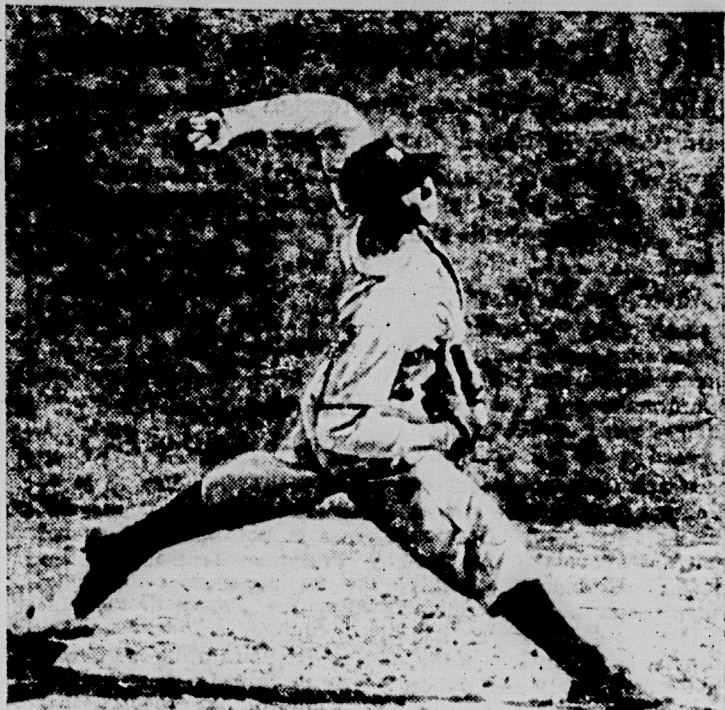

Reporting last month, Ennis was ticketed as a fine prospect needing a year or two in the minors to trim off the rough edges. The GI Bill, however, provided no returned serviceman could be sent to the minors without first being offered to other major clubs.

Manager Ben Chapman put Del on the waiver list, hoping no team would claim him. Five clubs bid for him and his name was withdrawn. Chapman put him in the left garden April 30, and he's stuck, batting a respectable .291 with three circuit bangers.

"I received the best training in the world during the three years I spent in the navy," said Ennis. "Fellows like Billy Herman, Johnny Vandermeer and Virgil Trucks all helped me while we were playing together on Guam."

Hal Newhouser, pictured above going through rubber-man contortions, usually a late starter has won five games against one defeat so far this year. Besides being sidelined a few days with a swollen arm, he has been hurling for a club that hasn't got a single hitter in the 300 bracket.

Carlita Cox stayed on the mound the whole game for Alpha Gamma Delta as her club defeated South Williams 10-6.

With Gamma Phi Beta and Kappa Kappa Gamma tied at 4-4, Bonnie Stover, Gamma Phi, knocked in the winning run in the last inning of the game. Jeannette was the winning pitcher, and Marilyn Adams was charged with the loss. Audrey Searcy led the Kappa team.

Foreign Ministers Adjourn, Still Deadlocked On Issues

PARIS, May 16 (AP) — The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia broke off their three-week old Paris conference tonight, adjourning until June 15 still deadlocked over major issues and peace treaties for Italy and the Balkans.

In their last meeting this afternoon they initiated revised armistice terms for Italy to aid her reconstruction, an American informant said, but reached no agreement on the question of a peace treaty for Germany.

There was not even any agreement on appointment of a special commission to study German problems in advance of any conference on a German treaty, this informant said. U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes had proposed such an advance study, and a German treaty conference next Nov. 12.

Byrnes also had sought unsuccessfully to have the ministers set a definite date now for a peace conference — preferably in July—to write treaties for Finland, Italy, and the Balkan nations but was opposed by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. He insisted the four powers must first agree among themselves on such treaties, the informant said.

Byrnes Not Considered For Court, Truman Says

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is not being considered by President Truman at this time for appointment as chief justice, the President told his news conference today.

The President made his observation in response to a request for comment on reports that Byrnes was under consideration for the post.
