

Eleven Students Receive Awards At Ag Banquet

Honors Given for Scholarship, Leadership, Activities to Outstanding Men of Division

Eleven students in the School of Agriculture received scholarship and activity awards for outstanding work in the department at the Agriculture council banquet last night.

The Sears and Roebuck award to the freshman in agriculture who is outstanding for leadership went to Laura Burgess, of Bay City. Jake Venema, Nunica junior, recognized as the outstanding student in his school, was given the Danford foundation award and will spend the summer at their agricultural camp.

TODAY'S CAMPUS

A New Way

Women of Mayo don't have to worry about a new hat. A black crew has been volunteering his services. As soon as it is a coed enters the door he dives for her hair and starts scratching as if he had just discovered a worm.

The Easy Way

Virginia Quiroz, Detroit junior, took a book out of the library a few days ago to write a term paper. She casually glanced at the introduction and thought it would be a good book for the purpose. When she got around to writing the paper she discovered the text was in Latin.

Veterans To Sell Poppies In Union

At 7:30 a.m. today the Red Cedar post of the American Legion began selling veteran-made poppies on the south side of Grand River ave. and in the lower neck of the Union.

Adjutant Jack Morris, Elkhart, Mich. sophomore, has stated that approximately 15 members of the Red Cedar post will take part in the campaign. This is the first time that a veteran's organization on campus has participated in the nation wide sales which have been carried on every year since the first world war.

The group has 1,000 poppies made by veterans in Percy Jones, Mich. disabled veterans hospital in Battle Creek, as tokens for contributors to the fund.

The money which is obtained from the sale of the poppies will be used in supplementing veterans pensions and in aiding in the education of orphans homes.

The East Lansing post of the American Legion will be promoting sales on the north side of Grand River.

Rail Strike Paralyzes Nation

Dance Group To Perform

Orchesis Will Present 'Peter and the Wolf,' 'Nut Cracker Suite'

Orchesis, women's modern dance honorary, will produce, with the cooperation of the music and dramatics departments, a ballet pantomime of Prokofiev's fantasy "Peter and the Wolf," and Tchaikovsky's "Nut Cracker Suite" tomorrow night at 7:45 in College auditorium.

Russian Ballet Produced

The score to be interpreted by Orchesis members has been produced successfully by the Russian ballet. All dances have been composed by the women of Orchesis under the direction of Miss Anne Kuehl and Mrs. Margaret McKeane, both of the physical education department. The coeds have taken their cues for the composition of the dances from the musical themes of the score, or from the narrator's dialogue.

The college symphony orchestra, under the direction of Alexander Schuster, of the music department, will accompany members in all dances and pantomime, as well as playing several other numbers.

Huber to Explain

Robert Huber, Cincinnati, O., sophomore, will explain the stories of the scores, as the pantomime is being enacted.

The first half of the performance will be an interpretation of the "Nut Cracker Suite," consisting of seven dances. This score is the story of little Marie.

MSC Students to Buy Preliminary Tickets

One thousand preliminary tickets for "You Can't Take It With You" are available at the Union desk, sororities, fraternities, co-operatives, and dormitories until Monday, according to Lois Banzet, East Lansing senior and ticket chairman.

These tickets must be exchanged at the accounting office for reserved seat passes, she added.

Six hundred seventy-five tickets will be sold for each of the two performances, May 31 and June 1, some of these being held for ticket booth sales.

Crews Construct Play Set

By TOM NORTHWAY

It's a large order to change Fairchild theater's stage into "an old house just around the corner from Columbia university."

Consequently, the construction crew for "You Can't Take It With You" term play scheduled for May 31 and June 1, began work on the comedy's sets three weeks ago.

Lived in House

"We hope it will look like an old house that's been lived in," stated C. H. Nickle, designer and scene technician. "The rooms will have a cluttered and 'well-broken-in' appearance."

Working according to detailed blueprints, 12 students are engaged in building heavy-looking stairs and, woodwork, applying four coats of paint to the walls and adding an alcove to the living room.

Set Built in Workshop

Bette Williams, Lansing sophomore and committee chairman, revealed that 400 to 500 hours will be spent on the set, which is being built in the workshop below stage.

When completed, the set will be loaded onto the hydraulic orchestra pit and raised to stage level. Finishing touches on scenery and lighting will ready the stage for dress rehearsals.

*White House Negotiators Fail To Avert Transportation Tie-Up

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — The government will order a brownout in eastern and midwestern coal-burning areas early next week if the rail strike continues or soft coal mining is halted again.

This was announced tonight by the Civilian Production Administration.

Bell-Hop Tops Social Events For Tonight

Hotel atmosphere and "continuous dancing" will be two of the unusual features prevailing at the Bell-Hop dance tonight in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12 midnight.

An informal event sponsored by hotel administration majors on campus and open to all State students, the dance will present Dick Charles' orchestra, while interlude "spots" will be filled by Charles Eiferle at the keyboard of a Hammond organ.

Eiferle to Play Requests

"There's A Small Hotel" will be the theme melody of Eiferle who will play request numbers. Eiferle, now appearing at the Hotel Olds in Lansing, spent four years in the navy and contributed musically to the United Nations Peace Conference in San Francisco.

The appearance of the Union building tonight will be altered somewhat to stimulate a great hotel. Peter Gerns, Canton, O., sophomore, general chairman, said. Luggage, bell-hop figures, and programs in the form of keys and hotel name tags to be received at a mock "front" desk, will be some of the effects utilized.

Grill to be Open

The grill, renamed "the Bell-Hop Bar," will be open for refreshments. Phil Haan, Lansing freshman and decoration chairman, stated, and a "liquor" price list will be made available for customer's patronage.

Tickets for this last all-college event of the term may be secured at Union desk.

Children's Group To Present Play

Children's Theater has scheduled three plays for presentation at 2:15 tomorrow in 49 Auditorium, according to Director Jean Granville, Saginaw graduate student.

Six members of the play direction class will produce the year's final group of plays, casts of which will include 30 Lansing and East Lansing children.

"Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil" is directed by Sue Averil, Birmingham senior, and Marion Parker, Grosse Pointe junior.

Kathryn Telfer, Owosso junior, and June McNutt, Detroit senior, are directing "Cinderella" for the theatre.

Third play on the program is "Who Laughs Last," directed by Patricia Beechler, Charlotte senior, and Dorothy Dye Griffin, Birmingham senior.

No admission charge is made for these programs, Miss Granville stated.

The word followed a statement by a spokesman for the soft coal industry that the mines will have to shut down in 24 hours because of railroad car shortages if the rail strike continues.

Edward Falck, chief of the production agency's office of emergency controls, told reporters the agency is all set to take "pretty drastic action."

Brownout Saves Electricity

He said the contemplated brownout order, to save on electricity generated from coal, would supplant a "request" for such action which CPA made before the coal strike truce was called.

CPA still has an order in effect requiring electric utilities to pool their facilities to conserve coal. Another emergency order still on the books directs manufacturers of gas to begin rationing when their coal stocks drop below a three weeks' supply.

Frick said the new order drafted.

Local Policemen Check Forgeries Of Dance Tickets

East Lansing police have been investigating the forging of tickets used to gain admission to the Mardi Gras held Saturday night.

Chief Arthur Brandtatter said that through a check of the party tickets, five forgeries have been found. The chief said also that the forgers are not only guilty of defrauding the college, but have cheated the United States government through failure to pay the federal amusement tax due on the tickets.

A complete check of the ticket stubs has not been completed, but the chief indicated the possibility that other forgeries would be found. He said that four of the tickets had been printed and one other had been photographed from an original ticket.

The police have revealed no other information on the case. After the initial sale, in which 1200 tickets were sold in approximately two hours, college authorities had more tickets printed, hoping that this would prevent re-selling at black-market prices.

Newman Club to Fete Graduating Seniors

The Newman club will hold a banquet on June 4 to honor graduating seniors. Guest speaker for the evening will be Father Sheridan, of St. Johns Church in David-on.

Chairman for the dinner is Helen Kroll, Lansing senior. Tickets will be handled by John Haas, Detroit freshman, and Beth Murphy, Flint junior.

The banquet is open to all Catholic students and their friends.

Will We Fail Again?

Michigan State college students were asked to contribute to the Red Cross — the goal set was not reached. Michigan State college students were asked to contribute to the World Students Service Fund — and fell far short of the goal.

Today Michigan State college students are being asked to buy the symbolic poppy. The goal is not a specific amount of money, but the sale of 1,000 poppies. "The goal was not reached" need not be an inevitable sentence.

Wheels Of Peace Grind Slowly

Our major policy objective is a just and equitable peace. Secretary of State Byrnes declared in his report to the nation.

Granted. But how do we go about it? Certainly our failure to come to any agreement with the Russians contributes nothing to the realization of world peace.

The unsuccessful foreign ministers' parley in Paris indicates that the major powers are reluctant to place all their cards on the table, face up. Diplomatic intrigues are still the mode.

Byrnes demands a full-dress peace conference where all the 21 nations that fought against the Axis can come together, thrash out their grievances, and draw up an overall settlement. Russia shys away from this proposal.

Already we have waited too long. The longer we put off treaty-making, the dimmer our hopes for mutual agreement become.

Establishing peace in the world is a "long, hard process." We cannot afford to tarry.

ed by CPA also would cut industrial and commercial use of electricity by 15 to 20 per cent. Utilities Have Month's Supply
CPA, Falck reported, already has checked electric utilities and found that most of them have enough coal on hand to last from 28 to 35 days.

Meanwhile John L. Lewis was called back to the White House as the government strove to settle the soft coal controversy.

With about half of the 400,000 miners already out of the government-seized pits, top officials pondered the conditions laid down by Lewis if the mines are to be kept running beyond Saturday night.

Lewis Mum on Strike Future

The two-week truce called by the United Mine Workers' leader, expires then, and he has not indicated whether he will grant further time for working out a contract.

The negotiations were broken off by conciliators a week ago, when the producers flatly rejected Lewis' demand for a seven per cent tax on payrolls for a union-administered health and welfare fund.

The mines were taken over by Krug and Morell at 12:01 Wednesday morning. More than 200 of them closed yesterday, and over 100 more today. The late afternoon total of shut-down workings was 2,231 out of about 14,500. At the same hour the solid fuels office reported 192,808 men idle and 174,630 working.

Speech Majors Plan Banquet For Tonight

Plans are completed for the Speech banquet to be held at 8:30 this evening in Peoples church. Chairman Patty Shepard, Royal Oak senior, has announced.

Guest of honor for the evening will be Dr. F. H. Krower, recently named head of the speech department, to succeed Prof. Paul D. Bagwell, who is head of the department of written and spoken English.

Dawn Hall, Detroit senior and ticket chairman, revealed that 150 tickets put on sale for the open affair have been sold.

Mad As Hopps

By JANICE HOPPS

WISH I could take a rain check on some of these commencement activities and come back next year for the festivities. There are a lot of things I'd like to do before I leave my Alma Mammy, but it doesn't look like I'll be able to squeeze them into the next two weeks.

A lot of graduates have mentioned fond memories of the spring band concerts, but I seem to have nothing but fond visions. I'd put that on my list for next year because I know I'd enjoy it a lot more without that eight o'clock test looming over my head.

And before I went to a college dance or showed my face among the other seniors, I'd take at least half an hour to bask in the bathtub. No more of this rush, of going to classes and meetings until six o'clock, inhaling my dinner, attending another meeting, dashing off the assignment for a morning class, grabbing a five minute shower and still managing to be half an hour late. Yeah, I know. It's just mighty poor planning.

But that's all on the fun side. On the serious side, I'd like to see someone jump on Union board to ban the gambling in the Union, but to keep the legitimate card games going. Theoretically, of course, I suppose cards have no place in a college, but for some students they are remarkable sanity savers.

Everyone has to relax a few time a day, but, unfortunately some of us can't go home to do it. I understand that a couple of fellows from the quonset huts were begging the Alpha Gams for the use of their smoker yesterday. They wanted it just long enough for a couple of hands of bridge.

Second, I'd have a few rounds with the campus police who have decided that providing police protection is not in their realm of duties. The force makes itself available for directing traffic, seeing that individuals stay in line and answering emergency calls, but seeing that a woman night editor gets safely home at 3 a.m. is beyond the call of duty.

Perhaps our local law enforcers will see their duty only when they get an emergency call some night and find that one of these

Chinese Army Captures Changchun

MUKDEN, Manchuria, May 23 (AP) — A Chinese government communique announced today the recapture of Changchun, Manchurian capital. Defending Communist forces withdrew eastward after putting up only weak and scattered resistance within the city.

The Communists took Changchun on April 18 after a fiery four-day battle. This was strikingly contrasted by today's government announcement of easy reconquest at 11 a.m., four hours after the first government troops entered.

No Communist report on the situation had been received here, and there was no immediate indication what the government success would mean to the pacification efforts of General Marshall, special American envoy in Nanking.

As if to scotch in advance any suspicion that Changchun might have changed hands, a communique from the government military headquarters within the city bore out their commander, Gen. Li, to defend the capital by any means.

The communique issued by Gen. Tu Li-Ming, government commander for the north, added that despite fighting, populace lined the streets, cheer entry of the government forces.

Dr. Calhoun and Dr. Betty Wright will be guests, and Ann Hefler, Boston freshman, will be toastmistress.

V.A. Cautions Vets Against Prolonged Training Courses

J. F. Campbell, chief of vocational rehabilitation and education for Veterans administration throughout Michigan, warned against training courses that are too long and programs not based on sound prospects of eventual employment.

Supervision of veterans enrolled in recognized schools and "on-the-job" establishments is being exercised but only to the extent necessary to protect the interests of the government and the veteran, Campbell explained.

Praising the excellent cooperation of the State Board of Education, Campbell said that Michigan's "on-the-job" training record "is extremely good in comparison with any other state." However, several businesses and industries have been warned for minor infractions bordering on "illegally subsidizing" veteran trainees, he said.

Records of Veterans administration, Detroit regional office, show that 23,395 veterans are now under the GI bill training program in Michigan. In addition, 3,800 disabled vets are receiving training under Public Act 16.

We are ashamed for what people think we do, not for what we do. —W. A. White.

Byrd Demands Truman Act On Railroad Strike

Senator Wants Stern Measures

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — Senator Byrd (D., Va.) demanded tonight that President Truman appear before Congress and recommend "the sternest measures" to combat the railroad strike.

Byrd made this proposal in a formal statement as the Senate—held in a late session for possible action on labor disputes legislation—heard assertions that the country faces "economic paralysis" if the rail walkout continues and the coal controversy is not settled.

Senators pressing for labor legislation began circulating a petition for cloture—limitation of debate—in order to get action.

It requires but 16 signatures to put a petition before the Senate. A two-thirds vote is necessary for its adoption.

Senator Tydings (D-Md) called on his colleague to "stay in continuous session, 24 hours a day" until they dispose of labor legislation. He declared that opponents of such legislation are "conducting a filibuster if I ever saw one."

"There is one thing that is paramount to any group interest," Tydings shouted. "That is the survival of government and the maintenance of law and order."

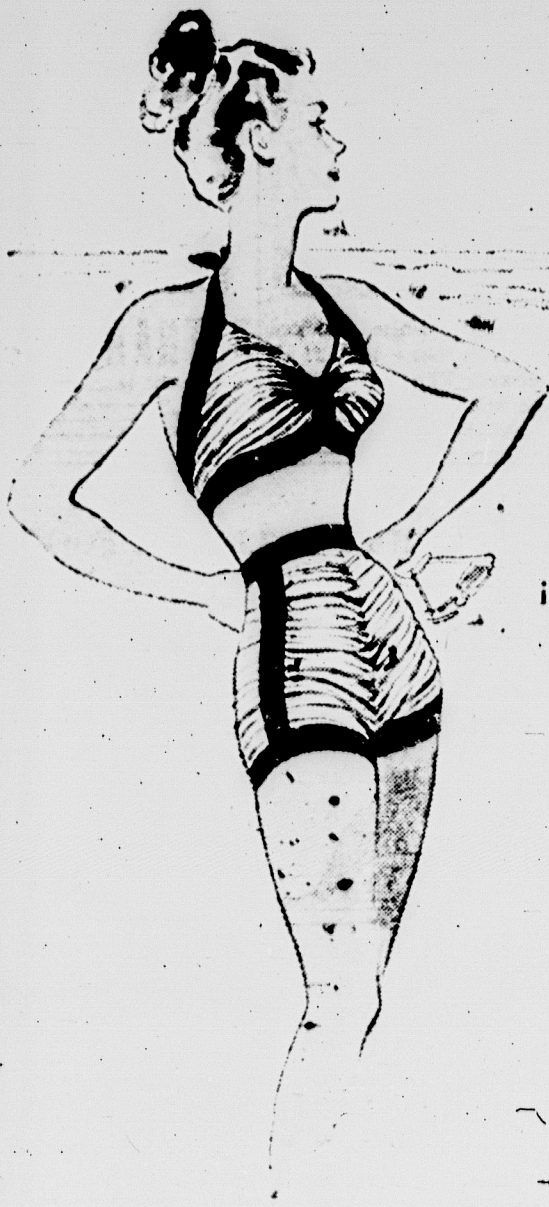

Senator Brewster (R-Me) interrupted a lengthy speech by Senator Mead (D-NY) to ask when what he termed the "legislative paralysis" was to be ended in the Senate.

Mead replied that he was ready for a vote but said he had been informed there was little chance of reaching any such point immediately.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind) sprang to his feet with a plea that Mead yield to permit him to produce a bill which he said would "end the railroad and coal strikes." Mead declined to yield the floor for this purpose.

Dramatic Talent Sought By WKAR

J. Kenneth Richard, production supervisor for WKAR, has announced that new talent is being sought for dramatic programs originating over the College station.

Newly scheduled programs for next year will require a considerable increase in student participation, Richards declared. Twenty to 30 persons are needed for the shows.

"Talent and experience are a good combination," he said when asked for qualifications expected of applicants. "But I will be glad to talk with anyone who sincerely thinks he has what it takes." Opportunities are open for lead roles, bit parts, and stock parts such as juvenile leads, men and women, dialect parts and singing roles.

Rail Strike Ties Up Coal, Mines May Close Soon

WASHINGTON, May 23 (AP) — Swift paralysis struck sections of the nation's railroad system today as White House negotiations failed to stave off a strike of engineers and trainmen. The walkout started in the east. Train crews in a number of cities left their posts, and scores of trains were stalled.

The vital coal industry, already facing the threat of another full-scale strike next week, feared under the blow dealt by the railroad walkout. A spokesman for the bituminous industry told reporters the mines might have to shut down in 24 hours as a result of car shortages unless a swift settlement is reached.

Trains Run
The railroad walkout had been in effect 4 p.m. in each time zone. Hence the east was first to feel the effects. However, the tie-up was not complete there, at least in the beginning. Some trains moved from Washington, Philadelphia and other cities, and were expected to move out from New York. But a lot of commuters and other riders were stranded.

At 4 p.m. standard time in the east—with brotherhood and other representatives busily negotiating at the White House but failing to agree—a spokesman for the office of defense transportation had declared that the strike is on as far as we are concerned.

Negotiations Continue
At 5:15 p.m. Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, said the negotiations were still going on. He said: "I don't know." The ODT slapped controls on truck, plane and water transportation designed to assure the fullest movement of freight and passengers by these means. The Interstate Commerce Commission clamped a general embargo on railroad freight with some exceptions for vital goods.

Miners Quit on Time
There was no uncertainty as to the commencement of the strike, either, in the way a conductor at Philadelphia station, when asked, shouted, "The strike is on." or in the announcement broadcast in Chicago's Union station that "Information has been received that the national coal strike is on." President Truman, at the strike, countered into the sunny women didn't get home safely. And won't that help the reputation of a college that prides itself for having its own police force?

Third, I'd get behind a movement to make Student Council strong enough so that administrative officials would at least consult the organization before passing rulings that effect students' personal lives. I doubt that administrative moves would be greatly effected, and a consultation before, instead of the opportunity to speak opinions after, would eliminate the usual aftermath of dissension.

And last, I'd start circulating petitions like mad during periods of national crises so that we could send our representatives in Washington the voice of 8,000 citizens. Someone has to make governmental machinery move, and even though we can't be strike breakers, our two cents' worth might help push anti-strike legislation.

Trio Of Weekend Tilts Poses Headache For Kobs

By TOM RIORDAN

"No matter what happens we'll have a pitcher in there," stated John Kobs yesterday as he gazed into a crystal ball trying to figure out who will be hurling for Michigan State in the trio of games the Spartans have today, Saturday and Sunday.

This afternoon at 4:10 the Spartans will tackle the first of their weekend games when they meet Michigan Normal on Old College field and Kobs, as of yesterday afternoon, had no idea who would get the nod for hill duty.

In case of rain and a wet field, Kobs can use Bill Page, the squad's ace mudder, who went all five innings against the Hurons at Ypsilanti recently in a game that was played in a steady downpour and finally had to be called in the sixth with the Spartans winning, 10-3.

Keith Steffee, also proved himself a good "wet-weather" chucker, when he served up his fast one among the rain drops, last Tuesday against Detroit while winning 7-1 in another five-inning contest halted by the rains.

Has Five Other Flingers

If Page or Steffee don't get the starting nod from Kobs, well—there are five other flingers on the staff ready for work. However, the Spartan mentor has to have two top mound men to start the club's other two weekend contests.

On Saturday morning the team will take off for Notre Dame in hopes of evening the season with the Irish who beat the Spartans 5-4 on the MSC diamond two weeks ago.

Sunday will see State visiting Great Lakes Naval training station to meet the highly-touted Sailor nine that afternoon.

Sobczak on Hitting Spree

Probably lost for the Irish and Great Lakes contests will be Spartans Ed Sobczak, currently on a red-hot hitting spree, and Dan Urbanik, utility infielder, who both will be taking comprehensive exams Saturday.

Sobczak will be in his center field slot this afternoon against the Hurons. It was against Normal three weeks ago that he played his first varsity game and in his initial appearance at the plate Eddie blasted out a home run with the bases loaded.

Pitching to Effect Lineup

Other two State outfields will be Pat Peppier in left and Floyd Guest in right. The infield will have either Jack Breslin, Dick Masuch at first, depending on the Normal pitching. If a hander is started Masuch will get the starting position.

At second Bob Groves will pitch and either Marty Hansen or Arnie Suhart will be handling the short stop job.

Dick Mineweaver is slated to handle third and Capt. Ben Renko will once more take care of the catching duties.

Jayvees Take Selfridge For Sixth Win Of Season

Raking up their sixth win of the season, the Michigan State Jayvees disposed of Selfridge field, 10-4, yesterday afternoon on Old College field with Coach Doc Manion using every member of his squad.

George Killmaster worked on the hill the first four innings for State, allowing no runs and striking out four, as well as blasting out a long triple to drive in a run.

Taking over the Spartan mound duties in the fifth and credited with the win was Zeke Vogt who fanned two, permitted two hits and lost all the Selfridge field runs scored on him.

In the Soldier's big eight when they tallied three times nary a hit was made off Vogt. All runs were unearned.

State took the lead in the second by scoring one run and then pushed across three in the third. In that frame Moss opened with a single, Matt Mazza walked and then Moss tallied on Dick Yata's one-base knock.

Harry Paul, Spartan right-fielder, clubbed a 375-foot home run over the visiting left fielder's head, bringing in both Mazza and Yata, but Paul was called out when he failed to touch second.

Another State Rally

After a single score in the fifth, the Spartans staged another big rally in the seventh that brought in a trio of runs. Jim Rowland singled and Danny Urbanik drew a pass. Pitcher Vogt fanned a binger to right bringing in both Rowland and Urbanik.

Vogt then stole second and went to third when Selfridge catcher Murray Wix threw wild trying to get him. Don "Frenchy" Lavette promptly lined a single to center, Vogt scoring.

Working 3 and 2 3 innings for the Jokers, Sergeant Tom Pool got nine Spartans on strikes and was knocked for all the hits. Leading batter for the visitors was Sergeant Don Jaeger, third baseman, who got two-for-four.

Art Ross, MSC second sacker, played his last game for the Jayvees since he will be inducted into the army Monday at Fort Custer.

Score by inning:
Selfridge 00 001 030—4 4 5
State 001 310 32—10 9 6

Raphun, Pool and Wix, Killmaster, Vogt, Jordan and Mazz, Gubacaky, Davis.

State Netters Face Wayne As Underdogs

A highly favored Wayne university tennis team will be guest of Michigan State this afternoon on the college clay courts next to Demonstration hall this afternoon at 4 after the Spartans suffered a 5-4 loss to Michigan yesterday.

Wayne took the Wolverines earlier this spring thus putting the Tartars in the favorite role against MSC. The Spartan-Wayne match was rained out two weeks ago and this meeting will be the first for the two teams.

In the Michigan loss only two State players were able to win in singles, while two Spartan doubles teams won. Herb Hoover and Mike Yatchman grabbed their solo affairs and in the team events Dave Phillips and Carl Frans and the twosome of Bob Malaga and Tom Martin gained victories for State.

The summaries are as follows:

Singles: Hersh (M) defeated Cessna 6-6, 6-2, 6-2; Mikulich (M) defeated Malaga 3-6, 6-4, 6-3; McCluskey (M) defeated Phillips 5-7, 6-3, 6-9; Hoover (S) defeated Evans 6-2, 6-2; Cook (M) defeated Frans 6-2, 6-2; Yatchman (S) defeated Schoenlamb 6-3, 9-7.

Doubles: Hersh and Mikulich 6-4, 7-5; Philip and Frans (M) defeated Cessna and Hoov (S); defeated McCluskey and Evans 6-2, 2-6, 6-4; Malaga and Martin (S) defeated Post and Dayton 6-3, 6-2.

Rail Strike Causes Tigers To Use Cars

DETROIT, May 23 (P)—Abandoning earlier plans to fly in regular commercial planes to Chicago, where they open a four-game series tomorrow, the Detroit Tigers decided tonight to utilize private automobiles of the players and drives the 272-mile hop.

Three Homers In Succession Lead Yanks To 12-6 Victory

DETROIT, May 23 (P)—Bashing out three successive homers to tie a major league record during an eight-run explosion in the fifth inning, the New York Yankees pasted the Detroit Tigers 12 to 6 here today to move within five games of the league leading Boston Red Sox, who lost at Cleveland.

New York's murderous inning, victimizing four Detroit pitchers, included 10 hits—eight of them in a row—for a total of 20 bases.

By clouting four home runs in a single game for the first time this year, the Yanks stepped up their tempo of circuit smacks to 38 in 35 games this season.

Gordon Gets Pair

Joe Gordon, with two home runs and a double, batted in four runs and Charley Keller, with two singles batted in three.

Virgil Trucks, who relieved Tiger starter Frank (Stubby) Overmire in the fifth after George Stinweiss had singled and Johnny Lindor, batted in only three runs, watched five Yankee runs on the plate during his brief ten to become the losing pitcher.

Keller greeted Trucks with single, knocking in two runs, tie the score at 3-all.

Dimaggio Good for One

Joe DiMaggio then blasted ninth homer into the upper field seats for two more runs. Nick Etten, smacked his four-bagger into the second in right field.

Hal Whit, replacing Trucks, Gordon lined his hit, tied to the left field position. Dickey and Phil Hanks singled before George (Caster) White and Yankee relief pitcher Clarence Marshall batted. force Dickey at third, tied out.

Overmire gave the Yankees five hits in four innings, and four of the shock troops—Tracy White, Caster and Tommy Bridges—yielded three runs and at least one run each.

High School Track Stars In State Finals At MSC

Lower peninsular high schools will send 700 track and field stars to the starting lines on the Michigan State college cinder paths tomorrow in the state championship meet.

Preliminaries in classes A, B, C, and D will begin in the morning at 10. Finals in field events will get under way just before noon with the running event finals scheduled to start at 2.

Meet officials look for several state records to fall if the weather is good.

In the class A section, three Saginaw valley schools, Flint Northern, Saginaw high and Arthur Hill appear to be the favorites for the title leading a field of 35 other schools including two other fine aggregations from Grand Rapids South and Battle Creek.

The class B meet shaped up as a duel between defending champion, St. Joseph High, and Charlotte, winner of last year's Battle Creek regional meet.

Romulus favored to keep it's class C crown, while Michigan School for the Deaf look like a cinch to repeat it's winning performance in last year's class D meet.

Lou Nedeau Slugs Abbot 16 Into Finals

Lou Nedeau's triple with two men on base in the last half of the fifth inning produced the winning runs for Abbot 16 as it took a 4-2 win from Abbot 19.

With the score deadlocked 2-2, going into the last inning Abbot 16 started its game-winning rally. Virgil Anderson drew a base on balls and Ken Knapp singled into right field. Then Nedeau came through with his timely triple to put the game on ice.

State Trackmen Venture To Annapolis For Classic

By BILL SONNEBORN

Forecasts of Saturday's IC4A track and field classic at Annapolis favor Spartan Walt Mack in the half mile event but list five eastern cindersmen to furnish him with stiff competition in this race.

Although Mack has carded 1:56.6 in the half mile, Jim Egger and Bob Anderson of Army, Francis Leary of Fordham, Frank Martin of New York university, and Manhattan's Ed Sickinger all have been timed at less than two minutes.

According to Coach Karl A. Schladerman, State's chances of capturing first place honors in the 440 and mile runs will be good "if things are right."

Miler Jim Gibbard produced the best performance in his assignment in the midwest this year when he stormed ahead of Notre Dame's Bill Leonard last Saturday to take the race with a time of 4:23.2.

Gibbard will be pushing Manhattan's Ed Walsh, who ran the nation's fastest mile at 4:21.9 recently, and will take the event if

Meat Shortage Hits MSC Quality But Not Quantity

By SYLVIA CIERNICK

"Meat is where you find it" could well be the byword of East Lansing restaurant owners and Bob Herron, purchasing agent for the college.

The present meat scarcity has been felt in both quantity and quality but, due to the difference in quantities purchased by the college and restaurants, the method of tackling these problems vary.

Various restaurants contacted in town indicated that they buy their meat in small quantities. This enables them to take advantage of what selection is available. They have found that through extra work they are able to obtain the necessary amounts of meat, and do not anticipate any drastic meat problems in the future.

Central Meat Purchasing

On campus meat purchasing for all the dormitories and Union building is centralized under Herron. The current weekly purchases of meat through this department average from 20,000 to 25,000 pounds. Mason-Abbot halls alone use 6,000 pounds of this quantity. For one meal of spareribs at Mason-Abbot, 600 pounds disappear. When smoked ham is on the menu, 450 pounds are consumed.

Because of these large quantities, Herron must work through wholesale establishments and can not always take advantage of small quantities of meat that may be available at a time when he could not otherwise receive and dictate the menu to the wholesaler. The wholesaler is unable to give the college the same quality of meat as the restaurants. Meals are then planned accordingly.

Balanced Diet in Dorms

Particular attention is paid to the dormitories where students eat three meals a day. In this respect, the dormitories are favored over the cafeteria, where most patrons eat only once a day and tain their other two meals elsewhere, Herron said.

He emphasized, though, the amount of meat available to the amount of meat in the dormitories. The Union may not be able at the present time to maintain the selection of meat to, but the quantity and quality of the available meat has remained the same, he said.
