Dr. B. C. Clausen To Speak On 'That Beautiful Life'

Orchestra To Play*
At Baccalaureate

"That Beautiful Life" will be the topic of the college baccalaureate address to be given by Dr. Bernard C. Clausen, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, Cleveland, Ohio. Baccalaureate services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in College auditorium.

Dr. Clausen, a graduate of Colgate university and Union Theological seminary, has specialized in work with young people. He speaks annually in the chapels of colleges and universities, and gives a score of commencement addresses in high schools each spring.

Services will include music by the College orchestra, invocation and benediction by the Rev. George R. Selway, rector, St. Paul's Episcopal church, Lansing;

East Lansing Memorial day services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 in front of the city honor roll on Abbott road. Col. Dorsey Rodney, general chairman, has announced.

and a solo by Marvin Dean, tenor.

Pres. John A. Hannah; Jack Breslin, senior class president from Battle Creek; and the two pastors, the Reverend Selway and Doctor Clausen will lead the procession, members of the senior class following them.

Senior Dance Tickets Are Available For All

Topping senior activities scheduled for this weekend's social calendar is the annual Senior Commencement dance to be held in Union ballroom Friday night with Dick Charles' band playing from 9 to 12.

Faculty patrons for the evening are Prof. and Mrs. John E. Kobs, and Prof. and Mrs. Alvin S. Kircher, both of the men's physical education department.

Ticket sales are open to all students beginning today. Jack Breslin, senior class president announced.

TODAY'S CAMPUS

... They Did It

George O'Neil, Buffalo, N. Y., sophomore, was pushed into the rushing rapids of the Red Cedar yesterday. An astonished bystander saw George Heem crawling out of the water and asked him what the trouble was. "Never mind," said O'Neil, "they did it on Porpoise."

Byrnes Answers Russia's Charges

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes today flatly denied statements made against him and the United States government yesterday by Russian foreign minister Molotov.

Addressing his news conference in a calm, steady voice, Byrnes reviewed the Molotov contentions point by point and answered them with his own recollections and by quoting directly from the record of the recent Paris conference of big four foreign ministers.

In reply to Molotov's assertion that a British-American bloc had "waged an offensive" against Russia at Paris, Byrnes declared there was no such bloc in existence.

The Secretary also discussed at length Molotov's assertion that Byrnes had made "a somewhat inaccurate statement."

Truman, Lewis, Krug Meet On Coal Strike Negotiations

DZVs To Begin Clean Campus Plan At Union

The DZVs at their regular meeting last Wednesday night voted to inaugurate a "Cleanup State's Campus" campaign. As announced by the DZV president, Joe Skrocki, Saginaw senior, about 30 or 35 members of the organization will participate in this undertaking.

Under the direction of Zoltan Ferency, Del Ray senior, Walter Klewicki, Hamtramck junior, and Skrocki the group will begin by cleaning up the grounds around the Union building at 1 p.m. today. From there they will work as a group over the entire campus which they expect to be cleared of refuse by 2.

DZVs Seek Help

It is the hope of this club that other campus organizations will follow their example by clearing up the campus at regular intervals.

The DZV club is a brotherhood of Michigan State college athletes organized in the summer of '37. Their headquarters are located in Smoke Shop.

Teams Top 'Mural League

Since its appearance on State's campus its teams have lost only two intramural sport championships. During the war the DZVs led all other organizations in the sale of war stamps.

DZV is composed 100 per cent of veterans, all of whom are former State students.

*President Claims Progress In Half-Hour Conference

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—President Truman got a pleasing "progress" report on the coal strike negotiations tonight, his secretary said as the talks neared their final phase.

Secretary of the Interior Krug and John L. Lewis, reported in substantial agreement on all major points of a new bituminous contract, conferred with the President for 34 minutes before resumption of their negotiations at 8:30 p.m. (EST).

Progress Reported

"Progress was reported by both sides," Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, told reporters. "On the basis of that progress they meet again tonight in Mr. Krug's office."

Asked whether Mr. Truman was pleased at the principals' report, Ross replied that "naturally the President is pleased at progress toward settlement of any industrial dispute."

Both Krug and Lewis declined to comment on the session with the President.

Lewis was asked by a reporter whether he expects "to be back here tomorrow."

"I have no expectations," he replied.

Possible Changes

Pending final signature, the agreement was still subject to possible changes. But a qualified informant who may not be named said the new wage scale is expected to follow the pattern of an 18½ cent increase in the basic hourly pay with overtime provisions which will net the miners $59.25 for a 45-hour week compared with their present $63.50 pay for a 54-hour week.

One minor detail, however, was said to be holding up the final settlement.

Choral Groups To Highlight College Sing

MSC's commencement activities which began May 1 with the first senior dance, will also include the traditional College Sing to be held Sunday evening at 7:30 in the College band shell. Two choral groups, the Women's Glee club, directed by William R. Sur, and the A Cappella choir, directed by William Kimmel, will participate in the sing.

"In Silent Night," a Suabian folk song, "Thirteenth Psalm" by Brahms-Lefebvre, and "Slumber Song of the Palestrinian Mother" arranged by Gaul, will be among the selections sung by the Women's Glee club, accompanied by Mary Goodell, Lansing sophomore.

The A Cappella choir will include in its program "Introit," arranged by William Kimmel, "O God, Hear My Prayer" by Gretchaninoff, and "Gloria In Excelsis" by Vaughn Williams.

With Miss Goodell accompanying, the Glee club, choir, and audience will join in community singing to conclude the program.

In case of rain, the Sing will be held in College auditorium.

Actors Wrestle At Term Play Rehearsal

The George Kaufman-Moss Hart comedy "You Can't Take It With You" will be presented as the spring term play Friday and Saturday evenings in Fairchild theater.

A preview of the play will be broadcast today over WKAR at 5 p.m.

Hudson's to Interview For Executive Jobs

Men students interested in junior executive positions with the J. L. Hudson company of Detroit in its merchandising, research, and management divisions should contact the placement office immediately, according to Tom King, director.

That Does It

By MARION HECKEL

THE world is made up of a number of things, but by far the most interesting element is the human race. Each one of us has something to give, his fellow, and such a gathering place of groups as Michigan State college gives both students and faculty a rich opportunity for exchange.

The social immaturity of the student body, the lack of liberal thought throughout the world of the young people has been deplorable in past months. No, I'm not being pedagogue. I'm quite serious, for a change; so don't start wondering what see or psych book is being plagiarized.

What is a principle? Do you really know, or are you following the general idea of the current generation of young intelligentsia and proclaiming "we need a radical thought, liberalism and new principles" without quite knowing what you're talking about?

We're always ready to go off half-cocked, as a general American rule, on anything and eager to start flaming them (wherever they may be) for things that go wrong, and always willing to do something, yet 90 per cent of the time that uncomfortable thought of what can be done is always with us too.

Well, let's get some brass tacks in here and give you some idea of where this is heading. I'll answer my question of what a principle is, a settled rule of action. It precludes doubt, it is that vague undefinable something, but it calls for knowledge, understanding and some degree of depth.

We're surrounded by persons who are as thinking as a man can be, and they are an answer to our liberalism as the young.

The faculty of any college or university is what gives us our knowledge (limited, that is, by how much we put into what they give) but it's up to us for the understanding and that degree of depth.

Look, the student body seems to have gotten the wrong idea somewhere. They're the group around here that seems to be the

Columbia Institutes Basic College

Michigan State college's system of a broader education of the Basic college education which was inaugurated in 1942, has spread to many other colleges and universities. The last institution of higher learning to adopt this procedure was Columbia college.

Other colleges which have made similar changes in their curriculum are Yale, Princeton, Colgate and Syracuse in the East, with comparable changes in progress at such universities as Iowa, Iowa State, Drake, Illinois, and Ohio State.

These recent changes indicate a strong trend throughout the United States toward the provision of a broader education for American students. Under the Columbia system, freshmen and sophomores have fewer elective requirements in the upper years, have more leeway in their choice of electives at all.

Holiday Cuts Down Weekend Plans

Memorial day vacation plans and term-end blues have narrowed the social activities in prospect for the week to a minimum.

An initiation dinner today at 7 p.m. will mark the reactivation of the Alpha Epsilon chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honor society. The dinner and program will be held at Sam's food shop.

The ATOs celebrated the winning of the cup at the fraternity Monday night with an Italian spaghetti dinner. W. R. McIntyre and Gunther Decker, judges for the sing, were present guests.

Canoe Party Stated

Student Christian fellowship is taking advantage of tomorrow's vacation with a canoe trip on the Red Cedar. The group will meet at Bethel manor at 8 p.m.

Friday night Pi Kappa Phi and their dates will picnic on their lot, Richard Bystrom, social chairman, said.

Big social function for the seniors Friday night will be the commencement dance to be held in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12.

Theta Chi Plan Ball

Theta Chi have planned a bowery ball at the house from 9 to 12 Saturday evening. It will be a costume dance and patrons in attendance will be Prof. and Mrs. Herman Wyngarden and Prof. and Mrs. Edward Gee.

Campbell women will fete their dates at their term party Saturday from 9 to 12.

Student club is sponsoring an open "Pirates Playday" Saturday. The pirates will meet at Peoples church at 8 p.m. to begin their search for the treasure. Patrons will be Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reuling and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Edwards.

Saturday, the chemistry department will forget test tubes and beakers at the annual picnic, which will be held at Fitzgerald park in Grand Ledge.

The picnicers will start from the chemistry building at 3 p.m. The activities are sponsored by Alpha Chi Sigma, Sigma Chi Gamma, and the faculty of the chemistry department.

Thirteen Students Pledge Alpha Zeta

Announcement was made last week of the pledging of 13 men to the MSC chapter of Alpha Zeta, national agriculture honorary. The following men have been "tapped" and will be formally initiated in the near future.

Vet's Questions Answered

Many veterans have been confused by misleading newspaper headlines and conflicting interpretations of Public Law No. 346. We have to attend summer school. "If we don't, will it be necessary to go through a lot of time before we can re-enter school?"

John W. Hicks, training supervisor and U.S. Veterans administration representative, answers the questions as follows: A veteran training under No. 16 is not required to attend summer school.

If the veteran returns to the school, to pursue the same course, he will not have to get supplemental certificate of eligibility. However, if he should transfer to another college, or pursue a different course, he must also go through advisement.

The Administration also states that those who are under P. A. 16 should continue training the summer because they run risk of losing their eligibility if they are not in school.

This does not mean that the school board is "laying for" means under No. 16. It does mean that if an examination fails to show that a veteran's disability has disappeared, and he is not in training at that time, he may be found ineligible for further training.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28 (P) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chief of the Veterans' administration, told the Governors' conference today benefit payments to ex-servicemen going to school under the GI Bill of Rights "will be speeded up."

Veterans training under Public Law 16 (disabled), or Public Law 346 (G.I. bill), at Michigan State college who have not received subsistence check and meet the following requirements should contact the U.S. Veterans Administration representative in the Office of Veterans' Affairs, Demonstration hall before Monday noon.

A special report concerning delayed payment will be forwarded to the Regional office to expedite payment for those who report, according to John W. Hicks, acting training supervisor.

To be eligible for this service, vets must have received a letter of authorization (disabled) or a certificate of Eligibility and Entitlement (G.I. bill) and presented same to school.

He must have trained at the college for 30 days since the authorization listed in above, was presented to the school, and must have filed form 1950 prior to May 1, 1946 but have not received a certificate of Eligibility and Entitlement as of June 3, 1946.

"We need college girls"

June graduates who like to meet the public need look no further than a Michigan Bell business office to find an interesting job that will utilize their special talents.

Young women in these positions look after our customers' telephone needs, whether it be an order for new service, a change in present service or information about a bill.

Right now, with Michigan Bell in the midst of the largest expansion program in its history, we need more business office girls to help serve the growing number of telephone subscribers.

College-trained girls with a natural friendliness and pleasant manner are especially well-suited for this work... So, why not investigate for yourself? One of these important jobs may be waiting for you. Salary levels are higher than ever before.

Drop by the nearest Michigan Bell business office and find out about the advantages of a telephone job with a future. In Detroit, visit our employment office, 1365 Cass Avenue.

Ceremonies for Lantern Night To Climax In Auditorium

Further plans for Lantern Night, annual event to honor graduating senior women, have been revealed by co-chairmen Shirley Hamelink, Lansing senior; Margaret Wallace, Dearborn junior; and Ruth Meinke, Detroit sophomore. The traditional procession is jointly sponsored by Mortar Board, Tower Guard and AWS.

Procession to Start

Ceremonies will start at the Women's gym at 9 p.m., proceeding through Beal gardens and ending at College auditorium, where Pres. John A. Hannah will speak. All except freshmen women will carry lighted Japanese lanterns, marching in groups according to classes.

Pat Darr, Detroit senior, will be mistress of ceremonies, presenting white carnations to the 75 senior women who have done outstanding work in campus organizations.

Officers to be Revealed

The newly elected president of Tower Guard and the officer for the other two sponsoring organizations will be revealed at this time.

Previous to the ceremony, from 8:30 to 9 p.m., the new AWS board will be hostess to the outgoing AWS Board at a party on the Union sun porch. After the ceremony, a home economics party is being planned to fete graduating seniors of that department. Women attending this party have been granted 12 a.m. permission.

AWS Grants Coeds Late Permission

The women of Michigan State college have been granted 12:30 permission for tonight by the AWS; regular hours will be observed tomorrow night.

At the meeting that was held last night it was decided that every college residence would have a study smoker to be open from 11 p.m. to 2 a.m. during the examination period if the house council so agree.

Senior women have been granted guest privileges during graduation week and even though it is against the rules to have guests the weekend previous to exam week.

The women will be held responsible for their guests and have been asked to be considerate of those students studying for exams.

El Salvador is the only Central American republic without a sea coast on the Atlantic.

Coeds Reserve Summer Rooms

Women intending to live in the college residences during the summer school will sign for their rooms in the office of the Counselor of Women next week.

Contrary to previous announcements as to which of the women's dormitories will be open, the new schedule lists North and South Williams to be open for the entire quarter and West Mary Mayo for the six-week session.

Women will sign up for their rooms according to the following schedule:

12-Week Quarter

Seniors and juniors	Monday, June 3
Sophomores and freshmen	Tuesday, June 4

Six-Week Session

Seniors and juniors	Wednesday, June 5—morning
Sophomores and freshmen	Wednesday, June 5—afternoon

Additional information regarding the cost of room and board may be obtained from the office of the Counselor of Women.

Affairs of State

By LIZ CORRY and THAIS LUCAS

DON'T let anyone tell you that spring doesn't make a young man's fancy lightly turn. More reports of new pinning and engagements are turned in every day than were told for any month of last term. And now to catch up on a few of the latest.

A report from the ATO house states that Karen Nielsen, Detroit sophomore, is now wearing Charles Beach's pin. Charles is a junior from Jackson.

Faternity brother Harold Hudson, Royal Oak sophomore, has hung his pin on Sigma Kappa pledge Marilyn Patrick, also of Royal Oak.

A third ATO, Roy Schochow, of Wyandotte, passed his badge to Dorothy Goers, Kappa Delta from Farmington.

Sigma Chi has two representatives on today's "pinned pin" list. The first is Dick Postiff, Fernside freshman, who recently presented Clarice Woodruff, DeWitt freshman, with his fraternity pin.

Ester Patterson, Benton Harbor freshman, has been proudly showing her friends the Delta Sigma pin which Fred Wertheimer, Ann Arbor junior, bestowed on her.

Another tubbing was recently in order at Rochdale house. The victim was Lelah Bacon, Jackson sophomore, who is engaged to Bill Evan, also of Jackson and who recently was discharged from the navy.

Last Friday night another recently discharged tar presented his girl with a diamond. This twosome is composed of Dottie Gresquiere, Grosse Pointe sophomore, and Gordon Anderson, also from Grosse Pointe.

Mary Swengel, a former Chi O on campus, has returned in the capacity of a visitor. She surprised her sorority sisters the other night by displaying a ring on her third finger left hand which Bill Carlyon, of East Lansing, recently gave her.

Big Sister Council Makes Plans For Fall Term

Big Sister Co-chairmen Marie Matte, Detroit junior, and Virginia Gilhooley, East Lansing sophomore, announced that petitions will be accepted from all women desiring to be big sisters. Plans for selection of big sisters and for fall activities were made at a Big Sister council meeting last night.

The campaign for big sisters will start today, ending Wednesday, June 5. Petitions are being left in the AWS office, which is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Information to Include

The information on petitions should include the applicant's name, year, college address, and division, interests, activities, and whether or not she is planning to attend summer school. The names of women accepted for big sisters will be announced the latter part of next week.

Since it will be impossible to announce the names of freshman big sisters until fall term, the summer training system will be discontinued. As a substitute, a general convocation of all big sisters and little sisters will be held during Freshman week, at which time the women will be assigned to their little sisters.

Convocation for Instruction

The convocation will also serve as a training meeting for big sisters, who will be told what their duties are to consist of. Activities of the Big Sister Council will begin as soon as possible after the convocation.

Secretary of the Big Sister Council will be Jean Englehardt, East Lansing sophomore, and treasurer Gray Campbell, Rapid City sophomore. These officers were elected at the council meeting last night.

ultra-conservative element and this is caused from having no ideas. A word we might coin for it would be 'academia' . . . academic-amnesia.

Students aren't listening to and disagreeing with their elders, they're merely taking it all in with wide mouths and closed brains. It takes an intellectual conflict of two or more attitudes to arrive at progressiveness but right now the one attitude seems only to be battling to keep the students awake in classes.

It sums up to this maybe: You have a prof in written and spoken English who's been all over the world studying and traveling; India, for instance.

Others are a group of men from such places as China, Danzig, South America and all over the country who can give you the grains, but it's up to you to subject it to your intellect and make something out of it all.

In everyday terms we could put it this way. One of the fundamental troubles with Michigan State isn't in the Ad building. It's the student, individually and collectively. Next time a problem arises on the campus, look it over, talk it over and think it over. Don't just sit there.

Fairchild Garden Acts As Setting For 'Fairy Forest,' Childrens Play

By SYLVIA CIERNICK

Sprightly fairies and elves will take over the auditorium garden behind Fairchild theater Monday evening at 7 when the speech and dramatics department presents "The Fairy Forest," a one-act play.

This is one of the few times that the garden has been used for an outdoor play.

and it will provide an excellent setting as the entire action takes place in a forest.

An adaptation of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Fairy Forest" was especially prepared for children by Jean Granville, graduate assistant in speech and dramatics. Miss Granville has undertaken this project as her master thesis production. During the year she has supervised the Children's theater, an active group of 60 children in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades from Lansing and East Lansing.

Children to Portray Parts

Seven members of the cast of 19 are from this children's group. They will portray elves and fairies.

The remainder of the cast, drawn from students on campus,

Grad Student Works

Miss Granville's creative dramatics class has charge of props and other backstage work.

In case of rain, the play, to which everyone is invited, will be presented at the same time Tuesday evening, Miss Granville stated.

WKAR Offers Chance For Amateur Actors

Interviews for students interested in dramatic programs at WKAR will be terminated Monday, according to J. Kenneth Richards, production supervisor for the college station.

Lead roles, stock parts, dialect parts, and singing roles in newly-scheduled programs for next year will require participation of 20 or 30 additional students, Richards revealed.

Interviews are being conducted on fourth floor of College auditorium. Students who are assigned trial parts will take part in auditions from 7 to 9 p.m. on June 3, he added.

No matter how cold it gets, how much it rains, thoughts of hot weather and sun just seem to crowd in. The perfect recipe for summer is the harmony of tan skin. What could be a better picture than a tawny complexion in brown and white with a big brimmed hat, and a summer dress.

Like Hollywood, the house of fashion exclusively for juniors, has come up with a perfect answer to the problem of keeping cool and still looking like a band-box look. This is a dress in chocolate brown with abbreviated sleeves, buttoned buttons march, from the collarless cardigan which closes with a button.

The skirt is topped by a wide peplum, which adds a touch of the waist. The peplum sleeves are edged with a trim of string loops, which can be wiped off with a damp cloth and it's ready to go places again. Shepard's offer these hand bags in several styles, with handles or zippers, and in two-tone combinations. They're all beautifully lined, and priced from $3.95 to $4.95.

The find of the week is something new in cosmetics, called the Model's Special. It's a smooth cake make-up that goes on like magic, and stays and stays. The College Drug offers shades galore in the striking red and cream plastic container, for $1.50, plus tax.

The slickest of souvenirs seen in a long time are the creamy saddle leather cigarette cases at the College Book store. They hold a full pack, and are decorated with a gold MSC seal. A bargain at $2.00.

To turn to the music makers, Jimmy Dorsey offers some sound advice with "All That Glitters is Not Gold." On the other side, Dee Parker gets by very well, "Don't What Comes Naturally."

The King Cole Trio make with some heavy harmony on "Route 66" and "Everyone is Saying Hello Again." Both these Capitol selection can be had at the Campus Music shop, for 55 cents.

Spartans Face Buckeyes in Twilight Tilt Tonight

By JIM CARR

Michigan State will be shooting for their 18th victory this season this evening when they play host to the Penn State university baseball team in a twilight game scheduled to get under way at 7.

The first of the two-game tilt with the Buckeyes will be set for the dinner hour at the athletic department. More people will be expected to see the Spartans in action this season comes to a close.

John Kobs will pitch the Spartans on either Joe Keith, Steffen, or the left arm of Kobs. Kobs has been the nod to handle the pitching duties and Hughes will return to third base for the first time.

Best Seasons
The Spartans are on the verge of the most successful season in the history of the State baseball team. When State won 18 games and lost six, it set a record for the Kobsmen.

State should give the Buckeyes little trouble. The Spartans finished the Big Ten season with a 10-4 record and posted a 10-3 record against Western teams.

Not Named
The coaching staff is undecided as to who will start the game. If Skrock starts, Steffen will get the nod for the Memorial day tilt.

Skrock, who missed the game because of a sore arm, is slated to return to the outfield position. Pat will answer the call for the right field.

weaver at Third
The Spartans will use Dick Mineweaver at third.

Penn State Next For MSC Cindermen

One record which should fall when the Spartan cindermen play host to the Penn State track aggregation Saturday will be the 440-yard mark of Michigan State's Jim Frazer.

Frazer beat the record in last week's ICAA affair at Annapolis by one and six-tenths seconds when he stormed in to place second for State, just two feet behind Navy's Bill Kash.

Wench Out for Record
Vaulting Ted Wench will be expected to break the meet record for his assignment which was set by his teammate, Bob Baker in 1942.

meet time of 4:25 set by Ed VanAuker for Michigan State. Glibbard failed to place at last week's Annapolis classic but clapped one and eight-tenths seconds off this mark in beating Notre Dame ten days ago.

Coach Karl A. Schladerman said yesterday that he will probably enter the same combination in the mile relay event that ran the race against the Annapolis team.
