

Natators Face Cyclones; Matmen Meet Illini Tonight

Iowa State Brings Unbeaten Record Into Spartan Pool

By JACK WORTH

Something new in swimming will be presented in Jenison pool at 8 tonight. An undefeated Iowa State swim squad, led by a sensational freshman freestyler, Roger Watts, will engage in a double dual meet with the Spartan team and Wayne university's Tar-stars. All six lanes of the pool will be used as the Iowa swimmers, against two teams at the same time. Wayne and Michigan State will not count times or points against each other. The two-in-a-meet was arranged to save Iowa State a day of extra travel.

Coch. McCaffrey, swim mentor at Iowa college before coming to Michigan State in 1942, holds two division over his old school. In 1943 the last time the two teams met the McCaffreys downed the Cyclones twice, 63-21, and 77-27.

Tonight's meet will feature a contest between two undefeated freestylers. Roger Watts has been making outstanding history for Iowa in the 100, 200, and 400 yard events, and George Moserhyde of State is undefeated in the 100.

Watts, swimming his first college meet against Minnesota, accounted for 10 records and firsts in three events for 15 points. His time for the 220 was 2:13.9 (equaling Abel Gilbert's varsity mark) a record for the Iowa pool. Last week the flashy freshman established a national freshman record in the same event, the 220, with a terrific timing of 2:12.8. State will miss Abel Gilbert in this event, but George Moserhyde and Roger Miller will be in for the Spartans.

Moserhyde and Roger Miller will also meet the Iowa star in the longer event, the 400, and based on past performances, will be an edge. Watts has been winning for the Cyclones in time around the 5:00 mark, and have been consistently down to five minutes flat. James Duke will battle Watts and another Iowa standout, Rush Smith, in the sprints. Duke has been improving steadily and must be given the nod after his new varsity time of 53.2 in the 100 last week.

Other swimmers who have kept the Cyclones undefeated this season are Doug Robinson and Alan Thompson in the medley relay and George Finney and Bob Nielsen in the breaststroke. Robinson will also face Spartan Will Cooley for the backstroke.

Track Team Bids for U.S. Recognition

By WALLY SCHRAMM

Michigan State's indoor track team, composed mainly of freshmen and sophomores, is at present making a strong bid for recognition on the national track scene.

With a number of records set, the Spartans have been outstanding performers in the Michigan A.A.U. meet and Michigan State relay. The Spartans, with the top five schools in the Midwest according to Coach Karl Schumacher.

State Mich in Midwest. The Midwest indoor track meet, with several nationally rated teams, is the premier event in the region of the Spartans.

Schumacher, of the top Midwest schools, are pleased that a clear picture of their relative strength should be available before the end of the season.

Michigan Next. The Spartans will make their next appearance Saturday night at the Michigan A.A.U. meet at the University of Michigan.

Outstanding freshmen include Jack Danesh, triple threat, and John Johnson, a consistent scorer in the broad jump, dash, and low hurdles.

Shot putter George Mueller, pole vaulter Fred Lowman, and Bob Carr, hurdler, Horace Smith, and quarterback, Sid Saleon are other first year men who have shown considerable promise.

For the sophomores, Page Christiansen and Alvin Dow, hurdlers, Ray Hughes, Hal Mayne, top line runners with brilliant high hurdle performances.

Capt. Jim Fraser, quarter-mile, high jump artist Jim Milne and veteran miler distance runner Walt Mark lead the seniors.

Spartan stock is still high despite a mediocre record of nine wins and eight losses, and comparative ratings of the team show that the State quintet has won all the games they were supposed to, and a couple besides.

Dunkel's system has placed Michigan State as the second best college team in Michigan, with 12 of 14 ranked first. A review of Spartan opponents shows that nine are rated above the State team, and all of the teams holding victories over the Spartans are in that classification. Here are the Converse-Dunkel ratings:

Geahan Hits For 'Two' Against Cavaliers

Camera catches State's high scoring forward, RON GEAHAN (18) in midair as he cages a two-point shot to help the Spartans to a 51-46 win over University of Virginia, Tuesday night in Jenison. Chuck Nee (21), Cavalier's diminutive spark plug cuts under basket as Jack Canwood (12), Spartan center, and Les Blahin (32), Virginia watch shot. Ward Speer and then Cleary of Southerners attempt to hamper Geahan.

Spartan Opponents Rated High By Dunkel Basketball System

By RED LAWSON

Although Michigan State basketball coach Ben Van Alstyne has been in a quandary coping with the Spartan basketball schedule, there is plenty of justification for the course followed to date.

Van Alstyne is looking himself if he can make the better teams and come out of it with a better record than the smaller schools, then knock off one of the larger ones in between.

Such a controversy raises many questions as to just what is to be desired of a schedule. Should it provide the home team a chance to come out with a victory before the national tour, or should it furnish the ultimate in cage competition, and allow the student body and the State fans in general an opportunity to see the best college teams in action.

Schedule A Tough One. Classification comes to the school that takes on the better teams, with complete disregard of the broader games since national ratings are indicated, shown by the fact that most points to be gained by losing to a good team is a maximum margin, than it is to win by losing a weak or mediocre aggregation.

To read off the teams on the Spartan schedule sounds like the national basketball honor roll of the top five. It includes Kentucky, perennial Southern jump champions, and announced the best college team in the nation.

Arizona, Stanford Leaders. From the West there is Border Conference champion Arizona and Pacific Coast League contender Stanford to further the all-star array.

In the independent ranks State played Notre Dame, number three team in the nation and the best in the Midwest. Marquette, all ways tough, and then local teams Detroit and Wayne besides two other southern leaders, Virginia and Georgia Tech.

The Eastern sector was paced by Syracuse when the Spartans shipped them in an overtime, and Boston College features the tallest center in basketball, Elmore Morkenheimer, as their claim to fame.

Quonsets V, N, Rummies Win. The merry pace continued in the three games played Wednesday night in the intramural basketball tournament with victories being garnered by the Red Cedar Rummies, Quonsets V, and Quonsets N. The Red Cedar gang stayed in the tournament by virtue of 12-6 win over Jenison.

Quonsets V took the measure of Quonsets N, 17-16, with the Quonsets N defeating Quonsets V, 10-13-11. The Red Cedar Rummies and Quonsets V battled, followed closely by the 4 scored by his teammate Bob Morrison and Connors 3. Quonsets V presented a well balanced offensive play in scoring 15-17 to 16 win over Quonsets N. High scorer for the winners was George Decker with 9 points. Art Jarvis, 4 takes also added the winning cause no little by throwing in 2 takes each.

Chicago Cubs Off To Training Base At Santa Catalina

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP)—A Chicago Cubs contingent of 32 half of them, batters, tonight leaves off for the Bronx spring training base at Santa Catalina Island, Calif., where Charlie Grimm, the base man with "banjo" will start cracking his managerial whip next Monday.

Grimm, who has been vacationing on the island for several weeks, knows exactly what he has to work with during the spring shakeout when gains full momentum a week from Monday when the entire squad assembles.

That's because the Cubs did not swing a single big winter deal and their 1947 lineup is almost ready for the scorecards right now.

Wolverine Worries Over As Crisler Stays At Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 13 (AP)—University of Michigan's rumor-mongered worries concerning the possible loss of athletic director Herbert O. (Dint) Crisler vanished today when Crisler announced at a press conference that he had given up any plans to accept a similar post at the University of California.

Crisler, whose Michigan football teams have won 61 games, lost 16 and tied three in nine years here, said he had turned down a $11,000 salary increase to remain at Michigan, where he earns approximately $12,500 a year.

Purdue After Titan Coach

DETROIT, Feb. 13 (AP)—Head coach Charles "Chuck" Baer of the University of Detroit is among the 20 possibilities being considered for the post of head coach at Purdue and the Titan member is definitely interested.

So Baer told newsmen today in confirming reports that Purdue officials had contacted him about the post.

"I have been happy at the U of D, but a fellow couldn't be blamed for trying to better himself," declared Baer. "I will say though that the Purdue offer, if one is made, would have to be very attractive."

Illinois Team Loaded With Big Nine Kings

By AL REYNOLDS

Wrestling on their home floor for the second time this year, the Spartan mat team will play host to Illinois, 1946 Western Conference champs, tonight at 8 in Jenison field house.

The only team to beat Illini this season is Cornell college of Iowa, which boasts one of the top teams in the country. The 1946 wrestlers have handled in three wins and one loss, and the only common foe between the two teams is Indiana, which beat the Spartans, 15-9, and lost to Illini, 14-12.

Three Western Conference individual title holders will make the journey to Lansing along with the remainder of a formidable outfit for the fighting Illini matmen. Illinois has conference champs heading this array of stars is Dave Shapiro, who capped the conference 165 crown. Along with him is Norman Antonissen, 175 champ. Down in the 136 class is Larry Kachirubas, who took

The remainder of the team is as follows: Dean Ryan, 121; John McCarthy, 128; Joe Garcia, 145; Ken Martin, 155; and Chuck Gottfried. For Michigan State, Gene McDonald will once again take the 121 position. Jack Lockman will move in at the 128 slot and Larry Konrad, who recovered from a neck injury received in the Purdue match, will occupy the 136 slot.

Anderson Replaces Johnson. There is a change at the 145 post, however. Don Anderson, who has been backing Don Johnson all season for the starting position, came through with a victory in a challenge match Wednesday afternoon. Johnson had been previously undefeated in competition this year and it will be Anderson's first start of the season.

MSC Fencers Threaten OSU Bearcat Foils

Carrying a record of two wins and two losses, Michigan State's fencing team will head for Ohio this morning for bouts with Ohio State this evening at 7:30, and Cincinnati tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Coach Charles Schmitter will carry the same squad he has used in competition this year. Bill Lacey, Al Kwatier, and James Murphy will be at the top positions. Jacob Verner, Ed Ponder and Chandler Washburn in the and John Ewing, Jack Connel and George Cassin at the water spots.

The Buckeyes were defeated by Wayne earlier in the season and the Bearcats last time to Notre Dame State split a pair of contests with the Scarlet and Gray in 1945 and dropped two to them last year. Their last bout with Cincinnati was in 1942 when the Spartans defeated the Bearcats by a 14-13 score.

Schmitter says he probably will have a close match with the Buckeyes this year and predicts Coach Doc Hutchins of Cincinnati will come up with another of his unpredictable teams as he has in the past.

Dixie Trip Set For State Nine

Athletic director Ralph Young today announced the arrangement of a 10-game schedule for the Spartan basketball squad on its winter training circuit.

The swing through Dixie will be March 21, against Eastern Kentucky Teachers at Richmond, Ky., will close with a meeting at Duke at Durham, April 1. A prime season schedule is being arranged, according to Young.

He made a sweep of last year's nine game trip, and went to hang up a record of 21 wins and five losses for the regular season.

The southern schedules includes: Eastern Kentucky State Teachers at Richmond; March 22, Maryville College at Maryville, Tenn.; March 23, Eastern Kentucky State Teachers at Richmond; March 24-25, Georgia at Athens, S.C.; March 27, Newberry at Newberry, N.C.; March 28, South Carolina at Columbia, S.C.; North Carolina at Charlotte; April 1, Duke at Durham, N.C.

President Defends 'Essential' Budget

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—President Truman stepped into the congressional argument over how much the government should spend today with an assertion that the $37,500,000,000 he has asked is essential for safe operations.

He did not elaborate on that word safe, except to endorse without qualification the statement of Secretary of War Patterson.

The War Department head declared last night that if the army has to take a $1,500,000,000 cut, some legislators say, it should be its "current and long-term missions" will be jeopardized. Its chief current duty is occupation of Japan and Germany. Its long-range mission is to protect the United States from attack.

Mr. Truman's comment was in response to a reporter's request for his reaction to a senate-house budget subcommittee's recommendation that $6,000,000,000 be trimmed from the president's budget.

At the capital a bipartisan coalition, contending that weakening the army and navy may lead to another war, organized for an attempt to hold the budget cut to $4,500,000,000 or less.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) said meanwhile that the alarms sounded by the army and navy indicated a "lack of understanding of the purpose of the new legislative budget law."

As chairman of the senate appropriations committee, Bridges issued a statement saying:

"The action of the subcommittee, on Tuesday of this week, represents no specific action with respect to the military expenditures for the coming fiscal year on the expenditures of any branch of the government. It simply means that it is the judgment of that subcommittee that in view of all the inter-related needs, the federal government could and should be restricted to spending not more than $31,500,000,000 in the coming fiscal year.

"The military and all other branches of the government will have their day in court before the appropriations committees.

ANDERSON

Laurence Stallings, he wrote "What Price Glory?" which forced on its audiences for the first time the truth, brutality and horror of war. It was a phenomenal success.

A series of failures followed until the production of "Salad Days Children" in 1927. Then Anderson wrote a courageous and fiery play about the misadventure of justice.

In 1930 the Theater Guild produced "Elizabeth the Queen" with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne and Anderson started on a new and brilliant phase of his career. On the premises that "All great plays I can remember are in verse" he used the poetic rhythms and cadences as the atom of his writing and produced an art form new to the audiences of his time.

Working in a one room cabin in New York state, Anderson wrote in long hand the first and only draft of a magnificent attempt to create a poetic tragedy about current times, a feat never before successfully accomplished in the history of the theater.

"Winter" was the result. Burgess Meredith and Margo were assigned the leading roles of Miriam and Miriamme and a superlative supporting cast was assembled. When the final curtain descended on the opening night performance the critics acknowledged that Anderson had triumphed.

Geology Students Take Field Trips To Grand Ledge

Michigan State students who are studying geology in the Basic physical science course will take field trips next week to Grand Ledge to study geological features along the banks of Grand River, according to Dr. J. A. Zinn, associate professor in physical sciences.

The field trips are under the supervision of Dr. S. G. Bergquist, head of the geology department. Instructors will take groups varying in number from 100 to 150 students, morning and afternoon, Monday through Friday morning.

The students will study rock formations of sandstone and shale, coal beds, and fossil structures showing shelled animals and impressions of fern leaves in the rocks.

They will also visit a quarry down the river where shale is manufactured into bricks. The red brick used in the building projects on campus come from this quarry.

Staff Book Gets World Market

Three staff members of Michigan State College learned today that the third edition of their technical book is enjoying wide foreign sales.

Chemical and Bacterial Analysis of Water and Sewage is written by E. R. Thomas, professor of civil engineering, F. F. Eldridge, engineering research associate, and W. L. M. Homan, professor of bacteriology and public health.

The authors received figures from the book's publishers showing that nearly 10 percent of the 12,386 sales to date have gone to overseas buyers in China, South America, and Europe.

State Social Set Swings Into Weekend Activities

By JUDY GRAHAM

Rome could burn down, the London bridge could collapse, and plans could be made to rejuvenate the Basic college building, but the biggest news around the MSC campus this week-end would be the J-Hop. From early this afternoon until the final Saturday night wait-a long list of social functions have been planned. All are satellites to the big event, held around two nights of the 1947 junior dance.

Carrying out just another tradition, the SAEs and the Psi Upsilon will hold pre-J-Hop dinners at their fraternity houses. The SAEs will entertain 15 couples at their dinner table which will be decorated with the fraternity's colors of royal purple and old gold.

Fraternity Colors

The Psi Upsilon, with 20 couples in their dining room, are also using fraternity colors of gold and garnet red in their flower and candle arrangements on the tables.

Cupid and Valentines day are put away in the background due to the J-Hop but Chi Omega and Alpha Chi Omega have not forgotten this February tradition.

Kimber Clarifies Local Phi Beta Kappa Situation

A recent story concerning Phi Beta Kappa that appeared in the State News was in error. Prof. Harry H. Kimber, history of civilization department head, wrote the following statement concerning the scholastic honorary to clarify the local situation.

"The procedure by which a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa is founded begins with a request for inspection of the proposed sheltering institution made by the members of Phi Beta Kappa who are on its staff.

"This request is addressed to the Committee on Qualifications of the national organization, known as the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa.

"A petition is accepted and a charter granted only to members of Phi Beta Kappa, hence neither an administrative nor a student body has any official connection with such a request for inspection, except that the formal petition for a charter must be approved by the President of the sheltering institution."

"The request for inspection must be accompanied by a detailed report on various aspects of the institution at which a chapter is proposed to be founded.

"This report requires months for preparation and involves considerable research with the affairs of the institution, and the records of its graduates. Personal inspection follows, after which the Committee on Qualifications reports the findings with recommendation to the Senate of the United Chapters.

"If the recommendation is favorable the Senate reports to the District Conferences and Chapters, and to the Council of the United Chapters. Approval of these bodies is followed by formal application for a charter, signed by at least three-fourths of the Phi Beta Kappa members of the staff and the President of the institution.

"The Council meets every three years and requests for inspection must reach the Committee on Qualifications not later than the second year of each triennium. Inspections were suspended during the war.

"Requests for inspection usually remain with the Committee on Qualifications for several triennial periods before favorable recommendation is made.

"The Phi Beta Kappa members of Michigan State College, with the support and exceptionally able assistance of Dean Lloyd Emmons, and with the approval of former President Robert Shaw took the first formal steps toward securing a chartered chapter for themselves in 1937.

"During 1938, a voluminous report was prepared and an inspection took place in 1939. The Committee on Qualifications did not recommend petition for a charter for the 1940 Council meeting.

"In the words of the official report, 'the specific consideration which had most weight in the Committee's deliberations was the overwhelming dominance of the vocational and professional over the liberal arts.'

"Although the College may be doing excellent work in the professional and technical fields, so long as its atmosphere and emphasis remain predominately in those fields it will probably not be recognized as a center for Phi Beta Kappa whose interest lies in upholding broad liberal college education as providing the essential foundation for specialization and leadership in any area of democratic civilization.

"Neither the college administration nor the members of Phi Beta Kappa on the faculty consider the door to be closed, however, and without doubt, when in their judgment, the proper time has come, whether in 1949, 1952, or in 1955, another request for inspection will be made," the statement concludes.
