HAPPY LASSIES

Landon Women Find New Dorm Lap Of Luxury

By MARJORIE PETERS

Having 30 to 40 dormitories, one term, and then being reassigned with one to two, the Landon Hall women in Landon Hall have it. Yes, it's the place these days with its electronic and target-like glowing every corner.

Of course there are minor difficulties to overcome, such as "where will we take our shower tonight?" and "let's grab some lunch in the Union along with the other fifty thousand, but jokes aside, it's really swell."

Some of the rooms have double doors, others have set and are without desk lamps, but give those Landon women a week or two and they'll have everything. Closet space is practically the same as it is in the other dormitories, but the beds and the side springs, not only on the single bed, but on the upper and lower bunk too. Heaven, here we come! Pink tiled walls in their washrooms and exceptionally large rooms, with that clean smell of new paint and varnish are two more reasons why those gals from Landon are happy.

Canadian Dollar Drops

DETROIT, April 1 (AP) — The Canadian dollar dropped to a free rate of 92.50 in Detroit today, its lowest point since last July when the dominion pegged it on a par with American currency.

Union To Open Dining Room: Hours Change

Union dining facilities will be increased with the opening today of the second floor dining room, it was announced today by Leslie W. Scott, manager of the Union. The dining room will be available to students, faculty, staff and visitors to the campus.

Discontinued this term is the dining room which used the second floor facilities, and which was closed. It was felt that this service was necessary since the women were moved from the third floor of the union into the new room, and men students were moved into Phillips-Snyder from Red Cedar Village and Jensen Hall house.

Hours for the new dining room, which will carry complete table service, will be 11:30 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. for lunch, and 5:30 to 7:15 p. m. for dinner.

The Union grill and cafeteria hours will remain the same as last term, the former 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and 7 to 10 p. m., and the latter from 11 a. m. to 1:15 p. m. and 5 to 7:15 p. m.

Small dinner parties may be arranged by club and organizations this term. This was discontinued in previous terms because of the overcrowded conditions.

Students Say—Yea, Nay On 50c Hospital Fee

By CAROLYN DICKERSON

What do you think of the new health service ruling of charging $5 a person for clinic calls at the college hospital?

This was the question asked a number of MSC students following the recent announcement from the health center. Student opinion ran along these lines:

"I don't think students should be charged any fee for hospital service," was the statement made by many.

"This would discourage many who really need clinic attention," said Johnny Graham and Jack Osterander. Graham is a freshman from Detroit, and Osterander a sophomore from Tennessee.

Mines May Not Reopen In Six Days

United Mine Workers Urged to Steer Clear Of Pits Deemed Unsafe

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP) — A possibility that many soft coal miners may stay out of the pits indefinitely confronted government officials with a major new problem tonight.

With the United Mine Workers embarked on a six-day "mourning" work stoppage memorializing the Centralia mine blast dead word from the field indicated that many mines may be tied up much longer than six days.

Hugh White, president of UMW district 12, said at Centralia his union's members will not return to the Illinois mines Monday unless they are found safe by inspectors and union members. He added, however, that steps taken since the disaster "may remedy many of the unsafe conditions."

A short time earlier, Adolph Pacifico, President of UMW district 6, instructed his followers to shut mines they consider unsafe. District 6 embraces Ohio and the West Virginia Panhandle.

At UMW headquarters here, officials were inclined to minimize these actions, indicating they would not set a pattern for the whole industry.

Meanwhile, President Truman directed Dr. R. R. Sawyer, outgoing director of the U. S. bureau of mines, to remain on the job indefinitely, while Congress investigates the Centralia disaster.

'Heart Ailment Kills George III In Athens

ATHENS, April 1 (AP) — George II, twice exiled king of turbulent Greece, died this afternoon at the height of an international storm over the future of his nation, and his brother, Prince Paul, ascended the unsteady throne.

Death, tentatively attributed to heart trouble, came unexpectedly to the 56-year-old monarch who, in the 25 years he bore the title of king, spent only seven years in his capital.

Accession Automatic

Accession for his brother, 45-year-old Prince Paul, was automatic under the law. The third son of King Constantine took the scepter of government less than seven months after his brother returned from his latest exile in London. Paul's son, Prince Constantine, who will be seven years old June 2, became crown prince.

The new king took the royal oath in the presence of the cabinet, members of parliament, civil and military dignitaries and Archbishop Damaskinos, who served as regent of Greece before last September's plebiscite recalled George.

Byrd Proposes Loan Plan To UN For Red Showdown

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP) — Senator Byrd (D-Va.) proposed today that President Truman's plan to combat Communism in Greece and Turkey be turned over to the United Nations and that Russia be kicked out of the U. N. if she vetoes it.

"If Russia is an enemy, and persists in being an enemy to free peoples," Byrd told the Senate, "it is better to have her outside the family than inside the family."

"If we cannot get along with Russia, what is the use of trying to appease her at the council table as we have done from time to time in the past, thereby strengthening her hand for a future showdown with us?"

Overlooks Sanctions

Byrd said Mr. Truman's plan for a $400,000,000 Greek Turkish aid program overlooks "the great power" which this country and associated nations could exert through economic sanctions and other measures for retaliation against Communist influence.

Byrd suggested this procedure: "I propose that we request our representative in the United Nations organization to present the problem of Greece and Turkey to this organization for action."

Go to Assembly

It will go first to the Assembly of Nations, composed of 55 if that Assembly approves it, then it will go to the Security Council, where it can be nullified by a veto of any of the big five.

"Let Russia, if she pleases, veto it and then have a showdown with her, and, if need be, take steps to remove the veto privilege."

Truman Urges Rent Control

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP) — President Truman called upon Congress today to extend "effective" rent and eviction control until June 30, 1948, for the "proper protection of millions of our American families."

Moscow Talks Hit Deadlock On Industry

MOSCOW, April 1 (AP) — The four-power Foreign Ministers' council conferred fruitlessly for more than three hours tonight in a semi-secret meeting. They failed to reach any decisions, and discussions were said to have been "of a blunt and bitter" nature.

Informal quarters said that because of the deadlock U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall probably would seek a meeting soon with Prime Minister Winston Churchill. American sources have maintained consistently that Marshall would not ask for such a meeting until it was apparent that the conference had reached a stalemate.

Such a stalemate was evident tonight after the executive session of the ministers failed to reconcile Russia's views on reparations with those of Britain and the United States.

An official announcement said the discussion today was limited to the subjects of level of industry and reparations, and "it was agreed to return to formal sessions tomorrow."

All four delegations are agreed that unless reparations are settled, decisions on other questions will be largely academic, particularly in view of the Soviet stand that unless she receives reparations she will not agree to economic unity of Germany.

It was authoritatively learned, however, that reparations would be dropped from tomorrow's agenda, and that the ministers would discuss a provisional government for Germany.

THE FLOOD

... Of Brave Men

By BILL JOHNSTON

THIS IS A STORY of brave men. It is a story of 310 Spartans. The 310, as soldiers, sailors, and marines, gave their lives during the brutal struggle called World War II.

This is a story of ordinary Joe's. Not so many years ago, these Joe's were strolling along the beautiful campus walks, studying in the library, and learning in the same lecture rooms you and I use today.

Now the 310 are fading memories. Today's memories so often become tomorrow's forgetfulness. Over 6,000 Spartans served in the armed forces during World War II. In years to come, even these veterans cannot remain immune to this forgetfulness.

But the veterans, non-veterans, students, and alumni of Michigan State are doing something to perpetuate that memory. The answer is in the War Memorial Fund, the aim of which is a Memorial Chapel and International House for the campus.

This is a story of brave men. It is a story of civilians in uniform — men who in less responsible days had been football stars, campus leaders, or just plain students. It is the story of men like Art Howland, Ed Abdo, or Dean Cornwell.

The class of 1915 was the MSC class hardest hit by the war, with 47 fatalities. Close behind comes the class of 1914, with 41 who gave their lives. Three hundred and four of the 310 who died came from the classes of 1918 through 1916. Truly, it was a young man's war.

Young men like Bill Lorenz, '43, Scottville, who died of wounds received near Lennep, Germany on April 15, 1945 — the day before his 78th Division closed its combat career. Bill was well-built, tall, and handsome. He always had a friendly word for everyone. I have never known anyone who enjoyed life more than "Footsie" Lorenz. He was 22 when he died.

Or like Thane Bauman, '43, Lansing, who was awarded the Silver Star medal posthumously for action near Kirchberg, Germany on November 27, 1944. Thane and his platoon were ambushed during a counter-attack. The former Spartan was killed while covering the withdrawal of his men. A variety boxer at State, Thane never asked for a fight. But he never was afraid of anything.

And laughing Jimmie Melsker, the never-a-dull-moment boy, who now lies quietly in a grave somewhere in Belgium. Jimmie was a corporal with a cavalry recon troop. He was killed near Aachen on October 3, 1944. The cocky, good-natured ex-Spartan had been with his outfit only a day.

The final months of 1941 took a heavy toll. Men like Garth Smider, '41, St. Clair Shores, killed in action in France, November 29; Bob Sickle, shot to death by a sniper in Holland, September 18, after parachuting into that country with the 502nd Parachute Regiment; and Lee Cahill, an East Lansing youth who would have graduated in 1941 if the war had not come along.

Lee Cahill had a host of friends in East Lansing, and Michigan State. A Phi Delta, short and sandy-haired, Lee could swap stories with the best of them. He was killed in the Hurtgen Forest on December 13 — the first day of combat for himself and his outfit, the 78th Division.

Many great or near great names in Spartan athletics will be inscribed in stone on the wall frieze of the Memorial Center vestibule. Names such as Roy Fraleigh, '44, Detroit, who was a sergeant when he was killed by the Japs on Leyte, November 24, 1944. Roy won football letters in 1941 and '42 for his outstanding performances at left end. Fraleigh, and men such as Ralph Bennett, Duane "Bucky" Crouthwaite, William "Bud" Mackiehan, Ben Wicks, Glenn Smith, and Ralph Henning made headlines in their respective sports while students at MSC.

These, and many others of the 310 who live no more will never be forgotten by their loved ones and friends. They should never be forgotten — even though we knew them not.

You can help perpetuate the memory of their sacrifice by your contributions to the most worthy cause Spartan students ever have been asked to support — the War Memorial Fund.

Nelson Joins Choice Field In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 1 (AP)—Byron Nelson, who won the Masters golf tournament here twice in past years, comes out of retirement Thursday for the 11th annual event to find two other ex-Texas established in the Masters—Ben Hogan and Jimmie Demaret.

Nelson, winner of over $100,000 in the 1944-1945 span, stepped aside early last fall after a combination of ailments, particularly a bad back, ruined his effectiveness.

Hogan, twice the runner-up here last year and in a 1944 playoff with Nelson, has spent two weeks getting in some long practice sessions. Demaret, the 1940 king of the greens and the Masters winner that year, apparently is back at the peak of his game. He and Hogan have won the lion's share of the honors in recent months.

Starting a sort of makeshift side with Nelson in the Links, The South Atlantic champions reached New York by plane today with Sam Snead, captain of the British open champion, Leeke, bested Snead in a series of recent matches in South Africa.

Entered among the 100 players invited are all four last year top finishers. Hogan, the PGA champion, Lloyd Mangrum, the U.S. open victor in a playoff, Ted Bishop, the amateur king and Sam Snead, the PGA Links champ.

The Bombers visit Philadelphia for the inaugural of the best-of-three set between the local two numbers clubs, and the New York Knickerbockers face the Boston Celtics in another two-game series.

Organic Chemistry Tests Requested

All students who have "Organic Chemistry" by Lucas, the text for Chemistry 301, and who have completed the course are requested to turn in the book to the Union desk in second hand bookstore, Post-Brace Hardware, stated yesterday. There is an urgent need for at least 90 of the books, since the publisher has not yet been able to fill a long standing order.

Sigler To Speak On Army Day

Governor Kim Sigler, Colonel John Whitelaw, State's PMS & T, Michigan's Adjutant General, and the State commander of the National Guard will speak on the Capitol steps at 12 noon, April 7, commemorating the national observance of Army day.

MSC's ROTC students and equipment will be on exhibition also. Colonel Whitelaw, Military Commandant, announced. Only a limited number of students will be used in the program, however.

Army day exhibitions, at which Regular Army, Organized Reserve and National Guard troops and equipment also will appear, will highlight Army week, April 6-12.

Rallying slogan for this year's program is "A Strong America is Peaceful America." Inventions and new methods, such as DDT, neuropsychiatry, jet propulsion, army engineers' research in porous concrete, water repellents and slope protection, will demonstrate army services adopted for peacetime civilian use.

Recruiting headquarters of the army in Lansing will hold open house during the week. Old and new exhibits of army equipment and pictorial stories of its achievements will be shown.

The Military Order of the World Wars originated, organized and sponsored Army day first in 1928. Since then it has become an annual national observance. Congress gave official approval in 1938.

The oldest known system of examinations was the one used in China about 115 B.C. for electing civil service officers.

Trainees Get Maintenance Short Course

Beginning April 20th, a new six week short course will be offered by the Michigan State College Institute of Short Courses in which veterans will have an opportunity to learn the techniques and duties required in the maintenance of Michigan school buildings.

This course is being offered as a result of increasing tendencies shown by school boards to hire only those men who have had training as custodian engineers.

The curriculum, written by a joint committee of educators, custodians, and house keepers, will offer courses in Heat and Ventilation involving actual experience with heating units, fuels, and stocker operation.

Other stressed points will be electricity, safety, and fire prevention. Enrollment, which is limited to 25 vets who have had experience as custodian engineers, will include returning after a year of practical work for a one week refresher course.

Coed Rushing Still Open

Women students interested in spring informal rushing, but who failed to sign with Panfiliene representatives either Monday or Tuesday, may sign up in the counselor of women's office today and tomorrow, Jo Bowman Almont senior, announced yesterday.

Informal rushing will begin April 7 and will extend to May 1. At this time all sororities will hold pledging.

To be eligible for rushing, women students must have been enrolled in school for one term, have an all-college one point, and must have maintained a one point average for the term preceeding rushing.

All rushes who receive invitations to pledge any group must accept the bids 12 hours before pledging.

Additional rushing may be done this term after the sororities hold pledging on May 1.
