

Fools 'em All

Lanky Ewell Biscwell of the Cincinnati Reds has lost no time this season in establishing himself as one of baseball's top pitchers. After winning 14 games only two losses, Biscwell baffled the American League All-Stars with blazing speed and sweeping side-arm curves.

Extend Deadline Date For Entering State News Golf Tourney

With entries continuing to pour in, the Michigan State News Golf Tournament appears to be headed for a large field in its first outing July 26.

The response to his call for entries was termed "very satisfactory," by Wally Schramm, tournament chairman. "However," Schramm stated, "there is still plenty of room for all who wish to compete."

The story in the Wednesday issue of the State News omitted the statement that the tournament is open to all students, regardless of past golfing experience. Thus, former members of the golf squad are eligible to compete.

Faculty members and college employees are also invited to enter the meet. Many instructors entered the State News bowling classic last winter term.

Deadline Extended
Deadline for filing entries has been extended to 5 p.m. Monday, to give faculty members time to file their entries.

Entrants are cautioned to watch next Wednesday's State News for their pairings and tee-off times. Any entrant who fails to appear at his scheduled time for the qualifying round Saturday, July 19 will be disqualified.

Since Glenmoor, on which both the qualifying and tournament will be held, is a nine-hole course, it will be necessary to play the course twice.

All foursomes will start off in the order listed and upon completion of the first nine holes will tee off for the second round in the same order.

Few Rules Changes
It has been planned to use the regular course rules as they appear on score cards. If, for any reason, rule changes are made, they will be announced next Wednesday and at the course.

CROSS WINDS

By WALLY SCHRAMM

THE National Boxing Association, commonly known as NBA, got itself into the news the other day without even having an argument with the New York state boxing commission.

NBA and its predecessor, the New York commission over who really is the champion in the various weight classes.

But this time NBA and the N.Y. commission both have the same champ, Jackie Paterson, in the flyweight division. Paterson was signed to defend his title, in Glasgow, Scotland, against Dado Marino, perennial contender from Honolulu. Twice the fight has been postponed because Paterson has had attacks of boils.

Now the fight has been scheduled for a third time, for July 16. Marino and his manager, Sam Ichinose, after the champion announced he would be unable to fight next Wednesday, cabled Greene they were claiming the title.

Greene requested that the British Boxing Board of Control approve the forfeit of the title, even after Dr. T. H. Barclay, medical officer of the Scottish boxing council, certified the champion unable to fight.

Although Greene approved the forfeit, the British board came through for Paterson.

Answering Greene's proposal, Charles Dommal, general secretary of the British board said, "It is very unfortunate. Board's decision. Do not agree your proposal."

The terse reply wound up

Ice Rink Plan Confronted By Trouble

Although official plans for the proposed ice skating rink in Dem hall have not been since the State Board of Agriculture approved the appropriation for the project earlier this summer, several complications have been added.

One of the problems still to be solved is where winter baseball will be held. In the past it has been carried out in the arena of Dem hall, where the new rink is to be built.

Jensen fieldhouse is the nearest place resembling the arena. However, it is already over-crowded with indoor track, basketball and early spring football.

Another difficulty that may delay the construction is piping. By comparison with similar rinks an estimated ten miles of pipe would be needed and piping is still hard to obtain.

Athletic Director Ralph Young has stated that when the rink is completed a hockey team will be organized. However, plans for a team and a coach will not be made until workers begin laying the pipe.

To Begin All-College Net Meet Monday

By JOHN STERLING

The summer All-College tennis tournament will begin Monday, July 14. Harris Beeman, physical education instructor and tournament manager, announced yesterday.

The deadline for all entries in the tournament is today at 5 o'clock. Entries should be submitted to Beeman in the Jensen Gym, office 232 or by calling extension 923.

Students should leave their name, address and telephone number at Beeman's office. Minor letter and varsity letter winners are ineligible.

Beeman has received 21 entries in the singles and needs five more doubles team in order to have a sufficient number of teams to run off the doubles meet.

The tournament will be held at the college clay courts. All students must wear flat-soled tennis shoes to play on these courts; otherwise their matches will have to be played on the hard-surface courts.

Drawings will be made Saturday and first round matches will begin Monday.

Immediately following their matches all winners should post their scores on the tournament schedule sheet at the clay courts and also report their scores to Beeman at office 232 Jensen Gym.

Workshop Hits Sigler

Bannasch, Shull Talk On Efficiency Rise Needed In State

"Without leadership from the executive the legislative branch of government, be it on a city, county, or state level, goes off in different directions," John Bannasch, state representative from Jackson county asserted as the three week government workshop entered its third day Wednesday.

Prof. Charles Shull, Wayne university, cited as an example the recent session of the state legislature.

Higher Pay to Lead

He pointed out that Gov. Kim Sigler, after maintaining a hands-off policy through the early months of the session, was forced "to exert more leadership" as adjournment neared.

"As a result," he continued, "there was quite a wastage of time in passing the governor's program that would not have been the case had he moved earlier."

Propose Annual Sessions

Annual legislative sessions and a different basis for representation were Shull's proposals for increasing legislative efficiency. He mentioned the unicameral legislature as a possible approach to the latter problem.

Representative Bannasch expressed the belief that change in the legislature's rules of conduct, not constitutional revision, was the best road to greater efficiency.

While praising the work of some helpful lobbyists, he suggested the hiring of qualified specialists to advise the legislators on pending bills.

Speech Class Will Sponsor Story Hour

Children in this area between the ages of 4 and 12 are in line for an interesting and constructive hour's entertainment starting Monday, at 4:30 p.m.

Prof. Maurice Compere of the speech department has announced the first in a series of story telling hours for young children to be presented by the students of her story class.

These programs will be given in two groups according to the age of the child. Both groups will meet at the same time but the 6-12 year section will meet outside the East Lansing library while the 4-6 year section will assemble near the police barracks.

The time for both groups will be from 4:30 to 5:30 on Monday and Thursday afternoons.

Students of Mrs. Compere's class will prepare and present the special reading.

Homes Wrecked In Crash

Firemen look over the wreckage at Quincy, Mass., after a navy helicopter plane sheared off the top floor of the house in center background and crashed into the home at the right, setting fire to the structure. The pilot was killed and his passenger and a civilian on the ground were injured in the crash.

Pay-As-You-See Television Developed By Zenith Corp.

By LES MILLER

Would you like to see a first run movie, a Broadway play or a news reel at home tonight?

This sounds "far-fetched" but it may be possible in the very near future according to Commander E. F. McDonald, Jr., president of Zenith Radio Corporation.

McDonald announced last Thursday a new system of television developed by Zenith. It is known as Phone Vision.

Pay-As-You-See

The possibilities of Phone Vision are so much advanced that it is predicted it will supersede all other systems of television by offering "pay-as-you-see" feature programs in color or black and white.

Operation is simple

All you have to do is call your telephone operator and tell her what program you would like to hear. She, in return, will cause a key frequency to be sent to your home either by telephone or over your electric power line.

Television Pix

This key frequency, however, is only half of the job.

Television pictures are made up of bundles of frequencies. The work of Phone Vision is to split up these bundles and broadcast a portion of them. The image will appear as a confused blur on the receiving screen until the key frequency is received via phone or other means. Upon receiving the key, the frequencies will become complete bundles and the image will appear sharp.

Another feature of Phone Vision is entertainment without commercials. This is not possible with ordinary television because of the excessive production costs.

Psych Professor Takes Over Duties

Dr. S. Howard Bartley began campus work as a professor of psychology July 1.

Bartley has been trained in research in physiological psychology with emphasis on problems of vision. He comes here from the Dartmouth Eye Institute and the Naval Air Station in Pensacola, Florida.
