

Million Members Give NSA Grave Duties, Great Opportunities

Lack Of Funds Curtails Work;
Travel Tours, Student Exchange,
Foreign Correspondence Planned

by ED HOWARD

The National Student Association today represents students from nearly 400 American colleges and universities, with an enrollment of over 1,000,000 students. Thus the NSA is faced not only with a tremendous opportunity, but with a tremendous responsibility as well.

To take advantage of this opportunity, the national program has been extended as far as is feasible with the present limited budget.

First-year plans will be necessarily curtailed by a lack of funds with which to implement a full program considered during the organizational stage.

Delegates decided that doing a job well would more than make up for the lack of funds. They also decided to attempt to solve all the problems of student life in one grand sweep.

Consequently, the national office will act primarily as a clearing house for information on student needs and interests. Regional organizations and campus student groups will be left the greater degree of autonomy necessary to carry out their own programs.

The NSA will cooperate closely in the United States National Commission of UNESCO, through its NSA representative on the commission's advisory council. This phase includes intensive work on low-cost travel tours; student exchange programs; direct international student correspondence; participation in international student exhibitions; facilitation of American student contributions to international student publications.

NSA has also agreed to act as sponsor of the World Student Service Fund (WSSF), and will work with the local WSSF group in their drive on the Spartan campus this year.

The way has also been left open for cooperation with other national student groups whose aims and purposes are consistent with those of NSA. These groups will have direct representation in the NSA but will be invited to use the facilities of NSA whenever necessary.

In addition to WSSF, the NSA will provide a channel through which other organizations such as the American Council on Education, the Institute for International Education, and the National Student Association can more effectively reach everyday student life.

A leading objective of the organization is the strengthening of democratic functional systems of government on U. S. campuses. Attainment of this goal requires unremitting effort on regional and local levels, particularly the latter.

Tomorrow, regional activities in Michigan will be surveyed.

Vets Wives Outline Plans For Council

Constitution Group To Meet Monday

More than 250 Michigan State college veterans and their wives, all residents in the barracks area, Tuesday night approved a tentative plan to establish a constitutional guidance committee as a step toward community government.

A group of designated neighborhood leaders will start work on the constitution at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the trailer camp recreation hall.

Three buildings will compose a neighborhood.

Under the plan the barracks area, housing 1,100 student veterans and their families, will be divided into 10 regions, each with approximately 27 barracks units. Three buildings will compose a neighborhood.

Each neighborhood is to elect a representative. Neighborhood representatives then will select a regional leader who will sit on a 10-man council.

Need Cited

Need for the group was cited by Don Phillips of the college adult education department, who is acting as advisor.

Phillips praised the 17 man steering committee for its work. "The committee met to provide a springboard for your acceptance or rejection," he told the veterans and their wives.

An informal discussion period followed. Upon final organization of the council, the steering committee will step out of office.

Opera Tickets Still Available

A few tickets are still available for both performances of "Madama Butterfly," scheduled to be shown in the College auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Saturday and at 3 p.m. Sunday.

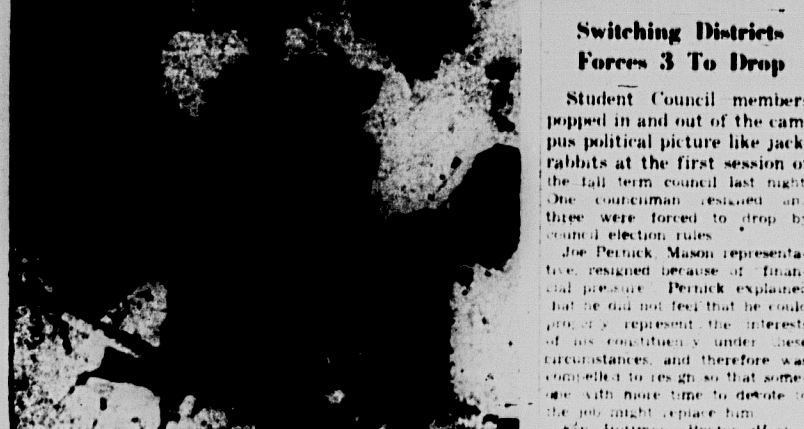

Among the artists appearing in this production of Puccini's famous music drama will be Lucy Jackson, Lydia Summers, Jonathan, Nina Scattolone and Robert Feyt.

"Madama Butterfly" is produced by Charles L. Wagner. It is the ninth operatic production he has put on the road in the past eight seasons.

Wagner's companies have been nicknamed "opera-a-la-cart" from the fact that they travel by buses and trucks. Scenery is designed so that it can be moved easily, and is made expandable to fit the dimensions of different stages.

Students wishing to attend either performance of "Madama Butterfly" may obtain tickets by presenting their activity books at the Ugon ticket office.

Lansing Club Offers Tops In Baby Sitting Service

The ultimate in baby sitting is reported now available to local mothers, with a strictly scientifically planned service, under the direction of Mrs. George W. Charter of Lansing.

Mrs. Charter, who has a youngest of the sitters age of her own, has drawn up plans for the service because she could never find help when she needed it most. A graduate registered nurse, she personally interviewed and investigated all applicants for sitters positions.

Included in the group approved are practical nurses, grandmothers, college students and housewives. The sitters' duties range from giving the baby a bottle to assisting with an arithmetic lesson, but actual housework is excluded.

Maintaining a file of both sitters and parents, Mrs. Charter keeps track of the parents' likes and dislikes, the number of children in each family, and makes notations which enable her to send a sitters which best fits the situation.

Although she doesn't complain about after-hour calls, Mrs. Charter answers her business phone from 10-4 on week days and 11-2 on Sundays. Often asked to assign a substitute mother on as little as 30 minutes notice, she has been successful.

"This service gives me a great satisfaction," says Mrs. Charter. "My nurses training and graduate work at a living-in hospital instilled in me a desire to do this type of public service."

Switching Districts Forces 3 To Drop

Student Council members popped in and out of the campus political picture like jack-rabbits at the first session of the fall term council last night. One councilman resigned and three were forced to drop by council election rules.

Joe Perneck, Mason representative, resigned because of financial pressure. Perneck explained that he did not feel that he could properly represent the interests of his constituency under these circumstances, and therefore was compelled to resign so that someone with more time to devote to the job might replace him.

Gly. Hoffman, Benton-Horton member, will take Perneck's seat.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (P)—The Soviet delegation in a special statement protested tonight against attempts of "certain delegations," particularly the United States and Britain, to prevent the election of the Soviet Ukraine to the United Nations security council.

The Soviet statement followed a day of deadlock in the United Nations security council, as the United States and Britain continued to block the election of the Soviet Ukraine to the United Nations security council.

AL'S HALF ACRE

It's Your Paper

By AL BERGLUND

"Please refrain from expectorating on the classroom floor. Such a practice is a menace to health and makes more work for the janitors."

Such admonitions used to appear regularly in the State News forty years ago. They were as much a part of the policy of the paper as glorious accounts of victories in sports by the Michigan Aggies, or like the social stories I read of the time a group of Michigan Agricultural college students trekked to Lansing to attend a J-hop and had to stay there two days because of a howling blizzard which isolated East Lansing.

News values change with the passage of time, but the function of a student newspaper remains primarily the same: To chronicle accurately the happenings on the campus, and to reflect the attitudes of the students attending the college.

The State News has grown from a small one-page effort to a full-size daily paper. Shortly after the outbreak of World War II the services of the Associated Press were acquired to provide the facilities of a world-wide news and picture agency. The tabloid size used during the war was abandoned for the regular eight column sheet last year. Last winter a Friday picture page was added to meet the increasing demand for pictures of student activities.

During the 1947-48 school year, other features and departments will be added as mechanical and other requirements permit.

This is where you as a reader come in. The State News is your paper. The stories you phone in, the letters you write to us, are a guide by which we determine what you like and dislike about your student newspaper.

Don't take all of this too seriously however. Linotypists at the Campus Press, where the State News is printed, have seen editors come and go year after year, the crusades they've planned and dreamed about becoming so much water over the proverbial dam.

In the meantime, we'll do our best to bring you a paper which will tell you everything you want to know about what's going on at Michigan State, and a good idea of what is new in the rest of the world, and all this in as interesting a way as we possibly can do it.

MSC Joins Many Lands In New Club

ISF Is New Link In Foreign Affairs

A new group linking foreign and American students at Michigan State College has been newly organized. Called the International Student Forum, its purpose is to create an interest from the American student in international affairs. Through discussions with the foreign students on the campus it will try to establish understanding in these affairs.

The forum is sponsored by the International Institute of the college and has been formed by four of the foreign students here.

The four students are George Vassiliou of Greece, John Watts from the West Indies, Jean LeBlanc of France, and Orlando Rodriguez of Nicaragua.

The group claims to be non-political and its first discussions will deal on such topics as youth movements and the United Nations.

The first meeting of the new group will be held in the Music Auditorium on Oct. 9 and is open to all students and faculty members.

The discussion of this first meeting will be "Can A Youth Movement Create Youth Understanding?" Members of the audience will be able to participate in the discussion.

The International Student Forum will increase campus interest in international problems to nearly 2,000 of the foreign students and a small deal of the American students.

Campus Gets Own Police Department

Michigan State now has its own police force. Separation of the East Lansing Police Department, and the Campus Police became effective Sept. 23, said C. B. Latta, acting chief of the new department.

Several changes in the department will be made this year as the new force settles down to the business of protecting all college property. Four new patrolmen will be added to the eight-man staff now on the job in the near future, Latta said.

John Cain, member of the force for three years, has been promoted to sergeant. He will handle the night shift. Acting Chief Latta will control the day shift.

In addition, a new patrol car has been added, making total of three available, one plain and two painted cars.

Chief Latta pointed out that the bulk of the police force problems occur during the day hours and are primarily concerned with traffic. He said the department anticipates cases of larceny throughout the year, but expects little major crime.

Latta said all student vehicles parked on campus without proper registration are liable for parking violations, and that Red Cedar Village and the college side of Harrison road are under the jurisdiction of the college police department.

Former Potato Farm Makes Gigantic Vet Housing Project

HICKSVILLE, N.Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Doubtless with the influx of living in hall bedrooms with kitchen privileges, and other housing shortage was ended today for about 250 veterans in a pleasant stretch of Long Island countryside.

I was "moving in" today at Island Trees, a potato farm three months ago, now the nation's biggest post-war rental project. It involves single houses where 6,000 families eventually will live in new homes totaling for $60 a month.

Island Trees, originally planned as a 2,000-house project by Levitt and Sons, Long Island builders, but William J. Levitt, president of the firm, announced today it had been expanded to 6,000 because of the overwhelming demand.

The entire job to be finished in about a year will involve an investment of $48,000,000. All of the houses are for veterans, Levitt said. The demand is for renting them now, and that is what he is trying to satisfy.

The Levitts believe the 18,000-person community will be the largest such project ever built in the United States.

Three hundred of the houses will be ready for occupancy today. Meanwhile, workers were busy on other parts of the project. Levitt said that 100 additional houses would be finished early next week.

These cluster-like homes have a large living room, two bedrooms and a completely equipped kitchen containing electric refrigerator, electric stove and automatic washing machine. Each house stands on a 60 by 100 lot.

Each house has a private driveway and a private parking space. The houses are built on a grid system, with streets running north and south, and east and west.

Yank Power Whips 'Bums', 10-3 Grimm Gets 5 Year Job

Four Dodger Hurlers Fail To Stem Tide

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Having accepted the opening World Series game as an outright gift, the New York Yankees returned today to give Brooklyn a humiliating 10-3 beating in the second game with an exhibition of raw power reminiscent of other and probably greater clubs.

With nearly 70,000 looking on Yankee Stadium, and for the first time since the degradation of the Dodgers, the American League Champions simply whaled far out of four Brooklyn pitchers and left their rivals a sorry sight. Many of those who saw it were saying "four ought" tonight. The Dodgers were badly shaken toward the

Yanks Tie Record
While their own Allie Reynolds was pitching an adequate game, and receiving gifted support, the Yanks gifted the luckless Dodger's quartet with 15 blows, including a 375-foot homer by Tommy Henrich. Their ace whistling triples into the bleachers tied a world series record jointly by a Brooklyn team of 1916 and the Cincinnati Reds of 1919.

As late as the fourth inning the Yanks owned a 2-2 tie, thanks to a homer by their pride by Dave Walker. But from then on it fast became a shambles. Lombardi, the little portly starter for the National League, was slugged out in the fifth after having yielded nine and four Bomber runs.

Seven Frames
Feeling all pitching alike, manager Bucky Harris' sluggers hit in every inning except the third and eighth. Every man in winners line-up except catcher Larry Perna collected at least one hit.

Remarkable thing was that out of the six Yank rallies were won up by a strikeout for the out. But for that there is nothing what the final tally will have been.

First Pitch
George Sturweiss, Yank second baseman, set the pattern for afternoon by belting Lombardi first pitch for a clean single. Before it was over, George also had smacked a triple and a single and scored twice.

Johnny Lindell, whose run double featured the first hit, weighed in today with a triple to right-center and a single which went into the left field on the first hop. Third baseman Billy Johnson lined a double to center and a single. Henrich, in addition to his four-base homer, rapped a single. George Sturweiss and pitcher Reynolds contributed a brace of singles to the onslaught.

Varsity Stops Maroon Plays In Heavy Scrimmage Session

By BILL SAILLE
Using the freshman football squad as the opposition, Head Coach Biggie Munn called a heavy scrimmage in preparation for the Spartan eleven's clash with Mississippi State Saturday.

Munn shifted last night's session from the secret practice field to Macklin Stadium in an attempt to better simulate Saturday's contest.

The varsity line threw up a stonewall against the strong freshman running attack that used the same plays which Coach Allyn McKeen hopes will shake loose the elusive Shorty McWilliams.

The sparkle of the Spartan defense was in the play of the guards who constantly tore through the freshman forward wall.

Munn frequently alternated his

Pennsylvania Bars Graziano

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1 (AP)—Middleweight champion Rocky Graziano will have to prove he never was dishonorably discharged from the Army, if he wishes to fight in Pennsylvania.

Leon Raine, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Athletic commission, said today the commission ruled three years ago that "anyone who received a dishonorable discharge from the armed forces of the United States would not be granted a license by the State of Pennsylvania."

It Rocky Graziano was honorably discharged from the armed forces, the above rule applies to him as well as anyone else, Raine added.

The commission chairman said Graziano will have to prove he wasn't dishonorably discharged or that the Army suspended the dishonorable discharge if he wants to fight in Pennsylvania.

NY Sluggers Equal Mark For Triples

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 1 (AP)—After setting some obscure record in yesterday's opener, aside from the attendance and money, the Yankees and Dodgers equalled a pair of noteworthy marks today by busy belting and the other by idle watching.

The Yankees tied the World Series record for triples in one game when George Sturweiss, Johnny Lindell and Bill Johnson slammed three baggers. The Dodgers' in 1916 and the Cincinnati Reds in 1919 previously hit three triples in a game.

Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers went through the entire game without a tieing chance at shortstop, a feat previously accomplished only by Dave Bancroft of the 1915 Philadelphia Phillies and Joe Boley of the 1929 Athletics.

The Yankees' barrage of 15 hits and 10 runs was the most made by the club in a single game since they shellacked the New York Giants 13-5 with a 17-run attack in the final game of the 1936 season.

The historical odds against the Dodgers winning the World Series were 17-1 in 18 previous series, in which a club won the first two games, only one club, the 1921 Yankees, set the series. That was against the Giants.

Yankees' Roy, Branch and Van Linn, the Dodgers' two aces, have to survive the fifth inning against the Yankees' attack. The talk now is of a four-game sweep. That wouldn't be unusual for the Yankees who have won five such sets.

The Brooklyn boys might not continue many hits in their bats, but they're sure to go home with lots of money in their pockets. The undoubtedly will be the most lustrous post-season series for the boys.

In two games the players' pool already amounts to $328,215.56, more than the $204,141.25 received from all four games last year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs gave Charlie Grimm a sold vote of confidence tonight when they disclosed an agreement to have the popular 49-year-old manager lead the National League team for the next five years.

After talking turkey with Cubs general manager James Gallagher here, Grimm spoke over the telephone to Chicago owner Philip K. Wrigley, who was in the Windy City, to iron out the last few wrinkles in the deal.

The five-year contract—unprecedented in Cub history—will be signed formally when Grimm, Gallagher and Wrigley get together.

Grimm himself said it was the first time that a Chicago Nation-

Students Slow To Claim Best Grid Tickets

Failure of a large part of the student body to get their tickets for Saturday's game with Mississippi State prompted Lyman Frimodig, assistant athletic director, to urge that those who have not picked up their tickets do so before Saturday.

All students who do not pick up their tickets before Saturday must get them at the gate before game time. When many do this, congestion naturally results.

Senior tickets are issued on Monday, juniors on Tuesday, sophomores on Wednesday and freshmen on Thursday. Those who do not pick up their tickets on the appointed day must take poster seats since the best seats are given out first.

The Jensen ticket office is open from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily and students may exchange Coupon 1 for their tickets at any time during these hours.

Medals Ready For 'Mural Stars'

Award medals for intramural and winners during the past season have arrived, according to Ed Fager, intramural sports director.

Team captains of the winning groups are requested to pick up their medals from Miss Geisler at the Jensen ticket office window.

All medal winners in individual intramural sports events during the past season who have not picked up their medals are asked to see Miss Geisler this week.

at league pilot had been hired for more than one year in advance and the one-time crack first baseman added he was "very happy about the whole thing."

Changes already have been made in the lack-luster outfit that finished sixth this season—a two notch drop from their win-dup in '46.

Gone from the Cubs' roster next year will be such veterans as Stan Hack, Claude Passeau, Bill Lee and Billy Ju-ges. They were dropped from the playing list the other day. The Cubs also turned loose reliever, Russ Meers and some lesser characters—pitcher Johnny Miller, shortstop Sal Madrid and catcher Ted Pavelek.

In their place, the Cubs are bringing up a horde of eager youngsters from the minor leagues, headed by Cliff Chambers, a crack lefty who has hung up a 24-9 record so far with the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast league. Chambers was only one of 12 rookies the club announced yesterday that they were bringing to the spring training camp.

'What Goes Up' Planned Next By Dionysians

By CAL BOLLWINKLE

The Dionysians, who presented their first production "Studio On the Square" last spring, announced plans yesterday for their second show.

It is entitled "What Goes Up". An entirely new and original play, it will be presented next spring term.

There are many openings available on the staff of the new show. Those are in dramatic direction, choreography, business, stage, construction, and production management.

More Openings

Also listed are costume design, publicity, lighting, choral arranging, music arranging, orchestra direction, make-up, manuscript, lyrics, and property management.

All students interested in working with the group should leave their name and address and type of work interested in at the State News office.

Tryouts for acting parts will be announced later.

Formed Winter Term

The organization was formed last winter term to furnish an outlet for student talent in playwriting, music composition, arranging, choreography, directing, dancing, singing and acting.

Last spring's production was adapted from the Kaufman-Connelly comedy of the 20's, "Beggar On Horseback" and was presented entirely by students.

"What Goes Up" will also be done exclusively by students and is slated for a four day stand in April, 1948.

COUNCIL

The current bus fare controversy was the subject of heated debate, with the council finally voting to offer full support to the present administration efforts directed toward reduction of the fare to the former rate.

Jerry Warren, council president, appointed a committee to work with the administration and take such independent action as may be required. The committee includes Herb Thompson, chairman, Bob Greenblatt, Quonsets, and John Hays, Council vice president, fraternity representative, quest of Greenblatt for a permanent United Nations committee.

The council approved the request of Greenblatt for a permanent United Nations committee. Warren appointed Greenblatt to act as chairman.

The committee will sponsor a series of meetings starting Oct. 16 to discuss the importance of the UN.
