

MSC Seeks First Win Over Favored Maroons Today

By BILL SABLE

We'll be out there fighting with all we've got," that was Head Coach Biggie Munn's only comment on the ensuing game with Mississippi State in the Spartan's home game at Macklin Field, at 2 p.m. today.

The Spartan mentor maintained his usual pre-game silence on the outcome of the game, although he did indicate that there will be a few changes in State's starting lineup.

Changes Lineup

Munn plans to send a slightly altered squad against the favored Maroons in quest of the Spartans first victory of the current season before an expected capacity crowd of over 22,000.

In an effort to stop the vaunted running back of Shorty McWilliams and company, Munn has made several changes in the line. Transplanted center Pete Fusi, who proved his merit in the Michigan game has been moved into the top right tackle slot replacing John Wheeler. Hal Vogler, stand out in last Saturday's game and this week's practice, has been given a starting assignment over Jim Zito in the left tackle position.

Munn made an unexpected change in the backfield as he nominated Johnny Poloncak to the number one left-half-back position, replacing George Guerre.

Guerre, leading ground gainer last season, injured his leg in last week's game and has been out for most of this week's practice.

However "Little Dynamite" is expected to see as much action as is permissible in today's encounter. It was in the game with the Maroons last year that Guerre began to win over the Spartan fans.

Gene Glick will quarterback the number one team, and may be called on to lead the Spartan attack through the air. Lynn Chandross at right half and Jimmie Blenkhorn at full round out the starting backfield.

Blenkhorn Leads Runners

With only one game played Blenkhorn is the team's leading ground gainer. "The Spartan Spinner" carried the ball eight times for 30 yards against Michigan.

Capt. Bob McCurry will start at center and call the defensive plays, while Warren Huey and Ken Balge hold down the ends Ed Bagdon and Don Mason return to give strength to the center of the line.

John "Red" Gilman, who turned in a creditable performance last Saturday may find his way into one of the starting end positions before the kickoff.

Big 'Red' has been showing considerable improvement during the week and was running in the flanker position with the number one squad during yesterday's light drills.

Gilman is also used to do the Spartan's punting and place kicking. In the latter department George Smith substitute quarterback has been practicing and improving for the point-after-touchdown conversions.

McKeen Silent

On the other side of the ledger, coach Allyn McKeen is remaining just as silent as Munn although he wears a slight smile after hearing his team is a two-touchdown favorite.

The Maroons boast one of the powerhouse teams of the Southeastern conference and one of the best backfields in the South where four-star backfields flower.

On paper the Maroons look anything but a powerhouse. They are fielding a green line and last week's 19-0 victory over little Chattanooga looks impressive only in the score books.

Statistically speaking, Mississippi State swamped Chattanooga and their green line prevented the Moccasins from scoring a first down until the fourth quarter.

Garrett Top-Linebacker

The only returning first stringer on the Maroon line is their big rugged captain W. D. "Dub" Garrett, 225-pounds of top football ability.

The backfield, however, is where the Maroons power lies, from fleet Shorty McWilliams to powerful Eagle Matulick. McWilliams has a well-rounded assortment of top-flight backs. Blanchard and Tucker, was handicapped last year by injuries but Coach McKeen says he is now back in form that once placed him in the All-America category.

The starting backfield is completed with the famed Truitt Smith at quarter; Harper Davis top blocker and runner at right half and powerful Jim Bailey at fullback.

Meanwhile the vaunted Matulick tops a cast of supporting backs consisting of Jim Grace and Jim Stuart.

Injuries have dealt the Maroons a serious blow in the loss of Graham Bramlett, who McKeen considered his best running back. Bramlett injured his ankle playing softball last summer and has been slow in healing.

Another critical loss is Jim Pittman, ace defensive and offensive back, who broke his leg last week.

Meanwhile Munn is still thinking of what happened last week and McKeen moans, "My poor green line."

Work, Cooperation Stressed By N.S.A.

Plans Study With Council On Constitution Changes

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of five articles covering the national convention of the National Student Association held in Madison, Wis. on Oct. 3-7.

By ED HOWARD

Hard work and cooperation with existing student organizations will keynote NSA plans on the local scene during the coming year.

The need for hard work is obvious. The present nebulous organization on campus must be replaced by a smoothly functioning group, headed by able officers familiar with task confronting the new association. Campus commissions, by commissioners with the capabilities necessary to their fields, must be set up to coordinate local policies with those of the region.

Most important, however, is cooperation with existing student groups now active on the MSC scene.

To Ally Other Groups

These organizations, some of whom have been active both locally and nationally for years, have in that time been able to accomplish much in student affairs. It is a major aim of the National Student Association to furnish a channel through which these groups, necessarily limited in scope to their special fields, may work effectively in conjunction with other organizations in related fields to further the common interests of all American students.

Specific plans under consideration by the local steering committee include close work with the Student Council committee for constitutional revision, headed by Richard "Buckshot" Burns, Detroit Junior.

All aid will be given to the projected series of United Nations discussions, sponsored by the international club and the Student Council's new permanent Committee for the United Nations.

Works For Students

Surveys will be conducted with an eye to increasing the facilities available for recreation. A case in point is the shortage of tennis courts left as a result of current construction.

All elements of campus life will come under scrutiny as the commissions get their respective feet on the ground.

However, the NSA was not founded to revolutionize college life overnight. Those who drafted the framework of the organization intended that it would work closely with any group which evidenced a sincere interest in improving student welfare.

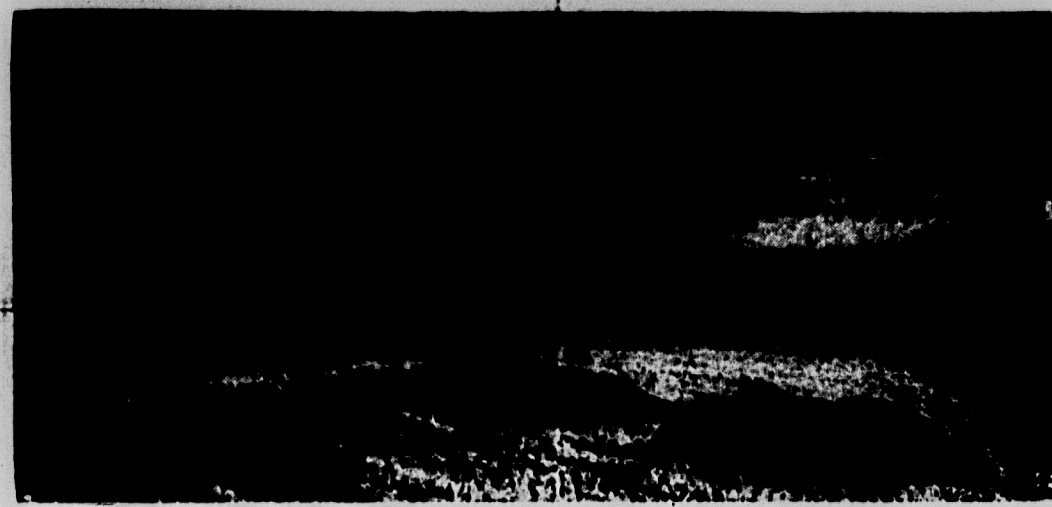

Outside Aid Welcomed

Therefore, the aid of faculty, administration, and professional groups, and of other student associations, will be welcomed if the greatest good for the greatest number of American students may be attained in the shortest possible time.

At the time of the November freshman elections, the student body will decide whether Michigan State is to continue in the National Student Association.

At the election, the NSA constitution will be up for approval by the student body. If approved, MSC will be among the first of

Czech Envoy Asks Help For UN Palestine Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 3 (AP)—Czechoslovakia urged the five big powers today to declare as soon as possible whether they were willing to enforce and United Nations decisions on the future of Palestine.

The enforcement question, which many delegates believe to be the heart of the entire Palestine problem, was raised by Czechoslovak delegate Karel Lisicky before the general assembly's 37-nation special Palestine committee as it opened the first phase of its debate.

Lisicky's Statements

Lisicky spoke as an estimated 1,500,000 Arabs in Palestine engaged in a bloodless general strike protesting the partition of Palestine into separate Jewish and Arab states.

Lisicky said in effect:

1. Any decision of the assembly probably will have to be enforced.
2. The United Nations has no enforcement machinery.
3. If the great powers are not willing to back up the assembly's decisions it would be a waste of time to continue discussions.

Lisicky said that perhaps some great power might be persuaded to undertake the enforcement job, or perhaps Britain—as the pre-

Wobble Expert

Two High Heels Plus A Woman Equals A Fall

DETROIT, Oct. 3 (AP)—James R. Walsh, who maintains that his study of the female form in motion is purely academic, said today that women "wobble" when they walk.

He blamed it on their high heels.

His acute observation came in the course of his "purely legal" study to determine why 90 percent of the damage claims against the city results from falls by women.

An attorney in the corporation counsel's office, Walsh said he wasn't surprised at women's lack of equilibrium.

"They wobble," he snorted. "Why, with the type of shoes they wear, they could trip over a match stick."

General Lee Given 'Clean Bill' By Army

Rnark's Charges Unfounded Reports Inspector General

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The army gave Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee a clean bill of health today and marked "closed" its investigation of army life in Italy except for orders to correct what it called occasional "errors" in the treatment of enlisted men.

Lee, a veteran West Point graduate who is called "Court House Lee" by critics of his discipline, was said by General Dwight D. Eisenhower to have "performed a service to his country which has won the approbation of associates both civilian and military."

The investigation of Lee's conduct as commander of the Italian theater stemmed from a series of articles in which Robert C. Rnark, a Scripps-Howard newspaper columnist, related charges of mistreatment of enlisted men and lavish living by officers under Lee.

Cleared by Gen. Wyche, Maj. Gen. Ira T. Wyche, Army Inspector General, made the report. He said Rnark's charges were based on a few facts, half facts, rumors, and untruths. He said there have been only a few isolated cases of maladministration and probable miscarriages of justice, none of which were condoned and fostered by Gen. Lee.

However, in a memorandum which Eisenhower attached to the 12,000 word report, the army chief of staff noted that there had been some "errors." He said he was sending out orders to the new theater commander (General Lee is in this country awaiting retirement) to correct them.

Eisenhower Report

Specially, Eisenhower said: General Lee should have "taken special steps" to make clear that his endorsement of membership in an organization called the "Fellowship of U.S.-British Commanders" could not be taken as an order to join it. He said there was "undue pressure exercised by commanders to induce subordinates to join fraternal organizations."

There were two errors in treating military prisoners, minor of-

MSC Police Levy Fines, Build Force

Fines, totalling over $300 were collected from MSC students during the first week of enforcement conducted by the reorganized college police department. The fines were primarily for parking violations, according to C. B. Latter, acting chief.

Striving to reach the 12-man goal authorized, but hampered by lack of uniforms and equipment, the section this week swore in two new patrolmen, James Hanson and Howard Duart.

They will receive an intensive 30 day training course under the direction of the college police department, and then will serve as third class patrolmen during a probationary period of six months.

Outlining parking regulations for the Mississippi State game Saturday, Latter said the area adjacent to the tennis courts will be reserved parking only. College employees will handle parking in this area with proceeds going to the Student Song Book.

Distiller Asks Stop Of Grain For Liquor

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The President's food committee got a pledge from about half the distilling industry tonight to cut the use of grain for liquor in order to help feed Europe. But one big distilling company declared the pact doesn't accomplish enough and called for a complete shutdown of the industry.

A. P. Fenderson, an official of Continental Distilling Co., one of the Publicker industries, said his group was amazed at the talk about using no more wheat. The cause distillers do not use any wheat — they use only corn, rice and malt.

Publicker industries, one of the "big five" distillers, said in telegram to Charles Lockman, chairman of the food committee: "Our companies stand ready to join immediately in discontinuing all use of grain of any kind in the manufacture of distilled spirits whenever the industry is requested by the government to do so."

Earlier in the day Lockman met with officials of the Distilled Spirits Institute, which he said represents 60 per cent of the industry. He said the institute declined to recommend that all the industry use no more wheat and he per cent less other grains during the present emergency.

Lockman announced at the White House that about half the distillers in the industry pledged themselves to that program.
