Decision On Wallace MacArthur Group Set Tuesday; Steals Show In Hearing

Johnson Says Policy Remains Same Despite Firm Council Stand On Issue

Administration action on the constitution of the New Republic club, approved by the Student council Wednesday, cannot be taken before Tuesday, according to Tom Johnson, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Organizations.

The administration reiterated yesterday its previous stand on recognition of political organizations on the college campus.

James H. Denison, administrative assistant to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, spoke for the president and the rest of the administration.

"No Change In Policy"

There is no change in the policy originally stated," he said. "We will recognize any political organization which is listed on the Michigan ballot and which calls itself by its proper name."

Any organization must clearly state what it is advocating, and what candidates it is supporting.

Signs Indicate Disapproval

All signs pointed to the probability that the constitution would be disapproved, in its present form. If so, it will be returned directly to the New Republicans to give advice for revision, and then resubmitted to the Faculty Committee without again going to the council.

Administration feeling yesterday seemed to be that the constitution was not definite enough in condemning communism.

A Rep. Lawrence Smith (D-Wis.) said the move "certainly originated in politics." He said he could not say what stood behind the question MacArthur in person.

No Politics

Rep. John McNamee denied to newsmen that politics had anything to do with the campaign of MacArthur home the joint of Smith and Rep. Vyras (R-Ore.) in favoring the General's return.

Marshall, testifying on President Truman's request for $570,000,000 in civilian aid to China, heard the Republican proposal without comment yesterday.

He told Eaton, in answer to a question, that he wasn't sure just what the committee could go about getting the general here.

Cabinet Split

Feb. 20, 1948—Czechoslovakian parties recommended to Congress cut out pure from the study courses payment for under Civil Rights. It questions the value of ballroom dancing, taking and sport as ways of helping a veterans living.

Dee Parker of "Ain't Misbehavin'" fame will be featured as vocalist with Phil Bressoff at the Senior Ball, Friday, March 5. Miss Parker was formerly with Vaughn Monroe and Jimmie Dorsey. She now has one radio show three days a week over the ABC network. Ticket sales will open Tuesday for seniors.

ESTABLISHED DEMOCRACY

Foreign Students Revere Washington

By BOB STEARNS

The people of America, the Monday or Wednesday of February 22 is the anniversary of George Washington.

Students of other lands, we heard February 22 as the day to forget about it. Most of them do know all about Washington, and some of his accomplishments.

Now Too

Following quotations and news were gleaned from the MSC's foreign students after one of the editors dug up a new angle Washington, will ya?"

Our first student from the East Indies offered, "Retelling to Joseph Jekyll from cause of the weak American in Palestine, Jekyll, an Arabian fluent in my country, very little is known about Washington there.

He could speak for his people, but added, "I think, except what is taught in history books."

George Washington did something for America that no one else could ever have done."

His established democracy."

"History's Greatest"

Tamer Majinedi, senior from Iran, answered the question like this: "The first president of the U.S. really rates in Bolivia, Jose Capistro, Bolivian sophomore reported.

"Bolivians think of him as the same to the States as Simon Bolivar was to Bolivia—the liberator."

Another foreign student, Max Roos, junior from the Netherlands, will ya?"

Airborne Classroom Shown In New York

(Special to the State News)

The telephone, radio, insurance, stock market and world peace organizations were all included in yesterday's study period of the MSC sponsored "flying classrooms" in New York city.

Visits were made by the visit to the Air Age Education Research Center, where more than 200 educators search establishment from all over the nation to the Prof. Carl M. Horn, pioneer of the "flying classroom" idea.

Reported from New York that the venture, the first of its kind ever attempted, appeared highly successful. A high degree of cooperation on the part of the business and industrial firms was also reported by Prof. Horn.

Sheep Barbers Practicing Up For State Fair

Sheep-shearing, the art of large barbers, brought 10 students and pro clip artists to the MSC campus this week.

Twenty-five beginners got in their first clips, while more advanced shearers looked into the care and handling of wool, sheep management, and the like.

Plans were laid for the annual sheep shearing contest to be held at the State Fair.

Michigan Journalists Plan Government Study MSC Campus

To Be Larger By One Mile

Reports—that Michigan State college had been buying farm land south of the campus were confirmed yesterday by Karl H. McDonald, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

The purchase of the land will enlarge MSC by more than a square mile.

It is planned by the college to use this land for installations of the School of Agriculture. McDonald said that the purchase was necessary because of natural expansion and the 800 acres that are now being used for emergency housing projects.

The college now has between 150 and 175 acres on lease with options to buy.

ADT Initiates 12 Members

Alpha Delta Theta, national medical technology professional sorority, initiated 12 new members recently, in a ceremony presided over by Pres. Phyllis Carson, Paw Paw junior.

Initiates were Maxine Clapper, Anne English, Nan Dahl, Ann Winter, Lee Franz, Jean Hess, Mary Jane Estes, Marion Kahn, Rhoda Wilson, Marilyn Wernicke, Mary Johnson, and Rosalyn Wood.

The last foreign student to be interviewed was Sadie Glutz, Brooklyn, currently on probation.

Miss Glutz shifted her chew and said,

"Gee, I dunno. What do you think?"

By BOB APPLEGATE

Michigan newsmen will meet Monday through Wednesday of next week at MSC for a conference to study state government believed to be the first of its kind ever held.

The idea for the conference originated with Carl Lander of the Jackson Citizen Patriot and W. N. Butler of the Holland Evening Sentinel.

Governor Kim Sogler will open the conference with a discussion on revision of the commission system now employed in Michigan.

Constitution Study

Professor L. C. Ferguson, of the political science department, and Eugene Black, attorney general, will discuss constitutional revision, the pattern followed in the past and the needs of the future.

Debates pro and con concerning repeal of the sales tax amendment will be held Tuesday, John Perkins, budget director, Loyal Torrant, Jackson county superintendent of schools, and Stanley Powell, of the Michigan Farm Bureau will take part.

Leonard On Panel

Don Leonard, Michigan State Police commissioner, Ross Pascoe, chairman of the parole board and Gus Harrison, State Superintendent of Parole, will discuss corrections problems in Michigan.

The natural gas shortage in Michigan will be discussed by C. C. Wirth of the Public Service commission.

President John Hannah will describe the problem of higher education to the newsmen. College Public Relations Director, George Tressler will explain the college news service.

ROBERTS REPORTS

Soviet Non-Cooperation Revives Comment In UN

By J. M. ROBERTS

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Soviet Russia has finally climaxed its long period of irreconcilability with a direct violation of the United Nations charter, leading to a revival of speculation as to how long the organization can permit this flouting of its authority.

Since the Russians set themselves up as the sole judges of when the United Nations does or doesn't do anything, their lead has been followed by more and more members. Yugoslavia has been violating the charter right along with its refusal to cooperate with the Balkan commission, and the Arab states are in armed revolt against the Palestine decisions.

A paragraph five of Article two of the charter says specifically that "All members shall give the United Nations every assistance in any action it takes . . ." Article six says "A member which has persistently violated the principles contained in the present charter may be expelled . . ."

Well, the whole principle of the charter is summed up in four words of paragraph 3, article 1:

To achieve international cooperation

Russia has been violating that principle almost from the beginning. She committed an indirect charter violation by failure to appoint a delegate to the trusteeship council, and now she has directly refused to permit the Korean commission to carry out the duties with which it was charged.

The situation has revived discussion of the possibility that, in order to do anything, the UN may have to be reorganized and the Russian bloc excluded. That wouldn't be a United Nations anymore. It would inevitably take on the color of an anti-Russian bloc.

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP) — It was a long war for Japanese soldier Shibusaki Kazuo.

He has just found out the war is over after fighting on these last several years on the Pacific island of Rabaul.

A dispatch from U.S. Naval Headquarters in the Marianas told his story.

Kazuo was on Peleliu when the marines landed on May 1st, 1943.

After 20 days he resisted his capture, held fast to Jeju, the Korean commando to carry out the duties with which it was charged.

There are no provisions for attacking criminal penalties in the present rent control law, which expires Feb. 29. Under the new bill, criminal actions could be initiated for a violation.

Term Play Cast Backed By Years Of Experience

By DUANE HONSOWETZ

Actors from three states, ranging from a fifth grader to a college senior, are in the cast of "All My Sons," winter term play, in Fairchild Theatre next Wednesday through Saturday.

Eight of the ten cast members have worked in previous major productions at State.

Three of the cast are from Lansing or East Lansing. Richard Finucan, senior, has had two seasons experience with Summer Stock, has worked with the Lansing Civic Guild and has been in five major plays at State.

Marge Herrod, sophomore, is another veteran of Summer Stock and the Lansing Civic Guild.

Gloria Patton, Saginaw sophomore, is another Studio theater member who was in the cast of "Far Off Hills."

Biber Only Freshman

Joyce Biber, Battle Creek, is the only freshman on the cast of "All My Sons." She came up through the Studio theater, this being her first assignment on a major production at State.

Markus Youngest

Youngest member of the cast is Karl Markus, East Lansing fifth grader, who worked with the Children's theater last term.

Outsiders include Barbara Weil, Tuckahoe, N.Y. junior and graduate of Roosevelt High School in-Yonkers. She played in "Two on an Island" and "Winter's Last Year." Hoosier George Nemeth hails from Gary. He is a junior and has also worked in "Joan of Arc" and "Two on an Island."

State Cagers Meet Bucks Here Tonight

BY ROY HOLDING

Michigan State's high hopes for winning basketball always depend on the play of the Spartans against Cornell college in Jenison fieldhouse at 9:30.

Against Cornell, NCAAs and NAAU defending champions, the Spartans will probably be in the underdog role despite the fact that the Purple squad will be without the services of three of its best grapplers.

Two Champs Out

Injuries sustained in an auto accident Jan. 31 put Dick Houser and Lowell LaFever, the Purple's two NCAAs champs out of action for the remainder of the season, and heavyweight Fred Lester was pinned by scholastic ineligible.

With Pat Sullivan still on the sick list, the Spartans are also below full strength and Dan Thayer will probably be in the 185-pound slot tonight. Sullivan's shoulder, which he injured in the Kappa State meet, has been very slow in responding to treatment.

The remainder of the State lineup will be the same that faced Purdie last weekend except at the 121-pound spot where Jim Hanebeck will replace Jack Koeniger and Jack Dowell for Jerry Oberstar at 130.

Scored 33 Falls

Before the loss of its two NCAAs and one NAAU champ, Cornell had won every straight match this season, scoring 236 points against 18 for the defending champion. In the eight bouts this season, the Purple team had 33 falls to the Spartans' 10.

Michigan State's all-around record is 12-12-1, while Cornell has an 11-10-1 record, plus two scholastic champions in the past four years of competition.

John Gregg, 145, and Joe Snyder, 165, have good records and are the top two seniors and leading fallers in eight straight wins over the Spartans.

CINCINNATI, By the Associated Press—Michigan State's undefeated swimming team left here last night after whipping University of Cincinnati, 180-0, for Columbus where they will meet Ohio State this afternoon.

The Spartans led by George Houghnord, 1800-meter individual-college champ, took firsts in six of the nine events, effectively ouflanking the Buckeyes, which had not lost an 11-meet over a two-year period.

Three pool records were broken during the afternoon. Michigan's Charlie Keating set a new pool and varsity mark of 62.2125 in the 200-yard breaststroke, 10 feet faster than Dave Neibold by a fraction of a second.

Houghnord established a new pool mark of 24.4 in the 220-yard freestyle, and Michigan State set a new pool record of 3.35.2 in the 400-yard relay.

The Spartans' White team have seven straight and seven victories this year, though opponents have steadily risen. The winning streak is now at 11, the longest in their program history.

Michigan State's swimming team is the best in the nation, according to the Associated Press.

Soviets Told To Open Zone For Inspection Of Demilitarization

BERLIN, Feb. 20 (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay told the Soviet military commander to open the Russian zone for inspection of its demilitarization.

The U.S. military governor spoke in the Allied Control council after Soviet Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky had again charged that demilitarization was not being carried out properly in western Germany.

Sokolovsky referred to previous Soviet allegations that underground military installations and factories in the U.S. and British zones were still intact.

Allies Rights

Clay said the occupying powers "have the right to use these installations for purposes of the occupation until the occupation ends." He said, however, he was not prepared to discuss "such wild charges."

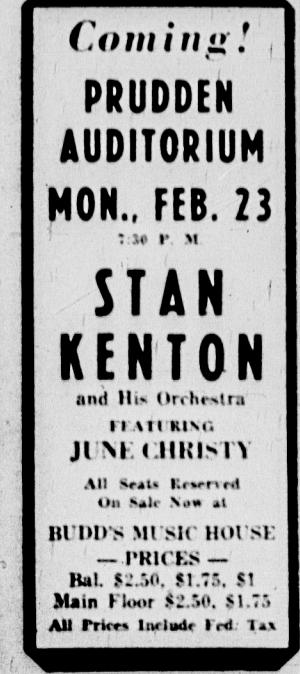

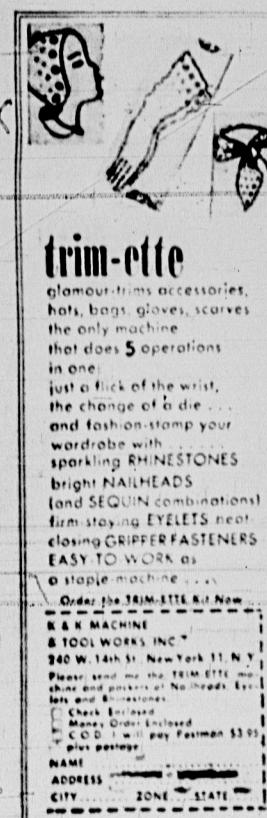

British and French delegates also refused to discuss them.

All four powers finally agreed to collect for study all papers submitted on the question of demilitarization.

"I doubt," Clay said, "that the world will take very seriously the allegation that, because of a few barracks and underground situations still remain, that demilitarization has not been carried out."

Grave Matter

"On the other hand, it is a grave matter how German resources and technical skills are being used because these resources and skills can keep alive Germany's war potential. We hear rumors, and I do not say they are true, of the making of military ships at Rostock (Soviet zone), of the mining of uranium and of orders being placed in the American sector for the manufacture of delicate instruments for delivery to the Soviet zone."

Michigan Committee Moves To Place Wallace On Ballot

LANSING, Feb. 20 (AP)—Supporters of Henry A. Wallace for president mustered their forces here tonight in preparation for the first state conference of a proposed new political party.

A 50-man steering committee thrashed out organizational preliminaries tonight and will report their findings tomorrow to 1,000 persons expected to attend the first conference.

Allen Sayler, secretary of the Michigan Wallace for President committee, said the conference would select a name for the new party, probably the "Progressive Party."

Principal purpose of the meeting is to select a state central committee and to organize a campaign to obtain the 9,000 signatures necessary to place Wallace's name on the Michigan presidential ballot. Sayler predicted a drive should be made for 250,000 signatures.

He said a 65-member central committee would be chosen on the basis of four representatives from each of Michigan's 17 congressional districts. A state chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer will be elected.
