Soft Coal Negotiations Collapse In Deadlock

WASHINGTON, May 19 (P) — Soft coal contract negotiations broke down today, this raised the possibility of another strike.

Southern mine owners, blaming John L. Lewis for the collapse of negotiations, filed unfair labor practice charges against the chief of the United Mine Workers.

Deadlocked

Negotiations, begun yesterday, ended when Lewis and the operators deadlocked over the right of the Southern Coal Producers' association to sit in. Lewis said no. The operators said yes.

The association, Lewis contended, is a "holding company" which did not sign the present agreement.

Joseph E. Moody, association president, replied that Lewis wouldn't let his organization sign. Instead, Moody said, Lewis forced smaller groups of Dixie operators to sign up, thus bypassing the association.

The present contract between the soft coal miners and the operators expires June 30. Traditionally, they follow a policy of "no contract, no work."

Operators Firm

When the operators stood firm behind Moody and refused to support a union motion to go ahead with negotiations for the rest of the industry Lewis arose at the front of the Shoreham Hotel's ballroom and said:

"I make the observation that there is now no conference."

The operators have voted themselves and the mine workers out of a conference and there is nobody to guarantee the mill run from now on.

Quorum Expected In Both Houses As State Legislature Convenes

1000 Attend Rally On Eve Of Primary

Candidates Promise Constituents Action

By RON LINTON

The two-week old pre-primary campaign came to an end last night in the election rally held at the Women's gymnasium.

Voters go to the polls that open at 9 a. m. in the Union and at specially set times in the dormitories today to elect 44 Student council and 24 class officer aspirants.

1000 Voters
Sixty-six candidates spoke to a police-estimated crowd of 1,000 voters at the rally sponsored by the Student council and handled by ISA and Blue Key.

The two-hour demonstration lacked the fire and enthusiasm of last year's campaigning. Only a few candidates tried any stunts and most of the speeches followed similar lines.

Councilmen promised to carry out the wishes of their constituents and called for a more active Student council. One candidate called for a definition of academic freedom and a codification of campus rules and regulations.

Extol Virtues
Class officers extolled the virtues of their classes and promised even better classes the coming year. Most candidates simply called for students to vote and said they would do the best they could.

A number of the junior class candidates promised less expensive J-Hops.

Cheering, car parades, fire crackers, one candidate dressed only in a towel, another dressed in an Indian suit, and two human rabbits highlighted the affair.

Brandsdorfer MC
What began as a poorly planned rally was saved by the "expert" emceeing of Arnold Brandsdorfer and the help of Sgt. John Cain of the MSC police department.

The rally was sponsored by the Student council and put over by the ISA with Blue Key's help on 12-hour notice.

Foreign Students
To See Health Lab
Foreign students will be taken on a tour of the State health laboratory, near Lansing, one of the better equipped in the country, Thursday afternoon.

According to Dr. Orion Ulrey of the Economics department, in charge of the group, the tour will begin in private cars from the west side of the Union at 12:40 p. m. The tour will end back on campus about 3 p. m. All interested foreign students are invited to come.

Zarichny Trial To Be Resumed In State Senate

Re-open Contempt Case Today; New Charge Lists 4 Students

LANSING, May 19 (P) —

The Callahan Committee on un-American Activities today presented Michigan State College officials with the names of four students who, it was testified, circulated "Communist petitions" in Flint.

One of the names was that of James Zarichny, MSC senior from Flint, who faces trial in the Senate tomorrow on a charge of contempt growing out of his refusal to tell the Callahan committee whether he is a Communist.

Police Testify
Two Flint police officers testified at an unannounced committee meeting that the four students had been questioned by Flint officers while circulating petitions March 22.

Sgt. Herbert S. Fitzgerald of the Flint police placed in the record a department report that two officers had questioned Zarichny, Barbara Perry, 21, Bethlehem, N. Y., junior; George W. Fox, 26, Birmingham junior; and June Marie Knack, 18, Jeffersonville, N. Y., junior, on the complaint of a householder that they were circulating Communist petitions.

No police action was taken other than questioning them on the street, he said.

Patrolman Oliver Larson testified he was one of the officers making the report. He said he got a "clothing description" of two of the persons from the householder and found Zarichny and Miss Perry in the next block.

Zarichny Protest
He said Zarichny produced identity cards under protest, claiming police had no right to stop him.

Larson said Fox and Miss Knack were found on the next street and that they readily revealed their identities.

He said all four were circulating Communist petitions and had copies of the "Daily Worker," a newspaper.

Larson told newsmen he did not know whether the petitions were those to place the Communist party on the Michigan ballot, which the committee had assailed. He said he did not think they were, but was not sure.

Crowe Reports
S. E. Crowe, Dean of MSC students, told the committee all four were students. Fox, he said, had been placed on probation for a time for membership in the banned American Youth for Democracy. Miss Perry, he said, attempted to spread progressive ideas in her boarding house to the "irritation" of her housemates.

She was secretary-treasurer of the Spartan Citizens committee, a "very liberal group," Crowe said.

Crowe said college authorities had had the four "under surveillance" and added "I am inclined to bring them into the office and talk to them."

The publications will award keys to outstanding staff members and incoming editors will present their staffs for the coming year.

Phil Spelman, South Haven senior, recently named State News managing editor, will preside over the affair as toastmaster. Bill Southerborn, Detroit senior, and incoming editor, will announce the State News staff.

Recent appointments by the Board of Publications also named Bob Stearns, Detroit junior, to the job of comptroller for summer term, and Wally Schramm, Menominee junior, to the same post for fall term.

The board also created the position of news editor, to begin fall term. James McCartney, East Lansing junior, was appointed to the new position. His duties will be to co-ordinate all campus news.

Other board appointments of 1946-49 include Cynthia Gorman, Detroit junior, as Wolverine editor, and Idella Graves, Chicago junior, as the yearbook business manager.

Charles Gabel, Detroit junior, will be the new Spartan editor, and Arnold Brandsdorfer, Lansing junior, will handle the duties of business manager.

Michigan Colleges, Northville Hospital Considered In Bill

Legislators May Take Action On Sigler's Reform Program

By DUANE HONSWETZ

Both houses of the state legislature are expected to have quorums present this morning as the bodies convene at 10 a. m. for the sine die session.

Two problems faced the lawmakers. Legislators will attempt to work out a compromise on the $16,000,000 state building appropriations bill which was tabled by the senate last month. The senate must also finish the contempt trial of James Zarichny, Flint senior.

Some sources report that the legislators may also take action on Governor Sigler's governmental reform program which both houses have before repelled. Sigler has said he will go directly to the people for action unless the legislature acts.

The building appropriations bill was tabled during the closing hours of the regular special session meetings after the two bodies were unable to reach a compromise on amounts to be spent on Michigan colleges and the Northville mental hospital.

Bill Slashed
The original $21,000,000 bill was slashed nearly half by the Senate Finance committee. Later, the House restored some $1,000,000 for the MSC Physics building, $2,000,000 to continue the Northville hospital and added $5,000,000 for county roads.

One of the big blocks to an agreement is the proposed House appropriation to continue the Northville hospital. Lieut. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes has consistently fought the plan and he apparently influences enough Senate votes to block the proposal in that body.

Another Session
Governor Sigler told reporters last week that unless the legislative bodies reached some agreement on the building appropriations bill, he would call them back for another special session. If that happened, he hinted that he might also give them some other matters to consider.

House speaker Victor Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) has sent letters to house members urging them to attend the sine die session. He said he didn't want to see the House get blamed for being unable to act at this meeting because a quorum wasn't present.

He said he attended a class in Detroit where CIO pamphlets were distributed attacking management for high prices.

But Arthur A. Elder, director of the service, who followed him as a witness before a House Labor and Education sub-committee, declared Stricker's criticism was unjustified and indicated "hostility against the workers' program throughout the country."

Constitution Approved Council

Student Vote, Administration OK

By JIM SMITH

A new constitution for government at MSC was the first hurdle last night when the Student council approved for adoption.

Approval must still be approved by college officials and a majority affirmative vote must be placed before the senate at final elections.

The constitution contains a provision for the election of a pre-sessional committee. They are: Executive, Amending, and the section dealing with adoption.

Student Actors Present Each Plays

At 7:30 in the Music building, three groups of students will present short plays now being rehearsed by the French stage group of the foreign department in charge of the plays.

The plays, "Aimer," is a love story. The other two are "Le Qu'on" and "La Faim est un bonheur," are humorous plays. The audience is invited to see the play of the French stage group of the foreign department in charge of the plays.

Straight Thinking At The Polls

The Day Of Decision

Michigan legislators today will determine the future of the Michigan State building program. At the same time they will take or refuse action on building programs for other state institutions.

The Student council, the American Legion, the American Veterans committee, the State News and other interested individuals and groups on campus believe that the legislature will be making a serious mistake if the building proposal is not approved.

We believe this is true for two reasons: (1) that the state has a responsibility to make a high type education available to its citizens; and (2) that failure to appropriate funds to finish buildings already begun will cost the tax payers more in the long run.

We do not know the merits of the Northville hospital proposal which has hamstrung funds for buildings here, at Wayne and at the University of Michigan. We do know that education must not be made a political cork tossed in the legislative tides.

We can sympathize with the legislature in their desire to save money for the people of Michigan because we know that money must and will come from our own pockets.

We feel, however, that it is more important in the light of present world conditions that every possible precaution be taken to insure a well educated, trained citizenry in the future.

The problems of the world and of the nation are far too profound to be trusted in the hands of half-educated persons.

Increased veterans' enrollments, general prosperity and a greater demand for higher education have put colleges and universities in a more favorable position today than ever before in history.

Seemingly a few of our legislators resent this fact. It is difficult for us to see their point of view.

We think that the increased respect for the desirability of higher education is one of the few bright spots on a darkening world horizon.

Let us hope that the legislature will forget petty arguments and high-powered vote-getting devices when they meet today.

Let us hope that they will act with wisdom.

Ladies Show Your Spunk

No action has been taken to obtain later hours for campus women. None will be taken at least until next year.

Although many women are in favor of the idea, several women's groups have expressed their disapproval. It seems that the coeds want to have something to depend on, to avoid maturity and independence as long as they can.

Parents also are in favor of college rules for their daughters. They seem to feel that adolescence should be prolonged as much as possible, if not by them then by college authorities.

If MSC coeds wish to allow themselves to be coddled and protected from making independent decisions for themselves that is, we suppose, their right.

But if they allow this to continue, then MSC coeds don't have the spunk and intellectual capacity with which we have credited them in the past.

Junior 500 Acceleration

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity deserves a pat on the back for originating the "Junior 500" pushcart derby which drew crowds of spectators Saturday.

This event is a happy deviation from standard activities on the campus, some of which have become time-worn duties.

Lambda Chi Alpha is interested in all college activities.

It is to be hoped that other social groups take action in matters which will add interest to the lives of the entire student body.

Your Senior Activities

Many graduating seniors are not taking part in the senior activities this spring and the rich traditional celebrations that naturally end four years of work in a university are taking somewhat of a beating.

President Hannah and Mrs. Hannah will honor the graduates at a reception Tuesday and Wednesday, May 25 and 26. It will be an informal affair. Other events are on the agenda.

The real pleasures of graduation are wrapped up in meeting some of the students, known previously only as book-toters, in a social situation before leaving the Alma Mater.

The State News hopes the seniors will take advantage of the activities arranged in their honor.

Today—primary day—is the time for every student at MSC to exercise his privilege of determining who will be the leaders of student government during the next school year.

More than a privilege granted to students, the voting procedure is an obligation demanding action from every student. Before the polls close today that obligation ought to be fulfilled.

Primary elections often do not draw as many voters as do the final run-offs. In reality, however, the primaries are the proving ground for political aspirants. Only top men in the field should be allowed to run in the finals.

Voting on primary day should not be directed completely by social affiliations, or strictly on a friendship basis. If good student government is to be obtained on campus the voting must be for the candidate.

Something very important to the voters in the national elections are the platforms of the candidates, "campaign promises" if one wishes to call them that.

The candidate's platform is important because it gives the voter some kind of contract on the future of the electee.

A candidate without a platform is merely running in a popularity contest. Don't vote for a face, vote for a promise of action on the basis of the candidate's integrity.

The coming school year will see a more efficient student government if it ever is coming to Michigan State.

The new constitution will provide a basis for workable student government. It is simplified and better defined than the present charter—a conglomeration of confusing rules and regulations. Unless competent and interested students take part in the council next year, the new constitution will be worthless.

A most important part of better student government is a responsible council. The college officials can hardly be expected to put blind trust in a council that does not show itself capable of handling its own affairs first.

The first step is the election of responsible representatives to the Council.

Another point which could well defeat the advancing student government would be a lack of voting response on the part of the student body—or voting for an organization or unit rather than a qualified candidate.

Within the primary elections lies the key to a better and more responsible student government next year. Exercise your voting right—and duty—today.

Coke Machine Troubles

The coke machines in the Union building have recently taken on a close resemblance to the now illegal "one armed bandits." The only difference between the two types of coin machines is that sometimes you do get a coke after depositing several nickels, dimes or quarters.

No doubt this condition is unintentional and results from purely mechanical defects in the vending equipment. It seems that these machines which advertise to the prospective customer that they will make change for nickels, dimes and quarters and also deliver the well known soft drinks have not yet been perfected.

Whatever the cause, the result is an unhappy one. MSC students on the average can ill afford to spend their meager funds in this way.

We want a coke for every five cents deposited in those big red coolers. It is too late to make refunds, but at least the company could dispatch a qualified slot machine technician to East Lansing to correct such conditions.

Let's Clean It Up Today

Spartan students will be called on to do a little police-up business on campus at 2 this afternoon. Alpha Phi Omega, campus service honorary, will be in charge of the clean-up and has sent letters out to different campus organizations assigning them to specific areas.

Michigan State's campus has long been rated among the top three most beautiful in the nation. It may be that Spartan students don't appreciate this fact, but it is a fact worthy of pride—and worthy of maintaining.

Since the war, building excavations have wreaked havoc on the landscaping department's carefully laid plans. Many of the buildings are now near completion—pending legislative approval—and once again the campus is getting dressed up in the lived-in look.

Posters are not the only blight to the campus beautiful; cigarette butts, candy wrappers, and general refuse are scattered around in abundance.

Don't wait for a personal invitation. Take fifteen minutes off this afternoon and help clean up MSC's campus.

Political Science 352

By GORDON HANNA

STUDENTS WHO FIND THAT TIME weighs heavy on their hands today and tonight might get a lesson in representative government if they would drift down to the capital and take in the final session of the Legislature.

If a quorum is present at the session, observers might have an opportunity to see a capital outlay bill, to continue building at various state institutions, batted around like a shuttlecock.

Possibly they might see a bill passed which would allow many of them to finish their college educations.

Or, they might participate in a wake mourning the death of the celebrated physics building, natural science building, power plant, poultry building and electrical engineering building.

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST AT THE State House today include such things as contempt proceedings against James Zarichny, a State student; a debate on a hospital at Northville; building appropriations for our sister colleges, and adjournment of the Legislature on Friday.

Students of political science, students of politics and students can learn a lot about the function of government in education by attending this session.

A word of caution—no cheering or booing is allowed in the galleries, so good deportment will be necessary, otherwise one of the sergeants-at-arms will terminate participation in this short course in state government.

CAMPUS POLITICIANS, AXE-GRINDERS, and hangers-on will have an opportunity this Saturday to make a few points with the various student publications when Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, joins forces with Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism sorority, to sponsor the Headliners Hop.

The persons who hound the editors daily for publicity for their own functions are receiving a dose of their own medicine as SDX and Theta Sigs push their ticket sales.

BOB KLEIN, FRESHMAN PRESIDENT, says that the freshmen are not giving their annual dance the support it needs.

This is too bad as Klein is trying to revive the pre-war spirit of the freshman class by having this dance. Prospects of future classes holding dances their freshman year will be very poor if this dance does not succeed.

Freshmen, it seems to me, are long on talk, but short on results. The freshman class officers can not sponsor a dance without some cooperation.

How about it, freshmen? Is the annual Frosh hop going to be a success or a failure?

MUCH CAN BE SAID ABOUT THE worthy clean-up project sponsored by APO.

This project could be eliminated if loyal Spartans were clean Spartans.

A Plan For The $3,000

Excalibur, senior men's honorary, recently approved a recommendation to turn senior class surplus funds over to the control of a Michigan alumni club to promote Michigan State College.

The suggestion has its good points. The practice of erecting old rocks, cracked cement monuments and brass plaques to some class has come to mean little more than an acknowledgement that some particular year has passed.

It is no longer feasible that a class should erect a hand-shell or a new bridge across the Red Cedar. Construction costs are completely out of range of the few thousand dollars that any class may have to its credit at graduation.

The alumni plan has so far received commendation from senior class officers and committee members. But little response has been received on the request for suggestions from the students.

The senior class has over 500 dollars, plus a possible profit on the Water Carnival, and the junior class has a surplus of 3,000 dollars to dispose of.

The Alumni club will spend the money to "promote Michigan State College." This

New Constitution

The first official act of council president Jerry after his election last spring was the appointment committee to revise, and if necessary, rewrite the constitution.

It was felt at that time, and with considerable that student government was in the doldrums at Michigan State College. No one, least of all council members, was at all sure of the function of student government here.

Was the council a legislative body? Or was it a liaison group between the administration and the students? Could it make rules? Could it enforce them if it did?

It seemed at the time that satisfactory answers not be gained from members of the administrative students set out to find the answers themselves.

The committee which Warren appointed worked the summer and the fall, drafting and redrafting went along. It made one fatal mistake. It failed to talk with the administration, or to keep it informed of what was being done.

Next Wednesday, the council will submit another draft to the students. This one has two great advantages over the one already discarded. It is much simpler to understand—and it has administrative approval. Most of the "revolutionary" changes written in the first attempt have been lost in the shuffle. But the constitution contains a consistency that was missing in the first draft, and that is certainly lacking in the constitution.

The full text of the proposed document will appear in the State News at least once before the vote next Wednesday. It will be worth your while to read it carefully and talk it over with your friends.

It is only a framework. It is not, in itself, a final government. That can come only when the students themselves prove they are capable of making student government work.

If you want it to work, vote May 26.

Our Readers Comment

TO THE EDITOR:

Independent Student's Association has set itself up as the supreme ruling agency to decide whether or not an election candidate is worthy of a post in Michigan State.

If ISA was an organization of considerable prestige, its council is, the splendid move of "By-By" might mean something.

But I've never heard of the qualifications for membership in ISA, except that members are socially successful. There are only about fifty members, and I think it is worth while to ponder whether these few students capable of awarding "twenty-five points for ability and fifteen points for personality."

In the recent Mardi Gras campaign, it was shown independents are capable of winning elections.

There will probably be some independent running for offices and council positions, too. But I doubt very much whether any credit for a victory could be given to them.

TO THE EDITOR:

I understand that all the foreign pictures shown in this institution with the main goal of presenting in a practical way the customs and life of other nations and also to approach the students of this college to cultures and by this means make possible a better standing in this world.

Monday night when seeing the Mexican picture "Silvestre" I felt again that it is pitiful that among us of a "university" there are still persons that do not receive complete education in the sense of respect to others, but also demonstrate how little they know or try to understand other people and their cultures.

Many students have an odd attitude toward other people. Why don't they learn how to behave themselves in homes before calling them "the future leaders of countries?"

I as a foreign student have to be specific so that it is no misunderstanding. This criticism goes to many American students as well as Latin Americans. There are all kinds of people everywhere.

Johengen Gives Only Six Hits As Jayvees Beat Broncos, 4-1

Sharp Fielding And Base Running Plus Five Hits Insure State Win

By ED BROWN

A combination of alert base running, good fielding, and pitching of Lefty George Johengen, brought a 4-1 victory to the Spartan JV's in their tussle yesterday afternoon with the junior team from Western Michigan.

Johengen went the distance, giving up six hits, and striking out three. He pitched down when the heat was on to keep the Westerns handicapped. He struck out five men and walked three. The JV infield worked well together. Two double plays, one in the second and the other in the fifth inning, helped put the Spartans in the lead.

The score was tied up at six apiece going into the seventh inning, but a pair of singles by third-sacker Sam Adams, and a home run by Fred Hengstenberg, broke the tie.

Spartan Tennis Team Defeats Western, 9-0

Unbeaten String Extended To Eight By State Netters

By JOHN STERLING

The Spartan tennis team blasted the Western Michigan netters, 9-0, yesterday afternoon on the college clay courts. It was their eighth straight win.

Coach Harris F. Beeman's tennis squad produced fine tennis in its first appearance on clay. The netmen face the University of Michigan netters at Ann Arbor on Friday.

Bob Chuck, Hawaiian star, moved into the number three slot to defeat Bill Lightfoot, 6-0, 6-0.

Chuck Shines On Clay
Chuck's steadiness and accuracy was at its peak on clay. He turned in his eighth victory in the shortest match against the Broncos.

Bob Malaga at the number one position, outdistanced Arnold Brown, 6-3, 6-2, in a straight set triumph. Malaga produced fine passing shots as the Bronco star raced for the net.

On clay Malaga seemed content to let Brown do the forcing and make the errors. Malaga's steadiness broke up the powerful drives of Brown in the finest match of the afternoon.

Easy Victories
Bob Fleischmann and Don Waldron, teamed in easy victories against the Broncos. Fleischmann trounced Don Constant, 6-0, 6-1.

Don Waldron scored another two set triumph as he outclassed John Lybuck, 6-3, 6-2.

All Reynolds at the number two spot, defeated John Milroy, 7-5, 7-5. Reynolds produced some of his finest tennis after he was beaten 1-4 in the second set.

Jack Shingleton scored his eighth victory by blasting Jim Jakowski, 6-1, 6-1. Shingleton's victory clinched all the singles matches for the Spartans.

First Doubles Win
Mike Vachman and Tim Martin defeated Ray Postema-Jim Jakowski, 6-3, 7-5, for the first doubles victory against the Broncos.

Waldron-Fleischmann at the number two doubles trounced Lightfoot-Constant, 6-3, 6-4.

Reynolds-Shingleton defeated Milroy-Brown, 7-5, 6-4, to clinch States victory at 9-0 for the fourth time this season.

After facing the University of Michigan at netters at Ann Arbor on Friday, the Spartan tennis team will meet the netmen from the University of Detroit at East Lansing on Saturday.

Michigan Golf Team Here Today

State's varsity golf team plays host to the University of Michigan team at 1 p.m. today at Walnut Hills. They will be seeking to avenge a previous 23-7 loss which the Wolverines inflicted earlier this season.

Starting Foursome
The starting foursome should see Bob Tansey and Dune Fisher teeing off for MSC against El Shalou and Dave Barclay for Michigan.

The number two match will pit Jack Mounteer and Ted Kuzma for the Spartans against Roger Kessler and Pete Elliot, who is no stranger to State fans. Elliot, of football and basketball fame, makes golf his springtime sport.

Final Group
The final group should see Rex Newman and Don Jarrard shooting for Coach Ben VanAlstyne's team. Jarrard is the outstanding linkman for State on the two-game trip to Wisconsin. Michigan will probably counter with Doug Heath and Chuck MacCollum.

State will be trying for its fifth victory of the year. The team has dropped three contests.

State Nine To Battle Irish Next

Still struggling to get over the 500 mark for the season, Michigan State's baseball team will play host to the Fighting Irish from Notre Dame on Saturday.

The Irish, never a soft touch, are expected to field their usual top-notch lineup. Last year the Spartans split a two-game series with the Notre Dame nine, each team scoring its victory on its home diamond.

State Wins
In the first contest, on Old College field, State posted the Irish, 7-4, with the help of Marty Hansen's four-bagger over the right field fence. However, Notre Dame more than evened the count with a 10-2 triumph at South Bend.

With a powerful mound staff last season, the second Notre Dame tilt was one of the rare occasions coach John Kobs was forced to call on three hurlers.

Three Hurlers
Robin Roberts, who started the game and was charged with the loss, gave way to Dick Dietrich in the second and Chuck Dietrich twirled the last three frames.

In addition to their 12 hits, the Irish were aided by four Spartan errors. Every man in the Notre Dame lineup came through with at least one safety.

Ed Barbarito paced the State hurlers with a pair of singles in three trips to the plate.

Beckard In Line-Up
Joe Beckard, hard-hitting outfielder, first broke into the varsity lineup last year in the second game of the season.

A total of 12 Spartans saw action in the game as Kobs ran in the second-innings after State was hopelessly behind.

In the all-time series, which began in 1907, the Spartans hold a 30-50 record against the Irish with 25 wins and 37 losses.

Upper Hand
However, since Kobs became head coach in 1935, State holds the upper hand with 20 victories against 16 for the Irish.

For Saturday's game, Kobs is planning to use about the same lineup as in the last two games. The mound duties probably will fall to fast-baller Lou Bloch, who has done an outstanding job in relief roles this season.

The Irish will play host to Michigan's Wolverines today in an attempt to avenge for a 3-0 setback suffered at the hands of the Wolves at Ann Arbor on Tuesday.

Senators Win
CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—Pitcher Early Wynn's two-run single scored two of Washington's three seventh-inning runs as the Senators rallied to beat the Chicago White Sox, 4-1, before 1,803 persons here today.

Newhouser, shelled from the box his last five times out, scattered four hits to take his first victory since opening day.

It was the first time this year the Tigers' No. 1 lefthander has clout into the press box (third) deck in right field with two men out in the ninth.

Detroit committed five errors in the infield but six double plays made up for the blots, helping pin the loss on Ellis Kinder, who had a two-hitter going into the ninth.

The Tigers thus completed a sweep of the two-game Boston series, recording 10 twin killings in the process.

14 Men On Bases
The Red Sox put 14 men on the bases, five on walks and five on Tiger miscues, but only one could get around. Vern Stephens scoring an unearned marker in the second on his walk. Sam Mele's sacrifice and errors by Berry and Newhouser.

Ted Williams went hitless in three official times up, walking once. The victory gave Newhouser a season mark of two wins against four losses.
