African Premier Smuts Resigns After Election Loss

New Incoming Nationalist Party Wins On Strict Isolation Policy

PRETORIA, Union of South Africa, May 28 (AP)—Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, 78-year-old British Empire hero, resigned as premier today and prepared to turn power over to his successful Nationalist rival in the elections.

Governor General Dr. Francis Malan, a Nationalist, favor a strict segregation of races such as Indians and natives in separate Germany, descendants of German immigrants are members of the Nationalist and Afrikaner parties. Malan himself has displayed the support of Afrikaners and the leaders of the party describe themselves as Democrats. But inside the party are many who would like to see South Africa break away from the British Commonwealth and form a republic, who have a strong isolationist outlook and are pushing in their fight for the rights of the African speaking section of the population which forms more than half the white population.

Originally a foe of the British, in the last half century Smuts has been one of the most able advocates of Empire ties. He emerged as one of the Empire's ablest statesmen in the first world war and one of the most influential voices in Empire councils.

Award Winner Attends Convo At Harvard

Professor Maguire At Nieman Gathering

Prof. Frederick W. Maguire, of the Journalism department, winner of the Nieman award for excellence of news work in 1947, will attend a six day conference at Harvard university sponsored by the Society of Nieman Fellows.

The conference to be held May 31 to June 5 brings together the 122 newspaper men who have won the award since the society's inception in 1937.

The award grants a fellowship at Harvard for a year's study at the university and Maguire said Prof. Maguire took a leave of absence from the newspaper field to pursue his studies there in 1943 and 1944.

This year's convocation, the tenth anniversary of the Nieman Society, will feature lectures on domestic and foreign affairs by many of the world's leading news analysts and political scientists.

Among those scheduled to speak are Kirtly Mather on Resources for World Demand, Harold Isaacs on Far East correspondence, the Nieman Problem, Prof. Owen Lattimore, former political adviser to Chiang Kai-shek, on East to Russia, Henry Shapiro, United Press correspondent in Moscow, on What Makes Russians Tick, and Mark Ethridge, former chairman of the United Nations committee for the Balkans, on Greece and Tito.

Following the Nieman conference, Prof. Maguire will attend a two-day convocation on domestic and international problems at Dartmouth college under the auspices of the directors of Dartmouth's Great Issues course.

Sigma Xi Lists Officer Slate

Dr. Forrest C. Strong, botany and plant pathology department, was installed as president of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific fraternity, Monday night.

Other officers installed at the annual banquet were Prof. Thomas R. Osgood, physics department, vice-president; Prof. Richard A. Fennell, zoology department, treasurer; and Prof. Ralph L. Guide, chemistry department, secretary.

Dr. Dwight T. Ewing, who was awarded the Sigma Xi award of merit, was the principal speaker at the banquet.

Advanced ROTC Men Receive Merit Awards

By DON BALL

Nine advanced ROTC students were decorated by national organizations for their achievements in military and campus activities last night.

Infantry and Quartermaster students received a special parade for the honored cadets. Col. Dorsey Dowsley, Dean of Business and Public Service, and Col. John L. Whitelaw, commandant, presented the awards during the ceremonies.

Cadet Major Richard Burns, Detroit senior, and Cadet Lt. Col. Glen Anderson, Marquette sophomore, received medals from the Sons of the American Revolution. They were cited for their ROTC activities, leadership and student activities.

Two men received the Chicago Tribune ROTC medal. Gold medals were awarded to second year advanced students, who had contributed materially to the morale and prestige of the ROTC.

Cadet Lt. Andrew Baird, East Lansing senior, and Cadet Capt. Philip Werner, Battle Creek junior, received the gold awards.

Quartermaster students won recognition for their accomplishments in their branch of service. Awards were presented by the Quartermaster Association.

A key sponsored by the organization was presented to Jack Reed, Cadet Regimental commander. He was cited for contributions to the ROTC program at State and his leadership and academic status.

Citizenship and military proficiency won Cadet 1st Sgt. Douglas Wylie, Detroit sophomore, a medal sponsored by the same organization.

Artillery Cadet Major Theodore Goetz, New York junior, won the Coast Artillery medal for interest and activities in academic and military subjects.

Cadet Lt. Harold Robinson, Detroit junior, won the Ordnance Association medal through his accomplishments in that branch of service.

Briskin Play To Be Aired On WKAR

'Laura's Secret' Final Offering of Series

By DON McDONALD

The spartan Players will present a Christmas Play tonight as their last offering of the current series of 15 radio dramas. "Laura's Secret" which was written by Chicago graduate student Arthur Briskin, it will be heard over WKAR at 8:30.

Producer-director James D. Davis of the speech department says this series has provided the best requirement for the radio students. The NAB, National Association of Broadcasters, The NAB, according to Davis, believes that the series is a valuable contribution to the field of radio.

Use Flashbacks

Michigan State radio drama club sends the latest flashbacks during the school year. The program is a series of radio plays which are presented in production and programming, and some programs have the college radio club, WKAR.

Flame Vanishes

Laura's Secret, Briskin's radio play, was a double play, the play of Laura's Secret.

Letters To Editor

Junior Class President Writes To Constituents

To Members of Class of 1950: As president-elect of your class, I wish to take this opportunity to thank each and every one publicly for your fine support in the past election.

It was deeply appreciated and I assure you that I will do my best to fulfill the responsibility that you have invested in me. Congratulations Officers. Also, I would like to congratulate the other newly elected class officers and Student Council members. It is truly an honor to be chosen to such positions.

I am sure that the year of 1949 will be one of the most successful ever enjoyed by students here at MSC.

J-Hop Biggest Activity
The biggest activity that we as juniors will take part in will be our own J-Hop. With the help of every member of the class, this dance will be the greatest event on next year's social calendar.

Again, thanks for the swell backing and I will be looking forward to meeting all of you in the days to come here at MSC.

George B. Smith
President-elect,
Class of 1950

Phys Ed Club Elects Officers

Bernie Spivak, Michigan senior, was elected president of the Men's Physical Education club Thursday.

Landon Group Given Subject For Discussion

To the Editor: I read the letter from the House Council of East Landon hall and I think if their discussion had been "how to get more out of college" instead of "recommending and criticizing our faculty" it would have been of more value.

Following their outline I disapprove of the personality ratings for two reasons: a student usually does not know the department objectives so he cannot judge whether the instructor has or has not carried out these objectives in the course; also, the student is not here to judge his instructor but to learn through his instructor's leadership.

Students at Fault
If the faculty at MSC is indifferent, and I have not noticed it, it is because they are confronted with bored non-participating students who have nothing to add or will not add to class discussions.

The campus reflects the indifference of students at every turn and it seems to be taboo to speak to anyone who is not very well known to you.

Instructors Friendly
I personally have found instructors more friendly than most students I've met and more capable of carrying on intelligent conversation on my level of speech.

Motivation is needed in classes but it can come only from students who will come to discussions, ask questions and agree or disagree with instructors.

Of the curve, I'd probably flunk it if instructors marked on what should be known instead of what is known.

H. Charles Pierce

Writer Calls 'Catch-The-Pig' Inhumane Act

To the Editor: This letter is considered to be unnecessary unless perhaps Michigan State College students are forgetful enough to stage another "Catch the Pig" event in next year's freshman-soph meet.

A good share of the crowd spectators and participants alike, were uneasy before the affair was underway and when it became apparent that the rules made the contest a life and death struggle between 40 men and two pigs the feeling of revulsion was common.

The outcome, one pig killed when its leg was broken and the other quite the worse for wear and sore didn't help any. Orphans to those individuals whose protest finally stopped the inhumane exhibition.

Cries Of Protest
The cries of protest would have been heard in Detroit if Cocker pigs had been used instead of pigs. Why should pigs be any different?

Quite a few people from Lansing and East Lansing who viewed the affair must have taken a rather unfavorable impression of the "cow college" home with them.

Undoubtedly no one foresaw the results of the contest and they must be presumed due to "thoughtless planning and irresponsible management." But let's have no reaction. We want Michigan State College to be known far and wide—but not for incidents such as this.

Very truly yours,
James Gerrits

Student Suggests J-Hop Profits Go For New Uniforms

To the Editor: Before the junior class makes up its mind about what to do with that $2000 J-Hop profit, I wish to offer a suggestion. I can think of nothing that would profit the whole college so much as uniforms for our ushers at the auditorium.

These persons are on the job at every program, carrying out their jobs with courtesy and efficiency. Not only would uniforms be a reward for their fine work, but they would add much to the enjoyment of college programs by students and townspeople which attend.

So, juniors, before you spend all of that money, how about $500 for ushers' uniforms.

Campus Vandalism

WE thought that the fight for a new Physics building had been won. We were wrong. The state legislature finally came through with the money to pay the bills, and we give due thanks. But now the campus police have reported that vandals have smashed several pieces of cut limestone that were to be used in the building, including a key piece that will take at least two months to replace.

We hope that this sterling example of adult behavior is not the work of Michigan State college students. Goldfish swallowing, pajama parades and general hell-raising have long caused townfolks and faculty members to eye with askance the student's claim that they were adult individuals and capable of mature decisions and actions.

Although most of those outbursts of exuberant youth listed above are just harmless whoop-de-doo, out and out vandalism is a different thing.

It wasn't easy to win the money to complete that building. Student groups and college officials stated their case well, and their arguments were eventually vindicated by the final appropriation. Now it might seem that the legislators' faith in Michigan State college students wasn't justified.

Any group of individuals that have no more regard for their own property and the property of others is surely not deserving of the benefits of that property.

It would behoove us to grow up and perhaps assume a few of the innumerable responsibilities that will beset us when we leave MSC.

U.S. Arranges For Release Of Americans

Arab Terms Demand They Return To State

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—The State Department arranged for the release of 41 seized American Jews on terms laid down by the Arabs.

These terms are that the 41 come back to the United States instead of going to Palestine. Forebly Removed.

The men were forebly removed from a United States merchant ship by the Arab State of Lebanon. Lebanon contended they intended to fight against the Arabs in the Holy Land.

U.S. efforts to get them released unconditionally failed. They then were faced with a choice of staying indefinitely in concentration camps or coming back to the country.

The State Department announced that they had been polled and that all had chosen the latter alternative.

When Michael J. McDermott, State Department press officer, made the announcement to reporters, one reporter asked whether the arrangement was a blow to U.S. prestige in the Arab world.

McDermott said it was not. Today's development eased, but did not settle, a 10-day controversy which has troubled American protests.

The State Department stuck to its contention that the men were illegal under international law. Lawrence C. Parkerton, American minister in Beirut, the Lebanese capital, was instructed Wednesday to file a second protest, the details of which have not been made public.

Filing claims for damages was one course of action remaining open to the State Department. The men have been held in a detention camp since May 18 when the U.S. Navy's transport ship, the American Eagle, when it put into Beirut.

The first shipment of 1,800 books arrived in East Lansing, Thursday night, and 325 more are expected until next Tuesday. The books will be distributed to students who had been in the area.

The theme of the 48 Wolverine is based on campus traditions we all know or should know. Rosie Young, editor, announced.

In planning the book the editorial staff tried to make a professional record of the year's events and attempted to give the whole book an air of informality and friendliness. Young concluded.

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—William F. Foster, leader of the American Communist party, today attacked a bill designed to curb communist activities and told senators his party would not comply if it becomes law.

His blast came in the second day of hearings before the senate judiciary committee on the Mundt-Nixon bill which already has received a thumping endorsement from the house. Henry A. Wallace, third party presidential candidate, is the headline witness tomorrow.

Foster declared the bill would create a "fascist police state" and set up a "caste of political untouchables."

Communist Must Register. If the Mundt-Nixon bill were to pass, the Communist party would not perjure itself by admitting any resemblance to the monstrous caricature of its nature and purposes drawn in this bill, he said.

The measure would establish heavy fines and jail sentences for trying to set up a foreign-controlled totalitarian dictatorship in this country. The communist party would be required to register annually with the justice department and furnish the names and addresses of its members.

Must Label Propaganda. Communist fronts like wise would have to register but they would not have to file membership lists.

Communist would be barred from non-elective government positions and couldn't be granted passports. Their propaganda would have to be labeled as such.

Professor's Book To Be Released. The latest book of Dr. Charles C. Killingsworth, associate professor of economics, titled "State Labor Relations Acts", is scheduled for release by the University of Chicago press.

The book analyzes the policies, provisions and effects of state labor relations laws, and compares the provisions of the various state laws with those of the Taft-Hartley act.
