ROK Troops Move...

Republic of Korea troops stream through Yangsang, seven miles north of the 38th parallel in pursuit of retreating North Koreans. This contingent was the first to cross the mythical border at the 38th into North Korea. This group was reported 60 air miles north of the 38th.

South Koreans Advance As U.N. Force Reforms

TOKYO—(AP)—Three South Korean divisions advanced in North Korea today while the bulk of the United Nations forces massed below the 38th parallel boundary, waiting for orders to push north and crush the remnant Red Korean army.

The South Korean Sixth Division struck across the arbitrary boundary into Communist North Korea Friday. Field reports said its lead elements had entered the hydro-electric center of Hwachon, seven miles north of the 38th parallel and some 50 air miles inland from the east coast.

This made three Republican divisions north of the mythical line drawn by Russia and the United States for the purpose of taking the surrender of Japanese in Korea at the end of World War II.

That line had remained an unrecognized but actual frontier between the rival Korean regimes until the Communists crossed it June 25 in their ill-fated invasion of the south.

The South Korean Third Division, advancing up the east coast highway, was reported near Tongchon, 32 miles southeast of the big east coast port of Wonsan.

The South Korean Capital Division was operating in North Korea between the Sixth and Third. Latest field dispatches said elements of the Capital and Sixth Divisions had occupied the villages of Yonmado and Inje in rugged mountains east of Hwachon.

All three South Korean Divisions were reported advancing against light opposition.

Trading elements of the Third padded a dusty 20 miles Friday up the east coast highway in their drive on Wonsan, a bomb-blasted industrial center but still one of the best natural harbors on the east coast.

Prisoners taken by the Third in its week-old 75-mile push from the 38th parallel said Red troops would put up a fight at Wonsan, or on its outskirts. The prisoners said they heard that Russian advisers were helping to prepare fortifications at Wonsan.

Two Others Deny Overt Riot Guilt

By DEAN MORTON

"Why I was arrested, I don't know," said David B. Burleigh, Birmingham student, today.

Last Friday night Burleigh said he heard the sound of the mob while sitting in a drug store. He walked out onto Grand River and saw a policeman scuffling with a student.

Burleigh said he turned and walked in another direction. According to Burleigh, another policeman misinterpreted the movement. Burleigh was arrested and charged with inciting the mob.

Dirty Smile
William E. Cannon, a Manchester freshman, was booked for giving a policeman "a dirty smile." Cannon said he first heard the noise of the crowd from within the Union building. He said he joined the mob on Grand River just in time to be ordered back on the curb by the police. With one foot on the curb, Cannon said he turned and grinned at a policeman.

Mistake
Cannon was charged only with the "dirty smile" at the jail. In the report given to Dean King, however, he was reported as having heckled the police.

Cannon rechecked with the police this morning, and they admit having made a mistake in the report.

The State News was unable to contact Frank Butkiewicz, Jackson sophomore, Hagop J. Tookian, Highland Park freshman, or John H. Hepler, Detroit senior, in order to get their version of the arrests Saturday night.

Can Be Revoked Rioters Placed On Probation

Word came officially from President John Hannah's office yesterday that the 14 students arrested in last week's rally would be placed on strict disciplinary probation.

The action was recommended by Dean of Students Tom King after reviewing each case individually.

Dean King said the students could apply later to have the probation revoked. Action on these applications will be determined by the degree of severity in each case, King said.

Letters stating the terms of probation will go out to the students Monday, the president's office said.

A new sidewalk has been constructed between the north side of Jensen Fieldhouse and the new bridge leading to the Kellogg Center across the river. The route for the rest of the walk is now being graded.

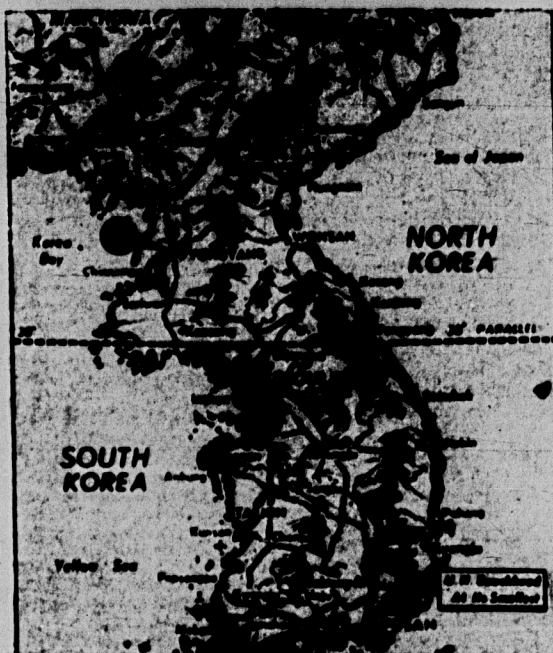

New Walk
Another new sidewalk has been planned between Michigan Avenue and Trailer Village along Harrison Road. It will also connect with the Kellogg Center, according to Prof. Milton Baron, assistant landscape architect.

The curbing has been put in on both sides of Harrison Road, but the surfacing will have to wait for the Ingham County Road Commission's schedule, he added.

Parking Space
Parking space has been provided for over 300 cars on the south side of the Kellogg Center. A unique feature of this parking lot is that all cars will be parked in the shade, keeping them cool.

An interesting fact about the Kellogg Center, always thought of as a long way away, is that it is actually only about as far from Beaumont Tower as the men's dorms.

Halt At Chinese Border Assured By U.S., Britain

NEW YORK—(AP)—The United States and Britain gave solemn assurances today that United Nations forces will not cross the Korean border into Communist China or the Soviet Union.

These pledges were made as several influential delegates suggested privately the president of the Fifth General National Assembly, sound a call for the N. Koreans to cease hostilities. If Entezam consents, this is expected to be made immediately after passage of the 8-power Korean peace plan tomorrow.

Warren R. Austin, United States, and R. Kenneth Younger, Britain, spoke for the eight-nation plan in the final stages of the Assembly debate.

Younger told the Assembly the U. N. had taken a historic decision in June to resist aggression by force. He said if anyone outside the Assembly—for instance Communist China—feared that U.N. forces might carry hostilities on beyond Korea or remain in Korea longer than the U.N. objectives demanded, "I give them my solemn assurance that their fears have no foundation."

Austin endorsed the British pledge in his speech. He said also the quicker Korea is permitted to live its own life without foreign interference, the better.

Reject Soviet Motion
The Assembly rejected a Soviet motion to invite North Koreans here to take part in discussions of the Korean issue. There were six votes in favor, 31 against, and six abstentions.

The eight-nation plan was approved by the Assembly's Political committee. By a vote of 47 to 7, more than enough to overcome the two-thirds vote barrier in the assembly.

The plan calls for a reorganized U.N. commission on Korea to conduct elections and take necessary steps for setting up a unified, independent Korean government. U.N. forces will remain in Korea long enough for the commission to carry out its assignment. The plan also calls for immediate steps for rehabilitating the country.

Terps Plan Trouble For State

By BOB STUART

With storm warnings up in more than one way, the Michigan State grid squad went through final drills at Mackin Field Friday in preparation for today's battle with Maryland.

A crowd of well over 40,000 is expected to be on hand for the opening kickoff of a grid tussle which may prove to be the toughest on the MSC schedule.

A weather prediction of possible rain this afternoon may hamper attendance. However, if predictions are being taken to protect the playing field with huge tarpaulin mats in the event of early showers.

Lineup Change

Coach Munn announced one change in his starting lineup with Mary McFadden starting at right tackle in place of Bill Horrell.

State's Attack

Carrying the attack for State on the flanks will be Bob Carey at left end and Hank Minarik at right end. Don Coleman will match his power with Maryland's highly touted Ray Krouse at left tackle.

At the guard positions it will be John Yocco and John Tobin, a bruising combination which carried the heavy part of the offense against the Wolverines a week ago.

At Center

In the center slot for the Spartans will be 190-pound Dick Tombs. He will face veteran Jake Rowden of the Terrapins at that position.

With his squad almost back to full strength, it seems certain that Coach Munn will have plenty of reserves to help carry the load for the starting eleven.

Others who will probably see action are end Don Dibble, guards Frank Kusch, Frank Kapral, Deane Thomas and tackle Gene Strom.

Spartan Backfield

In the backfield, the Spartans will be bolstered by the return of right halfback, Bob Cholek who has been on the injury list for several days.

For the Terrapins it appears that the offense will center around Johnny Seabath, heaving the aerials, with Ed "Mighty Moe" Modzelewski doing the power running.

Maryland Line

The strong Maryland line is certain to include ace pass snatcher, Elmer Wingate at left end, Krouse at tackle and Bob Ward at guard.

Barring bad weather, it promises to be a wide open football slugfest with plenty of passing and rugged line play. Although the Spartans are pre-game favorites, the balance of power on both squads may make it anybody's ball game.

MSC Holds Edge

Statistically speaking the MSC eleven has the edge. Both teams have played two games this season with the Terps winning one and losing one. MSC has two victories in two starts.

Maryland has a total of six touchdowns in two games for 16 points while State has seven markers and 32 points. In spite of this, it looks like a pretty rough afternoon for the Green and White squad.

Recently Revived Club Popularizes Pastime

By DORIS CLARK

The Promenaders, campus square-dancing club, break out with a swing your partners and promenade all night every Wednesday night in the Women's Gym.

The club was revived last fall term and has been active in giving demonstrations and promoting square-dancing on campus. They gave over twenty-five demonstrations last year including some in Jackson, Greenville, and Flint.

Vacancies Left
New members are needed to fill the vacancies left last spring. Anyone who has had a term of square-dancing or the equivalent of experience are encouraged to attend the meetings, according to Peg McKoone, faculty advisor and instructor.

Meetings are held from 7:30 to 9:45 in the Women's gym. Western costumes are worn for the demonstrations, but any comfortable clothing is suitable for the regular meetings.

Workshop Dances
The group is now working on dances brought back from Lloyd Shaw's workshop held this summer in Colorado Springs.

Shaw is director of the famous Cheyenne Dancers which appeared on campus last spring. Miss McKoone attended the August session and Jack Worthington, Romeo senior, attended the session in July.

Attended Sessions
Group leaders and recreation workers from all over the United States attended the sessions, bringing their dances with them. These were taught and exchanged for new ones. Worthington and Miss McKoone brought back a repertoire of dances to teach the club members.

Swedish Member
Miss McKoone also declared that the club hoped to have Serril Hardenberg, new faculty member from Sweden, attend

Orchesis Reveals Fall Term Program

Orchesis, modern dance honorary, will sponsor a hoedown in the Women's gymnasium as part of its fall term activities, according to Louzella Seeburger, president.

Intermission entertainment for the event which will be Nov. 4, is a modern dance presented by members. The group is also working on dances for their show scheduled for Nov. 30.

Detroit Trip
A trip to Detroit for Joe Lamon's program is another highlight of the fall for the honorary.

Orchesis will also sponsor a booth at the Activities Carnival to answer questions from any interested students.

Fall Pledging
Pledging of new members takes place in the fall, and invitations have already been extended to 23 coeds.

Prospective members are chosen from the modern dance classes and must have a grade of B or better to be eligible. In addition they must show genuine interest and have a dance personality.

Training Workshop
Pledges attend a training workshop for three to six months, and are initiated after the final test is passed, according to Miss Seeburger.

Meetings are held every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Women's gym. After a short business session members divide into groups to create and practice dances.

Orchesis is under the direction of Miss Ann Kuehl and Bodil Genkel, of the women's physical education department. Miss Kuehl has been one of the sponsors since 1928, shortly after the group was started on campus.

Newspaper Accounts Relate Story Of Burned 'Bad Boy'

By AP Newsfeatures

SANTA BARBARA, Calif.—This is the story of four years of a boy's life. It has no ending as you will see.

Written four years ago, the ending would have seemed inevitable to be death, two years ago, prison or at best a mental institution. Now, the ending is for you to guess, and the boy who is only 14, to live.

The story of Ted Johnson (and that isn't his real name, it's not important) is told in articles in the Santa Barbara News-Press. They began four years ago.

July 17, 1946—Severely burned when a blow torch with which he was playing exploded, Ted Johnson, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Johnson, was reported in critical condition today.

Fire Chief C. L. Tenney said the lad found the blow torch in the rear of a waterfront building. The flames set fire to the structure and the boy ran screaming to the ocean where he plunged into the surf in an effort to halt the pain.

"Attending physicians said Ted will be lucky if he recovers. Three-fourths of his body is covered with first degree burns."

Oct. 9, 1946—A plea for A-type blood "donors" to aid a 10-year-old boy severely burned by a blow torch July 17 was issued today by his parents.

Nov. 26, 1946—Wanted: a place to live. Remember the Johnson boy who was dangerously burned by a blow torch?

Ted is just beginning to take a few steps on his reconditioned legs. The hospital says he is ready to go home—but his family's apartment is not large enough to hold a person needing medical care.

enough to hold a person needing medical care.

Oct. 26, 1947—Police investigating the conduct of an 11-year-old boy suspected of arson took testimony from eight persons in his neighborhood today.

"These persons said the boy threw lighted matches on porches, set a haystack ablaze and set lighted candles on their window sills."

April 9, 1948—An 11-year-old boy—almost, but not quite, like any other kid in Santa Barbara—is in Juvenile Hall today because yesterday he tried to wreck the Southern Pacific Daylight.

If you saw him and talked to him you would like him. And you would think he was just like the boy across the street—until you noticed that one side of his face is scarred by burns.

At this point the probation department of juvenile court took over the problem of Ted Johnson, grossly scarred and crippled, a fire bug and would-be train wrecker.

April 20, 1948—The 11-year-old boy who set fires in buildings at Hoff heights and made two attempts to wreck railroad trains will be sent to Los Angeles for plastic surgery.

The operation improved Ted's looks and helped his crippled right arm, but mentally he was far from cured. At Juvenile Hall he continued to play with fire. He had to be carefully watched. After six months doctors recommended that he be sent where he could have home-like care. Ted went to the Optimist's Boys Home in Los Angeles.

Eighteen months later, when he was released to his mother and stepfather, the home reported his adjustment was excellent. At first a "Frankenstein" monster, Ted gradually made friends and developed a co-operative attitude.

He especially liked games in which masks were used—they covered his facial scars. True, he was still very much interested in fires, but he hadn't started any.

Ted has been home three months now. He's starting life anew in Bakersfield, Calif., where his family has moved. He's had a couple of operations since he arrived which have made his crippled arm and leg more limber. He'll have more, including plastic surgery, doctors say.

He is still a ward of the local court. They'll keep a close watch over him for the next few years. They hope Ted's story will have a happy ending. It's up to him.

Wolves, Opponents Blanked By Pretty Softball Hurlers

By The Associated Press

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Six no-hit, no-run games a year aren't considered exceptional for Charlotte Armstrong, pretty brunette hurler for the Phoenix A-1 Queens. She has almost as much trouble avoiding wolves at the gate as she does pitching shutouts.

Miss Armstrong, known generally as Skipper, was voted All-American after each World Tournament of the National Softball Congress during the past three years. She was named the most valuable pitcher in 1947 and 1949.

Gets 67 Wins
This feminine exponent of Abner Doubleday's sport can't understand all the shouting about 30 game winners. She's hung up at 67 wins this season, including four no-hitters—two less than her average—and has given up only 32 hits over game. She's lost 11.

Ask her if she gets nervous and she'll admit she does in the tournament and other important games. Hard-fought battles with the Arizona Ramblers are in that latter category. The Ramblers ruled the roost of the Amateur Softball Association of America while the Queens were tops in the rival organization.

Front Gate Appeal
Charlotte, a blue-eyed, brown-haired 26-year-old, has appeal for the "front gate Johnnies."

"Sure, we have the usual trouble with wolves," she laughs. "I think every girl on the team does. I just try to be polite to them and go on my way."

During the summer the Queens have played throughout much of this country and Canada. They usually have games in Mexico on the season's docket. Charlotte figures they've traveled more than 20,000 miles this season and that travel makes play with the Queens more interesting. They play both girls' and men's teams during a season.

Watch Games
More people than ever have watched her pitch this year. The Queens home games are televised locally. "I think television creates more interest in the game," says the Skipper.

In addition to playing with the Queens, the 145-pound, five foot, seven inch pitcher also was with the All-American girls' professional league for two years and with the National Girls' league for one. While with the South Dend Blue Sox of the All-American, she pitched 32 consecutive scoreless innings.

Spartan Wives Slate Club's Interest Groups

Any Spartan wife can find an interest group in the Spartan Wives club, Mrs. Helen Basil asserted yesterday.

The Spartan Wives club house will be open every afternoon and evening starting Oct. 9 for interest group meetings, she continued.

Scheduled for next week are craft classes Monday evening, a story-telling hour for children from Red Cedar school Tuesday afternoon, and bridge Tuesday evening.

Wednesday all Spartan spouses are invited to attend open board meeting in the evening. Members of all interest groups gather together at these meetings.

Mother Craft
Thursday afternoon's mother craft classes, the new square dance group Thursday evening, and Friday's knitting circle close the week's program, Mrs. Basil stated.

Fun and entertainment will be found at the club house after the Homecoming game, she declared. As a wind-up to a busy week, and to welcome friends, the wives will sponsor an open house for MSC's married couples.

Everyone Invited
Dancing, cards, and refreshments can be had from after the game until late evening. Everyone is cordially invited, Mrs. Basil said.

Liver contains five times as much iron as muscle meat, and kidney and heart twice as much. If you include one of these high iron meats in your family's diet once a week, or at least several times a month, you will help your family to maintain the normal iron content of the blood necessary for good health.

Today's Encounter May Close Series

YANKEE STADIUM, New York—(AP)—The New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Phillies for the third time, 3 to 2, and broke the hearts of the Whiz Kids.

The American League champions shoved across the ninth in the eighth on a hit by Johnny Mize, an error by Granny Hamner, and scored the winning run after two were out.

The seventh straight win for the Yankees came in a game that was a close contest. The Yankees had a 2-1 lead in the eighth on a hit by Mize, an error by Hamner, and scored the winning run after two were out.

Rarity—A Phillie Hit

Hank Bauer, New York right fielder, takes a tumble in short right-center trying to make a shoestring catch of a hit by Phillies' Richie Ashburn in the first inning of the second World Series game (Oct. 5) at Philadelphia. The ball got away for a double. Centerfielder Joe DiMaggio races toward Bauer.

Yankee Star Continues Hard Hitting

NEW YORK—(AP)—The slugger of this run-stuffed world series is a handsome, slender, curly-haired boy with a fetching grin and a season's batting average of only .287.

He is Gerry Coleman, a defensive bulwark at second base but scarcely counted a Yankee slugger alongside Joe DiMaggio, John Mize, or Yogi Berra.

Coleman Confident
"I thought the team was going to win," he said after his ninth-inning single had broken up the third game of the series, "but I didn't think I'd be that instrumental in the victory."

Yes, that's the way he talks, smiling all the time. And looking more as if he belonged on a college team than on the Yankees.

The pitch that he hit to do the damage in the ninth, he said, "was a high curve on the inside."

Picks Right Pitch
"First Russ Meyer threw me a slider for a strike. Then he threw me a high curve for a ball, so I decided I better start swinging."

And he did—on the next pitch. The big crowd in Yankee stadium went wild, and even the Yankee players were laughing and jubilant as they streaked up the runway from their dugout into their luxurious dressing room.

Team Jubilant
After the Yankee team was locked securely in its dressing room for the seclusion which commissioner A. B. Chandler promised immediately after each game, you could hear shouts coming from the clubhouse.

"Gerry Coleman wins—Gerry Coleman wins!"

The Yankees are excited now. They were apathetic after the first victory, interested after the second, and now they are all pepped up.

"It really feels wonderful," said Coleman. "It looks like we really ought to win the series."

Freshmen Hockey Enthusiasts Show Excellent Form In Opening Practice

By GEORGE TRUMBULL

Blades flashed and pucks flew Thursday as some 35 hopefuls answered hockey coach Harold Paulsen's call for the start of the 1950-51 freshman hockey season.

Captain Paulsen described the turnout as "fair" as he put the prospects through skating and passing practice on the Demonstration hall ice rink.

The freshman squad will workout from 10 to 12 every morning Monday through Friday.

Big Ten Rulings
According to Big Ten rulings freshmen teams are not permitted to compete against other schools.

The competition for the squad will be supplied by intersquad scrimmage and practices against the varsity.

The varsity will take the ice on Oct. 10 to try and form a team that will attempt to erase an unsuccessful 1950 record of 14 straight defeats.

Second Year Of Competition
This season will be the second year of competition for Coach Paulsen and his puck chasers.

The varsity will use 4 to 6 every afternoon Monday through Friday for their practices. The schedule for the coming season has not been released as yet, but the first encounter is tentatively set for Dec. 1.

Outstanding Fresh
Some of the outstanding—fresh so far have been goalies Gerald Berman from Detroit and Thomas McCarthy from Medford, Mass.

Showing excellent form in playing in the rear guard ranks have been Bob Barry, Dick Sylvia and Dick Hedeman.

Playing in the center slot, Charles McCabe, Clayton McCarthy, Scott Shupine and Don Wafford have proved to be capable performers and have an excellent chance to wear the Green and White colors in the future.

Forward Line Assets
Right wingers Bob Mills and Jens Peterson have also been assets to the forward lines during the first two practices.

At the other flank position, Carter Sales, George Whitehead and Bob Hasler have shown Paulsen that his reserve strength is high. Sales played for the Colorado College JV last year.

Missing from the varsity ranks when they start their practices will be lettermen, Don Kauppi, Bob Hinkley and Walt Flanders.

Missing Lettermen
Both Kauppi and Hinkley have graduated and Flanders has dropped out of school.

Paulsen also stressed the fact that it is not too late for anyone interested in playing hockey to try out for the team.

Crippled U. of M. Team To Meet Dartmouth
ANN ARBOR—(AP)—A crippled Michigan meets a crippled Dartmouth here in the easterners fourth and division of the Western conference.

A crowd estimated at about 75,000 was expected to turn out to see if the Michigan Big Ten co-champs can bounce back from their 14-7 upset loss to Michigan State in their opener last week.

Fraternities Begin IM Football Play

By BUD BAKER

After only one night of football Phi Delta Theta, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Nu and SAE loomed as the teams to beat in the IFC division of intramural football.

SAE jumped off to a 20-0 half-time lead and then coasted to a 20-6 win over Phi Kappa Sigma.

George Auchterlonie passed to Jim Carey for the first touchdown, and Bob Kroppschot caught a pass for another.

Sam McKaig wound up the SAE scoring with an end run. Nick Podlecki took a pass from Dick Allen for the lone Phi Kappa Sigma score.

Two Safeties, TD
Delta Chi combined two safeties and a touchdown pass to Chuck Heberer to beat Theta Xi, 11-6. Beta Theta Pi scored a touchdown on the first running play of the game to defeat AEP, 6 to 0. Jim Hall tossed to Don Gross for the only tally of the slow game.

Bob Zerill threw two touchdowns to lead Sigma Nu to their 25-14 victory over Kappa Sigma. Bob Miller and Fred Schenck each threw one touchdown pass and each scored once. Wayne Hartigan hit Bill Killen twice to account for the loser's points.

ATO Wins
ATO measured Lambda Chi, 12-6 by scoring twice in the first half on a pass from Gene Dacasse to Dick Golly and on a pass interception by "Kosta" Branoff. Lambda Chi scored in the closing minutes when Jim Rose took a pass from Ralph Bauman.

Delta Sigma Phi rolled to an easy 23 to 0 win over ZBT as Don Marquette led the way by scoring two touchdowns.

Sigma Chi overcame a 7-0 lead to beat Theta Chi 13-7 in a fast game. Ray Basso scored Theta Chi's lone touchdown on a pass in the first quarter.

Bob Moore Passes
Bob Moore put Sigma Chi back in the game by passing to Harley Burr shortly before the end of the first half. After a series of passes, Tom Folles crossed the goal line in the last quarter to wrap up the game for Sigma Chi.

Two touchdowns and a safety gave Psi U a 13 to 6 win over Pi Kappa Phi in a game that featured the outstanding run of the night, a kickoff return good for a touchdown by Jack Meyers at the start of the second half.

Fred Sayles also scored for the victors on a short run. Bob Hoffman flipped a pass to Bob Jensen for Pi Kappa Phi's only score.

Phi Delta Theta topped Delta Upsilon 28-0. Delta Tau Delta won the only forfeit of the night from Phi Kappa Sigma.

England Today—WKAR To Air New Program

The first of a new series of programs sponsored by the departments of history and political science will be heard Friday from 2 to 2:30 over station WKAR.

The discussion, "England Today," will be led by Dr. Richard M. Dorson of the history department. Dr. Dorson has recently returned from a year's study in England on a Guggenheim fellowship, and has had an opportunity to observe that country in the midst of its socialist experiment.

His collection of early American writings entitled "America Begins" is at present meeting with acclaim from the book critics.

Munn Calls 'M' Game 'Greatest'

MSC football coach Biggie Munn named last Saturday as the "greatest day" he ever had in football, at last night's pep rally.

Munn, who introduced Miss Michigan, Mary Lou Pittman, also called on students to support the MSC Spartans. "When they need it, really give them a lift," Munn said.

Dean of Students Tom King, and Student Council President Bob Rombouts also remarked on tomorrow's game with Maryland.

Frank Topper and Chops Munn provided a comedy act for the rally. Jack Foglio acted as master of ceremonies.

Music was supplied by the Varsity band and movies were shown afterward.

Parking Lot For Church, Noble Says

No major parking problem has developed this year at Peoples church, but David W. Noble, parish executive of the church, warned motorists that they must be on church or College House business to use the parking lot behind College House.

Size of the lot has been more than doubled, with a present capacity of 18 cars as compared with an eight-car capacity last year. Three of the parking spaces are reserved for church staff members, and those using other spots must register at the church office.

License numbers of illegally parked cars will be noted, Noble said, and warning tags put on the cars. If drivers persist in using the lot while not on church or College House business, the cars will be towed away.

Drivers are asked to enter the lot from the Evergreen entrance. If the lot is filled, Noble said space will be available on Valley court.

The MSC Speakers' Bureau began its thirteenth year of active participation in campus activities this fall. The bureau is operated as a Michigan State College public service feature for the benefit of students who wish to gain experience in public speaking.

Next Queen Announced In Spartan

Tuesday, Oct. 10, marks the debut of the first Spartan magazine for 1950-51. Co-sponsor of the Homecoming Queen contest, the Spartan will also make the announcement of the queen's identity. Also in this issue will be pictures of the Homecoming Queen and her court.

Not confining itself entirely to beauty, the Spartan also features humorous stories and cartoons. Among these morsels is "The Lady Is No Cowboy," by Frank Price. Price's story paints a picture of the old West.

A regular feature of the magazine is the question of the month with pictures by Jim Hyde. The question of the month is "Do you think you will be lonely this term?" Read the answer of Don Coleman, Michigan State's man of the gridiron.

Center-spread of cartoons is Don Salvagione's "Pre-martial Relations," answering the question: "What is life in the ROTC like?"

Another item to Spartan readers is a Ken Duncan short.

Not leaving the faculty unmentioned, the Spartan presents "Welsh Rare-bit," a sketch on Gomer Jones of the Literature and Fine Arts department.

Hospitality Is Keynote Next Week

Friendship week, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity, and Panhel, is slated to begin Monday.

All walks within 300 feet of Beaumont tower will be posted as friendship walks throughout the week. Students and faculty passing through this area will be asked to speak or nod to passers-by. Exchange dinners are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday among dormitories, fraternities, sororities and co-ops.

Fraternities and sororities will be mixed with dormitories and co-ops to permit groups to visit units they ordinarily would not.

International center will hold an open house Tuesday evening from 7 to 9. Serving as receptionists, several foreign students will be dressed in their native costumes.
