Team Upset By Bowl Talk, Munn States

By STAN BRADSHAW
AP Sports Writer

This talk about Michigan State College's football team going to the Rose bowl has worried Coach Biggie Munn.

"We hope," he told the Lansing Downtown Coaches club yesterday, "that the word 'Rose' will not be mentioned around our team."

"We've three tough games ahead," he said, "and this bowl talk is upsetting to the kids."

The three opponents, in order, are Indiana, Minnesota and Pittsburgh.

"Biggie" Munn said that the team is "upset" by the bowl talk.

He referred to reports from Western Conference Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson that Michigan State could not be considered eligible as the Big Ten's Rose bowl representative, because it does not play a conference football schedule.

Michigan State, admitted to the Big Ten last year, does not begin official football relations until 1953. It would vote, however, on the team to be selected as conference representative.

The Rose bowl talk got started after Michigan State whipped Notre Dame and it became apparent that the Spartans might finish up with the best or second best record in the circuit. Ohio State, regarded as the likely champion, is not eligible to go.

Another possibility is that State might apply for permission to participate in some other post-season classic. Because of the school's peculiar position, the Big Ten might grant such a request.

School officials have refused comment on any such possibility until the season is over.

Conditions Explained

Early Vacation Possible If Spartan Team Wins

Michigan State students may get an extra day of Thanksgiving vacation depending on the football squad's success and student reactions. The announcement came from President Hannah in explanation of remarks made at the Spartan Roundtable.

The free day conditions are:

1. MSC win two of its three remaining football games.

2. Behavior of the students remain as "grown-up" as that following the Notre Dame victory.

Hannah's Compliment

President Hannah explained the extra vacation day proposal was meant as a compliment for the "outstanding" behavior of the student body after the victory in South Bend.

"I was proud of our student behavior after Saturday's game. I am delighted to see this grown-up attitude," President Hannah declared.

Both Need Rest

He called the proposal an "opportunity" for the football team to give themselves and the student body a prolonged rest.

If the extra day proposal goes through, Thanksgiving vacation would begin at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 21 instead of Wednesday. In any event the vacation ends on Monday, Nov. 27.

Pre-Season Sale Accounts For Gopher's Sellout

Minnesota game tickets are sold out.

This was disclosed yesterday by Fred Stabley, director of the Michigan State College information services. The bulk of the Gopher game tickets were sold before the season opened, Stabley added.

Pre-season ratings have placed the Gophers well ahead of Indiana, this Saturday's opponent. It is on this basis that the Minnesota game has become a sellout, while tickets are still available for the latter game.

A crowd of between 40,000 and 45,000 is expected this Saturday.

Frosh Cast Final Ballot For Class Heads Today

By MARY HILBERT

Last-minute campaigning for frosh offices ended last night as freshmen prepare to make their final choice from candidates today.

Election polls opened at 8 this morning, and balloting will continue all day on the first floor of the Union. Polls will remain open until 6 p.m.

Wells hall women will also make their final choice for Student Council representative today. Balloting will be held in their dorm.

Same As Primary

The election will be conducted the same as the primary last week. Freshmen must have their ID cards with them to vote. Dave Miller, election committee head, said.

Candidates selected in the primary Oct. 26 have been carrying on a relatively quiet campaign all week.

"No one has been disqualified for infraction of campaigning rules," Miller said, "and activities have been carried on in an orderly fashion."

Only 491 freshmen out of a class of approximately 3,280 voted in the primary election.

Pictures of the candidates will be posted in the Union this morning.

Election committee asks that any candidate who has not turned in his picture do so early today.

Candidates Listed

Candidates running in the finals today are:

PRESIDENT
Warren "Bob" Bowne, Ionia, and Keith Slackhouse, Bourke, Ind.

VICE-PRESIDENT
Jeff Dobben, Lakewood, Ohio, and Ken Sparks, Charlotte, Ind.

SECRETARY
Sue Henderson, Jackson, and Barb Smith, Detroit.

TREASURER
Sue Collins, Ann Arbor, and John Giddings, Lansing.

Pranksters Shove Car In Red Cedar

"Pranksters' work"

An automobile was pushed into the Red Cedar Tuesday night, apparently by a group of "fun loving" Halloween pranksters.

The owner, Jack R. DeBurin, Grand Rapids sophomore, found his 34 Ford coupe submerged to the roof when he left West Shaw hall Wednesday morning.

The car had been left in the parking space facing the river. According to Shaw residents, the car had been pushed onto the sidewalk overlooking the Red Cedar by a group of eight or nine.

They then, or someone else, returned and pushed the car down the slope.

In Gear

DeBurin said, "The car didn't roll down by itself. It was in gear when I left it and it was still in gear when they fished it out this morning."

He added that the car followed a straight line into the river because the steering wheel was locked.

DeBurin is temporarily crippled with a fractured foot suffered in football practice. He said that he had bought the car as a wreck and had paid $125 into fixing it up. Police estimated the damage to the car as about $100.

Sophomore Rescues

Robert H. McClelland, Hillsdale, Ill., sophomore, voluntarily descended into the icy river Wednesday morning to fasten the tow chain to the car.

Clark R. Hull, West Shaw resident, said that he saw a group of men pushing the car onto the sidewalk about 10:30 Tuesday night. He said they left the car when he spoke to them.

Backs Statement

Robert J. Hammond, another Shaw resident, said he saw the car on the sidewalk when he left the dormitory after 11. When Hammond returned at 11, the car was already in the river. He backed DeBurin's statement.

Police mentioned that the act of pushing the car into the river was a felony punishable by a year or more in jail.

President John Hannah will leave next Thursday for Texas to speak at the inauguration of M. T. Harrington as president of Texas A and M.

Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, will give the inaugural address and President Hannah is slated to speak at the inaugural luncheon.

Hannah will return to East Lansing the same night. He is scheduled to meet President Morrill of the University of Minnesota, Friday. Morrill is coming to MSC to attend the State-Minnesota game.

Hannah and Morrill will leave for Washington, D.C., that weekend to attend the Land Grant College meeting.

One Killed, Four Shot In Gun Fight

Attack Staged At Blair House

WASHINGTON — (AP) —

An attempt by two Puerto Rican revolutionaries to assassinate President Truman failed yesterday afternoon in a room of gunfire on the very doorstep of his official home, Blair House.

One of the two men who rushed the mansion with blazing pistols was shot dead by White House guards.

The other was wounded.

So were three guards who successfully defended the president. Two of them are in "very serious" condition.

Truman was in the Blair House at the time. He was taking a nap in his underwear, preparatory to going to Arlington cemetery to help dedicate a monument to the late Sir John Dill, the British wartime Chief of Staff.

Truman Perks

The President once peered out the window to see what the shooting was all about. He was quickly waved back by frantic guards.

Thirty minutes later he attended the Arlington ceremonies as scheduled.

The dead man was identified by the Secret Service as Graciano Torrezola, shot through the head for ear to ear. He was described as a young man from 1215 Ward Drive, New York. In his pocket were two letters from Pedro Albizu Campos, leader of Puerto Rico's violently anti-United States party.

Injured Assassin

The injured man was Oscar Collazo, 37, of 173 Brook Avenue, The Bronx, New York. He was shot in the chest, and may live.

In New York, Mrs. Collazo said her husband belonged to the National party whose revolution in Puerto Rico was put down earlier this week with a loss of more than 30 lives.

She said her husband pointed pocketbook frames for a living and carried $1 a week.

"The connection between Torrezola and Collazo was not immediately made clear. But in one of the letters Campos, the revolutionary leader, told Torrezola.

If for any reason it should be necessary for you to assume the leadership of the movement in the United States, you will do so without hesitation of any kind."

And Collazo told Secret Service agents:

"We came here for the express purpose of shooting the President."

Bombus Tossed

Only a few hours before the attempted assassination, an unidentified man hurled two blazing bombs at the White House.

Student Acts Planned For Dance

By SARA MURRAY
State News Woman's Editor

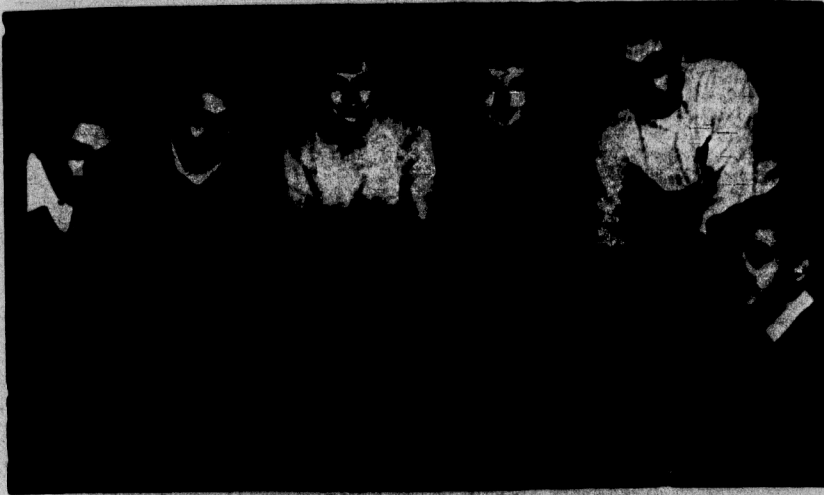

Three student acts will enliven the intermission of the IFC-Pan-Hel "Greek Serenade" tomorrow night, as the dance brings Greek Week to a close.

An all-college semi-formal affair, the "Serenade" will be held in the auditorium from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Coeds have been granted two o'clock permission for the dance.

Leading off the intermission will be Don Peck, "The Bum," who will give a juggling act. Peck is a senior from Keomore, N.Y.

The Campus Criers, a quintet which features modern five-part harmony, will follow in the intermission show.

Ray Koos, Dearborn graduate student, will wind up the acts showing the trials and tribulations of little Johnny's first piano lesson.

Frosh Ignore Ballot

For the third year in a row, the Student Council has wasted its time by holding freshman class officer elections.

In last Thursday's primary balloting, a mere 10 per cent of the class voted.

If freshmen are no more interested than that in selecting leaders, why waste the time, money and energy devoted to printing and distributing ballots, overseeing their casting, and then counting them?

A candidate for whom less than one-tenth of his classmates voted can hardly said to be a "representative" of the class of 1954.

As if the lack of interest weren't bad enough, frosh hopefuls again, as usual, reported destruction of some of their campaign posters.

It has been pretty definitely established that grounds department employees were not to blame. The missing posters were planted in legal areas along the walks between Beaumont tower and the Union and Berkey hall and the Union.

Some posters were even taken down and replaced by opposing candidates' material. Sandwich boards were cleaned off. Candidates' photographs were swiped.

The reflection of such juvenile acts is not only upon the perpetrator, but also upon Michigan State College's student body as a whole.

The apparent shiftlessness of the frosh class has extended itself even further, however. Unsuccessful candidates in many cases have failed to remove and pick up their posters, which have been spread to the four winds, deluged with water, and left lying around to rot.

That is a mark of laziness, if not poor sportsmanship on the part of the losers.

Let's grow up, Freshmen. Vote today.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Reader Claims Reader Lauds Lack Of Info Mental Series For Pep Rally

TO THE EDITOR:

In the "part I" I gave had the urge to write you regarding some of your editorials, but the urge was never quite strong enough. This time I feel you are definitely out of order.

Your editorial of Tuesday, Oct. 31, sticks. Since when do you feel that you should take it upon yourself to "show out" the entire student body and on such stupid grounds?

Our great team, and I say this seriously, was not "forgotten, slighted, or insulted." I haven't talked to anyone who knew about the plan to let students in the stadium Friday. If the word had been properly circulated, I am sure there would have been a big turnout. Just because you had the information is no reason to assume we had it.

You imply that everyone but you plays the game "Guns, Grand River, and that we're fair and athletic. I think a fair amount of student loyalty was displayed both before and after the Michigan game, although I won't be in favor of some of the activities.

And since when can't we refer to the team's accomplishments as ours? That seems to be generally acceptable.

As for Mr. Munn and the team, it is a shame it had to happen to him. Both have done an awful lot for MSC, since I came here. I would just like them to know they weren't let down, we were. It would have been a privilege to come out and watch them.

Ed. Note: See you at the rally, Friday night.

Last Call

The Cleaners

By Ron Linton

THE CURRENTLY RAGING dispute between the Inter-dorm council and the cleaning establishments in the area is really no dispute at all.

What started out as a confusing situation became very simple when all parties concerned sat down around a discussion table Tuesday and worked out a solution.

The history of the Inter-dorm cleaning case begins some time back when the college asked cleaning establishments in the area to submit bids for the contract to pick up and deliver cleaning in the dorms.

The college decided to accept the three lowest bids because it was felt that no one cleaner could handle the volume involved.

Now the Inter-dorm group was asked by these cleaners to handle the distribution and collection of clothing. The IDC agreed but said the cleaners would have to pay 22.5 per cent of the gross income for operations of the pickup stations.

THIS WAS BASED ON the National Institute of Cleaning and Drying research which states that cost of distribution and collection was 23.5 per cent of the gross income.

Then suddenly the Lansing area association of dry cleaners decided that all cleaners should be allowed to pick up and deliver on campus. The association met last week and sent a proposal to the IDC reading: "that all cleaners be permitted to enter dorms on MSC campus on the same basis that the three cleaners now enjoy."

This was agreed to by all parties concerned at the meeting Tuesday. At that meeting were six representatives of the dormitories, three representatives of the cleaners' association and three representatives of the faculty.

THE WHOLE DEAL WAS blown up around the 22.5 per cent "kick back" that supposedly the cleaners objected to.

Unfortunately any story carries a lot of ginger bread and people make statements and counterstatements that only confuses everything.

According to Inter-Dorm council president Ralph Peincke, there was no wide spread objection to the rebate for See CLEANERS, Page 6

Frustrations

Copyright, 1950, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON—The frustrations, anxieties and uncertainties that beset our people today also seem to dominate their mood in their customary role as "the electorate."

This, in turn, is translated to candidates for Congress and state and local offices, who are people, too, and likewise worried about many things as well as their own political futures. The fretfulness breaks out on the platform to make this campaign a bitter and personal one. Respected and outstanding public figures have succumbed to it in interperate diatribes which, while familiar in campaign years among many aspirants for office, are not characteristic usually of men of their caliber.

This has, indeed, been a year of hard decisions for our people, of facing up to what appears to be a long ordeal of sacrifices. Korea dramatized for all of us the grim nature of the task now confronting the free peoples of the world—of whom we have assumed the leadership—in plugging up our defenses, military and spiritual, against Soviet imperialism.

That is the overwhelming, all-encompassing issue of our time. It is natural, as we grid ourselves for this ordeal, that there should be much looking back to more normal times, and much yearning for their return. It is natural that people should be harassed at the prospect of more sacrifice, more regimentation of their lives and business, higher taxes, a continuing draft of young men from their homes. In this sort of unhappy mood there is a disposition to look for targets at which to strike.

At election always offers them. No campaign orator on the Republican side, taking Korea as a jumping off place, dramatize it as the sad need of a long series of mistakes—and there have, of course, been mistakes. They play up the fears of communism here at home that have been intensified by spy revelations and the persistent antics of Soviet Russia in the world at large. In all of this there is the usual exaggeration of political campaigns, along with doses of unpleasant truth.

The Korean victory, it would seem, would tend to minimize the value of such a campaign. But Republicans privately express the belief that the slow start there and the lack of military preparedness exhibited still make an effective issue, along with the sending of boys from American homes and the casualties. They are laying stress, too, on sleep taxes and asking what went with all the billions spent for our military establishment.

Such a campaign, appeals to the confusion and perplexities of the times and it is, too, an underlying note of isolationism.

Will the irritations capitalized here lead voters to strike out in a big way, or will they brush them aside and consider the long haul before us? Will they, on the other hand, be swayed rather by the successive measures taken by the Truman administration to meet the Soviet threat—the Marshall Plan, the Atlantic pact and its plans for a unified defense of the West, the initiation of the quick United Nations action when the Korean invasion started, which has been followed up boldly since by measures to make the U.N. a force capable of meeting future aggression?

President Truman has dramatized this positive side of the story by his trip to see General Douglas MacArthur, by his speeches in San Francisco and before the U.N. Assembly, and evidently feels that this, along with his own program of domestic reforms for which organized labor has carried the banner in this campaign, will be the deeper and more permanent issues that will move our people in the end.

Here, in the tug between frustrations and deep lying, long-term objectives, would seem to be the answer to this forthcoming critical election, though there are, naturally, side issues, local issues, quirks of personality that will, as usual, also have their influence in an off-year election. In the end, of mind and soul people do not talk much, and they have not been talking much this year while the noisy battle for votes goes on about and before them. That is what mystifies the politicians and subverts the forecasters.

It is an important decision at this critical stage of our national history.

Looking Ahead

By AP World Staff

WASHINGTON As soon as possible after the Korean war is ended, any leaders of the Korean Communist army who are caught will be tried as war criminals. Both United Nations and American teams are now hunting the criminals in Korea and gathering the evidence. State department officials think it possible that the trials will be held before the international court, since the forces which opposed the North Koreans were a United Nations army.

Spartan Round Table Provides Idea Exchange

The Round Table is a device through which students and the administration can exchange views on current problems of mutual interest. It is comprised of student leaders and non-academic college officials who meet once each term or monthly if possible, to air questions and suggestions brought up by the students.

Student representatives of the group include the presidents of the dormitory groups and certain major all-college organizations. The administration is represented by President Harnish and those officials who deal most directly with students outside the academic field.

A group of campus leaders in the spring of 1947 proposed the idea of student administration conferences, from which the Spartan Round Table developed. Since then the representatives have met, exchanged information and opinions, and come up with ideas beneficial to both the students and administration.

Intramural Teams Rely On Air Attack

West Shaw 4, West Shaw 9 Score Victories In Tuesday Night Games

By NICK VISTA

Passing provided the scoring punch for nine intramural teams in Tuesday night's fifth round encounters.

West Shaw 4 found the easy way to victory in a successful aerial attack as it walloped West Shaw 5, 20-2.

Bob Crowe was the outstanding figure in the win as he hit Tom Egnatuk twice for touchdowns and ran for the third.

A second period safety saved West Shaw 5 from a shutout.

The air game also paid off for West Shaw 9 as it romped over West Shaw 1, 21-0. Robinson flipped scoring tosses to Wesner and Dave Wasserman. Wesner also pitched to Wasserman for a TD.

Marauders Win
Marauders and Lushwell A.C. bunched all the scoring in the final six minutes of a game that saw Marauders eke out a 12-6 win.

Garvin Meadowcroft sparked the Marauder attack with a touchdown sprint and a scoring pass to Troeger. Player-coach Al Selby chucked to Bill McGraw for the Lushwell tally.

Abbot 11 dropped Abbot 16, 13-0 on the strength of Jim Overly's payoff pitch to Dave Gunter. Overly also intercepted an Abbot 16 pass and ran to a TD.

Potent Duo
Tom Walsh and Jerry Rescorla teamed up to give West Shaw 6 a triumph over West Shaw 3 by a 14-6 count. Walsh circled the end to hit paydirt and then provided the clincher on a pass to Rescorla.

Donn Moomaw Sparks UCLA As Linebacker

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Blond Donn Moomaw, belting linebacker on the University of California at Los Angeles football team, is the type of player a coach dreams about.

He loves the going when the going is tough, and he is the unhappiest guy on the bench when he's on the bench. He just likes to play football.

The big, six-foot-four, 220-pound sophomore was genuinely elated yesterday when told he had been selected as "the Associated Press" lineman of the week.

So was his head coach, Henry R. (Red) Sanders, and line coach Jim Myers, a young ex-Tennessee star who has learned and taught well the Sanders' theory of good old rock-sock football.

"Master," said Donn, "this is the greatest honor of my life, but I want to give credit to the other defensive players on the UCLA football team."

Sanders said the big fellow has "deserved and justified the nice things said about him," and Myers added, "Donn has done an outstanding job, not only in the Purdue game last Saturday, but in every other game this year. He's worthy of the lineman of the week honor."

Frosh Basketball Squad To Start Regular Drills

By STAN STEINBORN

Freshman basketball tryouts will terminate at the end of this week, Coach John Benington announced yesterday. At that time he expects to cut the squad down to 20 to 25 boys.

Starting next week serious practice will get underway for the men who are expected to make up the nucleus of the freshman basketball team.

Top Candidates
Among the freshman candidates who are expected to be pressing the varsity for positions next season are Hugh MacMasters, Keith Stackhouse, Rickey Ayala and Paul Hinkin.

Mac Masters, who is from Hazel Park, stands six foot six and is considered an outstanding center prospect.

Stackhouse is from Plymouth, Indiana and is considered one of the outstanding high school players to come out of that great basketball state last year. He is six foot one.

Mighty Mite
Ayala, who stands only five foot eight, was rated one of the top "little men" in the New York City area last season.

Hinkin is from Saginaw Arthur Hill high school where he was named on the All State basketball last two years.

It is being planned that the freshman team will get a chance to play intersquad games as preliminaries to the varsity's home games.

Sandy Scores Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Featherweight boxing champion Sandy Saddler took a decision over Charley Riley last night in a vicious 10-round non-title bout that saw both fighters bloodied by the torrent of blows.

St. Louis' Riley had Saddler in trouble twice—in the second and sixth rounds. There were no knockdowns.

In the scoring Saddler had 159 points to 141 for Riley. Referee Harry Kessler scored it a 50-50 draw.

Get Set For Hoosiers

Spartans Concentrate On Pass Defense

By GEORGE TRUMBULL

The Spartan gridiron accent was placed on defense yesterday afternoon as Saturday's invasion of the Hoosiers from Indiana University drew closer.

At the start of the Indiana-Summer afternoon practice session, an offensive backfield ran through possible Indiana plays with the concentration placed heavily on a passing attack.

Opponent's Plays

Later during the drills a life-size picture of Saturday's tilt with the Hoosiers was drawn when a Spartan offensive eleven attired in red jerseys used probable Indiana plays against the regular Michigan State defensive combination.

Under the direction of Lowell "Red" Dawson and Earle Edwards, the defensive Munn men got a good taste of what they might expect come Saturday.

First String Backs

Earlier in the afternoon Head Coach Clarence "Biggie" Munn sent the hard-driving backfield foursome of Dorow, Carl Crone, Pisano and Grandelius through a brief review of signal drills.

A slight change was noticed in the passing department as wing-footed right half Vince Pisano took a fling at passing the aerials from the right and left half slots.

In preparation for a pass-powered Indian eleven, Munn and his aides added regular right half Bob Ciolek to the defensive squad for the afternoon session.

Air-Minded Squad

With a strong belief that Indiana's attack will be centered around passing, Coach Munn as usual settled the most immediate problem and prepped the gridiron against possible Indiana aerial attacks.

At a recent luncheon held in Lansing, End Coach Earle Edwards who coached the Hoosiers against Illinois last Saturday reported the Indian eleven is a fine team.

The Michigan State end coach pointed out that Bobby Robertson, hard-driving Indian back, was second in the Big Ten last year in rushing and is "just as fine this year."

Pesky Passer

Beside the stellar performing Robertson, Michigan State will have to find a solution in how to stop Indiana's biggest asset to the winning column, Lou D'Achille.

This stocky 5'8" sophomore quarterback has been the big reason for the fine showing of the Hoosiers this fall after the Indiana team had spent two disastrous seasons on the gridirons in 1948 and 1949.

In the passing department, the ace sophomore back has registered a record of 55 completions in 108 attempts in the Hoosiers' first five contests.

Labeled as the "left-handed Lujack" in his hometown of Beaver Falls, Pa., D'Achille is close on the heels of his teammate Robertson in the total-point column with 47 to Robertson's 39.

The Indiana quarterback first wrote his name in the Big Ten conference record books against Iowa when one of his passes connected for 91 yards and a touchdown.

In the Hoosier-Ohio State encounter, D'Achille established his second mark by completing 20 out of 38 pitches tying a record held by Otto Graham of Northwestern in 1942.

Spartans Winless

To balance out the Indiana running and passing attack, Hoosier mentor Clyde Smith has another steed in right half Pat Gernian.

When the Hoosiers take the field Saturday they will be striving to protect a near-perfect record of three victories and a tie against Michigan State in the four previous meetings between the two schools.

In the first game between Indiana and Michigan State in 1922, the Hoosiers registered a 14-6 triumph and the following tilt in 1929 produced a 27-7 win for the Indiana eleven.

The 1939 game ended in a 7-7 tie and the following year the Hoosiers shutout the Green and White 20-0.

Fresh Grow Bigger

The 1950 University of Arizona freshman football team boasts a line averaging 10 pounds more per man than the Wildest varsity.

Holmes To Deliver Parisian Lecture Saturday At 8 P.M.

Burton Holmes, dean of all world travelers and lecturers, will present "Paris—City of Lights" Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Michigan State College auditorium.

"To travel is to possess the world," says Holmes, who this year is presenting his 37th annual series of travelogues. In explanation he says, "Far beyond the limits of my best describing, I have indeed possessed the world through travel."

Saturday evening he will take his audience to postwar Paris, which was left unscathed by World War II and now stands as before with all evidences of Nazi occupation cleared away.

Holmes has known Paris since the early '80s. He is the ideal guide for those who would know the capital city of France, past and present.

Fire Chief Blames Three Leaf Fires On Halloweeners

Halloweeners were blamed by Muriel Croy, East Lansing fire chief, for three leaf fires on MSC property Tuesday night. Two of the fires were by women's dormitories. All were answered by the East Lansing fire department.

At 9:30 p.m., the department received a call on a fire near the Home Economics building. Then, at 12:20 a.m., another leaf fire was reported under a window at Campbell dormitory. Only a few minutes later, fire trucks again entered the campus to answer a call a few yards from South Williams dorm at 12:34 a.m.

Chief Croy said they were probably started by "someone out having some fun."

Detective Thriller Next Foreign Film

A detective who discovers a slain gangster is his exact double steps into the dead man's shoes to find his murderer.

That is the plot of the French mystery thriller, "Between Eleven and Midnight," to be shown on the screen of Fairchild theater Monday at 7 and 9 p.m.

Louis Jouvet and Madeline Robinson star in the movie which has as its setting the Paris underworld.

Observers predict the current Democratic bid will fail.

No prize is more attractive to Democrats, with the possible exception of the governor's chair itself. Even the governorship loses luster when a Legislature is in "enemy" hands.

Republican Advantage
Republicans in the 65th Legislature, which is expected to adjourn shortly after the coming elections are over, have enjoyed an advantage of 23 members to nine.

The GOP margin in the House of Representatives has been nearly as heavy—61 to 39.

Democrats Heartened

While the Senate is held to be the harder nut to crack, Democrats have been heartened by the fact that of the 23 incumbent Republicans only 14 have filed, or been able to file, for re-election. Meanwhile only two of the nine incumbent Democrats have declined to run.

Proceeding on the premise that incumbencies pose a greater threat to a party seeking to overcome a disadvantage, Democrats are hoping that they will be able to cross up the prophets by capturing the open posts.

14th's Candidates

Competing for the 14th Senatorial district which includes Ingham and Livingston Counties are incumbent Harry Hittle, East Lansing Republican, and Mrs. Elizabeth L. Belen, Lansing Democrat.

Senator Hittle has occupied his post since 1935 and serves as chairman of the Senate judiciary committee. He holds memberships in the Interstate cooperation and Liquor Control committees.

Mrs. Belen served a term in the House of Representatives in 1937-38.

Not Filled
State Republicans who have not filed are: Harold D. Tripp, 8th district; Bruce Clothier, 11th; Dr. Bion L. Bates, 15th; John Martin, 17th; Edwin W. Klump, 20th; John Shook, 22nd; William Vandenberg, 23rd; Colin L. Smith, Kozak, 3rd district and James T. 25th and James T. Milliken, 27th.

Retiring Democrats are Henry Hannan, 18th.

the dorm council. And there shouldn't be. After all it would cost the cleaning establishments 23.5 per cent if they handled the collection and distribution themselves according to their own trade manual.

Peinecke says that the dorm council is losing money right now. The dormitory provides three rooms as pickup and delivery stations and has three employees handling the work. In addition the council bought necessary equipment to handle the clothes.

Boiling it all down the affair looks like a big mush about nothing.
