Spartanettes Open Season Saturday
Michigan State's Spartanettes will open their intercollegiate swimming season Saturday night against the University of Western Ontario. The meet will be held at the Women's gym pool.

The Spartanettes have won their four previous meets with Ontario. However, Kay Niles, outstanding Ontario swimmer, will present some stiff competition for the MSC team.

Titleholder Competes
Miss Niles represented Ontario last summer in a meet held in connection with the British Empire Games in Australia. She holds the Ontario 100 and 50 yard titles.

Included in those swimming to the meet is Joan Embrey, who holds the Michigan AAU women's long distance title and placed third in a race across the straits of Mackinac.

In synchronized swimming, Lynn Laue and Carol Needler will participate in a synchronized duet. Pat Fearnside will also swim in a duet with Barbara Busch. Betty MacDougall and Jan Emrey will swim in synchronized solos.

Team Chicken, Celery
If you have a little leftover chicken team it with celery, almonds and mayonnaise and use for a delicious luncheon sandwich. Serve the sandwiches with a hot vegetable soup such as asparagus or tomato.

Culinary Tip
In preparing corned beef and cabbage, add the cabbage to the beef just about ten minutes before serving. This way the cabbage retains its fine flavor and color as well as a maximum amount of Vitamin C.

Faculty help in leading discussions on government held in the women's living units has been asked by AWS.

As student talks on democracy continue, more living groups will be participating. Sue Merriman, discussion committee chairman, reported yesterday.

Faculty members who want to take part in the parleys should contact AWS through the office of the counselor for women, Miss Merriman.

Russell was personified at the first of the parleys in Gilchrist hall last week by Dr. Edward B. Blackburn of the effective living department. Doctor Blackburn led an argument on the pro and con of communism. Miss Merriman reported.

'Imaginary Invalid' Set On Arena Stage

By KATHY GREGORY

The Little Theater of the Home Economics building has been transformed into a 17th century French Parlor for the Arena Theater production of Moliere's "Imaginary Invalid," running from Nov. 1 through Nov. 4. The transformation was made possible not through elaborate scenery, but through the actors themselves.

Seven men and five women have combined their efforts with that of Stuart Chenoweth, director, to make the French play-write's comedy a success. With the audience seated on all four sides of the stage, the actors and actresses have for two nights turned out realistic performances as characters of the 17th century.

Thomas Pointkowski in the lead of Argan, the invalid, is outstanding with his shaking, stooped posture and arrogant old-age manner. Gloria Glucki gives a very convincing performance, effectively on the Billie Burkish side, as Belina, Argan's unfaithful wife.

The part of Mr. Bonnefoy, the wicked notary who is trying for Argan's money and wife, is well played by Henry Marksbury.

The noisy, impudent maid, Tonette, is a comedy part played by Lesley Yeager who leaps and bounds through her playful antics like a professional. Helen Earl's clear voice adds much to her performance as Angelica, Argan's lovely young daughter.

A high point in the play is a love song sung by Miss Earl and Ed Duncan. This duet was beautifully arranged and delivered by the two sweethearts. Ed Duncan's easy stage manner and pleasing baritone voice makes Cleante very much alive in the eyes of the audience. The two doctors in the play, William Weidman as Dr. Diafoirus and Thomas Van Laan as Dr. Purgon, were excellent in conveying the idea of satire against 17th century doctors.

Argan's ridiculous apothecary was accurately played by Robert McClenahan. W. Harry Drummond added high humor to the second act when he appeared as a suitor for Angelica's hand. His adoring facial expressions and blustering manner of speech kept the small audience laughing.

Anne Costello plays the difficult role of Louisa very convincingly. She portrays Argan's little daughter. Featured in the third act was Margaret Mowrer as Argan's sister, Betalida. Miss Mowrer stole the scene with her subtle wit and galaxy of facial expressions.

Exquisite period furniture constructed for the play is under the direction of Harold Niven. It consists of a desk, chaise longue, couches and chairs in the old French style, embellished with gold.

An unusual twist to the scenery is that the audience enters the theater through arches representing the outside of the house. These flats greatly aid in creating the illusion of entering the privacy of Argan's home. The idea was conceived by Joan Hackett, graduate assistant from Windsor, Ontario, who designed the scenery and is in charge of lighting.

Two more performances remain tonight and Saturday night at 8 p.m. Tickets are purchased at the door of the Little Theater for 50 cents.

THE STATE NEWS FOOTBALL PREDICTIONS

By DEAN WAKEFIELD
State News Sports Editor

LAST WEEK OUR AVERAGE FELL to its lowest spot since we started this column some six weeks ago. Only five wins and a tie were registered.

Maryland elbowed Duke, Wisconsin dumped Northwestern from the ranks of the undefeated, UCLA stopped Purdue, Washington shattered Stanford's Rose Bowl hopes, and Minnesota up and tied Michigan.

All of which leaves us with a .700 average. This week we are engaged in a comeback attempt, so here goes.

Leading off in the east, it's... Army at Penn. Penn is the only dangerous opponent left in Army's attempt to complete another undefeated season. The men from the banks of the Hudson are clearly the class of the East this year and from here it looks as if Penn will become another in a string of victims. Army 27, Penn 7.

In the South, there are two top games in... Florida at Kentucky. Bear Bryant's Kentucky Wildcats, number five team in the nation, goes into the Florida game with seven wins in seven starts this season. Florida is expected to put up some competition before becoming victim No. 8. Kentucky 28, Florida 13.

North Carolina at Tennessee. Tennessee, unbeaten since their season's opener with Mississippi State, meets a better-than-average North Carolina team, which has looked consistently improved since their opening loss to Notre Dame. A hunch on this one, North Carolina 14, Tennessee 7.

Games of the day in the Midwest are... Illinois at Michigan. The Illini, who have not backed too impressive in any of their starts this season, hit their high point of the year last Saturday with a 20-0 win over Indiana. Michigan, faced with the prospect of one of their worst seasons in quite a number of years, has been calling this one their do-or-die game. We like the Wolverines in this one. Michigan 26, Illinois 14.

Navy at Notre Dame. Down-trodden Notre Dame, with two straight defeats charged against them for the first time since 1941, is jumping for the Middles. The Middles, whose last victory over the Fighting Irish was that same year, won't be quite able to do it this year. Notre Dame 20, Navy 6.

Ohio State at Northwestern. Ohio State's Buckeyes, who fell just two points short of tying an all-time Big Ten one game scoring record last week in their 83-21 rout of Iowa, meet a Northwestern squad not given much of a chance to halt the rampage. Columbus juggernaut. Ohio State is our choice. Ohio State 35, Northwestern 7.

Purdue at Wisconsin. Stu Holcomb's Purdue squad, after pulling the upset of the ages by topping Notre Dame four weeks ago, has gone to not, Wisconsin's better-balanced Badgers are the favorites in our book. Wisconsin 26, Purdue 7.

Down Southwest way, top game tomorrow seems to be... Southern Methodist at Texas. The Texas Longhorns are in for it tomorrow. For they are due to meet SMU's galloping Mustangs, top team in the nation, in a game sure to decide the title holder in the Southwestern conference. We will stick with the favorites, Southern Methodist 28, Texas 20.

In the Far West, two games are of top merit... California at Washington. Here is another game likely to tell the tale in a titanic race, that of the Pacific Coast loop. Washington, in an unusual spot for one of this league's "have-nots," faces a California team which has not been beaten in league competition since 1947. Washington is our sentimental choice. Washington 20, California 14.

Oklahoma at Colorado. Oklahoma has a chance to set a modern record of undefeated, untied games tomorrow when they shoot for their 27th consecutive triumph. Colorado, on the other hand, will have the psychological advantage. Discounting that, we'll ride with the Sooners. Oklahoma 28, Colorado 0.

Mat Squad Adds Two Opponents To Schedule

By BOB ZOLCER

The 1951 Spartan wrestling team has added the Badgers of Wisconsin and the Northwestern Wildcats to their schedule to bring up their list of Big Ten opponents to seven as they start their first season of Big Ten competition.

Other Western Conference rivals are Michigan, Indiana, Purdue, Ohio State and the Fighting Illini.

Coch Fendley Collins expects this to be his roughest year as the Spartans make their debut in the Big Ten.

Although the new schedule has not been released yet it will be one of the toughest tests ever given to a State mat squad.

Stiff Drills. Coach Collins, with the assistance of Gale "Red" Mikes, a former Green and White mat star, has been putting the wrestling team through stiff daily practices.

Roadwork, calisthenics, fundamentals and exhausting body contact practices have been on the menu for the squad and will occupy most of their time for the next six or eight weeks.

It's all hot, tiring work but Coach Collins knows how to whip a squad into shape, as can be shown by his record of developing eleven national champions, all since 1936.

Squad Cut. A beginning squad has diminished to 35 men from a beginning of 65.

Having Red Mikes, captain of the '48 Spartan squad, twice national wrestling champ in the 155 pound slot and a runnerup for the Olympic post in his weight class, as his assistant has taken quite a load off Collins' shoulders.

In Mikes, Collins has a top flight assistant, well-schooled in tricks of the game who can spot a weakness and show the fellow how to combat it as his opponent won't get him off his guard.

A leg artist in his own right, Red used to have fun toying with his opponent and then when he was ready he would flip the unsuspecting rival, when he recovered he would be pinned.

In his last year at State, Mikes amassed 32 points in eight matches to lead the squad both in scoring and as captain.

An inter-squad match has been planned for the early part of December when State fans will have a sneak preview of the new, 1951 edition of Collins' mat squad.

Lions In Spoiler Role Sunday Against Bears

The Detroit Lions, reduced to a spoiler role after their disastrous west coast trip which saw them lose to San Francisco and Los Angeles, take on the still in the running Chicago Bears, who could use a win very badly at this stage of the race.

What started out to be one of the Lions' most successful seasons is fast turning into a nightmare. The Lions have now lost three games in a row, all to the west coast members of the league.

They have been bogged down with frequent injuries, once having their two fullbacks out of action at the same time. Wally Triplett, who finally came into his own as a runner last Sunday against the Rams, will be inducted into the service Wednesday, further depleting their backfield.

In addition to the loss of Triplett, neither half backs John Janelle or Bob Hoernschmeyer will be able to play in Sunday's game because of injuries.

The Bears will be led by former Notre Dame All-American quarterback Johnny Lujack. He will be backed by the "old pro" Sid Luckman. The rest of the Chicago backfield will be filled by such stalwarts as George McAfee and newcomers such as Fred Morrison and Charles Hunsinger.

In the line will be such greats as center Clyde "Bulldog" Turner and George Connor.

Sunday's game will replace the annual Thanksgiving Day battle with the Bears which had to be dropped because of scheduling difficulties.

Fall Tennis Practice Ends With Tourney

The MSC tennis team wound up its fall practice session with an extensive tournament which was held to determine who will make the southern trip next spring.

Eight candidates for next season's varsity squad have earned the right to make the trip. Two separate tourneys were held. One pitted last year's varsity letter winners and the three top frosh against each other and the second was open to all of last season's freshman and reserves.

Wally Kau, Len Brose, Ken Kimble, John Sahration, Keith Kimble and Dave Mills earned berths on the squad by finishing high in the varsity tournament.

Dick Rieger and Tom Belton will round out the roster. They beat out Doug Curley, Don Awa, DeWitt Parsons and Dick Roberts for the final two positions.

An interesting sidelight on the tournament is that 22 dozen balls were used in the 73 matches played. Twenty-three of the matches went the full three sets, showing the closeness of the play-offs.

Positions among the top eight will be determined by subsequent varsity play.

Big Splash

1950 Porpoise Show Open

"Aqua-Maniacs on De Tour." Porpoise Fraternity's 1950 edition of their annual water show, hit Jensen Fieldhouse with a splash last night.

A liberal sprinkling of comedy, tossed together with some fine exhibitions of swimming, was served a capacity crowd.

Master of ceremonies Danny Simpson stole the show with his Burl Ives-type singing, complete with his own guitar accompaniment.

Preliminary Highlight Preliminary highlight was the crowning of Laura Stacer as Porpoise queen. Included in the queen's court were Janet Jerome, Marlene Thomas, Mary Lou Kennedy, and Peggy Leach.

The human submarine, Don Reynolds, gave the spectators a glimpse of his championship style by stroking four lengths of the pool underwater.

Trick Of Evening Red Quigley pulled the trick of the evening as he somehow wormed his way from a sand-bagged, lead-weighted sack.

Quigley had been tossed to the bottom of the pool, seemingly securely tied in the sack, but in less than thirty seconds, he was a free man.

The two comedy teams of Dick Goodrow-Al McCormick and Ray Williams-Johnny DeMond kept the crowd in stitches when they weren't gasping at the feats of the swimmers.

A 150-yard medley relay team of back-stroker Hal Shoup, breast-stroker Al Omans, and free-styler Clark Scholes won the varsity-freshman contest in that event with the excellent time of one minute, 19 seconds.

Medley Relay Event Porpoise sponsor Charles McCaffrey introduced the prospective 1950 edition of the Spartan swimming crew as each swam 50 yards of the pool.

The symphonic diving featured an exhibition synchronized diving by Porpoise and the MSC team. Divers were Ray Wood, Ken Coyne, Jack Hoffmann, Jack Landman, and Doug M.

Passing Attack To Vie With State Ground Game

'S' Squad To Show Hoosiers Running Combination Of Grandelius And Pisano

By BOB STUART

When the crimson-jerseyed Hoosiers tangle with the Green and White of MSC tomorrow afternoon in Macklin stadium some 45,000 fans are likely to witness a double contrast of color.

In addition to the sharp blending of school colors, the football fans will see the aerial circus from Indiana battle the ground juggernaut of Michigan State.

Head Coach Biggie Munn's high riding Spartans will again be faced with a powerful passing attack as they were last week against Notre Dame's Bob Williams and John Mazur.

This week it will be the passing arm of Indiana's sophomore quarterback, Lou D'Achille, that will try the MSC defense in an attempt to prove the superiority of air power over ground strength.

D'Achille leads attack. D'Achille, a 5' 8" griddier, has led the Indiana attack most of this season and has accounted for 770 yards gained on offense in 157 plays. He has also set two new Big Ten records and tied another.

Against Iowa he connected on one pass for 91 yards and a touchdown. Against Ohio State, the little southpaw threw 38 passes, completing 20 to tie a conference record set by Otto Graham of Northwestern in 1942.

Balancing the Hoosier attack will be the agile-running combination of Bob Robertson at left half and Gene Gedman at right half. Robertson is the leading ground gainer for the Indiana squad with 363 yards in 64 tries for a 5.7 average per try.

Robertson Versatile. Robertson also leads on scoring with five touchdowns in five games and is rated a very competent passer in addition to his running ability.

In five games this season the Hoosiers have won two lost two and tied one. The losses were to Ohio State and Illinois, both strong contenders for the 1950 Big Ten crown.

The winning side of the ledger shows victories over Iowa and Notre Dame with a 20-0 tie against Nebraska. In the season opener, Indiana's impressive win over the Irish two weeks ago by a score of 20-7, lends another interesting aspect to Saturday's contest.

It will be a tussle between two

Harriers Prepare For Tournaments

By ALEX LAGGIN

With the Spartan dual meet season over, Coach Karl Schladehman is preparing his harrier squad for the coming heavy tournament season.

First on the list for Michigan State is the Junior AAU clash, Schladehman will enter an eight man squad for team honors.

The outstanding freshman corps will also get a chance to show their stuff for the first time this year in meeting competition, by running unattached for individual Junior AAU honors.

The Spartans will be running without their one-two punch, Warren Druetler and Don Makielki, who are classified as Senior AAU members and ineligible to compete in the Junior AAU.

The MSC entry will list Dick Roberts, Jim Kepford, Micky

Scutt from the regular varsity traveling squad and Allan Mack, Walt Schoenegg, and Herb Cook from the rest of the varsity squad.

This will be the Spartans' first appearance in tournament competition in a warm-up for their bid for national recognition in the Big Ten, NCAA and NC4A and then possibly the Senior AAU meets.

Senate Sponsored Red Control Bill Draws Opposition

Editor's Note: This article concerns the third of four proposals to be presented to Michigan voters Nov. 7. Proposal number two on the $25,000,000 mental hospital bond issue was explained last week.

By ARNOLD SPELUM
State News Capital Reporter

When war broke out in Korea there arose a sudden awareness of the nature of communism. It became the general public feeling that no person could lend his allegiance to the world communist movement and still adhere to the principles of democratic constitutional government.

This spirit manifested itself in a rash of legislation designed to restrict and control the American Communist party and its front organizations.

Michigan Also Active

On the national level it took form in the sweeping McCarran-Mundt-Nixon-Ferguson law; a polygraph collection of most of the proposed anti-communist legislation of the last few years.

Michigan was also active in this field. Governor G. Mennen Williams appointed a nine-man "Blue-Ribbon" panel to study the problem. It was composed of some of the best legal minds in the state.

At the same time a special Loyalty committee of the State Senate was working independently of the Governor's group.

"Blue Ribbon" Report

The Loyalty committee did not wait to receive the "Blue Ribbon" panel's report but proposed its own legislation, including an amendment to the state constitution which would define a new crime not now present in the federal or state legal framework—the crime of subversion.

The sponsors were faced with a crime which they considered peace-time treason but which they could not deal with as such. Constitutional limitations provide that treason "shall consist only in levying war against it or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort." Conviction requires "the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act."

Bill of Rights

They therefore defined the crime of subversion and proposed it be added to the Bill of Rights of the state constitution.

Aware that the constitutional guarantees of free speech might be cited by the accused as defense in any subversive prosecution, the committee took steps to avoid this.

Here is the proposed Section 22 to Article II of the Michigan Constitution. It was sponsored by Senators Colin L. Smith (R-Big Rapids), Leo H. Roy (R-Hamrick), Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), and Garland B. Lane (D-Flint) and secured the unanimous approval of both houses of the legislature on August 17.

Section Quoted

"Subversion shall consist of any act, or advocacy of any act, intended to overthrow the form of government of the United States or the form of government of this state, as established by this Constitution and as guaranteed by Section 4 of the Constitution of the United States of America, by force or violence or by other unlawful means.

"Subversion is declared to be a crime against the state punishable by any penalty provided by law.

"Subversion shall constitute an abuse of the rights secured by Section 4 of this article, and the rights secured thereby shall not be valid as a defense in any trial for subversion."

Opposition Developed

Heavy opposition to the projected amendment has developed. State Attorney General Stephen J. Roth and E. Blythe Stason, Dean of the University of Michigan Law School, both members of the "Blue Ribbon" panel have publicly announced themselves fearful of its possible ramifications.

The ultra-conservative Detroit Citizens League has called it "unnecessary" and says it is "treading on dangerous ground."

To Prevent Proposal

Legal action to prevent the proposal from appearing on the ballot was instituted by Rev. Henry Hitt Crane, minister of the Central Methodist Church of Detroit. Acting as chairman of the Michigan branch of the American Civil Liberties Union he petitioned the State Supreme Court on October 24, declaring the amendment

Getting Cyped On Income Taxes? Solution Given

It could be that the government will be spending your coke money if you don't "wise up."

If you are earning more than $26.00 a week there are deductions being made for income tax. However, if you don't total $600 this year you can get that money back.

The way to get the money back, according to Prof. A. T. Cordray, is to file an income tax return before March 15.

There are a number of students on this campus who don't earn $600 a year but who have money deducted.

WSSF Plans Newsletter

The World Student Service fund plans to distribute a newsletter early in December listing the services it offers all campus residential units.

The newsletter will acquaint students with the aim of WSSF, said William Corbushley, president.

Last year WSSF received $1,800 from the Campus Chest. It was distributed to universities in Europe, Asia, and the near East.

Corbushley said plans were being made for a meeting of students and faculty who traveled in Europe during the past year. Purpose of the meeting is to get first hand views on student life and educational facilities in Europe.

MSC Profs Slated To Attend Meet

Five MSC professors will present research papers at the American Public Health association national conference this week at St. Louis, Mo.

They are F. W. Fabian, W. L. Mallman, I. F. Huddleston, A. H. Jones, and Dr. H. J. Stetsh, all members of the department of bacteriology and public health.

Dr. Stetsh, director of the division of bacteriological science, will preside with Dr. Claude S. Bryan, dean of the School of Veterinary Medicine, at an all-day symposium Wednesday in which sanitary inspection of poultry products used for human food will be discussed.

The herbarium at Kew Gardens, near London, contains 45,000 living plant specimens.

House Edge Sought By State Democrats

By JACK HENDERICKSON

Attention, as in every election, is focused in the state on the gubernatorial race, but for leaders of Michigan's two major political parties the contest for the legislature looms as large.

Particularly concerned is the Democratic party, for, as the sports writers like to say their work is cut out for them as far as the state House of Representatives is concerned.

Ever the minority in recent Michigan history, the Democratic high command faces the task of overcoming the crushing edge the Republican party has held for two years.

Elected to office in 1948 were 61 GOP representatives as against 39 Democrats. In the Senate the Republican majority was even more overpowering—23 as against nine Democrats.

Meanwhile the Democratic party saw its candidate for governor, G. Mennen Williams, take the state by a 164,000 vote plurality.

As invariably is the case, the split in control of executive and legislative branches of government between parties produced a situation that both parties often regarded intolerable.

As the Nov. 7 deadline approaches Democrats daily increase the tempo of their campaigning and a wary eye is cast on Wayne county which contributes 27 legislative representatives.

Democrats have good reason to feel concern about the county, for it is from that source that in 1948 it drew a large share of the strength it now is able to muster. Furthermore the county has shown itself to be unpredictable.

In the '48 elections the Democrats elected 21 representatives in Detroit alone. Wayne county's total tally showed 26 Democrats and one lone Republican.

Political observers credit the fact that candidates are elected "at large" as the cause of the heavy majority. Because Detroit elects on an "at large" basis the ballots contain too many names for voters to be selective and therefore vote straight tickets.

For Republicans the contest is merely a matter of preserving the status quo on the Legislative

IFC Governs Greek Organizations Here

Athletic And Social Awards
Granted To Fraternities

By DICK SZEPSKI

MSC's Interfraternity council is the coordinated governing body for the 23 social fraternities on campus.

Terse parliamentary phraseology in the constitution accounts for the IFC as a fraternal advisory board that handles all problems peculiar to the social Greek letter societies.

In addition to that the council as a whole acts as a public relations unit that creates interest in and promotes the philosophy of fraternities.

Two Representatives

The council's organizational set-up allows each chapter to appoint two representatives to the council.

A president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and executive board are chosen annually.

Athletic, social and awards units are represented in the standing committees. Other units include scholarship, leadership and the National Interfraternity committees.

Decides Rules

The council decides on rules and procedure for all of the above activities. Added to this list is the strict rushing program.

The IFC holds an annual smoker, handles much of the accompanying paper work and works in co-operation with the counselor for men's office on all pledging activities.

In case of violations or discrepancies the case is reviewed and appropriate remedies are suggested. They may range from a fine to strict disciplinary probation for the fraternity.

Activities Include

This week's Greek activities are a result of the council's initiative, aimed at co-ordinating chapters on campus and bettering relations with the independent students.

A presidents' and representatives' dinner was held last night in the Union. During the week fraternity exchange dinners will be sponsored.

The annual IFC-Pan Hel dance to be held this Friday will climax the week. Eddy Howard and his band will be featured in the auditorium.

Future plans include the Big Ten, IFC and Pan-Hel officers' conventions and a Greek feast. Both are slated to be held on campus during the spring term. The feast will be an all Greek banquet held at one of the larger houses.

This year's IFC officers are: Bob Jensen, Grayling senior, president; Jim Gork, Grand Rapids senior, vice-president; Charles Calvert, Saginaw senior, secretary; Stuart Schultz, Minneapolis, Minn. junior, treasurer. Meetings are held on alternate Tuesdays in the Union.

Broadly speaking the IFC is to the affiliated students what the Student Council is to the general student body. The IFC does not have any jurisdiction over the honorary, professional or service fraternities.

Grad Council Seeks To Air Requirements

Wants Language Issue Clarified

A proposal aimed at clarifying foreign language requirements for graduate students was passed at a meeting of the Graduate Student Council Wednesday night.

The proposal provides that an administration statement concerning foreign language requirements for graduate students be distributed to all college departments with graduate students and to all candidates for a Ph.D. degree.

Bob Cornwall, council president, said that a second proposal passed recommended that the council invite representatives from the Faculty Graduate Council and from the foreign language department to a meeting to discuss present conflicts in the foreign language requirements.

"The council hopes to obtain a clearer definition of the proficiency in foreign languages now required of graduate students," Cornwall said.

The proposed meeting will also study systems of training and examination in an effort to obtain the best possible system for MSC, he added.

Alums Picked For MSC Fund Trustee Board

A seven-member board of trustees has been appointed for the Michigan State College Fund, it was announced Wednesday by William L. Davidson, program director.

The MSC Fund was established a year ago for the purpose of raising money to support college activities, particularly research and scholarships, not adequately financed in the college budget.

Contributions to the project come from alumni, friends of the college, corporations, and wills and bequests, Davidson said.

The board of trustees is composed of MSC alumni. They are: Lewis A. Smith, Grosse Pointe; Harold H. Gasser, Birmingham; Claude Erickson, Lansing; John J. Korney, Detroit; Morton W. Morge, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Regina G. Frisbie, Battle Creek; and Karl H. McDonel, East Lansing.

First meeting for the governing body will be held Saturday morning at MSC.

College Theater Group Wins Juvenile Approval

College students who present Children's Theater get satisfaction-plus from playing before grade school audiences.

"Any actor likes response," says Miss Eleanor Chase, faculty director of the theater group, "and children give 100 per cent more of it than adults."

She explains that they let themselves go, squealing excitedly at the action in the play, and almost mobbing the actors backstage after the show is over.

Children's Theater was formed here four years ago with the purpose of giving children a chance to see live theater produced especially for them.

Adaptations of well known stories like "Cinderella" and "Tom Sawyer" are the most popular plays in the juvenile circuit Miss Chase says.

The group gives two plays yearly, in the fall and spring. Going on tour, it gives two performances at each of six schools: Marshall, Hillsdale, and Lansing schools are among those regularly booked. Children's Theater sends out announcements of new plays. The local PTA often sponsors a performance.

Dorothy Harrison, Detroit graduate student, assists Miss Chase. Stage crews and managers work with the group as a lab assignment in dramatics.

City Begins Work On New Parking Space

A $70,000 off-the-street parking lot, which will hold 65 cars, facing on Albert street, is nearing completion, East Lansing city manager John Patriarche announced today.

The lot, west of MAC avenue, was occupied by three houses. Two of them belonging to the Elsworth co-op were moved and the third was torn down.

The lot is now being cleared and leveled before gravel is spread over the surface. After graveling, it will be covered with blacktop. Parking meters will be installed.

Authorized by the city council, the lot is to relieve congested parking on Grand River avenue and nearby streets. The council's long-range plan is to convert the entire block facing on Albert between MAC and Abbott road into a metered parking lot. Estimated cost of this plan is about $200,000.

International Club Slates History Film

A movie showing the history of land-grant colleges, "Invitation to Learning," will be shown tonight in room 31 of the Union. The movie is sponsored by International club, according to Frank Saracakis, program chairman.

Copper deposits at the Kipushi mine in the Belgian Congo are so rich that the ore was at first scooped off the surface.

not capable of handling the huge trucks which travel on highway 16.

Therefore the students of Michigan State while being roused and urged on to greater school spirit must contain themselves in an orderly and respectable fashion because of the circumstances which surround us.

The Student Council wants and has done all it can, to build up good school spirit. We also want spirit of which we can be proud. Spirit which detains emergency vehicles is not typical MSC spirit.

We know we can count on you for a show of sportsmanship to match that of our fighting Spartan teams ! ! !

New Church Construction Under Way

Construction began last Friday on a $165,000 Church of Christ. Scientist, it was announced by Richard Foster of the Foster, Schermerhorn and Foster construction company.

The building will be located at the corner of Haslett street and Grand River avenue. It will be constructed so as to preserve the large trees growing on the lot.

Only work this fall will be digging the foundation and pouring the footings, Foster said. The building will be completed next spring.

Sunday morning services are now being held at the State theater. Sunday school is in the Christian Science reading room at 218 Abbott road.

Yearbook Sale Ends Saturday

The current Wolverine sales drive on campus dormitories will end Saturday.

Students who are not contacted by salesmen in their dorms can purchase their Wolverines at the Union desk next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Wolverine salesmen will be stationed in the concourse from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. so that those who have not yet bought their yearbooks may do so, Bob Scott, circulation manager, said.

With Wolverine sales running high, winners of the team competition in the dorms will be announced early next week.

Winning teams in both men's and women's dorms are entitled to a $10 prize and a professional portrait by LeClear studios at Lansing, Scott said.
