Eight Members Of Cleaners' Association Raise Price Rates

Group Seeks To 'Clear Up' Working Plan

Maurer Non-Committal On Latest Action

By DEAN MORTON

At least eight members of the Lansing Association of Cleaners and Dyers "independently" raised their prices to a $1.20 per suit equivalent yesterday.

Following the first announcement of the new price raise, a committee of the association met with college officials and inter-dorm council yesterday afternoon in an attempt to clear up what they termed an "undesirable and unworkable" plan.

The price raise and the meeting with college and student officials climaxed a two week open dispute over dormitory cleaning privileges.

Concerning the price raise, Joseph Maurer, president of the cleaning association, said the raise was not an association agreement. "I have nothing to do with these things," Maurer said. "Members do raising of their own free will."

Meanwhile other East Lansing non-association cleaners did not raise their prices.

Raise Needed

Association members said the price raise was necessitated by increased costs of wages and overhead expenses. The 20 cent increase was also put into effect to place East Lansing cleaning prices on a level with those of Lansing.

Two weeks ago the college opened cleaning service to three cleaners who had made the lowest bid for the job. Cleaners were limited to three because it was feared that there would be too much traffic.

A cleaner said yesterday that the bidding system was unfair because it did not take into consideration the high rents and overheads which cleaners near the college must pay.

At any rate the Lansing Association of Cleaners and Dyers asked the college to allow all cleaners to operate on the campus under equal terms. Last Tuesday a committee from the association met with college officials and inter-dormitory council members.

As a result of the meeting it was decided that any cleaner complying with college regulations could pick up business at the dormitories. Apparently the cleaners were in complete agreement with the plan.

Refer New Plan

Yesterday the association "referred for thinking" to college officials and inter-dormitory council members another plan for cleaning operation.

Organizations Fail To Report

Council Lacks Forms From 64 Groups

Sixty-four campus organizations have failed to turn in their reports to the Student Council organizations committee, according to Bill Richardson, chairman.

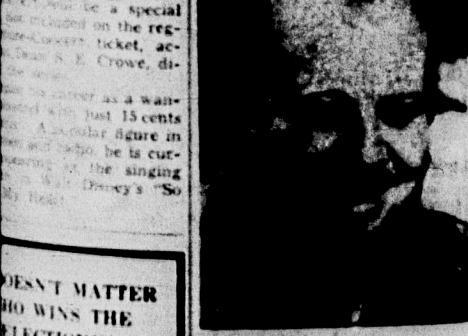

Richardson said that "repeated appeals have been ignored" and that the deadline has already been extended twice.

Organizations which failed to turn in their report by tomorrow at 6 p.m. will not be allowed to hold meetings in any campus building. If necessary, Richardson said, further action will be taken to de-activate these delinquent organizations.

Richardson said the Student Council must have complete records of all organizations in order to give service credit to groups. Organizations must turn in records of all new officers, and all new and old members to make the records complete.

State Police Seek Students For Haslett Hall Damage

MSC students were sought by Michigan State police yesterday for vandalism in the Haslett American Legion hall on Saturday night.

Police were given a "lead" by James Flood, hall caretaker, who said he rented the hall for five dollars to a group of students.

When the dean of students, Tom King, was quizzed on the matter he said, "We can't seem to find any concrete evidence that the damage was caused by MSC students. Any gang of fellows could say they were students and left the hall."

Plaster torn from the walls, broken dishes and broken bottles, broken dishes and furniture and a large shattered window in front of the building brought the estimated damage to about $1000.

The vandals also threw a beer bottle through a plate glass window valued at $20 in the Haslett hall.

Fight Called 'Tightest' In History

Williams, Kelly, End Campaign In Detroit

By JACK HENDRICKSON

One of the tightest gubernatorial races in Michigan history will be decided today when an estimated 2,000,000 voters go to the polls.

A vote reaching that maximum would set a record for an off-election year, according to authorities at the Michigan office of secretary of state.

East Lansing polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Turnout Echoes

Stimulating the vote turnout, should it reach expected proportions, will be the fresh memory of a fierce contest that has carried rival candidates, Gov. G. Mennen Williams (D) and Harry F. Kelly (R) on repeated forays the length and breadth of the state over a six-month period.

The two opponents wound up their campaigning in Detroit last night. Each stationed himself in that city to vote and review election returns tonight.

Running mates of the gubernatorial candidates are John W. Connolly (D), 39-year-old Detroit attorney, and William C. Vandenberg (R), 65, Holland businessman and state senator.

Voters To Select

Voters casting ballots at the state's 4,300 precincts today will select also from the following slate for Michigan executive offices:

Secretary of State—Fred M. Alger, Jr. (R) and Philip A. Hart (D), Attorney General—Frank G. Millard (R) and Stephen J. Roth (D), State Treasurer—D. Hale Brake (R) and Maurice C. Evedand, Auditor General—John B. Martin, Jr. (R) and Margaret Price (D).

Opponents in the contest for the 6th representative district congressional seat are William A. Blackmer (R) and Herbert W. Devine (D).

Choose Three

Ingham county will select three representatives to the state legislature from its two districts and a senator will be balloted for in the 14th state senatorial district which includes the county.

Michigan voters will also choose a new legislator. The state's 66th East Lansingites will find incumbent senator Harry E. Little (R) and Elizabeth L. Helen (D) contesting the seat in the upper house.

Three candidates will fight it out for the house of representatives post from this district. They are Lawrence B. Linderer (R), Charles S. Woods (D), and Ernest Gordon, Prohibitionist.

County posts to be filled include the prosecuting attorney, sheriff, county clerk, treasurer, register of deeds, auditor, drain commissioner, coroners, and notary.

Also to be decided is whether Ingham county employees will come under the pension plan that has been in effect in Lansing for nine years.

Foundry Art Exhibit Set For Union

A rare exhibit combining European art work with the latest foundry techniques will be displayed Nov. 10 and 11 in the Michigan State College Union building.

The display, which belongs to George W. Cannon, widely-known Muskegon foundry executive, will be shown in conjunction with the annual Michigan Foundry conference being held on campus this weekend.

A dozen intricately designed items showing foundry casting at its best were brought to the United States by Cannon after a trip to Germany. The art work was manufactured by a Westzler, Germany, foundry company.

Highlights of the display are ornate candelabra, a full table setting, and a series of plaques depicting a poem of Johann Wolfgang Goethe.

The most famous piece is a figurine of St. Barbara, patron saint of miners and founders in Germany. To cast the figure, 38 cores and two half molds were necessary.

Landscape Show Features Work Of '34 Graduate

An exhibit of professional landscaping by John Ormsby Simonds, landscape architecture graduate of 1934, is now on display in the corridor of the landscape architecture building.

Simonds and his brother, Philip, run a prominent landscaping firm in Pittsburgh.

The exhibit, which will run through Nov. 20, includes Simonds' plans of landscape planning for Pittsburgh's new civic light opera theater, an airport, some city playgrounds, and some private country houses including a modern "House of Beauty."

The exhibit is open to the public until 10 p.m. daily.

Expect Voters To Jam Polls

There are five voting precincts in East Lansing, including a new one for campus residents, Precinct 5, located in Hut 75, Quonset village.

Others are Precinct 1 at Central School, 325 W. Grand River avenue; Precinct 2 at East Lansing high school, 810 Forest street; Precinct 3 at the city fire station, 400 Abbott road; and Precinct 4 at Bailey Street school, 300 Bailey street.

Over the nation hundreds of other candidates for office also wound up campaigning yesterday. New York's Thomas E. Dewey ground out a solid 18 hours of last minute appearances in his bid for re-election as governor of that state.

Thirty-two states from the 48 will name men to their governorship. All states will choose representatives to Congress and many will accept or dismiss Senatorial candidates.

Most significant gubernatorial races are those between Gov. Earl Warren (R) and James Roosevelt (D) in California and between Gov. Dewey and Rep. Walter A. Lench (D-Lib) in New York.

Hot battles are also being waged between Senatorial candidates, Herbert Lehman (D) and Joseph Hanley (R) in New York, and Robert A. Taft and "Jumpin' Joe" Ferguson in Ohio. Scott Lucas (D) and Everett M. Dirksen (R) contend in Illinois; Sen. Francis J. Meyer and Gov. James H. Duff in Pennsylvania; and Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D) and Rep. Richard M. Nixon (R) in California.

Main factors in the election seen by observers are a record registration, general national prosperity and the Korean war. Favorable weather predictions for most of the nation are expected to encourage a heavy voter turnout. In Michigan the weather outlook is promising, although some snow is seen for the upper peninsula.

The Himalaya mountains are one of the world's major earthquake belts, according to the National Geographic Society.

Foundry Craftsmanship

Candelabra from the Westzler Foundry in Germany, finely cast trays, and a statuette of St. Barbara, Patron Saint of German coal miners and founders, comprise only a few of the select foundry pieces to be on exhibit Friday and Saturday in the Union building. Fred McDonel Dies Saturday At Sparrow

Fred R. McDonel, father of Karl H. McDonel, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, died Saturday afternoon at Sparrow hospital.

McDonel was 84. He had been a farmer all his life until four years ago when he was incapacitated by a hip injury. His farm was near Delta Mills, but he had been living in Lansing for the past four years.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Estes-Ledley funeral home. President Hannah and a number of college officials attended the service, which was conducted by Rev. Robert Bartlett of the Plymouth Congregational church.

Hannah Leaves To Give Speech At Texas A&M

President John A. Hannah will leave tomorrow for Texas to speak at the inauguration of M. T. Harrington as president of Texas A. & M. College.

Pres. Hannah will speak at the inaugural luncheon Thursday on the topic, "The Liberal and Practical."

Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, will give the major inaugural address at ceremonies Thursday night.

Following his Texas address, Pres. Hannah will return to East Lansing to meet Dr. James L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota, who is to be his guest at the MSC-Minnesota game Nov. 11.

The two educators will leave for Washington, D.C. that week-end to attend the 64th annual meeting of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities, Nov. 11-16.

Flint Woman Dies: Result Of U-Turn

'S' Band To Travel To 'City Of Steel'

The MSC band will journey to Pittsburgh to salute the "City of Steel" during halftime ceremonies of the football duel between the Spartans and the University of Pittsburgh Saturday, Nov. 18.

The band will entrain from the Lansing Pere Marquette station at 6:30 on the eve of the game. The trip will be via Detroit.

Unique Formations
Five unique formations are being planned as a salute to the city of Pittsburgh, the steel capital of America.

According to plans, the band will first play Tchaikovsky's Sixth Symphony as it forms a huge V representing the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers which join at Pittsburgh.

One Car Formed
While the band plays "Clementine," an iron ore car will be formed. The car will roll down the field to the tune of "There'll

Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

Smoke and flame will then roll from a simulated Bessemer process furnace, as the band plays the Second Hungarian Rhapsody. To Play Anvil Chorus

When the rhapsody reaches a climax, a ladle containing molten steel will be portrayed. The ladle will tip, and the steel will pour out to mold the hammer and anvil of the "village smithy." The "hammer" will be swung as the band plays the "Anvil Chorus."

After saluting the city, the U. of Pittsburgh and the MSC fight songs will be played.

Missing Something? Look At The Union!

By MARY LOU FOLGER

If you lose something at MSC, chances are you'll get it back, if you work at it long enough.

Checking up on the lost and found system on campus, we ended up with one less book, two lost mittens, and the certainty that all things eventually end up in the Union.

Drops Books
Orders were to drop books in buildings around campus and find out just what one had to go through to get them back.

Books were left at Berkeley, Mason hall, on South Campus, and in the Women's gym. Somewhere along the line, a pair of white angora mittens joined the missing.

The books were retrieved the day after they were dropped.

Found Immediately
At Berkeley, the History of Civ book was found almost immediately. It was in a small pile of books, some left over from summer term.

Natural Science building was the first stop in the mitten search. The mittens weren't in the classroom, weren't in the office. Office personnel said, "You'll probably find them in the Union lost and found." Just a short walk.

Man Shoots Himself During Police Query

KALAMAZOO — (AP) — While being questioned on a shoplifting charge Cecil Boylan, 44, shot himself fatally in police headquarters this afternoon. He died an hour later in Bronson hospital.

Left alone by his questioners, who had been called into an adjoining room, Boylan took a .38 caliber revolver from the drawer of a police filing cabinet and shot himself through the head. He was a former building contractor and a veteran of World War II.

Korea has produced as much as $50,000,000 worth of gold in a year.

College officials and inter-dormitory council members disagreed with the committee members. Other college representatives said that they could not support anything which might be construed as price fixing. They added that the present plan had not operated long enough to determine its efficiency. Finally everyone agreed to continue the plan until the end of the term at least.

Theta Sigs To Organize Lansing Alumnae Group

Plans for organizing a Lansing alumnae chapter of Sigma Phi, women's national professional journalism fraternity, will move forward tonight at 8, at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Allen Burns, 336 Northlawn.

Theta Sigs will meet with local women active in newspaper, radio and magazine work to help them organize a group of their own, president Roberta Porterfield said.

Before the meeting, an initiation dinner will be held at the Union for five new actives: Gay Cahoon, Saranac junior; Mona Hoedl, Dearborn junior; Nancy Hotop, Kalamazoo junior; Nancy Moriarty, Grand Rapids junior; and Sara Murray, Menominee junior.

Among the alumnae who will attend the organizational meeting are Miss Judy Moss and Miss Jo Griffen, June, 1950 graduates; Miss Katie Price, Miss Jane Lott, Miss Betty Crum, Mrs. Elton Hill, Mrs. Kenneth Peters, Mrs. Donald Hoenshell, and Mrs. Robert Lusk, society editor of the State Journal.

Other qualified women journalists interested in establishing alumnae chapters are welcome.

Spartan Backfield And Stonewall Line Romp Over Outclassed Indiana, 35-0

Galloping Grandelius

BOB STUART
Spartan football team, fresh from its rout of Indiana, rolled through an hour-long session at the stadium Monday in preparation for the game with Minnesota.

Afterwards, one of the spectators in the grandstand said that the Spartans' win over the Hoosiers was even more impressive than the 36-33 victory over the Hoosiers in the previous game. The Spartans' power exhibited by the team was evident in the first half.

Before the biggest crowd of the season, the Spartans rolled over the Hoosiers in the opening whistle. The Spartans recovered a kickoff in the Indiana 33 yard line and exactly five plays later, Everett Grandelius, the Spartan's leading ground gainer, scored a touchdown. The Spartans' power exhibited by the team was evident in the first half.

On defense, Ed Timmerman, the Spartan's leading tackler, intercepted a pass from the Indiana quarterback, Dorow, and returned it for a touchdown. The Spartans' power exhibited by the team was evident in the first half.

line. Carey again kicked the extra point to make the score 14-0.

The second quarter was a seesaw affair with Indiana making its only scoring threat of the afternoon when a pass from D'Achille to Ernie Kovatch was ruled complete at the State seven yard line because of interference.

But the Hoosiers lost 16 yards on five plays and finally lost their chance when Thomas intercepted a pass on the Michigan State eight yard line. There was no scoring in the second period.

Crane Adds One
Early in the third quarter, the Spartans recovered a Hoosier fumble on the Indiana 34. Crane and Grandelius then teamed up on a series of running plays which carried to the enemy seven in five plays. Crane then crashed through center for the score and Carey once more split the uprights to make it 21-0.

A few minutes later, Thomas intercepted another pass on his own 47 and carried it back to the Indiana 37 before he was brought down.

On three plays the Green and White moved to the Hoosier 25 and on the next play, Grandelius swept around right end behind perfect interference for 25 yards and a touchdown. With his usual precision, Carey kicked the extra point to make it MSC-28, Indiana-0.

Pass Backfires
The final score came in the closing seconds of play. The Hoosiers' fast moving southpaw quarterback faded back for a desperation pass from his own 40 but Timmerman moved over to intercept the aerial and went 60 yards for a score. Carey booted his fifth point of the day to make it 35-0.

The defeat was the worst suffered by the Indiana team this year and Indiana was also the first team this year that has failed to score against Michigan State.

Head Coach Clyde B. Smith of Indiana praised the Spartan power after the game when he stated, "Michigan State has as powerful a ground attack as any team we have faced this season."

Dean's List

It All Adds Up

By Dean Wakefield
and
Herman Granich

A SAD AND BROKEN MAN SAT in his new wheel chair trying to recover from his shock.

It was all because of two teams and a man.

The two teams were Ohio State—reputedly one of the strongest Big Ten aggregations of all time—and the little upstart cow college that had recently been admitted to the "roughness" football conference in the country.

THE MAN WAS LUTHER D. ARDFARB, an eminent emissary of the Lushwell A.C., an organization that could no longer bear up under the injustice of it all. Ardfarb was sent to convey the bad news to coach Wes Fesler of Ohio State, the above mentioned invalid.

No matter how hard he tried, Fesler could not get away from the fact that MSC's football team was 38 points better than his grid greats.

BUT FESLER WAS NOT the only disillusioned gridiron mentor in the country. Numbered among his counterparts were H. N. "Rusty" Russell, head coach of Southern Methodist; Blair Cherry, head coach of Texas; and Bud Wilkinson, coach of an Oklahoma squad that set a new collegiate record of 27 straight games with out being beaten or tied.

Here are the facts that Ardfarb carried. MSC beat Indiana, 35-0. The same Indiana squad hung a 20-7 defeat on Purdue, establishing MSC as 48 point favorites over Purdue. Purdue's 28-14 win over Notre Dame and ND's 14-7 licking of North Carolina placed State 69 points up on the Tarheels.

TIES BETWEEN NORTH CAROLINA and Georgia and Louisiana State made the Spartan superiority over LSU the same 69 points. Rice defeated LSU 35-20 and the Spartan margin over Rice became 54 points.

SMU, the nation's top team before last Saturday, topped Rice, 42-21, making the Spartans 33 points better than the Mustangs.

That makes Texas, who defeated SMU 23-20, 30 point underdogs to MSC. Oklahoma, who edged Texas, 14-13, was placed at 29 points under the Spartans.

GOING BACK TO SOUTHERN METHODIST, their 32-27 triumph over Ohio State gave the Spartans 38 points over the Buckeyes.

Meanwhile, the only coherent statement heard from Fesler was "THANK GOD WE DON'T PLAY THEM NEXT YEAR."

P.S.—Any resemblance to coaches or teams, living or dead, is purely coincidental.

State Walker Takes Second In NAAU Meet

By The Associated Press
DETROIT — Adolf Weinacker, MSC walking star, grabbed second place in the NAAU 5000-foot-meter walking championship meet Sunday. The meet was held in Detroit.

Weinacker finished behind Bill Mihalo, of Detroit, who broke the tape in five hours and 31 minutes. Mihalo thus won the right to represent the U.S. in the Pan-American games at Buenos Aires in February.

Eighty-one-year-old Tom Brown, of Milwaukee, took 11th in a field of 13. Brown, who looks like Santa Claus, was still striding briskly when he reached the finish line, his white beard and long white hair flying in the cold wind.

Because of an error in measuring the course, the walkers traveled an extra 800 meters.

State Coach Editor Of '51 Swim Manual

Michigan State College's varsity swimming coach, Charles McCaffree, is editor of the 1951 official NCAA Swimming guide. McCaffree was appointed to the editor's spot in honor of his outstanding work with Michigan State tank squads.

Thirty team titles, including the 1945 NAAU outdoor championship, plus a host of swimming stars, national and Olympic, have been written into Coach McCaffree's tally book since his arrival at State in 1942.

The guide, which was recently released, is the official book of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

Spartanettes Trounce Canadian Tankers, 75-52

By PAT McFATE
A new record was set Saturday night as the Michigan State Spartanettes opened their inter-collegiate swimming season by whipping the University of Western Ontario, 72-25.

Pat Scott, who holds the Michigan AAU 60 and 50 yard backstroke championship, set a new record in the 60 yard backstroke with a time of 41.6. The old record was set by Donna Maddock at 42.0 in 1948.

Miss Scott was edged out of the 90 yard free style by Kay Niles of Ontario in 59.6. In the 90 yard individual medley race, she easily won over Miss Niles in 1:12.1.

Hit of the evening was a synchronized duet, "In a Clock Store" by Staters Lynn Lane and Carol Needler. They were followed closely in crowd appeal by Pat Stearns and Barb Busch, also of MSC.

Take Top Spots
The Spartanettes placed first and second in the 90 yard medley relay with a winning time of 57.6 entered by Pat Scott, Betty MacDougall and Dee Weinberg. Second place swimmers were Nancy Klein, Joan Embrey and Esther Lucke.

Kay Niles First
Kay Niles of Ontario won the 60 yard free style from Dee Weinberg of State with a time of 36.4. The 60 yard breast stroke was won by Betty MacDougall, MSC, with a time of 52.0. Two State swimmers, Pat Fearnside and Nancy O'Rourke placed first and second in the diving exhibition. State also took first and second in the 120 yard free style relay.

First place team included Dee Weinberg, Esther Lucke, Mary Smith and Pat Scott. Jo Embrey, Jan Embrey, Nancy Moneey and Nancy Kline came in second.

Blood Bank Donors Can Enroll Now

Students Register In Housing Units

Registration of volunteer student blood donors is now in progress and will continue until Nov. 21, Bill Richardson, co-chairman announced. A Red Cross mobile blood bank will be on campus from Nov. 27 to Dec. 1.

Co-chairmen Jennie Pangborn and Bill Richardson have appointed sub-chairmen in each campus living unit to register volunteers.

Who May Donate

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 59 may donate. All students under 21, however, must register before Nov. 15, in order that the Red Cross may contact the student's home for parental consent. Both chairmen expressed hope of exceeding the 1949 total of 400 pints. The blood will be used locally and at the Korean front to replace dwindling stocks.

Donor Requirements

Basic requirements for donors are that they be in good health, weigh at least 110 pounds, and have no disease which might be transmitted through the blood. As yet, no definite campus location has been found for the mobile unit.

Rub A Dub Dub

Ricardo Montalban of the film violates a Hollywood tradition in this scene from the picture "Don Renegade." He's taking a bath on the screen, a maneuver heretofore reserved for the feminine sex. But the view is about the same, observers pointed out. Lots of soap-suds.

State To Host Dem. Council

More than 2,000 women from nearly every state will meet on the Michigan State College campus Aug. 13 to 17, 1951, for the annual meeting of the National Home Demonstration Council.

Mrs. Leona MacLeod, state home demonstration leader, announced recently that the invitation from the Michigan Home Demonstration Council was accepted at the annual meeting in Mississippi. More than 2,000 homemakers from 33 states and Puerto Rico attended this year's event.

The home demonstration program is a part of the Co-operative Extension service at Michigan State College.

Inter-dorm Council Plans Big Program

By DICK SZEPSKI

Eighteen men representing six male dormitories constitute the governing body known as Inter-dorm council. By sponsoring academic, athletic and social events they create and promote inter-dorm spirit.

Mason-Abbott, Snyder-Phillips and East and West Shaw are the dormitories represented. Three men from each dormitory's general council are elected annually to the council.

Formulate Plans

At the opening meetings this fall the council formulated a new constitution, elected officers and made plans for the year's activities. The biggest event will be an all-dormitory dance held in Shaw hall's spacious lounge during the height of the winter social season.

Other plans include awarding scholarship cups and plaques to dorms and precincts. Football, basketball, softball, bowling, track and swimming fill the athletic card. The athletic program is promoted with the cooperation of the intra-mural department of the college.

Dry Cleaning Service

Among more recent undertakings of the council is the dry cleaning service. The dry cleaning service will provide a source of revenue for the council's varied activities.

The council holds bi-weekly meetings in the lower lounges of the dorms. Resident dormitory advisors and counselors attend these meetings.

Present officers are Ralph Pienecke, Allendale, N. J., senior, president; George Frost, Lancaster, N. Y., sophomore, vice-president-treasurer; and Ken Mallison, Bear Lake junior, secretary.

Delegates By The Thousand To Meet Here

An estimated 13,500 people will visit the Michigan State College campus during the summer of 1951 for national conferences and conventions, it was announced today by Russell J. Kleis, head of the department of special courses and conferences.

Lutheran Leaders

Approximately 4,000 youthful leaders from Lutheran churches throughout the world will meet in a series of chapels, clinics, and vespers Aug. 21-26. Feature of the convention will be a pageant entitled "Martin Luther, Protestant."

Home economics extension workers and members of the U. S. and Canadian section of the Associated Country Women of the World, a federation of rural women's clubs, will convene Aug. 13-17. The attendance is set at 2,000.

Dairy Convention Expected To Draw Several Hundred

Michigan dairy manufacturers will meet at MSC Thursday and Friday, Nov. 9 and 10, for their eleventh annual conference. Better practices in the dairy industry will be one of the main themes of the meeting.

More than 300 dairymen are expected to attend the two-day conference, according to Paul Lucas, MSC dairy specialist. Registration will begin at 8:30 each morning in the foyer of the music building. All meetings will take place in the college dairy building and the music building.

MSC dairy department staff members and outstanding members of the dairy industry will speak.

Printing Forms Only One Job Of College Mimeographers

Students who wonder where all the mimeographed forms and other material around campus come from can thank the college mimeographing department.

This department, which is located in room 9, Berkey hall, performs many other functions besides mimeographing. College stationery (including President Hannah's), departmental publications, programs, and administrative forms are also printed here.

Small Percentage

Lauren P. Brown, manager of the department since his graduation from MSC in 1931, pointed out that actually they do only a small percentage of the work in this field around the campus.

He said other departments have their own mimeographing facilities and do much of the work themselves.

The department was organized in 1923 as a branch of the publications department, Brown said. Its first duty was the printing of extension-service news releases which the department printed on its solitary mimeographing machine.

Department Grows

The department was expanded until today it employs 15 persons and has a stockpile of seven mimeographs, although only two are used at a time.

They also have printing presses, multigraphs, and a robotyper that will duplicate typewritten letters at a rate of 135 words per minute.
