Requests $909,400 To Finish Building

The final appropriation of $909,400 for work on MSC's veterinary building has been requested from the legislature by Governor Williams.

It is part of a $37,000,000 request for funds to clear up deficits in state agencies and continue construction on capital improvements.

A planning appropriation of $90,600 was made in 1949. This was followed last year by an outlay of $1,400,000 for the first year's work.

If the current request is granted in full the state will have provided $2,400,000 for the building.

Sinclair Lewis Dies In Rome Of Heart Attack

ROME — (AP) — Sinclair Lewis, who made a fortune writing realistic novels about Main Street, U.S.A., died in Rome today from a weakened heart after a bout with bronchial pneumonia. He was 65.

The lanky red-haired author came last year to spend his last days in Rome, where he wrote his Nobel prize-winning "Babbitt" and met his second wife, Dorothy Thompson, the correspondent and columnist.

Except for hospital attendants at Villa Electra clinic, he was alone when death came at dawn. Suffering from a chronic heart ailment, he was taken ill with pneumonia Dec. 31. He surmounted the pneumonia crisis, but the strain proved too much for his heart.

A native of Sauk Center, a little town of 3,000 in Minnesota, Lewis wrote 22 books, most of them best-sellers, and nearly all of them a challenging picture of the culture, morals and provincial pattern of the small town of mid-west America.

"Main Street," his most famous, "Main Street," published in 1920, made him a celebrity overnight. "Babbitt," published in 1922, won him the 1930 Nobel prize and added a new word to the dictionary. Webster's says it is a word to describe in a derogatory sense a person who conforms to the respectable materialism of his class.

Many a sharply-drawn character in Lewis books was picked out by millions of readers as a true-to-life person of their own experience. And Gopher Prairie and Zenith, the village and small city in "Main Street" and "Babbitt" were real enough to be on a map.

Laugh A Day... Engineers Should Argue?

A check with the local naval reserve unit yesterday, concerning the call of 47,000 reserves into the navy, revealed some confusion among the armed forces.

When asked how the call would affect college students, an attentive chief said that he had had no official word.

But he added, "I listened to Gabriel Heater this noon, and he said that he thinks they might exempt engineers."

Ask Students For Opinions On Uniforms

Band Committee Needs Suggestions

A call for student opinion on new band uniforms was issued yesterday by the MSC band uniform committee.

The request for student reaction as to whether the marching band should have new uniforms was approved after getting the nod from Dean L. C. Emmons.

Phil VanAllesburg, Lansing junior, speaking for the committee said, "We need student backing in this project and we would appreciate the views of students on the question of the uniforms."

"We would like to know if the students would like to see a preview of different styles of band uniforms in the near future."

Letters from students should be addressed to the student council office, VanAllesburg stated.

The committee is also sending letters to 88 alumni organizations and groups asking their opinion on new uniforms.

Roses That Bloom Weatherman May Get Last Laugh Yet

Seen any robins yet? They should be here soon if the present preview of spring continues.

Since Tuesday, everyone has been enjoying the sun and breezes that usually herald the green season. However, being the month of the year it is, the respite from winter will probably be brief.

Today, at least, the weather will remain reasonably warm.

The weather bureau reports not much change in temperature today with a high of 36 degrees. The high Wednesday was 41 degrees and the low was 32.

Last Jan. 11, MSC students were trudging to classes through a light snowfall with the thermometer reaching a high of 25 degrees.

Plans to maintain contact with former MSC foreign students are being made by a campus group called Adventures in World Understanding.

The group plans to send a regular news letter to 300 ex-foreign students. The news letter will contain excerpts from letters received by the group from foreign students who have returned to their home countries. News of campus affairs will be included.

The adventurers will continue their program to aid foreign students now attending MSC in understanding the United States. A trip to Mason during spring vacation is being considered.

UMT Asked For All Youth Immediately

Senators Query Defense Dept. Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Immediate universal military service starting with a draft of 450,000 18-year-olds this year was urged on congress Wednesday by Defense Secretary Marshall.

The proposal to draft at 18 instead of the present induction age of 19, and a companion plan to extend the service period from the current 21 months to 27, brought immediate sharp questioning from members of a senate Armed Services subcommittee.

Stick Tight

Marshall and Assistant Secretary Anna Rosenberg, his chief manpower aide, stuck tight to their original formula, however.

Mrs. Rosenberg stood firm in the face of questioning by Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) which brought out that the actual "take" of 18-year-olds this year would be 300,000 counting 75,000 who would be in college under various military schooling programs and thousands of others in uniform but taking special military courses in school.

Immediately, at least, the questioning revolved more around the age limit and service term proposals than the long-range plan for training all youths in the future and requiring service by them.

Favors UMT

Many of the committeemen have indicated they favor training for all, but the universal requirement for actual service in the armed forces is something else.

Secretary Marshall advanced the plan as the best way to meet urgent needs for fighting manpower now and to provide guardrails for the nation's future safety.

Best Way

Universal military service and training represents what I believe is the best way to meet our immediate needs for enlarged combat forces and at the same time to provide an enduring base for our military strength," Marshall said.

Plan Commission To Describe Job On Spartan Forum

All-college planning commission will review its plans for a revision of MSC student government Saturday on "Spartan Forum." WKAR will carry the broadcast at 2:30 p.m.

Chairman Gaylord Sheets, Lansing junior, will lead the group discussion.

The commission wants to substitute a three department federal-type organization for the present Student Council. The legislative branch would be a student senate.

The 21 member commission includes 17 delegates from all governing groups on campus and four faculty members. The project is a continuation of a revision undertaken last spring.

Commission members hope to successfully conclude the undertaking in late February. It will then be voted upon by the student body.

The commission may publish a booklet showing the success of the plan in other colleges, Sheets said.

GALLAP'S GOSSIP

Well, here we are with both feet planted squarely over the threshold of a new year. I don't recall a year characterized by such a state of complete confusion. Several of the situation is the fact that we approached this new year without even knowing who was governor of the State of Michigan.

Groping out way through the local cob-webs and international among the only things we can feel sure of are "death and taxes." For all of us, more taxes have become certain and death, for some, more desirable. The government keeps on talking about holding prices on white sugar, like the bumper-bug who kept because he didn't know that someone had proved that he couldn't keep right on going up. Heilighedness, TV sets and automobiles threaten to become scarcer while longshoremen are on the up-swing.

Soon the sun will be running again, the buds will burst and the grass will be warm and green. Springtime optimism will then supreme and man, filled with ideas, will give his kind another enthusiastic look in what we hope is the right direction.

Everyday more gals are finding that they have a man only by proxy. Thanks to their hair, and about the most valuable bit of consolation they possess is a good portrait. The next time you see one of those "lonesome gals" eating a bubble at one of those little prints in her billfold just snash up and take a good look at it yourself. If it smiles right back at you in sort of an easy, natural, life-like way then you can be reassured because you'll know that whatever else happens in 1961 you can still get three PARTS DOLLARS WAT SPEAK by H. ## Juniors Tell J-Hop Ticket Sales Date

J-Hop posters made their first appearance on campus this week as juniors prepared for their annual all-college dance Feb. 9 and 10.

Tickets for the traditional event will go on sale Jan. 25 for junior class members, Ward Ouradnik, ticket chairman announced. Sales will open at 1 p.m. at the Union ticket office.

Other classes may buy remaining tickets, Jan. 26. Some 1,500 tickets have been allotted for each night and if any are left they will be sold Jan. 27, Ouradnik said. Les Brown and his orchestra will play both nights of the dance in college auditorium. The band recently toured Korea with Bob Hope.

Decorations for the dance will be in keeping with this year's theme, "On the Town."

The first non-stop transcontinental flight was in May, 1923, when a single engine Fokker T-2 flew from New York to San Francisco in 26 hours and 50 minutes.

Union Agent Shot At Home On Chicago's West Side

CHICAGO—(P)—A business agent of the AFL Teamsters union last night was shot and wounded in an ambush at his home on the west side.

The wounded man, shot three times in the left arm, is Al Ceas, 42, of local 705, International Brotherhood of Teamsters. He was the third official of the local to be shot at within the last eight months.

The shooting of Ceas occurred only a few hours after the Chicago Federation of Labor had pledged its full support to a fight against gangsters seeking to muscle into an affiliated union.

Only last night, William A. Lee, president of the Chicago Federation, told a radio audience that "hoodlums" had approached him.

Ches Attack Iba Court Tactics

Control Strategy Causes Unrest
Among Collegiate Hoop Mentors

WATER, OKLA. — (AP) — What's all this fuss about control killing basketball?

It's a puzzle to Hank Iba, Oklahoma Aggie coach, a champion of the cage game and of control for nigh on to 25 years.

The storm broke when Texas coach Jack Gray said Iba and his followers were killing the game by slowing it down with stalling.

Rough Stuff
And Wichita coach Ken Gunning charged Iba, whose team is No. 2 in the nation with 13 straight victories, is using rough-house tactics in winning.

Today peppery Nat Holman of City College of New York took a pivot shot at Iba with the warning that control teams might have a hard time finding teams to play. He said fans want action.

To which Iba replied today: "As long as the general public finds method in control playing, you'll never have to worry about crowd appeal."

Confusing Term
"The average basketball coach and even some better known coaches really do not understand what they term ball control. Ball control as the public understands it is a stalling game."

"As we teach it, it is pattern play. That does not mean playing slower but control handling of the ball until a shot occurs."

Complaint Surprising
Complaints this year against Iba's deliberate type of game are based on content with winning a surprise. In past seasons, Iba with less than 40 points. This year he attempts to get between 49 and 64 points a game.

Iba has proven that ball control is the only way a small team can beat a squad loaded with tall men.

There have been two 24-point games in American League history and the Philadelphia Athletics were in both of them.

Expelled Ohio State Halfback Ruled Eligible By University

COLUMBUS, O. — (AP) — Richard (Skip) Doyle, the Ohio State University left halfback who was expelled from school Dec. 20 for poor grades, is eligible again.

The University announced today that Doyle took an English examination yesterday and made up his grade enough to remove the record of the dismissal.

But in the meantime, Doyle
winter quarter "because I have to make some money."

Doyle's buddy, All-America Vic Janowicz, also was dropped from school for low grades at the close of the fall quarter. He had incompletes in botany and political science.

Meat Control Controversy Continues

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The question whether the government will put price and rationing controls on meats in the near future was still up in the air today.

After listening to meat industry arguments that such controls would cut production and create black markets, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said no decision has been made to place meat under price ceilings.

To Try

Earlier in the week, Economic Stabilization Administrator Alan Valentine said that as soon as it could the government would "make a try" at controlling meat prices.

Both DiSalle and Valentine sat in on a conference at which representatives of farmers, livestock feeders, slaughterers, packers and processors urged that the industry be left free to make its own attempt to satisfy consumer demands at reasonable prices.

Up Production

In a formal statement presented at the conference, the meat industry said increased production, coupled with limitations on increases in consumer incomes, would help keep meat prices from getting out of bounds.

"If meat production is increased 12 per cent over the next two years — a definite possibility — prices could be held at present levels, provided those who are responsible for government monetary and fiscal policies hold increases in consumer incomes to not more than 10 per cent."

Price Freeze Idea Shelved

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Alan Valentine announced Wednesday that the government has shelved any idea of an immediate "across-the-board" wage-price freeze.

A plan for a quick price freeze, to last 30 days while the government considered more permanent measures, had previously been under consideration. In fact, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle had prepared a tentative order calling for such a temporary freeze.

Drop Idea

But he and Valentine disclosed at a news conference that the idea had been dropped.

"We have come to the definite conclusion that we do not plan any general across-the-board stabilization or freeze of prices," Valentine said.

He went on to emphasize that the same goes for wages.

Continue Control

He and DiSalle said they would continue with selective controls in specific industries. The auto industry is the only one where price ceilings have been involved so far.

During the day, John L. Lewis said that if the government slipped ceilings on wages and prices it would "put the economy in irons."

Labor can produce enough for purposes of war or peace if left free to operate under normal collective bargaining, he told the Wage Stabilization board.

Mayo Specialists Say Child's Eyes Show No Cancer

ROCHESTER, Minn. — (AP) — Eye specialists at the Mayo clinic answered Mrs. Frank Purcell's prayers today.

Her four-year-old daughter, Carolyn, will not have to undergo an operation for the removal of her eyes, according to clinic doctors.

The Alpharetta, Ga., child was brought to the clinic yesterday for a verdict on a reported cancerous condition around her eyes.

After a detailed diagnosis, clinic physicians said there is no evidence of any cancer. A clinic spokesman said this confirmed the opinion of an Atlanta, Ga., physician who had examined Carolyn earlier.

Mrs. Purcell and Carolyn planned to return home tonight.

The Mayo clinic climaxed a long period of anxiety for Mr. and Mrs. Purcell. They had been told by specialists that one or both of Carolyn's eyes must be removed to save her life.

Their plight reached the ears of the Atlanta mounted shrine patrol, which arranged for the trip by air to Rochester for a final opinion before an operation was performed.

The clinic doctors said there's an inflammatory reaction within the child's eyes, but there will be no treatment here. That will come later when Carolyn is back home.

British Satellites Ask USSR Talks

LONDON — (AP) — Commonwealth premiers came out today in favor of western talks with Russia as they pondered ways of ending the Korean war.

Fire Victims

Mrs. Joe B. Berry, Jr., holds her four-year-old daughter Mary Lee, heavily bandaged, who suffered second degree burns when their suburban frame home burned to the ground at Marietta, Ga., Jan. 8. Mary Lee and her brother, Joe (left), three, were rescued from the blazing house by their grandfather.

Indiana Governor Accepts Williams' Camp Grayling Offer

LANSING — (AP) — Governor Henry F. Schricker of Indiana has accepted Governor Williams' offer of the use of Camp Grayling by the Indiana National Guard this summer if they need it.

"We are most grateful for your neighborly interest in our problem," wrote Governor Schricker, "and if our division should go to Camp Grayling, I will make it a point to be there for at least a day during the training period. I would be most happy to have you join me in reviewing our troops at that time."

The Indiana National Guard training area at Camp Atterbury is being used by the Army.

Alger Promises Clamps On Auto 'Gray Market'

LANSING — (AP) — Stricter enforcement of all regulations to prevent an automobile "gray market" was promised today by Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., today.

"We don't want to get tough," Alger said, "but we can't be as lenient as before."

Alger served notice of the policy at a meeting of new and used car dealers and manufacturers representatives held in Lansing.

"I don't want you to be stool pigeons," he told the dealers, "but if you know of any violations I want you to inform my department. I want to caution everyone to abide by the letter and spirit of the laws governing car sales."

The car dealers agreed to appoint a committee to study the "gray market" problem and to report to Alger with recommendations. That was about the only agreement of the session.

New car dealers blamed the car dealers and the public for creating the problem of illegal sales.

The licensed used car dealers blamed "curbstomping car dealers," the new car dealers and the public.

The car manufacturers said they did not consider the business their problem and declared that it was up to the state to enforce its laws to prevent car chiseling.

Ray Williams, representing the Flint used car dealers, showed around a copy of a resolution he said his group will present to the legislature asking strict policing of new car sales.
