Campus Chest 'Kickoff' Starts Annual Drive

By LORRAINE BROWN

Effective salesmen must have a firm conviction of the worth of their product and a smile on their faces. F. A. McCartney, board member of the Ingham county United Community Chest fund, said last night.

McCartney spoke at the kick-off banquet of the Campus Chest drive in People's church. His talk was aimed directly to the solicitors for the drive.

Campus Chest workers already have the other two requirements of good salesmen, a good product and a good field, McCartney said.

Part of the responsibility of Campus Chest is to carry this responsibility to the entire student body.

McCartney also stressed the important part student groups play in the hopes for the future. Many things that have become part of our life had their beginning in campus.

Duel Purpose Carl Mottek, executive director of Campus Chest, was master of ceremonies for the event. He explained that the banquet had a dual purpose, to show appreciation for the workers and to make sure all solicitors know exactly what Campus Chest is.

The banquet was sponsored by the college YMCA and YWCA.

Last Vet Show Planned Today

The Ingham county Red Cross will take the last student talent of the team to Percy Jones army hospital tonight.

Thirteen students will go directly into the hospital wards to entertain the wounded veterans. A trio, comedy act, an accordionist, individual singers and a pianist will highlight the entertainment.

Williams Requests $875,000 Increase

New Library Proposal Receives Cool Reception by Legislature

By ARNOLD SPILLAN

Governor Williams asked the legislature yesterday to add $875,000 to his proposed $9 million 1951-52 general operating budget for MSC. President Hannah promptly stated the amount simply would not be enough to continue to operate the educational program on current levels.

At the same time disclosure of legislative sentiment against appropriating funds for a new college library "deeply disappointed" President Hannah. He described present facilities as a severe handicap, one that grows more embarrassing with every year.

Williams gave top priority to the college's library needs in his January capital outlay requests, calling for $1,250,000 for the first year's work on the structure.

The governor's general budget requests of January provided a minimum and maximum budget for state supported colleges and universities, because of grave uncertainties in world affairs.

He recommended use of a sliding scale appropriation between these limits, depending on enrollment figures.

Behind Williams' request yesterday was a meeting with legislators last Friday at which they expressed their dissatisfaction with his plan and the uncertainty they believed it added to budget balancing problems.

Williams then recommended that "the higher rather than lower enrollment figures be used as a basis for appropriations."

MSC's proposed increase includes funds for the revised enrollment estimate and to improve the "claimed differential between faculty salary scales at Michigan State College and those of comparable institutions."

Dr. Hannah stated, "The recognition by the governor that staff and faculty salaries are not adequate is appreciated, because we have been trying to make that point with budget directors, governors and legislators for many years."

Not Realistic "Unfortunately his recommendation that $125,000 of the proposed appropriation be allocated to token equalization of faculty salaries is not realistic, because the total recommended appropriation, and more, will be required to meet expenses at current rates and costs."

"There simply would not be $125,000 to spare for increasing faculty salaries," stated the president.

He added, "We estimated our requirements honestly at $11,150,300."

The general operating budget does not include funds for agriculture.

The Blood Not Given

Students gave more blood than ever before in the APO blood drive last week. The men of APO worked hard on the drive. They were well rewarded by the response. Red Cross personnel also worked long hours to put the drive across.

But there were a few pints of blood that the Red Cross didn't get. The blood unit in the Union ping pong room closed too soon.

Although the administrative director of the regional Red Cross blood service and the APO drive chairman wanted to keep the unit open longer, the doctor in charge insisted that it be closed, in one instance, 45 minutes earlier than previously announced.

The doctor had good reason for doing this. Regulations say he can not get paid for more than six hours of this work every day. The announced time would have kept him on the job almost seven hours—probably more than that with last minute donations and the clean-up work.

He was also thinking of the Red Cross nurses and nurses' aides who needed to rest after six busy hours even though they were willing to work longer.

But there were many people working on the blood drive who got only token payment or no pay at all. And most important, there was blood which wasn't given.

The center in Lansing is still open. Students can and should go down there. But will they? The spring weather, classes, and other real or imagined excuses are big obstacles.

There will be another blood drive at MSC in the near future. Officials feel that many more students will donate blood which is badly needed both in Korea and at home.

But will the students who were turned away the first time come back? We're afraid not. Before the Red Cross comes again, they should work out a system whereby all students can be accommodated.

The Communications Lack

The examination schedule has been changed. Students with morning classes must take their exams later this term. They have griped about it. Why? It's the same old thing.

The same old thing is a lack of proper communication between the faculty and students. If students had known about the change earlier there probably would have been no gripe. They didn't, and they have a gripe coming.

The change was made by the scheduling committee, composed of personnel from several of the schools. It was made mainly because instructors who always have their exams last faced every term with a last minute rush to get marks in.

The idea is to spread the last minute rush around. This reason is valid. The examination schedule is, after all, not a constant factor. It is announced every term in case there are any changes.

But the change is poor for students who set up their schedule so their exams could be over early this term. They should have known about it earlier.

The whole problem could have been solved if the change had been announced last term. The reason for the change is not important. The manner the change was announced is.

A notice sent with the grades would have been all that was needed. It all amounts to a small point of consideration. The change will probably affect only a few students. But a little forethought in the future will save a lot of complaining.

Taft Stand Reversed on MacArthur

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Copyright, 1951, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

There's one familiar gentleman about town who has jumped clear out of character, at least as we've known him from a long time back. The MacArthur episode has furnished the backdrop for that.

Reference is to Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

We had come to regard the senator as sort of an old-fashioned, home-grown man of peace, abhorrent of military gestures and very sceptical of the military mind and type which, as we have listened to him, should be kept in its place, keeping pretty quiet, and close under the thumb of the civilian government at all times and places.

Now, Senator Taft has clutched at the MacArthur star—after a few hours' deliberation, to be sure—and rapidly has been talking himself into a state of belligerency that is strange to behold.

He is almost shouting the troops forward in China—Chiang Kai-Shek's from Formosa, not ours—but knowing it would take a heap of American navy and equipment to get them to the mainland, and is crying for our own bombers, manned by American aviators, to bomb Manchuria.

It must be said, in fairness, that the senator long ago joined the "Formosa-firsters" who were for using Chiang's troops, which was quite surprising then.

But now he's demanding American bombers and the nuances of his frequent belligerent speeches give the impression he's calling for all-out war on all China, and right now.

All this is in contrast with his continually dim view, from way back, about every move to aid Europe, economically or militarily. He was against the Atlantic pact, saying it was an invitation to Russia to strike.

But now he is for an overt attack on China, with Chinese soldiers under our wing and our bombers striking far and wide. He says with magnificent and calm assurance that "the bombing of Manchurian bases is certainly nothing that would set off a new war."

Only a short time ago Senator Taft was very active in the attempt to restrict the President in sending troops to Europe, insisting on specific approval from congress. But presumably he does not follow the same rule about sending troops to China.

To confuse it further, the senator denounces the joint chiefs of staff with a reckless charge that they are subservient to the president and berates them, in effect, for not taking the bit into their own teeth. And the senator so previously outspoken about the military mind being too strong an influence in our government.

But, for the real confounder, take the senator's most recent outburst in which, in one breath, he demands "a more aggressive war in Asia" and, in the next, demands that $20,000,000,000 be lopped off our military budget and the size of our armed forces be half a million less than now planned.

The Dean's List

Nostalgia

By Dean Wakefield

I was deeply engrossed in that fine old art of loafing yesterday, when the type of nostalgic feeling that permeates a person's soul every so often gripped me.

Oh, for the good old days!

I wasn't thinking of any particular era, so I began to look through some 1914 copies of the Holead, The State News of the time.

The first thing that hit me was the writing in the paper. Under a headline that read: "Spartan's Toe Wins for Michigan 3 to 0" came a deck saying "Victory for the Wolverines Comes after Being Sadly Outplayed by M.A.C. One Minute More in Second Quarter and Aggies Would Have Scored Touchdown."

The body of the story went on to tell of the "titanic struggle . . . which sent twelve thousand mad spectators into alternate spasms of joy and sadness."

Then, thinking of my empty billfold, I began to look at the advertisements in the sheet.

My income bracket throbbled as I gazed at the name brands of suits and overcoats priced at $18 to $25. All shirts were listed at one-dollar; hats at $1.50 and sweaters at one dollar to $7.50.

At the same time shoes were priced from $2.50 to $6.

Theater tickets were at the ridiculous high of 10 cents. The Garden theater was running a show of "Keystone Comedies." Can't you see the kiddies flocking in, clutching shiny dimes in their grimy hands to see Charlie Chaplin in "A 2-reel Scream?"

Then, come the jokes; good for a laugh 35 years ago, maybe, but not the sort of thing The Spartan would dream of stealing. Typical of the daring side-splitters is the one that goes (and I quote):

"They were sailing when the wind died away, leaving them becalmed. The young man urged his fair companion to whistle for some wind. (I can picture a sailor asking a sweet young thing to whistle in a case like this.)

"Oh, no," she said archly; there's no telling what you will do when I get my lips puckered up." (Wow! 'I won't do anything at all,' he promised. (Fool!) 'Well,' she returned, 'then I won't whistle.'"

Down girl!

I don't think it was funny either, but if it finds its way into the Spartan, well . . .

They had a J-Hop in those days, too. It was held in the Masonic temple in Lansing. It was a somewhat bigger affair in those days, consisting of everything from a five course dinner to colored lantern lighting.

Open houses were as common as today. Local fraternities were more common than nationals at the time, but for the J-Hop the Columbians, the Olympics, the Atheneums, and the Eclectics went all out on entertainment.

The enrollment of the college hit 1,400 along about this time. Student interest in elections was a little higher, for nearly half the student body went to the polls in the spring elections of 1915.

I don't know about you, but I think those days are gone forever. Maybe it's better that way.

Indiana Opossum Gets 'Rush'

Things are tough all over, even for opossums. Even the ones trying to be friendly are getting the bum's rush.

The Indiana Daily Student reports that one of the animals showed up at a Sigma Kappa pledge dance recently, and despite the fact that he behaved peaceably, the Sigma Kappas were thrown into a furor.

They finally decided to do away with ceremony and tossed the guest out a window.

Just in case any opossums invade the MSC campus, here's how to get rid of the little animals.

Get a can large enough to hold him. One person pushes from behind, and another holds the tin can. Result—canned 'possum. Not recommended for eating, but there are possibilities for a trophy if he's captured in a glass jar so he can be seen.

How Can You Tell a Real American?

The Hemlock Cup, Allegany college, Pa., recently published the following editorial: "Awareness! Awareness! Why? We've been shouting about the thing for a whole year now . . . This is a great country, the land of the free and the home of the brave. Look at Lincoln. He had the goodies. He was an American."

"Look at L'il Abner . . . He's an honest to goodness American. How can you tell an American? By the smell? No! By the taste? No! By the way he combs his hair? Sometimes. By the color of the tie he wears? Yes! The good old red, white, and blue in regimentals."

Learned Enough?

Maybe learning how to write isn't such a good idea after all.

According to the Daily Texan, a student decided to try out the writing style he had been taught in business writing class. So he wrote a letter in correct style to his class board asking for a clarification of his status with the selective service system.

The board answered by return mail. "In answer to your recent letter," report for induction May 23.

Football Team Split for Green-White Tilt

Michigan State grid fans will get a preview of the 1951 Spartan grid machine in the annual Green-White clash Saturday at Macklin field.

The intra-squad game marks the finish of six weeks of stiff practice and will be the first time that football has taken part in the sports scene this spring.

Divisions for each team have been made and the roster for either side boasts top flight players.

Coach "Biggie" Munn's only comment was that "it will be a real good football game." He will not be coaching either team during the game but will view proceedings from opposite sides during each half.

Immediately following the game a trophy will be awarded to the game's outstanding player.

The trophy, which was given for the first time last year, is about two feet tall and inscribed on it are the words: "MSC. Calhoun county alumni trophy awarded to the outstanding performer of the annual spring football game."

Spartan All-American Everett "Sonny" Grandelius won the honor last year.

Coach Munn's office released the rosters for the game yesterday, the names and positions of the players are as follows:

White Team

Backs: Wilson, Parin, Bolden, Wells, Duckett, Slonac, Smith, Thrower, Timmerman, Corless, Ellis, McMacken, Neely, Hovanesian, Bruske, Frankel, Gagalas, Gustafson, Hives, Koboski, Miller, Spielmaker and Weinert.

Ends: Graham, Bobo, Mazza, Luke, Reed, Tyksinski, Edwards and Flynn.

Linemen: Klein, Frank, Baer, Hallmark, Skoric, Morgan, Horrell, Kush, Kuh, Hughes, Tamburo, Sackrider, Greniewicki, Stevens, Osborn, Jebb, Murphy, Gourdie, Gutshall, Holbeck, Kephart, Neilson, Vollen, Crawford and Serr.

Coaching staff: Hugh Daugherty, Steve Sebo, "Sonny" Grandelius, George Smith, Hal Volger, Kent Esbaugh and Dale Thomas.

Green Team

Backs: Dorow, Benson, Vogt, McAuliffe, Lekenta, Cutler, Yewic, Jones, Fate, Boyd, Benjamin, Brogan, Phillips, Pisano, Fracassa, Holcomb, Humphrey and Jonas.

State Nine Clips Iowa in Wild Slugfest, 12-9

With a clean sweep over Iowa in their two-game series, the Spartan baseball team will play host to the Fighting Irish Wednesday.

Playing for the first time in Big Ten competition the Spartans won the first tilt by an 8-5 margin and blasted out a 12-9 win in Saturday's return contest.

Both teams had their hitting shoes on in the second game as the Spartans blasted Iowa pitcher Glenn Drabn for 13 hits and 12 runs. The Hawkeyes clipped two State hurlers for 10 hits and nine runs. Errors proved to be the Spartans' downfall.

Iowa Scores First
Iowa combined two singles, a walk and two wild pitches to jump into an early 3-0 lead in the second inning.

Two fine running catches by centerfielder Vince Magi and rightfielder Darrell Lindley ended the Iowa scoring.

State got one of these runs back in their half of the second when Bob Ciolek stole home after starting the inning with a double and going to third on an outfield fly.

Tom Lawson, who relieved starting pitcher Bob Dangel, came on to pitch for the Spartans in the third and in his first appearance since the southern trip struck out the side.

Spartans Score Five
State's big bats boomed in the third as they put the game on ice. The Spartans collected four hits and took advantage of an Iowa error to push across five runs.

Iowa narrowed the margin in the fourth with two runs but State came back with another run in their half of the inning.

In the sixth MSC scored three more times on two hits. The big blast of the inning came when shortstop Joe Rivich caught an outside curve ball and dropped it over the left field fence at the 365 foot marker.

In the top of the ninth Iowa threatened to tie the score. With two out and the tying run at the plate, Drabn flew meekly to centerfield ending the game. Lawson received credit for his first win of the regular season.

The two wins over Iowa firmly entrenched the Spartans in second place in the Western conference.

Spartan Netters Extend Shutout Streak to Five

Consecutive shutout-win number five of the regular season was in the book Saturday as the MSC tennis squad blanked Notre Dame, 9-0.

The Spartans swept through the Irish with the loss of only one set to continue their sizzling pace. Previous victims in this impressive shutout streak have been Wayne, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Purdue.

The match at South Bend was the last of a three-day road trip. The meeting with Michigan on Thursday was rained out while on Friday, State whipped Purdue.

Spartan Lose to Mumps
Singles starter Ken Kimble was the only casualty of the trip. He came down with a case of mumps at Lafayette and had to be left at the Purdue infirmary. The immediate effect of Ken's exposure to other team members is not known, but a number of fingers are crossed.

The win over Notre Dame was another "team" victory, with no individual standout. Coach Tom Martin has been very pleased with the all-around play of his team.

Capt. Len Brose started things off by whipping Ken Angyal, 6-2, 6-1. Dave Mills beat Ray Smith 6-4, 6-4, while John Sahratian won over Pat Tonti, 6-1, 6-4.

Keith Kimble stopped Herb Howe, 6-3, 6-3, and Dick Rieger beat Tom Overholser, 6-4, 6-2. Doug Carley, replacing Ken Kimble, completed singles play by winning over John Massicotte, 6-4, 6-2.

Suffer Loss of Set
The number one doubles team of Brose and Sahratian suffered the only set loss of the day, but came on to beat Angyal and Smith, 6-8, 6-1, 7-5.

Golfers Net Second Win from Tough UofD Squad

The Michigan State golf team dropped the University of Detroit team, 17-10, yesterday afternoon in a home match at the Walnut Hills country club.

This was the second time that U. of D. golfers have lost to MSC in the last week.

Carl Mossack was top man for the Spartan contingent with a 74 in the singles to take 2 1/2 points from Titan Tony Novitski.

Jack Zink, who up to yesterday's match was the leading State golfer with a 72 average, lost two out of three points to Don Nelson. Nelson had a 75 while Zink scored 76.

Bill Hills shot a 78 and took three points from Paul VanLoon. Capt. Don Perne lost all three points to Titan Mike Andonian. Andonian outshot him 76 to 80. Roy Leberg also took 2 1/2 points from the MSC team in singles play. He shot a 76 to defeat Dick Bishop, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Reggie Myles was another three point winner for the Spartans. He also had a 76.

In doubles play the Spartan team swept eight of a possible nine points.

Over the last weekend the Michigan State team split in a triangular Big Ten match. Michigan and Illinois provided the opposition.

Michigan swept to victory over both the Spartans and the Illinois. MSC salvaged some glory as they easily defeated Illinois.

Larry Snyder, the Buckeye's veteran pilot. The prize pupil Lenny Truex.

Truex is almost a sure bet. He has won 880 championships in the Big Ten.

Truex has been regarded as the Big Ten's 100 yard dasher, taking a big gamble and is going to enter him in the 220 and 440 yard dashes.

In his first test Saturday, Truex was racking up twin killings. He kept on winning. Snyder could easily be right.

Truex's squad is much better outdoors than indoors. He doesn't consider his team as serious contenders for the title. He picked Illinois as a top heavy favorite to win the indoor crown, but both Snyder and Truex stated.

Truex beat Michigan State's two distance men, Don Dretzler and Don Makielaki, in the 880 and 1,100 yard dashes. Snyder beat Truex in the 100 yard dash.

Office Building Work Stopped; Wait Decision

Reconstruction work on the State Office building stopped yesterday pending a decision by the legislature on a method for repair.

Three methods of restoration have been suggested for the building which burned Feb. 8.

1. Complete repair of the structure.

2. Cutting off the two upper stories of the building and repairing the remaining six by modernizing them to save space.

3. Constructing a complete new building.

Proposal two has been recommended by state building officials so that a maximum amount of space could be utilized at a minimum cost.

Commenting on the work stopped, A. N. Langius, state building director, said: "We have gone as far as we can go without some definite decision from the legislature."

Even after the legislature acts on their decision, it will take 90 days before any firm can be given a contract to start work on the building again.

On the other hand, state engineers are putting the finishing touches on plans for a new state office building which would be built directly behind the capital.

Langius stated that the proposed building, part of the capital development project, must have federal approval granting priority materials before the project can be undertaken.

'Previews of Progress' Engineers Sponsor Exposition, Parade

A two-day program including displays, a science show, and a parade is planned by the Engineering council for High School Seniors' Parents' day weekend, May 11 and 12.

The annual Engineering exposition will bring the U.S. air force, General Motors, Dow Chemical company and other industrial firms to the campus.

Student displays as well as the professional programs will be viewed by visitors to the campus, Verne Nelson, exposition chairman, said yesterday.

The Parade of Wheels, scheduled for May 12 at 12:30 p.m. will show the newest and oldest in motor cars, armored equipment, motorcycles, and a new "Eager Beaver," an amphibious army vehicle that drives across river bottoms and runs on lands.

The U.S. air force will show continuous movies on air force base construction and beach-head landings during World War II on a panoramic machine—a continuous motion picture device.

Highlighting the exposition will be the General Motors science show achievements of American scientists.

The show, "Previews of Progress," will be staged in room 111 Olds hall on May 11 at 3 and 8 p.m., and on May 12 at 10:30 a.m. and immediately following the Green and White game.

Although principally a western event, the spruce budworm occasionally invades the eastern and lake states.

Greeks, YMCA Sponsor Contests for Lansing Boys

A marble tournament and track meet for elementary schools in the Lansing area is being sponsored jointly by thirteen fraternities, and the East Lansing and Lansing Y.M.C.A.'s.

Each fraternity participating is sending a committee to the school it is sponsoring and building a track and marble team, according to Louis Hekhuis, assistant Y.M.C.A. director.

The schools are divided into three classes for the track meets: middle, junior, and senior. The marble tournament is divided into only junior and senior classes.

The first, second, and third place winners of each track event in each division of the marble tournament will gather for an inter-school meet to be held at Jenison track and fieldhouse on May 19.

Winners at the inter-school meet will receive ribbons for first, second and third places. Hekhuis said there will be close to 1,000 boys participating.

Stations to Carry Fraternity Sing

The Alpha Phi Omega sponsored fraternity sing, scheduled May 10 at 8 p.m. in the bandshell, will be broadcast over three radio stations, Jerry Stevens, sing chairman, announced yesterday.

WKAR, East Lansing, will carry the entire program, and WJIM Lansing, and WGFG, Kalamazoo, will rebroadcast portions of the show, he said.

Intermission entertainment will be provided by the Jazz club. Coeds will receive late permissions of 30 minutes after the program.

Mexican Prints Displayed in Union

A display of 30 lithographic prints on Mexican art by Prof. Emilio Amaro, of the University of Oklahoma, is being presented this week in the Union art room.

Amaro is recognized as a leading Mexican artist of lithographic prints and frescos. A showing of his prints was held recently in New York city.

Farm Job Training Program Slated

A farm cooperative job training program will be set up this summer by the Agriculture Economics club in connection with the Michigan Association of Farmer Cooperatives.

College credit will be offered for the 10 week program, Richard Easterday, Reading junior, stated. On the job, training will include mixing live stock feed, truck delivery, grain handling, work in a warehouse and a co-op office.

Students interested in the program should contact Dr. Karl Wright, room 38 of Ag hall.
