MSC Glee Club Plans Varied Concert Tour

Twelve hundred miles to travel in eight days and 16 concerts. That is the goal of the MSC Men's Glee Club as they prepare for their third annual concert tour of Michigan.

Highlighting the tour this year will be a radio broadcast over the Mutual Broadcasting System and a television broadcast, the Alumni office announced today. A varied program including the classics, featuring two vocal ensembles, a quartet, and a group plus "Spartan Varieties," a variety act, is being planned for the tour.

A tentative itinerary has been set which includes concerts at Battle Creek, Port Huron, Saginaw, Bay City, Westland, Tawas City, Alpena, Cheboygan, Gaylord and Mt. Pleasant.

Tuxedos will be available for loan to club members in time for the spring concert tour. William Davidson, director of the Glee Club, said today.

Alumni and friends are donating the tuxedos for each performance. The club members will make the tour by bus, and will be in private homes of alumni clubs throughout Michigan.

Alumni clubs throughout Michigan have planned dinner parties for the club's tour. As they have had in the past, the club members agree to the concert tour is one event forward to each year.

In addition to the concert tour, the club has scheduled other concerts for the year. Under the direction of F. MacFiel, assistant professor of voice instruction in the Department.

The most recent addition to the Publications Row is the "Spartan" Engineer, which moved into its new location on the third floor of the Union building.

Published primarily for the students of physics, math, science, engineering majors, its highlights back before the second World War.

During the war years it was published, but it has appeared only since 1947.

Most of its material is written by students. However, faculty members and industry men contribute stories. It is sent to all accredited high schools, colleges, and junior colleges in the state and is one of the leading publications in the Midwest.

The first issue is slated to come out during the first week in November. Positions are now available for physics, math, science, and engineering majors.

Phi Deltas Get Probation for Violation

Phi Delta Theta fraternity was placed on social probation yesterday for violation of social rules, according to Tom King, dean of students.

No further reason was given for the action.

King said the fraternity would be on probation for the remainder of fall term. Though the fraternity has been placed on probation it has not been placed under strict probation.

According to William Plant, fraternity president, only the rights to hold parties and participate in athletics have been denied.

Rushing will be allowed, he said.

The fraternity president said that he and house residents were satisfied with Dean King's ruling, and that he would make no comment.

He did say that the fraternity would have to live up to college rules, adding that it might have been somewhat lax during the summer.

Allies Urge Koreans to Cease Fire

TOKYO—AP—An Allied helicopter delivered a message at sunset Tuesday urging the Communists to meet again today and try to arrange resumption of the Korean armistice talks.

The helicopter left the advanced United Nations camp at Munsan, Korea, for the Communist outpost at Panmunjom eight and one-half hours after Communists liaison officers strode angrily from a meeting with their Allied counterparts at Kaesong.

The message, signed by Col. Andrew J. Kinney, senior Allied liaison officer, was sent under instructions from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander. It said:

"Despite your unilateral action in recessing the meeting today and your abrupt departure therefrom, I am prepared to meet with you today at 10 a.m. to discuss conditions mutually satisfactory for resumption of the armistice talks."

Housing Facilities No More Crowded Than Last Year's

Michigan State College housing facilities are no more crowded than last year. However, placing women in dormitories has been especially difficult, according to Director of Housing Richard A. Gear.

At this time there are approximately 90 women students in short course dorms, but they are expected to be moved to other dormitories within the next few days.

Rooms for men of campus are scarce. Few double rooms and even less single rooms are available.

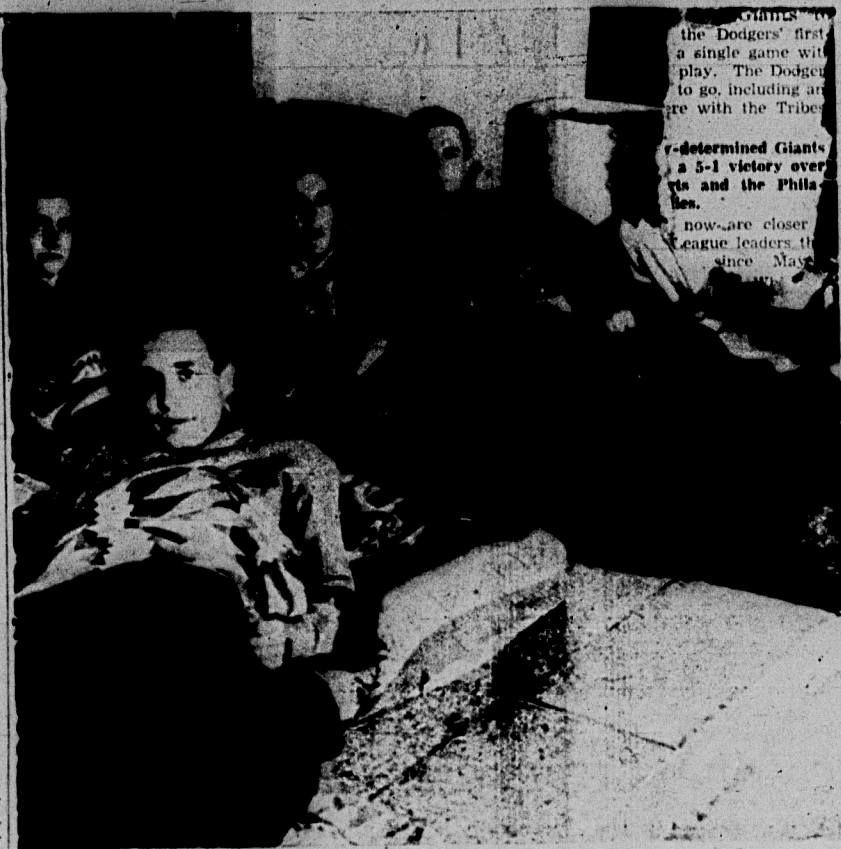

All women's co-ops are full, while the men's co-ops are almost filled. Housing for married students is occupied with the exception of some of the barracks, trailers, and expandable trailers.

Bagwell Appointed to C of C Group

Prof. Paul D. Bagwell, head of the Written and Spoken English Department, has been appointed to the National Chamber of Commerce committee on international, political and social problems.

A former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Bagwell will serve on the national committee during the 1951-1952 fiscal year, the organization's Washington headquarters announced Monday. He is a member of the Lansing Chamber.

All Through the Night

Council Head Tells Students To Keep Grand River Clear

With the Michigan game only three days away, a bit of advice was issued by the Student Government yesterday. "Stay off Grand River," a familiar saying to upper-classmen, is again the motto this year, said Gaylord Sheets, Student Government president, as he looked over plans for the pep rally Friday night.

"I urge everyone to remember that the college and the Student Government are held responsible for anything the students do. Let's all have a good time but not be carried away and cause a lot of trouble," Sheets said.

Last year following the Michigan game pep rally several hundred students swarmed on to Grand River and disrupted traffic for two hours. A couple of policemen were injured and 10 students arrested when the celebration turned into a riot.

Because of the seriousness of the offense the 10 students were placed on strict social probation by Dean of Students, Tom King. Sheets said that this should not happen again since enough activities are planned after the rally to keep the students occupied. He then added that Phi Kappa Tau and Beta Theta Pi are cooperating with the Student Government in holding the Delta Street Shuffle immediately after the rally.

The queen candidates will meet for a contest rehearsal at 7 o'clock in the Spartan office. All candidates are urged to attend.

Alumnus Awarded Engineering Prize

A Michigan State College alumnus will be presented with the first place award in the first annual Henry Ford Trophy competition for junior engineers in Ford Auditorium, Dearborn, Oct. 1.

He is Ralph S. Parks, who received his M.S. degree in mechanical engineering from MSC in 1950. The award will be made for his paper on "Adaptation of the Gas Turbine to the Automobile."

Parks is a Lansing resident, employed by Ford Motors Inc. The competition is held annually among junior engineers for their writings on constructive work on the future design of automobiles.

ONLY TWO EACH, GALS

Man Shortage Hits 'S' Coeds

By ROSEMARY CORCORAN
MSC coeds face the dire prospect of having only about two-and-one-half men each to choose from in the coming year, according to figures released by the registrar's office.

Preliminary figures compiled during the official four-day registration period show that men outnumber women 8,907 to 4,964. Sharp hopes that the predicted 535 short course and late registrants expected would up the ratio dimmed when the percentage of married men was computed.

Varied reactions were shown by students interviewed on the subject.

"Finally men will get a chance to live a little," Ronald Roache, Detroit sophomore exclaimed, but Nancy Howlett, Jackson sophomore retorted with, "We're not any more worried than we were before."

"Stub" Farwell, Flint senior noted "Met a very nice freshman man the other day." But Bob Howard, Detroit freshman thinks "It'll lower the point average."

Seniors Asked to Sign With Placement Office

All senior and graduate students who will complete their courses between now and next fall are requested to register with the placement office.

Because of late deliveries only 2300 forms have been distributed as yet. All of these should be filled out and returned by Oct. 1. Various companies and organizations will send representatives to interview prospective employees from this date through June.

About 2500 men and women received help in finding jobs through the placement office last year. The shortage of people with technical training is severe. This fact enables these students to pick the job best suited to their tastes.

Miller to Attend Manpower Convo

Dean Lorin G. Miller of the MSC School of Engineering will meet with other educators and government officials in Pittsburgh, Pa., Friday, to discuss ways of relieving the shortage of engineers.

The Engineering Manpower Commission of the War Manpower Commission will try to make plans for the best use of technical men in the national emergency.

ROTC Drill Team to Hold Meeting

Spartan Guard, freshman and sophomore ROTC honorary, will hold its first meeting of the term at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Demonstration Hall.

The Spartan Guard drill team performed at the Coronation Ball, Green and White football game, Holland Thump Festival and graduation last year. Membership is open to all freshmen and sophomores in ROTC interested in precision drill.

Students to Lose Carelessly Used ID Activity Cards

"Careless handling or misuse of the activity identification card will result in denial of its use to the owner for the rest of the term," Paul V. Rumpas, chief accountant of the Comptroller and Treasurer's Office, said today.

He defined careless handling as "leaving the identification card where it can be used by another person illegally." Neither the card nor the activity book is transferable, Rumpas pointed out.

The identification card entitles its owner to free admission to most athletic events, the lecture-concert series, and the world travel series. For hockey games students are given reduced prices.

Rumpas added that misuse of an identification card may lead to disciplinary action by the dean of students.

U. S. Wins Marathon Jet Battle

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—AP—U.S. fighters, outnumbered more than two to one, Monday humbled Communist planes in history's longest jet battle.

Pilots reported they knocked five Russian-made MIG-15S from the skies and damaged five more without loss to themselves. It also was one of the largest aerial battles of the entire Korean War.

Around Allied troops seized a commanding peak west of "Heartbreak Ridge" on the eastern front. In the west, and center, United Nations patrols ran up against bitter resistance.

Thirty-seven swift American Sabre Jets took on 80 MIG-15S in the aerial battle over North-western Korea.

The battle, ranging up to heights of 35,000 feet, lasted only 35 minutes. But it was enough to set a record for length in the brief history of jet warfare. The longest previous was a 30-minute battle Sept. 3.

YMCA to Hold Kickoff Dinner

This year's YMCA program will be launched tonight at a kickoff banquet in the Forestry Cabin at 6:30 p.m.

Harold Spornberg, assistant director of the Placement Bureau and a member of the YMCA Advisory Board, will speak on "Opportunities for Leadership Through the College YMCA." Executive Secretary Lester Dobyns will talk on "YMCA in Student Life."

New members will be welcomed at the banquet by John Clingerman, YMCA vice-president. Plans for the year will be presented to old and new members and the Advisory Board at the banquet, John King, YMCA president, stated.

Between 75 and 100 members are expected to attend this first meeting of the Spartan YMCA.

Spartan Open House Slated

The Spartan, MSC humor magazine, will hold an open house tonight at 7 in the Spartan office, third floor, Union.

First open house ever held by the Spartan, it is designed to acquaint students with all steps of production of the humor magazine. Cartoon and actual materials will be featured at the event, with Spartan staff artists on hand to draw caricatures for visitors.

The open house is aimed both at students who want to know what they get for their money and how their magazine is put together. We also hope to encourage new students to come and work on the magazine," Editor Ken Duncan said.

Photographers

Photographers with their own cameras are needed to take pictures for the State News. Any photographers interested should come to the State News office today or tomorrow.

MSC President Criticizes Lack of 'Basic Principles'

President John A. Hannah criticized American foreign policy Tuesday noon in a talk before a convention of the National Association of Food Chains in Washington, D. C., and called for a return to "old-fashioned patriotism."

MSC Alumni Plan October Homecoming

Alumni plans for MSC's annual Homecoming the weekend of Oct. 26 were recently announced by the director of alumni relations, Starr Keeler.

The Alumni Advisory Council, made up of alumni representatives from all parts of the U.S., will meet Oct. 26 while the various club presidents will convene in Kellogg Center at 1 p.m. the same afternoon.

Both groups will unite for dinner that night. Registration for all alumni will be held at tables in the Union Friday and Saturday.

Oct. 26 plans also include meetings in the Hotel Olds ballroom for men alumni, sponsored by the Central Michigan Alumni Club and in the East Room for alumnae sponsored by the Spartan Alumnae Club of Greater Lansing.

Club Carnival Scheduled for Stadium Oct. 11

The Activity Carnival will be held this year on Oct. 11. The Carnival, was originated four years ago to give MSC students who were not participating in extra-curricular activities a chance to get into the swing of events. It is designed to show students what activities are available to participate in, and to help them decide what activity they are most suited for.

Heading the Carnival this year is Edna Wolter, Flint junior. Exhibits will line Macklin Stadium concourse, representing all phases of college activities including music groups, photographers, actors and many other societies on campus.

Cards will be granted 11 p.m. permissions to attend the Carnival.

Spartan Sells Out

The Spartan's October issue, featuring the "Little Man on Campus," sold over 4,000 copies in seven hours yesterday breaking all previous records, John Greenberg, circulation manager, announced yesterday.

A limited number of magazines are being held to fill subscriptions. Students may turn in their coupons at the Spartan office to receive their magazines.

Tickets Distributed

Student tickets for the joint concert by Patrice Munsel and Brian Sullivan will be distributed today at the second floor checkroom of the Union, starting at 1 p.m.

Up to four activity books may be presented for tickets.

A Small Cheer

Upperclassmen who for years have picked their way carefully across the boulevard intersection at Abbott Rd. permitted themselves a small cheer this fall.

The city of East Lansing laid new concrete walks across the boulevard this summer to replace the old asphalt walks which were always a maze of muddy puddles when it rained and a succession of ruts and cracks in dry weather.

The old traffic island which was a favorite perch for celebrants during the "stop traffic" pep rallies has been replaced by a much lower island with warning blinkers. The high curbs on the side of the boulevard walks have been filled with dirt to cover the roots of trees which were always splintered and bare before. Eventually this fill will be sodded or planted with bushes.

The improvements add up to a neater appearance and a safer existence as far as MSC students are concerned. Although there is still much to be desired in the way of traffic improvements in East Lansing, city officials have shown that they're attending to the details as well as the larger projects which the local traffic problem requires.

Form the Habit

Tomorrow morning, The State News will carry a story about this evening's Student Congress meeting. Unless you attend the meeting personally, it might be well to read the newspaper account of the proceedings.

No group on campus needs your support more than the Student Government. In other years, their words and actions have been rather lightly passed over by the student body.

This may be their big chance to become a responsible voice in student affairs. Student Government has a new constitution, a new method of procedure, enthusiastic new workers and experienced student leaders. Only one ingredient for success is missing — student interest.

Student Government workers are trying hard enough to win campus friends and influence people with their worth. Witness the pep rally and student mixer dance last weekend. In announcing future plans, group spokesmen stress the new policy of projects "for and with the student."

Tonight the Congress (legislative section) will meet for the first time this fall term. They'll meet every week until vacation. In addition, the judicial and executive branches will be in session, as will a dozen committees. It's a fact that something done in one of these forthcoming meetings will affect you.

Why not keep abreast of Student Government affairs from here on in? If you begin tomorrow, you'll be forming a two-way habit. Keeping informed will aid your interests, and no group needs your support more than MSC Student Government.

My Papa Done Told Me

By Harman Graulich
State News Editor

The views expressed in this column are those of the editor and are not intended to convey the opinion of The Michigan State News.

"Go to college and be a football hero, son. You'll have your pick of any dollie on campus." That was sweet papa's parting words as I raced down Pitkin avenue to get a subway that would take me to Grand Central that would take me to Detroit that would take me to Lansing that would take me to E. Lansing. As bit complicated, but what the heck.

What it all boils down to is—I failed. That coach took one look at me and laughed. The players took one look at me and laughed. Even the water boy took one look at me and laughed. Soon the whole practice field was alive with laughter. Dejected, I left, never to return. It wasn't until years later that someone told me I had neglected to put on my uniform. But then it was too late, I had become an unathletic man about campus.

That's why I'm so bitter. I despise football heroes. In fact, hating anything in uniform has become practically a fetish with me in the past year. Just because they have the dubious distinction of having a nose which runs all over their face, why do they get all the femme fatales and I get none? Is there no justice? Surely there should be some type of organization where ace hop scotch players like me could grab themselves a queen. So what if I have trouble making my "threeses," I'm only human.

You must bear with me when I get like this. I don't mean to be cynical but at times there's no other way out. I guess there's nothing I can do about it. As long as there are football heroes there will always be sweet, petite, coeds to swoon across their paths in their own simulating obnoxious way.

Papa was right. Every time I go home he laughs at me. "Still without a date, son?" Sometimes I wonder if father dear isn't trusting his luck a bit too far. The other day I found out, by looking through his old college year book, that he never was on his school football team after all. In fact, he roared with hysterical laughter whenever he sauntered by. "Like father, like son," they say, but please dear God, overlook it just this once.

Groups Pressure Congress

By THOMAS L. STOKES
WASHINGTON — Congress has rarely in recent years been so effectively influenced by pressure groups as in this first session of the 82nd Congress now plodding along to finish its job, but with the end not yet clearly in sight.

Successful forays were made on several fronts. The farmers and allied interests, including beef growers, got theirs. Big corporate business, lush in profit, of all kinds, did nicely for itself, including its most powerful natural resource adjunct, oil.

All of this was reflected in many directions. For example, in special favors in the patched-up anti-inflation control law, the inadequacy of which Congress itself finally is confessing by eleventh-hour attempts at further repair. For another example, the still pending tax bill. That not only falls short of the revenue needed to put our defense program on a pay-as-you-go basis, but also imposes its levies at the expense of the small taxpayer and to the advantage of the big fellows.

Equal sacrifice for the nation's security gets lip service, but little else. That was aptly put during Senate debate on the tax bill by Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) who, after enumerating the many "gadgets" providing special favors for big taxpayers, said ironically:

"For the wage earner, this bill raises his taxes—with the only generous gadget one which will let him agree with his employers to withhold more taxes from his pay envelope."

What has happened in this Congress, in view of the national emergency, calls for some explanation. Basically, it would appear that selfish interests that are well financed and well organized, particularly back in the home constituencies, have exploited a confusion in Congress as to its aims and direction.

This Congress, had a task comparable to a "war" Congress—that is, the emphasis was in building up such a defense that the enemy would not attack but, if there were further aggressive moves, the defense would be sufficient to meet them.

Yet Congress never has quite seemed to make up its mind as to the nature and scope of the emergency, hemming and hawing, backing and filling, and, as we recall, arguing its indecisions with itself for months—before it really got down to work—in the two so-called "great debates." The first was on our military commitments to Western Europe which, many thought, long ago had been settled. The second, over the dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur and exploration of Far Eastern policy that roved far back into the past and its errors.

In partial expiation, at least, it may be pointed out that the confusion of Congress, which probably reflects that among our people, is understandable if regrettable. There is not the dynamic compulsion of an actual, big, all-out war. And in the war which is going on, that in Korea, which is frustrating enough of itself, the real "enemy" is veiled, but, nevertheless, it is that force, represented by Russia and her orbit, which is dominant in all our considerations. It is an ogre in the dark, so to speak, causing constant anxiety. For another thing, we are not yet easy in the operation of collective security in the

Loss of Morgan Alters Spartan Defensive Line

Coaches Seek Replacement; Team Prepares for U of M

By GEORGE WEEKS

There's no doubt about it being "Beat Michigan Week" on Spartan's secret practice field.

Before a rough scrimmage yesterday, MSC Coach Munn asked all the right men, this is your crack at Michigan, keep in mind. Munn remarked with this ringing in the gridders settled into the game of the week at Arbor Saturday.

Special attention was paid to the big hole made in the defensive line by the injury to tackle Jack Morgan. The red defenseman broke his leg in Monday's all-out scrimmage.

Mentor Duffy Daugherty, Knezevich, Joe Klein, Chuck Frank in an intense fight tackle spot. The replacements have much game experience. On the other hand, was starting letterman from last year, the 225-pound, six foot four, was also a morale booster. Morgan's loss was the second blow to the Michigan State defensive unit. Earlier in the week it was reported that Thomas, another rugged chairman of the defense, would be out for the season.

Other than Morgan, the squad is in top physical shape. According to trainer Jack Heppinstall, Ed Timmerman was discharged from the hospital following a cold. Bill Carey's ankle injury is on the mend, and Leo will have a cast on his leg that will enable him to action against the Wolverine.

Special importance during practice was the work on ball handling. The

Heavy Workouts Occupy Wolves as Opener Nears

ANN ARBOR—(AP)—Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan laded out an extra lot of heavy practice work here yesterday as he began in earnest to ready his squad for its 1951 debut Saturday against Michigan State College.

Chief emphasis was divided between a long defense scrimmage and a lengthy offensive workout. Defensively, the Wolverine varsity turned in a good performance against the white-shirted reserves that were simulating the Spartan attack.

Weakest point in the Wolverine defense seemed to be against passes with the reserves completing too many for Oosterbaan's satisfaction.

Offensively, it was a case of Michigan's second string backfield looking better than the No. 1 outfit. It was the passing of Don Eady, freshman tailback from Grand Rapids, that stood out as the No. 2 unit moved with more sharpness and precision.

Teaming with Eady were quarterback Don Zantania, fullback Don Peterson and wingback Wes Bradford.

Men interested in becoming baseball managers are to report to the varsity diamond, Old College Field, on Thursday, Sept. 27, at 4:30 p.m.

The Varsity Club will meet Wednesday, Sept. 26 at 7 p.m., in Room 33 or 34 of the Union Building. John Heppinstall will be the speaker.

Freshmen and sophomores interested in being football managers, report to Carl Johnson at the stadium this week between 3 and 4 in the afternoon.

Managers of touch football teams in the Independent and Fraternity Leagues will meet in Room 209, Jensen fieldhouse, on Wednesday, Sept. 26, at 5:15 p.m. All officials will also meet in Room 209, Jensen, Wednesday evening at 7:15.

Dodgers Drop Two; Giants Trail by One

BOSTON—(AP)—Brooklyn's heretofore boastful Dodgers, suddenly seized by panic, collapsed almost entirely last night while dropping a floodlighted doubleheader to the Boston Braves, 6-3 and 14-2.

Those shocking setbacks enabled the furiously driving New York Giants to whittle down the Dodgers' first-place lead to a single game with three more to play. The Dodgers still have five to go, including another pair here with the Tribesmen.

The grimly-determined Giants pounded out a 5-1 victory over Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Giants now are closer to the National League leaders than they have been since May 19. The relaxed Chicago White Sox just about shuffled out the flickering life left in Cleveland's pennant bid with a 4-2 win over the resting Indians in the Comiskey Park season finale.

Ted Gray gave up six hits and struck out 10—three of them in one inning—to give the Detroit Tigers a 2 to 0 decision over the St. Louis Browns. Washington's Bob Porterfield

Threat of another world war and the inability of the armed forces to procure enough officers will force ROTC students to do more practical work and concentrate on small unit tactics in the future.

"Students will now learn by actual experience as contrasted with the old formula where they learned mainly through textbooks," explained Captain Norman F. Muser, army public information officer.

Under the new program freshmen who enrolled in one of three battalions will be required to stay in their respective branches throughout the four year ROTC curriculum. However, some leniency will be shown by the department in exceptional cases where both the individual and the army will benefit by a change, Captain Muser added.

The need for this change was revealed when a number of former State students were called up and assigned overseas duty immediately without getting any refresher work in this country.

The new program will be launched by Col. Clarence C. Clendenen, ROTC commandant, and the following newly assigned men: Major Harold K. Reynolds, military police; Captain Howard L. Karnes, artillery; Captain Irvine C. Llewellyn, artillery; Captain Norman F. Muser, infantry; Captain Richard D. Redfern, artillery; Lt. Harris F. Beeman, infantry; Master Sergeant William T. Frost, armored; Master Sergeant John J. Romaka, ordnance; and Warrant Officer Junior Grade Albert Gebben.

Younger to Speak to Pre-Law Club

Paul Younger, Ingham county prosecutor, will speak at the opening meeting of the Pre-Law Club at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 4 in Room 33 of the Union. His subject will be "The County Prosecutor in Action."

Dr. H. H. Kimber, faculty advisor for the club, will report on a recent conference on pre-law education at New York University. Members will also discuss activities for the coming year.

The meeting will be open to all pre-law students and others who desire to attend.

Pistol, Rifle Teams Schedule Tryouts

Tryouts for the varsity pistol team and the varsity and ROTC rifle teams will be held next week, Oct. 1-5, in the basement rifle range in Demonstration Hall.

Students interested in trying out for the pistol team should report between 7 and 9 p.m. next week. Capt. Norman F. Muser announced yesterday. Prospective varsity and ROTC rifle team members should report between 8 a.m. and noon and from 1 to 5 p.m.
