U.S. Defense Beginning to Reach Peak

Wilson Optimistic
in Report to Truman

WASHINGTON — (P)—Defense Mobilizer Charles Wilson reported last night that volume production under the $100 billion defense program is beginning to reach peak.

Wilson filed a report with President Truman saying that defense of military goods to the United States, however, have averaged only $14 billion worth of the Korean war started.

At the same time he said defense reached about $5 billion in the July-September period, or 22 times the rate of deliveries in the same period last year.

The comprehensive survey of the state of the gigantic defense program as of the end of the month dealt with the problems and bottlenecks plaguing the attainment of the nation's production goals.

Over-all, Wilson told a news conference, "Industry generally and practically all across the board is doing a fine job of the production picture. I think is very promising on the whole."

Wilson's third quarterly report on the entire defense program, covering the July-September period, took note of the serious problems created by shortages of steel, power, steel, aluminum, copper and other materials, and other tools.

Every effort, he said, is being made to lick these problems. Despite "all the hue and cry" over shortages of materials, Wilson noted, the nation is consuming more materials than ever in its history. Also, consumption is higher than ever before.

Specific military items, Wilson reported, are being produced at a rate which will double output within next two years. Deliveries due to increase seven-fold in next year. Electronics delivery rate to triple next summer.

Broadcast Rights Start Heated Row

U. of M. Belatedly
Eliminates Restraint

All stations on the MSC radio network were permitted to broadcast the University of Michigan-Michigan State College football game Saturday without charge following a row over broadcast rights.

However, the number of stations which actually broadcast the game could not be determined. Lawrence Frymire, WKAR sports editor, said. He explained that the network is set up as a public service and available for use by all Michigan radio stations.

The dispute arose when the University of Michigan announced it would charge stations on the MSC network approximately $2,600 for broadcast rights. MSC had set up the network without knowing the U. of M. policy, Frymire said.

Broadcast rights for remaining games have been cleared with other universities, he announced. The U. of M. is the only university with a policy of charging for broadcast rights over such networks as the MSC setup.

Stations on the network are fed by WKAR on a sustaining (non-commercial) basis but may include commercials if they pay an extra charge to the college. The U. of M.'s offer Saturday required that all broadcasts be non-commercial.

Only four of the stations planned to carry Saturday's game as a result of the university's stand. One of these four definitely did not carry the game, Frymire said.

Big Ten rules provide that member stations will have jurisdiction over game broadcasting conditions. Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, University of Michigan athletic director, said.

Stations fed by the MSC network were "unimpaired" about the cancellation, Frymire said. Many stations were unwilling to carry the game under the university's original ruling.

The U. of M. offer to permit stations to carry the network program free was made at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. With broadcast time scheduled for 1:45 p.m. this was too late for most stations to carry the program, Frymire pointed out.

We will make a different arrangement next year so this won't come up, Frymire said. A total of 14 AM stations had planned to carry the network broadcast and several FM stations, he pointed out.

Carnival Posters—All organizations participating in the 1951 Activities Carnival at Macklin Stadium Oct. 11 are requested to prepare two 18x24 posters to be used for advertising purposes.

These posters must contain the date and place of the Carnival and may also display the name of the individual organization. All posters must be turned into the A.W.S. office, third floor Union, Oct. 1, according to Dick Bird, registration chairman.

State Displays Crushing Defense, Powerful Attack to Down U of M, 25-0

Spartan linebacker Don Hughes takes off on a 17-yard runback of an intercepted pass to break up a Wolverine threat in the fourth quarter Saturday. An unidentified State blocker takes a Michigan man out of the play at the left as Hughes outruns.

Michigan's Perry (85), State safety man Jim Ellis (11) is in the background. Hughes snagged the ball at the 50-yard line and ran to the 11 of M. 33 before he was dragged down. Hard running and blocking characterized the MSC victory.

Wolverines Gain Only Six Yards

Spartans to Face
OSU Saturday

Michigan State's football team over-powered Michigan by a decisive 25-0 margin Saturday before more than 97,000 spectators at Ann Arbor.

MSC smashed to its largest win margin of the 44 meetings between the two teams. It was the first time in 17 years that the Wolverines failed to cross the Spartan goal line.

Next week State travels to Columbus to take on highly rated Ohio State.

State wore down Michigan with a stiff defense that held the Wolverines to minus 23 yards rushing.

Much penalized at first, it was not until the second half that the Green and White started to roll.

Michigan penetrated the State's nine-yard line in the third quarter but couldn't push the ball over. Spartan touchdowns were scored by Quarterback Al Dorow in the second period, early in the third quarter by Halfback Don McAuliffe, again in the same quarter by Halfback LeRoy Bolden and in the fourth period when Halfback Vince Pisano smashed over from the two-yard line.

Captain Bob Carey made but one of the four attempted conversions and missed a field goal try in the first half.

Both the offensive team which grounded out more than 300 yards in 21 first downs, and the defensive unit which held the Wolverines to four first downs and a six-yard total, played fine, sharp football all afternoon. Ends Ed Luke, Don Dohoney and Guard Frank Kush sparked State's defensive play.

Roger Zatkoff, 19-year-old Michigan sophomore from Hamtramck, received praises from coaches of both teams for his outstanding defensive play. He stopped the Spartan backs several times during the afternoon.

The Spartan squad showed devastating power and caused Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan to comment afterward on the surprising number of "hard running backs" presented by Duggie Munn.

Tackle Don Coleman made the first tackle of the day, spilling left end Lowell Perry on the Michigan 15-yard line on the opening kick-off. The first of 85 yards of penalties was then made against the Spartans. Howell ran the ball for a Michigan first down but the Wolverines were forced to punt.

Stat was driven back to their 15 and punted out. Carey shook Bill Putch with a resounding tackle timed just as the Michigan captain received the punt.

World Peace on Platform of Labor Party

SCARBOROUGH, Eng.—(P)—The Labor Party pledged last night it would work for world peace, cut the cost of living and carry forward socialism in Britain.

In its platform for the Oct. 25 general election campaign, the party's 27-member executive committee headed its recent split over Britain's rearmament and unanimously approved this program:

1. "To secure peace."
2. "To maintain full employment and increase production."
3. "To bring down the cost of living."
4. "To build a just society."

Only with a labor government can the British people achieve these aims," the platform asserted.

The 1,800-word document was released here on the eve of the party's annual conference of some 1,500 delegates and party leaders.

The threat of the loss of power to the now favored Conservatives has brought unity—at least on the surface—to the two factions inside the Labor Party. The Laborites now appear to be working for one main object—to get back into office.

Supreme Court to Decide on East Lansing Parking

By MARGARET FULLER

The State Supreme Court will be asked early this week to decide on the parking-ban controversy in East Lansing.

Supreme Court will hold a conference day Monday to hand down a series of opinions on pending cases prior to the October opening session Tuesday. The East Lansing case is expected to come before the court either Monday or Tuesday.

An order issued last June and postponed until Aug. 1 by the State Highway Department prohibiting parking on Grand River between Charles and Haslett streets started the controversy. Seven East Lansing merchants with businesses in the affected area protested the parking ban.

The merchants obtained a temporary injunction in circuit court last August which prohibited the State Highway Department and the Michigan State Police from enforcing the no-parking order. The injunction, however, did not include the removal of no parking signs on Grand River. As long as the signs are up the East Lansing police department is required to enforce the Highway Department order.

Last week East Lansing entered the dispute as a plaintiff following a City Council decision to back the seven merchants. Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, and Donald S. Leonard, state police commissioner, are defendants.

Also issued by the Highway Department was an order to remove parking on Grand River from Charles St. to M-49 Ave. This is scheduled to go into effect Sept. 1, 1952.

A final order would remove parking from Peoples Church to M-49 Ave. by Sept. 1, 1951. These orders were scheduled so that parking off of Grand River could be provided before they went into effect.

Chinese Troops Use Fantastic Weapons

WASHINGTON — (P)—Fantastic weapons? The Chinese in Korea have them.

Army ordnance officers listened to explain the weapons aren't fantastic in the sense President Truman meant when he talked of new American weapons. But "fantastic" is certainly the word according to Webster—to describe the strange, improvised and antiquated weapons the Chinese carry into battle.

One mortar captured recently looks like a garbage pail on wheels. It is handmade, crude and probably as dangerous to the man shooting it as to the target.

Mortars are a cheap form of artillery, one ordnance expert says. "They are simple, and it is easy to teach a soldier how to use one. The Chinese have many improvised mortars, some made of old gas pipes."

The rifles used by Chinese in many cases are antiques or sporting guns. But neither the age nor the type provide the major problem. It's the variety. The Chinese are known to be using at least 35 different kinds of 17 caliber made in Japan, Germany, many other European countries, and even the United States.

How to keep them supplied with ammunition, and in repair, is a real headache. Even so, rifles are so scarce the Chinese cannot afford to abandon one regardless of circumstances. The average Chinese soldier may carry 20 rounds of ammunition, compared with 160 to 220 carried by an American soldier, "the walking arsenal."

Nevertheless, Maj. Gen. George E. Armstrong, U.S. Army surgeon general, said after returning from Korea that three out of four soldiers wounded in battle are returning to duty. He said this was "amazing."

"One reason for this is that the men aren't being hurt very badly by these fantastic weapons," one official said. "Injuries are quite often superficial."

Another major reason, of course, is the excellent work being done by the medical corps, using new medical discoveries.

By contrast, it's estimated one out of 10 Chinese return to duty.

Spartan Football

contrast in the two defensive line when Patich was down several times by the driving Spartan forward line gave State passers all they needed. State recovered a State pass late in the third quarter and then penalized for a pass in the hands. The ball in Michigan possession, a Michigan player placed the ball on the line for another penalty. The ball on the two and four down and one yard to Dorow pushed through the center of the Michigan line on a quarterback sneak for the first of four Spartan touchdowns.

Wayne Benson, Michigan State fullback and Bolden both knocked off large chunks of yardage but couldn't score and with fourth down and one to go, Carey attempted a field goal but didn't make it.

Defensive Halfback Jimmy Ellis made a dent in Michigan's spirit when he rambled through the Wolverine squad for what looked like a touchdown on the opening kick-off beginning the second half. He grabbed the ball deep in Spartan territory, started off straight up the field, evaded several tacklers, angled for the sideline and outdistanced his pursuers to go over standing up. Referees claimed he had stepped out on the 14 and just four plays later, McAuliffe barged over for the second TD. The second half was just a minute and a half old. Michigan then made their only real threat of the game, pushing the ball to Michigan State's nine but the Spartan defensive line stopped them.

The Spartan team then started a ground drive led by Benson who took a lateral from Dorow and scrambled 11 yards to the Michigan one-yard line where he was neck tackled by Perry. Benson was injured on the play. Bolden then drove over for the third tally from the one.

State tackle, Bill Horrell, blocked a punt by Bill Billings which State recovered on the Michigan 18 as the third quarter ended. Michigan made their stand and pushed the State offensive unit back.

After Billings' punt went out on the Michigan 46, Pisano and Dick Panin alternated, driving deep into Michigan territory and Pisano scored the last score when he went over from the two, making the score, 25-0.

Spartan defensive Captain Bill Hughes intercepted a Michigan pass late in the fourth quarter and later almost nailed Patich back of his goal line.

Gordie Serr, State guard, recovered Halfback Dan Faddy's fumble as the game ended.

Spartan spirit is not shown only on the athletic field.

Following the Michigan game Saturday, Spartan football captain Bob Carey was being flung among the large crowd which had gathered outside Michigan State's dressing room waiting for the players to come out.

Carey was holding a football and when asked if he had been given the game ball, he replied that the squad had unanimously decided to autograph the ball and present it to Deane Thomas, a promising player last fall but who is now receiving treatment in a hospital at the University of Illinois for a serious intestinal disease.

When the din of triumph should have been the loudest, the squad members had stopped to think of a less fortunate teammate.

Football Coach Biggie Munn was happily munching an apple and trying to keep an eye on his young son Mike in the noisy Spartan dressing room and answering questions all at the same time.

"I would like to give Roger Zatkoff credit for the work he did in that Michigan line," Munn said.

He added that State played "conservative" ball in the early part of the game because of the trouble the team had hanging on to the ball last week against Oregon State when they fumbled eight times.

"We were on top spiritually today," he said, "just as high as for the game last year."

The players were dressing and all were eating apples. Some one started the chant, "Go Spartan's Beat Ohio State."

State's injuries were slight according to Dr. Charles F. Holland, team physician. He said that Wayne Benson, fullback, and Al Dorow, quarterback, were not seriously injured and that except for the usual bruises "we came off splendidly."

Coach Bennie Osterbaan was quietly talking to his friends and the press. He said that the State team looked very good and he was impressed by the number of hard running backs Michigan State presented in the previous few hours.

"We will get better," he promised, "there is room for improvement. Our main weakness was lack of experience."

State supporters gained satisfaction from the 61-28 Oregon State victory over Utah of the West Coast. The score supported the contention here that Oregon State, beaten 6-0 last week, was a potentially powerful outfit that had been badly underrated.

Among other items to cheer State's hopes were these:

1—It was the fifth consecutive shutout of opposing teams including the three over Indiana, Minnesota and Pittsburgh that ended the season last year.

2—It was the eighth consecutive win since the 34-7 upset by Maryland, the only MSC loss last year.

3—It was the biggest Michigan State margin over Michigan in history, topping the old 24-0 edge achieved in 1915.

4—It was the worst Michigan setback since a Fritz Crisler coached team bowed to Navy, 33-7 in 1945.

5—The State defensive unit held Michigan to a net loss of 23 yards by its ground attack. This contrasted with the 249 yards made by Michigan State in rushing.

Dibble Helps Lions Smash Redskins, 35-17

By ALEX LAGOS

State News Sports Editor

Detroit's pass-happy Lions caught fire late in the third quarter to come from behind and swamp the Washington Redskins 35-17 in the season opener at Detroit yesterday.

Quarterback Bobby Layne threw perfect strikes at will through Washington's defense as he completed an amazing 20 out of 26 passes for a 310-yard net.

One of these was a 38-yard completion to ex-Michigan State All-American Dorn Dibble, who set up a Lion touchdown.

Trailing 17-14, Bob Hoernschemeyer rammed over from the six-yard line to put the Lions ahead to stay. The Detroit club led the ball game with two fourth-quarter TD's, one by halfback Don Walker from the 20 and the other on a pass play by Layne to Tullback Pat Harder.

Most of Layne's tosses went to end Bill Swickell.

Washington grabbed a 3-0 lead on ex-Lion Bill Dudley's field goal from the Lions' 23-yard marker.

The Lions covered 80 yards in eight plays late in the first quarter to go ahead 7-3. Layne hit end Jim Doran in the flat who ran the ball over the stripe for the touchdown.

Walker converted on his first of five completions. The Redskins then drove 41 yards to gain jump into the lead with Chuck Drazonovich scoring from the one.

Dibble's catch set up a Lions touchdown just before the half ended with Layne scoring the touchdown after electing to run when his receivers were covered up.

Quarterback Harry Gilmer's 47-yard pass to end Hugh Taylor set up the Redskins' third period score. Drazonovich went over for his second TD.

The Lions then came back with a 60-yard drive with Hoernschemeyer scoring to pull ahead and win the see-saw fracas.

Two Injured in East Lansing

Two Lansing women were injured early Saturday in a two-car collision at the corner of Michigan Ave. and Harrison St. in East Lansing.

Miss Joan Fedewa, 19, of 400 S. Pine St. suffered cuts about the right leg and Miss Margaret Maher, 30, of 1212 Eureka St. received a cut lip and bruises of the nose and face.

The two were injured when the car in which they were riding, driven by Alfred Fortino, 21, of 111 S. Howard St., smashed into the rear of another automobile driven by J. B. Bradshaw of Detroit, police said.

Bradshaw had stopped to pick up a hitch-hiker, Alvin Rich, Buffalo, N.Y., junior, East Lansing police said. They ticketed Fortino for reckless driving.

The two women were treated at Sparrow hospital and released.

Commercial TV License Filed with FCC by State

It may take as long as two years for MSC to receive a commercial television license, but before then students and residents of Michigan will have many opportunities to view programs originating on the MSC campus.

Dr. Armand Hunter, director of television development for MSC, has filed a petition with the Federal Communications Commission asking that the college be granted a commercial license instead of an educational license as originally requested.

No sponsors would be allowed to advertise over the college station if the license were educational. A commercial license will allow the station to carry programs from networks and other sources that meet college standards.

This will include programs of a public service nature, such as the Kefauver hearings and the Japanese Peace Treaty Conference. Adult educational programs, cultural presentations and sports will also be included.

Until the FCC unfreezes all license requests the college television facilities will be used to record programs on film for distribution to existing television stations throughout the state.

Completion of a $100,000 closed circuit TV network on campus will bring television to classrooms, as the college prepares to step into the field of commercial television.

U.S. to Register Eager Guamanians

GUAM—(AP)—Selective Service Boards are registering young Guamanians for military duty for the first time in the history of the island.

Residents of Guam have been American citizens for a year, and many men are eager to don a uniform. Some Guamanian youths already are in training schools set up by the U.S. Armed Forces and a few have seen action in Korea. So far, however, none has been drafted under the Selective Service Law.

Officials estimate that about 1,000 native Guamanians and 5,000 Filipinos and mainland residents will sign up today and tomorrow.

UAW Head Tells Union to Cut Defense Change Over Layoffs

FLINT—(AP)—CIO United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther told a union mass meeting yesterday that breaking defense production bottlenecks was one of the biggest "bread and butter" problems facing labor.

Reuther spoke at the first of a series of meetings to be held in UAW centers. The purpose is to explain to the workers how the UAW is trying to soften mass layoffs during the conversion to defense production.

"It is as much the bread and butter problem of your union as wage negotiations," Reuther told an audience of more than 1,000. "If it isn't solved, we will pay the price of heavier layoffs."

Reuther used the "bread and butter" phrase, apparently with John L. Lewis, president of the Independent United Mine Workers in mind. In a speech in Detroit last summer, Lewis called Reuther a "pseudo-intellectual" who didn't pay attention to "bread and butter problems" of union members.

"Our unions have been working hard at bread and butter problems, of our membership in collective bargaining and in Washington," Reuther said. Reuther declared that layoffs in the auto industry would now be three or four times as great had not the union's work been successful. He said the UAW is trying to get legislation to provide 40 hours pay a week for workers laid off while the change-over from civilian to defense production is being made.
