

Judiciary Granted Power to Review Student Legislation

Editor's Note: This is the fifth in a series of eight articles dealing with MSC's Student Government. The articles represent an attempt to compare and analyze the procedures and weaknesses of the new constitution and its predecessor.

Student Government President Gaylord Sheets, in his first year Legislative Message to the Congress listed one of the main accomplishments under the new constitution "Administrative harmony." Sheets went on to explain the new three branch system of government was operating smoothly along side the college administration. This is of utmost importance in any Student Government which has been handled with excellent efficiency under the constitution.

One of the main factors for this improved relationship is the All-College Judiciary, the newest and probably most important addition to the new legislative experiment.

For the first time students have a chance to air their views after breaking college rules. On this point the Judiciary has been very fair and the administration has reversed a decision that has been recommended by the Judiciary.

It might be said that it is very fortunate that the Judiciary has been so ably run last term, because the Judiciary has the last decision over all legislation handed down by the congress along with the right to declare any act of legislation unconstitutional. This power has already been exercised under the direction of Chief Justice Carl Mottek.

Also within the power of the Judiciary's review is any action taken by President Gaylord Sheets and his executive agencies, action taken by any campus organization or governing group, and conflicts between any campus organization governing groups according to their constitution.

Needless to say, for such a small group that is a lot of power. With Mottek graduated Sheets has appointed John Ringle to head the Judiciary this term. Ringle has proved himself very capable in the past and if he follows the steps of Mottek, the Judiciary probably will save the remaining two branches from a lot of headaches they ordinarily would have trouble coping with.

It was the Judiciary and the Executive Council, composed of leaders of student organizations on campus, that is partly responsible for influencing the Congress to postpone the vote on the newly proposed student tax until students received a chance to digest the issue.

There seemed to be a feeling in the minds of some congressmen last term that the Judiciary was trying to take some of the legislative power from the Congress by declaring certain acts unconstitutional.

This proved to be a fallacy, however, and in the end the rulings by the Judiciary were the result of calm, mature thinking that saved the legislators considerable criticism. Postponement of the student tax vote is a good example of this.

Taft Supporter Tells GOP Perils of Nominating Ike

AN FRANCISCO (AP)—David S. Ingalls, head of the Taft-patron drive, told Republicans last night they were risking their party's future if they pin their presidential hopes on a "glamor" candidate.

In an obvious shot at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the national manager of the campaign of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, urged GOP members not to select a good-looking mortician to "preside" over the death of their party in November.

Ingalls told the Republican National Committee in a prepared address, the party convention in Chicago next July should "all unite behind Mr. Republicanism and proceed with a very happy and long overdue assignment of turning the reins of state over to the people."

Ingalls spoke at a dinner meeting after a Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman, had told a news conference he believed there is a "great upsurge of sentiment" for Eisenhower among Republicans and voters in general.

The program students will combine liberal education with the best of the Far East and the best of the West has been created. The program is a blend of high school and college level courses.

The plan, formed through the School of Science and Arts, the Division of Social Sciences, the historical and geographical background, geography, political and social sciences of both civilizations.

Under this program students will be given a preference for admission to the College of Arts and Sciences. As juniors they will graduate as science majors with a concentration in the area of Far East and Asiatic Russian.

MSC Boxers Set to Meet Army Squad

Black, Spieser To Lead Attack

By LEN BLEWETT
MSC's championship boxing team will complete heavy contact drills today as it prepares for tomorrow night's match with the Cadets from West Point in Jensen Fieldhouse at 8 p.m.

This is the opening match for the Spartans and Coach George Makris will send two individual NCAA champions, Jed Black and Chuck Spieser, into action against the Army in an attempt to atone for last year's 42-31 defeat the Cadets handed State.

The light heavyweight bout should be interesting because Spieser will be meeting a champion in his own right, in Tim McNerny. Last year McNerny was the Eastern Inter-collegiate boxing champion and went to the semi-collegiate boxing association.

Ann Arbor Hills Selected for Site U of M Plans New Campus

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Plans for a multi-million dollar "overflow" campus in the hills north-east of Ann Arbor were revealed yesterday by the University of Michigan.

President Harlan H. Hatcher said that as a starter the University would erect three scientific research buildings and one library on the tract.

Construction of the first of the buildings is scheduled to begin in April or May if government approval is obtained.

Mercury Up As Red Cedar Reaches Crest

The flooding Red Cedar River is expected to reach a crest today, according to weatherman A. H. Eichmeier.

Yesterday the Red Cedar reached 6.9 feet and flooded parts of the campus. It was expected to reach a 7.5 maximum and then recede.

A low pressure area surprised weathermen yesterday and brought record-breaking high temperatures to the campus yesterday. The Airport weather station reported a spring like 59 degrees at 1 o'clock.

Today will be mostly cloudy with a low of 28 and a high of 38.

Elementary School to Open Soon

Modern Building To House 225

By REV. BUNCH

A new elementary school in the Glencair subdivision is being constructed to accommodate an expected increase in the number of children who will start school in the next few years.

The eight-room school, which will be completed in March, is located on a five-acre site at 78th and Harrison Streets in East Lansing.

Styled in a modern design, it is trimmed in redwood and will include an activity room which will serve as both a gymnasium and auditorium, a music room, a library and a health room.

A conference room and an arts and crafts room are other features of the new school.

It was designed with the self-contained classroom idea in mind, L. E. McDonald, superintendent of school, explained.

"Each room will have all the materials necessary for classes right in the room."

It will accommodate approximately 225 elementary school students.

McDonald pointed out that none of the classes in East Lansing schools are overcrowded now.

But a comparison school census report reveals that there were 2,056 children under five years of age in 1951, while there were only 2,117 students in the 5 to 19 age group last year.

"We'll have grades over twice as large as what has been normal in the community and this ratio will be increased to three times as many in the next years," MacDonald said.

Action Delayed

Senate Body Shuns Grid TV Measure

By JOHN DOCK
State News Capital Reporter

Action on a controversial bill to force televising of MSC and U of M home football games has been delayed until Jan. 29 by the state senate's State Affairs Committee.

Pres. John A. Hannah told the committee passage of the measure would "seriously embarrass" the college, and might bring "sanctions" from the NCAA, which has banned television except on a tight experimental schedule next season.

The committee reportedly is split 3-3 over the measure, introduced by Sen. Gilbert R. Saginaw.

Attacking the NCAA's "black-out" code, Gilbert said, "It is a matter of public interest and concern when an athletic body in New York can hand down directives to its own tax-supported institutions."

The committee held hearings on the measure Thursday.

Hannah told the body he believes the NCAA will settle the gridiron TV question to the satisfaction of all within a year or so, and that premature legislative action might do more harm than good.

He also was worried about what the measure would do to MSC's standing in the Western Conference, which supports the NCAA, if it became law.

As the bill stands now, it would make televising of games under present NCAA rules illegal.

Gilbert defended it on grounds that it would lift ticket scalpers where the law has never been able to reach them.

In its present language, his proposed act reads that TV contracts "shall be of such a nature as will operate to the best economic advantage of the institution and shall be designed to permit within the range of available televising facilities the viewing of said games by all the people of Michigan, regardless of the section in which they live."

Restaurant Group Closes Annual Convo

The Board of Directors of the National Restaurant Association yesterday ended a four-day annual business meeting held at the Kellogg Center.

While here they observed the undergraduate program in restaurant management, and toured all teaching facilities of the program, including the Animal Husbandry and Horticulture labs.

President John A. Hannah was guest speaker at the Wednesday luncheon. He spoke on the service that MSC would like to do for the restaurant industry in developing graduates.

Fred Simonen, Detroit, and Joseph Schenck, Kalamazoo, were representatives from the Michigan section. Forty-seven directors from all sections of the country, including Oregon, California, New York and Texas, attended.

The de-emphasis of college athletics will be discussed Saturday on the Spartan Forum.

The program is scheduled for WKAR at 2 p.m.

Congress Finds New Obstacle In Tax Vote

Omission in Constitution Forces Use of Petitions

Student Government leaders announced yesterday they will circulate petitions proposing the student tax amendment in an effort to insure the legality of the measure.

This method will be used because an "or" was omitted from the constitution, leaving the lawmakers powerless to propose any amendments.

Student Congress members discussed Wednesday night that unconstitutional omission left them without the amendment power.

Gaylord Sheets, president of the Student Government, explained that the constitution originally ratified contained an "or" but that during the amending process it was omitted.

This petition is being circulated to avoid any confusion or criticism of the Student Government, Sheets said. "Legally we could go straight ahead with our former plans but in all fairness we want to do it in such a way that no one will accuse us of being unfair."

Dave Miller, speaker of the Congress, pointed out that the only valid constitution and the one now in effect was the one students approved last spring. This constitution was the one printed in the State News and circulated on campus and did not contain an "or," he said.

Section one of article seven of the constitution says that "Amendments to this constitution may be proposed by the Student Congress by a petition signed by 10 per cent of the enrolled members of the student body." An "or" should be inserted between Student Congress and by 10 per cent.

The original copy of the constitution was lost during a crash-up we had in the office around Christmas time," Sheets said. "I've been trying to locate the original but have not had any luck as yet."

The Student Government plans to put a "rider" in the petition so that in the future it will have the power to propose the amendments.

The tax will be adopted on a one-year trial basis with the final vote on the tax coming a year from this spring, Sheets said.

Signatures of 10 per cent of the student body will be necessary to propose the amendment.

And with law out-thrust, Churchill warned the Communist world that Britain will join in "resolute and effective" counter action if new Red aggression breaks out in the far East.

Churchill, strongly endorsed American policy of defending Formosa, the last-stand stronghold of the Nationalist Chinese, and he praised the British for bearing "nine-tenths the burden" of the United Nations fight in Korea.

He also pledged "increasing harmony" in the "unending" conflict between British and American policies in the Orient, where Britain has recognized Red China while the United States recognizes the Nationalist regime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

As for the Middle East, "a sombre and confused scene," he called it—Churchill proposed international control of the strife-torn Suez Canal where bloody clashes have broken out between British troops and Egyptians.

During a four-power sponsorship of the canal zone under Britain, France, Turkey and the United States, Churchill said that Britain alone cannot bear "the whole burden of the Suez, which he declared has now become an international problem."

Churchill Promises British Aid

Millions Listen To Prime Minister

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill solemnly promised Congress yesterday that Britain will help defend Europe, and he cautioned the United States "above all things not to give up its Atomic weapons without an atomic guarantee of peace."

In an address before a joint session of Congress, with Union Nationalist television and radio networks, the famed British statesman declared:

"We take our stand at your risk."

"We stand together under General Eisenhower. To defend the American cause against violent aggression."

Churchill warned the Communist world that Britain will join in "resolute and effective" counter action if new Red aggression breaks out in the far East.

For a Safer State

In his recent address to the legislature, Governor G. Mennen Williams asked for the immediate addition of 230 troopers to the State Police force, with a goal of 1,250 enlisted men for the force by 1955.

Donald S. Leonard, commissioner of the State Police, has advocated this addition of personnel for some time, and there is much evidence the additional officers are necessary.

Michigan State Police find themselves in a much different position than that of the state police or highway patrol of most other states. In addition to road patrol duties, they have general police powers throughout the state.

They receive calls for police aid from rural areas and also local police forces and sheriff's offices.

Traffic patrol, however, is the major problem facing the State Police. With car registrations climbing steadily, it is an almost impossible job to effectively cover the 93,000 miles of state and country roads—not to mention an additional 18,000 miles of hard surfaced road.

It is generally accepted that marked patrol cars on the road will encourage drivers to slow down and drive carefully. More patrol cars should help reduce Michigan's climbing traffic death toll.

In addition to traffic patrol, the State Police maintain a racket and narcotics squad which also investigate suspected subversives. The force is also depended upon as the backbone of civil defense.

The State Police now have 678 enlisted men. Administrative duties at the headquarters and the eight district headquarters demand the services of 127 men. This leaves a total of 551 men assigned to the 45 posts.

Allowing for personnel on pass, vacation and performing desk and administrative duties, a total of only 295 officers are available for general police and patrol duties.

Getting technical, this leaves only one officer for each 7,578 persons in the rural areas of the state. Figuring it another way it comes out to 13 of an officer for each 1,000 rural residents.

The men on duty must be spread around the clock, and according to a recent report issued by Commissioner Leonard, "In the early morning hours not more than four or five patrol cars are out in the entire state."

These facts certainly lead one to believe the force is undermanned.

Every law-abiding citizen in the state should be behind the request for more men for the State Police.

Seniors, Excalibur Support Sunday Commencement Date

TO THE EDITOR:

It was stated in the State News Wednesday that no valid reason had been given for holding commencement on Sunday instead of Saturday.

It is our belief that the fact that the students want it on Sunday is reason enough. This college is what it is due to the number of students enrolled here. What would Michigan State look like if there were no students? We would like to see a poll taken of these students, and if they vote for a Sunday commencement we see no reason for not having it on that day.

The administration gives no valid reason of their own why graduation should not be held on Sunday. They state that everybody works a 40 hour week, but what about the people working in clothing stores, department stores, grocery stores and all the other enterprises that operate Saturdays? We feel that their figure of five per cent is much lower than the actual figure.

It also states that all spring term events are geared for a Saturday graduation. We would like to know what events would be affected if graduation were changed to Sunday.

One event is already scheduled for Saturday, June 7—that is a varsity baseball game at Western Michigan. We feel sure that the senior members of this squad would like to participate in both events, but this is absolutely impossible.

We repeat our question: "What are the reasons for not holding commencement on Sunday?"

TO THE EDITORS:

We, the members of Excalibur, senior men's honorary, wish to back the stand taken by the Senior Class Council in its fight for Sunday commencement.

The question has arisen, what are the reasons for choosing Saturday commencement? We too, as seniors, would like to know the reasons behind the administration's choice.

Is it perhaps because the date, Saturday, June 7, has already been printed in the catalogue? Or because the members of the faculty wish to have an uninterrupted Sunday at home? Or is it because East Lansing merchants will be open for business on Saturday thus enlarging their revenue from throngs attending commencement? Or is it that certain religious groups outside of East Lansing and Lansing oppose Sunday commencement?

The administration wants reasons for Sunday commencement. We feel the Senior Council has given ample reasons, more reasons than the administration has given for Saturday commencement. We suggest a poll of seniors on the issue.

Let's break the pall of silence that has hung over the administration on the matter and think of students for a change.

Interpreting the News

Peace or A-Bomb for Korea?

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.

Associate Press News Analyst

Winston Churchill, possibly referring to international atomic control discussions now going on in the United Nations, warned the United States yesterday against letting go of her A-bomb superiority as long as deterrents against war are needed.

Congress, in joint session to hear the veteran British Prime Minister, broke into spontaneous applause.

At the same time, Russia's Foreign Minister Vishinsky was telling the UN that the Korean truce negotiations were not going to get anywhere at the military level. He wants the matter transferred to the UN as part of a package deal involving atomic controls and other issues between east and west.

The quick inference was that the Communists might be intending to break off the Panmunjom talks, in spite of plain if unofficial warnings from the United States that this would mean a newly-intensified war.

Such a development would mean that the United States would switch immediately from consideration of atomic controls to consideration of atomic war.

Indications in Washington are that the U.S. has just about made up its mind to strike China directly and hard if the Communists decide to try to prolong the fighting. Stalemate will no longer be acceptable.

For this, the Allies will no longer be satisfied with merely killing constantly replaceable Chinese soldiers, the tactic which was used to bring about the truce talks. Korea will become incidental.

China can be hurt and hurt badly by naval and air attacks of which the Allies are capable. The Communists have virtually nothing with which to defend their vital rivers.

Wrestlers Set to Face NAAU at Champs

Coming after their second meet win of the season, Michigan State wrestling squad plays host to the State Teachers College tonight at 8 p.m. in Jensen gymnasium.

The Iowa squad the Spartans defeated last week, the 1951 NAAU champion, and although the Spartans lost their first meet to the Iowa team, they should have Coach Fendley Collins' squad with stiff opposition.

States lineup tonight will be two changes from the lineup that started against the University of Pittsburgh last week in the Spartans' opener, which saw MSC edge Pitt, 16-10.

Carey, Hughes Picked in NFL Annual Draft

By The Associated Press

Two members of Michigan State's 1961 football squad were selected yesterday by National Football League teams in the annual NFL player draft.

The Los Angeles Rams picked All-American end Bob Carey in a first round draft, while the Cleveland Browns picked center Bill Hughes in a second round choice.

Neither Carey nor Hughes, however, will be available to play pro ball. Carey is an advanced student in ROTC and must report to active duty after graduation, while Hughes plans to accept a business offer rather than go on to pro football.

The Rams also selected the team's tight end, named Bill Wade, of Ann Arbor, as their choice. Wade has been rated by pro scouts as the outstanding prospect among the nation's college seniors.

Begles Carey, the Rams also picked up a tight end in Dave McCann of Wyoming.

The Detroit Lions who already had traded their first choice to Cleveland and their second to the Chicago Cards, came up with Tennessee's Bert Brannan and Purdue end Darrell Brewster.

The New York Yanks who had first choice of the regular draft, chose Lee Richter of California.

Spartans Face Wolves At Ann Arbor Saturday

By TOM RYAN

In an attempt to get back on the winning ledger after dropping three of their last four games, the Michigan State basketball team travels to Ann Arbor tomorrow night to face their traditional rivals, the Wolverines of Michigan.

The Spartans, with a season record of eight wins and three losses, sport a conference total of one win and two defeats. The Wolverines stand at 10-10.

Saturday night's MSC-Michigan basketball game at Ann Arbor, will be aired by WKAR-TV and WLS, beginning at 8 p.m.

Big Ten competition opens tomorrow for Michigan State's undefeated swimmers as Coach Charles McCaffrey takes his squad to the University of Indiana for a dual meet with the Hoosiers.

The MSC tankers, going in quest of their third seasonal dual win, are starting the dual swim for the 17th time, with the Spartans chosen as its encounter, while the Hoosiers claim five victories.

In last year's meet between the two schools, the Spartans trounced the Hoosiers by a 56-25 score, in a meet that saw a number of MSC pool records bettered by the Spartans.

The McCaffrey men will be challenging Indiana with three All-American swimmers, plus a host of promising newcomers. In the 100-yard freestyle, the Spartans' top swimmer, Ed Hughes, will go in the 200 and 400, along with Dave Nelson. Larry Moore should offer strong competition in the 100 and 200, while Hughes should offer strong competition in the 100 and 200, while Hughes should offer strong competition in the 100 and 200.

In the sprints, State will be led by Clark Scholtes, All-American, and Tom Pavette, outstanding freshman.

Pat Stamp and Red Quinley, sprinters, and Jim Westman and Chuck Halverson, breaststroke swimmers, also figure to gather points for the Spartans. White, with the slow development of the swimmer, is expected to give Hughes a hard battle in the 100-yard freestyle.

Spartan Gymnasts Oppose Buckeyes

By BOB LEWIS

Jenison Fieldhouse will take on a different atmosphere tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, with the appearance of flying rings and tumbling mats, as the Michigan State gymnastic squad prepares for its opening Big Ten meet against Ohio State.

After tacking a 36-40 defeat on Navy Pier in the season's opener, Coach George Szypula's crew will be out to continue its winning ways at the expense of the Buckeyes.

A hot scoring duel promises to develop between two of State's all-around men, senior Bob Feldmeier and freshman Carl Rintz. They led the Spartans in the Navy Pier victory with 13 points each and tomorrow's meet should see them just as close.

However, Russ Paul, Jersey City sophomore, has improved rapidly this past week and could easily steal the show for himself. Bounding out the probable line for the MSC are John Walker, senior, and John Emery, in training. At Hawks, Tom Muller, senior, and Walker, the trampoline, Harry Wilkinson, on the pommel horse, and George Kornegay on the rings.

Buckeye Coach Joe Hewlett has been shaping a team around returning lettermen Andy Briener, Tom Franklin and Bob Henning. Briener and Franklin perform on the side horse, horizontal bar, parallel bars and rings, while Henning is a trampoliner and tumbling artist.

The second between the two schools in three years of state meets, competition should be one of the most exciting of the season. Although beaten in a dual encounter last year, the Spartans finished ahead of Ohio State in the Big Ten meet.

Tomorrow's contest will take on additional rivalry since both Spartans and Hewlett are graduates of Temple University.

Lawrence and Emery will have help from sophomore Bob Topp. Topp is a Kalamazoo all-state who repeated from the football squad. Emery also was on the football team, and although only a freshman, has been very impressive to date.

Michigan will be led by Lawrence, a Kalamazoo all-state who repeated from the football squad. Emery also was on the football team, and although only a freshman, has been very impressive to date.

Sigma Nu Tops Lambda Chi

By DON CAMERON

The young intramural basketball team, which is its second year, won its second game at Jensen Gym Thursday.

Sigma Nu successfully opened its defense of the Fraternity championship by defeating past Lambda Chi 27-18.

On the honorary front, Abbot 15 picked up where they left off in IM football with a hard fought 20-19 decision over Abbot 12.

Abbot 15's football hero, Jack Krogman, helped his team's triumph by netting seven points. Tom Cauley's 11 counters failed to bring victory to Abbot 12, which had led until the final minutes.

Abbot 18, 17; Abbot 13, 15. Abbot 18, another down at the power, dumped Abbot 13.

Chi 20, TXI 10. Chi's team balance proved to be too much for an out of TXI team. Eight players in the scoring for the win in the one-sided affair.

AGR 5. Another lopsided match, AGR to the tune of 10-0.

Ridgway Visits UN Truce Delegation; Peace Talks Stalled

MUNSAN (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway conferred secretly with the United Nations truce delegation and his top field general in Korea Thursday.

The armistice talks at Panmunjom remained stalled, as they have been since Nov. 27, on the issues of prisoner exchange and truce supervision.

However, another meeting was set for 11 a.m. today.

In Paris, Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky told the UN's political committee there was "no hope" the Korean talks would bring agreement. He blamed "unreasonable demands" by the Americans.

Vishinsky wrongly identified Gen. James A. Van Fleet as conducting the talks and called him a "cannibal" unfit for the job. Actually Van Fleet, commander of the U.S. Eighth Army, has no hand in the truce talks.

Meanwhile destruction of three MIG jets and three Red tanks in air actions highlighted the Korean war Thursday.

Two of the Soviet-built MIG fighters were destroyed without a shot.

Max William Shaeffer, of Boone, La., said the two MIGs came up close behind them and apparently were knocked out of control by the exhaust streams of the U.S. F-86 sabres.

The Red went into soap pots and violent spins and plunged to earth from 30,000 feet.

Since September the Union has been located at 101 Power Plant Business hours, 12 to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Credit Union announced that assets total $241,000, a gain of $58,000 over the previous year.

Open to membership by all college employees, the organization operates as a savings, credit, insurance, and investment fund for full-time college employees at a low rate of interest. Funds are invested in real estate and bonds, and dividends on investments are returned to members on a weekly basis, Chairman said.

The United States loses 10 billion dollars a year as a result of private debts, payments and other costs.

This problem is tackled annually at MSC by experts at the Michigan Insecticide-Fungicide Conference, now in progress in the Union buildings.

The book for the conference, "Insecticide-Fungicide Control in 1949," is now available in general use, according to Dr. Ray Hudson, head of the MSC Entomology Department. The new pest killer resources were in publication and available to all.

Other speakers at the conference include Dr. J. H. Hudson, Dr. J. H. Hudson, and Dr. J. H. Hudson.

and ports from modern naval attack.

They have some Russian-supplied air power, but an adequate supply of either planes or pilots for a real air battle is not available without direct Russian intervention. The A-bomb might well be used.

The U.S. has no idea of trying to conquer China, as Germany and Japan were conquered and occupied. The limits of the limited war would merely be extended so that direct wounds could be inflicted on the country which is fighting us.

The task of freeing China now certainly seems no more hopeless than the task of freeing France appeared in 1941. If the Communists want to bring the matter to a head now, Russia may live to regret Panmunjom as much as Hitler did Pearl Harbor.

Boxers

It should be a terrific scrap between the two as Spieser defeated McInerney the last time the two teams met and the Army boxer will try to even the score. Added incentive will be provided by the fact that both boys are team captains.

The Spartans appeared to be strong in all divisions as they wind up drills tonight. Flint freshman Herb Odum, the slim 130-pounder, has looked "extremely sharp" the last few days and his match against John Poirer, an 18-year-old freshman, should be a good one.

In the 125-pound division the Spartans have a real contender in Jimmy Evans, who is fighting his first bout for State tomorrow night against Paul Driscoll.

State's other NCAA champion, Jess Black, will go against either Bob Thomas or Rodney Koch in the 147-pound class while Tom Mickey will fight either Curt Brewer or Carl Crews, in the 156-pound division.

Four other bouts will be presented Saturday night, but two of these will be exhibitions. 132-pounder Norm Andrie will battle Army letterman James McCrete and Leon Hamilton, a 165-pounder who went to the semi-finals in his division in the NCAA last year, will meet Cadet Jerry Hughes.

In the exhibition matches, class Detroit freshman Leroy Jeffery and Harry Roper, Cadet sophomore, will battle it out while Spartan Dick LaForge will fight either Koch or Thomas depending upon who the Army decides to send against Black.

Recital Slated By Professor

A recital of Ludwig van Beethoven, Giacomo Puccini, Maurice Ravel, hymns and American folk songs will be given Feb. 15 by Prof. David Machfel in the Music Auditorium.

Included in the program will be Beethoven's "An Die Ferne Geliebte," Opus 98, Puccini's "Messum dorma," the Prince's aria from act III of the opera "Turandot," and "Don Quichotte a Dulcinee" by Ravel.

Lyman Bodman, instructor in music, will play the viola obbligato of four hymns by R. Vaughan Williams. These will include "Lord! Come Away," "Who is This Fair One?", "Come Love, Come Love," and "Evening Hymn."

Three songs by Samuel Barber set to poems from James Joyce's "Chamber Music" and three American folk songs will complete Machfel's concert. Accompanist will be John S. Richardson, assistant professor of music.

Members of the West Point boxing team will be guests at the Crystal Ball tomorrow from 9-12 in the Union ballroom.

The dance is semi-formal. Tickets are available at the Union.
