

Quick' Tax Vote Stopped in Tracks

Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of eight articles dealing with MSC's Student Government. The articles represent an attempt to compare and analyze the procedures and weaknesses of the new constitution and its predecessor.

A proposed "quick" vote of the new student tax issue was stopped in its tracks last week when it was pointed out to congressmen that the new constitution gave them power to propose a vote to amend the constitution.

A tentative vote on the tax has been set for Feb. 21, at first the legislators must secure signatures from approximately 1,300 students or 10 per cent of the full student body.

There seems to be little excuse for overlooking the fact that the constitution specifically states that amendments arise from a student petition. It seems to be two logical reasons why the petitions were not properly circulated before any talk of a complete vote was brought.

1. The legislators were ignorant of the constitution.
2. They ignored the constitution the students voted, taking for granted there should have been a clause giving them power to propose an amendment vote.

Congressmen will soon be passing around a petition for signatures. The petition will ask that the Congress have power to propose amendments without the use of the per cent petition. It will also propose that the tax be levied for a period of two years and re-voted on before it is renewed.

The Congress should have the right to propose amendments. The use of a petition signed by students just adds to the constitution that already prevails when an amendment is proposed.

A red tape was supposed to be eliminated by the new constitution and a smooth working legislative body needs power.

The inefficiency of the proposed tax amendment points out an important flaw in the constitution. It hasn't caught up to the legislators until now.

In all fairness to students it would seem better if the legislators circulated two petitions for students to sign. One petition should propose they have the power to set amendments for an all-college vote without the petition. The other should concern the tax.

If students favored the tax and did not want to see Congress have the right to propose all-college votes on amendments without the petition, or vice-versa, they could sign each issue separately.

Such were the case the Congress would have the satisfaction of knowing they were fair to the voters and good organization would prevail.

On the other hand the legislators have shown no concrete way to dispose of the $9,375 they could reap in the course of the year.

Student government publicity men have recently had a published in an attempt to explain the new constitution. It presents a sample budget on how they would use the money allocated them if the tax was passed.

Spartan Forum Debates Over-Emphasis of Sports

By PAT ROGERS

Over-Emphasis on college athletics was established as a problem by the Spartan Forum on WKAR Saturday afternoon, as stated by John R. Clingerman, Lansing.

Clingerman summarized the over-Emphasis on the situation. He said it shouldn't solve it. The problem is raised by the "game" from the coaches. The feeling is that the coaches, who are paid by unethical means, are increasing wages for themselves.

Clingerman said that the coaches, like the coaches at Bradley, are paid more than they should be. He said that the coaches are paid more than they should be. He said that the coaches are paid more than they should be.

ROTC Blood Drive Nets 672 Pints

22 Per Cent of MSC Army Men Donate

By BOB POPA

The Lansing regional blood center climaxed one of its most successful drives last week, collecting a total of 672 pints of blood from members of the Joint Air Ground Forces of the Michigan State College ROTC detachment.

Sponsored by the Cadet Military Advisory Board, the drive, which lasted one week, received donations of 470 pints of blood from the Ground Force cadets and Army personnel and 202 pints from Air Force cadets and personnel.

On a percentage basis, this would mean that 22 per cent of the Ground Forces participated as compared to 12 per cent participation by the Air Force.

Dr. Harold W. Wiley, who heads the Lansing blood center, revealed that some of the blood that was donated last week has already been flown to Korea. It takes only five days to process and ship the blood after it has been received.

Most received by the Lansing blood center is taken to a local laboratory where it is kept under refrigeration while it is being tested to determine the blood type and Rh factor.

After being typed, it is rushed to the West Coast by plane where another laboratory again types the blood in order to check on any errors that may have been made at the local laboratory.

From the coast laboratories, all type "O" blood (universal donor) is then flown to Korea and the rest is sent to Army or civilian hospitals in the United States or processed into plasma.

Doctor Wiley explained that only type "O" blood is sent overseas because the overseas hospitals do not have the facilities for storing and maintaining bloods of various types.

East Lansing Gets Inhalator Service

By BOB GALL

Inhalator service was instituted in East Lansing last week with the addition of two new $600 inhalators in the fire department.

For weeks, members of both the fire and police departments have been taking intensive training in the use of this equipment. Inhalator service for the residents of East Lansing and Michigan State College was taken care of by the Lansing fire department, but with increased demands in Lansing, the service was discontinued last week.

The inhalator is a compressor of three machines, an inhalator which supplies oxygen to persons overcome by gas and smoke, an aspirator which removes obstructions in the throat which are blocking breathing, and a resuscitator which breathes artificially for a person.

This machine, said M. C. Croft, East Lansing fire chief, is perfectly safe since it automatically adjusts to its user. In cases of adults the machine breathes at the rate of 12 to 15 times per minute with four ounces of pressure entering the lungs and three ounces withdrawn. By this means the lungs can never be collapsed by withdrawing too much air.

The oxygen supply, said Chief Croft, will be used up at different rates according to the patient, but on the average an adult will use one oxygen container in 10 to 15 minutes.

Each inhalator will handle two persons at one time. A constant oxygen supply will always be assured since a reserve supply will accompany each call.

In case there are even more calls than the two inhalators can handle the Lansing fire department, under its mutual assistance agreement with East Lansing, will supply the service.

Student to Give Recital of Classics

Emily Hills, Battle Creek sophomore, will present an organ recital Tuesday at 4 p.m. over WKAR. The 15-minute program will include Bach's "Fugue in D Major" and a chorale prelude, "My Heart is Ever Yearning," by Brahms.

The recital originates from the console of the Peoples Church and is sponsored by the Student Guild of Organists.

Ismailia Arabs Expelled After Shooting of Nun

British Commander Sets Blame on 'Terrorists'

ISMAILIA, EGYPT (AP)—Armed British Tommies, backed by a cordon of tanks, cleared out a huge Arab section of this Suez Canal city yesterday as the result of the slaying of an American nun in a convent.

Hundreds of Egyptian families, some carrying their belongings, were driven out of the quarter. Forty-one suspected guerrillas were arrested.

Gen. Sir George Fiske, British commander in the canal zone and a close friend of the dead nun, called the slaying of Sister Anthony an "atrocious" "mad terrorists" and declared:

"I shall continue as much as I can to maintain law and order. Then if I want I will take more of the town."

Cairo news agency said the nun, killed by British bullets during a four-hour battle yesterday in which the British suffered two killed and seven wounded and the Egyptians were reported to have had 20 wounded.

The U.S. embassy in Cairo said the nun was Brigitte Ann Timbers, 52, born in the Bronx, N.Y., daughter of Samuel Timbers of Peekskill, N.Y. A brother is in business in Bombay, India. She had served in Egypt since 1947, after earlier service in 1930, and listed her home address as Paris.

The embassy said it was making efforts to determine the facts about her death, and would then take appropriate action. U.S. Ambassador to Egypt, James H. Doolittle, said he would investigate.

The nun sometimes taught children at the British school outside Ismailia. She was shot through the heart as she stepped outside Saint Vincent de Paul convent to welcome British tanks.

War Paint? Spartan Fame Spreads to Indian Paint Company

Winston's college dictionary defines Spartan as signifying in courage and endurance. Perhaps the manufacturers of Spartan Paint, a product that is sold in India, had that thought in mind when it came to choosing a name for their product.

The name of the paint, which has been heard of by many of the natives through movies released by American Film Companies in the Far East.

This information was passed on by Prof. Frank S. Montgomery, of the Business Administration Department, who recently received a letter from Ganapathy Ayyar, a famous student who is now in Madras, India.

In the letter, Ayyar relates that the word Spartan can be seen displayed on billboards advertising the paint product.

The Michigan State has also been brought to the attention of the natives through movies released by American Film Companies.

Record Crop in 1951

Students List Prize Blunders

Every January—after every one has broken his New Year's resolutions—take centers around the prize blunders of the last year. The average MSC student is no exception. 1951 has been dragged through the coals over many a cup of coffee.

Many think the biggest faux pas were pulled in the sports world.

The biggest miss was Chuck Taylor's prediction that Stanford would beat Illinois in the Rose Bowl. Robert Despolder, Grosse Pointe junior said, "Tennessee as number one in the football polls." Phillis Poole, Lansing junior chimed in.

Others agreed with her. Despolder, not in a positive way. "The pollsters missed the boat when they didn't rate MSC number one," he said.

Ed Sullivan's TV show bothered Cathie Sheehan, Detroit junior. "How could he miss us more than once?" she asked.

Some students agreed with Bill Ebmeyer, Lansing sophomore, that Truman made a mistake when he fired MacArthur. Others listed the general's "Fading Away" speech as a bad move.

In a lighter vein, Greg Mobley, Detroit senior, commented, "The biggest faux pas was the modern art exhibit in the Union."

John Ringle, Grand Rapids senior, suggested that The State News made a mistake when it decided to publish in 1952.

"That new ROTC contract seems like the biggest mistake to me," moaned Chris Ackerman, Birmingham sophomore.

Graduate fellowships totaling $2,000 will be awarded by the School of Advanced International Studies for the academic year 1952-53.

Dean Philip W. Thayer of the School announced that the deadline for filing applications for fellowships has been extended to February 20, 1952.

The School, which is located in Washington, is a graduate unit of the Johns Hopkins University. It has previously granted fellowships amounting to $10,000 annually.

After an overwhelming 61-35 victory over Ohio State for their second straight win, the Michigan State gymnastic team will take a rest until Feb. 9 when they face Indiana in Jenison Fieldhouse.

The Spartans, labeled themselves as Big Ten title contenders in Saturday's headline, gave a superb example of team balance and cooperation.

Michigan State won all six events for a clean sweep of the meet. Capt. Bob Feldmeier was high scorer for the winners with 15 points, followed by Carl Rintz with 12.

State Boxing Team Trounces Cadets

By LEN BLEWETT

Boxing fans witnessed a fine display of team power Saturday night as the Spartan boxers copped every bout except one in winning the season opener against West Point, 7-1.

To make the near-out complete, State boxers LeRoy Jeffery and Dick LaForge bested their opponents in the two exhibition matches.

Looking impressive in their season debut, the Spartan boxers had too much for the West Pointers. Especially significant was the fact that three of the MSC victories were scored by freshmen: Jimmy Evans, Herb Odell, and Tom Hickey made their first appearance in the ring and all scored convincing wins.

The eagerly awaited match between State's NCAA 100-lb. Chuck Spieser and Cadet Jim

Rare Feat

Kepford Re-elected Harrier Captain

Michigan State's prize distance runner Jim Kepford became the second athlete in Spartan history to captain the cross country team two years in a row when his teammates re-elected the Muskegon junior at the annual squad banquet last week.

Kepford became the first harrier to be re-elected since 1931 when Clark Chamberlain broke a long precedent and captained the Green and White in successive years.

The Spartan captain was one of the top runners as a sophomore and was awarded last season's captaincy for his sterling performance. This season he led State to its first Big Ten cross country championship.

Seven varsity letters were awarded by Coach Karl Schladerman to Capt. Kepford, Ron Barr, Crown Pointe, Ind. sophomore; Jim Arnold, Battle Creek freshman; Dick Jarrett, Okla., Ill. sophomore; Jerry

Spartan Swimmers Top Indiana

Jack Hellwege Injured While Executing Dive

By GEORGE WEEKS

Seasonal competition for the tough Big Ten swimming race opened Saturday for the Spartan swimmers as they copped a 61-32 victory over Indiana.

The meet was marred by an injury to Jack Hellwege, sophomore lowboard diving specialist for Michigan State. Hellwege suffered severe head abrasions when he struck the tip of the springboard in executing a dive.

Although several bone-deep gashes caused him to remain in Indiana University hospital, X-rays taken before the team returned Sunday morning showed no fracture of serious complications.

In capturing their third straight win, the State tankers took seven firsts to three for the Hoosiers. Coach Charles McCaffrey's men now have a two-year win streak of 10 for dual meet action.

Next Saturday, the Spartans engage in a vassal freshman classic in Jernson Pool.

Clarke Scholes, Big Ten and NCAA sprint champ, charged to a new Indiana pool record as he captured the 100-yard freestyle in 50.5 for Michigan State.

Another pool mark was established by MSC's distance ace, Bert McLaughlin, when he won the 440 event in 4:50.4. Earlier in the meet McLaughlin was edged in the 220 by Indiana's Larry Meyer.

Throughout the meet, MSC's free tuggler outgained in the relay and freestyle events.

Dave Norman made his dual appearance in the 200-yard freestyle relay, teaming with Hal Shoup and Bob Hayes. Bob Schumacher, filling in Norman's normal spot, took third in the 220.

Freshman Tom Pavetto finished his brilliant streak as he won the 50-yard freestyle ahead of Indiana's Frank Papp.

McCaffrey used his first year men in the 400-yard freestyle relay team, which was moved by Indiana.

Bruce Aldrich, who last week bettered the NCAA record in the individual medley, picked up a first place in his specialty ahead of teammate David Stottle.

Michigan State also tallied one-two in the back and breaststroke events. Shoup and Bud Quigley picked up first and second in the 200-yard backstroke, while Jim Weitzman and Dick Kline turned the trick in the 200-yard breaststroke.

"We looked more like a swimming team Saturday than at any other time this year," stated McCaffrey.

The meet was devoted to the 100-pound class, when Jim Harrison of the Panthers' defeated Dick Thornton of MSC to put his team beyond the grasp of the Spartans.

With a 10-0 lead, the Towson added another five points when Spartan heavyweight Larry Fowler lost in a technical fall. Fowler suffered a cut over his right eye at the third minute mark and was forced to withdraw.

State wins came in the 157- and 167-pound weight classes. At 167 pounds, Oriss Bender gained a clearcut 5-0 win over Clyde Dilley, while Bob Hoke, Spartan representative at 157 pounds, defeated Bud Weick 4-2.

The opening match of the evening, 160-pound class, MSC freshman, battle to a draw with Pat McCaskey. Dick Gutter, twin brother of Bob, lost an 8-2 decision to Gene Labadie, 195.

NCAA champion at 175 pounds, Bob Mott of the Panthers scored a 17-0 victory over State in 24 of their 145-pound match.

The only fall of the evening in the 175-pound division, Ed Casabian of MSC, was beaten 6-3 by Clyde Dean.

from the opening bell when Jeffery shuffled his way to a clear-cut win over Harry Roper. LaForge took over from there, mixing punches to the head and body to take all three rounds from Bob Thomas.

In the first bout of the regular card, featherweight Evans, and Cadet Paul Driscoll engaged in an action-packed slugfest that left both boys tired at the finish with Evans getting the decision. West Pointer James McGee took the first round of his bout with Norm Andrie but Andrie found his man with looping right hands in the second and third stanzas to take the match.

NCAA defending champ Jed Black met a tougher opponent than expected in Rodney Koch in the welterweight bout. The cadet boxer started back-pedaling in the second round, however, after Black slowed him up with good right smashes to the mid-section. Black copied every round, the last two by wide margins.

The lone loss of the night for State came in the middleweight class. It was a case of too much height and reach as Jevl Hughes managed to ward off the attempts of Spartan Leon Hamilton to fight in close.

Three of the wins were chalked up by State in the 139-pound, 156-pound, and the heavyweight classes. Odum lost the first round of his match with John Poirier but took the final two. Freshman Hickey missed a lot of hard right punches but took the third round and the bout against Cadet Carl Crews by scoring repeatedly to the body. Heavyweight Alex Tsakiris gave away 28 pounds to Frank Hicks but outboxed his heavier opponent to take the Spartans' final win.

Coach George Makris was highly pleased with the opening performance of his team.

The boys were in wonderful shape and seemed to wear their opponents down. Of course, the trip out here probably took a lot out of the Army boxers, he said.
