Registrar To Aid in Class Poll

Survey to Ask Graduation Choice

The Registrar's Office will work with the senior class in conducting a poll of June graduates' preferences for commencement day. Gene McDermott, class president said yesterday.

Business reply cards, to be sent by the Registrar to all seniors this month, will include the question: "Do you favor commencement on Saturday or Sunday?" and space for comments on why the particular day is favored.

Agreement by the administration to help with the poll means that President Hannah will delay choice of a speaker until the results of the poll are compiled.

Shhh! Secrecy Gathers As Juniors Give And J-Hop Look

Secrecy surrounds the J-Hop decorations.

"No word" and "can't tell" are the cautious answers by J-Hop higher-ups when questioned about the Aud's adornment this weekend.

At least the "Out of This World" theme has been revealed and that leaves plenty of room for speculation. It may refer to the ticket price. It may refer to the music. It may refer to entertainment imported from Mars. Or it may be the decorations.

Graduation Planned for March 14

Some 400 seniors and graduate students will be guests of the college at winter term commencement March 14.

Ceremonies are planned for the Auditorium. Prof. Russell Runnels, chairman of the Commencement Committee, said yesterday.

The graduation marks the second formal mid-year ceremony held in the Auditorium. Until this fall mid-year ceremonies were held in the Union Ballroom.

Graduating students will not wear caps and gowns. The 400 were polled at January registration, and a large number indicated preference for street wear.

Pres. John A. Hannah will announce the name of the commencement speaker soon. Prof. Runnels said.

No other events are planned for winter graduates.

Men's Council Hears Aims Of 'Y' Group

Aims of the campus YMCA were discussed at last night's meeting of Men's Council.

Johnny King, president of the council, told members of the activities of his group.

A special meeting of the council will be held next Tuesday at 4 p.m. to elect a new representative to the All-College Judiciary Board.

Last night the council amended its constitution to provide for a quarterly election to take the place of the present yearly vote.

The Council plans to join Associated Women Students in the STUN project, according to Dan Purves, president. The men of the council will take lists of books to be sold into their organizations.

Miss Dorothy Acvedo, elementary vocal music consultant for East Lansing public schools, will lead singing, according to Jim Szek, Bay City senior.

Also featured will be Mrs. Marshall King, senior, playing the cello.

Szek said past attendance has been pretty fair but that there is a lot more to be done.

Additional singings will be held Feb. 17 and Feb. 24.

Britons Greet Queen; Mourn Dead Monarch

Sorrowing Londoners crowd around Wellington's statue in front of the Royal Exchange (background, center) as they mourn the death of King George VI. The flag on the Royal Exchange, which houses Lloyd's, is at half staff.

Elizabeth Returns From Africa

Churchill Pays Tribute to King

LONDON (AP)—Britons quietly welcomed home their new Queen yesterday and heard her first Minister, Winston Churchill, wish her long life and a fortuitous reign.

Elizabeth II returned from Equatorial Africa to the London she left as a princess a week ago and took up the burdens of a crown which Churchill described in a broadcast as "the magic link" uniting the British Commonwealth of Nations, states and races.

Pale but dry-eyed and with chin up, she arrived with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, after a 4,000-mile flight from Kenya Colony. Her first act was to arrange for the state funeral of her father, the late King George VI, at Windsor Castle Friday, Feb. 15.

Prime Minister Churchill, who has served every British monarch since he was an army officer under Queen Victoria, eulogized the late King in his broadcast to the nation and overseas.

"I whose youth was passed in the August and tranquil glories of the Victorian era," he said, "may well feel a thrill in invoking once more the prayer and then God save the Queen."

Solemnly he said that King George was a "model and guide to constitutional sovereigns throughout the world today and also to future generations."

He indicated that the King, who died early Wednesday in his sleep at his Sandringham estate after months of poor health, had a premonition that death was near.

"During these last months," said Churchill, "the King walked with death as if death were a companion, an acquaintance he recognized and did not fear."

In the end, death came as a friend and, after a happy day of sunshine and sport after a "good night" to those who loved him best, he fell asleep as every man or woman who strives to fear God and nothing else may hope to do.

The Prime Minister said: "We all saw him approach his journey's end."

The Queen, following her arrival at London Airport, where Churchill and black-dressed well-wishers greeted the Royal party, was whisked to the heart of London along police-lined roads.

She went to her residence at Clarence House, where she conferred with the Duke of Norfolk, hereditary Marshal of England, and Earl Clarendon, the Lord Chamberlain, on arrangements of her father's lying-in-state and funeral.

The announcement came soon after word that the funeral would take place at nearby Windsor Castle in richly decorated St. George's Chapel where the remains of the late monarch's father, King George V, and many other British sovereigns lie.

School Housed In Morgue, Editor Claims

LANSING (AP)—If a Michigan school is being taught in a building housing a morgue, the state superintendent of public instruction doesn't know about it.

Dr. Benjamin Fine, Education Editor of the New York Times, testified before a Congressional committee in Washington today that a nationwide survey he conducted revealed school children were attending classes in a building housing a morgue in a Michigan town.

Asked later to locate the morgue-school, Dr. Fine told a reporter he didn't remember the exact location of the school, but it was a small community in the vicinity of Royal Oak.

Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, told reporters here he knew of no such building, adding:

"We've just completed a survey of the state's school buildings which included a check on their outside uses and think it would have been uncovered if such a situation existed."

Christening Set for Ship Honoring MSC

"Five Million Dollar Splash"—an illustrated feature story about the 410-foot car ferry "Spartan"—appeared in this month's issue of "Tracks," publication of Chesapeake and Ohio Railway.

The "Spartan" was launched last month at Sturgeon Bay, Wis. It will be officially christened this spring with its sister ship, the "Harrier," named in honor of the University of Wisconsin.

Miss John Hannah of MSC and Mrs. Walter J. Koller, Jr., wife of Wisconsin's governor, will take part in the ceremony.

Newest additions to the C&O lake fleet, the car ferries will cost $5 million apiece and will be the largest and fastest in the world. They will sail between Ludington and ports in Wisconsin.

TB X-Ray Unit To End Campus Work Today

In its third and final day on campus today the Ingham County x-ray unit will move to the rear door of the married housing office on South Campus.

Donald G. Wileman, executive secretary of the county TB and Health Society, reported 761 students x-rayed in the two days the unit was by the Student Union Building. East Lansing's total for two days was 100.

The free service is supported by Ingham County Sanatorium tax funds and Christmas seal purchases.

Anyone who wishes to be x-rayed may register at the married housing office. The unit will be open from 1 to 5 and 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Proposed in Bipartisan Move Amendment Aimed At UN Agreements

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifty-six senators joined yesterday in proposing a Constitutional amendment to prevent the use of treaties and Presidential agreements "to undermine the Sovereignty of the United States."

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) said the bi-partisan move was directed mainly against activities of the United Nations. This International organization, Bricker told the Senate, "appears inspired by an ambition to define and enforce by treaty the economic and political rights of every human being in the world."

The resolution for a Constitutional amendment was signed by 43 Republicans and 13 Democrats.

They want to:

1. Prevent the making of any treaty or executive agreement restricting the rights of American citizens under their own Constitution.

2. Block agreements vesting in any international organization or foreign government the powers given by the Constitution to Congress, the President and the Courts of the United States.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) is a co-sponsor of the resolution. He told Bricker he thought it "most important that the subject be examined."

Another prohibition the senators included in the proposed amendment would prevent executive agreements from being made in lieu of treaties. Such agreements, unless Congress provided otherwise, would expire automatically one year after the end of the four-year term of the president who made the agreement.

Tax Petition Drive Lacks 500 Signers

Signatures of 500 more students on student tax petitions are necessary if the tax is put to a vote Feb. 21.

In 10 days representatives have gathered about 600 names. This figure is approximate because we have no way of telling how many names are on petitions in circulation. Gafford Sheets, student government president, explained.

No deadline has been set for the petitions. Sheets asked Wednesday that the petitions be turned in by Feb. 14.

Approximately 1,100 signatures are necessary to propose the amendment.

No Snow Today, Says Weatherman

One day of relief from snow is expected today, according to the weatherman. Warmer temperatures with cloudy skies are predicted.

The forecast for Saturday is snow flurries with little change in temperature.

President Names Small OPS Head

Ex-Georgia Chief Executive Follows DiSalle as Price Boss

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia's rotund, fighting little ex-governor Ellis Gibbs Arnall, said yesterday he would take the job as price administrator of the nation.

Arnall's appointment was announced yesterday afternoon by President Truman.

The acceptance by Arnall of the appointment was taken by his friends to mean that the 44-year-old former governor was convinced of Mr. Truman's intention to seek reelection.

Arnall himself told reporters he had no intention of discussing politics; that he had a job to do.

The five-foot-seven-inch, 190-pound Arnall, will succeed M. C. DiSalle as head of the Office of Price Administration. DiSalle resigned effective Feb. 15 to run for the Senate from Ohio.

Arnall, who called President Truman's re-election in 1948 in his book, "What the People Want," told reporters:

"I have an extraordinary ability, an inborn knack and knowledge of the people, which will solve our price problem."

"This I do know: It is easy to forget that American boys are dying in Korea; it is easy to forget that our nation is engaged in an all-out effort to hold fast the bastions of democracy. It is easy to forget that our country's economy is the vital key to the success of our fight against Communism and slavery."

To take the $16,000 a year job as OPS head, Arnall will take a leave of absence from his property law firm, his $28,000 a year job as president of the Independent Motor Vehicle Producers Association, and the presidency of the Dixie Insurance Company.

Hockey Squad Meets Gophers

By JACK KOLE
Coach Amo Bessone's hockey team, riding the crest of a two game winning streak, will have a double purpose in mind when it takes the ice against Minnesota tonight and tomorrow night at Williams Arena in Minneapolis.

First of all the Spartans will be trying to bring their season's average over the .500 mark for the first time since last December. But they will also take a great deal of satisfaction in gaining sweet revenge for the four humiliating defeats suffered at the hands of the Gophers last year.

The hockey team arrived in Minneapolis late yesterday afternoon in time for a practice session in the campus arena. Bessone had indicated before the team's departure that he hoped his team would get the "feel" of the foreign ice in a hurry so they would be well prepared for the crucial series.

The Spartans boast a better record than the Gophers, but more than average must be taken into consideration in this series.

Although the Gophers show a mediocre 6-12 record as against State's 5-5, they have racked up wins against league-leading Denver and North Dakota. Only last Saturday the Gophers gave the Spartans from Colorado a terrific battle in losing a 6-5 overtime heart-breaker.

Bessone will count on his usual starting lineup in the Midwest Intercollegiate Hockey League series. Skating in the front line for the Spartans will be Jack Mayes, Steve Raz, and Gordie King, while Dick Lord and John Thomas will start behind the blue line. Del Reid will guard the cage, but Gerald Bergin is assured of a starting berth in the nets on one of the two nights.

In the front line the Gophers will counter with freshmen John Mayasich and sophomores Dick Deaver and Gene Campbell. Frank Larson and John Reid-head will be at the defense points, while George McCormack will be goalie for Minnesota.

The pucksters will leave Minneapolis Sunday morning and will arrive on the campus Monday in time for classes. Then they will begin a fast preparation for the invasion of Colorado College on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

The Colorado College sextet, from Colorado Springs, Colo., is making its first visit to the MSC ice arena. The Rocky Mountain team recently handed the Denver University Pioneers a 5-0 defeat on Denver's home ice. The Spartans dropped two encounters to this same Denver team on a recent trip.

Sports COED CORNER

GLADYS Constantine was crowned singles champion in the Badminton tourney Wednesday, winning two out of three sets from Mary Ellen Weigle. Scores were 11-3, 8-11, and 11-6.

Block playoffs Tuesday saw Miss Constantine, Block I winner, gain a 11-1, 11-6 win over Joyce Jackson, Block IV champion. Helen Schultz, Block II title holder, lost to Miss Weigle, Block II champ by scores of 11-2, 11-2.

The extra-curricular sport goes into doubles competition Monday with Miss Schultz and Miss Constantine defending their 1951 title. Games are scheduled for 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, both this week and next week.

In charge of the tourney is Lucille E. Dailey, physical education instructor.

Death Takes Wilbur Henry: Hailed as Greatest Lineman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Death put an end to the great Fats Henry's last fight yesterday, but his football fame will live forever.

The Athletic Director-Coach of Washington and Jefferson College where he gained renown as a grid lineman succumbed to diabetes at the age of 54.

His name was Wilbur Henry, but most everybody knew him either as Fats or Pete. He fought a prolonged illness, which dates back to 1948 when he had to have a leg amputated as a result of the disease. But Fats never gave up and refused a fund drive in his behalf.

Hailed as the greatest lineman of all times, Henry's agility, force and imagination won him many honors in the football world. He was named All-American tackle in 1919 by the late Walter Camp and placed on the All-Time All-American Associated Press team.

Last year his name became further immortalized by admittance to the Football Hall of Fame.

A native of Mansfield, Ohio, the big, shy 235-pound tackle made the W. and J. Varsity team in his first game as a freshman. Henry is the only W. J. graduate ever to win varsity letters in four of all times. Henry's agility, force and imagination won him many

Soldiers to Provide Strong Opposition for State Tonight

By LEN BLEWETT

In an attempt to get back on the victory bandwagon the Spartan boxing team will meet a rugged squad from Fort Custer tonight at 8 o'clock in Jenison Fieldhouse. George Makris' battlers have one win, one loss, and a draw going into this evening's contest. They dropped their last match to Gonzaga, 6-3.

The Fort Custer mittmen are reported to be in excellent condition and are expected to give the Spartans a lot of trouble. The going will be especially rough for State in the light-heavy and welterweight divisions.

Dick Jones will meet NCAA champ Chuck Spieser in the 175-pound bout and Robert Bell will go against either NCAA (11th) Jed Black or Dick LaForge. Pontiac sophomore, in the 147-pound scrap.

Jones went to the semi-finals of the Tournament of Champions in Chicago while Bell was the 160-pound Wisconsin Golden Gloves king. Bell will meet LaForge in case Black is moved to the 156-pound slot. Exceptionally fast with either hand, LaForge has shown up well in recent workouts.

The visitors boast another outstanding boxer in the 165-pound class. Pfc. Harry Holmes, a 19-year-old from Washington, D.C., was a novice champ from Wisconsin last year. His opponent will be either hard-hitting Tom Hickey, Chicago freshman, or Leon Hamilton, senior letterman from Detroit.

Hamilton is an especially rough customer who has proved he can take and deliver a solid punch. His three losses this season were close decisions.

Another rugged match could develop between heavyweights Al Tsaknis, who dropped a close match against Gonzaga, and Donald Ross, who has had 26 amateur fights, winning 20 and losing six. In the 156-pound bracket, Fort Custer has Jay Cozzi who fought with the Madison A.C. in Chicago in 1950. His opponent will be either Hickey or Black.

In the lighter weights Spartan Norm Andrie will go against Thornton Barnett, 19-year-old from Chicago. Andrie has won two of his three bouts. Jimmy Evans, Flint freshman, and Bernard Kent are matched in the 126-pound class while the opening bout of the card will see State's Leroy Jeffrey try for his third win. His opponent has not been announced.

Swim Seating

Limited seating capacity will make it necessary for all spectators at the Michigan State-Ohio State swimming meet to check their coats in the Jenison Fieldhouse lobby, according to Coach Charles McCaffrey. The MSC swimming mentor also requested that students come early, remember their IDs, and sit close together. The pool gallery will be open at 1 p.m.

State Tankers Face Strong Buckeye Team Saturday

Spartans Rate Underdog Role Against Ohio State

By GEORGE WEEKS

When the Michigan State tankers tangle with Ohio State tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, they'll meet what is termed "one of the greatest swim squads ever assembled," but MSC's Coach Charles McCallfree warns, "we aren't conceding anything; meets aren't won on paper. There will be a thrill in every event."

Gymnastics To Follow Cage Game

By DON LEWIS

An added feature of the Michigan State-Ohio State basketball game tomorrow night is the MSC-Illinois gymnastics meet following the game.

The Spartan gymnasts, victorious in three consecutive meets, will be top heavy favorites over the Hoosiers, who have lost two Big Ten meets, one to Michigan, 66-29, the other to Wisconsin by a single point.

Main cog in the Indiana scoring machine is Hal Vogel, who competes in the all-around event. Trampoliner Dick Albershard is taken two firsts this year and could give the Spartans trouble in that event.

Tops in the tumbling division is Bill Lee. Lee was injured midway through the Michigan meet but returned to the lineup against Wisconsin.

Sprinter Dick Cleveland, who this year bettered the world 100-yard freestyle record with a 49.3 clocking, and Ford Konno, sensational world-beater in the distance events, are heavily favored over MSC's Clark Scholes and Bert McLachlan.

Coach Jack Taylor rates the edge over Hal Vogel in the 200-yard back stroke and will probably lead off the medley relay.

Wednesday evening, the Ohio medley relay team set a world record as the Buckeyes defeated Indiana in a dual meet. The trio, composed of Taylor, Jerry Holtz, and Cleveland, covered the distance in 2:47.1. Michigan set the recognized mark of 2:49.1 in 1948.

Little hope lies for the Spartans in the diving event. Bob Cloutworthy, conference champion with Joe Marino and Bob Coffey for the Buckeyes, Ken Coyne is MSC's best off the highboard.

The Spartans' swim team is physical peak Saturday. Bruce Aldrich, breaststroke star, has a dental extraction and several other Spartan athletes are suffering from colds.

Nearly every dual meet record, along with a host of national marks, will be in danger when Mike Poppe's crew invades Jenison pool. Poppe is slated to coach America's diving team in the forthcoming Olympic games.

Michigan State finished behind the Ohio tankers in the Big Ten and ahead of them in the NCAA last season. The Bucks haven't been beaten in dual meet competition in two years. They are the only swimmers to down the Spartans in dual meet competition in the last two years.

Since last year, Ohio State has added men like Cleveland and Konno, while MSC has lost its star, George Houscholtz, and Jim Quigley.

Lavellette Leads Groat in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Groat, Duke basketball star, is making a determined effort to take over the major college individual scoring lead from Clyde Lovellette of Kansas.

Figures released yesterday by the NCAA service bureau disclosed that in games through Feb. 2, Lovellette has an average of 25.7 per contest, while Groat has 25.6.

Thinclads Set For AAU Meet At Ann Arbor

Michigan State track and field athletes are entered in all events in the annual Michigan A.A.U. Relays to be held tomorrow afternoon and evening at Yost Fieldhouse in Ann Arbor.

Coach Karl Schlademan is taking a strong traveling team to Ann Arbor. Among the 1952 team will be four Big Ten stars, including individual records.

Besides regular team personnel, the traveling group will include former MSC stars Bill Mack and Jess Thomas. Mack will compete in the mile run, while Thomas will run in the broad jump and the hop, step and jump.

A number of the relay events scheduled will provide plenty of action.

DICK HENSON

Interest sport will have a strong emphasis in the mile relay, where Dick Henson, John Walter, Ron Lacy, and Jim Reppert are expected to compete.

The Spartans will also hope for continued success in the mile relay, which they won last year. The quartet will be made up of Dick Henson, Dick Harwick, Larry Vargha, and Jim Reppert.

Leading the State sprint delegation is Capt. Dick Henson, who is also to be entered in the 55-yard low hurdle event. Art Ingram and Vargha complete the lineup in the dash, while John Corbelli and Doug McFetter join Henson in low hurdle competition.

Dick Thornton goes at 177 and 185 pounds, while Vargha, 175 pounds, will be in the 150-pound class.

Allied Troops Raid Red Hill Position Near Panmunjom

UN Marks Time as Communists Propose End to Korean Issue

By The Associated Press
Allied troops raided two Communist hill positions near the Panmunjom neutral area in Korea yesterday as negotiators traded concessions on truce supervision and prisoner exchange.

In Washington, Defense Secretary Lovett and Gen. Omar Bradley gave senators a "high report" on progress of the cease fire and truce negotiations.

The UN command marked time on a sweeping Red proposal for permanent solution of Korean and other Asiatic issues.

Officials indicated Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN Far Eastern commander, would be instructed soon to submit a counter-proposal to the Red peace plan.

Allied troops on the Panmunjom front withdrew after a 25-minute clash with about 25 Chinese Reds, an Eighth Army communiqué said.

In the air war, 17 U.S. sabre jets skirmished with 30 Communist MIGs and damaged two over northwest Korea.

North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung in a radio broadcast ordered his officers and men to "prepare for decisive fighting with the enemy."

The college believes that those statistics can't be ignored. Silvernale's approach has been the development of a course which he will conduct both on campus and in communities throughout the state as part of the college's Continuing Education Service.

The course is designed specifically for Michigan's 330 high school driving teachers.

The theory behind that approach is that no high school course can be better than its teacher. So the aim is to conduct a course for teachers which they in turn can conduct for their own pupils.

The course has both classroom and roadwork phases. Students start with a study of what makes a good driver.

MSC Plans Driver Training Program

Because MSC believes that statistics can't be ignored in a nation with a total traffic death toll now well over the million mark, teaching is a matter of life or death for Prof. Leslie R. Silvernale.

As head of MSC's unique driver education program, Silvernale has a job that is figured to pay off in lower traffic death rates throughout Michigan by reaching high school students with driver training courses.

Silvernale can cite statistics to show that the right kind of program should make a real dent in the state's traffic death curse.

The statistics come from four separately conducted studies made in cities throughout the nation. They add up to a single conclusion—that high school students with proper training in driving have only half as many accidents as those without it.

Actually, youths under 25 have the highest accident rate of any age group. Silvernale believes a lack of a feeling of responsibility on the part of young people may be at the foot of those high rates.

Wolverine Cycle Begins, Ends With May Banquet

By VIRGINIA CARTER

It may come out once a year, but more than 100 people work on the Wolverine for 12 months before the distribution date.

The cycle, which begins and ends with Publications Banquet in May, starts with the appointment of editors and business manager by the Board of Publications. After the announcement of their selection, the annual banquet, editors settle contracts for printing, engraving and photography, including senior and organizations pictures.

Engravers utilize the ideas of the yearbook staff and in July present them with a layout of dummy containing proportions of pages and picture sizes. After the theme of the book is chosen, covers are contracted for and designed.

Looking big on the list of jobs is collecting names and addresses of every campus organization president. Contracts for page space and picture schedules are set up when organization presidents are contacted.

When pictures are returned from the photographer they are cropped and sent to the engraver who sends them to the printer. Questionnaires are sent to all organizations for necessary information about the organizations and their activities along with
