HST Denies Commitment Of Troops

House Asks for Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday denied making any secret commitment to Britain's Prime Minister Churchill to send U.S. troops anywhere in the world.

The President's denial came after the House of Representatives demanded in a formal resolution that he furnish "full and complete information" on any such commitments he might have made in his talks with Churchill last month.

This resolution was not binding on Mr. Truman.

And when reporters asked him about it at his weekly news conference he declined comment, saying the resolution hadn't reached him officially.

Richard L. Wilson, Washington correspondent for the Cowles Publications, then asked if the president—without reference to the house resolution—had committed this country to send troops anywhere in the world.

Again Mr. Truman declined to comment.

But after the news conference broke up he spoke privately with Wilson and told him the answer to his question was no.

Several other correspondents heard the reply and asked the White House if they could publish it.

Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short, about an hour later, gave the permission.

Twenty-eight Democrats, mostly from the South, joined 161 Republicans in pushing through the resolutions, 189 to 143. Backers of the resolution demanded an end to "secret diplomacy." Administration supporters protested in vain that the move amounted to asking the President to tell the Kremlin just what it wants to know.

The resolution, recalled Churchill's statement in a speech to Congress, that he would welcome "taken forces" from this country, France and Turkey to help police the Suez Canal Zone.

In London, meanwhile, Churchill issued a similar demand for more information. Labor party leaders decided at a caucus to renew their cross-examination of the Prime Minister in the House of Commons.

Campus Chest Picks Speech Chairmen

Speakers' Bureau committee heads for the 1952 Campus Chest campaign have been selected, according to Dick Guenther, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau.

Donnie Stark, East Lansing Pointe junior, dorms and John Wilson, Lapeer senior, fraternities, will direct speakers.

In order to publicize the annual spring drive, Campus Chest Speakers' Bureau representatives will visit dorms, married housing and fraternities and sororities.

A general meeting of the new committee heads and individual speakers will be held Wednesday, Feb. 27 at 7 p.m. in the Union Tower Room.

Miss Elizabeth Page, director of the Spartan Nursery and A. J. Clark of the East Lansing State Bank will attend the meeting.

Into a Dark Unknown World

Blind Coed Finds Challenge in College

Editor's Note: Judith Alban, of Jackson, a lively blond with a ray sense of humor, started losing her sight when she was 11 years old. Now 19, she is a junior at Michigan State College, majoring in journalism. "I want to learn to write," she said. "My father always wanted a writer in the family, and I was chosen." As a student in News reporting, it is one of Judy's jobs to write stories for the State News. Following is her story of some of the experiences she has encountered

Polly Meilenburg as Kathryn Howard and Bill Carey as Henry VIII are shown in their first encounter. Unaware of her earlier indiscretions, he tells her: "You are like a rose in the moon." She, dazed by the offer of a throne asks: "A briared rose?" He assures her: "No, a rose without a thorn."

'Thunderous Applause' at Curtain Critic Awards 'Rose' Bouquets and Barbs

When the final curtain closed on the first American performance of "Rose Without A Thorn" last night, there was thunderous applause and three deserved curtain calls.

If all the world loves a lover, this play is a literary tribute. It tells of the fate of one Kathryn Howard, doomed to atone for inhumanity in Frank outspoken terms. Clifford Bax makes theatrical capital out of Kathryn's seemingly innocent wantonness and gives her gaiety and warmth.

It is the king's tragedy to fall in love with his "rose without a thorn" ("I love every inch of her"), in whom he sees unblemished girlhood that may recreate his youth.

Individual performances stand out considerably in a fairly well chosen cast. Sally Hameline as Tiney reveals a complex, new facet of mature characterization, as does Frank Bradley. His conception, grasp and constant character made a memorable Culpac.

Equally compelling are Becky Baker, Dale Baum, Tom Hickey and Klaus Lehmann. Lesley Yeager, who was a trifle too theatrical in Act III, was at her best in Act IV.

Legislature Asks Hatcher to Speak

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature yesterday invited Harlan H. Hatcher, new president of the University of Michigan, to address a joint convention of the House and Senate at his convenience.

The honor, usually accorded only a governor or an outstanding national figure, was proposed by the House several weeks ago and joined by the Senate yesterday.

Reich Party Leader Held

BONN, Germany (AP)—Deputy Franz Richter, a leader of the Nazi-like Socialist Reich Party, was arrested yesterday on charges that he was a wartime Nazi official who switched allegiances in 1943 and won election to Parliament under a false name.

The arrest appeared to be part of a campaign by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Conservative government to drive the Nazis out of West German politics.

Clendenen to Tell Army Experience

Col. Clarence Clendenen, professor of military science and tactics, will relate his army experiences to members of Phi Chi Eta, quartermaster honorary, in Old College Hall tonight.

Col. Clendenen is the head of the MSC Army ROTC unit.

Tax Issue Goes Before Student Body for Vote

Majority Must Cast Ballot, Sheets Sure of Passage

Student Congress election workers will carry out the last details of a year-and-a-half long project to institute a student tax at MSC when voting on the issue will be conducted today.

Ted Eck, chairman of the elections committee, urged all voters to have their ID cards with them.

"ID cards will absolutely be required to make a student a qualified voter. The cards will be punched to insure that the election will be free from any possibility of dishonesty," he emphasized.

At a Congress meeting last night, President G. Ford Sheets expressed confidence that the amendment would be voted in.

Student Congressmen objected to a suggestion that the vote be conducted over a two-day period in case the necessary "yes" votes were not secured today.

Under a constitutional provision, a majority of the undergraduate students must cast a ballot with a majority of those 2,876.

The student legislators agreed to hold the election at each vote official's discretion between 12:01 a.m. and 11:59 p.m. today.

Voting will be held in all dormitories, sororities, fraternities, and co-ops. Students who live in East Lansing or Lansing will be able to vote in the Union.

The proposed tax, which would assess each student a maximum of 25 cents a term, has been explained as an effort to make a financially independent student government possible.

Graduate students will not vote on the amendment because they will not be affected by the measure.

The special election was set up after more than 1,100 signatures were secured on a petition requesting the tax amendment.

The State Board of Agriculture had previously approved the proposal.

Ballots will be counted by election workers at 7:30 tonight in the Union, Eck said.

All interested students may watch the tabulation.

Also at last night's meeting, student congressmen discussed the revision of the Committee on End Discrimination constitution.

The group will not be given organization privileges until its constitution is approved by the Student Congress and the Faculty Committee on Organizations, headed by Dean King.

Hannah, Tug To Discuss Athletics

Big 10 Official May Discuss ACE Plan

Two of the principals in the current battle over athletic reform will meet here today when President Hannah and Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson discuss the American Council on Education proposals.

Wilson arrived yesterday for a routine spring visit, but did not talk with Dr. Hannah because the president was ill.

"I probably will talk to Dr. Hannah about the proposals. I wouldn't be human if I didn't ask him a few questions," Wilson said yesterday, according to the Associated Press.

He termed today's meeting a courtesy call, and said the proposals were not the main purpose of his visit. He said he will have no statement to make afterward.

Wilson had previously announced that the ACE proposals for cleaning up intercollegiate sports would be discussed at a Western Conference meeting sometime before April 1.

Meanwhile, Dr. Hannah said he is "baffled" by questions being raised about how the reform plan would work.

The recommendations are quite clear, I think. Everybody concerned has a copy. All they have to do to clear up many of the questions they are asking is to read that report," he said.

Dr. Hannah was chairman of the committee of college presidents that drew up the proposals.

Petitions Available For WAA Offices

A two-point average is necessary. Petitions should be returned to sports managers or to the Gym balloting board by 4 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Hess said.

Erickson Asks Unity in Reorganization

Basic Change Part of Over All Plan; Only Faculty Has Right to Approve

By SARA MURRAY
State News Associate Editor

Addressing the need for co-operation between Basic College and upper school personnel in Basic College reorganization, C. E. Erickson, dean of the Basic College, explained the proposed reorganization to a staff meeting of the School of Science and Arts last night.

"We have neither the right nor the authority to engage in self-determination," Dean Erickson pointed out. "We want the entire institution to set the institutional framework under which we must operate."

He went on to explain that why the Basic College was putting its reorganization plan up to a vote of the entire Michigan State faculty. "The plan will be presented at the next meeting."

Implying that criticism already had been leveled at the reorganization, Dean Erickson asked the group to remember that the plan had been subjected to varying pressures and opinions. He explained that even the start of the Basic College was not unopposed on all points of the reorganization.

Briefly, the reorganization plan would consolidate the present seven Basic College courses into four, which would cover the same subject material. Under the present system, students are required to take five of the seven courses. After reorganization, they would have to take all four of the Basic College courses.

Dean Erickson viewed the reorganization not as a change in fundamental structure or policy, but as a changing of partitions inside the building. He numbered the advantages of the reorganization as follows:

1. The new plan eliminates overlapping courses and better interrelates. Students get the benefit of all basic courses.
2. A common educational base.

Debate Jobless Aid

LANSING (AP)—House and Senate leaders yesterday debated extending Michigan unemployment compensation to help men idled by conversion of industry to war contracts by extending unemployment benefits from 20 to 26 weeks.

Communisists refused and their support of Russia. Two hour session ended after it was clear that side was going to alter

Developments, staff meeting on prisoner exchange agreed on non-phrasing, but there was no sign of agreement on the issue. The Allies want to exchange on a basis of one-for-one. The Reds want all prisoners returned, forcibly if necessary.

Defense Department yesterday announced a new total for the battle casualties in the Korean War.

Final preparations were made last night for the student tax election by Ted Eck, election committee chairman and Bob Martin, director of public relations. The ballot boxes will be placed in living units and the Union. Identification cards must be prepared to be eligible to vote.

Common Sense

The much ballyhooed "12-page" document that could radically change intercollegiate sports, reveals nothing that hasn't been said before by conscientious educators. In fact, President John A. Hannah said almost everything that was contained in the report at a NCAA convention five years ago.

However, suspicious college athletic officials tried to read into the American Council on Education's recommendations many items that weren't there. Some attacked the proposals as worthless and others feared its power.

Many of the minute and insignificant articles of the report received the most debate. Widespread confusion was prevalent concerning the ACE's cleanup program because no one knew just how much weight the proposal carried. The simple facts of the document were sorely overlooked.

Everyone was more concerned with how the plan affected each school individually. An analysis shows that "due time" has been allowed to put the recommendations into effect and that the proposals are aimed at conference and not at specific individual action.

The fact forgotten by all was that the plan was drawn up by 11 college presidents. These presidents were practical educators and realized more than anyone else the limitations of such a program.

They weren't as much concerned with specific wrongs in the collegiate sports program as the over all evil. It was a common fact that athletes were subsidized below board and given special academic privileges.

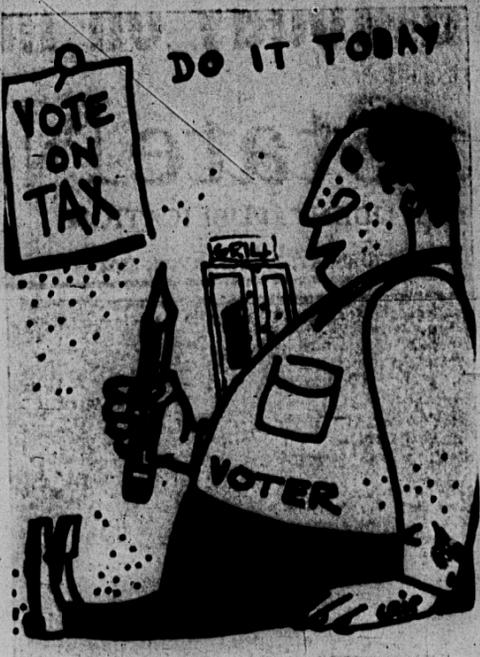

How could a college or university honestly preach moral integrity with its right hand while the left was paying players and lying about it?

As Dr. Hannah said, "Too often at present a college president must feign ignorance or prevaricate." So the presidents themselves, who were directly responsible for everything in their respective universities, decided to act. The present report, which only suggests, is their answer.

Now it is up to the various conferences. The Ivy League voted to follow the recommendations while the Western Conference called a meeting for the near future.

The document in itself is nothing, but a suggestion. The power of the whole proposal lies in the action it brings about.

As a member of the Big Ten, we hope that the conference acts as a leader and adopts the resolutions of the ACE.

Step Out and Vote

Student Congress last night defeated a motion to extend the student tax vote an extra day. This decision was the only one Congressmen could rightfully make. They could not conscientiously extend the vote for more than one day to make up the necessary majority of votes for a legal poll.

So today the tax goes to students for an okay. The poll will mark the end of nearly two years hard work by past and present student governors.

Result of the vote will have a definite effect on the value of student government. There are many aspects, many angles to be considered.

The Student News has given its opinion on the value of the student tax theory. It has given its opinion on the caliber of the student governors and how they conducted the campaign for the vote.

But now, the decision rests with you. Be sure to voice your opinion one way or the other.

NATO Hears Demand for Army

Must Finish Job, Acheson Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—NATO ministers met in Lisbon yesterday to translate "armies into armies in the field," Acheson said. He said the words were those of Secretary of State Acheson, who warned Allied powers "what we have so far will be of little use unless we finish the job."

Acheson's speech, which opened the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council, was held in the grand white marble hall of the Portuguese parliament.

Acheson, chairman of the temporary council, submitted a resolution to the 14 NATO powers asking for concrete proposals for achieving a "maximum of ready forces in 1952 on a balanced collective basis."

Acheson said he had 50 to 60 divisions ready for the force in 1952. The "adequacy, strength" of the force has been set at 100 divisions.

The new members, Greece, Turkey, joined the 12 western Allies at the meeting, and by foreign, defense and military ministers.

The two new members, Greece and Turkey, are composed of the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Italy, Norway, Denmark, Canada and Iceland.

Acheson's note today stated when Portuguese Minister Paulo Cunha made his welcoming speech and for admission of Spain.

He blasted Spain's bid as a strategic absurdity and defense of Iberian peninsula is indivisible.

One of today's six speakers named by name another nation to get her foot in NATO door—West Germany.

But the future of Germany is likely to be one of the most problems debated behind closed doors here all week.

Acheson hinted in his speech that the Three had gone a long way in resolving French-German differences that have hindered the final drafting of the European army treaty.

He said the action plan for a European community and an internal army with West Germany in it.

Organization of the NATO structure and the naming of a general to head it.

Approval of a new program of support of NATO's defense program, with members nation increasing.

Draft-Eligible CO's Face Two Years Of Civilian Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday ordered the assignment of draft-eligible conscientious objectors to 24 months of consecutive work in civilian capacities approved by their draft boards.

The executive order affects some 8,700 young men who have professed religious objections to military service. Until now their draft boards have not ordered them into any kind of service.

Mr. Truman's order spelled out the scope of such work as either employment by federal, state or local government or employment by a non-profit organization primarily engaged in a charitable or public service activity.

Men covered by the regulations are to be assigned jobs outside their home communities.

Scholarships Available for Grad Students

Application blanks and information concerning necessary letters of recommendation may be obtained at 112 Merrill Hall, Office of the School of Graduate Studies.

Tanker Tow Begins off Cape Cod

BOSTON (AP)—Two tugs started towing the stern section of the storm-broken tanker Fort Mercer toward land late yesterday. The hulk has 13 seamen passengers aboard.

The Coast Guard received a message at 4:45 p.m. that the tug was under way off Cape Cod. Two tugs, the Foundation Josephine and the M. Moran, took the derelict section in tow, bound in the direction of Nantucket lightship.

At the New York office of the Moran Towing and Transportation Co., Inc., owners of the M. Moran, it was said the course of the tow would be to Block Island, R.I., since that was considered less risky than to Boston direct. It was considered possible the ultimate destination would be New York.

The tug Ocean Prince was standing by and the Coast Guard cutter Eastwind was escorting the convoy.

The Foundation Josephine got a line aboard the stricken stern section in mid-afternoon. Shortly after, the Moran transferred medical supplies from the cutter to the stern hulk. Two of the 13 seamen still aboard the wrecked craft were ill, one with pneumonia.

The 13 aboard were the last of 84 men who were on the Mercer and another tanker, the Pondition, when a northeaster wrecked them both in two Sunday night and Monday. They stayed aboard to help in salvage attempts; the rest of their companions had been removed earlier.

Six men were killed in the battle with the elements, eight were missing and presumed dead, and 57 were rescued.

Green Helmet To Run Auction For Campus Chest

Green Helmet, sophomore men's honorary, will sponsor the Campus Chest Faculty Auction this year, according to Ken Berman, president.

It will be held at the Union south entrance May 3. The date has been changed from Tuesday to avoid conflict with ROTC parades.

The auction netted $386 for the Green Feather campaign last year.

Campus Chest received its first 100 per cent pledge yesterday from Sigma Chi fraternity. Each fraternity and sorority will be asked for a $1 pledge per member before campus chest week begins.

Bob Pingry, Crystal Lake, Ill., junior, has been appointed publicity co-chairman for the green feather drive, according to Carl Eicher, executive director. He will be in charge of posters, displays and special events.

Cold and Costly Price of Snow On MSC Land $155 Per Inch

Yesterday's snowfall cost the college $620 for removal.

Every time an inch of the white stuff falls on college property MSC pays out $155. So far this winter $8,500 has gone to get rid of 55 inches.

Now tractors with ploughs and boomers, two tractors with ploughs, a road grader, bulldozer, and a pick-up truck for salt spreading are used by the grounds department men in removing snow.

With all these mechanical marvels and 40 grounds men available to drive them, the $155 a inch of snow doesn't stand a chance.

(Continued from Page 1.) is provided for upper schools to build curricula on. The plan aims toward an organization with stability that will not have to be changed again soon.

3. The new proposal gives larger blocks of time (12 credit hours) in three of the four courses) to subjects with a smaller pupil-teacher ratio. There would be fewer courses per quarter.

4. Under reorganization there would be more departmental balance in the Basic College and the administrative structure would be more economical and efficient.

Observing that the plan originally had been scheduled to go into effect in 1953, Dean Erickson said that implementation had been moved up to fall of 1952 because upper schools are now reorganizing, text material in four of the seven basics is coming up for reorder, and a majority of the Basic College staff will be coming up for permanent tenure during the next three years.

"It is only fair to stabilize the structure against which these decisions will be made," he explained.

Sigma Nu Looms as Team to Beat After Defeating ATO's, 23-12, in IM Playoffs

By DON CAMERON
 Stop Sigma Nu! The warning came in last night's IM basketball playoffs as last year's champs rolled over ATO by a 23-12 score. Sigma Nu displayed a smooth passing game and a pressing defense to drop ATO from the picture.
 The winners jumped off to an 11-4 lead in the opening minutes and were never headed. The desperate ATO team fell apart in the closing stages as Sigma Nu went into a stall and sewed up the contest with three quick baskets.
 Tom Walsh dropped in seven points for the victories as John Lynch was high for ATO with six.
 Keeping up with the fast pace of Sigma Nu was the red-hot Phil Delt quintet. They powered their way to a 31-18 triumph over Delta Sig. The fine ball-handling and floor game of Jim Delaney sparked his team to the win.

 He set up the plays for his team's tall forwards, Dean Tallberg and John Bachman. They controlled the backboards for winners. Bachman with 11 tallies and Delaney with 10 were the big point getters.
 Abbott 17 won its second game in as many nights as they downed Abbott 12, 18-16. Paul Hummel, who paced Abbott 11 both nights, ran up 17 points to eliminate Abbott 12. Abbott 13 was the victim of Hummel's high scoring tactics Tuesday night. Tom Cauley had eight points for Abbott 12.
 Three independent teams got off to flying starts in the title chase. Sphinx overwhelmed Roman Club, 47-14. Sphinx settled the issue in the first quarter with 18 points. Bill Reid used driving lay-up shots to score 14 points. His team-mate Willie Thrower scored from the outside too add 10.

 Black Knights put on a late rally to win out over Vampires 26-21 after being held to a 12-12 halftime tie. Vic Paulina netted 11 to offset the nine scored by the loser's Frank Hedrick. Bill Paulina dropped in nine for the winners.
 Hawaii Club will enter the second round tonight against the powerful Lansing Y. They topped a determined Schmoos team in a tight 23-20 tussel. George Vlasovich used an effective hook shot to net 14 while Al Miller led the Schmoos with 8.

 In a free-scoring affair Brewers toppled Hedrick 39-25. Tom Angeli hit double figures with 20 points for Brewers to top Gerry Trout's 13. Brewers will take on the Old Bucks in the only other second round game slated for tonight.
Former State Coed Fifth in Skating
 By the Associated Press
 OSLO—Virginia Baxter, Detroit, placed fifth in yesterday's finals of Women's Figure Skating in the Winter Olympics. She was a freshman at Michigan State last Fall term. She scored 152.211 points.
 Jeanette Allwegg, England, took top honors with 161.760 points.
 Two other Americans placed high. Tenley Albright took second while Sonja Klopfer was fourth.

Grabbing a rebound, Rod Fletcher (37) Illinois guard, circles teammate Olive Follmer (33), Iowa's giant center Chuck Darling (left) and Herbert Thompson try to stop the Illinois Capt. Fletcher in their last meeting won by the Hawkeyes, 73-68. The two teams meet again Saturday at Champaign.

Illinois, Iowa Meet In Top Big Ten Game

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The one for the money in Big Ten basketball race is on tap Saturday night as the traditionally-favored Iowa tries to score its first victory at Illinois in 24 years.
 The tense scrap will smash a first-place deadlock and virtually hand the conference title to the winner. Illinois and Iowa each has a 9-1 record thus far in the 14 game championship chase.
 Although Iowa beat Illinois at home, 73-68, on Feb. 11, the Hawkeyes will be confronted by an amazing Champaign jinx which has permitted only one Hawkeye victory—that in 1928—in 19 games on the Illinois court.
 Minnesota has a mathematical title chance with a third-spot 9-3 record, but the capacity 6,000 to jam into Huff Gym at Champaign Saturday night expected to see the clear-cut champion crowned right then and there.
 Iowa's only league setback and its only defeat in 18 starts for the entire season was an 82-69 stumble at Indiana Jan. 21.
 Illinois will bank on its sharp defensive play—directed at the 26-point shooting of Iowa's sen-

Bradley Tourney Plans Postponed

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Plans for holding a second National Campus Basketball Tournament at Bradley University have been abandoned, Arthur Berg, Athletic Director, said last night.
 "In cancelling our tournament program, we are going along with recommendations of the American Council on Education, the basketball season be terminated by March 15," Berg said. "We will make no plans until there is a clearing of policy on post season play."

Hutch. Maps Bengal Contract

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Fred Hutchison, former NFL star, signed a contract with Bengal to play in the 34 Detroit Tigers in the NFL.
 Only pitcher Hal Newhouse who wants to wear number 10 to show his arm respects, and baseman Jerry Pate, and fielder Johnny Gosh, were unsigned.

Late Sports Wire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mazza, a Michigan State end, has signed to play football with the Washington Redskins. Mazza, 25 years old, weighs 208 and is 6 feet 7 inches tall. His home is in Falls, N.Y.
 TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Ex-Detroit outfielder Dick Wakefield received a thorough trial as a baseman with the Cleveland Indians, manager Al Lopez yesterday. That assumes that hasn't forgotten how to hit.

Minnesota Upset Minded

Gopher Sluggers Sight Revenge After State Loss

With revenge on their minds, Minnesota's boxers will invade East Lansing Monday night in hopes of retaliating for a defeat slapped on them last Saturday by the Spartan sluggers.
 Last time the two teams met, State came out on the long end of a 61-21 score. Spartan mitt coach George Makris was one of the first to state that the margin of victory over the Golden Gophers wasn't as great as the score would indicate, however.
 Both Leroy Jeffrey and Herb Odum won their matches by virtue of knockdowns, stated the MSC mentor, and could easily have lost. Those two defeats would have set the team score at a 4-4 tie.
 Remembering the disastrous trip to the West Coast the team took earlier in the season, the burly coach has since employed a flexible lineup. That system enables him to shift his weight classes so opponents are kept in the dark until just before meet time.
 Herb Odum has seen action at both 139 and 147, with Dick LaForge relieving him at the lighter weight. Jed Black, who normally scales 147, has won two bouts at 156, where Tom Hickey has been holding sway. Hickey, on the other hand, has shown no lack of lustre in relieving Leon Hamilton at the middleweight bracket, and one of his two wins there has been via the TKO route.
Hirsch Questioned
 NEW YORK (AP)—Waite Hirsch, captain of the 1930-51 University of Kentucky team "cooperated" with the district attorney's office yesterday throughout a day of questioning regarding the college basketball scandals which have involved more than 30 players from seven schools.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Beaton, Chicago, former NBA welterweight champion, last night gained a split decision over rugged Vic Cardell, Hartford, Conn., in a nationally televised 10 round bout in the Chicago Stadium. national Chuck Darling—and the rebounding of Capt. Rod Fletcher to avenge the loss at Iowa.
 Iowa brings the conference's best scoring average, 73.9 points; the best field goal average, .357; and the least number of personal fouls, 198.
 The whole pattern of battle probably will be the entire Illinois team, but especially centers Johnny Kerr and Bob Peterson, trying to clamp down on Darling.
 Darling, with 262 points in 10 games, would shatter the conference season record with a typical spree Saturday night. He is only 15 points shy of the Big Ten 14-game record of 277 set by Northwestern's Ray Agelis last year.
 And it doesn't pay to underestimate the big Hawkeye center. Darling has potted 68 free throws out of a conference high of 102 chances. That's two out of three shooting at the charity line.

UMT Gets New Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—Universal Military Training (UMT) for 18-year-olds moved a long stride nearer reality yesterday.

By a 12 to 0 vote, the Senate Armed Services Committee approved a bill to permit the start of UMT before the end of the year.

The corresponding House committee earlier had approved a similar measure, and the House is scheduled to begin debate on it next Thursday.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Committee, said the Senate probably will delay action on its bill until the House has acted.

While the bills are similar, there are some differences to be worked out if each house passes the legislation.

One provision of the Senate bill is designed to force an eventual reduction in the strength of the regular Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

This requires the Secretary of Defense to make semi-annual reductions in the regular armed forces as soon as 300,000 youths have completed the required six months of basic training and gone into the reserves.

The reductions would be on the basis of one regular for every three trainees.

Russell estimated this eventually could lead to a reduction from a present planned strength of 3,610,000 to 2,000,000. But he said it probably will be five or six years before enough reserves could be trained to bring about such a major reduction.

Trainees would receive $30 a month—less than half the $75 for the lowest ranks in the regular military establishment.

Another provision of the Senate bill would allow boys between 17 and 18 to volunteer for training. Otherwise they do not become subject for induction until reaching 18.

Present plans of the military establishment call for a limited start of UMT by taking 5,000 youths monthly late this year, with the total stepped up to 50,000 or 60,000 by July, 1953.

Professor To Act as Arbitrator

Dr. Charles C. Killingsworth, head of the Economics Department, will serve as public member of a special fact-finding board to consider a labor-management dispute in the aluminum industry.

His appointment was announced by the Wage Stabilization Board in Washington yesterday.

Aluminum Co. of America, Kaiser Aluminum Co., United Steelworkers (CIO) and the Council of Aluminum Workers (AFL) are involved in the dispute, sent to the Wage Board by President Truman in January.

The special panel will hold hearings in Washington starting March 3 and will submit recommendations to the Wage Stabilization Board. Issues in the case include wages, fringe benefits and other contract revisions.

On the panel are two representatives of labor, two from industry and two public members. The other public member is Saul Wallen, Boston attorney and arbitrator. Industry and labor representatives are not yet named.

Dr. Killingsworth served as panel chairman for the War Labor Board in World War II cases, and has served as permanent labor arbitrator for Bethlehem Steel Co. and U.S. Steel.

Chess Contest Starts Thursday

A chess tournament open to all players in the Lansing and East Lansing area will begin this evening in the Lansing YMCA.

It will be played there on five successive Thursday nights to determine the city championship as well as top players in beginners' groups.

Dean Plugs Soviet

LONDON (AP)—Britain's "Red Dean" of Canterbury said last night "Russia will not be found behind-hand with atomic energy, either for peace or war purposes."

The Dean, Dr. Hewlett Johnson, who visited Russia last June to get a Stalin Peace Prize, spoke at a meeting of the British-Soviet Friendship Society.

Research Job Interviews Begin Today

Representatives of Naval and National Research Laboratories will interview qualified students for jobs today, Friday, Monday and Tuesday.

Eight California research and testing laboratories are represented.

A group meeting for interested students will be held at 4 this afternoon in Room 118, Berkeley Hall. A film showing activities of the laboratories including development and testing of guided missiles and improved rockets will be shown.

Seniors, graduates, and alumni must have a major in electronics, physics, chemistry or math to be considered for positions.

Appointments for interviews will be arranged at Room 101, Morrill Hall.

Challenge

(Continued from Page 1) look like someone who has had a little too much to drink. I must admit I feel this way when I can't seem to stay on sidewalks. Having trouble walking in regular shoes, I doubted my ability to walk in high heels.

One day Sue, my roommate, decided that I was going to have a pair of high heels.

We would like to look in high heels. I announced to the clerk when we entered a Lansing store. The poor salesman brought out every pair of high heels that he had in my size. I casually mentioned that I would like to try on a pair of sling back shoes—the type of high heels I had always wanted.

I have some sling backs, but they have even higher heels than the shoes I have been showing you," the clerk reported.

"I don't know if they would be the best type of shoe for you, Judy," observed Sue.

"I guess not, but if I'm going to kill myself, I might just as well go all the way. And with that I purchased a pair of black sling back shoes."

One of the things that amuses me, is when the person who is giving me tells me to step up, he is usually the one who stumbles.

Although I was very doubtful of whether or not I would be able to adjust to this new environment, I am happy that I had the opportunity to have these experiences. At the time they were not laughable, but now I can look back at them with amusement.

President Hits Inquiry Obstacle

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today a House group's refusal to give Newbold Morris power to grant immunity to witnesses in investigating government corruption, would hamper the inquiry.

He told a news conference he assumed full responsibility for recommending such a grant of power to the special "clean-up" investigator and the administration has nothing to cover up.

He added that without power, Morris would be prevented from doing the bang-up job that both he and Congress want.

Morris had not requested such power, but had sought authority to subpoena witnesses and documents, which the President also recommended.

The House Judiciary Committee voted unanimously yesterday against giving Morris power to grant witnesses immunity from prosecution for testimony that might otherwise incriminate them.

The President explained further his immunity request by saying whenever there is an investigation by a grand jury, the man who testifies to help catch a criminal is granted immunity.

Earlier in the day, the President issued an executive order formally giving Morris authority to require, among other things, any government employee to give testimony at the inquiry and all government departments and agencies to supply information and personnel Morris might request.

'Rose'

The success of this play was aided in no small measure by newcomer Polly Mullenborn, who played, generally, an inspired role, and demonstrated an awareness of her characterization.

Henry VIII, a supposedly regal and overbearing man, was inspiringly interpreted by Bill Carey. However, the love scenes between the king and Kathryn were inspiringly rendered.

There was no doubt that the directorial mark of Richard Carey was omnipresent from the opening sound effect to the brilliantly conceived fadeout.

The costumes were resplendent, even though one of them tended to dwarf an already petite Kathryn. The imaginative set by William Dorsett created the spaciousness that must have been Hampton Court.

If there was any inconsistency in the production, it was the fact that the 1932 male outfit seemed oddly out of place in 1540 and that Bill Carey bore no physical resemblance to court painter Holbein's well-known conception of Henry VIII.

The State College Club will hold its Winter dance in the Union Ballroom tonight from 9 to 12.

Nate Fry and his orchestra from Lansing will furnish music, according to John A. Friedrich, social chairman.

Planned around a Washington's Birthday theme, the semi-formal affair will include bride and cheer prizes. All State College Club members are invited. There will be no charge.
