senhower ates Views GOP Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sprinted through a calendar of visits with a convention delegation yesterday, intent on charming over to his side, and down the ones already aligned with him.

He recalled that a general name had been placed in the GOP column in 1948, without any dissent by that general.

He said the demands of modern warfare on a military man broadened, and that they therefore qualify him for an executive position.

Three Win Fulbright Awards

Three Fulbright winners were announced yesterday by Dr. Albert Cordray, counselor of Foreign Students.

Barbara Blynn Sanford, Evanston, Ill., senior, was awarded a one-year appointment to the University of Rome to study art history. Mary Dawson, Ferndale senior, won a similar appointment to study zoology at the University of Edinburgh.

A visiting lectureship for one year at Robert College, Istanbul, was awarded to Carl Shermer, associate professor of Civil Engineering.

Fulbright appointments are made for a year, and include travel expenses and expenses in the foreign country.

Applications for graduate study and research grants should be turned in to Dr. Cordray within the next few days. University lectureships and post-doctoral research appointments may be applied for at any time.

Applications turned in this week will be for Fulbright grants beginning September, 1953, in the Middle East or Europe, and for those beginning in April, 1953, in the Pacific area.

Camp Chosen As Scene of Training Clinic

Hannah, King Asked
To Guest Speak

Clear Lake Camp, near Hastings, will be the scene of the Leadership Training Clinic Oct. 4. Mickey Walter, Flint junior and chairman of the clinic said yesterday.

The clinic is designed to better student leaders, and show better and efficient ways to get projects done around campus. The clinic is being jointly sponsored by Men's Council and AWS.

President John A. Hannah and Dean of Students Tom King are to be invited as guest speakers. Faculty members will be invited to act as discussion leaders.

Each group is invited to send a maximum of four representatives and a minimum of two. Maggie Pugh, Flint junior, will be in charge of contacting organizations the first week of fall term for the names of representatives.

Representatives from the following groups are to be invited: AWS Boards, Board of Publications, Men's Council, Class Officers, IFC-Green Helmet, Union Board, Varsity Club, Pan Hellenic Council, APO, Student Congress, Men's and Women's Inter-Dorm Council, Fresh-Soph Council, Mortar Board, Tower Guard, Blue Key, Excalibur, Men's and Women's Co-op Councils, YMCA and YWCA.

An hour after the battle-scarred troopers moved into the compound, supported by tanks, about 40 Communist wounded had been carried out.

The paratroopers swept into the compound at 6:15 a.m. after the leader of the Reds refused to comply with orders to assemble their prisoners in groups of 150 men.

Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner directed the operation from a command post on a hill.

The island commander said an officer inside compound 76, reporting to him by field telephone, said Communist prisoners were killing prisoners to prevent them from obeying orders to move.

The prisoners set fire to tents and buildings with gasoline they had hidden.

The paratroopers had previously staged two full-dress rehearsals for the operation to break up the 6,000-man compounds into smaller, more manageable stockades of less than 500 men each.

Fellowship Given To MSC Professor

Dr. John W. Kidd, assistant professor of Social Science has been awarded the Educational Testing Service Fellowship in Social Studies for 1952-53.

The award was made by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J. It covers expenses for Dr. Kidd to work with the E.T.S. during July and August in constructing tests relating to social studies in higher education.

Honesty on Campus?

Envelope Test Proves It's So

The "envelope test" was made on this campus last week to determine the honesty of MSC students.

Last Wednesday, eight envelopes were left in conspicuous places throughout the buildings on campus. The envelopes contained fifty-cent pieces which were easily detectable by their weight. They were addressed, sealed and stamped, all ready to be mailed. The envelopes were addressed to Mrs. Elton Gunby, 82 Waterman, Lockport, N.Y.

Congress To Decide Assessment

Tax Rate Discussion
Slated for Tonight

The Student Congress will decide how much to tax MSC students next term after considering a Finance Committee recommendation for a 25-cent levy during tonight's meeting. The meeting will be held at 7:30 in Room 32 of the Union.

Congress Pres. Bob Bolo presented two budgets to the Finance Committee, outlining expenditures under 20 cent and 25 cent tax assessments last week.

Income from the 20-cent tax with an expected 11,300 registration next fall would amount to $2,300 while a 25-cent levy would net the Congress $2,875.

After meeting twice in open hearings and once in a private session, the Finance Committee decided to recommend the following expenditures totaling $2,875:

- Newsletter, $250.
- Government Handbook, $300.
- Advertising, $100.
- All-College Mixer, $300.
- Spartan Spirit, $200.
- Hospitality, $20.
- Calendar, $40.
- Equipment and equipment repair, $450.
- Travel and business, $40.
- Freshman Election, $80.
- Materials and supplies, $75.
- Communications, $50.
- Summer Congress, $30.
- Big Ten Conference, $50.
- Labor, $200.
- General Unappropriated Fund, $400.

Bolo explained that the above figures will be used only as a basis for determining the fall term tax. "They are merely tentative—definitely not the final Congress budget," Bolo emphasized.

He added that a student opinion poll will be conducted next fall on whether to purchase bowling shoes and pay Campus Chest expenses.

Also to be considered at the last Congress meeting of the term will be the granting of temporary charters to the Young Republicans and Young Democrats organization.

East Indian Girl To Get Aid From Pan-Hellenic Council

A 19-year-old Indian girl, with financial aid from MSC sororities and the Pan-Hellenic Council, will enroll in MSC next fall for a course in child development.

Miss Sarojini Gadre, of Jabalpur, India, read about the campus and Adventures in World Understanding in an American magazine and wrote Mrs. Louise Carpenter, of the Continuing Education Department, about her desire to study at MSC.

Pan-Hellenic Council, after hearing about Miss Gadre's lack of finances, organized a project to provide board and room for the school year. Each sorority will pay an equal share of the cost.

Miss Gadre, presently studying at the Training School for Women at Jabalpur, will study American child training methods and start nursery and training schools in India.

The official schedule reads as follows: Insurance Institute, June 8-14; Parent Education conference, June 9-10; Federal Housing Authority clerks conference, June 9-10; Hospital Accounting Institute, June 10-12; Michigan branch of the American Meat Institute, June 11; Social Workers conference, June 13; National Rose show, June 13-16.

The annual conference of the International Council of Community Churches will be held at MSC June 23-29 in the Kelllogg Center.

Sponsored jointly by Peoples Church and the Continuing Education Service, the conference will devote sections to discussion of churches in rural areas, small towns, and cities and other special interest topics and seminars.

Ministers and laymen from all over Michigan, and members of the MSC faculty and Continuing Education Service will take part in the program.

We're Through!

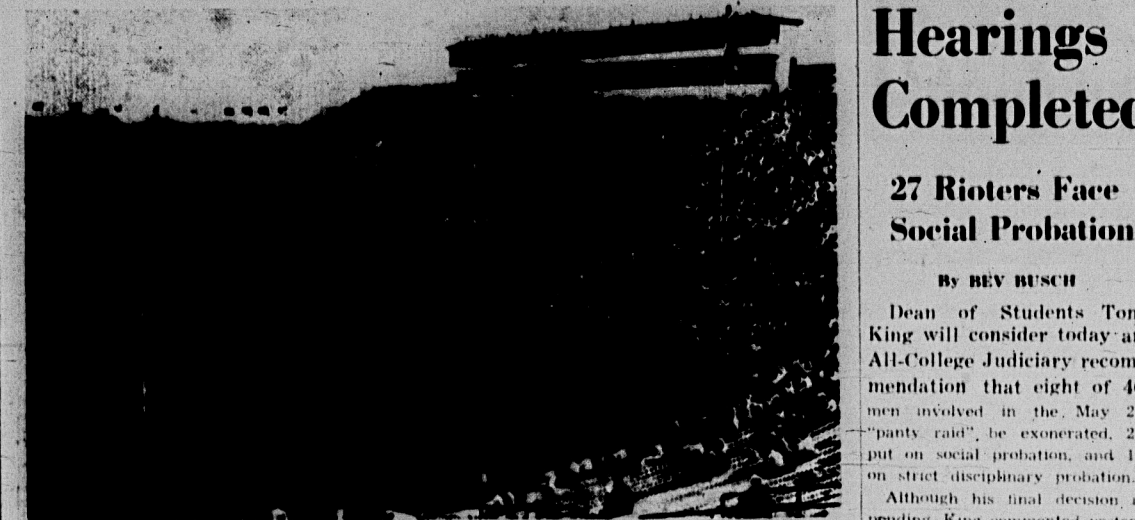

The State News suspends daily publication for the summer with today's issue. Summer publication of the State News will begin June 24, with semi-weekly papers. Daily publication will resume fall term.

Annex, the Administration Building, Room 207. Home Economics Building, a laboratory room in Ag Hall, and on bench in Olds Hall.

Seven of the eight envelopes were picked up and mailed, but the one left in Berkey Hall has not reached New York as yet. MSC students honest? Why, certainly.

Week-Old Strike Continues

Steel Peace Talks Collapse As Negotiators Hit Snags

WASHINGTON (AP)—Steel peace talks collapsed last night and the White House said industry and union had reached a "complete deadlock."

CIO Steelworkers' President Philip Murray said the strike, a week old yesterday, will continue. John A. Stephens, vice-president of U.S. Steel and the chief industry negotiator, said the union's demand for a union shop was the main item in dispute.

Murray, however, said a number of money-matters besides the union shop were also unsettled when the deadlock developed.

John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman, issued a formal statement after four hours of negotiations today, saying the parties are "completely deadlocked." However, the negotiators are subject to call at any time.

Murray and Stephens both told newsmen that arrangements had been worked out whereby the union, during the continuing strike, would allow certain steel facilities to resume operations so that most vital production for defense use could be resumed. Murray said details of this still must be worked out.

Earlier, President Truman had voiced optimism over prospects for a settlement, and had urged the Senate to withhold action on various pending moves to halt the strike, which costs the nation some 250,000 tons of steel a day.

Water Carnival Grosses $11,500 on Ticket Sales

Water Carnival ticket intake reached about $11,500 for the three-night run, according to officials. The committee was allowed a $10,000 budget, but expenditures, not yet deducted, are expected to total less than the allowance.

Stained glass windows for the Memorial Chapel will be purchased by the Senior Class from the fund. Other projects are under consideration for the balance of the show's net profit.

The ticket break-down from the 8,283 total sold is as follows: general admission, 2,865; reserved seats, 5,207; and tickets sold for standing room, 213.

Since Saturday night's performance was a sell-out before gate time, standing room tickets were sold to the over-capacity crowd.

Both audiences Thursday and Friday nights did not completely fill the bleachers, although the opening night attendance was the largest recorded in Water Carnival history.

Math Honorary To Hold Contest

A mathematics essay contest, sponsored by Pi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics honorary fraternity, will begin next term. Competition will be open to any MSC undergraduate who will be enrolled fall term. Prizes up to $35 for first place and $15 for second will be awarded. Deadline for registering in the contest is Oct. 20. Rules and further information about the contest can be obtained from the Department of Mathematics office, 201 Physics-Mathematics building.

Air Force Provides Fungi Study Money

The Department of Botany and Plant Pathology has announced that a grant of $15,000 has been received from the U.S. Air Force for studies on fungi which destroy fabrics, such as parachute harnesses. The grant was made through the Wright Air Development Center in Dayton, Ohio. Investigations are to be under the direction of Drs. C. J. Alexopoulos and E. S. Benke, according to Dr. W. B. Drew, head of the department.

Judiciary Hearings Completed

27 Rioters Face Social Probation

By BEV BUSCHI

Dean of Students Tom King will consider today an All-College Judiciary recommendation that eight of 46 men involved in the May 21 "panty raid", be exonerated, 27 put on social probation, and 11 on strict disciplinary probation.

Although his final decision is pending, King commented yesterday afternoon that he had looked through the ruling hurriedly, and felt strongly that he would accept it.

Students will receive announcements of the final outcome by mail in the next few days.

Social probation for the 27 students would be enforced until Oct. 20. They would have restricted hours after 8 p.m. until the end of this term and could not leave campus without permission from the Counselor for Men. They also would miss the first two home football games next fall.

The same penalties would apply to students on strict disciplinary probation. In addition, their activities in the raid would be recorded on their transcripts and they would not be released from social probation until the Counselor for Men decided they were ready.

Two students who were special offenders in the demonstration would miss all football games in addition to being put on strict disciplinary probation.

In explaining the Judiciary decision, Chief Justice Bart Spurrier said, "The underlying motive for our penalties was for them to act as a deterrent for any future action of this type, but we realized that the spirit of this action will always occur in college life. It's up to the Student Government to have this spirit manifest itself in some other form."

He added that the penalties prohibiting students from seeing football games were set up because "This was the one thing we could use as a common denominator for a penalty. It has never been the policy of the Judiciary to consider monetary assessment because of its inadequacy to punish equally."

The decision was reached after hearings for each of the 46 men arrested by police were completed last week. Hearings were begun May 28.

The "panty raid" case was the eighth case brought before the Judiciary this year.

... Audacity Pays

It pays to be bold. An instructor let his class go early last week because of the audacity of one student. The lecturer had asked the time. As usual, estimates varied from a quarter of the hour to five minutes. Finally, the bold one piped up, "My watch reads six minutes after." The instructor smiled and said, "Audacity pays."

... Wand and Wavers

A campus scene: Three students touring South Campus in a station wagon; one leaning out of the window waving a tin "wand" through the air leaving behind a train of bubbles. The bubble solution is sold at the "small children's" counter of a local dime store.

... Every Inch

Headline from the 1911 "Hollad" (forerunner of this paper), explaining the only football loss of the season: "We Lost, But We Won! For We Lost Fighting the Last Inch the Best Team in the Land." They must have lost track of the inches, for the U of M won that year by a 15-3 score.

Correction

One of three MSC students identified in Saturday's two-car collision was Robert A. Crow, Flint sophomore, driver of one of the cars, and not Robert Crow of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, as stated in yesterday's State News.

The accident occurred at 1:30 a.m. in Lansing at Mt. Hope and Aurelius Rds.

Time's A-Wastin'

Last week millions gathered around radios and in front of television screens to listen to General Dwight D. Eisenhower deliver his first formal address since returning to this country.

Editorial writers and political analysts paused to hear what the general had to say and formulate comments on his speech.

Eisenhower had returned to the U.S. to be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination and there were political aims and issues to be discussed. He had been criticized by Sen. Robert A. Taft, his principle GOP opponent. This was his first opportunity to speak out to the public as a civilian.

But the general refused to co-operate. He did not inform the public as to where he stands. He did not answer the charges of Sen. Taft. If he furthered his political career it was only through his general statements and praise of the United States.

Of course, he spoke out strongly against what he termed "real threats to our country," "disunity, inflation, excessive taxation, and bureaucracy."

Here it looks like the general will find few opposing his views. No candidates with hopes of becoming elected would endorse any of these points.

No one can say that Eisenhower took a headlong dive into the stormy sea of politics. If anything, he cautiously dipped a toe in and then withdrew. Eventually he will have to prove his ability to swim in these troubled waters but this obviously was not the time.

The only instance in which he got away from generalities was for one brief statement that must have flashed many Americans back to 1918 and Thomas E. Dewey.

Eisenhower quite outwardly stated that he thinks the Democrats have been in office too long. This cry probably originated during the second term of Franklin D. Roosevelt, about 12 years ago.

The argument that "he's had the job too long, it's my turn" has a familiar Republican ring to it and is, at best, a weak plank in any political platform.

The United States is looking for an able leader in a time when the world is threatened and needs leadership. A program of "me-too-ism" is not the answer to our needs and hardly reflects the character of the Eisenhower we have come to know, either as a fighting general or as a power in the unification of Europe through NATO.

It was the first speech for the general and he has not been too close to the political scene at home for a number of years. Perhaps he has not gained his bearings as yet.

But the national conventions take place next month and there is little time to inform the nation of his aims and policies. As a boy on a farm in Kansas the general must have learned that we "make hay while the sun shines."

His next scheduled formal address is June 14 in Detroit. He may take that opportunity to speak out and enlighten a large portion of Americans who are curious about his ideas on foreign and domestic affairs.

To further his own aspirations and as a duty to the voters, Eisenhower is obliged to take his stand.

We are waiting, general.

The Dean's List

By DEAN WAKEFIELD
State News Editor

I took the day off Sunday, by gosh! Neglected to put the finishing touches on a term paper I was working on to do it. My mark in the course will probably show the day I took off, but...

As I was saying, we got a carload and sweated it out to Lake Lansing, that popular resort area for vacationing college students. The car was packed, the road was packed, and the county park there... well, you know how sardines are packed in a tin container? This maybe wasn't quite so bad, but sardine packers would have been envious of the way people flocked into that park Sunday.

So we spread the blanket on the ground (not the beach, we didn't get closer than 50 hoe handles from that) and got ready for a round-robin bridge tournament. Just the six of us. Oh, yeh?

The kids there didn't want it that way, so it darn well wasn't going to be that way. First it was Buck Rogers and Space Cadet, then Roy Rogers and Hopalong Cassidy. Many more, too, even though the kids don't go for Dick Tracy any more like we used to. Tracy's too old-fashioned for the newer generation, I guess. Nobody even bothered to count the assorted pooches that thought we needed befriending.

Someone started a little brush fire over to the left of us a little way and the fire trucks had to come screaming to the rescue. County police officers were directing the excessive overflow of traffic and no one got hurt, except maybe one or two previously untanned cops.

The rains came just as we started home and up went the top of the convertible, and up went the windows. The traffic was a little bit lighter, so we cruised back to East Acres in the downpour, outwardly quite happy, but at the same time rather silent, thinking of the exams that were bearing down on all of us. Except Mac. He's got nothing to worry about except ferrying a few planes across the Pacific, come the tail end of the month.

The bridge hands? Lousy, what else?

See you next fall.

Letter To The Editor:

Chief Justice Praises Mrs. Gonon, Thorburn

TO THE EDITOR:

The Student Judiciary has just finished its first full year of activity. Before I step down as Chief Justice I endeavor to give credit where it is due.

The Judiciary is the first real attempt on this campus at student self-government. I think it has made tremendous progress in this direction. Students and College administrators have sat down and considered what is just, from a judicial angle, in student-college relationships.

I think both sides have benefited. Any progress would have been impossible if the Administration had tried to use the Judiciary as a "tool." This I can assure you all has not occurred. By the very voting strength of the Judiciary, five student justices to two for the Administration, it would have been impossible. Dean King has had a co-operative record in supporting us and I hope future judiciaries can justify this confidence.

But all this would have been impossible if it had not been for the wonderful benevolent attitude of the counselor for women Mrs. Isabelle Gonon, and the counselor for men Lyle A. Thorburn, who are the administration representatives on the Student Judiciary.

Although Mrs. Gonon and Mr. Thorburn are official members, almost regularly they abstained from voting or influencing the student vote on the issues that came before the court or on the penalties that were meted out. They are real friends of the students and for a self-governing student body and they

Letter to the Editor

Publicity Head Defends Ticket Distribution

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to thank yesterday's letter-writer for the interest he displayed in the Water Carnival ticket distribution. However, the reference made to this year's Publicity Committee requires additional facts.

Every member of Publicity Committee contributed equally to this year's job. And each of them received one complimentary ticket for Thursday night's performance. There were several people who thought that they were members of the committee because they occasionally attended meetings. These people were not considered members and did not receive tickets.

The Water Carnival Committee is aware of the grievance registered in yesterday's letter. It should be understood, however, that when you are working with a huge project like the Water Carnival you will discover many "inconveniences." When you have several hundred students working on the Carnival you will always come up with some parasites. We have tried to root out those people this year.

Next year's Water Carnival Committee will have this ticket distribution problem brought to their attention long before tickets are to be given out. The request for granting tickets to float workers will also be called to their attention.

We have tried to give the students the type of Carnival they wanted. And the best way to find out what they want is to have them express themselves. Thank you for yesterday's letter. We welcome constructive criticism.

Old Shoes

Today's Brides Follow Ancient Wedding Rites

Other than enjoying the knowledge that she has trapped her man, today's bride doesn't realize how lucky she is. In this 20th Century, rice and old shoes are about the only things she must duck—in the old days it was tougher.

Anglo-Saxon fathers used to hand the groom a shoe as a sign of authority. Husband-to-be bopped the blushing bride to show who was boss. Other devices for stressing the point were broomsticks and sticks.

Coeds rosily contemplating marriage can thank their lucky stars bouquet-throwing has replaced the old custom of garter-grabbing or stocking-snatching carried on by zealous bridesmaids.

It used to be a little rough on the bridal gown—as well as the bride. The best man and ushers had to fight off the bride's relatives if the young lady had been kidnapped. Now the worst thing is dropping the ring.

June, with its full moon, was considered a favorable season by the Romans, and thus became a month of many marriages. The Christian church helped this by discouraging marriage during Lent and periods of abstinence or penitence.

Honeymoons were a get-away and hiding-out period. When men kidnapped their brides, it was often necessary to hide out until the bride's kinkfolk gave up the search.

MSC Alumni Wed In Memorial Chapel

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Welsh leave the Alumni Memorial Chapel after being married yesterday by the Rev. R. J. Schram. Mrs. Welsh, the former Patricia Scott, of Baltimore, Md., and her husband were the first to be married in the new chapel.

More Services Slated

In the first of 15 ceremonies scheduled in the Alumni Chapel, Miss Patricia Scott, of Baltimore, Md., and Norman Welsh, of Allegan were married yesterday by the Rev. R. J. Schram, director of the Christian Student Foundation. The couple was graduated from MSC Sunday.

A small reception, in the church basement, followed the service. Refreshments were served by the Union Catering Service.

The couple was married before the simply designed altar of light oak wood. White snapdragons and red poinsettias flanked the white cement walk leading to the altar. Above the altar is a blue stained glass window.

All members of the wedding party dressed in rooms made available for the service.

The church basement has been decorated for receptions and church functions. Rooms for dressing may be decorated when services are scheduled, according to Alumni Fund Director William Davidson.

The chapel will not be open for regular worship services but visitors may tour at any time. It will be open to persons of all faiths.

Undefeated in 15 Straight

State Gridders Put Win Streak 'On the Line'

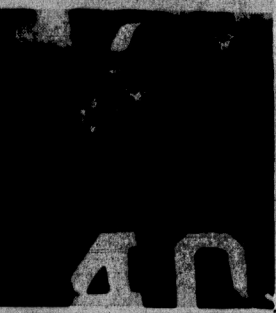

Coach Biggie Munn's football team will be sporting a 15 game winning streak next fall when it opens its 1952 schedule against the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

On the basis of State's showing during this spring practice, most sports writers are picking Michigan State to extend its winning streak to 24 straight through next season and are rating the Spartans as one of the nation's top football powers.

Despite the fact that State lost its entire offensive line through graduation, line coach Duffy Daugherty has come up with seven new capable replacements.

Paul Dekker, at right end, and either Doug Debo or Ellis Durbett at left end give the Spartans three strong pass receivers.

Gordie Berr and Joe Klein are in line for the tackle positions while Frank Kush, a defensive star for two years, and Bob Bren-guard plots. Dick Tamburo, along with Jim Neal, will handle the center position next fall.

Munn's only problem in the backfield was finding a replacement for Al Dorow, last season's quarterback who graduated, and trying to pick the best backs out of a wealth of material.

Tom Yewic held the edge at the quarterback spot during spring practice but is still being pushed by Willie Throver. Throver directed the second team Blue squad to a victory over the varsity Green team in the annual intra-squad game in May. He also was second in the voting for the game's most valuable player, which was won by Billy Wells.

Captain Don McAuliffe and Vince Pisano are the halfbacks on the varsity team. Either Dick Pank, Wayne Bemon or Evan Stone have a chance to win the fullback job.

TOM YEWIC

In the "pony" backfield, Throver is at quarter, LeRoy Bolden and Billy Wells at halfbacks and Gene Lekenta, Benson, Panin or Sionac at fullback.

On defense, veterans Ed Luke and Don Dohoney will be at the ends. Alex Bleahu and Jack Morgan have an edge at tackle and Henry Bulough and Don Schieswohl are the guards.

Daugherty has four good line-backers in Ed Timmerman, Dick Tamburo, Doug Weaver and Leo Lloyd.

Backfield Coach Steve Sebo also has a veteran group in the defensive backs. John Wilson, Rex Corless, Ray Vogt and Jim Ellis are all letter winners. In addition Sebo has several newcomers in John Matsko and Bert Zagers, up from the JV's.

With several excellent back-fields, a good line, and strong defensive team, State could rate number the nation at the end of the season.

Brooklyn Defeats Cards, 6-2, For Eighth Straight Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eighth-inning home run blasts by Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo, each with 9 man on base broke open a tight duel between the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals last night and the league leaders their eighth straight victory by a 6 to 2 score. Relief pitcher Joe Black was the winner.

Going into the seventh inning, the Cardinals led, 2 to 0, on home runs by Stan Musial and Dick Haler, both off Brooklyn's starting pitcher, Carl Erskine. The Dodgers, meanwhile, had been held to four hits by Floyd Royer.

Gil Hodges drew a pass to open the seventh and Furillo singled. A walk to Bobby Morgan filled the bases and when Pee-wee Reese singled through the box two runs scored, tying the score.

Al Brazie relieved Royer and retired the side.

But Brazie ran into the same rough treatment in the eighth by walking Jackie Robinson.

When Campanella homered the Dodgers were leading 4-2.

Brazie next walked Andy Pafko and was taken out of the box. His successor, Jack Crimian, got Hodges out on a pop fly but Furillo hit the ball into the left field stands for another two-run homer.

Reliever Joe Black allowed only two singles in his brilliant three-inning stint.

The Dodgers now have won 12 out of their last 13 games.

The two trackmen replace Dick Henson, star dash and hurdle man for Schladehan's crew this season.

Chuck Roland, South Haven senior, was named the winner of the M. M. Krappen Merit Award. This award is given annually to the senior trackman who shows the "greatest degree of hard effort and team value entirely aside from points or places won."

Roland was selected by his teammates and the coaching staff.

On Memorial Day in Ann Arbor Smith tied with three others for fifth in the Big Ten meet.

This season he took the mile run in the outdoor meet with a 4:18.7. His best time in the indoor meet was 4:17.

Kobs Plans for Next Season; Dilday Elected Team Captain

Spartan Nine Ends Season As Asset Side

By JACK KOLE
Coach John Kobs, his Spartan baseball team, finished the season with a record of 18-14. For next season, he is already looking ahead to next season and the year held for the Spartans.

Kobs expressed his satisfaction with his team's performance and said, "I was a hardluck outfit last season, but I don't get the same feeling this year."

Kobs finished the season with a record of 18-14. For next season, he is already looking ahead to next season and the year held for the Spartans.

BOB DILDAY

Choice Made Last Week by Team Members

Bob Dilday, Lansing junior, has been selected by his teammates to captain the 1953 Spartan baseball squad. The selection, which was made late last week, was announced yesterday afternoon. He replaces this year's captain, catcher Bill Bower.

Dilday is the only member of the squad from Lansing. This season he batted .276 for a third place spot among the team members. Dilday collected 29 hits in 100 times at bat for this average.

The 22-year-old Dilday was a consistent performer all season, playing right field for Coach John Kobs. He appeared in 30 of the Spartans' 32 games to tie with Ray Lane for that distinction.

Included in his hits were five extra bases. He blasted two doubles, a triple, and two home runs during the season.

Dilday, who bats and throws right handed, showed a .286 batting average on the Southern trip, but slipped to an even .250 in conference play.

Last Saturday the new Spartan captain enjoyed his best day before home fans as he knocked out three singles in five times at bat to lead the Spartans to an 11-2 victory over the Western Michigan Broncos. Dilday's three hits chased three Spartans home to score.

Bosox Stretch League Lead; Beat Tiger Home Runs, 9-8

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox moved a full game ahead of the second place New York Yankees yesterday by overcoming a four run deficit for a 9-8 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Home runs by former Bostonians Walt Drogo and Don Lenhardt, the latter with three mates aboard, were in vain as the Sox scored the winning run in the sixth inning on an error by former teammate Johnny Pesky.

The Tigers chased left hander Mel Parnell in the opening inning when they scored four times.

The Sox came right back with five runs in the second as they rapped six singles and bombed starter Martin Stuart from the box.

The Bostonians added a point in the third and appeared to have a safe margin.

However, Lenhardt bashed his grand slam homer off the light tower beyond the fence in left to pull the Tigers into a 4-2 lead.

Jimmy Pate's first homer of the campaign came in the fourth, just slipping by the foul pole into the seats in right to tie it up.

Don DiMaggio was on second after a single and a sacrifice and Ron Evers was on first with a walk when Pesky let George Kell's grounder go through him for a two base error which allowed DiMaggio to score what turned out to be the winning run.

The Tigers threatened in the ninth but reliever Ivan (Ike) Delock—who will make his first big league start tomorrow night against the St. Louis Browns—came and threw four pitches.

The last was a double play ball to Tiger catcher Joe Ginsberg.

Pair Demand Examination On 2 Charges

LAPEER (AP)—Two farmers accused of leading the rebellion against eviction of a widow from her farm demanded examination yesterday when they were arraigned on charges of obstructing justice and resisting an officer.

Justice Elmer S. Homan set June 18 for examination of Howard Abbott, 44, and the following day for examination of the other defendant, Harold Jarvis, 43.

Bond of $2,000 was set for each. Bail was furnished for Abbott by Chris and Paul Ziegler, farmers and figures in a similar rebellion a year ago. The brothers, however, were permitted to furnish only one bond and Jarvis, unable to furnish his, was remanded to the Lapeer County Jail.

Walter O. Estes of Lansing, attorney for Abbott and Jarvis, objected to the $2,000 bond, terming it "too high."

"Even Communists are not treated that bad," Estes declared.

Abbott and Jarvis and three other men are accused of manhandling Sheriff Clark Gregory and other officers when they sought to evict Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, 60, from her 80-acre farm recently.

Mrs. Stevens has failed to pay a $171 assessment levied by the receiver for the bankrupt Lapeer Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association. Her farm was ordered auctioned to pay the levy.

VA Counselors Give Advice to Old, New Vets

The Korean war is just beginning for Don Heart and Jim Morse.

Heart and Morse run the Veterans' Administration office of the Counseling Center. They give vocational guidance to disabled veterans, and any other vet who wants it. Files of Korean veterans are just beginning to come in.

Disabilities range from flat feet to psychological maladjustment. Between 350 and 400 veterans use the VA services annually.

In the four years he has pitched for the Philadelphia Phillies, Robin Roberts had won 63 and lost 50.

STUN to Clear Files of Cards

Unpaid book cards in the AWS-STUN office will be thrown out tomorrow, according to Chairman Connie Alfonso, Charlotte junior. "Cards will be kept only if those who filed them contact the office before 5 this afternoon," Miss Alfonso said. "Owners may phone extension 7216 or stop at the STUN office in the Union."

The cards contain names and addresses of books for sale. Potential buyers pay a nickel for the card and contact the owner to make arrangements for the sale.

Cards may be filed at the Union Desk late in September until the STUN office opens again, Miss Alfonso said. The AWS-sponsored organization has made no summer plans, she explained.

* MWF or MT-Th-F or MTWThF

The time of examinations in sections other than Basic courses are determined by the days and hours the class is scheduled during the term. To determine when your examination is to be given, find the block in Columns 2, 4, 5 or 6 which lists the days and hours of your class. The column heading will indicate the time of day and column 1 will then give the date on which your examination is to be held.

Examinations for courses other than Basic courses will be given in the same classroom as assigned for class meetings at the end of the term. All students, instructors, and room schedules will automatically clear if all courses follow this schedule.

NOTE: At least two of the days and hours must follow the regular pattern. In a few courses, at the request of the department concerned, the final examination has been scheduled by the single hour lecture section and in some instances students may encounter conflicts. In that event, the examination scheduled by the class meeting two hours a week would take precedence over the examination scheduled by the single hour lecture. The examination would have to be arranged between the student and the department requesting the special scheduling of its examination.

If there are any questions, call Mr. Reppenhagen in the Registrar's office (Ext. 501).

South Campus Cattle Barns Fake Serenity

Cattle barns along the far southern fringe of the campus may present a serene country atmosphere, but they are actually a bee-hive of activity.

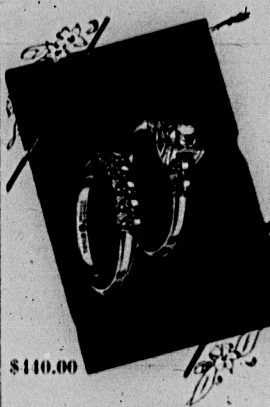

Feeding experiments are carried on, animals are prepared for exhibition, and students vie for cattle grooming honors. Hereford, Aberdeen Angus, and Short-horn cattle are cared for by herdsman Amos Fox and his assistants, classes, and student help.

The bull barns contain about 235 bulls and steers, many of them prize winners at such shows as the State Fair and International Stock Show. Bulls are branded with tattooed numbers on their ears, cows are horn-branded.

At present, long-range heredity experiments are being conducted here and at Lake City.

Much of the work is done in co-operation with the Artificial Breeders' Association, and farm aid is given through the Extension services.

The most effective pitcher against the Philadelphia Phillies last season was Max Surkont of the Boston Braves. He gave up only three earned runs in 29 innings against the Sawyersmen.

Time to Revisit

Exhibit Exemplifies Art Approaches

By L. WESLEY CHATMAN

Since first impressions do not count, there is still time to revisit the annual collection of student art work on exhibit in the Union Gallery. The show will close June 30.

The show exemplifies the many approaches to art as practiced in classes, from Arts and Crafts to Sculpture. Excluding the commercial art which dominates the show this year, there are no examples of iron-clad rules for drawing or painting on special surfaces with required materials. Such techniques are archaic and prevent artistic expression.

Nevertheless, the effect of the show is prosaic. Some seem unadventurous or typical. Perhaps the students in undeveloped stage lack the youthful spirit for boldness and brightness of color.

This is not the case with Arthur Darvishian, whose work represented by three exciting oils in the corridor or Joan Big oil canvas in the gallery and some of the lithograph stimulating work gives the observer a lift which is one of the good art must meet.
