IFC President Asks Revision Of Regulations

By SALLY PHELPS

Six or more MSC fraternities will be fined for illegal rushing practices by the Inter-Fraternity Council, according to IFC officials.

The fraternities to be fined are Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Delta Upsilon.

Evidence of illegal rushing was brought to the attention of the IFC executive council at its meeting yesterday. The fines are scheduled to be officially approved at a regular IFC meeting tonight at 8.

According to Joe Shaw, IFC president, four rushing rules were violated. They are: 1. Pledging fraternity rushers before the agreed date (4 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 12). 2. Violation of an established grace period of no rushing from noon Saturday, Oct. 11 to 8 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 12. 3. Closed, or invitational smokers during the scheduled open rush period (Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 1 and 2) and 4. Rushing before the IFC introductory smoker on Sept. 30.

The fines will be $10 for each man pledged before the pledge period, and $10 for each rush party held before the open smokers, Shaw added.

Shaw stated that it has become apparent from the number of violations during rushing this fall that the present rushing system needs to be revised.

"Steps are now being taken to remedy this situation through cooperation with the fraternity advisor's association and a leadership training program which will be held Nov. 5 and 6."

Members of the executive council are Joe Shaw, Bud Hunt, Bill Cummings, Rodger Hickhus, Glenn Bahrner and Bill Larsen.

MSC Granted TV Permit for Public Shows

College officials revealed Wednesday that MSC has been granted permission by the Federal Communications Commission to set up a television tower, antenna and transmitter to operate on UHF High Frequency Channel 69.

Armand L. Hunter, director of television development, said that the station will begin public broadcasts as soon as the equipment can be delivered and installed and the programming set up.

Dr. Hunter said that if the type of equipment desired was available, the station would cover a radius of from 34 to 65 miles. It will be constructed on college property in Okemos.

Present scheduling of the construction and installation of equipment would permit the station to be in operation by fall, 1953. If the college decides to reduce the power of the transmitter, the station may begin telecasts before that time.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stewart, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stewart of Dayton, Ohio.

Federal services will be held at 1:30 today at the Goodwin-Rosenman Funeral Home. Burial will be in Dayton.

Industrialists To Hold Convo

About 750 persons from all levels of business and industrial management will attend a one-day management conference at the Kellogg Center on Nov. 8.

Speakers Robert W. Gander, vice-president in charge of industrial relations at Chrysler Corporation in Detroit, and Ralph Chablin, widely-known labor leader, editor and poet of Denver, Colo., will highlight the conference.

Sponsored by managerial and supervisory clubs from eight Michigan cities, the session will include 12 workshops, covering such fields as improving leadership ability, stimulating employee interest and affecting productivity through human relations.

These workshops will be directed by top level managerial personnel, college specialists and staff members of MSC's Continuing Education Service.

Spring Inventory Discloses Loss

By STAN KURZMAN

An incomplete inventory of the volumes in the MSC library taken last spring shows almost 1,500 books missing. The inventory was the first taken in two years. It covered books in Social Science, History, Psychology and Philosophy Departments.

Only graduate students and members of the MSC faculty are allowed use of the stacks from which the books are missing.

The disappearance is one of the major problems faced by the library staff, according to MSC Librarian Jackson E. Towne. Misplacement of books in the assigned reading room is another, but less serious a problem, he added.

New restrictions have been placed on the use of the stacks this year, but have thus far proven unsatisfactory.

Under the present rules, anyone using the stacks must show either a graduate student or faculty identification card.

The library has also set up a compulsory inspection of brief cases of those leaving the stacks.

Originally the inspection of brief cases was compulsory, but complaints of the faculty led to relaxation of the rule.

Now, since people will unknowingly place library pamphlets and paper-bound books in their briefcases along with their papers," Towne said. "For this reason we wanted to inspect the papers which were taken out more closely," he continued, "and not because we feel that faculty members and graduate students are purposely removing the books."

Public Invited To Discussion On Proposals

Representatives of state government, education and agriculture will discuss the two re-arrangement proposals which will appear on the Nov. 4 ballot to-night at 8 in Parlor B of the Union.

The public is invited to attend the meeting sponsored by the Michigan Capital Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration, according to Ralph Smuckler, secretary-treasurer of the society.

Members of the panel will be John B. Martin, State Auditor General Edward Carey, state representative from the first district of Wayne county, Carl O. Smith, professor of government at Wayne University, and Stanley Powell, legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Eldon Sneeringer, Lansing representative of the Citizens Research Council of Michigan will act as chairman of the panel.

The American Society for Public Administration is a non-political organization composed of persons interested in public administration and allied fields. Chapters are located in cities throughout the United States, usually at colleges and universities.

Congress Assumes Last Year's Deficit

By FRANK BUTKIEWICZ

Student Congress has paid $24.16 out of student tax money for two personal gifts that were presented to departing officers spring term.

The gifts, a blanket and sweater, were given to the outgoing President Gaylord Sheets and the outgoing Speaker Pro-Tem Dave Miller as personal gifts from congressmen but were charged to the Student Government.

Presentation of gifts to departing members, payed out of congressmen's pockets, is a customary tradition, Bob Bolo, Student Government president, pointed out.

The bill went unpaid throughout the summer and as a result, this year's Student Government inherited the debt. An immediate drive for contributions to repay the student tax fund was initiated among congressmen.

Student Congress wrote off the bill by passing an appropriation bill that Bolo had recommended two weeks ago.

Bolo listed the gifts as "personal expenditures" at the time of his recommendation of the measure. He explained last night that it was listed in this fashion because he was not sure how to handle the matter.

"I am not trying to hide this. The money shouldn't come out of the treasury," he said.

Congressmen were told by Bolo that the persons buying the presents shouldn't have charged the bill to the government but should have solicited "personal contributions."

An explanation as to how the mishap occurred was offered by John Winkeljohn, student government treasurer.

"Two local stores accepted charges against the Student Government without formal requisitions from the college. Upon recommendation of the administration we paid the bill."

"The normal procedure for making purchases is to first obtain a requisition from the college. The blame for this mishap lies in the individual purchasers of the gifts and the stores who mistakenly charged the bill to the government," Winkeljohn said.

Members of last year's Student Congress said the gifts were purchased without their knowledge. Congressmen questioned said that they did not know of the gifts until the time of presentation.

Bolo asked congressmen to contribute at least 30 cents each to repay the treasury. By the end of last night's meeting a total of $10 had been collected. Dave Miller, one of the recipients of the gifts, who is still a member of the congress, offered to pay for his sweater, but congressmen denied the notion.

Don Hossie, chairman of the Elections Committee, announced that petitioning for representatives of Abbot Hall, Mason Hall, and sororities will end next Monday at 5 p.m. Students may petition for one representative from Abbot, sororities, and three from Mason Hall.

Horatio R. Lewis, Congress speaker, explained that the voters have occurred because of reapportionment due to an increase in students in these living units.

Permission was granted by the congress to Delta Tau Delta and Phi Beta Phi to sponsor the Christmas tree lighting ceremony this year for the fourth consecutive time.

Last Chance to Petition

Today is the last chance. Petitioning for freshman class officers and the Frosh-Soph Council closes this afternoon. How many times has the flag been raised over the class officer positions? So often one hears "Get out and petition for better government and a true democracy." Let's forget that angle this time.

Also put aside the idea that class leadership positions are good training for the future. Don't assume that a class job will pave the way to the top of the business world. This may be true, but consider for a moment the enjoyment and genuine fun that can be obtained from a class position.

The class job can be an ego builder. Many people enjoy meeting people, organizing activities and seeing their efforts pay off. Here is a way this can be accomplished.

Petitioning closes today. For all freshmen who would enjoy working for the class and also for personal satisfaction this is the last chance. Get that petition filled out today.

Senior Coffee Hour

In past years senior coffee hours have been nothing more than weak and inoffensive attempts to get a few people together in Old College Hall.

This year, the senior class has shaken loose from the lethargic elements in planning and organizing a series of weekly 4 o'clock coffee hours aimed at giving most seniors a chance to relax over a cup of free coffee.

Rather than waiting until mid-term when seniors are too busy to stop for coffee, the class has begun its get-togethers in the third week of classes. Few people are too busy to stop in the Grill before dinner.

Yesterday approximately 50 students stopped in Old College Hall for the inaugural coffee hour. They have seen good organization... they appreciated it. They'll be back for more.

The senior class deserves a vote of congratulations for its effort.

Textbooks ad Nauseam

RE: TEXTBOOKS

Dear Sir:

For the last several years I have been spending part of my time reading the products of your initiative. I have read of economics, of philosophy, of English literature, of American literature, of political science, ad infinitum. There are others of my occupation who have read much more on a variety of subjects too extensive to describe.

Much of your material is readable. Some of it is abominable. The rest is just so-so.

But there is one thing that never ceases to bother me. I am reading a complicated passage describing a hypothetical situation in detail. I am confused so I read the passages again. Finally, I get the general idea and go on to the next paragraph which says:

"The critical reader will note the discrepancies in the above statement."

The hell you say. From here on I don't trust you. Just because I don't note the discrepancies in the above paragraph, I'm not a critical reader. I'll have you know, Mr. Author, that I went through "Dick and Jane" quicker than anyone else in the first grade. Not critical, eh?

The second point I wish to open for discussion concerns the footnote. The footnote, according to Webster, is "A note of reference or comment placed below the text on a printed page."

Hear that? "Reference or comment." Are footnotes that begin on page 274 and last to page 283 "reference or comment"? Not in my language. I think most footnotes are just inserted in the book after it has gone to press and are little things the author forgot to include.

My point is that you see a reference in the text. You look at the footnote expecting to find something which will further explain what you're reading about. You ex-

Handling of PA System Defended

TO THE EDITOR:

Tuesday's letter from four students, criticizing the Student Congress for the use to which the new public address system was put during Saturday's game, merits an answer—not because of the importance of the incident, which was trivial enough, but because it expresses a depressingly typical attitude on the part of many students to nva-nva at the government at any opportunity, valid or not. I realize that it is fashionable to criticize government in general, and the Student Government in particular, but there are limits to how far sloppy thinking should go without reply.

The Student Government bought a public address system to be used by campus organizations as they see fit to use it. The government exercises no supervision over the equipment when it is on loan, other than a polite request not to take a sledgehammer to the amplifier. The cheerleaders, therefore, are responsible for placing a "would-be Jack Benny" behind the mike; they could have placed a would-be Jack the Ripper there without having to get Congressional approval.

The government fails to supervise the PA system for a good reason. If they did, would get the same outraged action, possibly from the people, because they were out hanging strings on it. I hope this will help clear the question of where to

Snyder 14 Falls From Unbeaten Ranks

By DICK LEHMAN, TOM LOKKEN and BOB CUDNEY
Snyder 14, last year's Snyder dorm champs, dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten last night while W. Shaw 1, last season's Shaw champs, continued to roll in last night's IM play.

Snyder 13, 14; Snyder 14, 6. An onrushing Snyder 13 squad blasted Snyder 14 from the unbeaten ranks with a 14-6 win. Fourteen scored first with J. M. Gipp carrying on a reverse from 20 yards out.

Howard Shepler passed for both of the winner's scores. First to George Rosingana on a 13 yard pass play and then to Jim Carlson. Snyder 13 picked up two more points on a safety.

W. Shaw 1, 32; W. Shaw 2, 13. Bill Hamilton paced his W. Shaw 1 mates to an easy conquest of W. Shaw 2, 32-13. Hamilton passed for four scores and two extra points. Dean Johnson and Bud Kee also got into the scoring column for 1.

W. Shaw 5, 2; W. Shaw 9, 0.

Bill Clossin smashed through the W. Shaw 9 line to score a safety early in the first quarter and that was enough for a W. Shaw 5 win, 2-0.

W. Shaw 10, 6; W. Shaw 4, 0. A last period touchdown run by Gary Simmons of W. Shaw 10 was the margin of victory as W. Shaw 4 was downed, 6-0. Simmons scored from five yards out early in the final quarter.

play. Bill Carey was the big gun for Snyder 12.

E. Shaw 2, 27; E. Shaw 1, 0. In the evening's top upset, East Shaw 2, last year's runnerup for the East Shaw crown, trounced last year's Shaw champs, East Shaw 1, 27-0.

East Shaw 2 went out in front early and coasted to the win.

Snyder 17, 14; Snyder 10, 7. The winners drew first blood in this closely played contest on a pass from Bud Patte to Berry Prusin.

After Dean Parmenter put his team back into the game with a 10 yard touchdown run, Jack Hruska led the game for 17 with a TD pass to Jack Hanson.

W. Shaw 6, 13; W. Shaw 7, 7. A 40 yard touchdown run by Bob Knabein of W. Shaw 7 couldn't counteract the passing of Al Stevens of W. Shaw 6. Stevens connected for a pair of TDs to lead 6 to a 13-7 win.

Landon Bus Boys, 14; Married Men, 6.

Too much speed was the story as the Landon Bus Boys raced into an 8-0 halftime lead, stretched the margin to 14-0 in the second half, and then coasted to victory.

A.C.S., 7; Wells Hall 6. A.C.S. made their first series of downs successful, and that was the margin of victory. A Dave Smith to Hal Vincent to John Sherman pass scored for the winners.

Schools Share Enforcement Of NCAA Code

CHICAGO (P)—Its policy-making council, Wednesday, decided to leave the National Collegiate Athletic Association share enforcement of its code with individual schools and conferences.

The council in the third day of a meeting here, approved a report by its membership committee, a policing group, suggesting that enforcement of intercollegiate athletic rules and regulations "can best be met, and is most needed, at the institutional level."

'RO' Rifle Edge Aggie

Handicapped by a lack of organized practice, the Michigan State ROTC rifle team did enough to edge Texas A. 1373 to 1367 last Saturday.

The Spartan rifle team, up for the William B. Hearst trophy last year at the direction of Maj. George or of the ROTC chapter.

Major Major has recruited students interested in rifle for Michigan State's rifle range at the Dem Hall at any time.

Plans are to make the team to the University of Michigan, Ohio State and University during the year.

Yogi-talk Predictions

By ALEX LAGGIS
State News Sports Editor

ing overconfidence from the sharp rise shown in the Lathrop and Review total prediction average from 647.5 to 648.5, the week's forecast on the top games of the national Saturday football with the Board's help, 13 predictions came out right and one ended in a tie for an overall total of 24 correct and two ties.

State over Iowa—The Badgers have to take last week's upset State out on somebody. Hawkeyes are heavy favorites.

State over Tennessee—Alabama is coming along undefeated. The Yals didn't impress anyone last Saturday in beating little South College, 26-0.

State over Washington State—The Cougars have been a big disappointment to Coast fans and are still looking for their first win. These boys won't change the situation any unless they suffer a complete meltdown.

State over Nebraska—The Cornhuskers offense received a boost when Bobby Resnolds was injured again. Even though he is the passing wizardry of Tom Ralston should keep Penn State on the beaten path.

State over Navy—Another toughie that is hard to guess. The game favors the Terps.

State over Northwestern—Heads will roll up Ann Arbor. The Spartans have another losing season. Although this series has many upsets in the past, Michigan shouldn't have too much trouble.

State over Notre Dame—Although the Irish were the one to make currently represent the best in the Big Ten and should be a toughie.

State over Oregon State—The Beavers have already played their last game.

State over Stanford—UCLA has allowed 12 touchdowns in four games.

State over Texas A & M—The Aggies are still recovering from their loss to the Longhorns.

State over Tulane—Tulane has dropped two straight games. The Spartans are the victors.

State over Oregon—The situation will be tricky with flying. The Spartans, however, have the better players.

State over Arkansas—The Longhorns are touring and after being beaten by their arch-rivals, Oklahoma last week. Although they are a formidable team, they don't have the offensive balance of the Spartans.

State over Army—Games like this make life miserable for the Spartans. The theory that the Cougars aren't up to their knees in mud is the only one that keeps them in the game.

State over Auburn—Bobby Dettis' speedy vets should roll over the Tigers.

State over Georgia—Wins over Kentucky and Rice gives the Ticks a good start. The Spartans are the favorites.

State over Minnesota—Illinois shellacked Washington last week. The Spartans are the favorites.

State over Kansas—Here's the title game of the Big Seven. The Spartans sport spotless records with the Sooners except for their monopoly on the league crown.

State over Mississippi State—The Wildcats' upcoming bunch should provide the spark.

Hannah Agrees

Spring Workouts Have Good Points

'Spring football practice has its good points, Michigan State College President John A. Hannah admitted recently. Hannah was chairman of the president's committee of the American Council on Education which advocated, among other reforms, the abolition of spring workouts.

Hannah admitted this was so. That's one of the good arguments for spring practice," he said. "There are some discussions of having just varsity letter winners from spring practice and letting the others work out."

"If your goal is to have as many boys enjoying the sport as possible, wouldn't the abolition of spring practice work against the fellows who came out for football from the regular student body?"

Munn Faces Challenge From Former Employers

By JACK KOLE

Syracuse University's vastly improved football team, boasting some of the best backs in the East, will land in Lansing tomorrow afternoon with just one thought in mind—to give former employees Biggie Munn and Duffy Daugherty an extremely rough time of it Saturday.

Munn drew his paycheck from the New York institution as head coach in 1946 before he transferred to the Spartan camp in 1947. In doing so, he lured Daugherty, who was serving as assistant, away from his alma mater.

Daugherty, incidentally, started as a guard for the Orange in his college days back in the '30s. And to increase the intensity of State-Syracuse rivalry, Daugherty captained a Syracuse squad in 1939, which is the last season the Spartans engaged the Orange. That year State stung Syracuse, 14-3.

The powerful 1952 Syracuse squad, described by those observers to be the best Orange grid machine in nearly 20 years, have swept last three games, have defeated the Spartans in the season's opener to a postulated Bolling Field there last fall by former Spartan stars Al Dornan and Horne Dabbs.

Syracuse kicked Boston University and Holy Agostino, 34-21, for their first victory, and whitewashed Temple the following weekend, 27-0. Last Saturday the Orange conquered the Big Red from Cornell, 26-6.

The Orange II employs both a straight "T" and the unbalanced winged T formations, but have achieved the most success operating out of the conventional "T."
