PK Forces Fire Reds from Peaks

S. Losses Mount Record Mark

U.S. Korea (AP)—South Korea's forces hurled the Chinese from three peaks on the front in a heroic battle Wednesday, then crushed the Chinese counterattacks in the big Allied searchlights. The day of bruising battle on the Kunshwa ridges found the Koreans once more in combat. The Chinese had been attacking Tuesday, including the Hill dominant height over Ridge. The Koreans then stormed Pinpoint simultaneously reaching the Chinese from two on the flanks. The night they had recaptured the Hill, a height on the Hill West of Sniper and Rocky Point to the back Point is a part of the Ridge mass itself.

On the night the battle of Allied searchlights in the battlefield into day. The recent heavy fighting was reflected in Washington weekly casualty report. The Department reported that casualties through last week were the largest weekly in the year.

It brought total U.S. losses to 125,887. The figures show 266 killed, bringing the total of killed in action to 18,712.

According to the Sniper and Rocky Hill sector was captured across the 155-mile front Wednesday. Eighth Headquarters reported several snipers and patrol scattered points elsewhere.

6th Annual Flower Show Scheduled

The sixth annual Flower Show will be held tomorrow and night in Demonstration. Sponsored by the Floriculture Club, it will begin at 8 p.m. and feature floral exhibits, flower contests, demonstration and floral design.

Students may compete in floral design contest. Flower Show will be held free of charge at the Horticulture Building. The show will be held in the MSC building.

Theater Council to Present Children's Plays

The fifth year, Junior Council will bring children's plays to the Lansing area. The plays, "The Boy Who Sailed" and "The Boy Who Stayed", will be presented at the Sexton High School on Nov. 22 and March 7.

Performances of each play will be given. Individual tickets will be sold at Lansing and East Lansing schools and at the Lansing Library.

GOP's Dodge Dodges Questions on Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower will sit down with President Truman next Tuesday to discuss plans for an orderly change of administrations.

The date was announced by the White House after a telephone call from Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is spending a brief vacation.

Warmer Today Prognosticator Says No Snow For a While

Oh, for the days of stable, predictable weather. The weatherman says it will be warmer today, but one can never be sure anymore. Expected high is 50 degrees. The sun should be shining today too. The wind will blow from the southwest with a velocity of about 15 miles an hour.

The weatherman even goes so far as to say that no rain or snow will fall in East Lansing at least until Sunday night or Monday. Hope he's right.

Early Bidders To Receive Extra Tickets

Although some student tickets to Saturday's Notre Dame game may not be claimed, they will not be available for sale, according to Warren F. Buritt, ticket manager.

The tickets will go to some of the 14,000 people who applied for tickets before June 16, the day of the sell-out. Buritt said.

The number of tickets reserved for students who attended last year's Notre Dame game, taking into consideration this year's increased enrollment.

Because of the early 1:30 starting time, students are urged to go to Saturday's MSC Notre Dame game as early as possible to alleviate the usual last minute jam.

Buritt also announced that student and employee coupons will not be exchanged for tickets after Friday afternoon. The ticket office will be open Friday noon.

Students must have ID cards to get in with student tickets. No exceptions will be made. Buritt said. Students who haven't received their ID card can still pick them up at the vault in the Administration Building.

2900 Attend Convos Here

Eleven special courses and conferences will take the spotlight this week at Michigan State with more than 2,900 persons expected to attend. Coordinating this program is the MSC Continuing Education Service. The schedule for the week is as follows:

General to Confer Dewey Summoned To Discuss Korea

AUGUSTA, Ga. — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will talk over the general's forthcoming trip to Korea and other policy matters at a conference here tomorrow.

And Eisenhower will hold an important round of policy-making meetings in New York next week with other Republican leaders, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, may sit in.

In Washington, meanwhile, the White House announced that Eisenhower and President Truman will meet there Tuesday at 2 p.m. (EST) for the discussion Truman proposed last week. That session will deal with international and domestic problems facing the new Republican Administration.

Plans for the Eisenhower-Dewey conference and the New York sessions were announced at the general's vacation headquarters here yesterday by his press secretary, James C. Hagerty.

Arrangements for the meeting came against a background of reports that Dewey will get a cabinet post in the new GOP administration. He has been mentioned for Secretary of State or Secretary of Defense.

Dewey said last week, however, that he intends to serve out his term as governor. It runs for two more years.

Hagerty repeated today that no date has been fixed yet for Eisenhower's trip to Korea.

Dewey's scheduled meeting with the president-elect to discuss the Korean trip among other matters, came amid reports that Eisenhower aides already have been in touch with the Pentagon regarding arrangements for the visit and—more important—the military situation in Korea.

Hagerty declined to specify what policy matters in addition to the Korean trip will be on the Eisenhower-Dewey agenda at tomorrow's conference.

UN Debate Due on Lie Successor

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Assembly's steering committee yesterday unanimously recommended, without a word of debate, that the Assembly take up the politically hot question of naming a successor to Secretary General Trygve Lie.

The Assembly itself is expected to agree with the recommendation late this week or early next week and form out the explosive issue to a committee for full debate. There is no indication when the subject actually will be debated.

Lester B. Pearson, Assembly president who is considered a possibility for the Lie post, convened the steering committee. He stated the question and said he would recommend its inclusion on the Assembly's agenda if no one objected. No one moved.

Buritt was not that quiet in the UN corridors. They are full of rumors that Lie meant what he said when he resigned Monday, or that Lie was trying to get a vote of confidence from the Assembly by this method, or that Lie could be persuaded to stay on if the Security Council could not agree on a successor.

One delegate who would not permit identification said Lie stated that if the Council cannot agree on a secretary general he would stay at his post until his extended term ends Feb. 2, 1954. Lie's aides counter this, however, with the comment that he was "up" with all the problems facing him.

Speakers from the U.S. delegation said the Americans have not even discussed in the delegation the issue of Lie's successor.

One delegate said the Russians have a candidate of their own, but he did not give a name.

The delegate's resignation promises to be one of the most heated in the UN halls. Delegates here are saying that this really involves the seemingly impossible task of getting President Truman or Gen. Eisenhower, Prime Minister Stalin, Premier Churchill, Premier Aomine Pinay and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to agree on one man.

The big five must agree on a new man under the UN charter.

Students Invited To Radio Try-outs

New Setup Clarifies Financial Obligation

Student Congress passed the amended Campus Chest Reorganization Bill last night at its weekly meeting.

The bill as amended clarifies the financial obligations which the Student Government has to Campus Chest, an agency of the executive branch of the government.

According to the ordinance, the Campus Chest must submit a working budget for the year to be approved by the Congress. The government will be obligated to pay only those expenditures of the Chest which it approved, said Bob Steele, chairman of the Congress Business and State Affairs Committee.

Those portions of Campus Chest expenditures not paid out of student tax funds will be taken out of student contributions to Campus Chest, Steele added.

Under the previous Campus Chest bill in conjunction with the tax amendment, all expenses of the Campus Chest had to be paid by the Student Government, said Jack Winkelman, State Affairs chairman.

An open discussion meeting on the proposed Student Government budget for 1952-53 will be held tonight at 8:30 in Room 31 of the Union.

All students are urged to attend and to express their opinions on the provisions of the budget, according to Harry Thuerkauf, chairman of the Finance Committee.

A Loss to the UN

When it came to selecting a secretary-general of the United Nations early in 1946, all of the major powers agreed on Trygve Halvdan Lie, 50-year-old Norwegian labor party leader.

The member nations chose one of the impartial men available. Lie always said he felt his impartiality reflected in the many tags his adversaries pinned on him.

He was called a reactionary. He was labeled a Red devil. Lie used to say that he didn't care so long as the attacks came from all sides. But now it looks as though the buffet-ing he received from the Kremlin on one side and the McCarran Committee on the other finally wore thin on Lie's nerves. Monday, he stepped down after nearly seven years of service.

His job was never easy. To him fell the task of steering the vast United Nations organization through its early critical years. He carried the burdens of this difficult job with all the ruggedness of his native Norway.

But potshots from all sides took their toll on Lie's patience.

Yet the whole answer to Lie's resignation Monday probably does not lie in the three ostensible reasons he listed in his resignation speech.

Besides continual barbs from the Russians and the U.S. Senate subcommittee, Lie was irked by the UN Budget Committee's slicing big bites from expenditures of the UN he considered vital.

Some observers believe the real answer to Lie's action lies in the idealistic attitude he brought to the UN job, and the subsequent East-West split which prevented the peace organization from doing what he thought it should.

Lie was convinced that the first duty of the United Nations was to maintain peace and to create a new world in which all people could live a decent existence regardless of their differences in race or creed.

Now the UN faces the problem of finding a replacement for Lie. Six years have passed since the member nations had such an easy time agreeing on his selection.

Only two years ago, Russia was willing to accept almost anybody to get rid of Lie. Now, the Russians have no candidate. Neither does the UN.

The leading candidate at the present time seems to be Carlos P. Romulo, of the Philippines.

Search as they may, the UN will have a difficult time finding as tireless and faithful a worker as Trygve Lie.

Not the Public's Business

The Interfraternity Council at Augustana College, Ill., refused recently to let the student newspaper there cover its meetings.

"I don't think that proceedings of the Council should be open to the public as they would be if a reporter were allowed to attend," said a Council spokesman. "Fraternities are secret organizations—their business is not the business of the campus."

Commented the Augustana Observer: "We have no desire to spy on anyone, only to observe the news. It is with great disappointment that we bow to the wisdom of the Greek signs."

Two Egyptians Criticize Story on Native Land

TO THE EDITOR:

With regard to the article which appeared in the Michigan State News on Nov. 8, 1948, I, Mary Alice Richey, student at MSC Professor, Indiana University, has an answer.

It is unfortunate that the MSC student body is so small that it is not possible to have a representative sample of the Egyptian people.

Now, the UN faces the problem of finding a replacement for Lie. Six years have passed since the member nations had such an easy time agreeing on his selection.

Opportunities in Optometry

Optometry is a profession offering special advantages to ambitious, young men and women. Its scope is constantly expanding. Eighty per cent of the Nation's millions depend upon the Doctor of Optometry and his professional skill in conserving vision. There is a shortage of optometrists in many States.

The Doctor of Optometry possesses the dignity of being a professional man. He renders an essential service to the health and well-being of his community. Substantial financial rewards are obtainable almost from the beginning of his practice.

U.S. Department of Defense and Selective Service grant optometry students the same consideration accorded medical students.

The Doctor of Optometry degree can be earned in three college years by a student taking six or more semester hours of Liberal Arts credits. Such students will be admitted at mid-year by Chicago College of Optometry.

Chicago College of Optometry is centrally located in the heart of the world's greatest center for teaching in the healing arts. It is nationally accredited and is splendidly equipped. Clinical facilities are unsurpassed.

Feminine Logic

Patty's Patter

By PAT YAROUCH
State News Society Editor

When I was little, long, long ago, I read fairy tales of kings and queens. In my innocence, I thought they all went together like "ladies and gentlemen" and "boys and girls," but then I came to State—the rude awakening. There are just queens here.

Oh sure, we do still have a kind of king at the Water Carnival; but that's all. We even killed the only truly chosen king we had, King of the Mardi Gras.

Does this have to be? Why can't we have, oh let's say, "King of Cool Dorms" or "King of Orchestras" or "Kingly Romeo of Theta?"

Seems to me the coeds are missing a great chance to build the ego of their favorite bean. Think how proud he would be to reign over a formal in his midnight blue tux and string tie. Imagine the prestige of dating "a real king."

What do you think? Is it fair for the coeds to rule this campus or should we set out for the record of the campus with "the handsomest male students?" I like the idea.

MSC Graduates May Work for UN

MSC graduates may find a job with the United Nations. About one-half of the 3,000 jobs at the permanent headquarters of the UN are for non-professionals. They include secretaries, typists and clerks, according to the November issue of Mademoiselle.

Applicants must write a letter to the Recruitment Section at the UN, have a personal interview and pass an examination, much like that for the U.S. Civil Service.

Light, warm bed coverings are best for sleep. Heavy blankets are the cause of many sleepless nights.

Men Trot to Capture Thanksgiving Dinner

By ROH HERMAN

MSC's "plebians" go out tonight to bring home their Thanksgiving dinner.

They will be competing in the seventh annual Turkey Trot, a cross-country distance run sponsored by the Intramural Department.

Starting time has been moved up 20 minutes to 5:10 so will be able to finish in daylight, according to Harris F. Freeman, director of Intramurals.

Twenty teams had registered for the Trot at the Intramural Office by Tuesday afternoon. About three-fourths of these teams will wear the colors of women's housing units who sponsor them.

CSF's 'Child'

Party Held for Antoinette

A birthday party for an 11-year-old girl living in a little village near Paris, France, was held last weekend on Michigan State's campus. She is Antoinette Goux, who was adopted by the Christian Student Foundation three years ago.

A 12 by 18 inch birthday cake and games like pin the tail on the donkey and blindman's bluff added to the party.

Virginia Sheppard, Taylor Center senior, thought of having a party for Antoinette last year. It was so successful that they decided to continue it each year.

Since Antoinette was adopted, CSF had sent her everything from toy dolls and pens to mittens and sweaters. They also send money regularly to the Goux family under the plan.

Antoinette has two older brothers and one older sister. Her mother does housekeeping to support the family because her father was killed while fighting in the French Resistance movement during the war.

About once a month, CSF gets a letter from Antoinette. She tells of studying English, writing compositions and how happy she is at the top of her class of five.

Antoinette sums up the adoption with "I am a little girl very thankful for the good people of America."

Yewcic Gamble Pays Off

A kick off that was described by some observers as "Big Al" Munn's luckiest gamble has proved to be the "jackpot" of Spartan gridiron success in 1952.

The successful gamble was Munn's conclusion to stick with junior Tom Yewcic as quarterback of his offensive system perhaps the most complex played in college today.

Yewcic has fully vindicated Munn's faith in him by leading the Spartans to seven straight victories and has nullified the cries of those who regarded him as incapable of leading the Spartans.

Now Yewcic seems destined for a new mission—to place himself in the Spartan record books as one of the greatest offensive players ever to perform at Michigan State.

Already he has broken the passing yardage record for one season set only last year by Al Dorow, who threw for 842 lengths. Yewcic now boasts 877 yards with two games remaining.

Tom has also endeavored the season's touchdown pass record, which was established at 14 by Gene Glavin in 1948. Yewcic has thrown nine aerial bombs for scores so far this season. With 80 attempts thus far, he may break another of Dorow's 1951 records, which shows 114 tries.

Actually, Yewcic's earlier somewhat parallels that of Dorow. The experts never rated the 1951 Spartan signal caller as a top-flight quarterback even though they had to admit that Dorow's records were phenomenal.

Yewcic is undoubtedly the same problem. Although he has esta-lished himself as one of the nation's best quarterbacks and is consistently among the top 20 offensive leaders, he is seldom mentioned for All-American accolades.

Besides his aerial wizardry, Yewcic has toted the ball 22 times for 86 yards and a 3.9 average.

Tom has only scored one touchdown this season but it gave the Spartans a winning 14-7 margin over South Purdue. The tally came in the second quarter when Yewcic started right end for seven yards.

Another one of Yewcic's many duties is punting, which he has performed very capably, sporting a 37.51 average.

Yewcic hails from Conemaugh, Pa., where he starred in three sports in a rough Class A league. Tom ran from the fullback slot on the gridiron as a versatile triple-threat. Yewcic's team was a bitter rival of Evan Stone's high school and the two teams split 2-2 while the two Spartans played. Stone is now Yewcic's roommate in West Shore.

Yewcic rates two plays as his biggest thrills in football. The first, of course, is the famous Transcontinental pass that he tossed to Dorow to clip Ohio State last year. The other came in the Spartan romp over Texas A & M when Tom lofted a beautiful pass to Ellis Duckett seconds before the half ended for an 80-yard scoring play.

Yewcic may not go down in the annals of the college gridiron as a national figure, but as far as Spartan fans are concerned he has brought some of the best football ever seen to Michigan State.

Spartans Hope to Keep Megaphone

When Notre Dame and Michigan State clash this coming Saturday the focus will be on the return of the "Megaphone" trophy, which has been in the possession of the Spartans for the past two years.

The trophy, sponsored jointly by the Notre Dame and Michigan State alumni clubs in Detroit, was first presented in 1949 to the Irish on the strength of their 34-21 win of that year. It was given to Michigan State in 1950 following the Spartans' 36-34 triumph and retained by them a year ago on the basis of the 35-0 victory.

Last year the trophy, the outcome of all games between the two schools starting in 1947, in 1949, when the Irish won it. One half of the trophy, however, is held by a Notre Dame monument, and the other half white with a green "M" inscribed on it.

'We Never Lost to Irish'

New Club in Making for State

There is the makings of a new and exclusive fraternity in the Michigan State football squad this year.

"That's the 'We never lost to Notre Dame' Club."

All seniors on the squad, with the sole exception of tackle Joe Klein, have no idea what it's like to lose to the Irish.

Klein, who was a year backer in 1949, was around in 1949 when Michigan State lost 34-21.

A far as the Irish are concerned, the rest of the squad has never lost to the 36-34 victory in 1950 and the 35-0 runaway a year ago.

If they can win this one, the seniors will be able to identify their team as the one that never lost to Notre Dame.

Coach Budge Munn's Spartans will be looking for another triumph, that of being the first team in history to beat a squad coached by Frank Leahy three times in a row.

After battling to upset victories over three of the 10 top teams in the current AP poll—Texas, Purdue, and Oklahoma—the Fighting Irish come to grips with the nation's No. 1 team.

Leahy, looking ahead to the Spartans, is not so much concerned with an Irish let down in spirit.

as he is with a technical problem, according to Associated Press report.

At Notre Dame, Leahy said, "And that's exactly what happened to us last year when they beat us 35-0."

"We came to the Michigan State game this season, the same as last year—with fine results from fast charging, aggressive linemen against the varied T used by opponents."

The same factor that you for us against Oklahoma, would make us duck soup for Michigan State. We have to watch every step.

Extra Rooms Added Remodeled Library To Open Saturday

By BETSY MACFIE

The enlarged and now modern East Lansing library will open this Saturday at 9 a.m.

After nearly two months of temporary housing in the Peoples Church, a definite "open for business" date has been set.

Leather-covered light wood easy chairs, a cork floor, light green walls, fluorescent lighting and new library equipment make the new library an attractive place to read, study, or do research in.

A large reading room, work-shop and office have been added to the old library quarters, which will now be used as a children's reading room.

The library is located at 400 Abbott Rd., about two blocks north of Grand River.

Library hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Saturday. About 3,500 MSC students now hold library cards, and the faculty uses the library a great deal. To take out books, one merely registers for a card at the library.

One hundred and fifty new children's and adult books were purchased recently. Over 75 magazines are kept as far back as three years and may be taken out for one week. Current books may be taken out for one week, others for two weeks. There is a file of pamphlets and clipping material, and a picture file. Readers' guides, a New York Times file, encyclopedias, and many other aids to research are available.

According to Alma Huggins, head librarian, the present library, even though enlarged, will only be a substitute measure for a few years, because of East Lansing's growing population.

In April of 1950 a bond issue for a completely new library was defeated. Before the library moved to its temporary quarters while the remodeling was being done, it had a daily 300 to 500 circulation, she said.

The East Lansing library will have a formal open house in approximately two weeks. No definite date has been set because there are still some final touches to be added to the library.

'Pirates' Looting Naval Graveyard, Manila Reports

MANILA (AP)—Scrap iron pirates are looting the naval graveyards of ships sunk off the Philippines in World War II, and Sen. Carlos P. Garcia wants the army to investigate. He says the government is losing money it hoped to realize from the sale of the hulls.

The pirates are reported particularly active off the coasts of the east central islands of Samar and Leyte, where some of the bitterest naval engagements of the war were fought.

An estimated 500 Japanese ships lie at various depths in Philippine waters. It is believed that from 500,000 to 700,000 tons of scrap can be salvaged from the sunken ships.

Here's the Answer

No, it wasn't test marks or leaky pens that caused all the serious looks on the faces pictured on page 1, only the new drinking fountain installed yesterday in the Union grill. Equipped with a push button mechanism it threw grill patrons for a loss in a debut that was impressive if not successful.

Large Turnout Expected for Carnival

More than 10,000 college seniors from all over Michigan and high school seniors from the Lansing area are expected to attend the fourth annual Career Carnival at MSC, Nov. 19, 20 and 21.

The carnival will be held in the MSC Union where more than 90 companies will set up displays and exhibits open to student inspection over the three-day period.

The purpose of the event is to give graduating seniors an accurate picture of job opportunities and also counseling and guidance on careers, according to John Schluetter, MSC placement director.

The Career Carnival is conducted each year by the MSC Placement Service in co-operation with the college firms. Originally the carnival was expanded last year to include college students from all over Michigan and high school seniors from the Lansing area.

Congress

licity and administration will remain unaltered.

A bill was introduced to divorce Campus Chest as an agency of the government. Before legislation on this proposal, a poll of student opinion will be taken today, according to Win-Keljohn.

Congress Business and State Affairs Committee will hold an open meeting Nov. 18 to discuss the separating of Campus Chest from the government. Results of the student poll will be taken into consideration at this time, said Steele.

Dave Hymen, sophomore from Buffalo, N.Y., was appointed by Bob Holo and approved by Congress as the Student Government attorney. Hymen will represent the Congress in the Judiciary branch of the government.

Holo spoke briefly about the Big Ten Student Government Conference which he, Steele, and Horatio Lewis, Congress Speaker, attend at Purdue University, Nov. 6-8.
