

Russia Breaks Off Diplomatic Relations With Israel

LONDON (AP)—Russia broke off diplomatic relations Thursday with Israel over the bombing of the Soviet legation Monday in Tel Aviv.

The Soviet government ordered members of the Israeli legation to get out of Moscow immediately and told its own legation personnel to leave Tel Aviv.

The bombing was attributed generally to anti-Zionist charges in Moscow in connection with a purge of nine doctors, some of them Jewish. The doctors were accused of destroying or attempting to destroy some top Soviet leaders.

The announcement of the break came a few hours after a Moscow broadcast accused Israeli policy of "connivance" in the bomb explosion.

Israeli government officials, headed by Premier David Ben-Gurion, already had denounced the bombing as a "dastardly" act which they said reflected on the honor of the state of Israel. Authorities in Tel Aviv launched a roundup of suspects in connection with the bombing, arresting both Jews and Arabs in various parts of the country. Anti-Communist Israelis Wednesday broke up a pro-Soviet rally in the center of Tel Aviv. The rally was a protest to the legation bombing. Twenty-five Israelis were injured in the clash, two of them seriously, before police intervened. The broadcast quoted the Soviet official news agency Tass as saying Russia had rejected Israel's official condemnation of the bombing and apologies for it.

Such declarations and apologies of the Israeli government, the broadcast said, "are contradicted by the numerous facts of direct participation of representatives of the Israeli government in fanning hatred for the Soviet Union and inciting hostile actions against the USSR."

State Senator Asks For Stadium Switch For Michigan Game

By TED RAKNITS

The state Legislature has asked serious consideration of the proposed stadium switch for the 1953 Michigan State game.

Dean-emeritus Lloyd C. Emmons, chairman of the Athletic Council, said Wednesday that he has received a letter from a member of the Committee on State Affairs of the state urging a careful weighing of the possible change.

The next council meeting has been set for Feb. 23. The council will at that time vote on the proposal, Emmons said.

According to Emmons, the note commented on the interest generated in the Legislature by the proposal of Fritz Crisler, University of Michigan athletic director.

The spokesman said in his letter that a move to Ann Arbor for the Nov. 14 contest would prove a benefit to many who would otherwise be unable to attend.

There are no tickets available for tonight's concert. Union Ticket Office reported a sell-out.

Now acclaimed as a star in opera, concert, screen, radio, television and scholarship to the Juilliard School of Music in New York. She turned down her first Metropolitan contract, in order to make her debut in Europe, Czechoslovakia.

After success in Europe, she made her Metropolitan debut in New York in the role of "Miguel."

Tonight Miss Stevens will sing a selection from Handel's "The Messiah." Brahms' "Gypsy Song" and Schubert's "Gypsy Song" are also on the program.

The trio of Negro spirituals which she will sing includes "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Gospel Train," and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Flu Threat Drops; Hospital Still Full

The influenza epidemic is still subsiding, according to Dr. Charles Holland, director of the Health Center.

The past two weeks have been the most severe in the number of cases admitted to the hospital. Cases reached a high last week when approximately 200 were admitted. During this time, the available bed in the hospital was filled.

But the number of cases this week is near normal. Dr. Holland said it is doubtful that any further increase of cases will be noticed.

Dionysian Production Called Off

Cancellation Blamed On Lack of Money

The Dionysians, the all-college student musical production group, will not present "Anything Goes" as originally planned.

Horatio Lewis, student producer, said Wednesday night that although the "Dionysian Angel" was able to secure a director, no agreement could be reached about financing.

The "angel" had been discovered by a member of the group when they were looking for a way to hire a professional director and still keep within their budget.

The college requires a professional director. Because no faculty member would direct it and no student director was approved, it was necessary to hire one.

The "angel" flew to New York and secured a director.

Still the Dionysians couldn't meet its budget of $1,500 plus a $1,000 deficit.

All material must be returned to New York, Lewis said. Dionysian members were asked to return scripts, scores and other material to Jim Whittaker, president of the group.

Colder, Too Rain Goes Away, But Snow Hits Ailing Spartans

Snow flurries are predicted today to replace Wednesday's dreary rain. The East Lansing Weather Bureau's forecast is cloudy and colder.

Expected high today is 34 degrees and the low will be only two degrees below it. Wind should come from the west and north-west at 15 to 20 miles an hour.

According to the weather bureau records, this year has been much warmer and a little drier than normal. Accumulated temperatures for 1953 have been 125 degrees above the average, and precipitation has been 28 inches less.

Ike Refuses To Spare Lives Of Rosenbergs

Attorney To Appeal To Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower refused Wednesday to spare the lives of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, sentenced to death in the electric chair for conspiring to slip atomic secrets to Russia.

Their crime, he said, "far exceeds that of taking the life of another citizen; it involves the deliberate betrayal of the entire nation and could very well result in the death of many thousands of innocent citizens."

The Rosenbergs, man and wife, are awaiting execution in New York's Sing Sing Prison.

They appealed for presidential clemency—the last resort in their long court fight—on the ground that they were innocent. With the appeal, Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman of New York granted a stay of execution until five days after the President announced his decision.

The Rosenbergs heard the news of Eisenhower's action on a prison radio. Prison officials said they had no comment.

Their attorney, Emmanuel Bloch, said in New York he would appeal the decision to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Rosenbergs would be the first American civilians to pay with their lives for the crime of espionage against the United States.

Allies Find Ike Silent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Allies and other countries friendly to the United States are grumbling because President Eisenhower's administration has given no hint of its policies on explosive issues in the UN General Assembly, which reconvenes Feb. 24.

They force a necessity for them to make snap decisions on vital issues such as Korea. They note a possibility of American defeat.

Gavilan Gets TKO in 10th As Davey Fails to Answer

Tom Williamson, Sault Ste. Marie senior, presents Mimi Cumiskey, Birmingham sophomore, with the Harvest Ball Queen Award at the Ag Honors banquet Tuesday night.

Students Get Awards At Ag Honors Banquet

Nearly 60 MSC agriculture students were honored Wednesday evening at the annual Ag Honors banquet at Peoples Church.

Winning top awards were Thomas H. Williamson, Sault Ste. Marie senior; Gerald Luce, Flushing senior; and Keith Brown, Jonesville junior.

Williamson received a plaque recognizing him as the agriculture student taking the most active part in student activities.

He has been a member of the Michigan State College student government, president of the Agricultural Council, vice president of Alpha Zeta, honorary fraternity, secretary of Blue Key, and a member of the Dairy Club and the Wolverine Staff.

Luce was presented the senior scholarship award. He was named a 3.94 all-college average. Luce has been a member of the Dairy Club and the Wolverine Staff.

Both students received plaques presented by Dr. C. R. McGee, assistant dean of agriculture. Luce also received the $300 Borley award given for outstanding dairy work.

Brown received the junior scholarship award, a $100 cash prize. He is a member of the Ag Council, had charge of the Little International Showman's Week is a member of the junior judging team and a student in animal husbandry.

Other features of the program included presentation of an Ag Council key to the 1952-53 Harvest Ball queen, Mimi Cumiskey, Birmingham sophomore. A queen is selected each year for the Ball, sponsored by Ag Council.

Richard Lalonde, Decatur junior, was toastmaster for the evening. A speaker was Dr. M. Hardin, director of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station and new dean of the School of Agriculture.

Champ Floors Chuck Three Times in Ninth

A bruised and battered Chuck Davey couldn't answer the bell for the tenth round as hard-punching Kid Gavilan easily retained his world's welterweight championship in the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

The ex-Spartan boxing great fought a game battle for nine rounds but was floored four times by his more experienced ring-wise opponent.

Looked for a minutes in the third by a furious fusillade of right-hand punches, Davey came out on the head in the ninth. Gavilan even switched outwards himself in the fifth and sixth.

Seemingly to the attack in the ninth after he had opened a cut under Davey's right eye in the previous round, smooth-working Gavilan simply overwhelmed the seagull-looking lad, who had opened defeat in 39 previous fights.

Davey seemed aware that he couldn't last much longer after the cut opened, so he came out punching in the ninth. That was just what Gavilan had been waiting for.

A jolting short right hand put Davey on the canvas. He came back on his feet and took the last part of a nine-round fight. Davey was knocked out by Gavilan's right hand in the tenth round after Gavilan pounded the challenger to the canvas three times.

Leading in with all the fury of the attack that stopped Gavilan last July in Philadelphia, Gavilan slammed home a series of right-hand punches that drove Davey through the ropes to the ring apron on his back. The ex-collegian "kissed" on his knees at about four but took the full nine count.

Dr. Irving Stott suggested the bout be stopped and trainer Issy Kline agreed although Davey apparently wanted to continue. Kline said a smashing blow to Davey's adam's apple was the blow that ended the fight.

Under National Boxing Association rules, it went as a tenth round technical knockout. Gavilan's fifth successful defense of the crown he won by beating Johnny Bratton at New York, May 18, 1951.

MSC President to Commute Dr. Hannah Takes Oath To Assume Defense Post

Pres. John A. Hannah was sworn in late Wednesday afternoon in Washington as assistant secretary of defense. The Michigan State College president left the campus in the morning after an extended weekend stay necessitated by the death of his father-in-law, Pres. emeritus Robert S. Shaw.

Hannah's swearing in, along with Frank Nash as assistant secretary in charge of international security matters, completes the Defense Department's top civilian management team.

Dr. Hannah said Wednesday that he will continue to operate as a "commuter" between East Lansing and the nation's capital for a major part of next week.

He will arrive on the campus for another weekend visit Friday night, returning Sunday afternoon. Then, after a brief return to Washington, he plans to leave again for MSC on Tuesday. He will be here next Thursday for a meeting of the state Board of Agriculture, he said.

Everyone Cheats

To the Editor:

It seems to me that everyone on campus has had something to say about cheating. I'd like to get in my two cents' worth. Let's stop being so darned ethical! This feud between male and female is rather silly. Stop trying to fool yourselves, and try to face reality for a change.

Although I do not have any statistical data (nor does anyone) pertaining to this subject, I am quite sure of my conclusions.

Males cheat!
Females cheat!
You cheat!
We all cheat!

I realize that this is rather a broad statement, but let me clarify this a little. I know there are a few that don't cheat. There's got to be for if there weren't, from whom would we cheat? There are those who don't cheat because they don't get a chance to, those who are afraid to cheat, and those who are too dumb to cheat. I have also heard of some people who have such high ethical standards that the thought of cheating doesn't enter their wee little heads. I have yet to meet such an individual.

My humble apologies to those "angel-faced" characters on campus who don't agree.

. . . . Coeds, Too

To the Editor:

This is directed to the writer of the letter printed in the State News on Wednesday, Jan. 28, 1953.

The coeds of Michigan State are human like everyone else, of course, they cheat, but so are the men on this campus so virtuous? As to admitting to cheating, as far as we know no one has bothered to ask, and most normal people don't shout their sins to the skies.

In regard to the coed having more time and better conditions for studying, you obviously have never lived in a women's dormitory. We have quiet hours, but so do the men. Just because the men don't have closing hours doesn't mean they can't go in at night and study, or don't they have any will power?

You had better brush up on your sense of humor. You apparently didn't see the wit and sarcasm in the closing lines of Dean Wakefield's article of Tuesday's State News.

P.S. Just be glad YOU don't have to put your hair up every night!
Editor's Note — We hope this is the end of the coeds vs. men cheating feud.

Lincoln and MSC

Today thoughts of Americans turn to Abraham Lincoln. He is remembered as the man who rose from a frontier log cabin to the White House without a formal education. He is remembered as the Great Emancipator, as the statesman who reunited the divided house. His Gettysburg address will be memorized by children for years to come and men will continue to quote the closing words of his second inaugural speech.

Yet Lincoln's name is seldom mentioned with the Morrill Act. It was during his administration that this bill was passed, creating land-grant colleges and universities. Sen. Justin Morrill first introduced the bill in 1857. It was passed by Congress in 1859, but President Buchanan vetoed it. The bill was reintroduced in Congress and signed by President Lincoln in 1862.

Next to the abolition of slavery the Morrill Act has been considered by many as the most important and most far-reaching measure of Lincoln's administration. It gave to each state 30,000 acres for every representative and senator in Congress. The money from the sale of this land was to be invested, and its interest used to set up a college to "teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanical arts." "Without excluding other scientific and classical studies."

MSC, then called Michigan Agricultural College, was one of the few schools in the world teaching farm methods at that time. It was the first college to make use of the land grant aid. Today there are 69 colleges and universities receiving financial benefits under the Morrill Act.

Thus the direct effects of President Lincoln's administration are still felt today. Forced to seek out an education as best he could in a remote frontier community, Mr. Lincoln recognized the possible far-reaching benefits of the Morrill bill. Through him, we have Michigan State College.

Just Take It Easy

There's a lot of talk that college is becoming too easy and we've come across some ammunition for this argument. The Purdue Exponent, daily student publication, carried a bookstore advertisement last week which gives students an opportunity to avoid part of the rush of registration week.

Says the ad: "Leave your schedule card and pick up your books at your convenience." Not only that—they offer to deliver books to coeds.

Prof Lauds Cooperation

To the Editor:

We appreciated the article in the January 27 issue of the State News, on our project of developing fungal strains destructive to fabrics. I am afraid, however, that the report gave the impression that I am almost wholly responsible for this work.

The fact is that the actual work is being conducted by Dr. Lloyd Wilson who, because of his special training, was appointed especially to take charge of this project.

It should also be emphasized that we are receiving excellent, and much-appreciated, cooperation from the Textiles and Clothing Division of the School of Home Economics, in testing the fabrics after subjecting them to the new strains of cellulosic fungi which Dr. Wilson and his assistants are developing.

Hoosiers, Irish on Tap

Cage Trip Looks Perilous

By KEITH MILLER

Michigan State's basketball record away from home of three wins in five starts will be in dire peril this weekend as Indiana, ranked number one in the nation, and Notre Dame host the Spartans.

Don Schlundt, Dick Farley, Bob Leonard and company will attempt to keep the Hoosiers unbeaten in conference play in their clash with the Green and White Saturday evening.

After this game, the Spartans will travel to South Bend for a Monday encounter with the Irish of Notre Dame.

In a January game at Jensen Fieldhouse, the Hoosiers outlasted Pete Newell's aggregation for a 69-62 win. Schlundt, the Big Ten's top scorer, meshed 33 points.

that evening. However, the towering giant was held in check during the first half by Bob Armstrong, who left the contest early in the third period as a result of five fouls.

When Armstrong was eliminated, Schlundt began to hit the nets with his familiar regularity.

Indiana still leads the conference race with ten consecutive wins without a loss. Holding firm in the second spot is Illinois with eight wins and two losses while State takes third with seven triumphs in 11 conference games.

Many observers believe that the Illini have a fine opportunity to catch the Hoosiers mainly because Branch McCracken's crew face road games at Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The Illini possess a more balanced squad than Indiana as was indicated in their game at Jensen midway in January when five players cashed ten or more dimes.

According to basketball experts, the Hoosiers would be in a bad state if either Schlundt or Leonard were lost to the team.

For the Spartans, Al Ferr

ari kept up his fine work over the weekend leading the team in scoring at both Columbus and Iowa City with 17 points on each occasion. In addition to his offensive efforts, Ferrari stopped Iowa's main threat, Deacon Davis, with a measly five markers.

Keith Stackhouse and Armstrong both performed in a fine style at Ohio State and were particularly effective on one-handers from the outside.

To prove what kind of basketball Ohio State was playing Saturday, the Bucks set a team shooting record with a 48.9 average from the field on 28 field goals in 48 attempts.

Not even the fine Buckeye squad of 1949-50 could equal that performance. In that season, the Scarlet and Gray won the conference title and lost to CCNY, NCAA and NIT champs, by the close margin of 68-67.

In regard to the ailments of the Spartans, Rickey Ayala and Bob Devanny should be in good shape for the forthcoming Indiana game as both are overcoming the effects of the flu.

The guard corps, beset with all sorts of ailments and injuries this season, received another blow at Iowa Monday when Jim Schlatter was forced to leave the till because of a recurrence of a shoulder injury. However, Schlatter should see action this weekend.

Newell commented that the squad played a smart, defensive contest against the Hawkeyes after its tough battle with the Buckeyes.

In Illinois, scoring is based on 10 points per round. Gavilan's explosives won him an 8-2 count from Hintz and Gilmer, almost without precedent.

The fight was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd of some 17,450 that probably paid an all-time gate record for a welter title scrap.

'Mural Sidelights

All basketball court reservations for this Saturday have been canceled. IM director Frank Beeman announced Wednesday. Reason for the cancellation is that all lockers will be in use by contestants in the MSC Relays. These reservations, however, will be held for Saturday, Feb. 21.

First round handball matches must be played by 7 tonight and must be turned in at the Intramural Office.

Ghost Riders 75, PEK 21

The Ghost Riders came close to breaking the intramural scoring record as they piled up 75 points against the luckless PEK's. Leading in every quarter, the Riders had an easy time in defeating their opposition. John Lerewich 26 points was more than the entire PEK team could muster.

Manor Mice 10

The Dixies had an easy time in scoring their victory over the Manor Mice, 34-10. After scoring four points in the first period, the Manor Mice were held scoreless in the second quarter and then dumped in only three points in the next two periods. Locke was high with nine for the winners.

Celler Rats 15

Bob McDonald pushed in 11 points as he helped his team to a 38-15 victory over the Celler Rats. The Ashers held a comfortable ten point lead starting the final half and went on to win as they held their opponents to nine points in the last half.

Battle of Unbeaten Pits Tankers With Wolves

Two unbeaten swimming teams will clash in Jensen pool Saturday afternoon at 3 as Coach Charles McCaffrey's tankers meet the strong Wolverines of Michigan.

Michigan holds a tremendous edge in the series which extends all the way back to 1922. The Wolves have won 27 times while the Spartans have only been able to garner two victories.

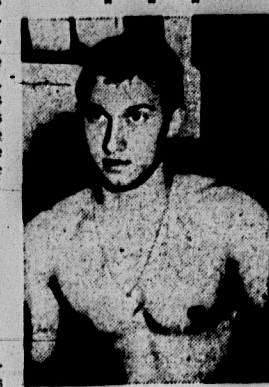

Spartan wins came in 1950 and 1951, but the Maize and Blue came back last year to clip the Spartans, 52-61. State beat out the Wolves for second place in the Big Ten, but Michigan took third to State's fourth in the NCAA.

The meet is rated as the top attraction in the midwest and is even getting national attention. No tickets are available to the general public, but students will be admitted on a first-come, first-serve basis.

McCaffrey commented Wednesday that the meet will be extremely close and will probably be decided on seconds and thirds.

Michigan is loaded with top-notch veterans, who have shown better times than the top Spartans in many events. However, the Wolverines do not possess the depth so important in getting place and show finishes.

Veteran Wolverine coach, Matt Mann has brought the Maize and Blue up to the top in collegiate swimming. Under Mann's direction, the Wolves have 16 Big Ten and 13 NCAA titles.

Leading the Wolverines will be Olympians Ron Gora and Bumpy Jones, who are capable of swimming any of the freestyle events. Jones beat State's Bert McLachlan in the distances last year in the dual meet, but McLachlan came back to clip Jones in the conference meet.

Besides swimming the sprints, the versatile Jones also is the American champion in the 150-yard individual medley.

Gora, a sophomore, has shown better times than any Spartan in both the 50- and 100-yard freestyle events. Trying to knock Jones off his pedestal will be Spartans Tom Payette, Chuck Baldwin and Bob Schumacher.

The tankers stand to gain in the breaststroke, where the Wolverines are definitely weak. John Ducek, new titleholder in the 200-yard event, is expected to continue his winning ways. Roy Ridgway and Bruce Aldrich are other Spartan hopefuls in this event.

Opposing Michigan's John Chase and Basil Considine in the backstroke will be Frank Reynolds and Carroll Howard for McCaffrey. Diving competition of the high board will be close with State's Ken Coyne and Lewie Michaud opposing Jim Walter and Milt Hurd.

Going against McLachlan along with Jones in the distances for the Wolverines will be Capt. Wally Jeffries, John Riles and Wayne Leengren. Bob Wightman will be the other Spartan competitor.

Don Hill and Tom Benner will also compete in the sprints for the Wolves besides going in the 400-yard freestyle.

In the individual medley for State will be Dave Steimle, Larry Johnson and Reynolds.

Leading by two points at the end of the first and second periods, the Badgers found the third quarter all tied up at 33-33. The game continued to see-saw back and forth until the final seconds when a field goal gave the Badgers victory by two points. The high point man was Marv Karki with 22.

Dixies 34, Manor Mice 10

The Dixies had an easy time in scoring their victory over the Manor Mice, 34-10. After scoring four points in the first period, the Manor Mice were held scoreless in the second quarter and then dumped in only three points in the next two periods. Locke was high with nine for the winners.

overcoming their rivals in the last quarter. With the score 23-10 going into the final period, the DZV's were held to only one point, finally winning 24-20. Jim Knoblock of the Addicts was high with 12.

ACS 20, Philheas 15

A low-scoring game saw the ACS defeat Philheas 20-15. The game was close in every quarter but the ACS managed to keep a continual lead. The high score was Tom Shannon who tallied six points for the winners.

Two other games were forfeited.

Colorful Event Rate in College

One of the greatest track meets in the Michigan State Relay Fieldhouse.

The 31st edition of the event, for 300 athletes, who will get the many and varied colors of 24 different colleges and universities.

High around the arena will be the rainbow-hued banners of all competing schools, as well as many other Spartan uniforms in other sports. The drab, navy-covered basketball court will be alive with radio broadcasting installations, officials' activities and the coaches' headquarters.

The great assemblage of track and field stars will compete in a program that has been established through the years as the top early-season meet in the Mid-West. Viewers will see the track and field stars in this section of the court.

Charles Foxville, Don Gehl, Harrison Dillard, Bill Porter, McEwen, Lorenzo Wright, Smith, Bill Mack, Ferguson, Warren Duetzler, D. and Jim Goffley, among others, have thrilled relays fans.

This year will be no exception. For in the field are over a dozen Olympic performers from 1952, including two U.S. team members, several Canadians and even a Swedish-American, Roland Nilsson, the reigning champion in the shot put.

Also returning are these international event champions: Not only Jim Harrington in the 400-yard dash, Kansas State's Thayer second for Uncle Sam in the Olympic games, 200-meter last year, in the 300-yard race, Nilsson in the shot put, Dick Arnold, Belton, a U.S. Olympic performer last year, in the 1,600 yard and mile runs, Michigan's V. P. in the 75-yard low hurdle and Michigan State's John in the 75-yard high hurdle.

Indications point to stiff competition with possibilities of a last Saturday Michigan-Bruner tie. Bruner tied his own record in the 600 yard high hurdles. Thane Barker tied the world's indoor mark in the 75-yard dash, and Arnold Belton topped 6.6 in the high jump. All three are superb performers.

There is no team title at this meet, but the relay events, including the 240-yard shuttle, the distance medley, and the two mile and university of Michigan so that coaches are likely to have many of their best men in the races.

The meet will be run in two sessions, with afternoon prelims starting at 1:45 p.m. and evening show beginning at 7:30 p.m. with the first running event. The afternoon session is free of charge, while at $1.00 seats will be reserved at $1.00.

Wolves Move Closer to Third

Special to The State News

Michigan continued its dominance over Spartan hockey teams Wednesday night, blanking the pucksters for the second time this season, 4-0, in the Michigan Coliseum.

The Wolverines, who were up closer to third place in the Midwest Collegiate Hockey League and pushed the Spartans closer into the cellar.

The Wolverines led, 1-0, at the end of the first stanza and widened the gap to 2-0 at the second intermission. They meshed two goals in the final period for their winning margin.

Pat Conney registered for the Wolves in the first period, when he converted George Chalmers' pass at 14:02. Reg. Shave took Dave Philpott's pass and rained it in at 14:22 of the second stanza.

Jim Hagg scored at 42 of the last frame on another assist from Chalmers. Mattison knocked in the final tally, taking a pass from Capt. John Matthews.

Starring for the Spartans was sophomore goalie, Jack Shuckel, who stopped 27 Wolverine shots, several of which looked like sure goals. Willard Bohl stopped 25 shots for Michigan.

Michigan has beaten the Spartans on two previous occasions this season by scores of 6-0 and 10-2.

In a rough second period Steve Ray and Michigan's Philpott were expected from the game for fighting in an incident that also brought two-minute suspensions to two other players.

With Only Four Colleges Relays Began as Infant

By Chuck Miller

CARNIVAL—There were the Notre Dame, Ohio State, Loyola headlines in the State News-Kansas, Northwestern, Illinois, on March 12, 1921. The present State University of Chicago, Penn State, Drake, Texas, Minnesota, Stanford, Wisconsin, Washington, Bradley, Bowling Green, Oklahoma, Miami, Belmont, Detroit, Toronto, Iowa, Pitt, West Virginia, and Kentucky.

As far as results are concerned, the first relays with the records of the high jump was a 5' 8 1/2" and the 100-yard dash was 17.6 seconds. The shot put was 47' 11" and the 400-yard dash was 1:11.4.

Only four colleges were entered along with two junior colleges and three high schools.

Besides the Aggies, Michigan, Western Michigan, and Kalamazoo College were the original teams competing. Detroit Junior College and three high schools, Jackson Highland Park and Kalamazoo Central were also entered.

Only eight events were run and Michigan won the meet with 21 points. Michigan was second and Western was third.

Since that humble beginning, 45 other schools have run in the meet. Other than the first four, the list of colleges which have taken part during the 30 years includes: Michigan, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Michigan Central, City College of Detroit, Western Michigan, Michigan State, University of Michigan, Michigan Tech, and Detroit Tech.

Others are: Adrian, Alma, of the meet has also been shuffled around several times.

The first title was changed in 1926 when MAC switched to the indoors. Indoor was added to the name in 1938 to make it read "MAC Indoor Track Carnival." "Relays" was replaced with "Carnival" in 1941.

The meet struggled along with only Michigan schools as competitors. Occasionally a small out-of-state college sent a few representatives.

Then in 1943, Ohio State, Notre Dame and Loyola sent teams for the 23rd running. National interest began to build on the meet and when the first meet was held in 1946, the big-time teams started coming into the Michigan Fieldhouse.

Illinois, Northwestern, Kansas, Purdue, Penn State, Ohio Wesleyan, Chicago, Kansas State, Drake, Texas, they all wanted to get in.

During the following years more and more schools sent teams until now 24 colleges are sending over 300 athletes. Included in the competition are 11 state champions, league champions, national and world champions. They are all coming to the MAC annual track carnival.

First place in the pole vault went to a man who cleared 11' 6" as compared to 14' 1" set by Illinois' Don Laz in 1942 and tied last year by another Illinois, Dick Coleman.

Up until 1946 the dashes and hurdles were 40 yards long, now they have been increased to 75 yards.

The broad jump was not on the agenda until 1941, when a leap of 22' 3" was recorded.

The triple hurdle relay, one of the sport's strongest events, has been on the program since 1921.

Before the many other changes came through the years, the name of the meet has also been shuffled around several times.

Defending Big Ten Champs

Matmen to Wrestle Illinois

Michigan State's wrestling squad, reared only by a loss last week to the University of Michigan, will face some more tough competition Friday when it hosts Illinois, defending Big Ten champions.

Stated to begin at 7:30 p.m., the meet will hold an important key to State's Big Ten chances. The Illini have seven returning lettermen and three potential Big Ten champions.

Leading the Illini will be Capt. Pete Compton, defending Big Ten champ at 137 pounds. Grappling with Compton will be Spartan Dick Gunter. Compton has never been beaten in a dual meet.

Other defending conference

Nordquist

Illini Ken Nordquist at 170 pounds against State's Ralph Gill.

Last year, State drew with Illinois in a dual meet, but finished third behind the Illini and Michigan in the conference. Coach Pendley Collins is of the opinion that this year will show a three-point race once again.

So far this season, the Illini have nailed down two Big Ten wins, beating Purdue 14-12 and winning Wisconsin, 23-9. The Spartans defeated Purdue, 25-2.

The Illini have had several more meets than the Spartans and they recently returned from a five-meet road trip that saw them win three and drop two. Their losses however were to NCAA champion in Oklahoma and third place Oklahoma A & M.

Another top bout will feature
