Call Brings Aid

Sheriff Inside, Keys on Outside, Jail Door Slams

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—Sheriff Wayne Lovelace locked himself up Monday.

Coming to the jail bright and early, Lovelace unlocked the big door, walked in and nonchalantly slammed the door behind him. He found later his keys were in the outside.

Lovelace's attempt to pick the lock failed.

He finally called the nearby police office to get another officer to come and let him out.

Ace Detective Returns to Spartan Pages

Fashell Dammit, well known detective, returns in today's issue of the Spartan. The magazine will be on sale today and Wednesday in Berkeley Hall, the Union and the Physics-Math, Natural Science and Home Economics buildings.

Fashell's antics, the February issue has a cartoon based on the new dormitory by Doug Stecker, staff cartoonist. A photo-feature tells "How to Impress a Date," and a love letter from a fellow to his girl gives his thoughts as he writes. An article written by two soldiers in Korea and a story about the Grill are also included.

With today's issue a new position of feature editor, has been created on the Spartan staff. Al Mikesell, Ovid sophomore, will fill the post. Mikesell was formerly assistant managing editor of the magazine.

U of M Game Site Remains at Macklin

NCAA to Consider Possibility of Televising Annual Grid Classic

After being batted around by sportswriters, administrators and legislators, the 1953 Michigan State-Michigan football game has finally settled in Macklin Field.

The Michigan State athletic council voted unanimously Monday to reaffirm the existing schedule, after Ralph Young, MSC athletic director had presented a communication from Fritz Crisler, Michigan athletic director, offering the facilities of the University for the 1953 game between the schools.

The council further voted that the game be televised if permission of the NCAA can be obtained and proper arrangements made.

The NCAA has indicated that it will give consideration to special regional problems, such as the Michigan-Michigan State game, when they set up their TV program for next fall.

In arriving at their decision, the council said that the program of intercollegiate athletics at Michigan State is arranged primarily for the students, and they have every right to expect that the game will be played at East Lansing next fall as originally scheduled.

Other factors, according to a statement released to the press, were that Michigan State has played the University of Michigan in football since 1898, yet the game has been played at East Lansing only five out of the 54 times.

The council also said that when Macklin Field stadium was enlarged in 1948 to its present size it was with the policy in mind of arranging attractive home schedules, including home and away series with such natural rivals as the Universities of Michigan and Notre Dame.

Such an arrangement has been reached with Notre Dame, the statement continued, and the council would be pleased if one could be obtained with Michigan. More specifically, Michigan is invited to play at East Lansing in 1955, the Michigan State centennial year.

Anything For Love?

Weekend Jaunt Leaves Student Troubled, Jobless

Doug McFetters, Detroit sophomore, is wondering if love is worth all the trouble it caused him.

He started out hitch-hiking last Thursday morning to see his girl at Stevens College, Mo., a 600 mile trip.

Here's what happened: He got hailed in by Bloomington, Ind., police for vagrancy; he was stranded in a rainstorm for two hours; he had to share a 190-mile ride in a trailer with a cow; and his girl had to be in by 11 both nights, a dorm rule.

After his 1,200 mile jaunt McFetters got another shock: he was fired from his job working in a girls' dorm, the reason, "taking too much vacation" time.

Probation Fails to Concern Spartans

Michigan State students didn't seem to be too disturbed over the news that MSC was placed on probation by the Big Ten.

Some expressed complete surprise with the penalty, while others who had heard that something was up, just wondered what and when.

"So we're on probation, so what?" was the consensus of the student reaction. Most agreed with Pres. John A. Hannah's statement claiming that the action was unjustified.

MSC Named Information Project Site

Kellogg Foundation Grants $600,000

A $600,000 national communications project to improve and extend mass media information skills will be established at Michigan State.

Francis C. Byrnes, Ohio State University agricultural editor and chairman of the project board of control, announced Friday the selection of Michigan State as the site for the center, to be known as "A National Project in Agricultural Communications."

Commenting on the location of the project here, James Denison, assistant to Pres. John A. Hannah, said, "We are pleased to have been selected and our administrators and staff will do everything possible to prove Michigan State's ability to serve as headquarters for this national communications center and the board of control's confidence in this institution."

Byrnes stated that the principal objective of the project is to help administrators and workers in land-grant colleges and the U.S. Department of Agriculture use communications more effectively.

Supervision of the project is in the hands of a 10-man board of control, which will employ the professional staff to be established on campus sometime after March 1. On the board is Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, director of the experiment station and dean of the school of agriculture at Michigan State.

Initial support of the project came from the W. E. Kellogg Foundation in Battle Creek, through a program begun by Agricultural College Editors. The American Association of The Foundation will provide $242,624 over a five-year period.

It is possible that the program will continue indefinitely, Byrnes said. A staff consisting of an executive director, two professional assistants, an office secretary and three clerical workers will be employed and stationed in East Lansing.

El Ed Club to Vote On School Aid Project

Members of the Elementary Education Club will hear an address tonight by Tun Shwe on "Burma and Its School System." At the meeting which will be held in room 32 of the Union, at 8:30, members will decide on whether or not to support a project for sending supplies and materials to Burmese schools.

Emmons Lists Alleged Finance Recipients

By STAN KURZMAN
State News Sports Editor

Michigan State College revealed Monday the names of 10 former football players who reportedly were given financial aid by the Spartan Foundation of Lansing.

Dean Lloyd C. Emmons, before giving the names, commented that there was no further opportunity for an appeal on the Big Ten action placing MSC on a year's probation.

Emmons said that an Athletic Council meeting Monday discussed the probation imposed by the conference and planned to make no further appeal from it.

"We understand that the faculty representatives had the final say, and they had it," Emmons said.

The aid given by the Spartan Foundation, an independent, non-collegiate group of alumni and others, is one of the reasons stated by Kenneth L. Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, in penalizing Michigan State.

Included on the list of former players were: All-Americans Don Coleman, a tackle, and Al Horow, quarterback.

All those receiving money, claimed by the Foundation to be in the form of loans, were members of the 1951 Michigan State football team, and had completed their eligibility when the money was given.

None of the loans had been repaid at the time of the investigation, according to Wilson. The investigation by the Big Ten took place approximately three months after the players were given the money.

Interviewed in Washington Monday, MSC president John A. Hannah told the Associated Press that he feels the action was taken "because I've been a spokesman for purity."

When Dr. Hannah was asked if the penalty would in any way alter his views on purity, he replied: "Not a darn bit."

"It would be pretty hard for the students to scrape up enough money to repay the loans immediately," Emmons said.

The 10 players received a total of $3,183, Emmons said. Of the amount $2,200 was given out during the 1952 winter term and $983 during spring term. Emmons refused to give a breakdown on how much money was given each of the players, but said all of the amounts were relatively small.

Other members of the 1951 team listed as having received loans were Louis Smith, halfback; Allen Jones Jr., quarterback; Bill Horrell, tackle; Richard Kuk, tackle; Dean Garner, guard; Frank Kapral, guard; James Creamer, center; and Mary McFadden, tackle.

Neither the college nor the Big Ten has been able to find any information that any man was helped who had eligibility remaining.

Michigan State College was originally notified of the impending probation as far back as May 27, 1952, when a telegram was received by Pres. John A. Hannah from Wilson, according to Emmons.

MSC appealed the case at that time and a hearing was held on June 4, 1952. A final decision wasn't received by Wilson until Feb. 14, 1953—more than eight months later—when he notified Dr. Hannah in a letter that Michigan State was on probation.

"We tried in every way to get Wilson to tell the results of his investigation after June 4 (1952) but got no action," Emmons said.

Michigan State once again appealed the Big Ten commissioners' decision, and were given a hearing before the faculty representatives of the Big Ten schools last Sunday in Chicago.

It was at that hearing that Emmons and Dean Thomas King presented Michigan State's appeal on the grounds that no evidence had been presented to show that MSC, or that any alumni or booster organization has violated any rule of the conference.

Crash Victim In Critical Condition

MSC Student Suffers Internal Injuries

Ronald Rusing, Brighton freshman, is still in "poor" condition following an auto accident Sunday morning, college hospital officials said Monday.

Rusing, 19, is reported suffering from internal injuries and extensive bruising. Hospital attendants said that his condition has remained much the same since he was brought in Sunday morning.

Because of his condition, attendants said that the extent of his injuries have not been determined. His hands, ears, and feet were reportedly frostbitten due to his exposure to low temperatures following the accident.

State police said that the accident occurred at 6 a.m. Sunday on highway US-16, two miles east of Williamston when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

The car, police said, ran out of control and off the north shoulder of the highway and down through a nearby creek before coming to a stop.

Despite his injuries, Rusing apparently crawled from the car to the side of the highway. He was discovered by a passing motorist about 7:30 a.m.

Five Candidates Top Initial Voting In UMOG Contest

Five candidates for UMOG led the voting at 5 p.m. Monday afternoon, according to Chandler Benton, contest chairman.

Top five candidates so far are Walker, Mayhew, representing Gamma Phi Beta; Chuck Laven, Chi Omega; Tom Aquino, North Campus; Jack Sabe, Delta Delta; and Frank Creager, Zeta Tau Alpha.

This afternoon candidates will stage a parade around circle drive between 2 and 5 p.m. Stunts and clowning are planned for the event.

Voting will continue in the Union concourse through Wednesday from 8 to 5 p.m. and Thursday from 8 to 6 p.m. Voting for finalists will be held Friday from 8 to 5 p.m. and from 8:30 to 11 p.m.

Winner of the contest will be announced during intermission of the UMOG dance Friday night.

Editorially Can Other Schools Relax?

As some of the smoke clears from the explosion which rocked Michigan State and the Big Ten Sunday, it becomes more apparent that MSC is the victim of circumstances that have resulted in an unfair probationary period. The members of the Western Conference have made their decision and State must suffer the consequences, however unjustified they might be.

Money allegedly was paid to athletes by the Spartan Foundation, a legal corporation in this state which was independent of any control by MSC. Despite the fact that this corporation was dissolved at the request of Dr. Hannah—Michigan State is being punished for the alleged illegal actions of that corporation.

Representatives of other member schools in the conference must be well aware of what they have done in voting to uphold Commissioner Wilson's arbitrary penalty.

How many of these other member schools are casting apprehensive glances at the organizations which enthusiastically support particular institutions? How do they feel in Ann Arbor about the "Five-A-Club"? What are persons at Ohio State thinking about the "Front-Liners Club"? What about the "I Club" at Iowa and the "Mendoka Club" at Wisconsin?

Do the representatives of other Big Ten schools wonder who might be the next one to be punished for the actions of groups too rabid in their efforts to boost the alma mater?

MSC's Dean Emmons called attention to the fact that the commissioner has repeatedly said it is "impossible to control alumni and that one way or another they (alumni) are going to see that good athletes are sent to the schools in which these alumni are interested."

We are not saying that we should be excused because other schools have booster clubs. We are not asking to be excused at all—there's no proof that Michigan State College is guilty of any branch of conference rules.

Dean Emmons said: "There was only the influence that there must have been some violation of conference regulations. Rumor, gossip, inference are hard to defend against, but to my knowledge have never been used to convict." Those very methods were used to indict guilt in this instance.

It looks like Michigan State College is being treated as a precocious child by resentful members of the same family. Our efforts to prove that we are abiding by conference rules have been ignored.

Wilson has stated: "If there are facts that I should know in the possession of Michigan State, they are duty bound to report them to me for investigation, as it is only with the full cooperation of our ten institutions that a good job of enforcement can be done."

But when Higgle Munn reported a violation by another member of the Big Ten he was told by Wilson that it was unimportant and that what Michigan State should be doing is to try to make friends rather than to make enemies.

Dean Emmons told the representatives about this example—and our fellow members ignored it along with the rest of our appeal for a fair deal.

That is only one of many examples of unequal treatment by Commissioner Wilson. He has stated that "the rules might call for the accused to present proof of their innocence."

Backward and in defiance of legal procedure as this reasoning might be, it is indicative of Wilson's attitude toward Michigan State. Unable to effectively give proof of any guilt on our part, he has swung wildly and connected—MSC is his unfortunate victim.

Look, Mr. Wilson

Michigan State's Athletic Council struck the death blow to the proposed stadium switch for this year's MSC-Michigan game. In doing so, the group showed that State students are more important than financial gains or the satisfaction of "interested persons."

The Council flatly stated that the program of athletics at MSC is primarily for students and that those students have every right to expect that the game will be played in East Lansing.

At this time, when the college is under heavy fire from critics, the decision of the Athletic Council is particularly welcome.

Here is a decision that shows MSC is not favoring commercialism. Here is positive action. This is not a case of questionable methods, such as the Big Ten has displayed in the controversial probation edict.

The Council considered ALL the factors before making its decision, including the fact that the traditional game has been played here only five times out of 44 meetings between the teams.

Also considered was the fact that Macklin Field was enlarged with the intention to arrange attractive home schedules. The University of Michigan is big but not so big that it is above playing football games in stadiums smaller than its monster bowl.

The Council also voted unanimously to agree to television of the game if it can be arranged through the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), governing body in such actions. There can be no charges that MSC is ignoring the tax payers of the state—arrangements will be made to make it possible for them to see the game if it can be done in the proper manner.

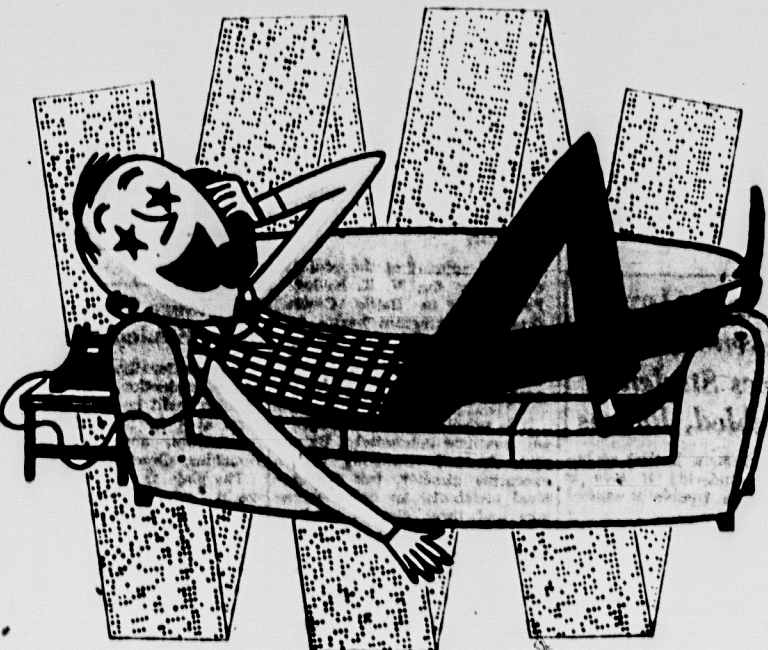

The Athletic Council deserves congratulations for its actions yesterday. The moves were especially commendable at a time when we are being forced to show the public that the college records and motives are honest.

When Grover talks to his dreamboat—something clicks

A call from Dreamboat always clicks with Grover. And an Automatic Message Accounting machine has been clicking too—down in the telephone office—busily punching impressions on a paper tape.

You may be interested in what this ingenious recorder does. It keeps track of what telephone number you called, how long you talked, and records this information in such a way that another machine can automatically prepare a monthly bill.

ASKS CONSIDERATION

To the Editor:
Has this college grown so big that the students have forgotten to be considerate of others' rights and privileges?

I believe that it has, when a living coat works hard on posters for an all-college event, puts them out in the evening, and finds them gone the next day.

May I suggest that the frustrated souls, male or female, who feel that they must have these posters and pictures at least until the campaign is over to take them?

It costs money and time to make the posters, and taking them is certainly a very unimportant act.

LECTURE-CONCERT CONDUCT

To the Editor:
If people attending the concert at the college Auditorium Feb. 25 were to be graded for their performance, they certainly wouldn't make the Dean's List. The fact of the matter is they would probably be asked to leave the ranks of concert-goers. In other words, expelled.

Why? For being late, of course. And not only that, but for interrupting the concert after they did get there. They might better come in their blue-jeans or levis and come on time, than to come late and cause those already there to feel disgrace.

Your grade-point is zero-point-zero for that performance.

A not-too-farthing, but prompt concert-goer.

Cagers Grab Third; Tankers Dunk Iowa State

Tip Badgers, 53-45 s Minnesota Loses

By KEITH MILLER

Michigan State moved into the Big Ten third position by night drubbing Wisconsin, 53-45, in Jenison Field.

While Illinois was edging Minnesota 83-82 at Champaign, victory was State's conference success in basketball.

Following the Badgers, the Spartans were masters of the defensive play. An iron clad defense, Wisconsin's chief threat, Paul Morrow, to the 40 minutes of action, was unable to shoot but five times from the field, hitting for 10 points in addition to two fouls.

In the half, State held a 25-14 lead which was increased to 35-14 with five minutes and 25 seconds remaining in the contest. Newell then sent in reserves and the Badgers did the final margin to markers.

Michigan's Spartans' leader Al Ferraro, who finished with 19 points, Keith Stack and Chuck Sturt, who finished with 15 markers, finished 19 markers for 51 points. Wisconsin's 15 of 46 Al Ferraro, who finished with 19 points, Keith Stack and Chuck Sturt, who finished with 15 markers, finished 19 markers for 51 points.

Gophers Nipped by Illini, 83-82

Indiana Gets 113 To Plaster Purdue

By the Associated Press
Two free throws by guard Jim Bredar in the last seconds of the game enabled Illinois to hold a fast-closing Minnesota basketball team Monday night and the Illini emerged with an 83-82 victory.

The loss shoved the Gophers into fourth place as Michigan State took over the third slot by bumping Wisconsin.

Indiana's unbeaten Hoosiers rolled on toward the conference title and broke the Big Ten scoring record as they trounced Purdue, 113-78.

The 113 markers broke the record of 101 set by Iowa in 1944 and bested the Indiana earlier this season against Butler. The team total of 101 was also a conference record.

Superman Don Schlundt missed his first five shots but came up with 31 points to break the conference season's record of 36 set by Chuck Darline of Iowa. Schlundt's total for 14 games is 367.

In other Big Ten encounters, Northwestern shattered Michigan in a foul-filled contest, 85-84, and Iowa's Hawkeyes humiliated Ohio State, 90-75, to move ahead of the Buckeyes in the standings.

Forward Al Ferraro (22) goes up for a jump shot in Monday night's basketball game with Wisconsin. Trying to block the shot are Badgers Dick Cable (39) and Tony Strachan (44). The Spartans won the game, 53-45, and took over third place in the Big Ten.

At South Bend

Trackmen Battle Notre Dame

Still fresh from a convincing victory over Michigan Normal last Friday, Michigan State's track team will engage a strong Notre Dame squad this afternoon in an indoor meet at South Bend.

The Irish have met both Purdue and Michigan head-to-head in the MNC Relays. Last Friday's meet was the first dual engagement for State.

Starting his third year as head coach of Notre Dame's track team is Alex Wilson, considered the greatest Irish middle-distance runner.

A close race should be anticipated in the two-mile relay, where State took second and the Irish third in the Relays.

Newquist leads the quartet of Irish hurdlers. He took third in the 55 yard low hurdles when he appeared here in the Spartan track classic.

In the 100 yard dash, the Irish have a strong lead, which should give the Spartans some trouble. They include punier Dave Fox and sophomore Jim Patey, and Bob Harriman, football star Joe Hunt, also runs the sprint for Irish.

Two Varsity Marks Broken in 59-34 Win

By JACK KOLE

Striking to victory in eight out of 10 events, Michigan State's swimmers sunk Iowa State, 59-34, for their seventh dual meet conquest Monday night in Jenison pool.

The double-dual affair was the last for the Spartan swimmers this season and left them with a season's record of 7-1. In the other part of the meet, the Cyclones gained a split by swamping Wayne, 70-22.

Two Spartan varsity records and four dual meet times went by the boards in Monday night's action as Bert McLachlan cracked his own 200-yard backstroke mark and setting Capt. Frank Reynolds did the same in the 150-yard individual medley.

McLachlan swam to victory in 2:12.3, breaking his recently-set record of 2:14. The time was also a new dual meet record. McLachlan trailed highly-touted Lee Anderson at the end of four lengths but put on a stretch drive to win handily.

Reynolds, who broke the record just last Saturday against Minnesota, picked up a lead in his backstroke laps and turned in a 1:54.4 clocking, breaking his old 1:57 by 1 of a second. His performance was also a new dual meet mark.

Other dual meet marks were set by John Dudeck, who went 2:20.3 in the 200-yard breaststroke, and by McLachlan, Chuck Baldwin and Bob Schumacher, who swam the 300-yard medley relay in 2:56.4.

Co-Capt. Russ Thomas took both Iowa State firsts as he breezed home ahead in the 100- and 220-yard freestyle races. John Kruse took second in the century to complete the only Cyclone sweep.

Other firsts for State were taken by Chuck Epler in the 50-yard freestyle, Leanne McArthur in the diving, and Bob Wightman in the 440-yard freestyle. Spartan Schumacher, Dave Steimle, Epler and Baldwin won the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Iowa State won all ten events from hapless Wayne and the Cyclones swept seven of the races. Coach Charles McCaffrey charges return to action next week on March 4, 5 and 6 when they travel to Ames, Iowa for the Big Ten meet.

Finances

alighted by not being informed.

Webster said the sophomore class had already published their budget and account in the State News, but would submit another report spring term.

"Senior class finances are the business of the senior class," stated John Wilson, Lapeer senior, and president of the senior class.

"But since Student Congress feels it is necessary for all students to know our financial status, we will go along with them and will publish our financial report," he added.

Lep Winer, East Lansing freshman and president of the freshman class, said: "We have not considered the ordinance as yet. I do not know what action will be taken."

"The junior class gave Fresh-Soph Council $200 at the beginning of the year and that constitutes our total assets. We have no liabilities. Our money will be spent during Fresh-Soph Week and we have no money-making projects," Staser explained.

Dick Lauver, Buchanan junior and president of the junior class, said: "I realize that the reason behind passage of the bill was directed mainly at the junior class because it is the only class which makes money."

"I think that members of the junior class should be informed as to the financial status of their class and plans are underway to fulfill this idea. I don't believe that it is of any interest to the entire student body, but since student Congress is sold on the idea and they are the lawmakers, there is not much we can do but follow suit and publish the statement," Lauver said.

Paul Bolts, New York City junior, and Campus Chest director said: "Campus Chest submitted its budget at the beginning of the year. After the drive we will submit for publication a statement of income and expenditures of Campus Chest and all Chest bureaus."

Organizations sponsoring all college activities could also be forced to publish financial statements under the new ordinance passed by Congress Feb. 18.

An organization refusing to publish a financial statement in the State News will be subjected to a review of its charter and functions.

Cold War Gets Warmer

China-Russia Treaty Formally Scrapped

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The long-dead 1945 treaty of alliance and friendship between Russia and Nationalist China was formally scrapped Tuesday by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government in a cold war move with hot overtones.

Probation

The appeal was denied by the Big Ten's faculty representatives.

Emmons did not know what the vote had been, but reports from Chicago indicate it was 9-0 in favor of upholding Commissioner Wilson's decision.

"I recognize no violations of Big Ten rules now or before," Emmons emphasized.

The Big Ten contention is that all other organizations at all the other Big Ten schools channel their funds through the college, according to Emmons, and thus "we are punished for the refusal of the Spartan Foundation to reveal all of its activities since its beginning."

The Spartan Foundation has claimed that they have opened their books and complete records to Wilson, withholding only the names of the members.

Football coach Biggie Munn remained non-committal about the probation, issuing a two-sentence statement which read: "Our great record over the past few years has been accomplished by a bunch of loyal, hard-working boys with great spirit, determination, and the ability to play the game clean and fair all the way through."

"I am sure that no one who knows the facts will let this action by the commissioner detract from the splendid record these young men have made."

Munn passed out this statement when he received newsmen in his office.

Meanwhile, Line Coach Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty was leafing through a dictionary to find the meaning of the word probation.

"You might tell them we don't know what the word means here," Daugherty said.

Then Daugherty chuckled as he read the dictionary definition out loud and found one sentence that explained it as "the period during which a novice becomes a nun."

Street Car Days Come to Close For Old Lady

CHICAGO (AP)—A little old lady who slept on Chicago street cars for seven years, has been taken to a more permanent type of home.

Mrs. Anna Cox, 74, suffering from a broken leg, was taken by ambulance from the Cook County Hospital to a convalescent home in suburban Des Plaines. Her leg was fractured last month when she was struck by an automobile while waiting for a street car.

After the accident, police learned the woman had spent her nights sleeping in trolleys as they moved across the city. She supported herself by selling notions. Police said she has $8.32 in a bank.

Weidner to Discuss Meaning of Freedom

The fourth session of the Department of Economics seminar on "The Meaning of Freedom" will have as its speaker, Prof. Edward W. Weidner, head of the Department of Political Science.

Professor Weidner's topic will be "The Meaning of Democratic Freedom."

The seminar will be held at 3:30 today in Room 216, Perley Hall.

Albany, N.Y., settled by the Dutch in 1614, is believed to have been the second settlement within the borders of what became the 13 original colonies of the United States.

Dionysian Receive Ultimatum

Merge or Dissolve Say May, King

The ultimate choice of joining the Speed or dissolving it was faced by Dionysians.

Whittaker, president of the group, told a small group tonight. This decision was made by Whittaker by Tom and students, and Philip.

Due to the absence of members, another meeting for the question has been set for Monday and all are to attend.

The Dionysians, who were a second time, chose to produce "Ten Nights of a Madhouse."

We feel that we should have a policy of development original which will be a field of production entered by Theta Alpha and the drama program.

MSC players of this year could further complete these of those units already on campus which are setting up a direct connection.

Other reasons given by the Dionysians for not producing shows to be that the Dionysians were not enough, they violated original constitution by not looking on original college.

and insufficient planning. Defeating the statement, Dionysians were operating a large deficit was a member group, Horatio Lewis.

He said that an auditor is being set to go over the financial statement in 1946.
