Parents' Day

Michigan State College will roll out the carpet this week-end for more than 30,000 guests expected to visit East. Lansing to see how the college operates.

An elaborate program is scheduled for the many parents of MSC students who will take part in Parents' Day activi-

In addition to a tour of the campus, parents will be feted at various luncheous and programs by the living units. Special movies and exhibitions have also been planned for the program designed to give the parents an insight into the opportunities and activities offered at MSC.

More than 300 foreign students from 35 foreign countries will show visitors their way of life in the popular Internation Festival which now attracts almost 13,000 to its annual

Another top event scheduled for the weekend is the fifth annual Engineering Exposition. Almost every phase of engineering taught at State will be on display for the benefit of both students and visitors.

The traditional Sorority Sing Sunday afternoon will climax one of Michigan State's busiest weekends of the year. The specially designed weekend gives parents an opportunity to see what their sons and daughters are doing at MSC in an informative and entertaining atmosphere.

With this impressive program, the only thing needed to make the weekend a show of thanks to our parents is Michigan State's traditional friendly spirit. Remember, a friendly greeting helps make our guests

Wait for Results

The AWS Judiciary Board is currently studying the results of study tables conducted for freshmen this year.

This is a good thing. It means the AWS isn't sitting back and saying, "It's worked elsewhere, it will work here." It means they are checking to see if it actually is working at MSC.

What the study will show, and what the AWS will do, we, of course, can't predict. But we hope the Judiciary Board will follow its excellent beginning and make a sound decision on the basis of its findings.
