Holland Resigns Post

Doctor Gets Leave Of Absence

Health Center Head To Take Grad Work

Dr. Charles F. Holland, director of the student health services, has submitted his resignation to MSC.

He was granted a six-month terminal leave of absence prior to his resignation becoming effective last Friday.

He has planned to take graduate work in anesthetics and then to establish a private practice in that specialty.

Dr. Holland has been team physician for the football squad and the rest of the MSC athletic teams plus serving director of the Olin Memorial Hospital.

Every season Dr. Holland had what he called "his team" of the injured. He made most of the trips with the football squad and had the final say—even above the coaches—on whether or not a man should play.

Dr. Ralph H. Ruhnhorff, a staff physician, is serving as temporary director of the student health center.

"The college will be very reluctant to lose Dr. Holland, but we'll respect his wishes," commented Dean Tom King.

King said he would consult first with President John A. Hannah, but that the resignation probably would be accepted at the next meeting of the state Board of Agriculture, college governing body.

Dr. Holland had asked previously to be relieved of his duties but had continued at the request of college officials.

Dr. Holland, 53, graduated from the University of Michigan School of Medicine in 1933. He joined the health service as a staff physician in 1937 and became director two years later, succeeding the late Dr. Richard M. Olin.

Library Still Uncertain

Building Program Depends on Tax Plan

By STAN STEINBERG
State News Capital Reporter

Michigan State's library was approved in the Senate Thursday, but an amendment to the Capitol Outlay Bill ties the whole state building program to an adequate tax program.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Elmer Porter (R-Blissfield), provides that no money be made available for new construction until enough funds are available to balance the entire budget.

An "economy drive" by eight Republican Senators who sought to cut appropriations for new construction at all state institutions fizzled out in the Senate Thursday.

The economy-minded eight sought to slash $4,494,100 from construction appropriations. They were defeated in five successive votes.

At no point was the economy bloc able to muster more than nine votes against a maximum of 22 voting for the full amount of the proposed construction money.

The eight Senators contended it was "incomprehensible" that the state should be planning new construction when it is running so deeply in the red.

Senate Majority Leader Creighton Coleman (Battle Creek) was pleased with passing of the Outlay Bill, he said:

"As I see it, we were just measuring up to our responsibility. We have got to have new construction."

"Addition of the Porter Amendment to the bill should ensure its passage in the House," Speaker Pro-Tem William Broomfield said. He added that there has been a lot of sentiment against new construction at this time.

Sen. Donald W. Gilbert (R-Saginaw) again carried the brunt of the fight against the new construction bill. He was joined by other members of the "economy bloc."

The Capitol Outlay Bill was voted immediate effect by which it will become law as soon as it is signed by the governor. A bill not given immediate effect becomes law 90 days after it is signed.

Further, no women guests will be allowed in the house, no pleading, running, or initiation will be allowed, and no social activities will be permitted.

The fraternity decided also to require everyone living in the house to be inside by 8 p.m. on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. This will be in effect until May 31.

Those leaving for the weekend will sign out with the housemother and are not to be required to return by 8 p.m. Sunday, the fraternity said, but those with jobs which keep them out later than 8 p.m. must sign a list showing at what time they will return.

Special requests to stay out later than 8 p.m. will have to be made in advance to the Dean of Students office, men's division. Violators will be fined by the chapter at a rate of $50 or higher.

The college will be free to make "spot checks" at any time to make sure the rules are being obeyed, the fraternity said.

President Hill said in the letter that the SFC is "happy to note that Phi Delta Theta has taken action to punish the individuals involved in this incident."

Crucial Big 10 Series

Kobsmen to Battle Wolves Three Times

By RON SMITH

Michigan State's improving baseballers take on the Michigan Wolverines today at Ann Arbor, and then return to home grounds Saturday to host the Wolves in a Big 10 twin-bill.

Michigan will try to patch up a few broken baseball dreams in the three-game series, after dropping two lopsided games to Iowa.

The Wolverines were sailing along at the top of the Western Conference standings with four consecutive victories when they were jolted by the Hawkeyes last Saturday, 4-2 and 5-3, dropping them into fourth spot in the standings.

On the same weekend Michigan State took Iowa in a single game and then split with Minnesota to fashion a Big 10 ledger of two wins and four losses, good for seventh place in the standings.

Junior Jack Corbett is expected to pitch for Michigan today. Spartan mentor John Kobs will counter with the ace of the State twirling corps, Bud Erickson.

The cuts are serious, according to hospital attendants but he was in "very good condition" at 11 p.m.

Pardee's other passenger was Lamont Olsen, Battle Creek senior.

Two 16-year-old East Lansing girls were in the other car, Jean Bower, of 437 Rosewood, was driving with Paula Johnson, of 323 Durand, as passenger. Neither was injured.

Pardee and Olsen were released from the hospital with minor bruises.

Cause of the accident has not been determined, according to East Lansing Patrolman Al Drogging.

Today's contest is listed to start at 3:30 at Ann Arbor. The Saturday double-header at Old College Field will get underway at 1. All games will be broadcast by WKAR.

Police Arrest MSC Coed on Theft Charges

A freshman coed was arrested on theft charges Wednesday. Campus Police officials said, she was apprehended in the cloakroom of Mason Hall.

The action closes out nine complaints registered since March. The coed will return the $131.50 which she took.

The matter was turned over to Dean Tom King for disciplinary action.

"Regardless of whether prosecution is made, the arrest record has been made and will stand as a permanent record," said Detective S. G. O'Brien.

Coulter, Abdella Also Win

Elections Head Fired by Bolo

By MARY LOU BERNECKER

After a hectic ballot counting session which lasted until 4 a.m., final candidates for class offices and student Congress were announced in all-college primary elections today.

Candidates for senior class offices are: president: Ferris Hallmark, 461 and Keith Stackhouse, 331; vice president: Donnie Stark, 478, and Norm Rabe, 385; secretary: Lee Cumiskey, 421, and Sue VanNoppen, 268; treasurer: Don Sundt, 334, and Keith Darby, 271.

Running for junior class offices are: president: Doug Coulter, 498, and Roger Abdella, 393; vice president: Jim Meachum, 448, and John Gurns, 331; secretary: Nancy Buzzard, 355, and Jessie Fieselmann, 289; treasurer: Marjorie Price, 437, and John A. Walker, 428.

Sophomore class office candidates are: president: Jack Strasser, 603, and Jim McGuire, 555; vice president: Donna Joan Roebel, 750, and Bill Waites, 688; treasurer: Sue Ames, 814, and John Clancy, 661. No primary was necessary for secretary because only two students are running for the position.

Student Congress primary candidates from West Mayo are Harriette Peacock and Diane Robb; West Yakeley, Joan Brennen and Eleanor Spencer; Mason, Ida Thome, Mary Alice Ritchlin, Janet Good, Frances Hafer, Barbara Powell, and Janice Somers.

Wally Brown, chairman of the elections division of the department of state affairs of the executive branch of the student government, was fired by Bob Bolo, student government president, early this morning.

Foreign Service Exams to Refill Open Positions

A foreign service examination will be given Sept. 14 to 17 in 19 cities, including Detroit and Chicago, Ill., for appointment as class six, foreign service officer. Application information is available at the Placement Bureau or at Glendon A. Schubert's office, 14 Morrill Hall.

Weather Ridiculed Water Routines

By MYRA MacPHERSON

Tropical paradise, winterland, and fog bound coastline presented in the Women's Gym Pool Thursday night in opening of the "Weather Vanities" water show.

Sound effects and music, gay costumes, and the synchronized swimming of nearly 80 coeds were effectively combined in this 28th annual program.

"Sunny Skies" opened the revue with Neil Thomas, Brooklyn, N.Y., senior, singing "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning." Twenty coeds dressed in yellow bathing suits performed a routine to "Powder Your Face With Sunshine."

The lively song, "Tropical Heat Wave" introduced the next number and rain fell into the pool for the forecast of "Mostly Cloudy and Precipitation," while eight coeds swam in black costumes studded with "raindrops" sequins.

A series of dives was presented by Don Morey, Saginaw sophomore; Nancy O'Rourke, Toledo, O., sophomore; Mary Ann Edwards, East Lansing freshman, and Sue Van Noppen, Larchmont, N.Y., junior.

The most striking stage setting of the show came in the next act, "Heavy Dew." The pool was covered with a heavy fog as searchlights and fog horn sound effects were added.

"The High Winds" act gave Lea Zay Sheridan a chance to display a graceful modern dance. Humour was added in the next act, "Storm Warnings," which included a shipwreck. The skit depicted four shipwrecked sailors finding a mermaid island.

The weather forecast then switched to "Colder with Snow Flurries," which featured Carol Sheridan, Jackson sophomore, singing "Sleighride." In this scene eight girls dressed as reindeer pulled the sleigh across the pool while three coeds swam.

The typical Michigan forecast of "Weather Uncertain" concluded the show. Thirty-six women swam in this skit which combined rain and sunshine, and balloons released from the ceiling.

Forecaster for the show was Erik Furseth. During the weather acts, Dee Means, Schenectady, N.Y., senior, and Aileen Johnson, Lucile, Pa., junior modeled appropriate costumes. "Weather Vanities" will again be presented tonight and Saturday night at 8 p.m. by Green Splash.

Alaska to Texas and California, hundreds of dune riders are rolling out for mats for job-hungry.

The placement in Morrill Hall has employment for more than 100 students. The placement office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

part-time women workers, and four men make up the staff, according to Tom Dutch, head of student employment.

The positions available include, technical, farm, resort, camp, office and other summer work. Salaries are generally good, Dutch said.

The placement sheet books on the front desk contain positions in almost every state, Alaska and Canada. A report in Grand Rapids has made students to attend dances, and hayrides and entertain the large supply of "lonesome wimmin." Further north, another resort offers two weeks of relaxation and employment to someone with a camera who will photograph wildlife scenes while there.

Camps Talooki, Manitowish, On Hob Tah, and Neenah. Whole need counselors and other workers to supervise the campers in their work and play. A bartender is needed in Neenah.

Frosh-Soph Day Faces 1953 Test

MSC has more traditions than you can shake a bluebook at. And each year, the list of them seems to grow.

Another will be observed this weekend when freshmen and sophomores clash for the "Old Brown Jug," symbolic of supremacy between the two classes.

An extensive number of activities including a tug-of-war, canoe races, greased pole climb and pushball contest have been planned by members of the Frosh-Soph Council who are in charge of the event. In addition, a dance at the Kellogg Center Saturday night, will add the finishing touch to a full day of competition.

Last year, the Day ended in a not-untraditional battle with frosh and sophs tossing eggs at the back windows of the Women's Gym. An afternoon archery class for women was called off as the eggs would not have to face a dunking in the Red Cedar when they left the gym. Even after this action, five were thrown in by overly-aggressive students.

Both Council members and participants need to prove that Frosh-Soph Day can be an orderly, well-handled event that will successfully give expression to the seasonal burst of enthusiasm that seems to result from spring.

We hope Council members will be able to meet the test of their administrative ability and that students will use some discretion in their activities so a long-standing and potentially healthy tradition will be welcome on campus.

Drive Closes Today

Tonight at 8 the Campus Chest will close its drive for funds with a jazz concert and record dance in the Union. This will end a campaign with humanity for its theme.

The students have responded well. They more than doubled the contributions at the auction Wednesday afternoon. They received the solicitors well Monday.

But the drive still hasn't hit the quota of $1 per student. Today is the last day to show the students of MSC have an interest in what happens to the less fortunate.

You have been informed of the use of the money collected. It goes to help students throughout the world, rid segregation, fight cancer and infantile paralysis and support the Community Chest and the Spartan Nursery.

No one need tell you they are worthy causes. No one need remind you of the small financial help the Campus Chest is asking.

It's a once-a-year drive. This is your last chance to help. Give once and serve all.

Entertainment Planned for Greek Feast

Delta Sigma Phi will host the third annual Greek Feast tonight at their house, 1212 E. Grand River.

The dinner on the lawn will begin at 5:30 p.m. and will be followed by a program of entertainment. Don Stewart, Delta Sigma Phi, will be master of ceremonies for the festivities. Gene German and Chuck Murphy, Phi Kappa Tau, will present a skit and piano duet. Ferris Hallmark, Beta Theta Pi, will sing and the Beta Barbershop Quartet will present a few selections.

Psi Upsilon's M. J. Morell and Joe Shaw will present several vocal duets while Jim Haidle and Ed McCutcheon, also Psi U's, will give a dance number. Marjorie Cote, Alpha Gamma Delta, will do a comedy pantomime and the Chi Omega quartet will sing. Dancing to the music of the Kenny Davis combo will conclude the event.

Eight hundred are expected to attend the Feast, according to Carol Butolph, co-chairman.

Customs officials were somewhat startled when Mike O'Reilly came down the gangplank in New York harbor recently.

The 18-year-old son of the auld sod was carrying three shillelaghs.

Only one is for personal use, though, he said. The other two are souvenirs for relatives in this country.

Since Mike wants to become a cop, the budget-conscious city of New York will probably snap him up. It isn't every day a rookie reports equipped with his own night-stick.

International Club Plans Program For Sunday Meet

The first "Moral Rearmament" program will be held by the International Club Sunday night in 31 Union.

The meeting is a part of the world-wide movement started by the Rev. Frank Buchman, a Lutheran minister. In 1921, during recent weeks copies of the book, "World Rebuilt," by Rev. Buchman have been distributed on campus.

Speakers from New York, movies and a musical quartet will be featured at the meeting. The public is invited.

Letter to the Editor

THANKS TO VOLUNTEERS

To the Editor:

Last night (April 30) we were proud to have a group of Michigan State students come out to entertain the adult patients of the Ingham Sanatorium. To many of these students, it was their first experience inside of a tuberculosis sanatorium.

It appears that sometimes tuberculosis patients are a forgotten group and although their physical disability is usually not too obvious, how many realize the length of time these people may be confined inside a sanatorium and what a "morale booster" music can be to "shut-in"?

In checking our lists we find there are seven recent graduates here at the present time, in addition to parents of the patients and others who have attended MSC in the past. Memories of college days were brought back when the group included its program with the "Fight Song" and "MSC Shadrach." Our thanks to Mrs. Etoile White, Director of Activities, to Aquino, the Spardettes, Mac and Dee, for a fine evening of entertainment.

Special Permission

Firecrackers for Play Give Director Hard Time

When Eugene O'Neill called for 10-year-old Tommy Miller to shoot off firecrackers in his play, "Ah, Wilderness," he never reckoned with Michigan laws.

When Prof. Don Buell, director of the forthcoming MSC Player's production in Fairchild Theater next week, started checking, the right of the law was raised.

Special permission had to be obtained by John Patriarche, East Lansing city manager; Karl McDonald, MSC secretary, and Richard Bernitt, fire marshal for the Fairchild Theater.

A letter authorizing the purchase had to be sent when the order was made.

When Floyd Trumpower, four-year-old son of Professor and Mrs. C. L. Schleemer, went to Fairchild last week to pick up a new college bus, he was asked to buy the cannon crackers and small Chinese crackers in Ohio, not finding them in Cincinnati he crossed over the border and made the purchase in Kentucky.

The letter of authorization was mislaid. Trumpower was stopped at the Michigan border for the bus check, and the Michigan State Police kept the MSC driver for over an hour while he tried to convince them that the crackers were not for the youngsters, but were to be used in a stage production.

In the script Dickie Schleemer (11-year-old son of Professor and Mrs. C. L. Schleemer, who plays Tommy), is supposed to shoot off the crackers right on cue in one act. Since Dickie has never had the experience of shooting fireworks, Director Buell is taking his chances.

The crackers are under lock and key and Wes Lambert, instructor in stage lighting, and Charles Neal, chairman of the sound crew, will shoot off the bonemakers in the play.

Qualification Test Applications Due

Students desiring to take the selective service qualification test on May 21 must make application not later than Monday.

The test on May 21 will be given primarily for students prevented by illness or other emergencies from taking the test April 23. However, other students are eligible to take it.

Those who have not yet secured applications may get them in 116 Morrill Hall.

Sun Finally Eludes Clouds for Canoeers

It will be a lovely day for canoeing, said the weatherman, with a high of 70 degrees predicted for today.

Partly cloudy skies will hide the sun for a while earlier in the day but the afternoon will be sunny and fair.

Frosh-Soph Contests Set

Freshmen and sophomores will take the field Saturday for the annual Frosh-Soph games.

Scheduled for the day are:
10 a.m.—Canoe race eliminations heat, Shaw Hall
2 p.m.—Canoe race final, Shaw Hall.

3 p.m.—Greased pole climb, football practice field, Jenison Fieldhouse.

3:45 p.m.—Pushball contest, Jenison Fieldhouse

4 p.m.—Tug-of-war, Red Cedar by Jenison Fieldhouse.

5 p.m.—Dance, Kellogg Center Auditorium.

Alpha Gam's Celebrate

Alpha Gamma Delta held their annual May morning breakfast last week in celebration of Founder's Day.

At the breakfast, Marge Cote, Pontiac, was chosen as the outstanding senior, and Patricia Rogers, Ravenna, the junior.

Plan Alumni Nucleus

Membership Set at 50 Seniors

The tradition of organizing an alumni nucleus from senior class members is in operation for the fourth time.

Petitions, from which the 50 members for the '33 Club will be chosen, are due at 6 p.m. Monday in Organization Room 1 of the Union.

In 1930, senior class president Ed Pine chose 50 members to form the '30 Club. Pine still corresponds with these members in a circular letter.

For the first time this year, outside work will be scored in considering membership. Dave Miller, chairman of this year's organization, said.

Other activities considered include sports, dramatics, student government, honoraries, clubs, living unit participation and publications. Point average, awards and offices held are also taken into account.

Miller and his committee—Ester Lucke, John McInnis and John Davis—will begin

Battle Creek Senior To Give Piano Recital

Pianist Richard Davenport, Battle Creek senior, will give a senior recital at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Music Auditorium.

Opening the four-part program with Haydn's "Sonata No. 2, E minor," Davenport will play "Sonata, Op. 57 (Appassionata)" by Beethoven, and Prokofiev's "Visions Fugitives, Op. 22."

Monday assigning point values to the various activities. The top 50 scorers will be selected impartially, Miller said. Petitions are cut in half with names at the top and activities at the bottom, and both halves are numbered for matching later.

The 50 members chosen will be announced at Senior Swingout, May 26. Officers will be selected at that time.

Petitions are available at the Union Desk.
