Army Data Rumored Missing

Signal Corps Faces Inquiry

NEW YORK (AP)—A Senate sub-committee — amid hints that a deadly new spy plot is unfolding — heard Tuesday that a "sizeable number" of top secret Army Signal Corps documents have disappeared.

Some of the missing documents reportedly dealt with radar, the very heart and soul of America's defense against enemy atomic attacks.

Said Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), whose investigation sub-committee heard testimony that the secrets have been missing for two years:

"If they got into the hands of an enemy, they could be extremely dangerous to this country."

The subcommittee has been probing the possibility of a Communist honeycomb at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where the Signal Corps has a laboratory. Several civilian employees have been suspended there in recent weeks on security grounds.

The Army is continuing its own investigation of Ft. Monmouth and its Washington Friday, Defense Secretary Wilson told a news conference.

"It looks like it might be worse than just a security leak," he said. "He had been asked whether he thought espionage was involved at Ft. Monmouth or whether the whole to-do was over security leaks."

Wilson added he had asked Robert T. Stevens and other Army officials to clear up the case.

Asked why the Army didn't investigate Ft. Monmouth before this, Wilson replied:

"I suppose it is like lots of other things that should have been done."

Stevens was in New York during the day, sitting in as a spectator at the closed hearings of McCarthy's subcommittee. Asked for comment on Wilson's remark, Stevens repeated what he had told newsmen earlier:

"The Army is investigating all installations and has been aware of the situation at Monmouth for a considerable period of time."

Six to Act As Delegates to ACP Meeting

Six members of student publications will represent Michigan State College at the annual Associated Collegiate Press convention Thursday through Saturday in Chicago.

Among the speakers will be Dr. Raymond B. Nixon, editor of the Journalism Quarterly and University of Minnesota journalism professor, and Eddy Gilmore, former chief of the Associated Press Moscow bureau.

James Edwards, president of the United States National Student Association will speak on "NSA, Student Government and the College Press."

Those attending will be Pat Yaroch, State News editor, and the following members of the Wolverine staff: Al Hansen, copy editor; Quentin Stultz, editor; Liz Peabody, research editor for the 1953 Centennial yearbook and Lois Arnold, office manager.

William McIlraith, director of student publications, will accompany the group.

Returned for Sentence Greenlease Killers May Get Death Rap

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The kidnappers who shot and killed a struggling 6-year-old boy and then collected $800,000 ransom from his parents were brought back here Tuesday to face the death penalty.

Carl Austin Hall, 34, the waistcoat turned killer, said he wanted to plead guilty and accepted the death sentence.

It was he who shot little Bobby Greenlease, son of a Kansas City millionaire automobile dealer, Robert C. Greenlease. Then he set out on the coldly calculated plan to collect the ransom.

But Mrs. Emma Handy who helped prepare the child's ransom note, said she was not a part of the crime and was not being charged.

Whether that meant she knew where the missing $800,000 of the ransom money is, officials could not say. Half of the money was found in Hall's possession when his spending spree in St. Louis brought about his arrest Oct. 6, eight days after the kidnapping.

But Hall says he thinks she had the money and probably lost it during a heavy drinking bout in St. Louis after the pair had made their getaway.

Before the pair was brought back here, Mrs. Handy told a cell mate in St. Louis the circumstances of the killing. Her only regret, she said, was that she hadn't been able to get her hands on the ransom.

"I'd rather be dead than poor," she said. She added that she had hoped she might get a light sentence, maybe 20 years, that could have her out of prison on good behavior in seven years.

But there would be no chance Mrs. Handy would get off lightly. There are federal kidnapping charges, Missouri state kidnapping charges and murder charges in Kansas either filed or soon to be filed against both Mrs. Handy and Hall.

Initial Confession Hearing Set For Old College Hall

Other World Crisis Spots Face Sifting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department announced Tuesday Secretary of State Dulles will fly to London for a "Big Three" foreign ministers conference starting Friday to discuss the explosive Trieste situation and other world trouble spots.

High Yugoslav officials continued to warn of serious trouble to come if the United States and Britain do through with their decision to turn over part of disputed Trieste to Italy. Kees Pappas, Yugoslav foreign secretary, said after a conference with Dulles that his government would resist the decision "with all means."

In Belgrade, tens of thousands of angry Yugoslavs paraded the streets in a demonstration against the decision. Chants of "give us rifles" were heard.

Pappas said Dulles gave no immediate answer to a Yugoslav proposal for a Four-Power conference to settle the Trieste issue. He quoted Dulles as saying he must first "consult with other governments concerned."

Dulles will leave here Wednesday night to meet with British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. He is expected to return to Washington Friday.

State Department officials said Dulles may visit with British Prime Minister Churchill. Among other problems, the foreign minister says, also discuss the question of non-aggression guarantees to Soviet Russia in a move to ease global tensions.

However, officials said there was no certainty this topic would come up.

They said the questions of top-level "Big Four" talks to bring together President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Molotov, Churchill and French Premier Laniel, could and probably would be talked over. The idea of such talks has found more favor with the British than with the United States.

The State Department's announcement of the surprise London conference came shortly before Russia turned to a new tack in the developing Trieste crisis.

At UN headquarters in New York, chief Soviet delegate Andrei G. Vyshinsky demanded that the United Nations Security Council convene "immediately" to set up an international administration, under a UN mandate, for Trieste.

Vyshinsky proposed that the 11-nation Security Council establish complete independence for the Trieste territory within three months after the appointment of a governor.

This would mean withdrawal of American and British troops from Zone A and Yugoslav troops from Zone B.

Indiana's Split-T Adds To Munn's Worries

Works Defense Duckett

Indiana is a split-T team, and that might mean trouble for the Spartans. The Munn's gridiron has more than their share of this type of offense. Munn's many last season convinced many last season that the split-T is, in fact, a problem.

Coach Bernie Crumrine, while aide to coach at Missouri, is credited with inventing the split-T.

Hoosier Stars Hit With Colds

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—An epidemic of colds slowed Indiana's Hoosiers Tuesday as they worked on defense against freshmen running Michigan State plays.

Victims included three starters, quarterback Florian Helinski, end Nate Dorden and guard Tom Hall, and three subs, John Barkiewicz, Ernie St. Jacobs and Bob Shoronski.

Helinski is counted on to do most of Indiana's passing against the Spartans at Macklin Field next Saturday.

Bowl Ban Reconsidered

Notre Dame to Sugar Bowl?

CHICAGO (AP)—All signs point to the athletic department of Notre Dame mulling strongly in urging university officials to accept a Sugar Bowl invitation.

If the Irish are invited to the New Year's Day football classic in New Orleans—and feelers already have been extended—the Associated Press learned reliably Tuesday that Athletic Director Ed "Moose" Krause will recommend dropping the school's staunch rule against post-season competition.

Although Notre Dame has received as many as seven definition bowl game invitations in the recent past, this will be the first time Krause will propose acceptance, it was learned.

If the board agrees, the issue will be placed before The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, Notre Dame president, for final approval.

Father Hesburgh has acted nearly 90 per cent of the time in favor of any athletic recommendation from his board in the past.

It steadfastly has refused bowl game invitations and showed no signs of relenting even when the Big Ten receded.

ed its rule against post-season games to permit a tieup with the Pacific Coast Conference in the Rose Bowl.

But the board, also, has never heard before a recommendation of acceptance by Krause. Whether such a plea can swing it is conjectural. A majority vote of 4-3 is needed.

Swim Preliminaries Scheduled for Today
