EAST LANSING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1964

PRICE 5 CENTS

Government Puts Tax At 25 Cents

Congressmen Set Days to Explain It

Student Congress set spring term's government tax at 25 cents per person—the same amount that has been assessed since the tax was inaugurated fall term, 1952.

The tax rate was voted on at a special meeting following Wednesday night's regular business. No opposition was raised to the 25-cent suggestion which is the maximum amount Congress can tax per person. An all-college vote will be taken during registration to see if students are in favor of continuing the tax.

In conjunction with this vote, student government members will set up booths in the Union next week in order to explain why and how the money is spent. Congress representatives will speak to interested students Tuesday through Thursday, according to Congress President Dave Hymas.

In addition, 5,000 copies of a booklet, "The Facts on Student Tax," will be distributed to campus living units within the next two weeks, he said.

Congress passed a resolution to investigate the possibility of installing cigarette machines in the women's dorms. The members also supported and endorsed the National Crusade for Freedom Drive for Radio Free Europe by signing a petition introduced to Congress by Men's Council. This petition will be sent to Washington, D. C.

The Young Democrats Club was granted a permanent charter. A bill to appropriate $200 from the student fund for a TV set to be placed in the Union and another bill to amend the recently passed elections bill were introduced.

Speaker of the House Larry Heitsch declared a vacancy in fraternity representation due to an excess of absences, and Roy Rider resigned his post as head of the High School Cooperation Committee.

The football poll, which was to have been taken last Tuesday will be rescheduled for two weeks, or until a new questionnaire may be written. According to Kles Hagadorn, representative in charge of the poll, two dorms and part of married housing were contacted Tuesday through their suggestions it was decided to add other pertinent questions. Hagadorn stated.

POW's Cross Into Red China

TOYKO, (AP)—The 21 U. S. soldiers and one Briton who stayed with the Communists, crossed the Yalu River into Red China Wednesday.

Peiping radio, reporting their arrival, asserted the former prisoners expressed joy over reaching China.

The radio report, heard here, said the group was accompanied by two former Belgian soldiers who had gone over to the Communist side five days after the armistice was signed.

Chinese Red Cross and China Peace Committee representatives greeted the former soldiers at Antung, Manchurian border city, and gave a formal welcome party for them, Peiping said.

Their coach was Frederick G. Alexander, instructor in the department of speech, dramatics and radio education.

Each team participated in four rounds of debate, the coeds winning three out of four and the men two out of four.

Miss Dobben received the highest rating given, superior, as well as two excellent ratings for her individual score.

Blood Donations Hit Two 500-Pint Days

Donors' 1,285 Pints Set Campus Record

Red Cross Predicts Pace May Reach Midwest High

By DONN SHELTON

Blood donations hit the 500 mark for the second consecutive day Wednesday as the current blood drive set a new MSC record with 1,285 pints collected.

This bettered the old mark of 1,276 pints, set last winter term in a drive sponsored by the ROTC.

For the first three hours of donations Wednesday the Red Cross unit was handling the rates at more than one a minute. This 60 per hour pace is in contrast to the normal 50 per hour capacity.

Dr. Joseph Venier predicts that if the present pace continues the result should definitely set a college record in the Middle West.

Another big day is expected today as Spartans "Join the hand wagon." Veteran Red Cross workers say that the momentum of the drive will most likely carry over through today.

Wednesday's count showed only 44 rejects from more than 500 people. Officials say this in itself is a noteworthy accomplishment. The normal rejection rate is about 15 per cent.

Exactly 500 pints were contributed, the last few being "recruited" from the Grill and Union offices. Dean of Students Tom King was the one thousandth donor early Wednesday.

George Gamany, Logan, Utah, was the last person to donate. He was brought from the Grill to make the mark. Debbie Hall, Grand Rapids freshman, volunteered while in the State News office and was the person to break the ROTC record.

Following the rush Red Cross officials again stressed how important it is to sign for a specified time before donating. Many people waited in line for nearly an hour Wednesday to donate. They also remind students that the closing hour Friday is 2:30 p.m.

Officials of the MSC Veterans Association, sponsors of the drive, were pleased about the new school record, and realizing that they can't hit the pre-drive goal of 3,300 pints, will shoot at a "revised" goal of 2,000 units.

Speaking of the low rejection rate one Red Cross nurse commented, "They not only are healthy but well-informed. In the first three days of the drive they have consumed 2,500 donuts and gallons of coffee."

Fellowships Available for June Grads

June graduates interested in public affairs and public service may try for fellowships for study at three southern universities.

The fellowships, which provide $1,200 a year and college fees, are offered by the University of Alabama, the University of Tennessee and the University of Kentucky.

Students will begin in June with an internship in a public agency or a department of city or state government. The 1964-65 school year will be organizer with graduate courses at all three universities.

Master's degrees will be awarded at either of the three universities upon satisfactory completion of the master's examinations and thesis.

For additional information, students are urged to contact the head of the political science department or write to the Educational Director, Southern Region of Training Program in Public Administration, University of Alabama, 1000 University Avenue, Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35486.

Dean of Students Tom King gave the one-thousandth pint of blood during Wednesday's drive at the Union. It was the second day in which a daily 500-mark was reached. Mrs. R. A. Ferguson is the Red Cross staff nurse.

Choreography Shows Humor of de Mille

Agnes de Mille's "Dance Theater" showed a Michigan State audience Wednesday night that the guidance of a perceptive choreographer can bring comedy to both classic and modern dance forms.

Miss de Mille's ability to bring out the humorous aspects of a variety of situations was the outstanding feature of the array of dances her troupe presented.

However, she also presented the simple beauty of the folk tale in her "Cherry Tree Legend," interpreted as it is found in the lore of the southern mountains of the United States.

In addition to her remarkable feeling for comedy, Miss de Mille's program is notable for its use of native themes. Her "Hares on the Mountain" legend is not only hilariously funny, but also brings out the traditional humor associated with the mountaineer.

"Ballad," adapted from "Brigadoon," expanded on the Frederick Loewe score and plot from the original Broadway show to become a tale in itself. It also gave the relatively small audience in the Auditorium an answer to the classic query of "What does a Scot wear under his kilts?"

James Mitchell, whose stints on the Broadway stage have included appearances in "Blommie Girl" and "Paint Your Wagon," scored solidly as the speaker in the "Short Lecture and Demonstration on the Evolution of Ragtime" sequence from "Dances of Elegance, 1860-1920."

Mitchell also proved his versatility as the barker and energetic dancer in the colorful final number, "Hell on Wheels-1863." See CHOREOGRAPHY, Page 3

Curiosity—Common Factor Students Command Psych Tests

By WALT GLEESY

Time in the hands of young people is not always idly spent. This is being proven weekly by groups of delinquent under graduates who are interested in pure research in psychology and who are putting in long hours in psychology experiments.

An all-college grant and the cooperation of the administration represented by Dean Thomas H. O'Connell, dean of the School of Graduate Studies, Dana Milton E. Mearns, dean of the School of Science, and Art and Dr. Donald M. Johnson, head of the psychology department, has helped make this possible.

people and the control of these "crazy" people. But there is another side to psychology, the experimental side.

The work being done by the students is not experimental, perhaps, as work done by some professional psychologists. But it is a type of experimental work. It is a type of experimental work. It is a type of experimental work.

of Behavior." The text is one of the most comprehensive attempts to formulate some scientific laws of behavior, Calvin said.

Extensive work is being done with a Kessler Polygraph, which is being used as a lie detector. Investigations on deception, using the detector, were conducted by Stephanie Fritts, Dearborn junior, and Beth Karkhan, Detroit senior.

Considerable experiments with rats is being conducted with a Lashley Jumping Stand by John Cline, Detroit sophomore; Jerome Fuller, Davison senior; and Robert Lyon, Saginaw senior. Data is gathered on the growth and decay of discrimination learning.

Frederick Hoffmann, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. senior, is working at Red Cedar Elementary School in East Lansing in practical study of the question, "What is the motivation of learning?" He spends two mornings a week with children who compete with the teacher in solving problems.

AWS Grants Extension On Petitions

Nominees Must Enter By Monday

AWS has extended the deadline for petitions for dorm representatives to the Activities and Judiciary Boards until March 1.

Coeds interested in representing dorms or co-ops or off-campus coeds should obtain petitions from their housemothers, and take them to the AWS office, third floor of the Union, according to Mary Ellen Weigle, Activities Board president.

If there are more than five coeds running from one dorm, a primary election will be held in that dorm Tuesday.

New presidents of the boards will be voted for on March 4, at mealtime in dorms and co-ops and from 8 to 6 in the Union Concourse for sororities and off-campus.

Candidates for Activities Board president are Mary Jackson, Detroit junior; Millie Runnen, East Lansing junior; and Gabrielle Muhling, Farmington junior. Judiciary Board presidential candidates are Nancy Moffett, Kalamazoo junior; Joan Pace, Grand Rapids junior; and Ana Martineau, Mason junior.

The runners-up will become vice-presidents of each Board.

Candidates were chosen by a combination of petitioning and selection by the Boards.

New officers begin their one-year term in the spring. Miss Ellen Weigle, Grand Rapids senior, is now president of the Activities Board and Justine Ray, Evanston senior, is president of the Judiciary Board.

Egypt's First President Quits

CAIRO, Egypt, (AP)—Egypt's first president, Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, has resigned in the apparent upshot of a struggle for power with his vice-premier, "strong man" Gamal Abdel Nasser.

An official announcement just before dawn today said Nasser is taking over as Premier of Egypt and President of the Revolutionary Council, but it said nothing about the presidency of the republic.

Naguib had held all three posts since the monarchy was ousted Oct. 23, 1952, and was replaced with the proclaimed republic.

Nasser, 35, a lieutenant colonel, long has been regarded as the real power in the revolutionary army group that deposed and ended King Farouk in 1952.

Studies are then made to test what minute changes in problem situations result in increases or decreases in learning.

The tests are conducted with plastic toys, which serve as incentives for the children to solve the problems. Patricia Banks and Mary Perkins, Flushing Junior, have worked on similar experiments with children.

The cooperation of Cecil E.

Students

MacDonald, Superintendent of Schools for East Lansing, and Noel Ranger, Principal of the East Lansing Red Cedar Elementary School, has made possible these studies.

"Experimentation is hard work," said Dr. Calvin. "Long painstaking hours are spent in the laboratory trying to discover one small fact concerning behavior, formulating hypotheses, testing, rejecting, and formulating new hypotheses. This is the type of work these students are doing," he said.

"Why they are willing to give up so much time and effort is a good question. The motivational forces undoubtedly vary considerably with each individual. "Some get a feeling of accomplishment from seeing their names in print as the author of an article in a scientific journal. Others probably like the feeling of the intellectual satisfaction that comes from a well-run experiment."

"But all have one factor in common—curiosity. This is what makes a scientist out of a student," Dr. Calvin said.

Seniors Grant $400 to Send '54 Wolverines

Following the lead of last year's senior class, the class of 1954 has given money to send Wolverines to Michigan high schools by pledging $400.

Added to the current grant will be $400 left over from last year's Wolverine provision.

According to Roy Rider, head of the student government high school cooperation division, 200 books will be distributed this year to class C and some class D schools.

Books financed by $800 from the 1953 graduating class went to Class A and B schools last spring. The high school cooperation group will select schools to receive the books and will handle distribution, Rider said. The yearbooks will be awarded by MSC representatives at high school award assemblies.

Dr. Robb Gardner, assistant to dean of students, and Fred Stabley, sports editor of the Information Services and Mrs. Stabley, and about 30 students including Junior Council members attended the banquet.

Bill Thistle, Detroit junior, was toastmaster. A plaque was awarded by the senior class which will be hung in Old College Hall by the 1955 table.

About 250 students attended a rush smoker held by the flash-card section for committee workers Wednesday night.

"Money and Banking in Relation to National Income and Fiscal Policy," a book by Dr. Richard W. Lindholm, MSC professor of economics, was published in New York Wednesday.

The author of a number of books on economic subjects, Dr. Lindholm formerly served as an economist with the Federal Reserve Board.

Travel-by-Canine Detroit Rides 'Dog-Wagon' Around City

DETROIT (AP)—The city's buses will go to the dogs if Leonard J. Chouinard finds support for his idea to solve Detroit's transportation problem.

Chouinard, 46, rides downtown in a little red "dog-wagon." Three dogs provide the motive power.

The construction worker says a city bus takes 22 to 27 minutes to carry him downtown.

His dog-wagon covers the three-mile distance from Chouinard's home in 18 minutes.

"No 40 cents a round trip—no start and stop—no smell, exhaust fumes that is, and no trouble finding a seat," Chouinard says.

Chouinard's dogs are Kenny and Kabito, Alaskan sled dogs, and "the big white one," a Siberian Samoyed. They cruise about 12 to 16 miles an hour.

Coed-itorials

By NANCY GOODGER
Society Editor

Although Valentine's Day has passed, it's not too late to be hit by one of Cupid's arrows, MSC males report.

The men say that if coeds start early to try to change their ways they could easily receive the "arrow" next year.

The men have even listed their gripes; however, the coeds have good answers for them.

Men say women are unsettled and thoughtless. Female answer: If men weren't so afraid of the altar we would settle down.

According to the males, a woman is afraid to participate in sports for fear of her delicate health. Female answer: Sure, he wants you to be good in any sport he likes, yet he acts like a wounded puppy if you beat him at his own game.

The way a coed seems to enjoy competition of two men over her irks the male observer, too. Female answer: What about the man who "strings a line." He doesn't play fair so why should the woman.

The smell of perfume and powder is enough to bring on any man's hay fever. Female answer: There's nothing worse than cigar smoke.

Men often call women "gold diggers." Female answer: Why don't they let women know they can only afford coffee.

And so the battle of the sexes continues . . . sometimes—you can't win, Cupid.

Suspension Lifted on Ring Judges

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Referee Hugh Callahan and Judge Joe Stone, who were suspended Feb. 18 immediately after they had voted for Los Angeles' Art Aragon in his fight against Michigan State's Chuck Davey, were absolved Wednesday of any violation of the California boxing rules.

Chairman Tony Entenza and commissioners Norman Houston and Everett Sanders of the state athletic commission reversed the two officials' decision after hearing their testimony on how they scored the fight and their reasons for voting for Aragon.

A crowd at the Olympic Auditorium in Los Angeles boomed for 10 minutes after the verdict was announced and Sanders thereafter notified newsmen that the commissioners had decided to suspend referee Callahan and Judge Stone. Sanders said he felt Davey had earned the decision. Callahan voted 56-54 and Stone 54-54 for Aragon, but Judge Charley Randolph called it 58-52 for Davey, based on the California system of 11 points a round.

"I wouldn't change my verdict if I had to give it again," said Callahan. Stone and Randolph said they wouldn't change, either.

Greenway, Andrie Boost Spartan Ring Lineup

By ED SLOBODNIK

Mike Maekawa and Tom Hickey will lay their unbeaten records on the line when Michigan State's boxing team hosts a tough University of Maryland squad in an eight-bout card Friday at 8 p.m. in Jenison Fieldhouse.

This will be the eighth annual meeting between these two teams. In previous dual meets, the Spartans have won three, lost three, and tied one. MSC boxers took the Terrapins five bouts to three last year, and seven to one in 1952-53.

Maryland will carry a current record of two wins and a loss into the ring, while the Spartans will attempt to add to their season's score of two victories and a tie.

Against common opponent Penn State this winter, MSC tallied a 5-3 win, while Maryland took the Lions, six bouts to four.

Maekawa, the Spartans sophomore sensation from Hawaii, will be pitted against Gary Garber, who finished a strong 125-pound runner-up in the NCAA Tourney last year.

After a sidelining kidney injury suffered in the Penn State meet three weeks ago, Greenway, according to Coach Buck Makris, has progressively gained strength and "is ready."

He will face Ron Rhodes, Maryland's other co-captain, who record so far this season stands a win, a loss, and a draw.

Greenway scored a first-round TKO win in the Spartans meet, then dropped a three-round decision against his Penn State opponent.

Andrie, who in 1962 won and lost two for the Spartans, scheduled to meet Vincent Palumbo, a Maryland sophomore, in a win and a loss on his current record.

Herb (Olden) the Spartan 147-pounder from Flint, with current score of two wins and a draw, will take on the Penn State pin's Bob Theofield.

Spartans' Max Jozwiak, a 125-pounder, George Sinden, a 125-pounder, and Jack Reilly, a heavyweight, will be pitted against Maryland's Capri, Boyd Smith, and Cayne, to round out the eight-bout card.

So far this season, Maekawa has tallied a knockout, a TKO, and a decision. Against Idaho State two

Sigma Nu Reaches Fraternity Finals

By JOE HOFFMAN

The defending inter-fraternity champions, Sigma Nu, successfully defended their chances for another title by defeating ATO in the fraternity semi-finals, 23-19. After a close first quarter, Sigma Nu held ATO scoreless in the second period, to take a seven-point lead at halftime.

Although outscored eight to four in the third quarter, Sigma Nu maintained enough strength to pull away for its four-point victory.

ATO's Mar Stauffer led all scorers with nine points, while Bob Angle led Sigma Nu with eight points.

In other fraternity semi-finals Psi U was too much for Beta Theta Pi, as they won handily 27-14. Psi U led throughout the entire game to win going away.

Beta Theta Pi evidently had an off night, as they blew several layups and other short shots. Dean Cunningham had 13 points for the victors.

Sigma Nu's victory means that they will battle it out with Psi U tonight for the inter-fraternity championship. The game is scheduled for 8:10 on Court 2 at Jenison Gymnasium.

Aside from the fraternity semi-finals, there were three dormitory block titles, two dorm championships, decided and one semi-finalist in the Independent League decided.

Butterfield 2 won their block with a 34-26 win over Butterfield 8. The winners trailed by three points going into the final period, but rallied strongly to win by eight points. Jack McDonald of Butterfield 2 was the game's high scorer with 14 points, while for Butterfield 8, Dick Bilkie dropped in 12.

East Shaw 6 had little trouble in beating East Shaw 8, 39-25, to take their block. High man for the winners was Glenn Smith with 11 points while for East Shaw 8, Zig Gorzycki was high man with 15 points.

The other block title was gained via forfeit, as Phillips 4 was given credit for a 1-0 forfeit win over Phillips 9.

Snyder 15 routed Snyder 18, 46-25, to become the champions of Snyder Hall. The losers were outscored in every period and failed to net a field goal until midway in the second quarter. Larry Geresy was the game's high point maker with 15, while for Snyder 18, Ted Fitch and Dick Bristle each dropped in 7.

The second dormitory championship crowned West Shaw 4, as they defeated West Shaw 5, 46-32. West Shaw 5 bounced back from a one-point deficit at halftime to go on and subdue West Shaw 5 by 14 points.

Avery Collins took individual scoring honors of the evening, as he racked up 20 points. George King netted 14 points for West Shaw 5.

JFU gained the right to enter the semi-finals of the Independent League, as they squeezed by Beal, 20-18. Beal led by eight points at the half and by seven going into the final quarter. A great comeback by JFU provided the margin of victory. John Gersonde was the game's leading scorer with eight points.

Iowa Back After Dum

Iowa's Hawkeye started the sport with a stunning 18-7 over Indiana on the home court Monday night in Michigan State's opponent.

The win by Iowa was achieved by a visitor in 23 home meetings, dating back to 1933.

The Spartans last won a 65-62 decision over Iowa. Since that time, they have dropped two to Indiana each to Purdue, Northwestern.

Iowa had lost 10 games to Ohio State and appeared to be the favorite of the conference. The Spartans, however, are the reigning champions. They now are 1-1 in the game of the first place.

A strong bench, with sophomores ready to make the game, has been the key for the current success. Iowa team, Coach Bucknor has assembled a fine nucleus, and the son mark and a 9-3 record attest to their ability.

The success of the team is mainly the story of Logan and forward spot Logan isn't hitting. School is a sturdy rebounder of help in the scoring comes from forward C and two sophomore guards Schuerman and Bill Se.

This all-sophomore team started out against and played almost the contest without rest.

Michigan State's scoring is still centered mainly on ward spots where Julius and Al Ferrari hold fort.

Cagers Look to Hawkeyes For First Win in Five Starts

Iowa Back in Big 10 Race After Dumping Indiana

Iowa's Hawkeyes, who started the sports world with a stunning 18-point win over Indiana on the Hoosier's home court Monday night, are Michigan State's opponents Saturday night in Jensen Fieldhouse.

The win by Iowa was the first achieved by a visitor at Indiana in 23 home meetings, dating from February 1933.

The Spartans last won on Feb. 1, a 65-62 decision over Northwestern. Since that time they have dropped two to Indiana and one each to Purdue, Notre Dame and Northwestern.

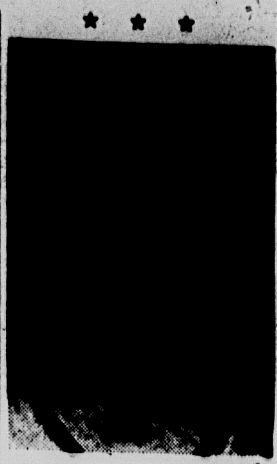

Iowa had lost successive games to Ohio State and Illinois and appeared to be fading out of the conference picture until the resounding win over Indiana. They now are just one game out of first place.

A strong bench, with eager sophomores ready to move into the game, has been the major factor in the current success of the Iowa team. Coach Bucky O'Connor has assembled a fine group of newcomers to go along with a veteran nucleus, and the 15-5 season mark and a 9-3 conference record attest to their ability.

The success of the Iowa team is mainly the story of Bill Logan and Bill Schoof, alternating at center and forward spots. When Logan isn't hitting, Schoof is, and both are sturdy rebounders. Lots of help in the scoring column comes from forward Carl Cain and two sophomore guards, Milt Scheuerman and Bill Seaberg.

This all-sophomore aggregation started out against Indiana and played almost the entire contest without rest.

Michigan State's scoring ability is still centered mainly at the forward spots where Julius McCoy and Al Ferrari hold forth. McCoy

Following the Saturday night encounter with Iowa, the Spartans have a Monday evening date at Wisconsin, and return home the following Saturday for the season's finale against Michigan.

Sailors Take Note

By CHUCK MILLER

A new sports publication is in the planning stage, which should be of interest to all members of the Sailing Club. In fact, the publishers are interested in what prospective readers would like to have in the issues.

I recently received a letter of inquiry, asking me to find out what the club members thought of this type of magazine.

The name of it will be the Great Lakes Sailor, and it will be published 10 times a year.

The publishers would like to know what type of articles would be appreciated most—cruise stories, designs, history or others. Would the readers be interested mainly in articles on sailing, power boating or outboards?

It is hoped that the magazine will hit the newstands sometime in April.

If anyone is interested in finding out more, drop me a line in care of the State News.

Looking back at the football season once more—The NCAA recently published the official grid records for 1953 and Spartan fullback Evan Slonac made the best Spartan showing in any department with second place in conversion percentage. Slonac kicked 15 out of 16 for 93.8 percentage. Gerry Leake of Oklahoma had a mark of 94.4 per cent on 17 out of 18. As a team, State ranked third with 26 out of 31 for 83.9 per cent.

The next best showing of a Michigan State player was Tom Yewic's eighth place ranking in punting. Yewic punted 31 times for a 39.8 average. Georgia's George Bratkowski held down the top spot with a 42.6 mark on 50 kicks.

State ranked seventh in team punting with an average of 39.7, with Yewic, Earl Morrill and co-capt. elect Don Kauth sharing the duties.

Co-capt. elect LeRoy Bolden ranked twentieth in rushing with 691 yards on 127 attempts for an average of 5.44.

The Spartans were twentieth in total defense with an average of 220 yards per opponent. In defense against rushing, they were twenty-first, allowing 139 yards per game.

State was twenty-second in total offense with 2,831 yards in nine games for an average of 314.6. The Spartans were also twenty-second in rushing with 1,970 yards for an average of 218.9.

Still on the subject of football, State has had two more players named to an All-American team. This time Billy Wells and Bill Ross made it. The team is the All-ATO All-American.

Michigan State swimmers—John Dudeck in particular, are putting up quite a splash as far as the best times in conference swimming go.

Dudeck has unofficially bettered the Big 10 mark in the 100-yard breaststroke with a timing of :50.1. He has also done the best time this year in the 200-yard breaststroke.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Dudeck, Frank Pegani and co-capt. Charles Baldwin are breathing down the necks of the OBU trio for the best clocking. The Buckeyes have gone the distance in 2:52.5. Last week, the Spartan team nipped the Ohio State crew in this event with a time of 2:53.

Three State Squads Slated at Indiana

Saturday will be Michigan State day at Indiana University. Three Spartan varsity teams—track, wrestling and swimming—will engage Hoosier rivals in dual meets, the last warm-ups prior to Western Conference championships the following weekend. The three teams, numbering more than 50 men, will go by special plane from the Lansing airport Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. The return trip will be made Saturday evening with arrival at Lansing Airport for 10 p.m.

WORK, FUN AND BUSBOYS' LIVES

Information, both for dorm files and future dates, is gathered by the busboys from the students.

The Union Grill offers an opportunity for some untidy work.

But before working time begins, there is an opportunity to exchange stories with the girls who also work in the dorm or Grill.

Companionship Rates High

Men Gripe, But They Stick

Busboys get up early, they work hard and they gripe about it, but when you ask one of them why he sticks and if he thinks he's getting anything out of it . . . the answer is always, "I like it," and "Yes, I'm getting something out of it."

Their top reasons for sticking to the job are: they enjoy the companionship of working with coeds and men who share their interests and they think they are learning an appreciation for the process that gets the food on the table each meal.

When you come right down to it, the busboys have what could be called a good deal. They work inside, they set their own hours to fit into their schedule. They never have to worry about where the next meal is coming from (they know the dietitians will take care of that) and they meet people quickly and get to know them well.

Most of the busboys live off-campus (with the exception of those who work in the men's dorms or in their own fraternity house). They eat all of their meals in the living unit where they work, whether they are working that meal or not.

They are paid on the basic campus pay rate and they apply the checks toward their bill in the living unit.

They also get invited to the term parties given by their unit.

But, in fraternities, cooking is assigned to only a few of the busboys for the term.

Special events sometimes draw the busboys out-of-dorm from their work.

Busboys carry the dishes and food to the table (for home-mothers and guests).

And all that's left to carry back are more dishes and scraps.

Men Find Variety

Meal-Story Is Long One

The busboy's life is a varied one, even though it all revolves around the story of a meal.

Many of them get in on the ground floor by cooking breakfast. These men are often hotel or restaurant administration students who are getting practical experience and earning their board all at once.

Once the meals have been prepared, the men help serve it to the students either on the cafeteria line in the dorms or, in the sorority and fraternity houses, by putting it on the table.

Many of the men get acquainted with the coeds in the dorms by "checking the line," i.e., putting a check after a coed's name each time she eats a meal in the dorm.

Clean-up is the biggest part of the busboys' lives. They all do this, whether in a dorm, individual house or in the Union Grill. It is a messy job, but one they claim they get immune to after a while.

When it comes to washing dishes and pots and pans, the busboys really get a working over. They do all of the dishes, usually rinsing them by hand and then running them through the dishwashing machine.

The final step in each cycle is to put the dishes back on the shelves . . . then it's class time and soon they are back to begin again.
