Student Hurt In Scuffle At Serenade

Delta Chi Member Treated at Olin

William Frank, 22-year-old Grand Haven junior, was taken by ambulance to Olin Health Center at around 11:30 Monday night after he was involved in a fracas in front of the Sigma Kappa sorority house at 518 MAC.

Olin officials reported that he was treated for cuts on the lip and was retained for the night. His condition was reported as "good."

The scuffle occurred while Frank and other members of the Delta Chi fraternity were serenading at the Sigma Kappa house. Witnesses at the scene told the State News that a car with a noisy muffler pulled up in front of the house and interrupted the serenade.

Two men were in the auto and Frank was injured by the driver after an argument at the curb, the witnesses said.

East Lansing police answered a call on the fracas, but withheld all information as to the other persons involved. They said that no one was being held and that the case is being studied.

Boger Named Successor to Ag Econ Post

Dr. Lawrence L. Boger was named the new head of the department of agricultural economics Monday by President John A. Hannah.

He succeeds Dr. Thomas K. Cowden, who will become the new dean of the School of Agriculture July 1. Dr. Boger took over his duties immediately so that Dr. Cowden could work with Dean Clifford M. Hardin who is leaving to become chancellor of the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Boger came to MSC in 1947 from Purdue University where he received a bachelor's degree in agricultural economics. He was an instructor in 1948, and was made an assistant professor in 1950 and an associate professor in 1952.

Dr. Boger received his master's and doctor's degrees in agricultural economics here in 1948 and 1950.

A native of Auburn, Ind., Dr. Boger also studied at Harvard and the University of Chicago.

Conference At Geneva Deadlocked

Communist Plan Rejected by West

GENEVA (AP)—The Communists laid their own armistice plan for Indochina before the Geneva conference Monday, and after two sessions, the conference appeared deadlocked.

Pham Van Dong, vice premier of the Vietnam regime, rejected outright the armistice plan proposed by French Foreign Minister George Bidault on Saturday.

The French, in turn, rejected the eight-point Vietnam proposal. A French spokesman said it appeared designed not to stop the war but to "set the stage for Vietnam to swallow all of Indochina."

France and Vietnam agreed only on evacuating Dien Bien Phu's wounded.

An American spokesman said Monday night Britain and the United States had accepted the French proposal as a basis for discussion.

The spokesman said the Vietnam armistice plan would, if adopted, mean "unconditional surrender in Indochina."

The lines thus were clearly drawn between East and West. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, chairman for Monday's session, did not even call a meeting for today and the procedure for the immediate future of the nine-party confab was uncertain.

U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith called on Molotov Monday night. While it was described as a courtesy call, informed sources said the American did some "very straight talking."

Smith, a former U. S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, was believed to have told the Russian foreign minister with what gravity the United States views Communist aggression anywhere and especially in Southeast Asia.

International Week Forum Andrews Advocates Aid Plus Training

By HARRY JENNINGS
"Building big dams won't stop communism," Stanley Andrews, former director of the United States Point Four program declared in the World Forum discussion Monday night at the Music Auditorium.

Now executive director of the National Project in Agricultural Communications, working at MSC, Andrews said that pouring economic and technical aid into a country would be valueless unless natives of the country could be trained to carry on the work.

"Our trouble is that we're trying to do something for the country and not with the country," he said. "If we go too fast on technical development, most technical people of the country won't be able to keep up with us."

Illustrating his opinions with stories drawn from his experiences in Africa and Asia, Andrews concluded by saying, "The day has come when you've got to go into a country as a partner, allying your welfare with that country's welfare."

Samuel Hayes, former director of technical assistance for Indochina, and present director of the U. S. Institute for Human Behavior, opened the discussion with a brief outline of the history and purposes of the Point Four program.

"Military aggression is usually the last step after political and economic battles have been won," Hayes said. "This is basically a contest for the minds of men."

Views on the Point Four Program from a nation receiving its benefits were given by Dr. Hassan Dawood, MSC alumnus and a member of the Egyptian Embassy in Washington.

"Military aid is a shortcut to achieving stability," Dr. Dawood said. "To my mind, political infiltration is as dangerous as aggression itself. A shift of emphasis to economic and technological assistance is needed."

In making some criticisms of the program, Dr. Dawood asserted, "There should be greater selection of personnel in regard to knowledge of the country's cultural background."

Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, dean of the Basic College, was moderator. The World Forum, first forum discussion on world problems ever held at MSC, was sponsored by student government for International Week.

MSC Profs Questioned At Hearings

Clardy Clears Two In Secret Session

By STAN SHIMMERS

Two MSC faculty members have appeared before the Clardy Subcommittee of the Un-American Activities Committee. It was revealed Monday by Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Lansing).

Clardy, in town for a two-day session in the State House of Representatives' Chamber, said that the two had been questioned at an executive or secret session.

The committee, he said, had been satisfied with the answers given by both the faculty members and did not plan to call either in open session.

He added that after the hearing he had informed President John A. Hannah that both men were, in his opinion, "fine Americans" and that he had no intention of questioning them further.

The group was not so satisfied with the five witnesses who appeared before it Monday. All five were from the University of Michigan. Clardy charged that the witnesses were uncooperative.

Three were instructors and two graduate students and all refused to answer questions about communists, fellow travelers or like connections. One even refused to answer whether or not he knew U of M president Harlan Hatcher.

The two students, Myron Sharpe and Edward Shaffer, gave the Clardy group the greatest resistance.

Each was adamant against giving any information to the group concerning personal associates or memberships they might hold in various groups.

Sharpe was repeatedly admonished because of the type of answers he gave.

Some of the witnesses declined to allow themselves to be televised by WKAR-TV which was covering the hearings.

Most of the witnesses used the Fifth Amendment as a basis for their refusal to answer the Committee's questions. However, Sharpe and math teacher Dr. Chandler Davis used both the First and Fifth Amendments as their excuse.

The hearings will conclude today with a session scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m.

French Win Attack On Vietminhese

Communists Claim de Castries Alive

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French and Laotian battalions defeated several battalions of Vietminh troops Monday near Myong Khua, only 50 miles from fallen Dien Bien Phu.

French fighters and bombers also heavily attacked key roads leading northeast from the rice plains fortress where Red-led troops overran an overwhelming numbers Friday. The routes attacked were jammed with thousands of rebel troops and big Molotov-truck convoys.

The French announced that the Vietminh units at Myong Khua were driven back, leaving 12 dead on the battlefield. They had been covering Vietminh Gen. Vu Nguyen Giap's southwest flanks during the fight for Dien Bien Phu.

Vietminh troops and convoys were reported moving two ways Monday, both into and out of the Thai country of northwestern Indochina. Dien Bien Phu was the last French Union stronghold in that area.

These troops could either be reinforcements for rebel positions in Laos, or fresh occupation forces for the Dien Bien Phu sector, replacing the troops battered in the fight for the fortress.

The French Command said there was no indication whatever that the Vietminh has begun a general attack on the strategic Red River Delta. The fall of one post near Hanoi had lashed off reports to that effect.

Part of the mystery of the aftermath of Dien Bien Phu was lifted Monday when the Vietminh radio announced that Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries was taken prisoner in the last hours preceding the fall of the fortress.

There was no hint as to whether de Castries was wounded.

The broadcast, said the whole French Union garrison and all of its commanders were captured. It was the first time that the Vietminh radio has mentioned de Castries' name since his bastion fell.

Despite the broadcast, the French High Command in Saigon has received no official word on de Castries' fate.

Suspensions Given Profs From U of M

Two Michigan Students Appear

Three of five witnesses before the House Un-American Activities Subcommittee Monday drew recommendations for citations for contempt of Congress.

Three University of Michigan faculty men were suspended from their jobs Monday for defying the House Un-American Activities Subcommittee.

The subcommittee recommended that one of them—Dr. H. Chandler Davis, young mathematics instructor, be cited for contempt of Congress.

All three refused to answer questions about communism. Two graduate students did the same. They also were to be recommended for contempt.

University President Harlan H. Hatcher ordered Davis, 37, Associate Prof. Dr. Mark Neckerson, 37, and Asst. Prof. Dr. Clement L. Market, 37, suspended immediately.

Dr. Hatcher said the suspensions were made "without prejudice to the final decision in their cases."

Last week during Detroit hearings, two Wayne University teachers were suspended for their refusal to testify. Edward Shaffer, 31, and Byron E. (Mike) Sharpe, 25, were recommended for contempt of Congress proceedings.

Shaffer, a Pittsburgher, is the student upon whom a former coed companion, Daphne Price, 19, said she had spied on for the FBI. Later Daphne, an Ottawa, Ont., girl, said she was sorry she did so.

The FBI has never confirmed Daphne's story. She told it to newspaper after the Michigan Daily, student newspaper, and the Detroit News had attributed to her an affidavit containing the purported account of spying.

The Subcommittee, chaired by Rep. Clardy (R-Mich.), is conducting hearings in Michigan with the avowed intent of exposing Communist infiltration in education and organized labor.

At the end of Monday's hearing Clardy announced that Dr. Davis, Shaffer and Sharpe would be cited to the full Un-American Activities Committee for a contempt recommendation to Congress. The recommendation would go to the House.

Sharpe Letter Circulated to MSC Students

Several persons, reportedly from the University of Michigan, were distributing "An Open Letter to Representatives Yelke and Clardy" on campus Monday afternoon.

The letter was a reply by Mike Sharpe, a U of M graduate student, to a subpoena ordering him to appear before the Clardy Subcommittee of the Un-American Activities Committee. He appeared Monday before the committee.

In the letter, Sharpe challenged the representatives to a public debate on the subject of alleged subversive activities taking place on the U of M campus. Sharpe also attacked the investigations and charged that "McCarthyism" would lead to a deterioration of our educational system.

Chief Arthur Brandstatter, head of the Campus Police, stated that he received reports of the distribution of the letters early in the afternoon.

Since it was in violation of a college ordinance for anyone to solicit or distribute literature on state property without permission from the State Board of Agriculture, I instructed campus police officers to tell these people about this rule," Chief Brandstatter said.

Judge Enters Not Guilty Plea For Lekenta

A plea of not guilty was entered by Judge Marvin J. Salmon in Ingham County Circuit Court Monday for Eugene Lekenta, former MSC student.

Lekenta stood mute when arraigned in Mason on charges of assaulting an MSC graduate student Feb. 28.

Lekenta's trial date has not yet been set, said Mrs. Gertrude Ludwick, a deputy county clerk.

The $1000 bond previously placed on Lekenta will continue until the trial.

Lekenta is specifically charged with assaulting Gerald Cunningham with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

Northwestern Edges Golf Team, 14 1/2-12 1/2

State Absorbs First Setback Of Campaign

Northwestern stopped the Spartan golf winning streak at five in a row Monday with a 14 1/2-12 1/2 victory in the 36-hole match at Walnut Hills.

In the doubles match the Wildcats carried off seven of the nine points to take an early 7-2 command.

Northwestern's Lou Woodworth and Howie Washburne proved too much for Bill Albright and Dave Mansour as they blanked the State men 3-0 in the first of the morning match play.

Carl Stofz and Dick Aultman put together 69 strokes to take three points from State's Bob Rivest and Ken Rowdwell.

State broke into the scoring in the final doubles match under the leadership of Hal Ware and Dave Humes.

The medal play saw State come back with a 10-7 1/2 win. Albright led the way with a par 69.

State took a 3-0 decision for the victory in the second match, carrying a 7-1 to finish six strokes below Rowdwell.

State closed the scoring gap in the third and fourth matches on the effort of Ware and Mansour.

Ware scored a 74 to earn a 3-0 shutout over Washburne, who shot a 77.

Mansour's 78 performance was good for a 3-0 route of Mansour. Mansour came home with four strokes higher than Mansour.

Northwestern came back to knot the score at 12 all in the fifth match. Al Aultman's 78 edged Rivest's 83 to take a 2-1 count for the Wildcats.

With the score tied, the final match saw Northwestern's Buller cover the course with a 77 to better Bill Dirrick's card by two.

The Wildcats' 2-1 triumph gave them a 14-12 1/2 point edge in the match and marked State's only setback in six outings.

Albright and Stofz tied for medals in honors. Each won the distance one under par for 73.

Despite the cold weather, five of the six Spartans scored in the 70's. Western Michigan travels to East Lansing for their second encounter with the Spartans Thursday.

Baseballers Host Michigan Friday

A crucial three-game series is on tap for MSC's diamond crew this weekend when they clash with Michigan in a struggle for first place in the Big 10.

The Spartans, currently riding the top of the conference standings with a 6-1 record, face the Wolverines in a single game at Old College Field Friday, and then travel to Ann Arbor for a team ball Saturday.

In its climb to the top position, Coach John Kobs' team defeated Minnesota in a doubleheader, 8-5 and 6-1, Saturday, and Iowa, 6-3, Friday. State's only loss was at the hands of Purdue, 5-7.

Right behind the Spartans in the tight race is Coach Ray Fisher's Wolverines, co-champions in the Big 10 last year, and NCAA champions.

The Wolves have been winners in seven of nine conference encounters.

If Michigan wins two of the three, the Wolverines will get back on top. If State gets two wins, the Spartans would still lead the circuit.

Ohio State and Wisconsin are the only other teams in position to take the Big 10 title.

Sigan was second for State in the all-events.

This year's team improved over last year's 10th place finishers at Ann Arbor.

Michigan State athletics have won 36 individual national collegiate titles through the years.

Netters Play U of M In First Home Meet

The Spartan net squad will open its home season this afternoon as it plays host to the University of Michigan.

The match will mark the first time that a regular match will be played on the new tennis courts.

The Wolverines lost just one man from their 1953 aggregation which finished third in the Big 10 championships, just behind State. They edged out Northwestern by one-half point.

The Spartans, having lost two straight matches, will be looking for their second Big 10 win when they defeated Northwestern, 6-3, 10 days ago.

To date, Michigan is undefeated, having beaten among others, Northwestern and Notre Dame. Their match with Indiana was rained out.

The matches will begin at 2:00 p.m. on the new varsity courts, just west of Macklin Stadium.

Musial's Fine Start Nets Bat Leadership

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Musial, off to a start of the best starts of his brilliant career, Monday was on top of the National League batting list.

Musial, striking his seventh career circuit championship, has collected 34 hits in 84 times at bat for a .393 mark.

Among his successes are 10 home runs, a total which puts him in a tie for the lead in that department with Chicago's Hank Sauer.

The Redford star also is setting the pace in runs batted in with 28.

Duke Snider of the Dodgers moved from fourth into the batting lineup position at 373 with a 7-for-18 performance last week while Don Mueller of the New York Giants climbed from fifth to third and 370.

In the American League, rookie Bill Tuttle of Detroit held first place with 375, a comfortable margin over Boston's Billy Goodman at 362.

Ransom Jackson, the National League's leader during the first three weeks of the campaign, slumped to fourth place with 355.

Cleveland's Bobby Avila and Boston's Jackie Jensen are tied for the No. 3 spot in the American League at 346.

Yogi Berra of New York and Roy Sievers of Washington are deadlocked for the minor league lead in home runs with five each.

Minnie Minoso of Chicago has driven in the most runs, 21.
