BRUBAKER NAMED JUNIOR CLASS PRESIDENT

Ike Backs Hearings Resumption

TV Inquiry May Begin On Monday

Report Decision Assumed by Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration threw the switches Wednesday to start the McCarthy-Army hearings rolling again next Monday.

President Eisenhower personally called for a resumption of the televised inquiry. "Let the chips fall where they may," he declared.

Next, with the President's endorsement, Secretary of the Army Stevens took sole responsibility on behalf of the Army for the actions that led to its head-on collision with Sen. McCarthy.

In the wake of this one-two team play, Acting Chairman Muntz (R-NY) said the temporarily side-tracked inquiry will resume Monday. He told newsmen the hearings should not last more than another week or 10 days.

Muntz said he expected Stevens would be asked to repeat under oath last Wednesday's denial that the Army's moves were masterminded by White House or other top officials.

The hearings still did not have a clear track, however.

Eisenhower flatly refused to lift his secrecy order which, to his astonishment, he told a news conference—stalled the inquiry last Monday.

McCarthy, has blasted this order as an "iron curtain" barring him from presenting his full case against his Pentagon antagonists.

The Wisconsin senator said he doesn't know what his course will be, but:

"I just don't want to go ahead with a stacked deck."

Stevens and Eisenhower registered full agreement on the big question which bogged down the inquiry last Monday:

Were Army officials acting on their own, or were the White House and Justice Department calling the signals, when the Pentagon charged McCarthy and aides with improper pressure to get favors for Pvt. G. David Schine?

Eisenhower's secrecy order forbade Army witnesses to talk about conversations with the White House and other officials. McCarthy and some of the investigating senators took the position this made it impossible to fix responsibility for the Army's acts.

So the probes took a recess, until next Monday, to see if Eisenhower would withdraw or modify his order.

The President said Wednesday he had "no intention whatsoever" of doing either of these things. But he also said Stevens would issue a statement disassociating the Army's charges from higher levels of the administration. And Stevens did so an hour and a half later.

"I wish to make it perfectly plain," the Army secretary said, "that the decisions and the acts on the part of the Army... were the decisions and the acts of the Department of the Army alone. At no time did the Army or I as its secretary receive any orders from anyone in respect to the preparation or presentation of the Army's case."

Stevens' assistant, Army Counselor John G. Adams, had testified earlier he started keeping a written record of the Army's troubles over the Schine case at the suggestion of Sherman Adams, chief assistant to the President.

The Army lawyer said this suggestion was made at a Jan. 21 meeting attended by Atty. Gen.

Red Arms Delivery Disturbing, Ike Says

Guatemala Receives Military Supplies in Polish Shipment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday an arms shipment from Red Poland to Guatemala is "disturbing" and it would be a "terrible thing" to have Communist dictatorship establish an outpost on this continent.

Asked at a news conference for his reaction to a State Department announcement Monday that Communist-dominated Poland has shipped arms to the Latin American nation, Eisenhower paused, reached for a word, and replied:

"Well, it is disturbing. I think that, above all, it highlights the circumstances, the background that led to the adoption of the resolution at the Caracas conference of the American Republics regarding communism in this country."

"To have the Communist dictatorship establish an outpost on this continent to the detriment of all the American nations, of course, would be a terrible thing, and that was the reason for the Caracas resolution."

White House permission for direct quotations on Guatemala underscored the obvious concern over the arms shipment within the administration.

In New York, Col. Hubert J. Fulton, who says he is military purchasing agent for Guatemala, said Wednesday the U. S. State Department refused to let Guatemala buy surplus military materials here and from friendly countries and this "iron ring" compels her to buy anywhere she can.

The shipment from Poland, he said, was offered him by a foreign agent and paid for through

Students Debate World Issues

Poly Science Class Sets Up Mock U. N.

By JIM GARNER

Mock United Nations meetings loaded with real tension and expectancy make political science 462 at MSC a course apart from those taught at all other colleges and universities.

In the course the background, organization, functions and problems of the United Nations are studied. Emphasis is given to the major problems which have faced the U. N. and the effects of current problems are analyzed.

"A realistic atmosphere is achieved during the four U. N.

meetings of the class by a simple table and chair setting in the Union Tower Room. Photographs of the Security Council members of the U. N. headquarters in New York were used as a pattern," said A. Leroy Bennett, assistant professor who teaches 462.

During the first two days of each four-day session the attitudes and political positions of the government each student represents are reflected by debates and voting.

On the third and fourth days the Trusteeship Council or KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan and the United States Wednesday signed a one-year mutual defense pact under which America will help equip and train the armed forces of this strategic nation of more than 75 million.

House Body OK's More Old-Age Aid

Social Security Expansion Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee voted Wednesday to bring farm operators, doctors and other professional groups, and state and local government employees under the federal social security system.

The action, affecting more than seven million persons, was in line with a request from President Eisenhower, who has made expansion of social security coverage a prime goal of his administration.

The committee approved all of Eisenhower's requests for extension of coverage except one and in some cases went even further than the President had suggested.

It deferred action on the question of coverage for an estimated 2,600,000 farm laborers.

Wednesday's decisions, if finally enacted, would bring in about 2,600,000 farm operators and about 500,000 doctors, lawyers, dentists, architects, professional engineers, public accountants and other professional people under compulsory coverage.

The American Medical Association had strongly opposed the move for doctors. They were included by a closed-door committee vote of 12-8.

Committee members said the vote to include farmers was not unanimous but was surprisingly heavy.

The present law permits coverage under the federal system of retirement or death benefits for state and local employees only if they are not covered by local retirement system.

To come under the federal system, however, a majority of the employees would have to participate in a referendum, and two thirds of those voting would have to approve.

Other groups brought in under compulsory coverage by Wednesday's decisions would include internists, student nurses, osteopaths, veterinarians, chiropractors, naturopaths, optometrists, self-employed ministers, funeral directors, fishing boat employees and those who work in their own homes, such as dressmakers.

"Pseudo-delegates" are given ground work on debate topics by way of references from Bennett. Opponents' comments on questions are read for preparation of rebuttals.

General procedural rules of the Security Council are observed in the mock sessions, with the exceptions that the council's president changes after one session and five minute speaking limitations are enforced.

Bennett said he realized in 1952 that a U. N. course was a

The Soviet Union, India, and Egypt have denounced the pact. But both Washington and Karachi officially proclaimed it another step to consolidate the strength of the free world. This was an obvious reference to the menace of Communist aggression.

Both the United States and Pakistan have mutual aid arrangements with Turkey, western bastion of the oil-rich Middle East.

Pakistan has been a member of the British Commonwealth since it gained independence in 1947. It has a common border with India, and the northern area of West Pakistan is within a short distance of both Russia and Red China.

Under the new pact, Karachi agreed to cooperate with Washington in controlling trade with nations threatening the maintenance of world peace. This is aimed at preventing the shipment of strategic goods to the Communist bloc.

The pact provides for a U. S. military advisory group in Pakistan, plus assistance from the Karachi government. It will not use the arms aid for aggressive purposes, against the United States. There is no provision for U. S. bases in Pakistan.

Like other mutual aid pacts negotiated by Washington, it was an executive agreement not requiring confirmation by the U. S. Senate.

India and the Soviet bloc have criticized the pact, bitterly throughout its negotiation, extending over several months. Indian Prime Minister Nehru claimed it would tip the military balance between India and Pakistan—still at odds over Kashmir—while Communist spokesmen asserted it would create a U. S.-backed military bloc in the Near and Middle East against the USSR.

There was no estimate of the value of the aid to be extended to Pakistan. Military assistance would be adapted to this country's needs, determined through further consultations.

Swingout Gowns Available at Noon

Today is the last day for ordering caps and gowns.

Seniors planning to attend Swingout Tuesday must deposit $5, and will get a $2 refund after graduation. Those who go to commencement only must deposit $4. They will get a $1 refund. Orders are made at the Union Bookstore.

Caps and gowns for those who ordered them for Swingout will be distributed beginning this noon, said Russell A. Villars, bookstore manager. The rest will be distributed on June 2, the Wednesday before graduation, he said.

The sets began as simplified sketches in which I tried to capture the flavor of Jones' work, rather than an exact reproduction," Godfrey said.

Each piece of scenery then was drawn separately and given to William Boyd and Elmer Dennis, graduate assistants in dramatics, who use them in lab courses in scenery construction.

The completed pieces are painted, however, under the direct supervision of Godfrey and Ralph Duckwall, who is in charge of "Winter's Tale" costuming.

Background work is an attempt to paint an illusion, Godfrey commented. "How well we succeed in creating the illusion can only be determined by an audience."

Election Decision Over-Ruled

Judiciary Upholds Three-to-One Vote

By BETTY ZUEGE
The All-College Judiciary Wednesday evening upheld an appeal by Bob Brubaker on an earlier Election Review Board decision which had declared him ineligible for the junior class presidency.

Brubaker polled 339 votes to opponent Jack Strasser's 297 in a ballot count which followed announcement of the Judiciary decision.

Brubaker had been disqualified in the race shortly before last Thursday's tabulation of the final election vote. The Review Board acted on a complaint over Brubaker's use of a banner with his German band campaign.

The board declared last week that Brubaker's campaign in front of women's dorms the night before the election violated a government election ordinance which says:

"Campaign literature and posters shall be posted and displayed only within 10 feet of the sidewalks running from the Union to Ferry Hall and from the Union to Beaumont Tower."

The Judiciary decided Brubaker had made every effort to comply with the regulation and had not violated the letter or spirit of the law.

The Judiciary held an hour-long public hearing Wednesday afternoon which was attended by about 100 people.

Brubaker's appeal charged the Review Board hearing was inadequate because one member had to leave early.

Long Coulter, presenting Brubaker's case, argued the "spirit of the law" had not been broken. He said Brubaker, a Brubaker backer had called Janice Dempsey, elections commissioner, three weeks ago to ask permission to use the band.

Under questioning Brubaker said he "was not certain" if he had asked about the use of the questionable banner. Miss Dempsey then said "nothing was said about the banner."

Drilling on the fact that three weeks is a long time, and it must be hard to remember, especially with so many calls, Coulter called Gene Ruff as a witness.

Ruff said that he had overheard Miss Dempsey discussing the case in the student government office.

He said he stated, "To the best of my knowledge, I can't remember whether Bob Brubaker said anything about the sign or not."

Brubaker backed Ruff in his statement, saying that he was also in the office at the time.

17th Century Setting

'The Winter's Tale' To Open Tonight

By JACKIE OLDHAM
Shakespeare's "The Winter's Tale" will be backed by copies of authentic 17th century settings when the curtain goes up tonight at 8 on the term play in Fairchild Theater.

Vergil D. Godfrey, technical director of drama for the speech department, who designed the sets for the term play, was guided by work of Hugo Jones, a set and costume designer for the court plays of the Stuarts.

Set lighting and costumes are integrated functions, Godfrey said. Part of the costumes are patterned on paintings of Jones, to provide harmony between the background and the actor.

Lighting will have a very important part in the play, enhancing the effect of actors and sets, said Ted Davis, assistant technical director in charge of lighting for the play.

Three different types of lights are needed for the sky effect alone, Davis said. Aside from these there are 34 spotlights, a flood light and six candlelights. All are operated individually.

In two routine scenes almost all background will come from a backdrop, which is a lantern projection used for special sky effects. It will create an illusion of storm. The several locales over which the play moves are formed by variations on two basic sets.

Three large units of scenery, including an arch weighing over 200 pounds, will be suspended from piano wire. The tops of these pieces will be seen by the audience. There is no inconspicuous way of propping them up from the back, Godfrey explained.

The sets began as simplified sketches in which I tried to capture the flavor of Jones' work, rather than an exact reproduction," Godfrey said.

Each piece of scenery then was drawn separately and given to William Boyd and Elmer Dennis, graduate assistants in dramatics, who use them in lab courses in scenery construction.

The completed pieces are painted, however, under the direct supervision of Godfrey and Ralph Duckwall, who is in charge of "Winter's Tale" costuming.

Background work is an attempt to paint an illusion, Godfrey commented. "How well we succeed in creating the illusion can only be determined by an audience."

Lit Honorary Adds Chapters

Lambda Iota Tau, national collegiate literary honorary founded on campus Dec. 3, announced the addition of three more chapters to bring the total to 15.

The new chapters, chartered within the past week are located at Nazareth College, Nazareth, Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, and Augsburg College, Minneapolis, Minn.

The nine chapters in Michigan will meet Saturday at 2 p.m. at Mercy College, Detroit, to hear the best initiation papers selected from each chapter.

A paper by Miss Susan Fide, graduate student, will represent MSC's chapter. It is entitled "John Adams and the Concept of the Individual in Society."

Bermuda Shorts Are Here to Stay

Ever since the first male took a pair of slacks and backed them off just above the knee, coeds have wanted to wear some, too.

The fad for Bermudas has spread from the east to MSC and this spring a few men on campus received amusing stares as they displayed their somewhat knobby knees.

Thinking they look just as good or better as the men, the coeds got into the act and began to wear Bermudas in East Lansing, and on the way to fairways, and tennis courts.

And with a caution to wear them at appropriate times and places, AWS Judiciary last week gave the go ahead sign and put Bermudas in the slacks, jeans, pedal pusher classification rather than the short-shorts group.

Maybe you think this is a good move and maybe you think the shorts should go back to the Bermudas.

But anyway you look at it—there are definite advantages to wearing Bermudas. For example:

1. Coeds now can leave that long coat back in the dorm on extra-hot days.
2. Approximately four more inches of the leg, depending on the length of the knee, will get a chance to fan.
3. They're cooler and neater than slacks and jeans.
4. Bermudas lend an Eastern flavor to MSC.

AWS Judiciary should be commended for their recognition of a "modern trend" in sportswear which has a definite appeal for coeds—and males—at many other American colleges.

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associate Press News Analyst

The Communists at Geneva, having heard the plain statements of the British and the earlier ones of the French that collective action to save Indochina must await results at the conference, now intend to confer at length while they see what they can do with intensified military action.

Red delegates are reported digging in for a long stay at Geneva, while building up their attack on the Red River.

If they can keep the settlement ball up in the air long enough, they may extend the conference beyond the rainy season to attack with major forces built up during the interval.

Against this background, France has stiffened her attitude from that of the earliest conference days, and is now earnestly conferring with the United States on what can be done immediately about the defense of Southeast Asia.

Britain, however, still sticking to the promise that nothing should be done about collective defense until the Geneva conference has been given every last opportunity to produce a settlement, was not invited to join the new Franco-American discussions.

That makes her mad, added as it is to the fact that she is also excluded from Anzus, the American—New Zealand—Australia defense pact for the Pacific, which Washington is also calling into play in connection with Indochina.

This is the background of President Eisenhower's statement Wednesday that it was possible some form of defense pact might be worked out without Britain, without waiting for the end of the Geneva Conference.

It would depend, of course, upon the attitude of the Asiatic nations which have been asked to participate, and on America's other allies.

There is as yet no formal consideration of the idea that it all else fails, the United States will have to move in alone to help France and the Indochinese states.

But even to contemplate a collective action without Britain, with her great interests in Southeast Asia and in Hong Kong, is a tremendous development. There is very grave doubt that it could or would be done, actually.

Foot-Loose and Fanciful

An Old Hassle

By BEV BUSCH
State News Editorial Assistant

Accumulating the great pile of letters to the editor has been one of the most exciting parts of the job as editorial assistant this term.

For their volume alone, the letters indicate that more than a few students are doing some thinking—not only that, they care enough to put their thoughts on paper.

Giving an opinion is one of the most human of human characteristics. But it takes effort to compose a letter to the editor.

The variety of subjects discussed has also been impressive. Coeds have complained about not being able to wear Bermuda shorts on campus. A group of male students has urged that the American flag be paid more respect. Campus police tactics have been reviewed, not always gently.

But the favorite topic has been criticism of the college's policies.

The cries? Administrative curbs hinder Joe College's chances for an education. They prevent him from developing his potentialities as an individual.

I thought the hassle was a new one until I started to leaf through State News issues from five years ago.

With varying degrees of severity, students attacked dorm food, "too-strict" house rules, married housing facilities and political inconsistencies on the part of the administration. Oilspeken State News columnists came in for their share of criticism, too.

Strangely enough, the "new" complaints sound like variations on the old themes.

Which leaves me to conclude that either students have lost their genius for originality or the administration, after weathering many such attacks—is convinced you can't please all of the people all of the time.

However, one timeless comment was made in October of 1950 by a fellow named Eugene Kierulff who, we trust, is long gone from MSC and East Lansing:

He wrote, "I don't see what all this squabbling is about anyway. I think that the administration is pretty good and if we let the administration have its own way, everything is going to be all right."

A profound observation, at that.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Miller

"I'm afraid the engineers have tricked you Miss Latour, the drawing course you were hired to model for is in the fine arts building."

Letters To The Editor:

Here's What We've Been Waiting For

To the Editor:

Girls—here is what you've all been waiting for.

Let's face it. Bermudas are here to stay! They are not only smart and stylish in the East but also on MSC's campus.

To be smart and stylish, clothes should be worn to fit the occasion. You wouldn't wear a formal to a baseball game. Likewise there is a time and place for Bermudas. In the past they have gone formal for fellows, but they're still in the sports category for girls.

Therefore, the same standards apply to Bermudas that apply to jeans and slacks. Another happy note—they don't need to be covered by long coats.

Along with every right goes responsibility. As students of MSC it is our duty to remember that each one of us is a part of the whole student body. Visitors, parents and conference delegates are continually visiting our campus.

Since the Union is the center of much of their activity as well as ours, the Union management urges that the same discretion be applied to Bermuda shorts as is to slacks and jeans.

What we should remember is that what we do now as individuals will reflect on the growing reputation of MSC. Therefore, here's to Bermudas. Let's wear them in good taste!

In my letter of May 19, a typographical error in the last paragraph refers to Indigo Jones, the jazz musician. Actually, his name is Inigo.

Incidentally, he is not the composer of "Mood Indigo." This was written by Gomer Jones, not to be confused, however, with the Welsh musician of the same name.

A famous man once said, "There's nothing like a dame."

I don't know if that is what made him famous, but it sure should have.

Take the dames (coeds) here at MSC, for example: A national magazine voted Michigan State as the college with the most beautiful coeds. And who's arguing (except that misguided Wayne U. editor)?

Spring is here and it becomes more and more evident that the magazine was absolutely right.

And two very recent developments substantiate the idea. At long last, coeds will be allowed to wear Bermuda shorts on campus. This was a major victory, because what is more silly than our fine femininity prancing around campus in a pair of shorts, and a long, long coat.

The other development is the attempt to install coeds on our cheering squad.

With all these beautiful misses populating MSC, it is only fitting that they should be on the cheering squad.

Not that I have anything against the present male cheerleaders. They do a fine job... of cheering.

But that isn't all cheerleaders are for. Just as important as leading a cheering section, which needs very little leading after it has started, is how the leaders look.

What could be better looking than four or five of MSC's "most beautiful coeds"?

Yep, it sure sounds good, (coed cheerleaders) cause like the man said—"There's nothing like a dame."

Spring Parties to Reach Peak

Lambda Chis to Crown Queen at Term Dance

By JEAN GREGORY

The MSC spring social whirl will reach its peak this weekend as Spartans take part in an array of term dances, parties and picnics.

Lambda Chi Alpha's "Crescent Ball" will be held Friday night at the Indian Hills Country Club. Caroyl Whitney, Jackson sophomore and the fraternity's Crescent Queen, will be presented with a trophy during her reign over the dance. Tommy Aquino will play for the formal dinner dance. Decorations will include the Lambda Chi colors and crest.

Alpha Kappa Psi members have scheduled their semi-formal term party in Union Parlor A, B and C for Saturday night. The professional business fraternity will celebrate its 50th anniversary at the dinner dance. Ray Robinson's band will play.

Mason and Butterfield Halls will hold a joint semi-formal term party at Kellogg Center Friday night. Decorations for the "Butter Ball" will be floral arrangements. Keith Barto's orchestra will play.

The American Room at the Hotel Olds will be the scene of Kappa Alpha Theta's formal term party Saturday night. Tommy Aquino's band will play.

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority members are staging a party Saturday night to raise money for celebratory victims. Title of the party is "Sweet Stuff" with cardboard ice cream cones and candy decorations to carry out the theme.

Gary Cutler's band is scheduled to play for Delta Chi's formal dinner dance at Kellogg Center Saturday night. Floral arrangements will add to the spring atmosphere.

A French motif will be the keynote of Phi Kappa Tau's semi-formal term party at the Indian Hills Country Club Saturday night. Awards will be made to the outstanding fraternity members during intermission of the dance.

Alpha Tau Omega has scheduled its "Blackfoot Ball" for Saturday night at the ATO house. Rex Smith's band will play for dancing in the ballroom and a combo will provide music on the lantern lighted porch.

"Starlight Serenade" is the title of Alpha Gamma Rho's semi-formal term dance Friday night. Ray Robinson's band will play for the dance being held at the American Legion Hall.

Garlands of flowers will decorate the Sigma Nu house for the fraternity's "White Rose Formal" Friday night. Chinese lanterns and candles will light the terrace for dancing.

Delta Sigma Pi will use a Greek theme for its formal dinner dance Friday night. Greek letters made of rosebuds will decorate the speakers' table. Gary Cutler's orchestra will play for the dance.

chestra will play for the dance to be held at the Hotel Olds.

East and West Shaw Hall will hold their annual dinner dance in the dormitory Saturday night. The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Serenaders will play for the semi-formal term party.

An outdoor "square" dance is being planned by Farmhouse fraternity members for Friday night. Records will provide music for both round and square dancing.

Following a Scotch golf tournament in the afternoon, Chi Omega and their dates will dance to the music of a diviand combo Saturday night at the Hollywood Drive-In.

Beta Theta Pi pledges will entertain at a western party Friday night. Bales of straw and brass spittoons will add to the atmosphere.

The YMCA house in Lansing will be the scene of Asher House's semi-formal dinner dance Saturday night. The affair will be held in honor of graduating senior residents. Bill Traverser's band will play for the event.

"Shrimp Boats Are Coming" is the theme of Sanford House's informal dinner dance Friday night. The party will be held on the lawn.

Planning parties for the weekend are Newman Club at the East Lansing State Park and the Women's Cooperative League and Men's Inter-Coop Council at Alward Lake Resort Saturday.

Sigma Chi Pick Finalists

Dee Nicholson, Royal Oak sophomore, Carolyn Johnson, South Bend, Ind., junior and Diane Racmer, Grand Rapids freshman, have been announced finalists for the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi title. They were chosen after last weekend's parties honoring the 32 candidates.

Announcement of the queen and her court will be made during the intermission of the Sweetheart Ball May 29. The winner will be presented with a bouquet of white roses.

According to Deane Paulson, Barrington, Ill., sophomore and chairman of the contest, the queen will act as hostess for all Sigma Chi events of the coming year.

Rhinestone pins and buckles sparkle like new after a 15-minute soaking in gasoline and a rubbing with a flannel cloth.

Practicing for the Quadtrillion Ball scheduled for Friday night are: Pete Jolly, Muncie, Ind., senior; Sally Crick, Alpena sophomore; Steve McHugh, Toledo, O., senior and Mitzi Morris, Chlo senior.

Tony Pastor To Play at Mood Indigo

Latticework of real flowers and blue lights will be the setting for the Quadtrillion Ball Friday night at the Lansing Masonic Temple. Sponsoring the dance are Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Kappa, Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

"Mood Indigo," the theme of the dance, will be written in tinsel hanging from the balcony over the bandstand. "Quadtrillion Ball" written on blue velvet will provide the backdrop for Tony Pastor's band.

Each house will donate an act for entertainment. The Phi Phi's are sponsoring Bonnie Stark, East Lansing senior, in a drum act, and a dance team Mary Holmes, Birmingham sophomore, and Bob Fallon, Dearborn sophomore.

Sigma Kappa will contribute the acts of Pat Roberts, Kalamazoo sophomore and Shirley Pine, Plymouth sophomore and the Phi Delta Theta quartette.

The Delta will provide piano music by Pete Jolly, Muncie, Ind., senior. SAE's quartette will sing several numbers.

Guests of honor will be President and Mrs. John Hannah, Dean and Mrs. Tom King and former MSC All American football players Bob Carey and Sonny Grandelius.

Contests, Picnic Stated For Beta, Phi Tau Day

A tug of war across the Red Cedar will open the annual Beta Theta Pi-Phi Kappa Tau Day Saturday.

The fraternities will hold a picnic and softball game. The house quartettes will also vie for honors of the day.

The winner will receive the traveling trophy. The Phi Tau have won the last four years.

Alpha Gams Schedule May Day Breakfast

May poles will decorate the tables at the Alpha Gamma Delta May Morning Breakfast Sunday. The annual breakfast is held in honor of the graduating seniors and alumni. Awards will be given to outstanding seniors.

Ballot Box

Churches Plan Activities

CSF to Hold Retreat

Christian Student Foundation members will leave Friday afternoon for their annual CSF Spring Retreat. The weekend of worship, study and recreation will be spent at Camp Tyrone near Flint. Main speakers will be Dr. William McKeefery, Dean of Alma College; Dr. Walter Watt of the State Department of Mental Health; Rev. Roy Schramm from College House and Nancy Daugherty, graduate student from Central Michigan College.

A denominational breakfast will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. in Peoples Church and Campus Vespers will be held in the social hall at 7:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Matthews and a Malayan boy will discuss the mission work of Varaton, Mexico, followed by a coffee hour at College House.

CSF seniors will be honored at a banquet Thursday, May 27. Reservations may be made by calling College House before Friday.

Gamma Delta is planning a "Farm Party" Friday night at Riley. Sunday night the group will discuss "My Purpose in Life" in 34 Union.

Caterbury Club will continue the spring discussion series, "Toward a Christian Understanding of Sex" Sunday at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Virgil Scott, of the English department will address the group in All-Saints Episcopal Church.

The Lutheran Student Association plans an outdoor social to be held Friday at 8 p.m. at College Lutheran Church.

Thursday, May 26, graduating students will be honored at College Lutheran Church in a senior baccalaureate service. A special corporate service of holy communion will be followed by an informal open house and coffee hour.

Newman Club will sponsor a communion breakfast following the 8:45 mass. A Legion of Mary meeting is scheduled for Sunday morning at 11. Open house and Philosophy Club will be held at 9 p.m.

A picnic is planned by Hillel Foundation Sunday at Portage Lake County Park. Hillel students from the U. of M. Wayne, Western Michigan College, Michigan State Normal and MSC will take part in swimming, boating and a tug of war.

Tall Trophy To Go to Best Bull-Thrower

A one-and-a-half foot tall gold trophy is the reward offered to the student who can sling the bull the best in Pi Kappa Delta's annual bull-throwing contest.

The call is out for students with a gift of gab, the kind who bull their way through blue books, who can talk their way out of anything—or who have the proverbial mile-long line.

Entrants are not limited to any specific topic. They fill out the applications and make their choice.

Serious speeches, persuasive speeches, humorous speeches—anything goes. The judging will be on whether or not the speech fills the requirements for the type it is intended to be.

The national speech honorary sponsors the contest to give students who do not ordinarily get in speech tournaments an opportunity to participate in a speaking competition.

The bull-throwing contest also is to encourage interest in speech activities and recognize outstanding achievement in public speaking.

Applications, which can be picked up at living unit desks or the Union Desk, must be turned in to Dave Hyman at the student government office by May 22.

Sopranos to Sing Friday on WKAR

WKAR will present a program featuring Ruth Crawford, Grand Lodge senior, and Jean Gilbert, Centerline sophomore, in a recital Friday at 2:15 p.m.

Miss Crawford, a soprano, will sing "Ten Years" by Haby and "Belong" by Haby and Fenton. Miss Gilbert, a mezzo-soprano, will sing "Spirate, Pur Spirate" by Donaudy and "The Quest" by Eleanor Smith.

The two will also sing a duet "Tis Evening." Accompanist will be Ronald Allen, Leslie senior.

MSC Visitor Urges Atlantic Union Plan

Visiting Michigan State last week to sell the idea of Atlantic Union was Mrs. Chas. Osborn, widow of a former Michigan governor and state chairman of the Atlantic Union committee.

According to Mrs. Osborn, the purpose of the national committee is to strengthen NATO by federation. An international conference to discuss the possibility of federation is the immediate objective of the group, Mrs. Osborn said.

A resolution asking President Eisenhower to call such a convention has been prepared for introduction in Congress, Mrs. Osborn said.

Mrs. Osborn has been working on the union idea for four years. Last year she attended the Second International Conference on Atlantic Unity in Copenhagen, Sweden.

But, says Mrs. Osborn, unity is not enough. "It is too late for small countries to be independent; interdependence is needed. Union is a necessity," she said.

Mrs. Osborn said that General of the Army Alfred M. Guenther has strongly backed the union idea saying that it is needed for defense today.

Mrs. Osborn's husband was governor of Michigan in 1911-12.

Activities Carnival Entrants to Meet

Meetings for representatives from all organizations planning to enter next fall's Activities Carnival will be held tonight in 22 Union.

Representatives can attend either a 7 or a 7:30 meeting. A spot in the Carnival cannot be guaranteed, organization which fail to send a representative said Kins Hagadorn, general chairman.

Representatives should submit plans on booth, space and facilities their organization will require, Hagadorn said.

Brownell and other top-level government officials.

Eisenhower's order prevented Adams from giving further details of this meeting. The President said Wednesday he regarded the meeting as a side issue, with no bearing on the real issues in the McCarthy-Army row. And he said he issued the order when he did as a means of getting the investigation back on the main line.

Four of the seven members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which is conducting the inquiry, indicated the way may now be clear for going ahead with the public hearings.

Murphy, who held a luncheon conference with Brownell on the matter, said he agreed with the President 100 per cent that the hearings should continue.

Murphy said, however, some subcommittee members still may have questions about Stevens' statement.

Eliminations to Begin

Petitions Due Today For Water Carnival

Canoe racers, tilters and log burlers must petition today at the Union Desk to enter Water Carnival water sports events.

Preliminary eliminations will begin today on the Red Cedar in front of Shaw Dormitory. Interested participants may try out even though they have not previously petitioned.

Publications Banquet to Honor Staffs

Dinner to Feature Speeches, Skits

Staffs, advisors and guests of MSC's five student publications will be honored at the annual Publications Banquet tonight at 6:15 in the Union Ballroom.

Prof. A. A. Applegate, head of the journalism department, will make the evening's main address. Master of ceremonies at the banquet will be Phil Gunby, fall and winter term manager of the State News.

All five publications will vie for possession of the "tin can trophy," awarded for the presentation of the best skit at the banquet. Last year's winner was the Veterinarian Magazine staff.

Skits will be judged by members of the Board of Publications, which includes Applegate, James Denison, administrative assistant to President Hannah in charge of public relations, Tom King, dean of students, Philip May, comptroller and treasurer, William McElrath, director of student publications, Pat Yaroch, State News editor-in-chief, Don Blome, Spartan Magazine editor, and Quentin Stultz, Wolverine editor.

New editors of the five publications will announce appointments for next year. Gold and silver keys will be awarded to staff members who have given outstanding service.

Mixed and men's doubles preliminaries will be held at 2 this afternoon, said Ron Turnbull, chairman of water sports. Gunwale and centepede competition is scheduled for 4 this afternoon.

Log burling and canoe tilting elimination will start Saturday morning at 10. All contestants are urged to be as early as possible and to contact Turnbull in case of any questions.

Water sports final competition for trophies will be run off at 3:45 p.m. and during intermission of the Carnival, June 3, 4 and 5.

Tickets sales begin Tuesday at the Union Ticket Office. There will be no reserved seats and no limit of tickets per customer.

Tickets will be $1.25 for the Thursday night show and $1.50 for Friday and Saturday nights, said Bill Shannon, chairman of the ticket and program committee.

Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, will usher at all three shows. Senior class President Ferns Hallmark, and Secretary Lee Hammesky, will ride on the king and queen float which precedes living unit floats in the show.

It was suggested by Carnival general chairman that the secretary of the senior class be queen in cases where the vice-president and secretary are both coeds.

Float construction for living units will begin on the river June 1. A general rehearsal for coordination of production, music, continuity, announcers, lighting and timing will be held June 2 at 7 p.m. on the river.

Plans are being carried out for a publicity drive for the Carnival in Ann Arbor to promote relations with the University of Michigan, said Skip Sommer, chairman of publicity.

Life magazine photographers will attend the Carnival this year and possibly cover the event in a fall issue. Pamphlets advertising the show were sent to 16 national magazines by the publicity committee.

Scholarship improvement trophies are accepted by Barbara Peck for Kappa Kappa Gamma, Maggie Howes for Alpha Xi Delta and Mrs. Paul Van Keuren, president of the Panfil alumni advisers, for Delta Delta Delta.

Kappa Gammas Get Scholarship Trophy

Kappa Kappa Gamma had to move its scholarship trophy Wednesday—to make room for another one.

The Kappas permanently retired their second straight Panfil trophy by compiling the highest sorority scholastic average for the sixth straight term during winter term.

Last spring, Kappa Kappa Gamma retired its first trophy for topping the scholastic list for three straight terms. The new trophy was awarded for keeps after the Kappas attained the highest average for fall, winter and last spring terms.

Judy Strong, Panfil president, presented the award after the Registrar's Office released the figures early this week. The Kappas won with a 2.90 average for combined actives and pledges.

Close behind was Alpha Chi Omega with a 2.85 figure. The Alpha Chis compiled the highest active average with 2.99 but a 2.58 pledge average pulled the sorority down to second place.

The Kappas and Pi Beta Phi each had a 2.96 active average, but the Kappa pledges averaged 2.71 while those of the Pi Chis dragged the sorority's average to 2.85 with a 2.45 mark—the lowest pledge average of all sororities.

Winning the scholarship improvement trophy for actives was Delta Delta Delta, which jumped from a 2.64 fall-term average to a 2.78.

Ike Sees Unified Asia Plan

Alliance Aims At Blocking Reds

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower said Wednesday it might be possible for free nations to forge a collective defense of Red threatened Southeast Asia without British cooperation.

His words clearly foreshadowed a drive by the United States to organize a limited "united front" if Britain continues to delay joining until after the Geneva conference ends.

The President spoke out about this possibility a few minutes after reviewing Indochina developments with Secretary of State Dulles at the White House.

Eisenhower said, in answering questions, that any Southeast Asian alliance of free countries which does not include Britain would be less satisfactory than that originally envisioned.

Dulles has proposed that nations, including Britain, line up with the United States in an alliance aimed at blocking Red aggression in Indochina from spilling out into other Southeast Asian nations.

Eisenhower, talking to reporters, said that with the proper Asiatic nations and Australia and New Zealand it might be possible to assure the security of Southeast Asia.

He did not identify the Asiatic nations he had in mind but they are reported to be at least Thailand and the Philippines, both of which have indicated they would join, and possibly Burma, which is also reported definitely interested.

Eisenhower's remarks about the possibility of moving ahead with an alliance constituted the first on-the-record hint that such a course was being considered.

His remarks were also apparently aimed to prod the British into at least discussing firm plans for such an alliance before the Geneva parley ends.

Meanwhile, western diplomats here said military representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Australia and New Zealand would meet here within the next few days to discuss Indochina and Southeast Asia.

McCarthy, Stassen Clash On Trade Issue

Senator Opposes U. S. Intervention in Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy and Harold E. Stassen, the administration's foreign aid chief, clashed angrily Wednesday over the effectiveness of America's efforts to control strategic trade with the Communists.

McCarthy, in a Senate speech, said that with the possibility of American intervention in Indochina, "It is a criminal folly to give money to those who are shipping the goods of military and economic strength to our enemies."

The Wisconsin senator called on Congress to "bring honor out of dishonor" by acting to halt trade in war goods between America's allies and Red China.

He criticized Stassen's actions in the trade control field.

McCarthy had hardly finished speaking before Stassen fired back with a statement asserting that what McCarthy said was "fantastic, unbelievable and untrue."

We are steadily building for peace under President Eisenhower's leadership, while Sen. McCarthy is frantically reaching for reactionary headlines after the "spectacle" of his record in recent hearings," Stassen said.

Stassen, Chief of the Foreign Operations Administration, said the full report of our success in administration of trade control is contained in the detailed report submitted to Congress May 15.

McCarthy attacked an agreement reached by Stassen with representatives of Great Britain and France in London last March on an agreement, described at the time as easing controls on trading with Soviet Russia, but with security safeguards.

Proposing that the Senate withhold FOA funds until Stassen lists "every type of material which we have agreed that our allies can ship to our enemies," the Senator named these as things the United States "must do."

Blockade the coast of China by telling American allies they will not get one cent of American money so long as they either ship goods to Red China or allow their ships to be used to carry cargoes to Red China.

Let Chiang Kai-shek know he has our approval if he decides to return with his Chinese Nationalist troops to the mainland of China.

A communique issued after the London conference said the Big Three would work for "an expansion of trade" with the Soviet bloc in Europe "compatible with security requirements."

The negotiations ruled out any change in the tight controls on trade with Red China and North Korea.

The communique said the United States, Britain and France will open talks with Allied countries with a view to revising the

Scientist Speaks To Detroit Group

DETROIT (AP)—A noted atomic scientist said Wednesday atomic-powered planes, trains and ships "quite possibly" may be developed within the next decade.

Dr. John R. Dunning, dean of the College of Engineering at Columbia University, added how- ever, the real future of atomic energy lies in the generation of electric power.

Dr. Dunning, a physicist who helped develop the first atomic bomb, spoke at a patent seminar in Detroit sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers.

He said private industry would bring into the field of atomic energy and its peacetime use, if Congress would extend patent protection to atomic inventions.

Under present law, the Atomic Energy Commission takes over new atomic developments, paying the inventor a lump sum.

No company is justified in spending large sums of money for research or inventions that it cannot own, Dr. Dunning said.

Before the seminar got under way, the NAM said North American Aviation, Inc., at Downey, Calif., had promised to exhibit at the convention a "working model" or the prototype of an atomic aircraft engine.

This gave rise to reports that the company had an atomic-powered plane in production.

But a spokesman for North American denied that his company either was making or planning to make atomic aircraft engines.

The spokesman said North American is conducting experiments with atomic reactors trying to develop electric power but that the work has nothing to do with airplanes.

Ag Commentators Trained on Campus

BY STEVE HENDERLEITER

The day when a farmer can turn on his television set and view the latest improvements in agricultural methods isn't far in the future.

First, however, men must be trained in issuing agricultural information. The job has been undertaken on campus by a group known as the National Project in Agricultural communications, which has its national headquarters in Wells Hall.

The aim of the NPAC is to train newspaper editors, radio and TV men, scientists and lecturers in the field of farm news so that they may, in turn, instruct the public.

Working in cooperation with other land grant colleges in the Midwest, and financed jointly by the colleges and the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, the project teaches men how to get agricultural ideas to the public.

Plans Begin For Yule Decoration

Students to Join With East Lansing

Christmas is not too far away to start planning for street decorations, said Dave Hyman, president of student government.

Student government hopes to organize a joint enterprise between East Lansing and the college to sponsor the Christmas decorations, Hyman said.

Two choruses set up as a Christmas display by East Lansing merchants last December were damaged and stolen by unknown vandals. A $100 reward was then offered for information on those who destroyed the display.

Tentative plans are being considered to hold a contest each year between the living units for the best Christmas display. An award would be given to the winning unit, Hyman stated.

The displays, featuring some phase of Christmas festivities, would be situated on Grand River. They might result in permanent exhibits, he added. "Christmas in Many Lands" may dominate the displays, Hyman said.

Definite plans for the joint organization will be discussed at the meeting of the Merchants Association next Tuesday, said Harold Garfield, board director.

Garfield commented that if there is this unity between the city and the college it may prevent a repeated theft of decorations which occurred last year.

Alligators and caymans are distinguished from crocodiles by having shorter, blunter jaws, and they are considered to be less active and vicious.

Leonard Resigns From Job as Detroit Police Commissioner

DETROIT (AP)—Donald S. Leonard formally resigned as Detroit Police Commissioner Wednesday to seek the Republican nomination for governor.

In doing so, he turned down Mayor Albert E. Cobo's offer of a leave of absence. The resignation is effective June 3.

Leonard said he believed a leave of absence would be "unadvisable." Cobo agreed that a leave might have had political implications.

The former state police commissioner announced his candidacy in March. He is one of five in the Republican race. The others are Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary, State Treasurer J. Hale Brooke, State Sen. George N. Higgins, and former U. S. Gov. Eugene C. Hayes.

Leonard ran for the nomination in 1952 and despite a late start on his campaign he received 255,000 votes. He was runner-up to Fred M. Alger, who lost to Democratic Gov. Williams in the general election. Williams is seeking a fourth term.

Leonard draws $16,531 a year as police commissioner. Mayor Cobo said he had in mind for the job "a man with an outstanding reputation" but he was not ready to name him yet.

Mentioned as possible successors to Leonard have been Brig. Gen. Clyde E. Dougherty, city civil defense director; Fred Harris, former state racing commissioner; and Donald Slutz, managing director of the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit.

Kaline's Single Wins

Detroit Beats A's in Ninth, 4-3

DETROIT (AP)—Tiger right-fielder Al Kaline drilled a single through the box with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to give Detroit a 4-3 win over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Tigers, who won their fifth game in six starts, filled the bases against Philadelphia starter Alex Kellner in the ninth without a hit. Ray Boone walked to open the inning. Wilbur Shantz, A's catcher, made a two-base throwing error on Walt Drope's sacrifice bunt and Boone went around to third and Drope took second.

After Kellner intentionally walked Don Lund to fill the bases, he was replaced by Ed Bertschy. Kaline hit Bertschy's first serve between short and third to win the game.

The A's had taken a 3-2 lead in the top of the eighth on first baseman Don Bollweg's homer. Detroit tied the score in the eighth.

Dick Marlowe, third Detroit pitcher, hurled only the ninth inning and retired the A's in order to pick up his second victory against no defeats.

YANKS WIN AGAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Yankees whipped the Chicago White Sox 3-2 Wednesday to make a clean sweep of their two-game series at Comiskey Park. Bob Grim, who replaced Ed Lopat as the Yankee pitcher in the eighth, was credited with the win. Billy Pierce went all the way for Chicago.

LEMON BEATS ROSEN

CLEVELAND (AP)—Scoring two unearned runs in the eighth inning on two errors by shortstop Milt Bolling, the Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-3, Wednesday for their seventh consecutive victory.

Right-hander Bob Lemon, who allowed only four hits, registered his sixth win of the season, without a loss, and Al Rosen hit his sixth homer in five straight games. Boston 010 000 000—3 4 3
Cleveland 012 000 025—5 7 1
Nixon and White, Lemon and Naragon. Home run—Cleveland, Rosen.

RASCHI WINS FIRST

NEW YORK (AP)—Vic Raschi turned in his first National League shutout Wednesday, pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-0 victory over the New York Giants. The former New York Yankee permitted only five hits in recording his first win without a defeat.

The Cardinals collected eight hits off starter and loser Sal Maglie, including home runs by Red Schoendienst and Rip Repulski. Raschi batted in the other run with a single. The loss was Mag-lie's second of the season against five victories.

Raschi exhibited perfect control as he hurled his third complete game in eight starts this season. He walked no one, struck out two and retired the last 15 batters he faced.

Only one Giant reached second. That was Wes Westrum, who led off the third with a single and was sacrificed to second. But Raschi then disposed of Whitey Lockman on a foul and Alvin Dark on a fly to get out of his only uneasy moment.

St. Louis 110 000 100—3 8 9
New York 000 000 000—0 5 9
Raschi and Rice, Maglie, Wilhelm 9, and Westrum, Katt 8, 1—Maglie. Home runs—St. Louis, Schoendienst, Repulski.

Michigan Drops Netmen To Avenge Earlier Loss

Cagers to Perform In Intrasquad Game

By MIKE CARR

Spartan fans are going to get a chance to see another Green-White game this spring—this time for free.

Coach Forrest (Forddy) Anderson, new head mentor of the Michigan State basketball team, has announced his decision to throw open the last spring practice session to the public, Tuesday, May 25, and hold a regulation-type intra-squad game.

This move by Anderson was prompted by the desire to acquaint the students with the new coach, his staff, the new members of the team and the new type of game they are going to play next season.

Anderson is the man who replaced Pete Newell at the end of this last season when Newell left for the University of California.

Before he came to State, the new coach guided the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Drake University and spent six years at Bradley. In his nine years as a head coach, his teams have won 205 games against 84 losses for a phenomenal .709 percentage.

His Bradley teams have been involved in six tournaments, including two Sugar Bowl Invitational, two National Invitational, and two National Collegiate. He won one of the Sugar Bowl classics, and finished second four times and fourth once in the other five tourney tests.

The latest triumph for his teams was this year when Bradley went all the way to the finals of the NCAA championships before bowing to La-Salle.

Anderson teaches a completely different type of basketball than his predecessor, Newell, who stressed the slow, control brand of ball. Anderson teams play a much faster game with the accent on scoring.

He plans to hold the game in Jensen Gymnasium, at 4:00, Tuesday afternoon. The game will be regulation in every respect with the squad divided into two teams of equal strength—or as equal as possible.

Al Rosen's Favorite Bat Declared Illegal by Ump

CLEVELAND (AP)—Umpire Charley Berry ruled Al Rosen's favorite bat was illegal Wednesday after finding that it contained several small nails.

The 35-ounce bat became an issue as the Cleveland Indians' first baseman stepped to the plate in the fifth inning of Wednesday's game with the Boston Red Sox.

At the urging of Boston catcher Sammy White, Umpire Berry took Rosen's bat, found the nails in a checked section at the heavy end, and tossed it to the Tribe dugout.

"I knew someone was going to catch up with this sooner or later, but I was going to keep it as long as possible," grinned Rosen later.

"I've used this one practically all season."

Rosen's 38 runs-batted-in and his nine homers are reasons enough for his affection for the old bat.

"The bat started to check a short while back and I put the nails in," Rosen explained.

Umpire Berry agreed that this was "common practice," but not legal, all the same.

State Takes Two Doubles But Falls, 6-3

The University of Michigan's tennis team reversed an earlier season defeat at the hands of MSC by beating the Spartans, 6-3 at Ann Arbor Wednesday.

Dave Brogan emerged as the only bright spot in State's lineup as he won the lone single match for the Spartans and teamed with Jim Beecham to win the number three doubles.

After the defeat, Coach Frank Beeman said that the teams were so evenly matched that the advantage of the home court was the determining factor in each team's victory.

State dumped the Wolves last week on the Spartan court. Michigan piled up a 5-1 lead in the singles and salvaged one doubles match to gain the victory.

Besides Brogan and Beecham's doubles win, Jim Pore and Dick Menzel added to the Spartans' score with a win in the number one doubles match.

Pore dropped the number one singles match to Al Mann, 6-3 and 7-5, and Menzel was defeated by Pete Pauls in the number two spot, 1-6, 6-1 and 6-4.

Dave Brogan defeated Bob Taylor in three games, 1-6, 6-2 and 6-2. Bob Mitchell and Bob Saxone defeated John Brogan and Jimmy Hoffman in the last two singles matches.

Black Loses First After 20 Straight

DETROIT (AP)—Carmine Fiore, a savage left-hander from Brooklyn, scored two knockdowns Wednesday night with a unanimous 10-round decision over Jess Black of Janesville, Wis. Fiore weighed 146, Black 144.

Fiore floored Black for eight counts in the third and seventh rounds with surprising but left hooks to end Black's unbeaten string at 27 fights.

The scowling Brooklyn brawler in the first two rounds was edged away at Black's side.

There was no doubt about the decision as all three officials gave Fiore a wide margin. Referee Jackie Swartz called it 94-82; Judge Bill Appleton 93-85 and Judge Joe Greenberg 98-85.

The 24-year-old Black, who learned the rudiments of boxing at Michigan State College, showed his class in the first two rounds, but Fiore flashed his reputed left hook in the third and it hurt Black was an 8 to 5 underdog.

Big Fourth Inning Aids State in Beating Wayne, 6-2

Brown Hits Homer; Mansfield Cops Win

By RON KOHL

Michigan State, leader of the Big 10 baseball race, scored a 6-2 victory over Wayne University in a non-conference game Wednesday afternoon.

The Spartans put together two hits, a walk and three Wayne errors in the fourth inning. Single runs were added in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. The seventh inning tally was a bases-empty home run by leftfielder Dan Brown.

Wayne was held hitless until the seventh inning although scoring in the fourth on three walks, and a fielder's choice. Three straight singles accounted for Wayne's second and final run in the last inning.

Three sophomore pitchers worked against the Tartars. Walt Godfrey started the game and went three complete innings before giving way to Bill Mansfield in the fourth.

Godfrey retired the first nine men to face him, but walked three men in a row in the fourth frame before Mansfield took over with the bases loaded.

Mansfield, who received credit for the victory, hurled the fourth and fifth innings but was benched after a collision with Wayne's second baseman in a close play at first. Bud Rullier finished on the mound.

The trio struck out six and gave up five bases on balls while hurling the Spartans to their 15th triumph in 21 starts.

Catcher Tom Yewic started Michigan State's three-run fourth inning by doubling to right field. Second baseman George Smith drew a base on balls. Godfrey then, singled to center, scoring Yewic and Smith, and took second on the throw to the plate.

An error by Wayne's second baseman put Chuck Matthews, Spartan first sacker, on base and allowed Godfrey to go to third.

Attempting to catch Godfrey off third, catcher Dick Godelewski threw the ball over the Tartar third baseman's head into left field, scoring Godfrey.

Ray Colard, who came in to run for Bob Powell, who was struck on the head on the first ball pitched to him in the fifth, scored from third on a double-play, placing Brown on second. Brown got on base with a single to center.

Brown, with one out in the fourth, scored State's fifth run when he slammed a home run ball onto Grand River Ave. for his second four-bagger of the season.

Wayne's first run came in the fourth frame when left fielder Larry Kuzniar, with the bases loaded, hit a grounder to Smith who forced Dick Ortiz at second, allowing Don Halzerson to score on a fielder's choice.

With two men on, and one down, Tartar third baseman Tom Gales grounded to Smith who forced to shortstop John Matsock scoring second, forcing Kuzniar, and Matsock relayed to first ending the inning with a double play.

Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi Tied in IFC Meet

Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi were tied with 13 points each as the first day's competition in the Fraternity Track Meet ended. Delta Tau Delta was second with nine points followed by AGE with 8.

Dee McDonald won the broad jump for the Snakes with a leap of 15 feet, 10 inches. Mark McIntosh of Sigma Chi placed second with 19 3/4.

McIntosh came back in the high jump with a leap of 5' 5" to take first place honors. Second place was shared by John Proctor of AGR and Don Butcher of Delta Tau Delta. Both jumped 5' 4".

Terry Henderson accounted for Sigma Nu's other first by putting the shot 38' 10". McIntosh, the day's top scorer, was second on a 37' 2 1/2" effort.

Ed Houldsworth of Delta Tau Delta did the half-mile in 2:09.4 for the first place. Proctor was second.

Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi and ATO each qualified five men in the 100, 200 and 50-yard low hurdles. Delta Tau Delta, AGR, Psi U and Delta each placed two men, and SAE and Phi Kappa Tau qualified one.

These three events, along with the mile, 440 and the relay will be run tomorrow when the two-day meet is concluded.

Michigan State's first All-American, Neno (Jerry) DePrato, scored 188 points on 24 touchdowns during the 1915 season.

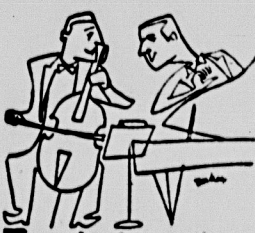

Gosper Leads Way

Thinclads Turn in Top Times

With Kevan Gosper leading the way, Michigan State trackmen have turned in best performances in the Big 10 in two events, Illinois, featuring a couple of Willie Thompson in the hurdles and Williams in the sprints tops the league with four bests, followed by Michigan with three and Iowa and State with two. Indiana, Northwestern and Purdue thinclads have each turned in one top flight performance.

Although currently sidelined with a sore leg which may keep him out of the Big 10 meet, Gosper toured 440 yards of cinder in 48.5 and tied with teammate Bradham at 21.2 in the 220.

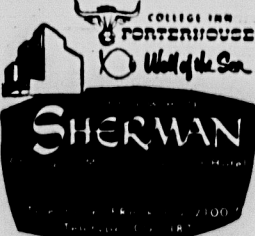

Bradham also holds the fourth best time in the 100 with a clocking of .09.9. Williams has done the century in .09.4.

WORLD FAMOUS RESTAURANTS

State hurdles Joe Savoldi and Capt. John Corbelli have turned in the third best time for the high hurdles with .14.5, and Corbelli is third in the lows with .23.2. Savoldi ranks fifth in the lows on a time of .23.7.

Wolverine captain Fritz Nilsson tops both the shotputters and discus throwers with efforts of 55' 4 1/2" and 173' respectively.

Thompson leads in both hurdle events with times of .14.0 in the highs and .22.7 in the lows.

Spartan Jim Vrooman ranks third in the high jump with a 6' 4 1/2" effort.

Indo Reds Attacked From Air

French Bomb-
Weapons Men

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French planes launched massive air attacks Wednesday on Vietnamese rebels which are moving north from the Red River Delta.

Rebels, a French official said, could attack in strength within four weeks.

While the bombers were planning the Communist-led rebels, the high command announced the arrival in Hanoi of 24 more wounded French Union prisoners from the fallen fortress of Dien Bien Phu. This made a total of 44 evacuated thus far.

A Vietnamese defector source, said in Geneva Dien Bien Phu's heroic French nurse, Genevieve de Galard Terrance, would be released sometime Wednesday. But there was no confirmation at a late hour from Hanoi. A French News Agency dispatch quoted evacuated soldiers as saying she would remain until the last wounded are taken out.

The French threw all their available resources into the task of speeding the evacuation of the wounded. They hoped to get the rate to at least 20 a day. Vietnamese Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap agreed to the initial release of 20 of the most serious cases, among the 1,000 to 2,000 wounded at the fortress when it fell.

Fifty French survivors who escaped from the fortress in its dying hours, reached safety in Laos after an 80-mile trek through the jungle and mountain country. They were among the defenders of the last position in the fortress to fall on May 8. They were identified as three Thai mountain troops and two non-communist officers.

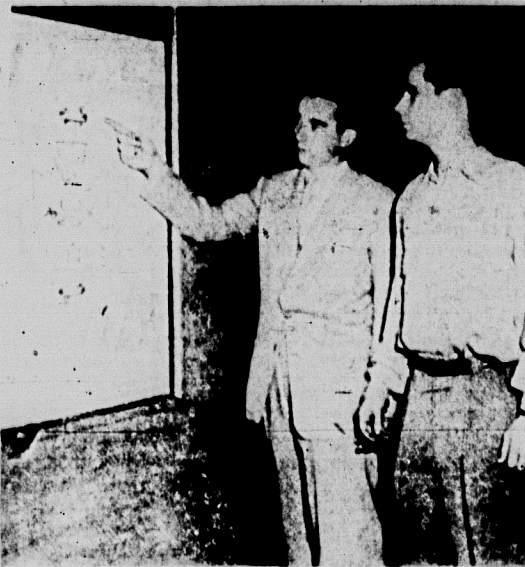

The chiefs of France's armed forces arrived in Hanoi to see what could be done to meet the ever-growing threat to the fertile rice bowl area.

Flying in from Saigon were Gen. Paul Ely, chief of staff, Gen. Raoul Salan, former commander in chief in Indochina, Gen. Pierre Feltus, the general air staff chief, were accompanied by Gen. Henri Navarre, the present commander in chief in Indochina.

Gen. Salan and Feltus will make an intensive study of the military situation already officially described as "serious, but far from hopeless and not desperate."

They are called snow flies, often are observed on snow in late winter. Little is known about them.

Graduation Scheduled For 4 p.m.

Ceremony Time
Moved Up an Hour

Time of the spring term graduation ceremony on June 6 has been moved up from 5 to 4 p.m.

The last-minute switch was made in order to obtain Dr. Arthur S. Adams as commencement speaker, according to Russell A. Runkles, chairman of the commencement committee. He said Adams would not have been able to keep an engagement to speak at graduation at Pennsylvania State University the morning of June 7 if the MSC ceremony had not been changed.

Graduation announcements, however, still will say 5 p.m., because they had gone to the printer before the change was made. All other official announcements will be correct, Runkles said.

Commencement is held in Macklin Stadium, or, in case of rain in Jensen Fieldhouse.

The 5 o'clock time was originally chosen because the sun has gone down enough to shade visitors in the west stands, Runkles explained.

Engineer's Group Elects Linton, Herrick as Heads

Jerry Linton was elected president of the Engineering Council Wednesday night. He succeeds George Pence.

Elected vice-president was Dick Herrick, who was chairman of the exposition committee this year. Other officers elected were: Earl Terpstra, secretary; Gordon Melencamp, treasurer; John Templeton, public relations and Gary Morden, sergeant-at-arms.

The council members also discussed plans for next year's Engineering Exposition.

U. S. steel making capacity has increased since 1946 by more than enough to produce 32 million more tons a year.

Brubaker Named President

Miss Dempsey again stated that she was "positive" nothing had been said about the banner.

In closing, Coulter asked the court to "judge the law itself and to consider if the defendant violated the spirit of the law."

The case for the Election Board was presented by Don Hadden, chairman of the board. Hadden called no witnesses, but pointed out that "violation of either the letter or the spirit of the law was wrong."

Three of the original complainants attended the hearing but were not called as witnesses. They are Dean Watson, Doug Arnold, and Jim Potchen, all of West Shaw.

The majority opinion of the court states:

"Neither the letter nor the spirit of the law was violated by Bob Brubaker."

"The court did not consider a banner to be a poster or campaign literature as stated in Section 11 E of the election laws."

"It was apparent to the court that the candidate had made every effort to comply with the election regulations as interpreted to him by the elections committee."

The minority opinion reads:

"The banner carried by the group with the German band and spotlights would be considered 'campaign literature and posters' as stated in Section 11 E of Student Congress Ordinance No. 33 (the elections ordinance). That is, it was the minority opinion that 'Campaign literature and posters' covers all forms of advertisement that is meant to further a campaign.

"For this reason we felt that both the letter and spirit of the law had been broken. Thus the candidate should be disqualified from the election."

The election is the second one this term to be decided late. Howard James won the sophomore class presidency on a recount Saturday morning. Originally Ann Foeller had been declared president by one vote.
