Biggie gives four-leaf clovers to Chuck Gorman, shoes to John Kobs.

Rally Provides Sendoff

Team Leaves for Series

BY DONN SHELTON

If good wishes were base hits, the Spartan baseball team would be well on their way toward a national championship today.

They got loads of good wishes Tuesday from incoming athletic director Biggie Munn and over 100 people who gathered at a pep rally in the team's honor.

Munn presented his good wishes in the form of a four leaf clover for each member of the team and a pair of "lucky" shoes.

Future plans call for ordering the War Chest to a Spartan team prior to its departure for a national event.

The clovers he picked while watching the baseball team practice, the shoes he wore through his 28 football game winning streak and to the Rose Bowl.

The team also received good wishes of the student body through the presentation of the Spartan War Chest.

The War Chest, conceived and presented by the State News sports staff, is the official good luck charm for Spartan teams in national championships and meets.

The chest contains all present mementos of the previous Spartan national championships in football, boxing and cross country.

Munn's shoes are in the chest to symbolize his football team's national crown along with a pair of boxing gloves symbolizing theistic crown and a pair of Jim Keford's track shoes and his jersey from 1952 when he captained the Spartans to a national championship. The chest will be placed Thursday morning with the Spartans facing the University of Massachusetts.

WKAR officials said Tuesday that there are no plans for broadcasting the Omaha series. Lack of funds was given as the reason for no radio coverage.

The rally started with speeches from the AETCO, Union and Biggie Corps. Chuck Miller, State News Sports Editor, introduced Kobs, who in turn introduced the team which return the contents adding members.

Nicoll Takes First In Speech Festival

Coed Wins Runner-Up Spot In Basic College Contest

Charles Nicoll, Lansing freshman, was named winner of the Basic College annual Speech Festival Tuesday night.

Nicoll was awarded first prize, a $55 tuition scholarship, for his talk, "So This is Democracy." A native of Glasgow, Scotland, Nicoll chose as his topic the lack of the ideals of liberty, equality and fraternity he has observed in America.

Her talk on "Traffic Fatalities" in which she emphasized the "dangerously superior attitude" of drivers under 21. Miss Skander was awarded a $25 credit certificate at the Union Books store.

Alan Reinhold of Detroit won third prize, a $15 credit certificate at the Bookstore for his speech, "Freedom Taxes a House." On the denial of Constitutionally granted rights and privileges to American Negroes.

Awards were presented by Thomas H. Hamilton, dean of the Basic College. Hamilton also gave out awards to the previously announced winners of the communication skills department's writing competition.

Twelve freshmen, drawn from the 106 sections of communication skills 113, competed in the finals of the speech contest. All participants Tuesday night were awarded certificates.

Judges of the event were Robert Mauder, debate coach and speech teacher at Lansing Sexton High School; Dr. Hugo David, assistant professor in the department of speech, dramatics and radio education; and Westley Rowland, editor of the news bureau of information services.

Other speakers were Robert Rowland, Hazel Park; Robert Lakes, Whitmore Lake; Pat Swift, Herkimer, N. Y.; Larry Chroush, Detroit; Herb Austin, Lansing; Susan White, Grand Rapids; James Rose, Maplewood, N. J.; Robert Fleming, Ferndale, and Max Allen, Williamson.

Young GOPs Lash Out

MSC's Young Republican Club took what looked on the surface like a paradoxical stand last week when it blasted fellow Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

But it's the fashionable thing to do these days. Republicans and Democrats alike are uniting forces to attack McCarthy's Gestapo-like tactics.

Their efforts and the irreparable damage done him self during the farcical TV hearings make it apparent that the Wisconsin junior senator's days as chief Big Brother are almost over.

Here's what the Young GOP Club and other opponents of McCarthy have charged him with:

1. Using Congressional hearings as a political weapon to further his own selfish aims.

2. Sacrificing liberties formerly guaranteed to citizens for the sake of personal gain.

3. Imposing guilt by association and ignoring the Constitutional principle of innocence until proven guilty.

There are innumerable other charges which could be made against McCarthy, especially where enforcement on personal liberties is concerned.

But those listed by the Young GOP Club pinpoint his major offenses.

It must be added to the Senator to find members of his own party coming out strongly against him, especially when he had endorsement from Republicans at the start of the investigation.

However, to those who would like to see the Committee torn out of the government in less sensational style, the bipartisan efforts to stifle the Senator are genuinely encouraging.

Mulloy Makes Quick Change

BUCKINGHAM, England—Dr. Constance Mulloy, 40-year-old American tennis player, did a quick change act. The day after their formal wedding, it was announced.

Mulloy, of coral-colored, flat, flowing and flowing hair, within 20 minutes of her arrival in Britain was ready to go on court in the Kilmarnock Tennis Championships.

Her rush was in vain. Her opponent, 17-year-old Gordon Muir of Britain, failed to show up and Mulloy was awarded a first-round victory by default.

Plagued by Injuries

Thinclads Shine After Cool Start

Hindered both by the cold, wet weather and a host of injuries, Coach Karl Schlademan's Spartan track team began to show its real colors late this season by placing third in the Big 10 and winning the Central Collegiate Conference championships.

Starting the season at the time weakened Spartans the following weekend beat them, 71-60, in this meet, sophomore Dave Pike ran a great 10.3 half mile and Corbett again took both hurdle events.

With a week to go before the Big 10 meet at Purdue, Schlademan took his charges to Michigan to run off what was strictly a practice meet. In this meet both Varga and Gospers showed that they were rounding back into shape.

State entered the Big 10 meet in top shape for the first time all season and after the first half week of good practicing weather and they surprised the experts with a third-place finish. The week later at the Drake Relays the Spartans found some good reserve strength in the shuttle hurdle relay but found the great Wes Sander to be too much for them in the other events.

With Henry Gillis and Joe Sowle, James Schlademan took to the Big 10 meet and Bill Freudenauer the 400-yard hurdle race. These two along with Harry Heppner and Capt. Joe Corbett came through with a third-place finish.

At the street-meet relay a question marked since the season began for the relay, but that is now resolved as Kansas, sparked by Sander, set a new American record in the event. Sander also proved the theory in the meet that the Spartans he helped best those in the power relay.

State then turned to the dual meet and defeated Notre Dame, 79-62. Kevan Gospers led the Spartans with a 18.5 quarter mile and a brilliant comeback anchor leg in the mile relay. Corbett won both hurdle events something that didn't occur very frequently this spring.

After this win things looked bright for the Spartans but back luck hit the team at the Big 10 Relays. Gospers hurt his leg in one of the races and his injury hit the State hospital list to six days. Three members of the better three are automatically eliminated during the off-season.

Twice-Ousted Dykes Awaits Tri-Header

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Jimmy Dykes might follow in the things by halves. He never could quite make a league hurler, though he had a league onward. If they couldn't make it, he could be wanted, no part of it.

Consequently, it was no great surprise to learn he was thumped out of both ends of the double-header his Orioles split with the Yankees Sunday, although it probably was a disappointment to him that only ten of the record 16 wins he had this year were by his team. He's waiting for a triple-header so he can take three showers in one day.

Neither was it a surprise that the umpire who gave him the thumb in each game was Ed Hurley, the same man who ousted him on the only other occasion this year. Jimmy was thrown out.

Hurley and Dykes have been greeting each other with friendly glances for going over two years. They do not like the September 10, 1952, when Jimmy then mastermind of the Philadelphia Athletics accused the umpire of choking up in the clutch and of being a Yankee lover just to mention a couple of the more dignified charges.

We asked Jimmy later just what had brought about the erupsive. He looked at us blankly.

"Why nothing," he said innocently. "I just called him a blankety-blank-blank. That took care of his education, ancestry and integrity, didn't it?"

Spartans to Face Massachusetts First

By CHUCK MILLER
State-News Sports Editor

The Spartan baseball team left early this morning for Omaha, Neb., for the "college world series" and found itself in the favorites role.

The Spartans have been tagged "the team to beat" largely because of their consistent heavy hitting and strong pitching during the regular season and in the District One play-offs where they took the Ohio University Bobcats five games to one at Old College Field.

At 10 a.m. Thursday MSC gets the tourney rolling when it meets the District One champion, Massachusetts.

This could be the key game, as far as Spartan title aspirations go, for they will be facing a pitcher who many sideline observers claim is the top hurler in the tournament.

He is Massachusetts' Phil Tarpey, who sent his team to the play-offs by virtue of an "iron man" stunt. Tarpey pitched and won both ends of a double header against Boston College to assure Massachusetts of the District One championship.

Although labeled the top hitting club in the play-offs, State also claims two fine pitchers.

The Associated Press reports that Bud Erickson and Ed Hobough have "caught the eye" of observers at Omaha.

This pair, along with such hurlers as Bill McNamee, who clinched the Big 10 title with a victory over Ohio State, Dick Jirkowski, Chuck Gorman and Walt Godfrey, give Spartans one of the top mound staffs as well as a line-up of dangerous swingers.

At Tuesday's pep rally, Coach John Kobs singled out the Spartan's bench strength as an important contribution to the success of the team.

A quick glance at the record books verifies this.

The third, fourth and fifth top batters for State this year were riding the bench at the start of the season.

Perhaps one of the top surprises of the year was the play of outfielder Ray Collard. He moved into an outside berth early in the season after regular center fielder All-Pro 10 outfielder Jack Risch was injured.

For two weeks Collard led the league in batting with a .400-plus average. Although plagued by a slump later in the season, he finished third behind Chuck Mathews and Risch with a .313 average and knocked in 14 runs to tie for second.

Shortstop Johnny Matscock didn't even make the Southern training trip, but when the regular season opened he was the starting position. He led the team in R.B.I.s with 20 and his .307 average ranked fourth.

George Smith, the "hustle boy" of the team, came out of the dugout to replace the injured Bill Hopping at second and could not be moved out of the starting lineup afterwards.

As already pointed out, injuries failed to handicap the team to any great extent.

Catcher Tom Yewcic broke a finger when hit by a foul tip during the Michigan series, and was unavailable for crucial games with Ohio State and the district play-offs.

Hard-hitting outfielder Dan Brown put on the catwalk and again a player came off the bench to take up the slack.

Thus, the Spartans rate the role of favorites by rather strong in three important phases—hitting, pitching and reserve strength.

Tigers Shutout Yanks On Hoeft's Two-Hitter

Cardinals End Dodgers' 10-Game Winning Streak

NEW YORK (AP)—A scratch single by Try Noren broke up Bill Hoeft's no-hitter after six innings Tuesday night but the 22-year-old Detroit lefthander went on to become the first southpaw to shut out the New York Yankees twice this season as the Tigers won, 8-0. An eighth inning double by Gerry Coleman was the only other Yankee hit.

On the second pitch of the seventh inning, Noren cracked a grounder up the middle. Shortstop Harvey Kuenn jumped to his left and got his glove on the ball but it caromed off and dribbled into center field.

Coleman's double with one out in the eighth dropped out of reach down the left field line.

CHISON TAKE LEAD

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, battling to take over first place in the American League, poured five runs across the plate in the seventh inning to win the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-3, Tuesday night. A two-run double by Ferris Fain and a homer by George Kell good for two more highlighted the big inning.

Bob Trice and the Athletics won a ballgame of it through the first six innings, despite a flurry of errors in the all-decisive seventh. Groth singled, Chico Carrasquel doubled and Nellie Fox walked to load the bases. Minnie Minoso's sacrifice fly scored Groth. Fain's double scored Carrasquel and Fox, and Kell's homer sent Fain home.

The Sox picked up two runs in the first as Kell singled. Third baseman Jim Fingan threw high to first base and Don Bollweg's attempted cut-off at the plate went into the stands. Both Minoso and Fain scored on the error.

NATS DROP TRIBE, 5-2

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maurry McBrown elbowed the Cleveland Indians out of first place in the American League Tuesday night, following Washington to a 5-2 victory with a two-hitter, enabling Chicago to take over the lead.

Ed Kell singled, a three-run homer for the Senators against over Early Wynn in the sixth inning.

BUCKS WIN STREAK ENDS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial, leading the major leagues in homers and runs batted in, drove in four more rallies Tuesday night to tie his 20th home run and surpass the St. Louis Cardinals' double, the Brooklyn Dodgers' 103, breaking their own three-game losing streak and the National League champions' string of 10 consecutive victories.

Musial, whose RBI's now total 60, had considerable company as St. Louis hitting safely in every game, pounded out 16 blows off Tom Egan and his replacements, Wes Ward and Eric Pallo.

CUBS DEFEAT ROBERTS, 6-5

CHICAGO (AP)—Ralph Kiner started two home runs and Hank Sauer hit his 10th of the season, as the bombarding Chicago Cubs defeated Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5, to break a four-game losing streak.

Torn Leg Muscle Sidelines Jumper

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—A torn leg muscle will prevent Montana State University's track broad jumper from competing in the NCAAs this weekend and in a meet this weekend in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Coach Harry Adams said Tuesday he will leave Bob Hudson, Skyline Conference broad jump champ home. Hudson holds the school broad jump record at 23 feet, 6 inches.

He came down with a strain at second base and was unable to compete in the meet.

Interpretive Reading

MSC Plans to Host Speech Festival

By JACKIE OLDHAM

MSC will be the scene of its own national interpretive reading festival next year, according to Dr. Monroe Comper, assistant professor of speech.

All United States colleges and universities will be invited to attend the festival, said Dr. Comper. It has been tentatively planned for next spring term.

The director of the speech department is in charge of planning for the new activity. She has spearheaded the plan since she returned from the annual Strawberry Festival, an interpretive reading tournament held by Martha Washington College in Virginia.

Teachers from other colleges who attended the festival seemed enthusiastic about a festival at MSC, she said.

The proposed reading festival will differ from the one in Virginia, which was competitive.

Dr. Comper explained the college plans to invite critics to judge the readings, rather than have the interpretations judged on a competitive basis.

Judges will be well-known people in the field of interpretive reading, said Dr. Comper.

An outstanding artist is also planned to do a reading for the entrants' entertainment. Dr. Comper explained the department hoped to book someone of the caliber of Aznes Moorehead.
